Just twenty years ago at this time, Joaquin Miller, being a true prospector, miner, and all around adventurer, as well as a poet of nature, joined thousands of others on the long trail to the Klondike, and wrote back that, although his party was supposed to be one of the first to start, on its arrival 3,200 claims had already been recorded. It has always been a mystery how news of the discovery of gold in the remotest regions is carried broadcast over the face of the earth. Where Joaquin Miller expected to find the quiet of his own Sierras, he found populous towns and camps, and was so disappointed by the discovery and that he at once took the long trail back. The great majority of those whom he left behind returned more leisurely, but they are nearly all back now.—Christian Science Monitor.

Suspicious.

"They say something broke out about a man in the camp which made some suspect he was in the pay of the kaiser. Do you know what it was?"

"Yes; the German measles."

"Tacking Down Edges of Fight."

Things were stirring along the front. Miles away we could hear the battery heavies thundering and drumming and once in a lull we detected the hammering staccato of a machine gun tacking down the loose edges of a fight that will never be recorded in history, with the earnestness and briskness of a man laying a carpet in a hurry.—Irvin S. Cobb in the Saturday Evening Post.

Much Lumber Wasted.

It is estimated that American lumbermen, accustomed to a wealth of material, waste two-thirds of it; and that by utilizing all parts of the tree the long-leaf pine industry would yield daily 40 tons of paper, 3,000 tons of rosin; 300,000 gallons of turpentine and great quantities of ethyl products

THEIR FINAL REST TOGETHER

Soldier's Intensely Pathetic Description of the Burial of Youthful Scottish Officer With His Men.

I stood one night on a certain hill that commands the firing line in an almost soundless panorama. Beside me was an officer of the Second Canadian division, who had just come out. There that night, by its white trail of iridescent light, we could trace the course of the firing line for many miles through France and Flanders.

Just to our left the line of light jutted far out, like a lone cape into the sea. "What is that jutting-out place?" my friend inquired.

To mention the name of Ypres is to have one's memory awakened with a veritable kaleidoscope of pictures. That trail of light that jutted out into the [illegible] iron cape it has been through months and years of war. But the holding of that cape has been at an awful cost, and there was not an inch along that trailing line of light that had not cost its trailing line of blood.

Just after the first gas attack in April, 1915, the whole countryside was in a panic. The roads were filled with civilians in alarm, fleeing down country, and with limbers and marching troops hastening up. I was passing through the town of Vlamerthigne, which is situated two miles beyond Ypres. In a field at the side of the road I saw a funeral party. It consisted of several pioneers, serving as grave diggers, a gray-headed Scottish major, and a corporal's guard to act as firing party.

I learned that this inconspicuous group were burying the last original officer of a battalion of the Cameron Highlanders. The dead officer was a young subaltern, and the gray-haired old major was his father, who had come from another regiment to attend the funeral of his son.

So, over in a great deep trench, where a number of the rank and file of the fallen Camerons were already laid, the body of their dead subaltern was placed. As I saw the officer and his men of the bonnie Highland regiment thus laid to rest together, I thought of the requiem of Saul and Jonathan; "They were beautiful in their lives, and in their deaths they were not divided."—Capt. Arthur Hunt Chute, in the North American Review.

To Save Vessels From Sinking.

Interest has been aroused by an apparatus that has lately been developed to save ocean vessels from sinking after being torpedoed or damaged by collision. The contrivance, which is shown in Popular Mechanics Magazine, comprises a laminated steel disk, to the center of which is attached a series of rubberized canvas cone shaped buckets. In use, the end cone on the chain would be lowered into the water in the vicinity of the hole in a ship's hull. Upon being caught by the inrushing water, it would be pulled through the opening. The whole string of buckets would then be lowered along with the disk so that the latter would be pulled in place over the break. The cones, being of flexible material, would be able to pass through an aperture, regardless of its shape. The disk, once in place, would be held by the pressure of the water against the hull.

ARE NEEDED EVERYWHERE

While the young men are answering Democracy's call, it's the duty of the young women left behind to fill up their vacant ranks. Women have opportunities before them today that a few years ago were unheard of.

Splendid positions are open to the woman who through proper training can fit into these places left vacant by young men.

A MOST INTERESTING BUDGET OF NEWS FROM OVERSEAS

The following letter from Beth Satterthwaite to her paretns is full of interest and will be enjoyed by all:

Dear Folks at Home:

I've just been on a wonderful four days' vacation at the Johns Hopkins (Base) Hospital at Neufchateau. I went with Edith Coa'e (the other J. H. H. nurse) and Mr. Laity, the Oberlin boy. My paper description wi[illegible] the subject justice, there is so much one may not tell.

We went over half the way by train, then cycled the last 30 miles. You can get much closer to the French people and their homes by cycling than on a train. The road was all big hills so we alternately coasted and walked up hill. At one place we watched the firing at a Boche plane right over our heads, it being well peppered by the Allies.

The Fates led us at sunset into Jeanne d'Arc's town, quaint, tranquil little Domremy. After supper the clouds were too threatening for finishing our trip so I realized another day dream—spending the night at a little French roadside inn. Those soft French beds surely felt good. I pinched myself to see if I were Beth Satterthwaite, Tecumseh, Michigan, as Edith and I followed our little candle up the big, white-washed, enclosed stairway.

Thousands of American soldiers have lately paid homage to Jeanne d'Arc's birthplace, even Gen. Pershing not long before.

As we were leaving the village, we jumped at the first English sign we had seen in France, "Speed Limit, 8 Miles."

The bigness of the Johns Hopkins Hospital took my breath away and the spirit is magnificient. They have 1000 beds. They have very few deaths and those were mostly from bronchial pneumonia, the result of gassing.

We have seen a lot of the American army life over here and feel convinced that it is an enormous army and we are proud, most of all of the spirit we have seen. A while ago an American soldier was a rare sight but now we are wondering if there are any left in America.

On our trip we saw Russian soldiers and Italian officers with big imposing Napoleonic hats and some with one long dashing feather and we saw the Tyrolese officers with the whole peacock's tail (apparently) on their hats. We saw lots of Moroccan and Algerian soldiers. Some of the Algerians really do have the long locks of hair over each ear. It surely did look weird. The Algerians are called the most fearless of all fighting people. They fight only to kill or to be killed and have no time for the wounded or for taking prisoners. They are sent ahead of the army to do the most fearless work.

The weirdest memory and the only real chilly thrill I've had over here was one evening when we heard hundreds of voices chanting at the tops of their lungs and coming nearer. It was more weird and cannabalistic than any Indian war dance. Our French concierge, who stayed here through the German occupancy, was as white as a sheet and scuttled around like a rabbit.

Finally they came in sight, a whole regiment of Algerians, coming from "repos" to kill or to be killed. The sound goes up and down my spine even yet.

July 21.

The guns are starting to boom again tonight. Even from this distance we feel as if we had learned a lot about war this last week.

Such fireworks in the sky! And such terrific roaring for a few hours! It "gets" you awfully, knowing what it means and we despise our own safety and surety of running away before danger.

Beth.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Wood have just received the following letter from their son Ray which they kindly allow us to publish.

Somewhere in France,
July 21, 1918.

Dear Ones at Home:

Well, this leaves me in the very best of health and hope all are well at home. We have just come in from having a parade.

The way things look over here it won't be long before we will be coming home, if we can only keep the good work up, for I don't think the Germans will last as long as they are looking for.

We are having very fine weather and everything is looking fine.

We have daylight most of the time for it never gets dark until about 10 o'clock and day light very early in the morning. There is about seven hours difference in our time from that back home.

This is a fine country and I am well satisfied, but I would not care to make it my home. The French are very kind and do all in their power to make us happy, our quarters and eats are good. And we get the English papers daily from the States. The women here are very hard workers and do most of the farm work and all of them wear wooden shoes. Altho they are all very kind to us, they can't do as much as our own people back home.

I will have many things to tell you when I get home that I cannot take time to write. So will bring my letter to a close. Tell all of the folks to write me often.

From your loving son,
Sergt. Ray E. Wood.

BARGAIN DAY

As advertized in our last issue the afternoon performance for Wednesday will begin at 3:30 instead of 3 o'clock as heretofore, and the evening show will begin at 7:30. Two fine acts are advertized:

Bell and Bragg, novelty wire act, Ben and Era, novelty bar act.

The colored band of the "In Old Kentucky Co." will furnish the music both afternoon and evening. This will be an unusual treat so don't miss it. Come early and enjoy the fun.

DR. W. J. BALMER INVITED BACK

Methodists Hold Church Meeting Monday Night

Church Debt Nearly Wiped Out

The Tecumseh Methodists held a basket supper in the church parlors Monday evening. The supper was followed by a church meeting which was presided over by the disrtict superintendent Dr. Fruit. Both supper and meeting were largely attended.

Reports covering the year were given by Dr. Balmer and the various heads of the several departments of the church, all showing the past year a busy and prosperous one.

Dr. Balmer reported that he had presided at nine funerals during the year, but none of them were church members, the church having lost no members during the year by death.

Dr. Balmer was given practically a unanimous invitation to return for the coming year.

After the regular business of the meet[illegible] care of, an effort was made to raise the indebtedness of the church which resulted in securing pledges for over $300.00, leaving about $100.00 yet to be taken care of. The committee feel confident that this amount will be raised leaving the society free from debt at the close of the year.

FARMERS TO GET RYE FOR FEEDING

Local millers have received instructions from the U. S. Food Administration to the effect that farmers will be allowed rye for feeding purposes. The farmers must, however, sign a statement that the amount specified is not in excess of the amount needed to December 1st.

The millers are required to keep a record of the number of bushels ground for each farmer and also a record of the name and address of each. Government inspectors will call during the year to inspect the records kept.

This order is issued to give feeders some relief from the scarcity of feed for stock, Michigan in particular having been up against it for a good feed for stock

ARE LIBERTY BOND HOLDERS SLEEPING ON THEIR RIGHTS?

According to information obtained at the Government Bond Department of the Federal Reserve Band of Chicago only about $95,000,000 of the 4 percent. Liberty Bonds have to date been presented for conversion into 4¼ per cent. bonds. Of this amount $12,000,000 are 4 per cent. bonds of the First Liberty Loan converted and $83,000,000 are Second. [illegible] were issued in this Federal Reserve District a total of $88,000,000 First Converted Fours and $527,000,000 Second Fours.

It appears, therefore, that only about one-seventh of these holders of 4 per cent. bonds have taken advantage of the opportunity to secure 4¼ per cent on their investment.

The 4¼ per cent. conversion bonds are now available for prompt delivery in coupon form. Deliveries of registered bonds require more time for opening accounts, preparation of address plates, checking and verifying names, inscribing bonds, etc.

It is a problem to reach the millions of bond holders and make them understand that they will not automatically receive 4¼ per cent interest on their bonds without action on their part. Strange as it may seem to the average invester, there is hardly a doubt that million of these bonds are in the hands of people who may put them away for years without even clipping and collecting the interest coupons. It is said that some of the U. S. 3 per cent. bonds due August 1, 1918, have been presented for payment with all the matured coupons attached. If this could occur in the case of an issue of bonds of which only $63,000,000 were outstanding and of that amount all but about $15,000,000 in the hands of banks almost anything can be expected in the nature of carelessness where billions of dollars of bonds have been sold to many millions of subscribers.

It has been suggested that bank tellers may save many people from loss by calling attention to the conversion privilege whenever coupons clipped from 4 per cent. Liberty Bonds are presented for collection, but this plan can produce results only where coupons already due are presented for the next interest coupon date will occur after the conversion privilege has expired on November 9, 1918.

The conversion privilege on 4 per cent bonds of both the First and Second Liberty Loans expires on November 9, 1918, and they cannot be converted into subsequent issues of United States bonds which might come out at the higher rate. Therefore holders of 4 per cent Liberty Loan bonds should in every case present them for conversion. By converting these bonds they will not only receive ¼ of 1 per cent. additional interest, but after the conversion period has expired (Nov. 9, 1918) there will undoubtedly be several points difference in the market price of the 4 per and 4¼ per cent. bonds.

It is the best for bond holders to arrange for the conversion of their bonds through the bank which handled the original subscription, but those who have changed their place of residence can, without doubt, handle the matter through any convenient bank.

JULIA HIGLEY

Julia, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Higley, pased away Saturday, at the age of 16 months. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at hte home on the Zach Cook farm, with burial in Brookside cemetery.

EUGENE WYCKOFF

Eugene Wyckoff, who for several months has been in Ann Arbor for treatment, was taken to the home of his wife in Adrian Friday where he passed away this morning at 1 o'clock. Service's ambulance went over to Adrian this morning and brought the remains to Tecumseh. Later the body will be taken to the home of his sister in Marshall in which city the burial will take place. No arrangements for the funeral have been made.

Mr. Wyckoff has been a resident of Tecumseh for many years. He has been well and familiarly known as "Doc Wyckoff." He was a quiet kindly citizen, doing good as he had opportunity.

SLAUGHTERING WITHIN RESIDENCE LIMITS AGAINST ORDINANCE

On August 19th a complaint was made against Chas. Williamson by Lester Rogers, as one of the Village Council, charging him with violating the vllage ordinance prohibiting the slaughtering of animals within the residence limits.

Mr. Williamson being out of town, the warrant was not served until Saturday when Marshal Mominee accompanied him to Judge Hosmer's court room. There with no hesitation Charlie pleaded guilty and, it being his first appearance on such a charge, he was fined $10.00 and $3.20 costs.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY"

The seat sale for "In Old Kentucky" opened at Hay's Bakery this morning —this is the big road attraction which will be presented at the Bradley Opera House, tomorrow night, Wednesday, August 28th, and is a fitting entertainment for one of our big Wednesday evenings. Don't forget that the big band carried by this company will play for the Wednesday entertainment on the street also the parade and band concert in the afternoon as soon as the company arrives on the 3:00 o'clock train. The performance at the Bradley will not be held until the free show on the street is over, which will give every one an opportunity to 'take them both in' but you should get your tickets as early a possible and assure yourself of good seats.

"In Old Kentucky" is not a picture show, some people seem to think it is owing to the fact that a big horse race is advertised but this race is produced with real live horses carried by the company. The company carries a complete carload of special scenery and scenic effects in addition to the horses, and numbers between thirty and forty people.

"PERSHING'S CRUSADERS"

"Pershing's Crusaders", the first big official war film feature of the Government's moving pictures, is now being routed through Michigan and will be shown at the Bradley Opera House next Sunday (matinee and night) Sept. 1st. This is the feature film which has been accorded the highest of praise in the larger cities of the country where it was shown under the direct supervision of the Government. In Michigan it is being shown under the direction of the Michigan War Preparedness Board with all profits to the Board's fund for the dependents of the Michigan men now in the Nation's service, no matter whether in the army or the Navy.

The pictures are ones to stir the enthusiasm and patriotism to the utmost for it is doubtful if many persons have really realized on how vast a scale America has prepared and is still preparing. Every activity of life in the cantonments, the lighter as well as the more serious side, is disclosed in the films; while the making of uniforms, the building of ships and the thousand and one other industries which the Government now has to make use of for the army and navy are detailel graphically.

Most interest, of course, centers in that section of the picture showing the boys "Oved There." They are seen in French villages, the foreign training and aviation camps and a dozen other places, while there is an extraordinary thrill in the pictures showing the American boys in the first line trenches the first day they occupied them. There is also a "close-up" view of the first prisoners the Americans took, 21 privates and two Prussian officers. An excellent view of the famous Hun fighting face is secured, to say nothing of the scorn of the brutal officers.

The pictures merely show actual facts, but by the eastern newspapers they are considered the most remarkable collection of war films yet shown even including some taken by French, Italian and English picture men and exhibited in this country.

Owing to the fact that this picture is produced by the United States government for government work and exhibition, no war tax is charged, the admission is placed at 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children so everyone will be able to see this wonderful picture and see just how our own government is going to work to win the war.

AUTOS COLLIDE ON WAMPLER'S LAKE ROAD

Car Owned by Chas. Mattis of Tecumseh Run Into by Car Owned by Milan Man

Chas. Mattis was in an auto accident about 9 o'clock Sunday night while coming home from Wampler's lake. He was about a quarter of a mile west of the Wampler's-Evans lake fork when he met an Overland car driven by a Milan grocer. Mr. Mattis, who claims he was traveling not faster than 15 miles per hour, swung over to the right side of the road to give the approaching car plenty of room to pass. But, when trying to pass, the other car labored in the sand and plunged into the Mattis car, striking it in the rear wheel and fender. The Mattis car was quite badly damaged, rear axe sprung and housing bent, fender torn from the body and the hub cap smashed.

The other car was badly damaged in front and both cars had to be towed to Clinton for repairs. No one was hurt.

GOOD CROWD AT BALL GAME

There is a lively interest in the base ball series now being played in Tecumseh twice each week and the grounds are well filled with lovers of the sport. Last Friday a good game was played between the Clerks and Heesens teams which resulted in a little onesided score of of 22 to 4 in favor of the Clerks.

Last night the Clerks met the Brewers team the final score being 6 to 9 in favor of Brewers. Several of the Clerk players were sick and they had to use new players who did good work for their first game.

	wone	lost
Brewers	5	3
Clerks	4	4
Steel & wire	3	3
Heesens	3	5

A FAREWELL FOR ONE OF THIS WEEK'S SELECTS

On Sunday a party of Glenn Tansley's friends gave him a sort of farewell at Wampler's lake. There were 27 to partake of the roast lamb dinner (the lamb was George Harriott's part of the dinner) and everybody had a pleasant afternoon although it was tinged with regret at Glenn's leaving tomorrow for camp. The picnic was held in Ive's grove.

LAST CHANCE

To convert your Liberty Bonds of the First and Second issues. The conversion privilege if exercised at all must be taken advantage of before Nov. 9. This means that you will lose ¼ per cent on your money and in case you wish to dispose of them the 4 per cent bonds will probably have a lower sale value than the 4¼ per cent bonds.

We advise you to make the change and would like all bonds in our hands as soon as possible.

We make a charge of 10 cents for each bond to pay for the insurance and shipping cost.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

Which is Better—Try on Experiment or Profit by a Tecumseh Citizen's Experience.

Something new is on experiment. Must be proved to be as represented.

But the endorsement of friends is.

Now supposing you had a bad back A lame, weak, or aching one.

Would you experiment on it?

You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from far away places.

It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Repair Ship Mysterious.

The manufacture of a large part of machinery to replace anything broken is almost impossible in the limited space of the battleship's machine shops. But wondrous feats are performed in the repair ships that accompany fleets on stations remote from dock facilities, states a British war correspondent.

The repair ship is a huge floating smithy and machine shop packed with everything that the wit of man can concentrate into the space for treating wounded battleships. These ships employ some of the best artificers from our naval dockyards and are scattered in every quarter in which the British fleet is stationed remote from dock facilities. The Boche has nothing like them and it has been stated that no inquisitive Boche has ever been allowed to intrude his nose aboard one to investigate its mysteries and take the information to his employers of how the strange feats performed by the repair ship are effected. The repair ship is the abode of secrets.

Rides Well at Ninety-five.

Jockeys, no matter what their age, are generally referred to by those not closely in touch with racing as "the boy on So-and-So," but a stable "lad" still going well at ninety-five is certainly hard to beat. There is one, as shown by the following clipping from the London Sportsman of recent date: "One of the brightest and most alert of the 'lads' riding horses around the paddock at Windsor prior to their races was old Faulkner, the grandfather of the steeplechase jockey of that name. He is ninety-five years old. His memory is of the best and so is his hearing. He has been connected with horses all his life and many a tale of the turf he can tell."

BILLIONS WASTED EACH YEAR

That Country's Water Power Is So Little Used Is a Reflection on Citizens' Intelligence.

In the early days of this country the grist mill was built where there was water power, and in time other industries also located there for the same reason, H. H. Windsor writes in Popular Mechanics Magazine. Many of our largest manufacturing cities have grown up around these grist mills. But many of the best water powers were so inaccessible, and the surrounding country so unfit for agriculture, that no mills and towns have ever taken advantage of the cheapest mill power known.

Today, thanks to the electric motor, transmission lines, and high voltage, the factory may locate convenient to transportation and labor, and have the water power brought to it.

Every 24 hours there goes to waste unused water power equivalent to the coal energy of 1,000,000 tons, or 365,000,000 tons each year. At a low average of present prices this waste represents $2,000,000,000 yearly.

Switzerland gets her coal from Germany. This year the supply is only two-thirds of requirements, yet Switzerland will pay Germany over $4,000,000,000 for coal. At the present moment there are undeveloped water powers in Switzerland amounting to 3,500,000 horse power which, with 526,000 horse power already harnessed, would make Switzerland almost independent of outside coal supply.

Our own unused water powers remain undeveloped because the restrictions our government demands do not appeal to private enterprise, which naturally is reluctant to invest vast sums under a franchise which may be terminated at any time. With the financial burdens with which our government will emerge from this war, it will doubtless be years before congress would feel justified in appropriating the money necessary to make this development. It would seem wise, therefore, rather than wait an indefinite number of years, that a franchise of say 50 years should be granted, with privilege of taking over the properties at the end of that time on some basis of valuation fair to government and owners. On such a basis development would begin at once.

In the meantime the 1,000,000 tons' value of coal is rushing to the sea every 24 hours, an absolute waste, without the slightest benefit to anyone.

Naval Lieutenant Wins Honor.

Although officers in the military forces of this country are not allowed to accept decorations or gifts from foreign governments, the British admiralty has just conferred honors upon a young American officer. To Lieut. Frank Loftin, U. S. N., on duty on an American destroyer operating in the war zone, has been given the distinguished service cross. The navy department announces this recommendation made through the British ambassador. Loftin was executive officer of the destroyer, which, with others, was convoying a number of troopships, when general quarters was sounded as a torpedo was sighted coming toward the ship. Sizing up the situation, he rang to the engine room for full speed ahead. Getting this, he altered the ship's course and headed directly for the periscope of the U-boat. Quick maneuvering followed and a depth charge dropped in the course of the submerged enemy sent him out of sight. Lieutenant Loftin is from Tennessee and graduated from the Naval academy in the class of 1907.

Journalistic Dilettante.

"What's the matter with the city editor? Two members of the staff are holding him and he looks as if he were about to have a fit."

"It's the fault of that wealthy 'cub' reporter hired last week. The c. e. told him to cover a Red Cross meeting this afternoon and he said it would interfere with his game of golf."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Extravagance of Economy.

"There's one form of extravagance I'll tolerate."

"What is it?"

"I don't care how much money my wife spends for thrift stamps."

GIVE UP PLATINUM!

Women of Nation Are Asked to Make Sacrifice.

Precious Metal So Badly Needed by the Government Will Not Be Used for Personal Adornment by the True Patriot.

By ABBIE FARWELL BROWN of the Vigilantes.

Who would have thought that so small a thing as a bit of jewelry might show one's unpatriotism? And yet it is so! Every woman who wears a bit of platinum jewelry is defrauding the government of just so much power for war. Every man who buys a platinum setting for his dear lady's ring is putting the badge of his carelessness upon her. Every jeweler who persuades a buyer that platinum is more chic than the gold of other days, is acting contrary to the nation's interests.

Platinum is exceedingly important in the steel and iron works and in the manufacture of munitions. From it is produced sulphuric acid, used in making high explosives. It is one of the big assets of power; but platinum is scarce, growing scarcer every day. The situation is so serious as to cripple both the university laboratories, whose patriotic chemists are working on war problems, and the chemical industries which have developed here since war began, to replace German productions.

Our country contains no platinum mines, and the supply from the Ural mountains is almost unobtainable now, in the Russian crisis. Our other great platinum source, Colombia, has also apparently failed us at this juncture. The shortage is such that the metal now costs $98 an ounce! But for that very reason—because it is doubly precious—some unthinking persons desire it all the more to adorn themselves. Think of it! To adorn one's silly self, at the expense of one's country's safety! Surely there is no American woman so selfish, when once she knows the truth. Surely no one desires to be more beautiful at the cost of blood.

Jewelry set in platinum is undeniably rich. But one is not, I hope, thinking about rich effects in dress nowadays. It is no time to court admiration with jewelry. Patriotism is the only bright, particular jewel worth displaying.

So keen is the anxiety of the chemists over the high cost of platinum that one world-famous scientist has sacrificed a beautiful platinum dish presented to him in recognition of his distinguished service to science. This patriot sold his precious keepsake, the reward of years of faithful research for mankind, in order that the metal it contained might be fashioned into chemists' supplies for the further aid of his country. Such a memorial was worth more than jewels.

Cannot all the women of America be as self-sacrificing as this great man of science?

Fish Scale Jewelry.

That there is commercial value in unconsidered trifles is shown by a writer, who says:

"The scales of fish, which are of utility to the owner during its sojourn in the vasty deep, are ignored after capture as good only for the refuse heap. But it was not ever thus," says an exchange. "In days gone by fish scales possessed a real value, notably those of roach, bleak, dace and whitebait.

"Older writers tell us how the scales of these fishes were collected and used in the manufacture of necklaces, earrings and such like ornament. Thames fishermen used to catch fish, take off the scales and throw the body back into the river. A pigment was obtained by treating the scales in a certain fashion, whitebait being the most popular fish used for the purpose. So great formerly was the demand at times that the price of a quart of fish scales varied from one to five guineas.

Benefit of Art Education.

A glimpse at the development of trade in European countries, in which industrial art has played such an important role, is full of suggestion to us. When Germany discovered at the Paris exposition in 1878 how crude and inartistic her exhibits were, her greatest artists, laying aside their easels and canvases, began designing textiles, wall paper, furniture and advertisements. The results of these activities we witnessed in the German Applied Arts exhibition held in all our large cities a few years ago. By means of intensive art education in Prussia the trade routes of the world were changed in favor of Germany. Trade in toys was diverted from Switzerland, in printing materials from England, and in dress trimmings from France. In France and England in a similar way trade has been developed through attention to art education.

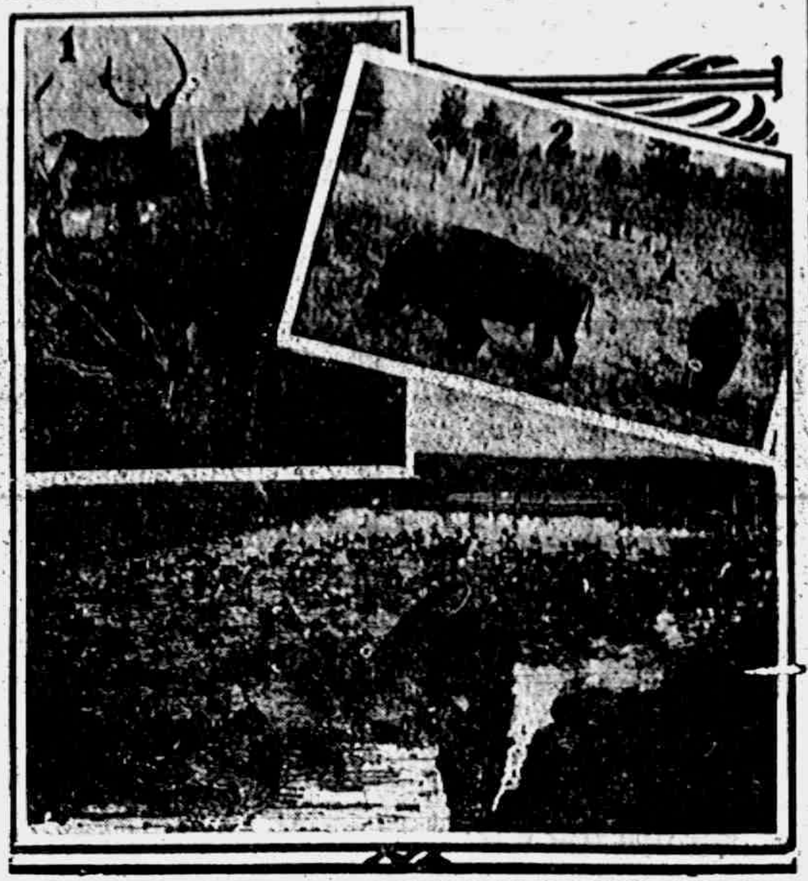
Generous Provision.

"I understand you are going to have chickens instead of a garden this year."

"I'm going to have a garden, too," declared Mr. Crosslots. "I may not get much out of it in vegetables for myself. But I've noticed that a garden always makes chickens seem a lot happier and healthier."

"WILD LIFE OF MICHIGAN" AT STATE FAIR

State Preparing Exhibit Which Will Include Every Animal, Bird and Fish Which Ever Roamed The Forests, Flew In The Air or Swam In The Streams of Michigan.



No. 1—Elk grazing on the Hanson game refuge. No. 2—"Wahballa" the first perfect American bison bull born in Michigan in over 1,000 years. No. 3—Breeding wild waterfowl at a state game preserve. These animals and fowls will be a part of the Michigan Wild Life Display at the Michigan State Fair.

Wild Life of Michigan, including all the indigenous birds, fish, and mamals, supplimented by a complete presentation of the migratory waterfowl which traverses the Great Lakes area in the spring and fall flights, will be shown at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit, August 30—September 8. The exhibit, which becomes this year for the first time an adjunct of the Fair through the courtesy of the Public Domain and Michigan Fish commissions, will be under the direction of John Baird, State Game Commissioner, Marcus Schaaf, State Forester and Seymour Bower, Supt. of Fish Culture and Hatcheries.

In mamals, the mastodon, prehistoric monster which roamed the wilds of Michigan during centuries antedating the Indians, has been restored from well preserved remains found in Wayne and Oakland counties and will head the list for size. Following the bison or American buffalo, formerly a resident and again being bred in Michigan wilds, the moose, elk, caribou, white-tailed deer, black bear, wolverine, otter, fisher, marten, mink, muskrat, coon, badger, panther, wolf, coyote, fox, etc., down to the tiniest useful furbearer, the mole, will be shown.

Game and Food Fish.

Native and introduced species of game and food fish, resident in state waters, will be presented in the Michigan Fish commission's aquarium of twenty-nine tanks showing, in natural activities, New England, rainbow, chinook, land-locked, "liberty"-brown, grayling and other trout. Propogation apparatus, working before the visitors eyes, will demonstrate the process of hatching and development from spawn to adult fish.

Mounted specimens of the passenger pigeon (now extinct), "Nashem", the terror of the north woods, a giant wolf credited with the killing of more than 300 tallied deer, captured by Slowfoot, Chippewa Indian after months of arduous and daily trailing, albino and black freaks of mamals will be diverting features of the normal life.

Entertaining and Educational.

Elk and deer will roam at will in forest enclosures with ruffed grouse, prairie chicken, spruce hens and the new game aquisition, ringnecked pheasant. The pheasant exhibit from the State game farm, under immediate direction of A. Roess, gamekeeper, will display ring necked, golden, Amherst, Reeves, Prince of Wales and many other diversions of the Mongolian parent of Michigan's sportsmen's hope. Wild turkeys, again being bred on Michigan game refuges, will companion the pheasants.

G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager of the fair association, asserts the wild life display will be one of the greatest educational exhibits ever present to the public. It will have all of the attractions of a circus menagerie for both children and adults and at the same time will reveal unlimited history and information of Michigan. The automobile building and adjacent parks will give cover to the display.

CHAMPION SHORT CIRCUIT.

Benched among the several hundred dogs that will compete for money prizes, trophies, cups and campionship ribbons at the American Kennel Club show to be staged by the Detroit Kennel Club in connection with the Michigan State Fair, on Sept. 5, 6 and 7, will be dogs nationally and internationally famous, dogs that represent fortunes and dogs that are known to every fancier in the civilized world for being as near to perfection as a dog can be.

But of all those shown there will not be one to whom more fame is attached than to a dog now owned in Michigan, Champion Short Circuit, a wire-haired fox terrier. A few weeks ago he was crowned stud dog champion of America at the Ladies' Kennel Club show at Meadow Brook, L. I., the second most important dog show in America.

Ch. Short Circuit is an English dog who was imported several years ago. He gained fame in his early doghood by winning eight championships without an interruption, a feat almost unequalled in dog history. The Vickery Kennels in Barrington, Ill., America's most aristocratic and complete kennels, purchased Ch. Short Circuit but last April they sold him to Capt. Herbert Hughes of the Aviation Service and master of the Gallaich Kennels at Grosse Pointe, Mich.

Ch. Short Circuit has everything that you could wish for in a dog. He is just 100 per cent dog and besides a great bench winner and marvelous shower in the ring, he is a stud dog without an equal. Among his get he numbers the wonderful Ch. Matford Vic, twice champion of America by winning best in show at Westminster, and Gallaich Nettle, who succeeded Ch. Matford Vic to the honor of being the best wire of her sex at Westminster this year.

In the ring with Ch. Short Circuit will be Gallaich Nettle, his daughter and now a kennel mate at Grosse Pointe. And there probably will be others of his get nearly as good for the big gun of the wire-haired fox terrier breed has produced many whose fame will be lasting.

Clemenceau's Way.

M. Clemenceau, in his capacity of minister for war, is setting his house in order. No matter in hand of less than first-rate importance—and then he deals with it himself—is to take more than three days to settle. It is not a reform, it is a revolution, is the remark of those who have experienced the circumlocutions, delays and red tape of officialdom. "No longer is the head of a department to ask for written reports from his subordinates, on insignificant questions, when a few minutes' conversation would settle the whole question. No longer is pen to be put to paper, and stacks of documents collected, when a simple telephone call would suffice." And as final proof that the order is griffe du Tigre, the Tiger's own mark, it may be added that departments are to be subjected to supervision when least expected, and that disregard for the three-days' rule will result in severe penalties for the persons concerned.—Christian Science Monitor.

Improved Soldering Process.

A form of the Schoop metal-spraying process is claimed to be effective in soldering. The soldering pistol does not require the compressed air jet, as the fuel-gas used is under pressure and gives the flame sufficient driving force to spread the solder over the surfaces to be soldered. A small driving mechanism feeds the wire solder continuously into the flame. The method is convenient, rapid and inexpensive and is free from the tedious and disagreeable features of soldering by hand.

Want Technical Training for Women.

At a joint meeting of the Birmingham and Atlanta sections of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers resolutions were adopted requesting the colleges and technical schools of the country to provide special courses of technical instruction for women and girls in order that they may be able to take the places of men who have been or may be called into the service of the country during the war.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Oliver No. 7—the Plow for the Fordson

Oliver No. 7 has been built for the Fordson.

Henry Ford & Son recommend it as the plow that will work to the best advantage with their machine.

You will appreciate the high clearance of plows and beams because they save time and annoyance—just as the rake between bottoms prevents clogging with trash and makes every second of operating time count in plowed ground.

The Oliver No. 7 embodies principles of plow construction founded on sixty years of making plows, of intensive study of every existing soil condition, constant attention to the plow requirements of the tractor since the tractor industry began

FROM OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

"COOTIES" SWIM CHANNEL AND INVADE CANADIAN CAMPS SAYS THE REV. PATTERSON IN LETTER.

We print below an interesting letter from Rev. Frederick Patterson who after several attempts to enter service in the States finally enlisted in the Canadian army. He is a son of the late James Patterson formerly of Tecumseh and a cousin of C. F. Patterson, to whom we are indebted for the following from a recent Grand Rapids paper.

S. C. A. Camp Home, March 13, 1918.

"Dear Mother:—

"I was just about to write you yesterday when your first letter mailed to me from Roydon came. It was dated 19th of February, so you can see how long it takes. It also had been censored as all my letters have been.

"We had another medical inspection and the "cooties" have arrived. channel and come here to camp to They must have swam the English get us ready for France. Three of the fellows in our hut have a good crop started and we have to go to the big steamer and be boiled out. I have escaped so far. We are feeling pretty happy tonight. They are making up our pay books and passes today and we will go on our six day leave to London, Sunday, the 17th. Our quarantine has been shortened to 21 days instead of 28 so in four days more we will be out from behind our barbed wire for good.

Is Like Being Prisoners

"Of course we have been going out right along for drills and work parties and marches, but that is all and we feel like German prisoners behind our wire, with guards all around. I took a pick and shovel brigade out all last week to build outdoor riding schools which are much like circus rings. Being a bombadier, I boss the gang and don't have to work much myself When I get back I can get a job with a circus at least.

"Royden (Royden K. Rothermel who lives in London) has been fine to me. I have heard from him several times and he sent me a bunch of magazines that made our hut mighty happy. They have a Y. M. C. A canteen here but nothing to read and in our solitary confinement behind the wire, we have lots of time for such things.

"The grub is good here so far as it goes, but somehow it does not go far enough to fill the void. We are so blame healthy that there is no wonder that there is a food shortage in England, if the rest of them have appetites like ours. Now that I am on the subject of eats, I might say that a box of sweets that will keep until they get here will be hailed with much joy by yours truly (I will do the worrying after they get here as to the keeping) We never set anything over here that has enough sugar in tostand a chemical test.

"I gave away my last pipe full of tobacco yesterday and I left Guelph with 15 cans. We have not been paid for over six weeks. I borrowed two shillings of a friend and am sending you a box they sold me for fifteen cents (your money). It was a combination of baled hay and hemp and about enough to fill a respectable pipe five times. So if you can slip in a can or two of good old American tobacco, it will bring more joy to the camp. It was tough to see some of the fellows go around fishing cigarette butts off the ground. They got on to it that I brought quite a supply with me and I could not turn them down when they came begging for a pipeful or enough to make a cigarette.

Days Warm .Nights Cold.

"It is a funny climate here, the sun comes out warm and bright in the daytime so that we can go around without coats on or hats, then at night it gets so cold that we use three blankets on top and pile our overcoats on last. We sleep on the soft side of three boards placed on low saw horses about six inches from the floor. Somehow they forgot to issue springs and mattresses and, in the absence of such things, we spread a blanket over the boards and let it go at that.

"The Y. M. C. A. furnishes concerts and lectures to us about three times a week in our mess hall, which seats about 800 men. I heard a wonderful lecture on Russia, by a preacher, who lived there three and a half years and was in Petrograd when the revolution took place.

"The Russians are not as bad as they are painted just now. They have lost 3,500,000 killed, 2,500,000 in prisoners and when the other allies can show such losses (I hope they never will) then they probably will think about quitting also. He said Russia would not quit even now but they do not know who they can trust, they had been sold out and betrayed so many times by their own leaders and German spies that they have simply given up in despair.

"This is a great place to live and learn things. We get food for thought if we don't get much for the place under our belts. Funny how my thoughts run to the place called the bread basket so often but there really is a serious shortage of food over here and the old U. S. A. wants to let them have all they can without a kick. I think it was Napoleon who said, 'an army fights on its stomach' believe me when I say that old Napol was right.

Has Great Appetite.

"Now don't start worrying that we are starving over here for we are not. I just eat twice as much as I used to and could eat three times as much. I wish you could see the picture of our hut right now, the fellows making up their wooden beds. One sitting on the stove, without burning his pants (no fire in it); one little electric bulb for 30 men, a game of cards going in the corner, they play for matches now as they are all broke, and matches are 'near money' (eight for a cent); Scotch and Irish all talking at once and an old American soldier with his heart in goold U. S. A. enjoying the picture and the 'whole blooming bloody thing,' as an Englishman would say, Now do not gather from anything I have written that I am sick of this business or have repented for one minute tht step I have taken, far from it. I feel like those brave fellows whom we see every day marching off to the real thing at the front, not so many miles away, and singing and cheering as they go, shouting 'are we downhearted? No! We have got to get heine on the run and he knows it and we won't come back till it's over, over there!'

"One of our Irish boys gave me a 'wee bunch of shamrock' as he called it, which a friend sent him from Ireland. I do not know how well it will keep but I will send it anyway as a St. Pat greeting, because it is the real thing from the auld sod.'

"There must be a lot of rabbits in this country as we had rabbit pie again for dinner and when 800 hungry fellows all sit down to dinner at one time they demand some rabbits. However, if they keep on feeding the rabbits my ears, which were never very small, will be as long as elephants.

"Our laundry came back from the wash for the first time today. It took them fourteen days to wash it. We must have been a pretty dirty crowd. Since the 'cooties' appeared I have felt like changing my underwear every day but since that is impossible I have suffered more or less from 'physic-cootitus'. When they begin to talk about them, you begin to itch whether you have them or not. I made a great discovery yesterday — found something that is cheaper here than at home, it is a haircut for only a sixpence, or 12c U. S. A. I borrowed enough money to buy this luxury and sat on our coal basket with a board across it and went to it. The only difference between an army hair cut and one back home is that the army hair cut looks like 12c, otherwise it is a work of art.

Wine and Women.

"We had a good Methodist chaplain come here Saturday night and tell us about the evils of wine and womtn for about an hour and a half. Just before he got through he asked everybody to stand up, who thought he was saved and was not going to touch drink while on his leave to London. As I was not sure about the former and did not have any particular craving for the latter, I sat tight on my bench with the rest of the goats, for somehow his method did not seem to agree with my way of professing religion. And yet he said a lot of good things and most of the fellows stood up and I hope they keep their resolution for from all accounts wine and women do a powerful amount of damage to the Canadian army over here.

"I do not expect to paint London red, especially on my pay of $8 per month, with all the allowances taken out, but I am going to try to enjoy myself in my own way, especially after 22 days spent behind the old fence.

"It looks now as if I would be in London on Palm Sunday and I am going to try to get in at St. Paul's Cathedral for service.

"My friend, Barrett, has been called out in a class that started last Sunday in the school of gunnery and as I am the senior non-commissioned officer left I am in charge of the battery. I had them out for drill on the parade ground and got along O. K. It is good practice and I was glad of the chance to get my hand in for that reason. Another hut was quarantined for mumps yesterday, right next to us, which means that those fellows will have to stay here for at least 21 days more and not get their leave when we do.

Use Many "Substitutes"

"The fellows are out playing ball and football. They sewed up some rags in an old sack and kicked it around in place of a real football and seem to get about as much out of the game as though they had a real ball. It is funny to see the things they resort to as substitutes for things they have not got. They use the same towel to wipe their dishes as hands or face, shine shoes or clean windows, it makes no difference to them. Shave in the same cup they drink tea out of or eat soup from—pick up cigarette butts and smoke them in a pipe, and I might go on, etc. I eat next to an ex-bartender, who always comes to my table because he says he gets a square deal, if he does not always get a square meal. It is a tough bunch in some ways, perhaps, but a merry one and a cheerful one at that."

In a later letter written at Witley Camp, Surrey, Eng., on April 14, Mr. Patterson says: "Have had my hair all shaved off the other day, fighting cut. We all have to do it before going to France so I thought I would get used to it for a couple of weeks here. Look like that picture taken in Elkhart after the mumps. Somehow I feel that I am only half dressed when ladies are around and I like to keep my hat on. But you do not have anything to comb or brush when in a hurry in the morning and there is no place for the 'cooties' to hide on a bald pate, so that is one advantage.

"They are working the daylights out of us now. We get up at 4:15 and it is a rush from then on until 6:30 p. m., with one hour out for dinner. But I am standing it fine and all the fellows say I am getting fat.

"I passed through the gas school this week. One [illegible] your gas mask and put it on in [illegible] seconds, but I did even better than that. We certainly look funny parading down the road with those masks on. The only thing I ever think of to compare it with is a lot of big June bugs with big bulging eyes or perhaps a flock of grasshoppers. But the masks do the work fine and make you very safe from that danger.

Attends Communion.

"Today, (Sunday) I went to communion service at the Church Army hut and after dinner (rabbit pie again) we took a walk to Witley village to see the old church. I had never been inside before and it was a treat. The rector was there, showing us about and then took us down to his parish house where the ladies serve lunch every Sunday afternoon to soldiers for four pence or eight cents U. S. money and believe me it is some lunch. Four slices of bread, with real butter on them, two cups of tea, three sandwiches with jam betwetn them and one large piece of home-made cake. Think of that. The church must be richly endowed to lose money like that or else everybody else around here are robbers, including the Y. M. C. A. My only regret is that I will have to leave so soon after discovering the place and here I have been within a mile of it for two weeks.

"I go back on the big guns again tomorrow for some more training, perhaps a week or ten days, and then I will be ready for France. Now let me explain my position. When I get to France I will be in the reserve and not right up to the front when I land there. Sometimes you kick around way back behind the lines for a month at the reserve depot before going up the line so there is nothing to worry about for some time to come. Perhaps by the time I am called they will have old Fritz stopped and on the run and I think I would enjoy chasing him even in Kitchener trench shoes.

Back from Another Trip Across

Through tht kindness of his mother, Mrs. A. B. McLachlin we print the following letter from her son Leon.

New York City, Aug 22, '18

My Dear Mother:

Back safely again. Received your mail and believe me it was thoroughly enjoyed. I look forward to getting my mail as I would to a holiday. I am in a "Y" at 6th and 24th streets a very cool place.

We arrived here Tuesday evening and I rated liberty so I came ashore for a little while just to get a bath and hair cut and sent you a card to let you know I was back all right. I presume you got it today.

Today was my birthday but it did not make any difference with the Government and I have worked just as steady all day until liberty call at 4:30 p. m. I didn't rate liberty yesterday or I would have written to you then.

I received the package and your letters yesterday all O. K and I sure appreciate the things. They are very acceptable.

Our trip was no different from the other except we went a different route across to France. We were acting as convoy for the "Leviathan" the big German ship taken by the Government. The Huns are determined to get her so she has been put under our protection so if we get into a scrap we are apt to get the dirty end of it, but it would be much better for us with our 4500 troops than for her to go down with her 20,000. We never saw a thing but a submarine supply ship which was sunk by one of our destroyers and the crew interned in France. We brought back 85 soldiers, wounded, gassed, T. B. and shell shocked One of the men suffering from shell shock jumped over board in mid ocean and was lost. We hunted an hour or more for him but couldn't find him. You know shell shock is the same as crazy, they loose their minds. Gee, it was hard to see those splendid fellows with cork legs, etc., some nearly burned out, couldn't stand it to be inside at all. The poor fellow who jumped over board is much better off where he is.

Hope you like the souvenirs from France mother, I didn't have much time nor money to spare but I knew you would like to have some thing that came from France.

When the boat goes into dry dock I will be home for a few weeks I hope. I expect a two days leave Sunday and Monday and will go out to Upper Montclair and see Mrs. Throop a day and Harold McClure the other. They are making some repairs on the ship so we want leave for France before Sept. 1st probably any way or not much before that.

Wish you were at Mrs. Throops so I could see you, Gee, wouldn't that be great! I will write you again on my next shore liberty which wont be until Sunday I don't think. Will close for this time with lots of love to all including grandfaher and grandmother. Wish I could see you all.

Leon.

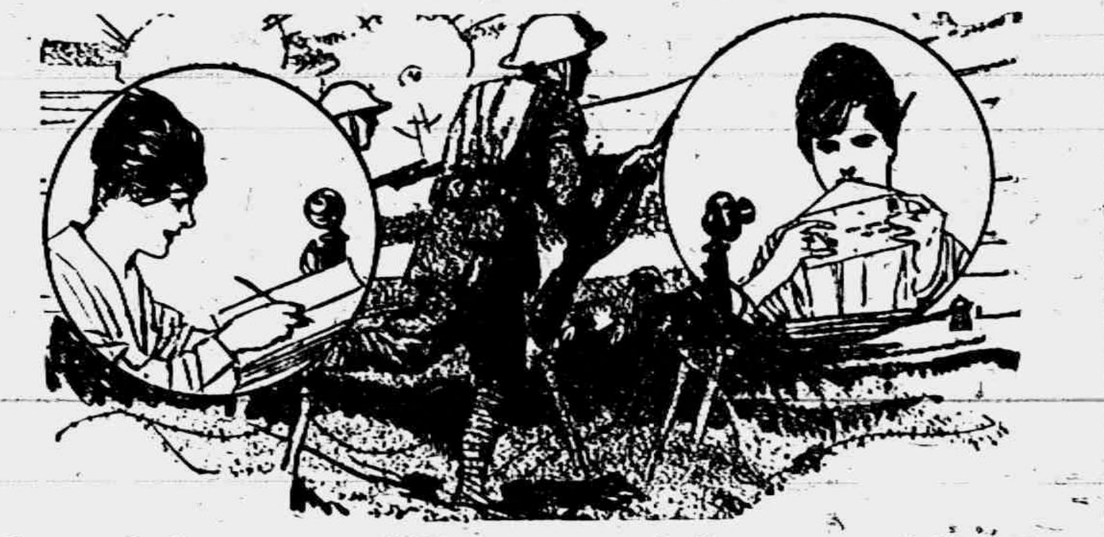
How Can Our Young Women Do Their Bit ?



Through Commercial Training and Commercial Service

While the wives and mothers of our soldiers are giving unstintingly of their time to Red Cross Work, there are other avenues of service, equally important in this hour of need, which are particularly open to our GIRLS AND YOUNG WOMEN.

We refer to COMMERCIAL SERVICE in the offices of retail and wholesale establishments, factories, banks, etc.

To render such service EFFICIENTLY demands SPECIAL TRAINING.

Young people of either sex who have completed their common or high school education can render their country no more patriotic service than by fitting themselves to take up the work of the men who have joined or will soon join our fighting forces.

Such branches of Business Training as STENOGRAPHY, TYPEWRITING, BOOKKEEPING, ACCOUNTING, BURROUGHS CALCULATING MACHINE and similar subjects, insure young people SPLENDID POSITIONS with our great business houses, factories, banks and stores.

Taking up this work, enables you to DO YOUR BIT in capacities of GREATEST benefit to your country and to yourself.

Many young women throughout the country—who never gave business training a thought, possibly having no need to earn their own living—are now enrolling in the Business Institute.

They see the PRACTICAL as well as the PATRIOTIC side of this important question. They consider thorough business training and experience as an ACCOMPLISHMENT and ASSET which will always qualify them to earn their own living single-handed should they for any reason again find it necessary to do so in the future.

Parents and their young sons and daughters should take up the question of business training at once.

All the branches that qualify young men and women for commercial service are taught at The Business Institute by a highly capable staff of instructors.

Students may enroll at any time. Classes in both day and evening sessions enable you to complete a course quickly. Electric fans used freely. A personal interest taken in each student.

Monday another change comes in the long life of this paper and the present management steps out and turns over the business to Mr. E. H. Ahrens. In passing we wish to express our appreciation to the people of this community for the liberal support that has been given during the past five years, for without that support it would have been impossible to serve you. We have made many friends among the business men as well as in the homes of the people and our relations have always been most cordial and pleasing. To all we tender our sincere thanks.

Tecumseh has the name of being one of the most progressive and up to date towns in the country and as such needs one of the best newspapers. Our local paper, which is generously taken in this community, should be found in every home in town and should be distributed over a large section of the surrounding territory. As an advertising medium it should carry its weekly offerings to the homes of the people, an easy and useful method of keeping the people posted in regard to our local market.

No merchant who is alive and keen to get his wares to the eye of the public should be without space in the local paper. The newspaper is conceded to be the best and cheapest medium of advertising and money invested in this way will return big dividends to the investor.

We are leaving the Herald in good hands and we believe that our successor will deliver the goods. We bespeak for him the success his long years of experience deserves.

Corunna—Mr. and Mrs B. S Lyman, of Corunna, have received a cablegram from their son, Lieutenant Pliny Lyman, in France, that he had been wounded in action, but is rapidly recovering. Lieutenant Lyman was graduated from the second officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan and went overseas last winter.

Lansing—Michigan has 510 standard schools. Allegan County leads with 62. Other counties with ten or more are: Berrien, 11; Cheboygan, 14; Dickinson, 16; Genessee, 13; Ingham, 10; Ionia, 10; Iron, 10; Kent, 15; Mason, 24; Muskegon, 17; Newaygo, 16; Oakland, 25; Ottawa, 30; Saginaw, 11; Van Buren, 16, and Wayne, 12.

Lansing — Sixty-two accidental drownings during July helped to boost the total of violent deaths in Michigan last month to 156, which is a record for any month of the present year. Railroad accidents caused 21 deaths and electric lines caused the death of 20 persons. There were 21 fatalities from automobile accidents, 29 suicides and 3 killings.

Port Huron—A. E. Stevenson, chairman of the district draft board, said that many claims for exemption are made simply because of ignorance. He adds that the board is investigating many complaints regarding those who have not subscribed to the Red Cross. In Oakland county the claims for exemption for industrial reasons are very numerous.

Bay City—After three years of controversy involving supreme court lawsuits, the council has accepted a compromise agreement through the bridge commission whereby the rental of Third street bridge is placed at $1,500 per year. The bridge was rented to the Traction company for 20 years at an annual toll of $500. An injunction followed the attempt to raise three years ago.

Lansing—J. Arthur Bolce, member of Ingham county draft board, has been chosen by General Crowder, provost marshal general to act as his personal representative in superintending draft activities in Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois. Seth Pulver, of Owosso, assumed duties of chief legal adviser of the supply division of military aeronautics department of the army. His work will be supervising contracts by this department.

Ann Arbor—Professor H. C. Anderson, of the engineering college faculty of the University of Michigan, has accepted an invitation to become a member of the engineering advisory committee of the state conservation board, part of a national organization to aid in fuel conservation in power plants. Professor Anderson also is a member of the advisory conservation council of Detroit, formed to criticize and advise power plant operators on how to economize in fuel consumption throughout the state of Michigan.

Eaton Rapids—A school for military instruction without fee is to be conducted here by officers of Company 8, Michigan state troops. Captain Clark L. Belnap of Company 8 will be one of the instructors.

Reed City—A tug of war between a railway locomotive and 100 men will be a feature during Reed City's three-day celebration August 31 to September 2. The Pere Marquette has loaned the locomotive for the purpose.

Grand Rapids—As a result of the government expose of German propaganda in at least one school textbook used here, the board of education will ask the department of education at Washington to make the investigation of school textbooks nation wide so as to aid schools in discovering propaganda by listing all books considered objectional by the government. The board formally ousted Robinson's Medieval and Modern Times History and ordered an investigation into all school books being used in Grand Rapids schools.

BAN SUNDAY USE OF MOTOR VEHICLES

FUEL ADMINISTRATION CALLS UPON PUBLIC TO CEASE USING ALL CLASSES OF AUTOS.

MOVE TO PREVENT SHORTAGE

Extensive Military Operations In France Given For Gasoline Curtailment in U. S.

Washington—The fuel administration has called upon the public in states east of the Mississippi river to cease using all classes of automobiles, with a few named exceptions, motorcycles and motorboats, Sundays, until further notice, as a gasoline conservation measure.

Only voluntary compliance with the letter and spirit of the request will prevent the issuance of a mandatory order prohibiting the use of gasoline on Sundays, it was declared at the fuel administration. Automobiles for hire are included in the curtailment program.

Motor vehicles to which the restrictions do not apply were announced as:

Tractors and trucks employed in actual transportation of freight; vehicles of physicians, used in performance of professional duties; ambulances, fire apparatus, police patrol wagons, undertaker's wagons and conveyances used for funerals; railway equipment, repair outfits employed by telephone and public service companies, motor vehicles on errands of necessity in rural communities where transportation by steam and electricity is not available.

The action was taken by the fuel administration, it was stated, to meet a threatened shortage of gasoline for shipment overseas, created by increased domestic demands and extensive military operations in France.

After listing exceptions to the request, the fuel administration makes an appeal "to the patriotic men and women of America, east of the Mississippi river, to undertake, voluntarily, additional conservation in operating their own automobiles, wherever possible."

According to fuel administration authorities, 25 per cent of the consumption of fuel oil last year was wasted. The total production of petroleum for the United States for last year reached approximately 341,000,000 barrels, or 14,322,000,000 gallons.

Collectively, it is estimated by the oil conservation bureau that the annual losses from petroleum products and natural gas now approximate $1,000,000,000 per year. At least $95,000,000 of this amount is chargeable to fuel oil and $115,000,000 to gasoline.

REVENUE MEASURE DELAYED

House and McAdoo at Odds On 3 Per Cent Levy On Incomes.

Washington—Difference between the treasury and the house ways and means committee as to levying of a three per cent differential on unearned incomes appeared to be the only obstacle to completion of drafting of the revenue bill designed to raise $8,000,000,000 by taxation in the present fiscal year.

Steps toward bringing about an agreement between the committee and the treasury were considered at a conference between Chairman Kitchin and Secretary McAdoo.

Because of the temporary disagreement, Mr. Kitchin indicated that the committee might not be able to report the bill to the house before the last of August.

BOAT SEIZED WITH ALIENS ON

Brought Into Harbor Where Records of Crew Will Be Made.

An Atlantic Port—Naval authorities have brought the steam yacht Zega into port, and placed her under armed guard, pending investigation of the status of several foreigners among her crew.

Activities of enemy submarines along the Atlantic coast, naval officials said, have caused strict examination of all craft with persons of foreign birth on board.

Zega, it is understood, was bound from New London, Conn., for Eastport, Me. Apparently not satisfied with papers of all members of the crew the commander of the patrol boat ordered the yacht taken to a nearby harbor, where records of some of the crew will be checked up.

STATE BEAN CROP 10% LESS

K. P. Kimball Making Second Inspection for U. S. Food Administration.

Saginaw—Michigan's bean crop will be at least 10 per cent less than predicted because of drought and frost according to Kenneth P. Kimball, in control of the bean division of the United States food administration, who was here recently on his second trip of inspection through the northern part of the state.

Mr. Kimball motored through the principal bean-growing districts in the Thumb and northern part [illegible] to get first hand information [illegible]

Reed City—Lou B. Winsor, grand secretary of the Masons of Michigan, is about to move his offices to Grand Rapids.

Eaton Rapids—Because of the drought farmers say that the late potato crop will be but 50 per cent of a normal yield.

Petoskey—Stanley McBride, of Harbor Springs, is in a French hospital, slightly wounded, according to word received by his brother, Clare McBride.

Muskegon—Max Lange, charged with pro-German utterances and held on $1,000 bail to the district court at Grand Rapids, has resigned as president of a local insurance company.

Grand Rapids—Former Fire Marshal Henry Lemein, 74 years old, is near death with hardening of the arteries. He has been fire marshal of this city for more than thirty years.

Eaton Rapids—According to letters just received by W. E. Hale from his son Ralph, serving in France, he and all of the other Eaton Rapids boys of Battery C, field artillery, have seen considerable action.

FIRST OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT WAR PICTURES FROM "OVER THERE"

Newspapers all over the country have heralded "Pershing's Crusaders," the big United States official war feature film depicting the doings of our soldiers and sailors, both on this side of the water and "over there," as the greatest war moving picture yet produced. It is shown directly by the Government, and in Michigan under the Michigan War Preparedness Board. In this state the profits go to the dependants' fund, while whatever profits accrue to the Government are turned over to the American Red Cross.

Long runs in the 16 large cities of the country, where the Government showed the picture under its own direction, gave an impetus to the film which has not been excelled by any feature film released in recent months. On all sides the critics were enraptured over the film, its continuity, the lesson it teaches, and the message of patriotism it carries with it. Here are a few of the newspaper notices which were given it:

" 'Pershing's Crusaders' is far and away the best compilation of war pictures exhibited here since the beginning of the European struggle."—N. Y. Times.

"Stirred spectators to hearty cheers."—N. Y. Herald.

"The pictures overseas are complete and satisfying and give an adequate answer to those who want to know what the boys are doing and what their life is like in and around the trenches."—N. Y. Sun.

"The 'National Movie' is in town. The exhibition has been made and is being shown by the National Government. As entertainment it is of the best."—Cleveland Pain Dealer.

"Every person who has a relative over there should see 'Pershing's Crusaders.' "—Detroit Free Press.

"The pictrues are ones to stir enthusiasm and patriotism to the utmost."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"Pershing's Crusaders" will be shown here at the Bradley Opera Theatre next Sunday, matinee and night, September 1st. Prices, adults 25c, children 10c. Owing to the fact that these are the government's own pictures presented by the government no war tax is charged.

GOOD CROWD HERE WEDNESDAY

Rain in the Morning Did Not Keep People Home

The downpour Wednesday morning made things look a little doubtful for the afternoon and evening performance, but about noon it cleared off and by evening the clouds had disappeared and everything was lovely for the performance.

In the afternoon the colored band of the "In Old Kentucky" company rendered several fine selections, adding much to the entertainment and in the evening gave several more. "The Star Spangled Banner" was their masterpiece. During the playing of our national hymn, the Tipton band, who were in attendance, stood uncovered, as did about all of the audience, though some had to be prompted.

The wire act by Bell & Bragg was fine and the novelty bar act by Ben & Era was exceptionally good.

The uuasl big crowd was present and surely had a big treat.

HANLEYS ATTEND THE MOORE REUNION

Mr. and Mrs Thomas Hanley with their son, Will and family returned home Thursday from Rev. Howard Moores near Ypsilanti where they attended the Moore reunion, 83 being present. Aunt Hannah Moore was present having passed her 88th birthday, which occurred Jan 10, 1918 and up to this date she had knit 42 pairs of socks and 7 pairs of wristlets. The day was quit comfortable, a shower about noon laid the dust.

The crowd were entertained with business meeting, reading and visiting until a late hour when all except 17 departed for their several homes

The evening was enjoyed by those present and when morning came the beautiful home was vacated feeling Howards family had given them a royal welcome. Cousins from a distance were present Wm. B. Moore of Lancaster Co. Pa., Mary E. Kimbel of Springfield Ohio and several from different parts of Michigan.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC

The M. E. Sunday-school held a basket picnic on the lawn at the home of Chas. Snedicor in Brownville Thursday afternoon with a good attendance. Boating and games were enjoyed and a general good time reported.

Petoskey—Mrs. John Matthews, of Boyne City, is in a Petoskey hospital with several broken ribs and cuts about the face and body. Her husband is badly bruised. They were thrown from a carriage when their horse ran away.

Grand Rapids—Gertrude Wonderlehp, 18 years old, was drowned at Manhattan Beach. The girl was learning how to swin and stepped into deep water and sank before help could reach her. The body was recovered

Muskegon—Consumers Power company was notified by city officials to cease its practice of charging $7 for connecting up current to homes about the city, the municipal authorities having received word from the state railway commission that the corporation had no legal authority to take such action. The former charge was from $1 to $2.

Muskegon—Lucile Gryka, pretty Nunica, Mich., school teacher, and Warren Spencer, both charged with conspiring to kill Spencer's wife, so they might marry, probably will be turned over to the Grand Rapids officers. Counsel for the defendants whose examination has been pending several weeks, maintains that the conspiracy if any, was framed in the Pantlind hotel, Grand Rapids.

OFFICER SMITH MAKES QUICK WORK IN ARRESTING TRAMP

Wednesday noon a suspicious looking character was seen prowling about in the west end of town where he was stopped and asked his business. He claimed he was going to Elkhart, Ind., and was working his way back on the railroad. He also said he had been visiting his father who lived in Detroit, but knowing the character of such people little confidence was placed in his story.

Officer John B. Smith was notified of his presence in town and just half an hour later he had his man and was on his way to the Adrian jail with him.

Mr. Smith says the fellow frightened a small boy and wanted to fight with the lad's father. He told the same story to the officer but, being of the undesirable class and one not likely to make a very good citizen, the officer decided that Adrian was the place for him. He made some resistance but was landed safe and sound in the Adrian jail.

WAR RELICS EXHIBITED AT LILLEY BANK

Property of Rev. James G. Widdifield and Picked Up on the Battle Fields of France

A very interesting collection of war relics are on exhibition in the front window at the Lilley State Bank. The collection is the property of Rev. James G. Widdifield and was picked up on the battle fields of France and brought back with him when he returned a few weeks ago. The relics are of great interest and have attracted a good deal of attention.

Found in the collection are the following articles: German aerial torpedo, French trench tool, noses of four German shells, German bayonet scabbord, German rifle ammunition, German helmet, French helmet, American helmet, piece of German plane, French rifle grenade, German hand grenade, French bayonet, piece of German barbed wire, pieces of casing from shells dropped by German planes, two brass shells from French "75" upon which hammered designs have been made by French soldiers while in the trenches, and French and American gas masks.

MARCHING CLUB TO RESUME DRILLING

Capt. Hanna Requests All Members to Report Tuesday Night

All members of the Tecumseh Marching Club are requested to meet for drill at the usual hour and place next Tuesday evening, Sept. 3d. Capt. Hanna asks for a full attendance and would appreciate it if each member report and use his influence to secure a new member. The hot summer weather is nearly over and the evening will be cool and just right for a vigorous hour's drilling.

This drill corps should have a hundred members and all young men especially, who are subject to draft, should be in this company. The experience they would get will come in handy when they arrive at camp.

Let's have a big attendance out next Tuesday evening and let every member boost for the Tecumseh Marching Club.

THEATRICAL SEASON COMMENCES WITH A GREAT SHOW

Manager Marks began the theatrical season for 1918-'19 with a rouser on Wednesday evening. "In Old Kentucky," with the thoroughbred horses and the darkies, delighted an immense crowd. In fact the big building was packed to the doors. It was a lively bunch and they gave one great show.

Dorothy LaRue, as Madge Brierly, "the flower of the mountains," was the sweetest little girl imaginable and her support was excellent.

The most popular part was "The Woodlawn Whangdoodles," a bunch of darkies whose clogging, singing and acting were mighty good and they had the audience with them every minute. They had a splendid band and a wonderful snare drummer. The horse race on the stage was an unusual feature and it was on this incident the whole play hung. The mountain scenery was beautiful and the whole show from start to finish "got" the crowd.

Mr. Mark has another good show coming September 3d, next Tuesday evening, a big musical comedy, "Oh! Sammy." So things at the Bradley start off with a boom!

THE WINTERS COMPANY

One of the numbers on the Presbyterian course, who were forced to give up their entertainment here last winter on account of the big blizzard, put on their attraction at the church last evening, and the audience were delighted.

The company consists of a man and his wife and they make a whole show by themselves. Their talents are so many you do not notice the size of the troupe. The lady whistles divinely and their musical readings are grat, while both are eloqutionists of no small ability.

HANDSOME GOWNS WILL BE SEEN TUESDAY NIGHT

The "Oh! Sammy" Co. will be at the Bradley opera house Tuesday evening. Charming Bonnie LeTour, prima donna of this company, is possibly the most handsome gowned woman on the American stage. The gowns she admires most are the "American Made." Miss LaTour's birthplace being Paris, she claims of late years that American made gowns far surpass Parisian creations and that after the war the French madmoiselle will come to New York for style.

UNCLE SAM WANTS THOUSANDS OF STENOGRAPHERS

Washington D. C. August 24, 1918 Notwithstanding the fact that thousands of stenographers and typewriters have been appointed in the Government service in Washington, D. C., since our country entered the war, the United States Civil Service Commission announces that there is pressing need for several thousand more workers of this class. Women are urged to offer their services for this office work and thus help in a practical way in the nation's great undertaking.

Entrance salaries range from $1,000 to $1,200 a year. Most appointments are made at $1,100. Higher salaried positions are usually filled through promotion, original appointments at salaries in excess of $1,200 being rare.

Examinations are held every Tuesday in 650 cities, and the Commission states that an examination will be held in any city, day or night, when there is prospect of assembling a class of as many as three competitors. Eligibility for appointments may be obtained through passing an examination in practical tests in shorthand and typewriting or in typewriting alone. It s practical to complete such an examination in one hour. Representatives of the Civil Service Commission at the post offices in all cities are prepared to furnish definite information to persons interested.

The Room Registration Office of the District of Columbia Council of Defense maintains a list of rooms in private homes in Washington which are available to newly appointed Government clerks. All rooms are carefully inspected before being listed. The Room Registration Office states that the usual charge for rooming accommodations with board, that is, the two principal meals of the day is $40 a month. To obtain this rate it is usually necessary for two persons to share a room. In addition, the Government is erecting residence halls including restaurants, for the use of Federal employees in Washington. It is expected that the first units will be ready for occupancy by December. The Room Registration Office states that it is able to provide accommodation in the meantime.

F. J. TEMPLE MEETS WITH SERIOUS ACCIDENT

While in the Gatlinghouse Garage Wednesday evening F. J. Temple had the misfortune to step into a hole in the floor straining the cords of the knee joint and the sciatic nerve. He was taken to his home and Dr. Hendershott was called and was with him part of the night as he was suffering excruciating pain from the injury

No serious results are anticipated and he hopes soon to be at his place in the bank

REUNION 18th. MICH. INFT.

Adrian, Tuesday, August 27, 1918

The annual reunion of the 18th Tuesday, August 27, with 61 in attendance. The same number were present at the reunion of last year. 12 deaths were reported for the year just closed.

A fine chicken dinner was served at the Inn followed by toasts, singing and short speeches. A very pleasant time was reported.

Those going from Tecumseh were H. W. Stevens, Jas. Ingersoll and Ransom Mills, Wm. Smith ,and J. C. Critchett were not able to attend.

BIRTHDAY HONORED

Tuesday the ladies of the class taught by Mrs. B Hurry in the Methodist Sunday school met at the home of their teacher honoring her birthday which occurred Monday, the gathering being put off on account of the church meet which was held that afternoon and evening.

A most enjoyable time was spent with Mrs Hurry and a fine potluck supper was served, after which the ladies left for their several homes wishing Mrs. Hurry as many more birthdays as she could enjoy.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Thursday afternoon little Louise Leighton celebrated her sixth birthday with ten of her boy and girl friends to assist her. The afternoon was spent with games and fun of all kinds and then came the birthday supper, ice cream and wafers with the birthday cake in the center of the table with six tiny candles burning. After they had burned low more ice cream was served with generous pieces of the cake making it a royal feast. As the little folks left for home, they all said they had such a good time and hoped Louise would have many more happy birthdays.

WINTZ & JONES BIG MUSICAL COMEDY HERE TUESDAY

'Oh! Sammy!" the big musical comedy company will be the attraction at the Bradley for an engagement of one night, Tuesday, Sept 3d. In presenting this splendid comedy, Wintz & Jones have left nothing undone to make it the best. It requires a 60 foot baggage car to transport the company and effects of this organization. In presenting 'Oh! Sammy," there are 20 musical numbers 12 changes of costumes for the chorus and seven mammoth scenes. It is without exception the best attraction traveling at popular prices.

BIG SURPRISE TO MANY IN TECUMSEH

People are surprised at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka ONE SPOONFUL flushes the ENTIRE bowel tract & completely it relieves ANY CASE sour stomach, gas or constipation and prevents appendicitis. The INSTANT, pleasant action of Adler-i-ka surprises both doctors and patients. It removes foul matter which poisoned your stomach for months. B. J. Pulver, Druggist.

OIL HEADS BAN SUNDAY USE OF GASOLINE CARS

Passenger Autos, Motorcycles and Motor Boats Included In Order to Conserve Fuel for Overseas Shipments

Rule Prohibits Only use of Vehicles for Pleasure Purposes

Washington August 27.—The fuel adminstration today called upon the public in states east of the Mississippi river to cease using all classes of automobiles, with a few named exceptions, motorcycles and motorboats Sundays, until further notice as a gasoline conservation measure.

Only voluntary compliance with the letter and spirit of the request will prevent the insurance of a mandatory order prohibiting the use of gasoline on Sundays, it was declared at the fuel administration. Automobiles for hire are included in the curtailment program.

Exceptions to Ruling Listed

Motor vehicles to which the restrictions do not apply were announced as:

Tractors and trucks employed in actual transportation of freight; vehicles of physicians, used in performance of professional duties; ambulances, fire apparatus, police patrol wagons and conveyances used for funerals; railway equipment; repair outfits employed by telephone and public service companies; motor vehicles on errands of necessity in rural communities where transportation by steam and electricity is not available.

Move to Prevent Shortage

The action was taken by the fuel administration, it was stated, to meet a threatened shorage of gasoline for shipment overseas, created by increased domestic demands and extensive military operations in France.

After listing exceptions to the request, the fuel administration makes an appeal "to the patriotic men and women of America east of the Mississippi river, to undertake, voluntarily, additional conservation in operating their own automobiles, wherever possible."

U. S. Oil Waste is Prodigous

According to fuel administration authorities, 25 per cent. of the consumption of fuel oil last year was wasted. The total production of petroleum for the United States for last year reached approximately 341,000,000 barrels, or 14,322,000,000 gallons.

Collectively it is estimated by the oil conservation bureau that the annual losses from petroleum products and natural gas now approximate $1,000,000,000 per year. At least $95,000,000 of this amount is chargeable to fuel oil and $115,000,000 to gasoline. Free Press.

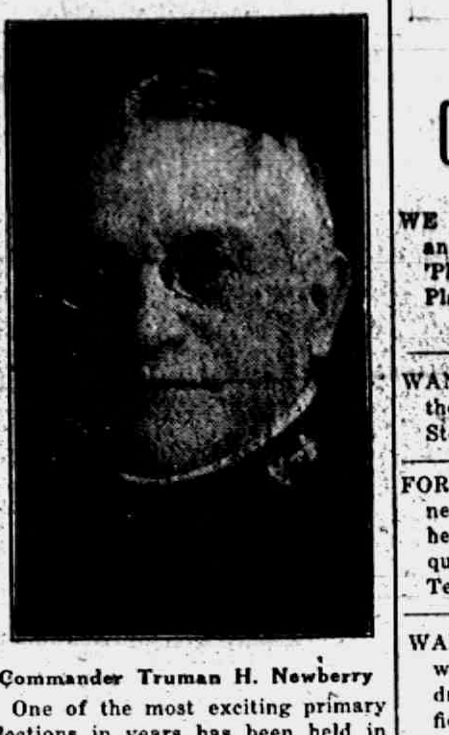
COMMANDER TRUMAN H. NEWBERRY WINS

Earl C. Michner Lenawee's Candidate for Congress is Winner in this District

Ed Frensdorf Loses by Close Vote

Bean Wins for Prosecutor



Commander Truman H. Newberry

One of the most exciting primary elections in years has been held in Michigan and the returns have been eagerly watched. The Senatorial fight has ended in an overwhelming victory for Commander Truman H. Newberry, Republican candidate for Senator from Michigan. Newberry carrying the state by a two for one majority over his rivals, Ford, Osborne and Simpson. Lieut. Governor Dickinson's, eleventh hour attack upon Paul King, Newberry's campaign manager, proved to no avail and leaves him in a peculiar position with Michigan voters.

In this Congressional district a four cornered race for Congressman on the Republican ticket resulted in a victory for our Lenawee candidate Earl C. Michener. Michener winning by a small majority over Dixon, Newton and Bacon. The District placed their mark of disapproval upon Mark Bacon and in plain terms expressed their opinion of his unpatriotic record in Congress where for a few months he held the disputed chair from this district.

Late returns give John W. Bailey, candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket a small majority over Ed Frensdorf. In spite of mud throwing our Lenawee county man made a fine showing and early returns were giving him the nomination.

A lively race for Prosecutor in Lenawee County on the Republican ticket resulted in Beans election for his third term.

For U. S. Senate—
  Truman Newberry, R.
  Henry Ford, D.
For Governor —
  Albert E. Sleeper, R.
  John W. Bailey, D.
For Lieutenant Governor—

Great Scott! Suppose, just suppose that a bunch of official women should kick up such an infernal row about "dead dogs, dump heaps, burning rubbish," as the city fathers did in our neighboring town recently. Wouldn't Ye Editor of the ---- reiterate his classic (?) ejaculations, as set forth in one of his recent editorials—of "idiotic females" "hysterical women," etc. In the game of politics, it seems "What is sauce for the gander is NOT sauce for the goose," and the city fathers were men. Ah! Ah! A. B. W.

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss

In the matter of the estate of IDA M ZIMMERMAN, Deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed by the Probate Court of said County, Commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at the office of Wood & Rathbun in the village of Tecumseh, Lenawee County, Michigan, on the 27th day of September 1918, and on the 7th day of December 1918 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days.

And that four months from the 17th day of August 1918, are allowed by said Probate Court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated August 17th 1917

G. Arthur Rathbun
John Pentecost.
Commissioners.

Albion—Byron Bradburrow and Vernor Woot, of Albion, narrowly escaped death when the buggy they were driving was demolished in a collision with an automobile driven by Frank Hardt. Hardt was fined $50 and costs in an Albion court.

Richmond—Mrs. Ellsworth H. Marshall, youngest daughter of former State Senator James E. Weter, is dead of blood poisoning as the result of the extraction of an ulcerated tooth. Mrs. Marshall was a well known vocalist.

Dowagiac—Circuit Judge L. B. Des Voignes has instructed County Clerk Robert Anderson to draw 10 extra jurors for the September term of court in Cass county. This will make possible the release of those most needed on their farms.

Lansing—German was removed as an elective language on which teachers seeking certificates may be examined at a meeting of the state board of education, it is reported by Fred L. Keeler, state superintendent of public instruction. French was substituted.

Hillsdale—In the county canning contest held at the Central school here, the Live Wire Canning club, of Osseo, won first place and the right to represent Hillsdale county at the state fair at Detroit. The winning team is composed of Merle Payne, Ethel Rose and Tillie Stone, of Osseo.

Port Huron—Port Huron milk commission has fixed the retail price of milk to consumers at 13 cents, to take effect August 25. Pints are seven cents. The price in bulk was fixed at 44 cents a gallon. The price to producers will be $3.28 a hundred pounds, or Detroit prices, less cost of transportation.

Ann Arbor—Because of the need of conserving coal, the trustees of the Students' Christian association have voted to close Newberry hall this academic year, and the Y. M. C. A. has opened Lane hall to the Y. W. C. A. The Y. M. C. A. proposes turning over the first floor of Lane hall to university women.

Grand Rapids—Robert Vanderwald, 18 years old, was drowned in the Garfield swimming pool. He was with a party of young men and was not missed until the others were dressed. A suit of clothing remaining unclaimed gave the first indication of the tragedy. The pool was drained and Vanderwald's body found.

STATE SWEPT BY COMMANDER NEWBERRY IN PRIMARY ELECTION

Newberry's Victory Is One of the Most Striking Triumphs of Recent Michigan Politics—Osborn Ran a Poor Third.

COUZENS AND CONNOLLY WINNERS IN THE MAYORAL NOMINATIONS

Frensdorf Anti-organization Candidate Ran Fairly Well Ahead of John W. Bailey—Other Primary Election Results.

Detroit—With the city of Detroit and the county of Wayne only adding to the overwhelming majority given Commander Truman H. Newberry, U. S. N., candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, by the state precincts, the indications at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning were that the Detroiter had received more votes than Henry Ford and Chase S. Osborn together, the margin over a majority being considerable.

Newberry's victory is one of the most striking triumphs of recent Michigan politics. Throughout the entire campaign he has not made an appearance within 1,000 miles of Detroit; he has not spoken a word in his own behalf, he has not issued a statement nor declared a platform.

Henry Ford, choice of President Wilson, "commanded" to run for senator, offered by the Democrats as a compromise candidate, received less than half as many votes as Newberry.

Osborn ran a very poor third, although in number of counties carried he was second. Newberry carried at least 70 of the state's 83 counties.

Connolly and Couzens Win.

James Couzens and William F. Connolly are nominated candidates for mayor at Detroit's first non-partisan election, every indication pointed early Wednesday when nearly one-third of the voting precincts had made reports. Divie B. Duffield and John Gillespie were nip and tuck for the empty honor of third place.

In the large councilmanic field it appeared that at least six of the present aldermen were among the leaders Early returns placed John C. Lodge among the leaders, if not the high man. He was closely followed by Aldermen James Vernor, John A. Kronk, Joseph A. Walsh, William P. Bradley and Sherman Littlefield. Among those outside the present council who were conceded to have more than a good chance of being well up among the list of 18 chosen were Charles F. Bielman, John C. Nagel and David W. Simon.

Frensdorf Lead Bailey.

The Democratic gubernatorial race resulted in a surprise as far as the figures went. Frensdorf, anti-organization candidate, ran fairly well ahead of John W. Bailey, of Battle Creek, who was the "organization" choice as a running mate for Ford. In 449 precincts, Frensdorf ran 2,583 against 2,141 for Bailey. This result however, may be seriously affected when the city returns come in, the precincts reported being nearly all rural. In the cities the Democratic regulars are well organized and the Bailey vote is expected to be much larger.

Voting in the state was extremely light. The indications point to about 175,000 votes in the Republican primaries and only a matter of a few thousands in the Democratic primaries.

Stein Leads in Race for Sheriff.

Official returns from 59 precincts out of 315 in the city and 38 in the suburbs Wednesday morning showed these results in the contest for Republican nominations for Wayne county offices:

Edward F. Stein had a lead of more than 300 over Irving J. (Duke) Coffin for sheriff.

Former County Clerk Thomas F Farrell had a similar lead over County Clerk Milton Oakman, who defeated him two years ago.

County Treasurer Green had a lead of more than two to one over Orrin P. Gulley.

Jasnowski Away in Lead.

Prosecutor Jasnowski was a nearly two-to-one leader over Allan P. Cox his nearest opponent, with Watson Owens and McCredie following in that order.

Otto Stoll's record for five terms in the office of register of deeds had won him a lead of more than two to one over his nearest opponent, Alderman Charles Ashe.

County Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines was handsomely, and Coroners Rothacker and Parker comfortably renominated.

St. Clair Votes to Join Detroit.

St. Clair Heights voted better than 3 to 1 at Tuesday's election to become part of the city of Detroit, the figures being 538 in favor of annexation and 166 against. In Detroit, where voters also cast ballots on the proposition, the vote was almost 6 to 1 in favor of absorbing the village, which is surrounded by territory now embraced in the corporate limits of the city. St. Clair Heights was incorporated as a village in 1903. It has a population of about 5,000 persons.

Newton Leads in Second District.

Congressional fights in Michigan had little to distinguish them as interesting except in the Second district, where four Republicans contested for the honor of opposing Congressman Sam Beakes. Newton apparently has the nomination by a comfortable margin, with Michener, of Adrian, second.

Cramton Returned Winner.

In the Seventh district, Congressman Cramton apparently has been returned by a comfortable majority over Captain Gilmore G. Scranton, of Harbor Beach. Cramton was fiercely assailed in some sections of his district for his course in congress, advocating a small army and navy up to almost the outbreak of the war.

Oakman-Farrel Fight Bitter.

The fight between county Clerk Oakman and former County Clerk Thomas F. Farrell was one of the bitterest contests of the day, due to several years' animosity. Oakman was hurt by his alliance with John Gillespie, candidate for mayor, in spite of Oakman's denial. Members of the county clerk staff who could be spared were all sent to the neighborhood of polling booths in critical spots or places where they had individual followings. In several places political enemies of Oakman did effective work for Farrell. Farrell expressed confidence in his victory over the man who forced him out of office two years ago.

Ira W. Jayne Running Well.

Ira W. Jayne, nearly elected circuit judge last year, was leading the ticket for four circuit judges, out of a field of 16, with Ormond F. Hunt, Paul Voorhies and Adolph Marschner the other three leaders in those precincts.

Nichols Running Strong.

Fifteenth precincts in the Thirteenth congressional district gave Congressman Charles A. Nichols a strong lead over Walter C. Piper and Malcolm McLeod, with James Lane a poor fourth.

Jerome Heads Legislative Ticket.

In 28 precincts, Representative James D. Jerome led the field of 41 candidates for 11 places on the Republican state representative ticket in the First district.

In the Third senatorial district the race between Arthur E. Wood and Sherman D. Callender was said to be close. In the First, Walter J. Hayes was figured to have polled a large vote against Senator Herrman Koehler.

Frank Schroeder, drain commissioner, suffered heavily in a field of four candidates. George Dingeman, county surveyor, for many years attached to the county highway commission, led in the early returns, with James Grant and Albert E. Wilson following.

Coroners Rothacher and Parker expressed the belief they would both be on the ticket. They had only one opponent—Dr. R. T. Williams, who made a strong run.

West Branch—A Republican county convention will be held September 10 at the court house here.

Niles—Miss Rose Steck, aged 20, a trained nurse, was drowned at Barron lake when she stepped into a hole while bathing.

Port Huron—Henry A. Hoffman, who received several thousand volts of electricity through his body Thursday, died Friday. He was a former coroner of St. Clair.

Hillsdale—Waldon and Jonesville are both planning big Labor day celebrations, the proceeds of all entertainments to be turned over to the benefit of the Red Cross.

Eaton Rapids—Railroad officials are considering installing a connection between the Michigan Central and Lake Shore roads and using the Michigan Central depot for the business of both roads.

Dowagiac—Quicksand is hampering the big steam barge working on the Dowagiac river drain project north of this city. The big drain will be nearly 30 miles long and traverse Van Buren Berrien and Cass counties.

LEXINGTON CASHIER VANISHES

Lexington, Mich.—Bank Examiner Wisner has taken charge of the Lexington bank, following the disappearance of Cashier Theodore Wixon and the recipt of letters ostensibly left by him stating that there is a shortage in his accounts of from thirty to sixty thousand dollars.

Mrs. Wixon is prostrated by her husband's disappearance. Wixon was apparently a model citizen. He was not yet 30 years old, the son of Waldo Wixon, a well to do farmer of Worth township, and had the absolute confidence of every one dealing with the bank.

The stock of the bank is held by a number of small holders who have made up any deficiency. The depositors will not lose a cent in any event. The cashier's father has announced that all he has is to be devoted to preventing the loss of anything to the patrons of the bank. Action of the stockholders has made the continuance of business without loss to patrons assured.

Meanwhile officials of the bank have taken no legal steps against the missing cashier. No warrant has been sought and the only basis so far for the charges against him is the fact of his disappearance, the "confession" contained in the letters bearing his name and the undoubted presence of the bank examiner

Kalamazoo—Dorothea, Wilma and Alice Cross, aged 12, 9 and 2½ respectively, were run down and perhaps fatally injured by an automobile driven by Marcus Gibbs, of Oshtemo. Gibbs will be taken into custody, officers declared.

Muskegon—Corporal Burt Postema was seriously wounded in the great drive between the Marne and the Aisne on the western front, according to word just received here. Postema accompanied the Yanks for 12 miles before a German gunner got him. He is now recovering.

Albion—Corp. W. C. S. Pellowe, former orator and Albion college graduate, who waived the exemption given ministers and went into the service at Camp Custer, has just received the commission of first lieutenant and chaplain at the chaplains' school at Camp Taylor, Louisville.

Escanaba—Henry Schultz, a section laborer, of Nahma, an Indian settlement, near this city, was killed when struck in the head by a bullet from a rifle in the hands of Tom Bayson, an eight-year-old Indian. Schultz fell from the moving handcar. The boy said he was shooting at a bird.

What to Do When Backache Comes on

"Foley Kidney Pills have done more good than $150.00 worth of other medicine," writes Chas. N. Fox of Elmrod, N. Y.

When backache comes on, and it seems as if you can't stand the pain and pressure in the small of your back and sides, do not feel that you must continue to suffer, but get a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills and begin taking them. They usually help from the very first dose.

It is worth a good deal to you to know that Foley Kidney Pills give you just what your system needs to repair weak sick kidneys. It is their inability to do their work properly that causes your pain and misery. Foley Kidney Pills lend to middle-aged and elderly people the spryness and elasticity of youth. They take away the cause of backache, stiff and aching joints, rheumatic pains and annoying bladder and urinary troubles. Try them today.

LAD INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

LESLIE McLACHLIN STEPS IN PATH OF MACHINE

Watched One Pass, But Did Not See Other Approaching—Escaped Broken Bones, But Sustained Painful Bruises.

Saturday evening little Leslie McLachlin was terribly hurt by being run down by a car driven by Al Brooks in the road in front of the Episcopal church. Leslie had waited for one car to pass and not seeing Mr. Brooks' car approaching ran right in the path of the latter and was knocked down. The machine ran over him and was stopped as quickly as possible. A big machine coming along right after stopped and picked up the Brooks people and the injured lad and hustled to town to find a doctor. They found Dr. Hardy in and he cared for the little fellow's injuries. There is one wicked gash on the chin and his back is badly injured, in fact there is scarcely a muscle in the whole body which is not cruelly bruised, but no bones were found fractured. After being cared for the little boy was taken home and now lies helpless in his bed, but is gaining nicely.

No blame attaches to either Mr Brooks or the lad. Mr. Brooks did not see the lad until he had hit him and Leslie surely did not get in the way of the Brooks' car purposely. Mr. Brooks had been to the depot to meet his daughters, Marion and Mildred and Mrs. Ingersoll, who came from Adrian, and was on his way home when the accident happened. He was only driving at the rate of 8 or 10 miles an hour, but the lad was not seen by any member of the auto party until he was struck by the car. Mr. Brooks and party feel greatly grieved over the sad accident.

CHARLES BENEDICT

Monday at 1 p. m. occurred the death of Charles Benedict, who since July 1917, has been ill with heart trouble. For many weeks his condition has been very serious and for days the sad event has been expected and now that the suffering is over we cannot wish him back to go through it again.

Mr. Benedict was 64 years old. He was born in Raisin township, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Benedict, and spent all his life in this locality. On October 12, 1880, he married Mary Boyce and this happy union has been ideal. To them were born two sons, Raynor on the home farm northeast of the village and Leon who resides in Detroit. Also are left two brothers, Frank Benedict of Riverside, Cal., and George of Detroit, and one sister, Mrs. Rhoda Dance of Pasadena, Cal.

Mr. Benedict was a member of the Presbyterian church, always a faithful attendant as long as his health permitted and in lodge affiliations, a Mason.

He moved onto the old Benedict farm a number of years ago, coming from Raisin upon the settlement of his father's estate, and here he resided until last fall when poor health forced him to give up active labor and he and Mrs. Benedict moved into the village. This farm has been in the family for four generations and even with the many tenants, a great pride has been taken in the wood lot upon it, for never has it felt the blow of an axe.

The funeral of our friend will be held from the Presbyterian church Wednesday at 1:30 p. m., Rev. W. A. Rex officiating.

A BEAUTIFUL CHURCH WEDDING

SOLEMNIZED AT ST. PETER'S SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Miss Ella Marie Ahrens Becomes Bride of Laurence Allen VanGieson—Church Beautifully Decorated by Ladies of St. John's Altar Guild, Clinton.

A wedding beautiful in its simplicity was that of Saturday afternoon when Miss Ella Marie Ahrens, only daugher of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ahrens, became the wife of Laurence Allen VanGieson of Clinton.

St. Peter's Episcopal church was beautiful in flags and fall flowers, banks of golden rod making very effective decorations at the chancel and choir rail while bouquets of the same adorned the head of each pew occupied by the relatives. These decorations were the work of the Altar Guild of St. John's church of Clinton of which the bride has been an active member. The ladies showed exquisite taste in their work and the effect was beautiful.

The wedding march was played by Miss Camilla Hayden. The wedding party were preceded by the ushers, Harold VanGieson and George Allen Newsom, brother and cousin of the groom; then came the maid of honor, Miss Marjorie Smith of Morenci followed by the bride on the arm of her father. The groom and minister, Rev. J. G. Widdifield awaited them at the altar and there the beautiful service of the church was read.

After the service the party adjourned to the parish house where the couple received the best wishes of the hosts of friends and generous portions of confetti.

The Altar Guild and several auto loads of other Clinton friends attended as well as many relatives from away.

Following the ceremony the newlyweds left on an auto trip for "somewhere," later to attend the Detroit fair and will be at home to their friends October 1st on a farm near Clinton.

That Miss Ahrens is well loved by a large circle of friends was evidenced by the number and variety of her wedding gifts which included cut glass, silver, linen, china, pictures, chars, a rug, an auto and checks of no small amount. She was born in Adrian, attended school in Jackson, Morenci and Grass Lake and graduated with the class of 1915 of Adrian high school. After graduation she took commericial work in Tecumseh high school and later attended the Ypsilanti Normal.

Mr. VanGieson has always made his home near Clinton and attended school in that village. He is a young farmer of splendid character and enjoys the respect and esteem of a large circle of friends.

Among the guests from other places were the bride's only grandfather, Henry Ahrens, and daughter, Marie of Adrian, Mrs. L. A. Quick of Chicago, Mrs. LeRoy Younkman, sons Sidney and Richard, Miss Hazel VanGieson, Harold VanGieson, Wylie VanGieson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. T. Scott and baby of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur VanGieson and daughters of Jackson, Miss Wilma Davis of Grass Lake, O. J. McCrillis, wife and daughters, Joyce and Jane, Milan Smith, wife and daughters, Marjorie and Allene of Morenci.

Primitive Submarine.

The inventor and navigator—Cornelius Drebel, a Dutchman—enjoyed the patronage of James I, and the credulous king was only prevented from taking part in a submarine trip by the assurance of some of his courtiers that Drebel was "in league with Old Nick."

The boat was so constructed that "a person could see under the surface of the water, and without candle light, as much as he needed to read in the Bible or any other book." It was also propelled by oars.

PRESIDENT SIGNS NEW DRAFT LAW

MEN 18 TO 45 CALLED TO WIN DECISIVE VICTORY

Thirteen Million Must Register for Military Service, September 12—Michigan's Quota 498,6[illegible]5.

President Wilson Saturday signed the manpower bill passed by congress Friday which orders all men between the ages of 18 and 45 years to register for military service.

Based on the ratio of men of 21 to 31 who registered June 5, 1917, the exact number of men eligible for registration is 12,778,758, but of this number 410,000 already are in service. The estimated number of registrants from Michigan is 498,-8[illegible].

In his proclamation the president called on the younger and older men to enroll on that day with local draft boards where they make their permanent homes.

"We solemnly purpose a decisive victory of arms", said the president "and deliberately to devote the larger part of the military man power of the nation to the accomplishment of that purpose. * * * It is the call to duty to which every true man in the country will respond with pride and with the consciousness that in doing so he plays his part in vindication of a great cause at whose summons every true heart offers its supreme sacrifice."

The hours of registration will be from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. and all state and local officials are called on to make immediate arrangements for maintenance of registration places on that day. All men within the new ages, whether citizens of the United States or not, must register, unless they are diplomatic or consular representatives of foreign nations.

In case of illness on the registration day, arrangements for tardy enrollment may be made with local boards and men who expect to be absent from their home may register by mail sufficiently in advance that the registration record reaches the board by September 12. If a man has no permanent residence he is to register at the place he is on September 12 and those out of the country on that day are required to enroll within [illegible] days after their return.

Only those without dependents, in good health and otherwise qualified for arduous duties of soldier life are to be taken first.

Youths in their eighteenth year will be placed in a separate group, the war department has announced, to be subject to a special educational program and will not be called until the supply of other available men in the new classes is exhausted. This does not mean that their calling will be long deferred, however, inasmuch as it has been announced that all men in the new registration accepted for general service will be under arms by June 30, 1919. The man power bill makes no specific provision for separate classification of 18-year-old boys and war department plans for their treatment have been made on executive initiative.

Although the "work or fight" clause, which would have affected striking workmen was taken out of the bill before passage Friday, Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder has planned to apply vigorously existing regulations relating to idle men or those engaged in nonessential employment to the newly registered men.

The President's Proclamation

After citing the law and stating the regulations for registration the president's proclamation read as follows:

"Fifteen months ago the men of the country from 21 to 30 years of age were registered. Three months ago and again this month those who had just reached the age of 21 were added. It now remains to include all men between the ages of 18 and 45.

"This is not a new poicy. A century and a quarter ago it was deliberately ordained by those who were then responsible for the safety and defense of the nation that the duty of military service should rest upon all able-bodied men between the ages of 18 to 45. We now accept and fulfill the obligation which they establshed, —an obligation expresspressed in our national statutes from that time until now. We solemnly purpose a decisive victory of arms and deliberately to devote the larger part of the military man power of the nation to the accomplishment of that purpose.

"The younger men have from the first been ready to go. They have furnished voluntary enlistments out of all proportion to their numbers. Our military authorities regard them as having the highest combatant qualities. Their youthful enthusiasm, their virile eagerness, their gallant sprit of daring make them the admiration of all who see them in action. They covet not only the distinction of serving in this great war. but also the inspiring memories which hundreds of thousands of them will cherish through the years to come of a great day and a great service for their country and for mankind.

"By the men of the older group now called on the opportunity now opened to them will be accepted with the calm resolution of those who realize to the full the deep and solemn significance of what they do. Having made a place for themselves in their respective communities, having assumed at home the graver responsibilities of life in many spheres, looking back upon honorable records in civil and industrial life, they will realize as perhaps no others could, how entirely their own fortunes and the fortunes of all whom they love are put at stake in this war for right and will know that the very records they have made render this new duty the commanding duty of their life.

"They know how surely this is the nation's war, how imperatively it demands the mobilization and it demands the mobilization and massing of all our resources of every kind. They will regard this call as the supreme call of their day and will answer it accordingly.

"Only a portion of those who register wil be called upon to bear arms. Those who are not physically fit will be excused; those exempted by alien allegiance; those who should not be relieved of their present responsibilities; above all those who cannot be spared from the civil and industrial tasks at home upon which the success of our armies depends as much as upon the fighting at the front.

"But all must be registered in order that the selection for military service may be made intelligently and with full information. This will be our final demonstration of loyalty, democracy and the will to win, our solemn notice to all the world that we stand absolutely together in a common resolution and purpose. It is the call to duty to which every true man in the country will respond with pride and with the consciousness that in doing so he plays his part in vindication of a great cause at whose summons every true heart offers its supreme service."

BRITISH AMBASSADOR ADVOCATES JEWISH STATE IN PALESTINE

Lord Reading, the First Jew to Represent Great Britain in Washington, Pledges His Support to Zionist Movement.

The Earl of Reading, formerly Sir Rufus Isaacs, one of the most brilliant advocates in the records of the English bar, was made Lord Chief Justice of Great Britain in 1913. Soon after the beginning of the war he came to the United States as Chairman of the Anglo-French Commission and concluded the Anglo-French loan. He returned to the United States in September, 1917, on another financial mission and upon the death of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, then English Ambassador to the United States, was appointed Ambassador and High Commissioner

British Declaration Favoring Jewish State

Made by HON. ARTHUR J. BALFOUR

With approval of British War Cabinet, November 3rd, 1917

"His Majesty's Government views with favor the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish People and will use its best endeavors to facilitate the achievement of this object.

"Both in my public and private capacity I warmly support the Declaration of his Majesty's Government in favor of the establishment in Palestine of a National Home for the Jewish people.

"I have moreover been profoundly impressed by the splendid energy of the American Zionists and by the wholehearted way in which, to no small extent under their leadership, the Jewish people of the United States have thrown themselves into the war. Though I feel that the many thousands of Jews who have enlisted individually in the armies of the United States and of the Allies are serving the cause of humanity as usefully as man can, I am particularly interested in the Jewish units which are being recruited on both sides of the Atlantic. It would be magnificent if some of them could strike a blow for the freedom of the world in the land of our ancestors.

"In the meantime I am glad to think that Palestine isbeing rehabilitated, even while the war continues, largely by Jewish money and Jewish energy, and am especially pleased to be in the country which has provided so large a part of that money and no small amount of that energy. My good wishes are with the Zionists of the United States in the great work that is before them in giving effect to the Declaration of the British Government and I shall esteem anything that I may be called upon to do in connection with that work as not the least important or the least satisfactory part of my duties as British Ambassador in Washington."

Angus Bulls from International Grand Championship Stock

Duroc Boars Sired by Model Boy 221821

Animals delivered by auto truck and taken away when you are through with them. Our renting business has been growing because farmers who try it find that they can have the use of a valuable animal for their breeding season for much less than it would cost them to keep even a scrub for an entire year with the extra bother in caring for a bull or boar.

An outstanding good sire is important because of the greater number of the offspring and the greater prepotancy of the pure bred.

Calves even from grade Holsteins will come black, short legged, thick fleshed and without horns when sired by a pure bred Angus bull with strong beef lineage.

A wonderful opportunity is offered the dairymen in Southern Michigan through this principle in breeding which every farmer knows if he has used a pure bred bull of any breed.

More beef is used by the Allied Armies than all other kinds of meat combined. Young cattle are easily raised, largely on cheap, rough feeds which do not conflict with grain conservation but supplement production by enriching the soil, by utilizing the straw, cornstalks, etc.

I have an offer of $15.00 per head for such calves if sired by my bulls. Get busy! I have rented my bulls as low as $2.00 per cow, on the co-operative plan. By this plan you deposit with me a portion of the price a scrub animal would cost you by taking five shares of stock in the Southern Michigan Breeding Association at five dollars per share drawing interest at 5 per cent, all excess profits going to you in addition to this interest.

Why the Angus Sire is Best Adapted to Mate With Grade Dairy Cows

At four successive Internationals the prize money was divided between the three great Beef Breeds as follows:

	Number of Prize Cattle in Grade Classes			Grand Champions
Year	Grade ANGUS	Grade Shorthorn	Grade Hereford	Single Steers	Car lot	Carcas
1910	19	6	7	Pure bred Angus	Angus	Angus
1811	27	2	8	Grade Angus	Angus	Angus
1912	18	7	7	Grade Angus	Angus	Angus
1913	24	5	3	Grade Angus	Angus	Angus

At the last two Internationals the ten best cars of Angus sold for an average price of 2c per pound more than the ten best cars of Herefords and the ten best cars of Shorthorns.

Editorial Comment

The oldest newspaper in Lenawee county—a newspaper that was established by pioneers and read by pioneers of beautiful Lenawee 'way back in forty-nine — surely it is a distinguished honor to be privileged to perpetuate the name and influence of such an historic publication as the Tecumseh Herald. Yet, realizing the responsibilities assumed, it is not without a feeling akin to trepidation that the new owner takes up his pencil and begins the task of chronicling the history of Tecumseh and surrounding territory as it is made day by day. Nevertheless, it is our intention to put forth every effort to give Tecumseh the best possible newspaper. To accomplish this object we must have the earnest cooperation of the business men and the citizens of the community. Merchants can keep in close touch with the people of the community by regular communication with them through the advertising columns of the home paper, and the people will be brought closer together by sending in news items concerning themselves or their neighbors. By co-operation a community spirit will be promoted that will be of inestimable value to all concerned. We need your help to develop and maintain a healthy community spirit.

Politically, The Herald will be conducted along independent lines—not neutral, mind you, but independent. It will always stand for good, clean men for public office, and during the process of the war will be a staunch supporter of the national administration regardless of politics. As such it becomes its duty to submit to the order of the national war board to reduce consumption of news print, a task that needed careful study. To comply with this order we have decided, in fact, it has become necessary, to change The Herald from a semi-weekly to a weekly publication, giving the people all the news of the week in one issue of eight pages, with additional pages when necessary. The size of the pages will be cut down from eight to seven columns, the reading matter will be condensed and all unnecessary waste space will be eliminated. This change can not be made until our new equipment arrives and is installed, and until that time we hope our readers will bear with us if The Herald does not come up to their expectations.

At a considerable outlay of money an entirely new equipment has been purchased—new press, folder, cabinet, type, borders, linotype equipment, etc.,—in fact enough to publish a first class newspaper independent of the old equipment. This statement is not made in a boastful spirit but just to show that we have faith in Tecumseh, the loyalty of her people and that we mean to give our patrons the best service possible. If after the war the majority of Herald readers and the advertisers desire more frequent publications we will be willing to take the matter up with them.

We wish to take occasion to thank the retiring editor, Mr. F. S. Turner, for his kind introductory remarks. Mr. and Mrs. Turner have prized very highly The Herald as an heirloom, turning the business over to their successor with a great deal of reluctance, and we trust their confidence in the future success of The Herald has not been misplaced.

The result of the primary election last week contained conclusive evidence that there are men in Michigan that can survive the explosion of pre-election political bombs, and that mud-slinging campaign methods are more apt to act as boomerangs than to help the aspiring candidates using them.

Lieut. Commander Truman H. Newberry proved himself one of the first in his senatorial race. The sensational published letter from a party leader demanding his withdrawal and prophesying as an alternative a disgraceful scandal in the Michigan G. O. P., and warm editorials in daily newspapers classing Mr. Newberry's campaign as an auction and positively refusing their support, did not affect the abundant faith Republican voters had in the honesty, loyalty, integrity and worth of their favorite candidate.

No one will deny that a large sum of money was expended in the campaign by Mr. Newberry's friends. But even his opponents have admitted that it was spent legitimately and only for the purpose of bringing Mr. Newberry's qualifications for war service before the people of Michigan. In the campaign no money was expended to besmirch or belittle an opponent. Even the daily editorial writers that refused to support him acknowledged his fitness for the place. Writers have claimed that a precedent would be established and that should Mr. Newberry be nominated a poor man henceforth would stand no chance for office.

Ordinarily this might be the case. But we are living in extraordinary times when the strongest men are needed, and we believe the men behind Mr. Newberry recognized him as the man for the place and they were ready to back up their opinion by setting forth his merits through extensive newspaper advertising before the eyes of the people of Michigan. Well, they succeeded splendidly, and now we are awaiting the development of the "disgraceful scandal" prophesied.

An example that mud-slinging campaign methods revert to the detriment of the "slingers" was evidenced in the magnificent victory of Earle C. Michener in the second congressional race. It is doubtful if Mr. Michener could have obtained the splendid victory had not two of his opponents engaged in a rather disgraceful campaign two years ago when mud-slinging seemed to be the chief feature. People remembered this and they also remembered that the unsuccessful candidate two years ago swallowed his grievances and disappointments and worked tooth and nail for his more fortunate primary adversary to help him win at the November election. This year the campaign was conducted in a more gentlemanly manner.

Lenawee people and all those who know him regret that Ed Frensdorf failed to receive the gubernatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket. The charges brought against him after his candidacy had been made public had the odor of dirty politics—a campaign maneuver that we regret very much to see high state officials stoop to. But the explosion of this political bomb had little effect in Mr. Frensdorf's defeat in the primary, as he had his own party leaders against his candidacy. Had he won in the primaries he would have given his Republican opponent a merry race, for then his many Republican friends would have come forth to repudiate the slam administered to him.

With the independent vote growing every year it is well that candidats should conduct clean campaigns, for these independent voters are demanding fair play.

Twenty years imprisonment and $20,000 fine each was the sentence imposed upon Wm. D. Haywood and fourteen of his fellow I. W. W. conspirators by Judge Landis in Chicago Friday. In all 97 of these traitors were sentenced by the judge, the lightest being ten days in jail. The sentences seem light considering the trouble these agitators have caused the war administration; but they will have time to reflect and many of them long after the war is over.

Wonder if Chas. E. Townsend, our Michigan senator, is realizing how much he is displeasing his constituents at home by his stand in war legislation. His position would almost indicate that he is an enemy of the administration and he is being classed with the obstructionists who are signing their own political death warrants. Unless he faces about Charlie won't be allowed to serve his state in any capacity after his term of office expires. People of Michigan want to be represented by loyalists—by men who will do everything in their power to win the war. To win the war is the business of every one now.

War news continues so favorable that even optimistic military experts in Washington are of the opinion that France will be freed from the enemy this fall. The wonderfully rapid transportation of American soldiers and American supplies has been responsible for an entire change of complexion on the war front, and the continued blows given the enemy by Gen. Foch are being keenly felt by the foe. We believe that the administration, if allowed to proceed unmolested from obstructionists, will win out in its plan to quash the enemy completely next year.

Tecumseh automobile owners enjoyed a quiet at home Sunday in response to the request to eliminate pleasure driving as a war measure to save gasoline. The traffic through our beautiful town was reduced fully 90 percent, and we are pleased to note that the "big stick" is not necessary to bring our people in line. True, there was unnecessary driving, but this we believe was due to the neglect of people in reading newspapers. The safe plan is to abide by war saving requests when made. The government can stop all unnecessary automobile driving if requests are not complied with. Quite a number of farmers brought into requisition the horse and buggy for attending church Sunday.

A dry nation is in sight. The senate has passed a bill toward this end, and we predict that the liquor traffic will be banished entirely from this fair land by 1920, never to return. The continually growing anti-booze sentiment is relegating the user of intoxicants completely to the rear. He is becoming a back number very rapidly.

RE-OPENING OF ST. PETER'S CHURCH

REV. JAS. G. WIDDIFIELD RESUMES WORK

After Nearly a Year's Service in France as Y. M. C. A. Secretary—Large Congregation in Attendance.

Although Rev. Jas. G. Widdifield has conducted one service here since his return from France, where he served his country in the capacity of Y. M. C. A. secretary, the real opening of historic St. Peter's Episcopal church took place last Sunday when the rector conducted afternoon service.

The rector was greeted by a good sized congregation and all enjoyed the service to the fullest extent.

"Using as his text the words from the 22d chapter of the gospel according to St. Matthew, "What think ye of Christ?" the rector introduced his subject by speaking of the well-recognized need of Christ at the time of His advent, and of the equally well-recognized need in non-Christian lands to-day. There is a less recognized, but equally strong need of the same Christ in the Christian lands and among Christian people to-day.

The question contained in the text is the crucial question for the world to-day, because as a man thinks, so he acts, and as a nation thinks, so it acts. The actions of the Anglo Saxon race on behalf of chivalry and honour are in no small measure due to the training of their thought through the old legends of St George and the dragon, and King Arthur's Knights of the Round Table the actions of the American people on behalf of liberty and freedom find their spring in those ideas of liberty and freedom that moved the pilgrim fathers to brave the dangers of the new world. To-day we hesitate to give credence to the acts of rapacity, destruction and of cruelty of the German nation because we fail to comprehend the training of the mind of the German nation. One of the books that the German boasts carried in the knapsack of every German soldier, is Goethe; the philosophy of Goethe is that all other lives are to be used as a foil and impetus of one's own development and greatness. This doctrine has been put in practice by the German nation when she justifies her trampling under foot everything that stands in the way of the development of the fatherland without regard to humanity.

A second book to be found in the knapsack of every intelligent German soldier is Neitzsche, whose gospel was not love but force; not sympathy, but cunning and treachery; not meekness but mastery by any means. To transform oneself into a "blonde beast," ravaging, violating, murdering, was justified by the achievement of power. The preacher quoted from this philosopher "We believe that severity, violence, slavery danger in the street and in the heart, secrecy, stoicism, tempter's art and leviltry of every kind, that everything wicked, terrible, tyrannical predatory and serpentine in man serves as well for the elevation of the human species as its opposite:—we do not even say enough when we say this much." When we begin to understand that this is the teaching instilled into the manhood of a nation, we begin to comprehend the actions springing out of it.

Thought governs action. What of the future? What kind of a religion is going to emerge out of the chaos of to-day? It depends upon how, to-day, we are training ourselves to think. When the boys come home the one test they are going to apply to all religion is the test of reality. We Christians claim to believe certain things; do we act them? Is there reality in our belief? We Christians unhesitatingly affirm that the greatest principles of life ever given to the world were given to us by the Christ. If we are not following those principles in our week-day life, there is unreality in our beliefs; it is time to look to our creed and to ask the question of ourselves, "What think we of Christ?"

WANTS FARMERS TO RAISE ANGUS CALVES

Geo. B. Smith of Addison Offers Inducement for Profitable Breeding.

Geo. B. Smith of Addison, in sending his advertisement to The Herald, writes as follows:

"I want every dairy farmer who has grade cows to try raising a few Angus calves. He will be surprised at what good calves he will get, even from these Angular type cows. Ninety-five per cent will be black, short legged and without horns. 500 bulls in Iowa, with no better breeding than ours, last season sold at an average price of more than $100 per head.

I will try to deal with any man who comes to me and wants to buy a bull if he will agree to sell the bull back to me next spring for western shipment at not too great an advance over the price he pays. Will make as favorable a proposition on females to any one who desires to start a pure bred herd of Angus cattle to supply the increasing demands for Angus bulls caused by the unprecedented show record of these cattle and impending shortage of beef.

"I have an offer from a feeder who will give $15 for a grade Angus calf at birth, $50 for a good skim milk calf at six months old, or $100 for a yearling. Good fat yearlings are now bringing $150 a head, and a car of two year olds recently sold at an average of $330 per head.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

Good prices for your poultry now fowls 21 to 27c, broilers 27 to 30c. Eggs strictly fresh 41c; whites 44c; as they run (rots out) 38c.

RESENTED TRIBUTE TO DEY

Jefferson's Action in Tripoli Set Example That Was Followed by All Christian Nations.

The first treaty with Algiers, which was negotiated during Washington's administration, cost the United States, for the ransom of American captives, $1,000,000, in addition to which an annuity was promised. In 1800 President Adams claimed that the United States had to pay three times the tribute imposed upon Sweden and Denmark.

But this temporizing policy only made matters worse. Captain Bainbridge arrived in Algiers, bearing the annual tribute for the dey in a national frigate, and the dey ordered him to proceed to Constantinople to deliver Algerian dispatches. "English, French and Spanish ships of war have done the same thing," said the dey insolently, when Bainbridge and the American consul remonstrated. "You pay me tribute because you are my slaves," replied the dey, who was playing the role assumed in later years by the kaiser. Jefferson had expressed his detestation of the method hitherto favored for pacifying these pests of commerce; and, availing himself of the present opportunity, he sent out Commodore Dale with a squadron of three frigates and a sloop of war to make a naval demonstration on the Barbary coast. The Barbary powers were for a time overawed, and the United States thus set the first example among the Christian nations of making reprisals instead of ransom, the rule of security against these marauders. Tripoli declared war against the United States June 10, 1801.

HOW SHE REMEMBERED HIM

"Such a Friendly Face," Said Woman of Man Whose Name She Had Temporarily Forgotten.

It is something to carry one's commendation in one's face, as the poet Coventry Patmore would have it.

At the Eurydice concert a few evenings ago a woman was attempting to describe to her neighbor a man whose personality had impressed her, though she had forgotten his name.

"You must know whom I mean," she said. "That man with a beard, who has such a friendly look."

"Oh, you mean George Burnham, Jr.," said the other.

"Yes, that's the man!"

"Such a friendly look!" Could one desire a more endearing description? Which reminds me that when Horace Greenwood and Mr. Burnham first met they were somewhat inaudibly introduced. (Why are introductions usually inaudible?)

"I didn't quite catch the name," said Mr. Burnham.

"Mr. Greenwood," repeated the interlocutor.

"To be sure!" exclaimed Mr. Burnham apologetically. "I knew it was some kind of wood."

"And I must confess that I didn't catch your name, either," said Mr. Greenwood.

"Burnham—George Burnham."

"Oh, yes! I knew it was some kind of ham."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Exit the Raw Egg.

One of the latest anathemas of medical erudition is heaped upon the head of the hitherto considered benign raw egg. Its sin, according to the New York Medical Journal, is chiefly plain cussed worthlessness. The Medical Journal goes on to say that the raw egg white leaves the stomach unchanged and only feebly stimulates the flow of gastric juice. Cooked egg white, however, calls forth a generous flow of gastric juice and readily unites with the hydrochloric acid. In addition raw egg white leaves the stomach much too rapidly. It is the only protein which acts in this peculiar way; the only one to leave the stomach unchanged. However, in spite of these multifold iniquities, "raw egg white," concludes the medical journal, "is not really harmful, but it must be remembered that in keeping with newer findings it must be cooked."

FINDS HER POSITION CHANGED

Mother of Young Girl Explains How She Is Being "Mothered" by Her Daughter.

In an article in the Woman's Home Companion on "The Girl of Seventeen" this mother says:

"She is just past seventeen years of age, is sweetly pretty, innocent, refined, intelligent, talented and is blessed with an open mind, particularly receptive, just now, to all up-to-date ideas in the way of dress fads, social stunts, ragtime melodies, jazz bands, new dances and late coiffures. She is, in two words, my daughter, a lovely child of the period just arrived at the 'know it all' age, and represents the average daughter of this day, a replica of the daughters of other mothers.

"As for me, I am her mother, necessary to her as a housekeeper and pursekeeper, also an admiring audience of one for this very independent young person. A few years ago I added to these titles those of mentor, guide, teacher and comforter, but, to be a bit slangy, within the past year I have lost my job and have fallen from my high estate as leader and manager to the second in command. In fact, the tables have swung completely around and where, only a short time ago, I mothered my baby girl, it is I who am now being daughtered, who am being trained to look upon life, not as a sedate mother person twice and a little more the years of my daughter, but with the eyes of youthful seventeen, who am being skillfully and tactfully imbued, by my very own child, with the latest ideas in regard to living. I am being lovingly required, nay, sweetly compelled, to change by ideas and opinions so that they may conform to hers."

ROMANCE IN RUSKIN'S LIFE

Divergent Religious Views for Long Time Separated Him From the Woman He Loved.

In 1866 Ruskin declared his love for Rosie La Touche and told her parents of his hope to make her his wife, says J. Howard Whitehouse in Scribner's. There was a great difference of years between them. Ruskin was forty-seven; Rosie was in her eighteenth year. There was some natural hesitation on the part of the parents, and it was arranged that the matter should be postponed for three years.

But when the period of probation was ended new difficulties arose. There was hesitation not only on the part of the parents, but also by Rosie. Miss La Touche was of a deeply religious nature, but her views were orthodox and she did not share the wider views on spiritual questions in which Ruskin increasingly believed.

Her love for him had never wavered since the days of her childhood; but she doubted if, holding the views she did, she could marry him. Both she and Ruskin suffered the deepest distress.

For a little time there was estrangement, and there is a moving entry in Ruskin's diary in the year 1870: "Last Friday about twelve o'clock at noon my mistress passed me and would not speak." In the following year there was reconciliation.

The end of Ruskin's dream came in 1875. Miss La Touche's health never strong, began to fail, and she died in May of that year.

"NO SHADOW ON HER FACE"

Writer Tells of English Woman Who Has Given All She Had to the Country.

We English do not read our casualty lists any more. Many of us dare not. When we meet, we do not even speak of those who have gone away. A very touching thing was told me by one of my neighbors. He was the last of twenty-four officers in one of the Gordon regiments. He said that the places were just filled up as soon as they were emptied, and they never spoke of those who had fallen. That brings the reality of the thing to you.

In my own little country—Scotland—you will find many, many villages from which the Highland regiments have been recruited. There are no boys left to come back. They are all dead.

Not many weeks before I came to this country I was up in the Gordon country, and on a Sunday night I was speaking in a church on the spiritual side of the war. At the close a woman came to me, a little, simple, country woman, dressed in the uniform of the Gordon Highlanders, holding a yellow missive, which I, alas, knew too well. "The war office department regrets to inform —— —— that —— —— was killed in action." She laid this little missive beside one of the portraits, and said, "That came yesterday. That's Jimmie. He's the last of the three." "I hear you are going to America. Will you tell American mothers I have given all my lads? I had only three and I would give six, if I had them, for the same cause." Another friend of mine has given all her five sons. She is a widow and she has none left; but she is working in one of the canteens with no shadow on her face.—Mrs. A. Burnett-Smith in the Atlantic Monthly.

DIRECT ANCESTOR OF HEN

From the Jungle Fowl Are Descended the Feathered Creatures of the Barnyard of Today.

Although there were no houses within half a mile of the camp, we were surprised on our first night to hear cocks crowing in the jungle (Yunan province, tropical China), Roy Chapman Andrews writes in Harper's Magazine. The note was like that of the ordinary barnyard fowl, except that it ended somewhat more abruptly. The next morning we discovered Chanticleer and all his harem in a deserted rice field, and he flew toward the jungle in a flash of red and gold.

I dropped him and one of his hens with a right and left of "sixes" and found that they were jungle fowl (Gallus gallus) in full plumage. The cock was a splendid bird. The long neck feathers (hackles) spread over his back and wings like a shimmering golden mantle but were hardly more beautiful than the black of his under parts and green glossed tail. Picture to yourself a "black-breasted red game cock," and you will have him in all his glory except that his tail is drooping and he is more pheasantlike in his general bearing. The female was a trim little bird, with a lilac sheen to her brown feathers, and looked exactly like a well-kept "game bantam" hen.

The jungle fowl is the direct ancestor of our barnyard hens and roosters, which were probably first domesticated in Burma and adjacent countries long before the dawn of authentic history. According to tradition, the Chinese received their poultry from the West about 1400 B. C., and they are figured in Babylon cylinders between the sixth and seventh centuries B. C. Although they were probably introduced in Greece through Persia, there is no direct evidence as to how and when they reached Europe.

BUILT FOR SHALLOW WATER

Peculiar Marine Institution on New England Coast Was Known in 1842 as the Camel.

In the year 1842 a queer marine institution made its appearance in Nantucket and bore the name of camel. These camels were really huge floating dry docks for carrying ships over the bar, where the depth of water had been gradually decreasing since 1830.

Being flat-bottomed the camels could float in water very much shallower than a loaded ship required. They were like two long, large boxes floating side by side and held together at the ends by large iron chains.

The outer sides were almost straight up and down, but the inner sides were curved, making when the two sections were drawn together, an interior basin just the shape of the bottom of a ship.

The plan was for the camels to be separated far enough to allow the ships to be hauled into the basin between the two sections, then to be drawn and held fastened together by the chains, holding the ship between them, so that the camels and the ship could then be towed over the shallow places in the channel to the wharf.

ROSE CLIMBS THREE STORIES

College-Bred Flowers That Nestle in Ivy-Covered Wall of University of Washington.

They are college-bred roses and their high education seems to have had a very elevating effect on their aspirations. Students on the University of Washington campus recently noticed on an ivy-covered wall of Denny hall, way up on a level with the third floor windows, a spray of coppery roses, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer says. The branch which bears them reaches out from the heavy ivy vines and is the only sign of a rosebush in the neighborhood.

Some curiosity was aroused as to whether the flower was grafted on the ivy or whether it was rooted in the wall. Neither supposition was found to be correct. A number of years ago the rose blossomed modestly near the ground. Then either the crowding of the ivy or the lofty ambitions inspired by the intellectual surroundings forced it to shoot up so that it could extend its blossoms to the sun just outside of the windows used by the public-speaking and Spanish departments.

Its long, branchless stem is covered by the ivy and its top flourishes in the soft and musical sounds from the Spanish room and the forceful oratory from the public speakers.

Look at the Hat Cords.

A military man can immediately tell to what division a soldier belongs by glancing at the cord on his hat, but to the average citizen the color of the hat cord denotes little or nothing.

It is an interesting feature to be familiar with, especially now when so many soldiers are seen all over the country, and anyone who takes the trouble to learn the following list will be rewarded by being able to satisfy his own curiosity respecting any soldier he happens to see without having to ask questions: A cord of light blue signifies that the wearer belongs to the infantry; red denotes artillery; yellow, cavalry; buff, quartermaster's corps; orange and white, signal corps; red and white, engineers' corps; red and black, ordnance; black and white, field clerk; maroon and white, medical corps; black and gold, officers; silver and black, adjutant general's clerk; green, instructor home guards, and green and white, home guards.

German General Staff.

The German general staff is not the creation of the kaiser. It is the creation of the army, and in Germany the army is the nation. In the old days, when the principality of Brandenburg was becoming the state of Prussia, it was the elector who governed with unchecked, autocratic authority. Even when Brandenburg had become Prussia the kings of Prussia dominated and owned the country as completely as the head of the house dominated the family, or the manufacturer owned his business. The cabinet of the great elector, the tobacco parliament of Frederick William, the Potsdam library of Frederick the Great, these have merged into the offices of the general staff, in which is consecrated the surrender of the state to the army, and of the army to the army chiefs.

High Society.

Miss Richen-Frisky—My parents' wedding was very exclusive, doncha know. They were married in the Little Church Around the Corner, in New York.

Miss Pooren-Sassy—Pooh, that's nothin'. Mine went up in a balloon at the state fair and took the preacher with 'em.

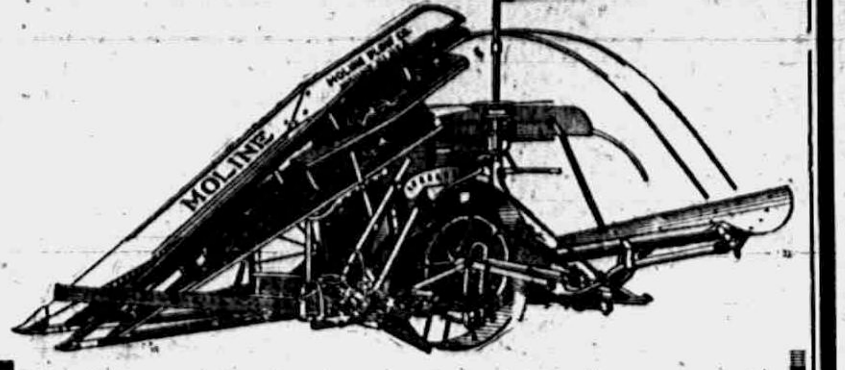
What to Do When Backache Comes on

"Foley Kidney Pills have done me more good than $150.00 worth of other medicine," writes Chas. N. Fox of Elmrod, N. Y.

When backache comes on, and it seems as if you can't stand the pain and pressure in the small of your back and sides, do not feel that you must continue to suffer, but get a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills and begin taking them. They usually help from the very first doses.

It is worth a good deal to you to know that Foley Kidney Pills give you just what your system needs to repair the weak sick kidneys. It is their inability to do their work properly that causes your pain and misery. Foley Kidney Pills lend to middle-aged and elderly people the spryness and elasticity of youth. They take away the cause of backache, stiff and aching joints, rheumatic pains and annoying bladder and urinary troubles. Try them today.



REASONS WHY

The Moline Corn Binder Runs So Easy and Does Such Good Work

1. Lightest running main wheel in the world. Roller bearings remove all friction of carrying and driving load. Ball bearings remove all end thrust friction at both ends of hub.

2. More self aligning and anti-friction bearings than is found on any other corn binder.

3. Grain wheel in line with the main wheel gives perfect balance.

4. Steel springs prevent short stalks from clogging the passage.

5. Stalk passage easily adjusted for long or short corn.

6. Automatic chain tightener keeps chain at even tension when raising or lowering machine.

7. Shafts of cold rolled steel have anti-friction and self-aligning roller bearings.

8. Cutting device is reliable and durable.

9. Chains easily adjusted by patent adjusters.

10. Gathering boards extend 5½ feet in advance of the knife. Will straighten up down corn before cutting it off.

11. Three sets of conveying chains at different speeds and elevations deliver corn to the binding attachment in perfect order.

12. Binding attachment is time tried and true.

13. Longest drive chain used on any corn binder. Will drive easier, last longer and cause less trouble than others.

14. Shields protect running parts from dust and dirt, and prevent winding.

15. Bundle carrier delivers bundles out of the way and instantly returns to receiving position.

16. Tongue is so placed that side draft is greatly overcome.

17. Hitch easily adjusted for two or three horses.

18. Tongue truck turns binder quickly at corners; relieves neck weight and prevents lashing of the pole.

LAST OF SEASON'S ENTERTAINMENTS

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S PROGRAM FINE

Big Crowds Expected to Take in Free Show and Enjoy Visiting and Shopping in Tecumseh Tomorrow Night.

Tomorrow's Bargain Day performance will be the last of the season and the biggest crowd yet will probably be on the street.

Manager Wade Jones has secured a good program, two of the numbers of which he could give us and the third is a double, but the name he has been unable to secure. The two are Naccia Bros', band balancing novelty acts, and the Bennett's Scotch musical acts. The Clinton band will also be on deck and a pleasant evening is assured. The whole series have been delightful and it is with regret that we announce the last for the season.

Sam Richards was down from Jackson yesterday, a guest at Tommie Boyd's.

Mrs. R. J. W. Bowen and Miss Gladys were passengers for Toledo this morning.

Miss Francs Alvord was out from Detroit for the past two weeks, going home today.

Leon Temple and family and his mother motored to Detroit today to take in the state fair and visit relatives.

A splendid likeness of Lieut Kenneth Snedicor was in the rotogravure section of the last Sunday's Free Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Rogers and little daughters visited his parents over Sunday, returning Monday evening to Detroit.

Mrs. Myra Kilby came down from Clinton Saturday for the Ahrens—VanGieson wedding and has since been the guest of her friend Mrs. Jas. Wood.

Earl Haughn was called to Battle Creek Saturday by the death of his brother-in-law, Harley Petrie. The funeral is to be held in Battle Creek today.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Boyd were at Sand lake Monday for the Boyd reunion. There were over fifty in attendance and they had a most delightful day.

The Henry Conklin property on the corner of Pottawatamie and Pearl streets, has been purchased of Mrs. Lyster Dewey of Washington by Mrs. Florence Bower and Mrs. John R. Nyland. Mrs. Bower will occupy the same.

On Friday evening the Epworth League enjoyed a social in the parlors of the M. E. Church as a farewell for their president, Miss Bertha Lovell, who leaves shortly for Detroit. The company made gay with games and a short program after which refreshments were served. As a souvenir of the happy evening Miss Lovell received a dainty gift. She has made an excellent officer and under her administration the organization has gained greatly. The members regret her leaving, naturally, but their hearty good wishes accompany her to her new home.

Swift & Company

What is a Branch House?

The Branch House is the place in the packing organization where what the packing plant does for you is put where you can use it.

Both are the natural result of growth and development in the living thing they belong to.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are located in distributing centers all over the country. They are fitted out with refrigerating equipment to keep meat cool, sweet and fresh.

Each one is in personal charge of a man who believes in what Swift & Company is doing for people and wants to help do it.

They are directed by men who have spent years learning how to get better meat cheaper to the places where it is needed.

Meat is shipped to the branch houses direct from the packing plants in Swift & Company's refrigerator cars, in such quantities that it can be disposed of while fresh and sweet.

Your meat dealer comes here to buy your meat for you—unless someone else can treat him better then we can.

So you need the branch house in order to live well; and the branch house and the packing plant need each other, in order to be useful to you.

PICNIC AT THE MANSE

Honoring Mrs. D. J. Hodges, Soon to Leave Tecumseh.

Honoring Mrs D. J. Hodges, the ladies of the Westminster Guild met at the manse Friday evening for a picnic. The twenty-five sat at one big table on the lawn, and that table fairly groaned with the good things.

While at the table the president, Mrs. R. B. Stuckey, presented the guest of honor with a string of beautiful pearl beads as a token of their love. Mrs. Hodges has been very faithful to the work of the guild, for some years being secretary, and always intensely interested in the organization, so the members will miss her greatly.

Mrs. Hodges and little daughters went to Flint Sunday, planning to remain for the winter.

"PERSHING'S CRUSADERS"

War Movie Witnessed by Two Good Houses at the Bradley Sunday.

Another splendid war picture of exceeding interest was "Pershing's Crusaders" at the Bradley Sunday. At both the matinee and evening show there were big crowds and every one was pleased with the pictures which brought in many unusual points in the training and camp life of our defenders.

The crusades were the efforts of a new world striving after an ideal, so is America striving after the highest ideal, hence are the men "over there" "Pershing's Crusaders" or the men of the eighth crusade.

The amount of preparation our Uncle Samuel has accomplished in a little over a year is truly amazing, and the different branches of the service were depicted — the ship building, for again is America to be a recognized force in all lines of commerce; the aviation, for this part of the service we gave the world; the cantonments in the building, how the boys are clothed, the making of their clothes and shoes; how we feed them, the enormous baking schools, field and camp kitchens, even the feeding of them in the front line trenches. Their Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. huts were not forgotten and likewise their church life and amusements. In all it was vastly entertaining and instructive as well.

CALLS FOR BRAKE

Middle-Aged Man Would Slow Up Wheels of Time.

Is Living in Hope That Some Man Will Devise a Workable Scheme for Renewing One's Lease of Life, and Do It Quickly.

"What we really need," said the middle-aged man, "is some way of slowing up the wheels of time.

"As every man who has begun to get on in life knows, the older we grow the faster time seems to fly. In our youth even single days seem to be endless; but when we get to be about so old the years go so fast that they seem to spin around like pinwheels.

"There was once an advertiser with a patent medicine to sell who started off his advertisement by describing himself as a retired physician whose sands of life had nearly run out. A well-meaning friend in the far West wrote to him saying that if he would mix a little molasses with the sands they wouldn't run out so fast.

"Of course there was an idea in that; but the minute you come to think it over seriously you see that there is really nothing to it. To make the wheels of time turn slower you'd have to have something more than molasses. I have thought that perhaps we might invent some sort of brake, a very powerful brake, for this purpose, but I guess there's really nothing in this idea, either.

"Lacking the means of making the wheels of time turn slower, so that we would seem to have more time, I have thought that perhaps somebody may yet devise a way of renewing our lease of life. If we could get an indefinite renewal of our life lease we wouldn't care how fast the wheels turned, because we'd have endless years for them to turn in.

"The man who could devise a workable plan of this sort would get rich beyond any sort of dreams whatever; that is, if he could prolong his own life as well as sell life-renewal leases to others; for I fancy that, hard as this world may be in some respects, the great majority of us would like to continue living in it a long, long time, and would give all we had for that privilege.

"For myself, I can say that I like the world very well and I would like to stay on it interminably. If there is anybody now working on this life-lease-renewal device I hope he will get it running before the sands of my old-fashioned life shall have run out completely; and if when he opens up for business he will let me know where to find him I shall go to him; and, if I have the price, take out as a first extension a renewal for about a century."

Dealing With the Occult.

An astonishing number of books on occult subjects are being published in these days, especially on lines relating to the future life, the theme taking on a new interest because of the war and its losses. One writer, Prof. W. J. Crawford of Belfast, is dealing with so-called spirit manifestations in a new way. For one thing, he has tried seating the medium on a weighing machine while the manifestations are going on and watching the varying record of her weight. He has found that where a chair or table was levitated an increase in her weight almost corresponding to the weight of the piece of furniture was noted. When there were rappings her weight lessened, the amount lost varying with the intensity of the sounds. What these phenomena indicate to his mind or what he expects to prove by them does not appear.

Balzac Would Have Starved.

Some of the geniuses of earlier generations would have a hard time of it with civilian rations in Europe. Many of them are still remembered for their appetites. Thackeray and Dickens were both masterful at the table. Balzac was equal to making a dinner of eight dozen oysters, twelve cutlets, a duck, a pair of partridges, and all the customary "trimmings." Herbert Spencer once went upon a vegetable diet, and declared that after he returned to meat he had to rewrite everything he did in the interval to get virility into it.

Regardless of the effect on genius, rationing is spreading. Even walking sticks have come under governmental control in England, and presumably a prospective purchaser will soon have to present a license to carry such an ornament.—Nation's Business.

Big Tuna Cannery.

Half a million dollars is to be expended in the construction of a large tuna cannery on the island of Maui, in the Hawaiian group, states The Canner. The waters around the islands swarm with fish of every description, among which the tuna is predominant and attains an enormous size. The operation of this plant will be a valuable addition to the food supply of the United States and may lead to the establishment of an important fishing industry in the island territory.

Sailor Invents Fire Escape.

One of the boys aboard our navy's fleet has invented a fire escape which is similar to the rope ladders used aboard ships. His principal object was to provide a collapsible fire escape which could be compactly and conveniently arranged at the window of a dwelling. It consists of a container hinged to the sill in such a manner that by opening the window and folding the container on its hinge the metal ladder may be unfolded and dropped. When this operation is gone through, a means is automatically provided whereby the ladder is held at a distance from the walls of the building. The advantage of such precaution is obvious.

That watch kept on board ship at night, while lying at anchor, is called the anchor watch. Generally speaking it consists of one officer and one seaman, whose duties are to watch out for the safety of the ship, see that the anchor light is kept burning brightly, and take care that the vessel does not drag her anchor. If there are eight hours of darkness to be covered and eight men constitute the crew, these men are required to watch one hour each. If there be more or less men the question arises who is to go on watch first or last, or, perhaps, who is to "lay over" until the next day.

It thus becomes necessary to ascertain who is to go on duty at a certain hour and each man must know when his turn comes. Arrangement for this is made by forming a "round robin," or putting it in another way, by "chalking for watches," which is accomplished in such a way that each sailor has the time for keeping his watch determined by lot, one not being favored more than another. The thing is decided in this way:

One man draws a large circle on the lid of a chest, or, if that is not convenient, the deck. The circle is subdivided into as many divisions as there are men; and each man makes his mark in one of the spaces. This may be a cross, a circle, a triangle, or any other sign that will suffice to identify him.

During the time the sailors are placing their marks within the division of the circle, one of their number is detained outside on deck and kept in ignorance of the identity of any author of any mark. When all have made their marks the round robin is complete. The man who was on deck is now called, someone else having made a mark for him. This man now proceeds to erase the marks, one by one. The owners of the marks are numbered from number one up, in succession, as he erases them, and their numbers are chalked up on the sides of the berths; those above number ten lying over until the next night. As the man who erases the marks does not know who made this or that, he cannot show any partiality.

The round robin is sometimes put to other use when the crew of a vessel at sea wish to present a grievance in the form of a petition to the captain. Their complaint is made out in writing, and the signature put in the form of a round robin, which prevents the writer of the document from being singled out and treated, as a ringleader, with undue severity. A famous case in example of similar use of the round robin in the army within recent times was the "Roosevelt Round Robin" during the Spanish war.

Where the custom originated no one knows.

Spain Is Buying Pianos.

The American government is buying mules and blankets in Spain and paying for them with pianos made in the United States, according to George W. Pound, manager of the National Piano Manufacturers' association, in calling attention to one of the striking developments at the present time in this country's export trade.

"As is the case with neutrals generally," Mr. Pound said, "much of Spain's population has profited largely by the war, and the demand for pianos has persisted in spite of the fact that the prices of all musical instruments in Spain have doubled and trebled since the war began."

Mr. Pound said that the American manufacturers were thereby offered an unusual opportunity to help the government pay the war bills as well as to meet the foreign demand for our goods. In this connection, Mr. Pound said, piano manufacturers can only export their pianos through government license.

New Generator Finds Favor.

An acetylene generator supplying fuel for propelling motorboats is the device of a Norwegian captain and is reported to be in great demand, although the average cost is 21 cents per horse power hour. The gas given off as water is dropped upon calcium carbide is led to the carburetor, where it is purified and fed to the motor. Though this apparatus is adapted only for the ordinary gasoline motor a modification is being worked out that is expected to serve for engines designed to burn kerosene.

PROCLAIM BAN ON CIGARETTE

Coterie of Indianapolis Women Think They Have Good Reason for Joining Crusade Against It.

That the cigarette must be eliminated is the firm conviction of a large number of women in the northern part of the city, not only because they believe it is injurious in itself, but also in view of the fact that it is interfering with certain phases of war work and is proving a disturbing factor in social affairs. It is recognized that the problem is a big one, and it may be that the first activity may be anatomical and directed at "places" over which parents have undisputed jurisdiction.

This movement was determined on the other afternoon when a North side matron invited in a few friends and neighbors to knit, sew or darn as they wished, to hear some music and drink a cup of tea. Some of the guests permitted their little boys to go over to Mrs. McPherson's to play while the mammas were gone. When the Hooverized function was well under way there was a knock at the door and Master McPherson inquired whether "Miss" Gregg was there.

"Better come over to our house and get Jack, for he's awful sick," was his announcement.

Mrs. Gregg seized her wraps and made a bee line to rescue Jack. A little later she returned to the party and responded to anxious inquiries with a smile, saying: "He's better now, and I don't think it's serious."

There was another violin number, and Mrs. Redough had just poured a few cups of tea, when the telephone rang. The hostess answered the call and then paged Mrs. Wrong.

It was Mrs. McPherson herself. "Your little boy's here, and he's quite ill. He's perfectly rigid, and I'm frightened," she said.

Mrs. Wrong also dashed forth to give succor to her offspring. She, too, returned after a while, and seemed rather put out. She forestalled the impending questions by announcing: "Cigarettes! I'll finish the treatment later."

Mrs. Wagoner had just finished reheeling a sock and the function was about to close when the telephone rang again, and Mrs. Redough was summoned. It was her husband.

"Now don't you tell me that you have been smoking cigarettes and are sick," she almost shouted.

"No, no, dearie. Don't get excited. I am all right," he assured her. "I don't want to break up the party, but if you wish to go to the show, you'd better be getting down here."—Indianapolis News.

NOT HIS THE FIELD

Wail of One Whom Fate Forbids to Carry Sword and Shield.

The daily papers that I see all cry in tones of wonder, the praise of our fine lads in France who face the German thunder; and not a single day goes by but some kind friend will hail me, and with a two-inch line of type with gestures will assail me. "My friend," he cries, "the Yanks are there! And that big boob, the kaiser, will all too soon their anger feel, and sadder be and wiser! 'Twas only yesterday they took a mile or two of trenches; and soon in Berlin's parks they'll be, a-sitting on the benches!" Now, I don't grudge that praise a bit—I like to hear them boasted; I like to hear our boys in France get cheered and sung and toasted; I wish that I were over there and scratching at the vermin, and now and then from time to time I'd pot a husky German. I would that I might lie and snooze among the mud and thistles, and eat cold chow and hardtack moist where shrapnel screams and whistles. But since I can't be over there among my friends and neighbors I'll call respectful notice to my own emphatic labors. I do not heave a two-pound bomb across the German border; instead I plot a diagram and keep the room in order. I do not wear a hero's togs nor sport a hero's medal; instead I grade ten million logs and work the hot-air pedal. I do not help to crush the Hun with bayonet emphatic; but I explain the why and when of fields electrostatic. I can't at present strafe the Boche with shell and sword and fire, so I'm content to teach a class the ways of braided wire; and though I pause to envy those who share the fun heroic, I force myself to lesser tasks with an expression stoic. I do not much enjoy the job while I am wading through it, but, good or bad, the job is here and someone has to do it! Although I sit in peaceful ease, enjoying things delightful, I long for Flanders' mud and fleas and other tortures frightful. So while the papers cheer for those who fight beyond the ocean, I join with them my heart and voice and register emotion. I wish that I could be in France to battle for our nation; but meanwhile how about a bit of home appreciation? So I just mount a near-by chair, where those about can view it, and give three lusty cheers, since no one else will do it! At least if I must stay at home my courage is consistent; I'd rather be in France than here, a Theory Assistant!—Exchange.

"Duck Boards" to Beat the Mud.

When the allied forces in Flanders are not battling with the Germans they are trying to outwit nature. This is the substance of a report brought back from the firing line by Maj. Gen. Charles Clement, U. S. A.

Mud was a source of considerable annoyance to the soldiers. So the engineering force of Australia devised what has become commonly known as the "duck board," but which the Canadians have named the "bath mat," both being terms of derision.

The board is made of a number of small strips of wood, 14 to 15 inches in length, which are nailed to stringers placed in front of one another and extending for miles. A step off the "duck board" means a plunge into a sea of mud at least three feet in depth.

The "board" was devised to enable the Australians to attack the Germans more successfully, and it served to provide a path to victory.—Popular Science Monthly.

A Bergson Anecdote.

Like most philosophers, M. Bergson lives a rather secluded life. His house in Paris is as quiet-looking and retiring as himself. Most of his neighbors know him only by sight, and have no idea of the distinction enjoyed throughout the world by this unobtrusive spruce gentleman. A short time ago, when M. Bergson issued forth to go to the French academy, where he was to be formally admitted, the neighborhood was dazzled by a magnificent academician's uniform—green embroidered with gold leaves, a cocked hat and a dainty sword. Then the old concierge of the house opposite exclaimed: "Ah! the little old gentleman has been called up at last. And about time, too!"—Manchester Guardian.

Heroes Who Don't Like Worship.

That kindly, admiring and enthusiastic visitors to hospitals in the war zone constitute a nuisance and added trial to the wounded is the complaint of the New York Medical Journal. The patients don't want to be bothered with glorification, still less with the dear, helpful souls who come to entertain them during the wearisome hours of convalescence. "We know of patients dodging behind tents when they saw certain ladies coming to 'amuse them,'" comments the Journal laconically.

California Sardines.

Commercial Bulletin of Los Angeles says that the California sardine pack for this year will exceed that of Maine, which last year mounted to 2,500,000 cases, compared with 1,800,000 packed in California. This paper asserts that the fish packed in California are true sardines, while Maine packs a small herring.

How Language Grows.

"Cad" and "fad" were at first only localisms, struggling for existence and getting slowly into use sporadically in England, until at last they achieved a peaceful penetration into the United States; then they ceased to be mere Briticisms; they won recognition into standard English. A like fate has befallen "boss" and "boom," the first a localism of New York (descended from the days when the Empire city was New Amsterdam), and the second spontaneous creation of the lumber camps of Michigan. In time these two words were in common use all over the United States; they were then merely Americanisms; and after a while they made their way into the British empire, until now they bid fair to be lifted into standard English.

WHAT HE REALLY WANTED

Deep, Dark Design That Was Behind Man's Encouragement of His Companion's Singing.

Two men were seated at a table in a saloon, one of them annoying the other customers by his maudlin attempts to sing something that had a strong German air, although the words were apparently English. The proprietor approached.

The singer subsided, and took another drink, but his companion urged him to continue, expressing great admiration for the air.

"What do you mind the likes of him for?" he asked. "Sure, it's a fine song. Go ahead with it."

"See here, you," he began, with a rap of his knuckles on the table, "cut that singing right now, or I'll have you thrown out."

Standing not far off to be sure that the selection was not continued the proprietor overheard the second man urging the singer to go ahead and after another drink the song was resumed. Stepping up to the table with fire in his eye the boss addressed himself to the second man.

"Why do you keep asking him to sing?" he demanded. "If you are so stuck on his singing take him somewhere else and listen to it all you like."

"Singing!" retorted the other. "I don't care about his singing. I want to see him thrown out."

Ready to Meet "the" Girl.

"When did you buy the ring?" Mr. Kenney asked.

There was some discrepancy between the answers of the bride and the bridegroom and the clerk pressed for an explanation.

"Well, I'll tell you the truth," the man replied. "Some years ago I bought a watch on the installment plan and when it was paid for I thought the idea was a pretty good one. I figured to myself that some day I might want to get married, and thought it wouldn't be a bad idea to get the ring on the same plan."

"You mean you got the ring and kept it in your pocket until the right girl happened along?" Mr. Kenney inquired.

A Prodigy.

A new prodigy has appeared in Paris. He is proclaimed as a man, or rather a boy of genius and his name is Salvator Schiff. He is designated in a Parisian journal as "a writer who is not a writer and yet it appears writes better than all the writers." He is a boy in the house of a picture dealer. He has been discovered taking the pen from the desk of his employer and letting it run agreeably to his fancy. One of his masterpieces of an idle moment came by chance under the eyes of his employer.

"Did you do that?" asked the employer.

"Yes, monsieur," responded the boy, much disturbed, fearing that he might be discharged for neglecting his duties for frivolous amusements.

"It is admirable!" declared the employer, who without delay sent the manuscript to a noted literary man and now the Mercure de France is going to publish the first work of Salvator Schiff with others probably to follow.

Little Baby Phenomenon.

A two-year-old baby girl holds the world's record in mental development. The infant prodigy is Martha Springer, twenty-six months old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Springer of Mountain View, Cal.

The child can read like an eight-year-old. The father says the child has a normal mind which simply has been developed by persistent training.

At a recent meeting of college professors and experts in pedagogy and psychology the child for forty minutes read, counted and told the time by the clock and talked with the men who were observing her. Her baby brain did not sag and she appeared to enjoy the long interview.

The child reads and speaks with a vocabulary of about two thousand words. She is large for her age and eats and sleeps well.

New Idea in Butter Making.

An emulsor, now being widely introduced, produces pasteurized milk or cream from their component parts with the aid of centrifugal force. The machine, which is shown in Popular Mechanics Magazine, is built somewhat like a cream separator. Milk powder, butter and water, which have been mixed and heated in a steam-jacketed vat, are fed at pasteurizing temperature into the revolving chamber, producing a perfect emulsion from which all foreign matter is eliminated.

Army Pronouns.

Pronouns and their definitions as the army understands them are quoted in a camp journal as follows: I—the rookie; You—the sergeant; He—the colonel; We—the gang; They—the Huns; It—the war; His—what the kaiser will get; Theirs—what the Huns will get.—Outlook.

Cherish Your Friends.

Have you a good friend? Of course you have, every one has friends, but every one does not hold the friendships they make. Friendship is too rare and sacred a treasure lightly to be thrown away. And yet many people are not careful to retain their friends. Some lose them through inattention, failing to maintain those little amenities, courtesies and kindnesses which cost so little, and yet are hooks of steel to grapple and hold our friends. Some drop old friends for new ones. Some take offense easily at imagined slights or neglects and ruthlessly cut the most sacred ties. Some become impatient of little faults, and discard even truest friendships. Some are incapable of any deep or parmanent affection, and fly from friendship to friendship like birds from bough to bough but make no nest for their hearts in any. There are a great many ways of losing friends. But when we have once taken them into our lives we should cherish them as rarest jewels. If slights are given, let them be overlooked. If misunderstandings arise, let them be quickly set right.

Heat Sufferer.

"Suffer much from the heat?"

"I should say so. Nearly had a sunstroke rushing around to lay in next winter's coal."

NEW FLOUR RULES LESS SUBSTITUTES

REDUCTION OF THIRTY PER CENT. MADE

Ready Mixed Flour With Required Amount of Substitutes Will be on Market.

Although many housewives have learned to contrive to use fifty-fifty flour and substitute, most of them will welcome the reduction of the latter made in the new flour ruling. The new order requires 20 per cent. substitute.

Calling up our local mills, we were informed by Gratz & Son that they are preparing to manufacture a flour with the substitute mixed therein, which will relieve the housewife from purchasing substitutes. The Hayden Milling Co. informed us that they would not mix their flour, because it is easy enough for a person to buy 20 pounds of flour and 5 pounds substitute.

The national food administration has issued the following statement for mills, elevators and consumers:

Wheat Conservation Statement.

The recent careful survey by the food administration of the United States, France, England and Italy of the food resources of the 220,000,000 people fighting against Germany shows that to maintain enough supplies and necessary reserves against disaster, there must be maintained in all countries a conservation of wheat flour during the coming year.

It has been agreed that the wheat bread of the allies shall contain 20 per cent of other grains than wheat, and it is only just that we should bear our share in this saving, and that our bread at least should be universal with those who are suffering more greatly from the war than ourselves.

Distribution and transportation circumstances in the United States render it necessary to rely very largely on the voluntary action of our homes to enforce this mixture.

"The Victory Bread" so made is wholesome and there is no difficulty in preparation. We desire to emphasize the fact that the mixtures outlined below are for wheat bread and the saving of wheat flour, but they are not intended to displace the large use of corn bread. We must use the mixture with wheat flour in addition to our normal consumption of corn bread.

For this purpose, regulations are formulated below, effective September 1, providing:

First.—For the preparation and marketing by the manufacturing and distributing trades of the country of a mixed flour complying with the international policies which will be available for purchase by the household.

Second.—In regulations covering the case where straight wheat flour is sold by retailer that at the same time 20 per cent. of other cereal flours must be sold coincidently.

Third.—Requiring that all baker's bread shall contain 20 per cent of other cereals, and the food administration relies upon the householders of the country to mix at least 20 per cent of the substitute cereals into the wheat flour at home for all uses. Corn meal for the use of corn bread should be purchased separately from combination sales.

Victory Mixed Flour.

It is desired to insure a supply of ready mixed flour on the market and to have millers and dealers of all kinds encourage the use, and sale of this flour, so that the country may be on a mixed flour basis, without the necessity of retailers making combination sales of flour and substitutes.

All such mixed flours made according to the following regulations should be labelled "Victory mixed flour" and are to be labelled with the ingredients, in order of their proportion. The flour so mixed must be milled in accordance with the standards of the United States food administration. No mixed flours (except pancake flour) shall be made or manufactured except in the exact proportions, as outlined below:

Mixed wheat and barley flour shall be in the proportion of 4 pounds of wheat flour to 1 pound of barley flour.

Mixed wheat and corn flour shall contain the proportion of 4 pounds of wheat flour to 1 pound of corn flour.

Mixed wheat, barley and corn flour shall contain the proportion of 8 pounds of wheat flour to 1 pound of barley flour and 1 pound of corn flour.

Mixed wheat and rye flour shall contain the proportion of 3 pounds of wheat flour and not less than 2 pounds of rye flour.

Whole wheat, entire wheat, or graham flour or meal shall contain at least 95 per cent. of the wheat berry.

All of the above "Victory flours" may be sold without substitutes, but at no greater prices by miller, wholesaler or retail dealers than in the case of standard wheat flour.

Retail Sale of Wheat Flour.

The new regulations supersede the 50-50 rule. The retail dealer, selling standard wheat flour, is required to carry in stock their barley flour, corn meal or corn flour, and with every sale of wheat flour must sell a combination of some one or more of these in the proportion of 1 pound of substitute to each 4 pounds of wheat flour. No dealer may force any other substitutes in combination upon the consumer, and these substitutes must conform to the standards fixed by the United States food administration.

There are some localities where other substitutes are available and which retailers may wish to carry. In order to meet this situation, the following flours may be sold in such combination, in lieu of the above flour, if the consumer so demands, at the ratio of 1 pound to each 4 pounds of wheat flour: that is feterita flour and meal; rice flour; oat flour; kaffir flour; milo flour; peanut flour; bean flour; potato flour; sweet potato flour; buckwheat flour.

Pure rye flour or meal may be sold as a substitute, but must be sold in proportion of at least 2 pounds of rye flour with 3 pounds of wheat flour.

The foregoing rules apply to all custom and exchange transactions as well as to sales of flour to farmers, unless modified by special announcement of the federal food administrator of the state where the mill is located, acting with the approval of the zone committee.

According to Gov. Sleeper's proclamation this registration will be a holiday, with a free out door show afternoon and evening and music by the Clinton band. All stores will be closed Wednesday evening.

HORACE GRAY RETURNS HOME

FIRST WOUNDED TECUMSEH SOLDIER IN WAR

Arrives Thursday Afternoon Minus One Foot Lost in Battle—Otherwise Looking Fine.

The people on the street were astonished yesterday afternoon when a message was received stating that Horace Gray, the first Tecumseh boy wounded in the great war would arrive on the 5:55 that afternoon. If there had only been time a band would have been hustled together and the marching club to meet the train for everyone was delighted to welcome home the injured lad.

Bert Lawrence heard he was coming and met the train with his machine, carrying Horace out to his parent's home in the country. Horace looks finely and if it were not for the crutches and the missing foot no one would guess he had been injured at all.

Our hero went across with the marines in February and received his injuries in the battle of Belleau woods in France June 11th. He was taken to a French hospital and cared for carefully, later coming to Brooklyn where he has gained rapidly. One leg was so badly injured that amputation below the knee was necessary and the other was wounded in several places but has healed splendidly.

The Tecumseh people will be all glad to meet the young man when he can get into town and all will be after him for the stories from "over there."

NEW FEATURE FOR HERALD READERS

WAR QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY ONE WHO WAS THERE

Rev. Jas. G. Widdifield has Kindly Consented to Answer Questions That People May Ask Through The Herald.

We are pleased to announce that we have made arrangements with Rev. James G. Widdifield for a new feature column in The Herald that will prove very interesting to readers. Mr. Widdifield has kindly consented to answer all questions regarding soldier life on the fighting front that people may ask through The Herald. Send or bring your questions to this office and the same will be answered in these columns. Of course, any question that will conflict with the censorship will have to remain unanswered. However there are many things that people would like to know—how the boys are fed in the trenches, their daily life, etc. Ask the questions and they will be answered if possible. Our readers are well aware of the fact that Rev. Widdifield served ten months "over there," that he is observing and fully capable of answering questions intelligently.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Joe Satterthwaite.

August — 1918.

Dear Family:

I can almost appreciate now: "The Sea the Sea, the open Sea, The blue, the fresh, the ever free," or "Heave Ho! my lads, the winds blow free, An ocean gale is on our lea!" 'cause as I write the top deck the boat, and she is a large one, is swaying from side to side to beat the band. It's sure great!

I wish I could have attended the wedding, but I at least have the satisfaction of beating the big brother over.

We spent the first night on board, in the harbor. I saw Lt. Raynor K. Anderson and Earl Hanham the first thing. I guess we are the only Tecumsehites on board. We pulled out in the morning, so I took it all in. Going out of the harbor, the band on a Man of War we passed struck up, "Over There," and it sure sounded good. Since then it has been watter, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink." I have felt pretty good on the whole all the way over. I'd have felt fine if it wasn't for the air inside, as every window and porthole has to be closed at night, and it's pretty hard to ventilate the ship. One of the bands play most every day, yesterday they played the "Victor's," this morning they played "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag", and "Smile, Smile, Smile." Everyone likes that and we all sang. They also played "The Fairest of the Fair" march.

I was on guard last night from twelve to four, on top deck and I sure liked that. Guarding down below, inside, though, is not so nice. As it takes about a half hour to read the censorship rules on what you can't write, you see it is rather difficult to write much of a letter. I don't suppose you will get this letter before September, and it will be a long time probably, before I hear from you. This has been the longest time I have been without news of the outside world, or a daily paper. I suppose it will be hard to keep track of things from now on. The officers get the daily news by wireless. Perry will probably have a fine trip over. I'll sure have some tales to tell when I get back.

Somewhere in England

I am in an American Y. M. C. A. and it doesn't seem as if we were out of the states. They are certainly great places and we can get candy, coffee, cocoa, too, in this one. The army feeds us good enough but those kind of things always make us feel better.

We took quite a trip coming to this camp and it was the best trip I ever took on a train. We had third class coaches, eight in a compartment, but it was better than most American coaches at that. We went through quite a hilly country. All the houses are of brick or stone and the whole country looks like a park everything is kept up so cleanly. There are also beautiful rivers and canals. Most of the fields are squared off by stone fences or hedge rows. I'm some descriptive artist, ne'suis-je pas?

On the way over I talked quite a lot with a sub-"leftenant" in the Royal Naval Reserves—an engineer. He had some experiences! He knew a lieutenant in the Royal Flying corps named Satterthwaite, who was killed a few weeks ago and so knew the name quite well. He was on the Cunard liner that was sunk the farthest out of any yet. They were in the open boats for ten days. There were seven boats and two were lost. Four landed in Ireland and their boat was picked up forty miles off the coast. They lived all that time on ships biscuit (we ate them on the way across so I know what they are like) and water. The boats kept together and they would sing American songs to keep up their spirits. Then one boat would yell— "Are we down-hearted?" And the others would call back "no"! He seemed to know Michigan best by "I want to go Back to the Farm" and the other states by similar songs.

I was on guard quite a few nights from twelve to four. The sea was great at night. I would like to see how it looks in a storm, though.

With Love, Joe.

From Corporal Ernest Church

Somewhere in England.

Dear Mother:

Just a few lines to let you know that we have arrived on foreign soil in the best of condition and that I am feeling fine and dandy.

We had a good trip across the Atlantic, only run into one storm that was worth mentioning, and that one made the sea quite rough, but it was really mild from what some of the crew said. The waves once in a while came over the front deck and several of us got wet before we could get down. It surely was fun that day riding the waves. A big wave would come up once in a while and, say, the boat would rock, and a few of us would fall down in a heap. One fellow fell down stairs with a pail of tea and, believe me, tea came down for a few seconds. He said, as he was wiping the tea out of his eyes, "I guess I have got enough tea for a while."

About half the company was sick on two occasions—once the third day out, when the sea began to get rough and the second when we struck that storm I spoke of before. It made me feel funny, but I never once got sick. I never never missed a meal on board the boat and that's something only a few can boast of. The day of the storm most every one was in his hammock—just a few here and there were eating, but, believe me, I eat. Did you ever know a Church to be absent, when it was feed time? Only when we were busy or doing something we hadn't ought to.

This country surely shows that it has been in the war for a long time. People don't ride around in automobiles; they go mostly in two wheeled carts or on bicycles.

Talk about children, I never saw so many in all my life and I guess from the looks of them soap is a luxury. They bothered us to death for American money. I guess if we were asked once, we were asked a thousand times, "Joe, have you got any cents?" I don't know why they called us Joe; just once or twice they would call us Sam.

The streets of the city that we are camping near are quite narrow and they run in all directions. There seems to be no system in the laying out of their streets. It is quite rare that a street is called a street, they call them roads here.

You can give my best to every one who asks about me and tell them that I am getting along just fine and taking in all the sights that I get a chance to see. I can tell you more when I get home, because I can't give time or place in my letters.

Tell Aunt Gene I will try and answer her letter soon. I don't get any too much time to write and another thing our letters are censored, so there isn't much we can write about.

Be sure and write and tell me all the news—every little thing, it makes no difference, I will surely enjoy any news from home. Don't wait for my letters. I will write real often and please do the same. Tell all the folks to write to me.

Give my love to all, from your loving son, Ernest.

My address is—

My Dear Ones All:

Well, folks, I have my feet on the good old solid earth again and, believe me, I wasn't sorry when we reached port either. We had a fine trip across and nothing very exciting happened but a little rough weather. I surprised the fish, though, as I wasn't sick at all, just a little dizzy once or twice. Some of the soldiers, however, were pretty sick for a few days. I believe I would make a pretty good sailor.

I wish you could see the city we landed in. It is a very pretty place and the houses are all built on the same plan, and all built together, block after block of them. They are built of either stone or bricks and I haven't seen a wooden building since I landed. The houses are in better shape than the stores which are very old, I think from the looks of them.

The country around here is beautiful and you never see any run down buildings or farms. Every thing is kept right up in the best of condition.

Tell Grandmother Harrison that I had some plum pudding on the boat over, but, believe me, one small piece of grandmother's would have been better than that whole ship load.

By the time you get this letter you should have the letter and card I mailed on the boat. Did you get the letter I wrote you just before we left Camp Mills?

There is so little we can write so will close for this time. I am feeling just fine and I hope this letter finds you the same.

Give my best to everyone and write soon.

Yours Lovingly

Quantico, Va., Aug. 24, 1918.

Dear Ones at Home:—

I have this afternoon off so I am going to write a few letters, then wash clothes.

This is a fine camp, lots better than at Paris Island. The streets are all paved, the buildings are better. Also our eats are much better. I think the work is going to be easier, although I can hardly tell yet as to that. We have more gas mask stuff, digging trenches, etc.; it is much more interesting work. Also, it is not sandy here as at the island. There are small mountains at the back of the camp and the river is in front. It is only 30 miles from here to Washington. I may go up there some day if I get a chance.

The main line between Washington and Richmond runs through the center of the camp. We had quite a time coming up here. The train consisted of 96 coaches and I think most of the way they had two engines on. I think it was the longest passenger train I ever saw and the best thing about it was they gave us pullmans. I got a good night's rest out of it anyway.

All along the road people came to their doors and windows and waved their hands. The Red Cross was always on the job. At Port Royal they gave out post cards and sold ice cream and candy. At Rocky Mount, N. C., they gave out candy and cigarettes to those who wanted them. In Richmond they gave out ice cold tea, cookies, cigarettes, post cards and magazines. So you see what they are doing. The Y. M. C. A. had a secretary on the train all the way up. He furnished papers to read and checkers and board to play with.

He would go through each coach, sing songs and keep the boys in good spirits. They have a fine Y. M. C. A here in this camp.

I think this is the best state I have found yet. The crops look very good and it also has some very pretty scenery just rolling enough to make it pretty. I came through most of North Caroline in the night, but what I saw of it looked pretty good. On the way up I saw the house that General Jackson died in.

The drilling here is much different. A company consists of 250 men and there are 3,500 in a regiment. We are drilled by commissioned officers a captain and four lieutenants to each company. We have to keep our clothes and rifles perfectly clean all the while. Also, you always have a million dollar shine on the shoes. I think the American army is the cleanest in the world.

I forgot to say that they gave us a good send off from the island. We marched to the dock with the band leading and they played while we were getting on the boat. The camp song leader was on board and we sang songs all the way to Port Royal.

Well I will not be here more than 30 days at the most. It is time of war, and we must make the best of it. It certainly cannot last very much longer. Well, I guess I will have to close for this time. I will write again soon. I sent you my address yesterday, but perchance you did not get it I will repeat it. Lot of Love.

My Dear Mrs. Lewis:—

I have just returned from my third trip to France and I thought that you might be wondering what has become of me. Well, I am still here and only can say I have been across three times and have not seen a German submarine yet, but would like to see our gunners get a few shots at one, for they can sure deliver the goods.

We see many queer things on our sailings over and back. Last trip on our way back, about 1200 miles from France, we pased the dead body of a man, but we had orders to stop for nothing, so we did not bother about it. On our last trip we sighted two life rafts and as soon as we found out that there was no one on them two of our guns used them for targets and they showed some American and French army officers what they could do, for they sunk one of them and the other was raised six feet out of the water.

Porpois, whales, Blackfish and sharks are about the only sea fish we see, but in the warm waters of the gulf stream we see a few flying fish. Outside of that we see nothing but salt water and sky and, believe me, the water is salty, and some of the time it is rough. This time, coming back, we carried a few American wounded soldiers. Most of the wounds were from high explosives and shrapnel. The soldiers with a leg or arm off go by the name of "one-half" or "two-thirds," while those that have been burnt by powder and those that were gassed go by the name of "gun powder" and "gassy." One young chap that was gassed was called "Gas Mask Bill," and they have other names that correspond with wounds. They were all glad to see the Statue of Liberty this morning at 3:30.

It is getting late, nearly 12 p. m., and I have been up since 12 last night. I stood the 12 to 4 watch last night and this morning from 4 to 8 as we were coming into the harbor of New York, and I had the 4 to 8 watch at the gangway this afternoon, so you see this has been a hard day for me.

Give my best to Perry Hayden and tell him I hope to be home on leave in the near future.

With best wishes, I remain, as ever,

Richard St. John.

The Fordson Tractor

Hundreds of farm owners in this community will be interested in this announcement—in knowing that Fordson tractors are ready for distribution.

The urgent need for greater production and the vital necessity of employing man-saving machinery in farm work is apparent to everyone. Remembering these immense tasks ahead, the coming of the Fordson is of importance to every Farm owner at this time.

The Oliver No. 7—the Plow for the Fordson

Oliver No. 7 has been built for the Fordson.

Henry Ford & Son recommend it as the plow that will work to the best advantage with their machine.

You will appreciate the high clearance of plows and beams because they save time and annoyance—just as the rake between bottoms prevents clogging with trash and makes every second of operating time count in plowed ground.

The Oliver No. 7 embodies principles of plow construction founded on sixty years of making plows, of intensive study of every existing soil condition—constant attention to the plow requirements of the tractor since the tractor industry began.

Come in and see this complete outfit—the Fordson and the Oliver No. 7 Plow.

Editorial Comment

"Keep the Home Fires Burning"—this is the title of a song that is a favorite with the boys "over there" as well as all loyal citizens at home. We wish to impress upon our readers the importance of the sentiment contained in this peculiarly appropriate title of our favorite war song. Tecumseh people have been loyal to a large and wholesome degree. The ladies have been especially active in Red Cross and other relief work—they have done splendidly. The men have also done their part in giving support to the ladies, helping to finance the Lenawee County Patriotic League and in taking energetic part in the various drives. But the sentiment of the title of this war song means more than this. It means to keep everything moving at home. It means to keep up business and social activities, to keep up the churches, schools, homes, cities and towns, in fact everything against the happy return home of the boys from the fighting lines. We mention the churches first, because we believe that the boys over there have been and are in closer communion with their Creator than at any period in their lives. Hence it behooves us to keep our churches alive, to make and keep them attractive so the boys will appreciate their church home upon their return.

The sentiment means to keep your homes cheerful and bright, your lawns attractive and your gardens weedless. It means some hard work, some sacrifices and the cheerful expenditures of money, but every effort along these lines will add to the happy home coming of the boys that were willing to sacrifice their all for our safety.

In this great work co-operation and community spirit is essential. Business men, citizens and farmers of the community must get together. Business men must keep their stores, stocks and prices so attractive that mail order catalogues will serve some other purpose than furnishing a list that takes good community money to the large cities.

Merchants should keep up a direct and regular communication with the people through the advertising columns of the home paper and the raders of The Herald should not neglect their education or opportunities by refusing to read business announcements. The advertisements in the home paper are just as important, if not more so, to the householder as the reading matter. It will pay every reader to keep in touch with the advertiser and to trade with those who have enough interest in them to publicly invite them to their place of business.

Let's all co-operate to make the territory covered by The Herald better all around, if possible, than it was when the boys left to fight our cause against the Hun.

Gov. Sleeper has issued a proclamation designating September 12, registration day for the new 18 to 45 draft law, a general holiday. It is planned to make that day a patriotic holiday throughout the nation to the end that 100% registration may be insured; and it is hoped that every citizen will enter heartily into the spirit of the occasion.

Gen. Crowder, in his letter to the Council of National Defense calling attention to this matter, says: "I want to have every flag flying and every band playing on registration day."

Gov. Sleeper closes his proclamation as follows:

"Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, governor of the state of Michigan acting on the suggestion of the Provost Marshal General of the United States, do hereby request all mayors of Michigan cities and all presidents of Michigan villages to confer with local war boards and other patriotic organizations, and, with them, to plan to make this day an occasion for the manifestation of a splendid patriotic enthusiasm.

"I suggest further that mayors of cities and presidents of villages issue proclamations calling upon their people to render every assistance in their power in the carrying out of this program."

Tecumseh loyal citizens are planning to observe the day right here, as will be seen in another column of this issue.

The campaign for the Fourth Liberty Loan begins September 28 and closes October 19. While the amount has not yet been announced, it is generally conceded it will be for a larger amount than any of the preceding loans. The American people, therefore, are called upon to raise a larger sum of money in a shorter length of time than ever before. There is need, therefore, for prompt action—prompt and efficient work and prompt and liberal subscriptions.

We have a great inspiration for a great effort. The news from the battle front inspires every American heart, not only with pride and patriotism but with a great incentive to do his or her part. There is no shirking, no shifting of the individual burden, no selfishness by American soldiers in France; there should be none here. We are both supporting the same country and same cause—our army in one way, ourselves in another. Theirs is the harder part, but at least we can do our part as promptly and loyally and efficiently as they do theirs.

If subscribers to The Herald will kindly remember to pay their subscriptions before the date of the drive it will help us to buy a bond. It requires a heap of money to buy machinery and material to equip a print shop and a little change now in the way of subscription money will be most welcome.

Editor Faling of the Petersburg Sun has no great love for political candidates who depend upon the hard pressed country editors to give them free publicity. Listen to the following and judge for yourself: "The Pipp Syndicate of Detroit, is sending out "copy" for publication in the country press, without even a hint of remuneration. The matter is strictly of an advertising nature, and designed to work up public sentiment and secure votes for a certain senatorial candidate who is willing to run on any number of political party tickets in order to get elected. Incidentally this office seeker is worth more than the combined wealth of all the country editors in Michigan, and he can well afford to pay for his publicity. In fact, he should pay for it instead of hiring a press agent to prepare the dope and then expect the country press to bear the expense of publishing it in the guise of news. Years ago there was a trite saying to the effect that "a sucker is born every minute." Since then a lot of these suckers have died, however, and the birth rate of this variety of country editors is on the decrease. The time has come when a newspaper editor must can all articles reaching his table and eliminate those whose publication would be mainly of financial benefit to somebody else. The expense of conducting a newspaper cannot be borne by the editor alone; those reaping the benefit of his labors, in a business or political way, must hereafter contribute their share."

Tecumseh has one faithful official who seems to be on the job right. We refer to our street commissioner. The rain Wednesday made road scraping conditions favorable and Mr. Kennedy was at work before many of us had finished breakfast. We are proud of Tecumseh streets.

"The UNBELIEVER"

The Greatest of Them All, at the Bradley Sunday and Monday.

"The Unbeliever" produced by Thos. A. Edison in conjunction with the United States Marine Corps will be presented at the Bradley opera house next Sunday and Monday, September 8 and 9.

One of the Detroit papers speaking of the engagement of "The Unbeliever" at the Majestic theatre there says "It seemed as if half of Detroit's population tried to get into the Majestic theatre on Sunday to see "The Unbeliever". This is a patriotic war picture that is far beyond anything yet produced, so thrilling and so stirring that people almost gasped for breath, particularly at the 'over the top' scene.

It's a great, wonderful picture, that ought to be seen by every patriotic, red blooded American."

"The Unbeliever" was booked for one week at the Majestic, Detroit, and attracted such crowds that it played a second, a third, a fourth and finally a fifth week at this same theatre, playing to over 150,000 people, thus setting a new record for any theatrical production in the city of Detroit.

"The Unbeliever" is the one big picture of the world war, the one you have heard your friends speak of. Over 2,000 United States troops take part in the wonderful photo play which was made with the co-operation of Government officials and endorsed as the supreme and most timely drama of the present war.

"The Unbeliever" was originally booked for Sunday night only but owing to the ban placed on Sunday driving of automobiles and so that every patriotic American may have a chance to see this wonderful production permission has been given the management of the Bradley to hold the picture over for Monday night.

OBITUARY—OTIS WHELAN

Otis Whelan was born in the township of Franklin, Mich., on March 20, 1842, and died Aug. 29, 1918, at his late home, aged 76 years, 5 months and 9 days.

He was the sixth child of John and Freelove Whelan who came from Oswego County, N. Y., to Michigan in 1833 when the state was a wilderness and still a territory. His childhood days were spent on his father's farm and in attending the public schools.

He was married to Margaret Devenport, Sept. 30, 1863, and to them were born three children,—LeClair Whelan, who resides on a farm near the homestead; Eva May, now Mrs. Allen Wells of Toledo, Ohio, and Euzell who has remained at home to care for his parents. Four grandsons also survive him,—Lloyd Whelan of Tecumseh, Bonnie of Toledo, Clark Wells, who is in the marines at Philadelphia, and Leona Wells of Racine, Wis. Also one great-grandchild, Euna Glenola, daughter of Lloyd Whelan.

Otis Whelan was the last surviving member of his immediate family, but leaves many nieces, nephews and cousins and a host of friends. For many years he has been a great sufferer from asthma from which nothing has given him permanent relief.

Mr. Whelan had his ideas about religion and instead of the usual burial service the following funeral oration by A. Lutherman, Ackley, Iowa, was read by W. D. VanTuyle of Clinton:

"Friends:—The saddest hour of our life is when we part with one whom we dearly love. We do not mourn because we believe our departed friend has passed into a state of unhappiness or pain, for we believe that death ends all suffering. Our sadness arises from the necessity of parting with one so manly and kind. We regret his loss and will miss him in our daily life.

"But death is both natural and inevitable. It knows no earthly titles; the noble and proud must submit as well as the humble and poor. The wintry frost nips the flowers of life and everything dies. As rational beings we ought to regard it calmly and accept it as it really is, without lament.

"Man springs up like a tree. First the tender plant, then he puts forth buds of promise that blossom for a time and finally decay and pass away.

"The universal law of decomposition acts upon all life when it has reached its fullest unfoldment. Our generation passes away and another takes its place. In youth we cling to life and are terrified at the thought of death, as the green apple clings to the bough. Old age has lost its strong attachment to life, and, like the ripe fruit, at a gentle touch it drops freely to the ground. So the man of mellow age sinks into the sleep of death as gently as the infant sleeps on its mother's breast. Death is as natural as birth and is not an enemy. It is a friend to the weary; it stops all pain; to sorrow it gives peace and everlasting rest. It makes no distinction between Christian and unbeliever. We all go over the same path of life, and Mother Earth, that nourished us all, takes again the elements she has loaned us. All earthly things vanish, but nothing is lost; the new is built out of the ruins of the old. The stubble in the field, turned into a furrow, enriches the soil and helps the scattered seed to produce waving grain. The old oak that is no longer thrilled by spring sunshine and gentle rain is not left to stand leafless, desolate and alone. It is better to fall and from its decay nature softly covers all with creeping vine and woven moss.

"We cannot change the laws of nature and call our friend to life again. We should not shed tears, but feel gratitude that our friend has been with us; that this world has been made better by his life, by his example. He gave others the right claimed for himself, to think and believe according to our convictions. He was free from the blight of superstitions, untarnished by rusty bars with perfumed flowers. We can pattern after his good acts with profits and strengthen our good intentions by remembering his noble deeds and excellent character.

"And when our earthly body has served its purpose and all human skill fails to restore lost health why should we fear death? Death steps in as our last friend and relieves us of all trouble. It simply removes the wrecks and ruins and leaves the good and sound. We know of a time when we were but dust, without aches or pains, no desires nor thoughts. Comparing the future with the past we have nothing to fear the claims of priestly creeds and fables, and insisted that no one could be really happy unless he made someone else happy. He took great pleasure in investigations for truth, and was a student of the grand principles of the universe. Reason was his only guide, justice his bible, morality his religion. He faithfully performed life's duties, and assisted his fellowmen so far as circumstances would allow. His sympathies, not poisoned by creeds, ran out into the world like creeping vines over the wall, hiding the rude rocks and after deate. When the body crumbles to dust we will rest in peace.

"Then why mourn over our loss which we cannot replace by grief? Rather let us consign the body of our beloved one to the grave with reverence and respect, and perfect confidence that the laws of nature, which equalizes all mankind, has given him eternal rest. Thus do we bid our friend farewell. As we return to life's duties let us each resolve to do our best and deserve like respect when our time comes to be laid to rest in the grave with our forefathers."

Baton Rouge, La., plans to build a municipal street railway.

MARCHING CLUB RESUMES DRILLS

ABOUT TWENTY-FIVE TURN OUT TUESDAY

More of New Draft Age Should Avail Themselves of Opportunity Before Going to Camp.

The Tecumseh Marching club again took up their drill practice Tuesday evening with about twenty-five present when there should have been a couple of hundred.

Every fellow in the town between 18 to 45 who is liable for draft should be in this club for, that the training you get there is some use in camp has been evidenced by letters received by Capt Hanna from several of the boys now in camp who learned their first drill lessons in this company.

Since the club was formed last spring twelve of the members have been called into the service and before winter sets in many more will go and these have been enthusiastic with the training they received at home in the Marching club.

Dale Hodges' enlistment left the office of secretary and treasurer vacant. At their business meeting Monday evening Robt. Moore, Jr., was elected for the office. The drill practice is to be held every Tuesday and Friday evenings so get out and drill and if for no other reason to show you appreciate the hard work Capt Hanna is putting in. It will do good right now to take these lessons, not to mention the advance it will give you when you get into camp and you'll sure be there before long.

FR. HACKETT IN OVERSEAS SERVICE

Pastor of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church Volunteers for Army and Navy Work.

Fr. John Hackett of St. Elizabeth's Catholic church has answered the call for voluntary chaplains for the army and gone with some fifteen other priests out of Detroit diocese in overseas service. He was rector of St. Mary's church of Manchester, having also as his charge several mission churches of which the Tecumseh church is one. All of these mission churches will be closed for the duration of the war.

Fr. Hackett's home was in Owosso, coming here from Mt. Clemens and he is very popular in his church, with many friends in all denominations.

FUNERAL OF CHAS. BENEDICT.

Obsequies of Well Known Citizen Conducted Wednesday.

The funeral services in memory of Chas. Benedict were held at the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon. In spite of the continuous dow pour of rain the church was well filled with the many friends of this highly respected gentleman.

The Temple quartet sang two appropriate songs and Rev. W. A. Rex, in his address, used "In your patience possess ye your soul" as his text. The word patience and all its attributes so amply covered Mr. Benedict's attitude in his terrible sufferings all these past months, that the text was the more appropriate. His words were full of comfort for the sorrowing family and were deeply appreciated.

To Frank Bradley, A. W. Mills, John Sisson, Chas. Fowler, George Holloway and Neil Exelby was given the honor of bearing the remains of their friend from the church. The burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Many of the old neighbors from Raisin attended the funeral and others from out of town as follows. George Benedict, a brother, Leon Benedict, a son, and family and Mrs. Webb Kay of Detroit; Albert Boyce of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Morse and Sherman Withington of Adrian, Herman Atwell of Palmyra.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

Which is Better—Try on Experiment or Profit by a Tecumseh Citizen's Experience.

Something new is on experiment. Must be proved to be as represented.

But the endorsement of friends is.

Now supposing you had a bad back

A lame, weak, or aching one,

Would you experiment on it?

You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from faraway places.

It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove local testimony.

Read this Tecumseh case:

H. W. Stevens, real estate dealer, Kilbuck St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Pulver's Drug Store and have had good results. I do not hesitate to endorse them as a medicine of merit. They proved very egective in relieving me of backache and other signs of kidney trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Stevens had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

Contractor Gettins assures us that, contrary to some reports current on the street, he will have the new school all completed by September 16th, excepting the gymnasium. He even has had the windows washed. Today saw the laying of the new walks started so everything will be ready for business on the opening day of school.

"Oh, Sammy" was on the boards at the Bradley Tuesday night and a big house turned out. It was a musical comedy and carried a jolly bunch of chorus girls. One feature was worth the whole price—the trio that played the horns and gave the Scotch dance. One of these ladies played the piano and French horn together. Willett's Orchestra was over from Adrian.

Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Balmer are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. T. B. Gilliam and two little daughters, Ruth and Mary Bragg. Mr. Gilliam, who is a civil engineer, has gone from Cincinnati to Washington, D. C., where he is under government orders for special work. The family will remain here with Dr. and Mrs. Balmer until Mr. Gilliam can find a home for them in Washington.

Last spring Arlie Goheen gave farmers in each direction sorghum seed and as a result over 200 acres have been planted over the country. Now comes the harvest for which Mr. Goheen has installed a complete sorghum making equipment. This measure to eke out the sugar is commendale and the manner in which Mr. Goheen encouraged the planting has been appreciated by the farmers, hence the large acreage. He will make sorghum each day at his mill just north of Evans creek in Brownville.

George Benedict of Detroit, who was here for the funeral of his brother, Charles, was a pleasant caller at this office Thursday, just before leaving for his home. Mr. Benedict who lived on the farm purchased by his grandfather in 1862 from the age of 13 to 35, and resided also in Tecumseh for some years, still has a warm spot in his heart for the old home town. It is business only that keeps him from taking up his residence again here, for he says he knows of no better place to live. Mr. Benedict is now doing government work, being employed on aeroplanes in the Fisher Body Co. plant.

A report has been going around that people in Canada can buy all the sugar they want. The facts are that all the sugar that one can buy now in Canada at one time, is one pound. Also all wheat flour is mixed with substitutes before sold, so that no wheat flour can be bought at all. It is likely that Canada, who has suffered so terribly in this war, would be a slacker in regard to food?

The Kaiser can only succeed if he can sow dissension among the allies, therefore the Americans are told that the English have all the wheat and sugar they can use and the English are told that the Americans want to dominate the world. The French are told that England saves her own men at her allies expense, when England has lost more in proportion than other nations. Every nation has her spies and gossips who tell lies about her allies.

It is the duty of every loyal American to ask the person who retails these propaganda stories to make the speaker give his authority for the untruth he is spreading.

PROGRESS SATISFACTORY

H. BREWER & CO. FACTORY EXTENSIONS

Directors Well Satisfied With Work—Government Orders Will Keep Plant Busy for Months.

Mr. Wm. F. McGlashan and Mr. D. J. Carson of Buffalo, N. Y., were in town yesterday attending a directors' meeting of the H. Brewer & Co. They reported themselves well satisfied with the progress made upon the factory extensions now being built and say that the company have government orders on their books to keep the institution busy up to full capacity for some months to come.

The present government work is for the Emergency Fleet Corporation, the ordnance department and the quartermaster's department.

Supplies of the necessary materials have been secured through the War Industries Board and employment of all available labor is assured for some time to come.

CONSOLIDATE OFFICE WORK

NEW YORK CENTRAL AND D. T. & I. UNDER ONE AGENT

A. B. McLachlin Takes Care of Business of Both Roads Here to Conserve Man Power.

Beginning yesterday A. B. McLachlin, agent here for the New York Central, takes charge of the business of the D. T. & I. at this point, as well. This does away with one man, the former agent, E. L. Moore returning to West Virginia. Ralph Hunt will sell tickets as before for the D. T. & I. This move is taken on all the railroads where possible because of so many of the men having gone into military service. In other places even depots are abandoned and all business done at one, but here that was found impracticable.

WALTER RAYMOND

Former Tecumseh Boy Dead at Eagle River, Wis.

Word came Tuesday to Wm. Raymond of the death of his younger brother, Walter Raymond, at Eagle River, Wis. The message was first sent to another brother, Rufus Raymond, at LosAngeles, and he wired back to Tecumseh, making it too late for Mr. Raymond to go to the funeral, which was held Wednesday at Eagle River.

Walter Raymond was born here and grew to young manhood in this vicinity. He learned telegraphy and in early life left his home for the west, coming back but a few times to the scenes of his youth. Of a retiring disposition, he led a quiet life and was held in high esteem by his many friends here.

A CARD.

Having sold my truck line I wish to take this opportunity to thank the people for all favors and liberal support given me in my 14 years of business. I will continue to consider it a favor if my successor, Mr. Clarence Alderdyce, will receive the same consideration in his new business undertaking, and by calling phone 228—5r your wants will receive the same prompt attention in the future as in the past. Signed—

A. J. Montgomery.

IMPROVING WATER POWER

HAYDEN MILLING CO. MAKING IMPORTANT CHANGES

Dams, Flumes and Apron Rebuilt—Object to Increase Water Power Efficiency and Conserve Fuel.

Many years before it was dreamed that a coal shortage would ever appear the water power at this place was proven of inestimable value and now it is more valuable than ever, in this time of such serious fuel difficulty. The Wm. Hayden Milling Co. appreciate all this so highly that this year they have spent thousands of dollars renewing and rebuilding their dams. The great wasteware at the mill pond has been replaced with cement, also the flumes at the mill rebuilt with the same material. The workmen are now rebuilding the dam at the race and have yet to build a cement apron at the Standish pond. This gives the "1900" flour people the best water power on the River Raisin.

NO PAPER FRIDAY

Next Week Herald Will Come Out As Weekly. Published Every Thursday

On account of removing the old and installing the new press there will be issued no edition next Friday, as it will require several days to make the change.

Next week and thereafter The Herald will be published weekly and the issue will be made on Thursdays.

Advertisers are requested to get their copy to us not later than Tuesdays so we will have sufficient time to make the display as well as the entire paper as attractive as possible.

Correspondents, please get letters in Tuesdays. If later important news is at hand send second letter or use telephone.

RED CROSS

There will be work on men's undergarments at the headquarters on Thursday, but not on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. B. Kennedy requests the attendance of workers, as it is desired to dispose of this quota as soon as possible.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Wilfred A. Orr to Kenneth Hay.

Aug. 18, 1918.

Dear Friend:

How are you and your wife? I suppose you are having a fine summer. I am feeling fine and Benny Hastings, I guess, is alright because he looks good anyhow. We have a lot of rain over here but when the old sun shines you could not wish for anything better for it is so warm through the day time and very cool at night.

Well, I suppose you wonder why I haven't written before, but you know, as usual laziness partly and most because I can't get the time or stationery, but today is the first real chance I have had and I have written all day and still got many to answer.

We are just back from the big drive and it seems good to get a night's rest for there is no such thing as rest there, not unless it is the last rest which is forever and thereafter.

When we were on the drive it rained most of the time and we had thrown away our packs and raincoats so you can bear in mind we were wet and covered with mud most of the time. At night we would dig little holes to lay in and to help shelter us from the rain of bullets and shrapnel and of course it would rain the hole with water and drive us out.

Well, Ken, I have slept most everywhere from stores, houses, barns, chicken coops, hog pens, dugouts, box cars, tents and different places—that straight from the shoulder. A good bed to sleep in would kill me. Tell Harry to join the army and see the world.

Well Ken, I have faced some of the most dreadful fire of machine guns, shrapnel, high explosives and gas shells. Ken, you can't imagine how bad it is when they fall on all sides of you. It is the worst sensation a man can have but the darn Germans fell so fast that it seemed like a bunch of ten pins falling. We also took a lot of prisoners. They were mostly young fellows from 1[illegible] and 16 to 22 years old. They were so tired from retreating that they would fall asleep while walking. If you could only see how the towns look; they don't look, it's just a mass of stone piles. Well I must close. Hoping you are enjoying good health. Answer,

Wilfred A. Orr
Co. B. 126 Inft
Am. E. F

P. S. I am near Chateau Thierry.

Clare L. Dickinson [illegible] Mrs. Fred Poucher.

Somewhere in France
August 9, 1918.

Dear Mother:

I have received six letters from you in the last two days and sure was glad to hear from you again. I will try and answer them all in one and then tell a little about myself and what I have been doing and so on. The letters were of June 18, 29 and July 1, 8, 10.

I am glad to hear that my letter of June 1st went through in such a short time. The mail is much better getting to you. It always takes at least 30 days for your letters to get to me, but they are always welcome when they do come.

I am glad Mrs. Lawrence received her letter from Bernard. He is feeling pretty well now, although he got shell shocked the other day but not very bad. Wilfred is all O. K., got through without a scratch.

The Italians are not the only ones that have been driving the Germans back, we have been doing a little of that ourselves in the last few days. It's pretty well known that the Germans are about all in, but they have not given in yet.

I would like to know what they are going to do with so many loans back in the states.

Am glad to hear you are having such good weather in which to take care of the crops. It will help to win the war—I wish you could have some of the rain we have had here in the last month; it rains every other minute and usually a regular cloud burst. The rainy season is now on in France. The mud is about a foot deep most any place you try to go.

You should be thankful that you are getting any flour to use at all. I don't know what the American people would do if they had to live in France where they have so little to eat. We have wheat flour bread but by the time it gets to us it is usually "green mountain" bread or moldy and some sand, etc., in it.

No, we didn't go into the trenches in Alsace until June 2. We stayed on duty from 9 to 20 days up there. Not so long on the front, 9 days, and that was long enough as we were all played out and not good for very much by that time.

That was a rest camp to what this is up here, but the Germans are doomed. That is well known, but when they will give up that is the question we all want answered.

I received 18 letters and four postcards in two days and have them all to answer and it will take me three days to do that if I write as long letters as I did to you and J— 10 pages to each one.

Well, there will be a lot more of the boys to go, but I am getting so I don't feel sorry for them who are back there; they are no better than we who are on the front lines and this war must be won, and the sooner the better. There is a job for every man in the good old U. S. A. My worst thoughts of the war, before I got into it were tame to what it really is. There is nothing too cruel for the Germans to do, especially the gas.

Yes, I was back of the front line about 500 yards, but not in the second or third line. Those pictures you see are not of the front lines, for they could not get up there on account of the heavy shell fire.

I started this letter last night but had to quit on account of darkness. Yes, when we are on the front we have to make our own place to sleep, a hole in the ground. A building is a poor place—a good target for the artillery. It is well worth all a man will ever get out of it, after it is over and a great test on his nerves. The people back home have not good enough imagination to know what it is like on the firing line or in the support trench.

You sure have sent me a lot of clippings, but I had read most of them before. We get the Adrian and Detroit papers quite regular and four papers that are printed in Paris.

Well, I have only answered two of your letters and have written nearly a book, so will tell you about myself and what I have been doing the last month. About three weeks ago we left Fentain in Alsace; went from Paris and a lot other good sized cities and landed at Verbein and hiked over a big hill to some little town and stayed in the woods nearby. Left the next morning in trucks, rode all day that day until about 4:30 and landed at Chateau Thierry, hiked up in the woods and stayed all night. Got out the next night at 6:00 o'clock, hiked until 12 o'clock, then stayed in the woods again. The next morning we went through the woods to an opening, then the next night we hiked to the —— river, or rather we would call it a big ditch.

Then we started in our drive; was repulsed the first day. Then the next morning at 3 a. m. we got them on the run, and took them through all day for about 12 kilometers or 9 miles to the —— river; then they made a stand and as we had been at it for 9 days of walking and nearly nothing to eat, we were all in and were relieved.

I went through two machine gun lines of the Germans and haven't got a scratch yet, but I may the next time I have to go over. We drove them farther in 16 hrs. than any other division has in 48 hrs. that has been on the front so we will probably get some honor out of it. There is a piece in the paper about our division [illegible] you will probably read about it before you get this letter. [illegible] more than I can tell you [illegible] we are now in a woods [illegible] from ——.

Tell Edna Belding that Byron [illegible] was killed by a high explosive [illegible] on or about the 6th of this month. It may be in the papers before you get this letter. Everybody [illegible] K. Lamont Harrington [illegible] hospital somewhere with [illegible] in his nose. I don't know [illegible] it is.

So [illegible] close hoping to hear from you in the near future. Your loving son, Esli M[illegible] to His Brother, Ovid.

Somewhere in France
August 10, 1918.

[illegible] Brother and all:

[illegible] received your [illegible] Emmett's letter just before I came into the trenches and you know just how [illegible] to get them. [illegible] game. The better you work the safer you are. It is a great life. I would like to tell you about some of the things going on but can't. Was in the bad gas attack but not affected by it. On the whole there isn't the danger over here that most people think.

Ovid, there is not a thing I can ask for. I haven't had anything given to me, outside of the government issue.

When I get back to a town I sure will remember Mary Jane as I have plenty of money.

We have all we can eat and plenty of tobacco and when we are where we can get wine and beer, we are permitted to have it.

The Y. M. C. A. is doing a part in this war that should be appreciated by all people.

Write as often as you can as a letter in the trenches is always welcome. There isn't much to write. I am in fine health. Love to all.

Your Brother Eslie.

P. S. Send me the addresses of the other fellows from home, as I might see them.

August 13, 1918.

Dear Brother and all:

I wrote you a note in the trenches and I will write you a little more since I have a chance to rest and get a bath. Haven't had my clothes off for over a week, as it was awful muddy the first few days in the trenches.

We have had some exciting times and will be glad to get back to the Y. M. C. A. and hear a little music and where we can make a little more noise.

I sure do feel fine since I have had a good bath.

Love to all, your brother.

Esli.

P. S. I don't know what is the matter: I don't receive any mail from Chicago. Write them and wake them up, as a letter in the trenches is worth a lot.

On Board Ship, Thursday, Aug. 7.

My Dear Mother and All:—

Will start a letter to be mailed as soon as we arrive. The last letter I mailed you about an hour before getting on board, so you will know when we started and I expect the card I mailed when I got on board will be forwarded as soon as we arrive and the word is cabled back so you will know how long we were making the trip.

All mail will be censored from now on and there is so much that we cannot write about that I don't know whether I will be able to write much of a letter or not, as almost everything I would like to tell has the ban on it.

One of the new rules is to write on only one side of the paper instead of both as previously, so that censored parts may be cut out with scissors and not spoil both sides.

When we started on this trip, as soon as we left the harbor and got into the ocean, we hit a storm and high sea. It didn't give us a chance to get used to the ocean roll at all and almost every one on board was sea sick. I came nearer being sick than on either of my other trips across, but didn't quite lose my lunch and have been right on hand for every meal. G. P. B. and I are still together and guess he is even a better sailor than I, as it did not affect him hardly at all, and we thoroughly enjoyed standing on the deck and watching the big waves roll.

I was looking forward to this trip with pleasure and although there are so many of us on board that the sleeping and eating accommodations do not compare very favorably with my former trips, we are getting used to it now along with a lot of other things in the army.

We heard before leaving that they only allowed us an hour or two on deck a day so I was very agreeably surprised to find out that they let us stay on deck all day and all night if we want to.

The night of the storm I slept on deck until 2 a. m. so as to stay in the fresh air rather than trust myself inside where it was close. I have had two days of guard duty while on the trip and while not standing guard we sleep on deck. (During those two days.)

Most everyone sleeps in hammocks hung to the ceiling and the rest on mattresses on the floor. This old ship gets thoroughly cleaned all over every day and then inspected by both ship and army officers, but there are so many of us it is not much work for each one.

The Y. M. C. A. have a big library on board so we have all the reading matter we want. We have victrolas and some good [illegible] together. We have boxing gloves and do a lot of boxing all day. Yesterday p. m. we had a regular boxing tournament and saw some good fights as there are a good many professional boxers in our regiment.

Two days ago in the p. m. we passed a school of whales. There were a great many around the ship rolling on the surface and spouting water. We went through several schools of porpoise, the fish that jump out of the water, but I have told about these from my other trip.

We have been getting the news by wireless every day about the war, ball games, etc., so you see we are not entirely cut off from the world.

No one seems to show any nervousness about danger from submarines and in fact I don't believe there are any. We are traveling safer than we would in times of peace for there might be an accident of some kind then but every precaution is taken now. Before we went days without seeing any other ship, but now we have lots of company.

After the first night we have had ideal weather all the trip. No high waves at all or hardly any fog so we have been able to make all possible speed. Outside of a couple days of cold weather when we had to get out our overcoats we have laid in the sunshine on the decks all day and have read a lot of good books.

The last mail I received was your card written in Coldwater July 21st and addressed to Camp C.

I have never received any of the A. E. F. addressed mail but expect it will follow me and some time later will get a lot of it all at once.

This has been a long rest from letter writing, as they couldn't be mailed back, and different from camp life, have had plenty of time to write.

This is rather chilly afternoon and the boys are mostly inside around the mess table writing, reading, playing checkers, dominoes, cards and cleaning rifles, so time doesn't hang heavily on our hands. Although this is an idle life we will all be glad to get on land again and get into active training. Am feeling fine and hope you are all well at home.

Have got new orders now for my address. It is

MARRIED IN DETROIT

Glenn W. Griswold and Miss Sylvia Andrews, Former Tecumseh People.

Announcements reading as follows are being received:

"Married, Glenn W. Griswold of Sandusky, Ohio, and Miss Sylvia Andrews of Detroit, September 7, 1918."

Both are graduates of our high school, Glenn living here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Griswold now of Milan and Miss Andrews is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Andrews of Detroit, but until a few years ago residents of Ridgeway.

Mr. Griswold was connected with the Ford Motor Co. in Detroit for some time, but a year or more ago became the senior member of the Griswold & Wagg Motor Co. Sandusky. He is a hustling young fellow and bound to make good. Both have hosts of friends in this locality whose best wishes are theirs. The young people are taking a honeymoon auto trip through Ohio before beginning house keeping at Sandusky.

Editorial Comment

Tecumseh's entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce has completed arrangements for the entertainment of people by putting on the customary summer free midweek show, Thursday, selective draft registration day and a nationally proclaimed holiday, instead of Wednesday. The business men are co-operating by keeping their stores open and offering special bargains for that day.

At first thought it would seem that on a holiday business should be suspended. Some towns have made such provisions. But on second thought we we believe that open stores on this occasion more practical. With the stores all closed the holiday would look tame; men who come to town to register, their families or friends that accompany them, would have no choice but stand around on the streets. The show and band concert is a good idea and we feel assured that thousands of people will take advantage of the attractions to meet in the "biggest little town on earth" on this very important day. Yes, we believe for the benefit of the visiting public open stores will be a great accommodation Thursday.

While the war is progressing so favorably for the Allies, who day by day are driving the enemy from invaded territory, we must not become over-confident and conclude that the war is won. It is not won by any means yet, and the great sacrifice and cost of conflict will be brought home to us with greater force as the weeks go by. Since our boys are getting into action the casualty list has been growing and we must expect it to grow and strike nearer and nearer home. We are just beginning to feel the burden and we must prepare ourselves for continued heavy pressure. In addition we must not forget to "Keep the Home Fires Burning" by working together for community welfare—keep things moving.

When the men that register Thursday are called into service it will mean added hardships at home and for this we should prepare as cheerfully as possible. We must work harder—we must do team work to successfully work out the great problem. Whatever we do we must not lie down now when victory is in sight.

"It was the best Herald ever published in Tecumseh!" exclaimed a well known Tecumseh business man after reading Friday's issue. We are receiving many similar compliments, but, better still, we are receiving numerous new subscriptions, not only from Tecumseh, but surrounding territory.

This week we are obliged to ask the indulgence of our readers for this issue will be the only one this week. To install our big new press the old one must first be torn down and removed. This will require much time and labor. In addition to this we are handicapped by the office being in the hands of the decorator. When we do emerge from the existing chaos we will have a handsome office equipped to issue a first class paper.

Next week and thereafter the Herald will be published on Thursdays in eight page form. This step is taken, as stated before, to abide by the newsprint conservation order of the paper and pulp department of the war board. We feel confident that the patrons will not object to the change for patriotic reasons if for no other.

Sunday was one of the quietest days Tecumseh has seen in years, due to the gasless Sunday request of the national fuel administration. The gasless request was obeyed more generally than the previous Sunday and an automobile on the street actually attracted curious attention, in fact it made occupants feel conspicuous. As near as can be expected it was a hundred per cent patriotic demonstration in Tecumseh.

Gasless Sundays ought to bring one benefit. It should fill the churches of town with men. As noted so far, many Tecumseh men have not formed church going habits. Wonder why? It is not because the pastors are not intelligent men because we have the best there are. Churches are community institutions and should be supported by the people of the community, not only with money but by their presence. Try it next Sunday and see if you will not get some new idea that will set your gray matter in motion.

A Lansing dispatch says: "The state of Michigan received a net profit of $330,813.53 from the Michigan state prison at Jackson for the year ending June 30, 1918, after deductions of $61,873.81 for depreciations on buildings, machinery and equipment and $63,383.35 for wages paid inmate labor, had been made. This record is shown by the annual report Friday by Edward Frensdorf, chairman of the board of control, who Monday relinquished the control of the prison to the new warden after 11 months as acting warden."

This is a splendid showing for Mr. Frensdorf, and as a reward for his efforts he is fired by politics from a position that brought him no salary.

Another Lenawee gentlemen, who is recognized as an able jurist, well versed in law matters, is our friend, Hon. B. L. Hart, circuit judge. At a meeting of Michigan circuit judges in the supreme court room in Lansing last week Judge Hart was elected vice president of the organization.

We wish to thank the editor of the Clinton Local for the nice little puff given the first edition of The Herald last week. The Local is one of the best papers in Southern Michigan and we are pleased to note that the Pirkstone Bros. are making good as publishers.

Tecumseh can boast two excellent banks and we are pleased to announce that the managements have voluntarily decided to use the advertising columns of The Herald as a means of communication to their patrons and the people of the community generally. In this issue will also be found the financial statements of these institutions and it is well that people should read them and thus know what reliable banks we have. We wish also to commend the banks on their liberal plan of keeping open house Saturday evenings for the benefit of their patrons. It is a convenience that many towns can not boast of.

ALVA CODDINGTON

Member of Once Prominent Tecumseh Family, Passed Away at Hart, Mich.

Word comes to friends here of the death of Alva J. Coddington of Hart, Mich., which occurred August 28th. Mr. Coddington comes of a well known Tecumseh family being the son of the late A. P. Coddington. He married for his first wife, Helen F. Church a sister of George Church and Mrs. Eugenia Gordon. She died in 1890. Mr. Coddington was in business here a short time, buying the book stock of Adamson Bros. He leaves a wife and children.

MARRIED IN ADRIAN

Bert Prichard Marries Mrs. Mary McClelland of Chicago.

Bert Prichard of Tecumseh and Mrs. Mary L. McClelland of Chicago were married Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. Prichard's sister Mrs. Joseph Mattausch, in Adrian, the Lutheran minister of that city officiating. Mrs. McClelland lived here about four years ago and has a number of friends in and about the village who will be glad to welcome her return. He runs a pump business, having a store on North Evans street. They will reside in this village, for a time living with his brother, Edward and wife.

FOOT SPECIALISTS

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Graebner Authorized to Practice as Such.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Graebner are now full fledged practipedists, which in every day English means doctors of ailments of the feet. For the last 25 years Mr. Graebner has studied the feet of his fellows and recently he and Mrs. Graebner, appreciating the fact that there ought to be a foot specialist in town, took up the study and before the examiners in Detroit have passed with high standings and received their diplomas.

Local and Personal

The Comfort school has ordered a service flag bearing ten stars.

Harry Tansley is in Detroit for the week, going to the city yesterday.

Miss Lucile Fox of Flint has been visiting her uncle, Warren Fox, and wife.

Mrs. Jay Hill and three little ones went to Detroit Monday for a week's stay with relatives.

Mrs. James Lowry, jr., was a passenger for Lyons, Mich., yesterday to visit her people.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Finch go this week to Ridgeway, Pa., to visit their daughter and family.

Mrs. Jay St. John went to Cleveland yesterday to visit a niece and meet her son, Richard Wenton, of the U. S. S. Mongolia, who is off on a 72 hour leave.

A rube band was an attraction on our street today that drew some attention. The bunch of musicians were garbed in ludicrous costumes and the object of the trip here was to advertise the big Red Cross carnival and home coming at Milan September, 11 and 12.

PLACES FOR STORAGE WANTED

SURVEY FOR WAREHOUSES ORDERED IN MICHIGAN.

Frank J. Temple Appointed Supervisor of Survey for Tecumseh—Inform Him if You Know of Available Buildings.

The war department has asked for a hurried survey of all warehouses and storage space in Michigan. This survey has been put up to the Real Estate Association of the State of Michigan, and the president of the association became busy at once and drafted men in all towns of Michigan into service.

In Tecumseh Frank J. Temple of the Lilley State Bank has been appointed supervisor of the work. Mr Temple would be pleased if any who know of such places to inform him at once.

Here are some of the questions to be answered in regard to buildings: Construction of building. Is it sprinkled? What railroad is it on? How much floor space, square feet? How many stories? Has it freight elevators? Is it heated; type of plant? What rental is asked? How soon can be possession be had? Names and addresses of parties from whom detailed information can be had.

THURSDAY'S PROGRAM

BEST FREE ENTERTAINMENT OF SEASON.

Registration Day Will be Gloriously Celebrated — Come to Town and Enjoy the Fun.

The program Thursday looks like the best yet and, as it is the last of the season, we look for a big crowd. We only hope the weather man will be kinder than last week.

Murray Trio, novelty act.
Albino and LaPorte, accordian and guitar.
Roma Duo, singing.
Concert by Clinton band.

The band will be on deck for both afternoon at 2:30 and evening at 7:30.

As it is Registration Day, a bigger time than ever is expected and your friends are sure to be here.

Mrs. Holdridge entertained Mrs. Mary Whelan of Tipton Saturday and Sunday.

The Presbyterian C. E. will be entertained at the manse Friday evening. All the young people of the church are urged to attend.

Mr and Mrs R. A. Heesen and his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Frann, of Peoria Ill, started Saturday on an auto trip to South Bend, Ind

Geo. H. Turner and daughter, Miss Gussie, came from Flint Saturday to remain for the rest of the month with Frank S. Turner and family.

We have several letters, good ones, which had to be left over for our next edition on account of the chaos existing in our print shop this week.

The merchants of our town are fairly well represented in The Herald today. Before many weeks nearly all of them will be talking to our readers.

The Misses Casey, Young, McIntyre, Malott and Manow of A. Krolik & Co., Detroit, were guests at R. W. Puffer's and Miss Suzanne Casey over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy, Miss Fern and James E. Murphy drove to Camp Custer and return Saturday. Hans Christianson returned with them for a Sunday furlough.

Mrs. Fred Merkle and daughters Jeannette and Marguerite, of Ormond, Fla., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Richard Putnam. Mrs. Merkle, as Miss Ethel Brownson, was a compositor on the Herald. She and the little girls will remain in Tecumseh while Mr. Merkle, who is with the Chicago Nationals, plays in the world series against the Boston Americans. The couple became acquainted while Mr. Merkle played as first baseman when Tecumseh was in the South Michigan League.

Is Buying an Automobile Now a Good Investment?

Overland
LIGHT SIX TOURING

The man who needs an automobile will never see the time when he can invest in one to better advantage than right now. Certainly a greatly reduced production gives an additional money value to every good car in existence.

Most people who drive cars are obliged to have them to keep up with their work; think what the extra cost to them will be if they are obliged to buy next year. It has been conservatively estimated that a million new cars a year are necessary to replace those that become useless through age and wear.

The answer in face of a curtailed production is plain: If you decide to wait until next year, you will have to pay the price.

We are in position to make deliveries today; how long we can do so, of course, is uncertain. If you buy an OVERLAND of us, you will receive the best there is in APPEARANCE, PERFORMANCE, COMFORT, SERVICE, PRICE.

H. Brewer & Co. have received an order from the government for 28,000 aiming posts to be used by the artillery section of the ordnance department. The manufactured article is to be delivered at the rate of 6,000 per month and our factory is in shape to handle same. While the article is small and the order not overly large, still it is a pretty good sized order to come to our town.

"The Unbeliever," given at the Bradley Sunday and Monday nights, was about the best patriotic picture shown here.. Not only was it full of patriotic sentiment, but gave the story of a human soul in throes of unbelief. Over 2,000 U. S. troops were used in the composition of the picture and the events of horror in Belgium were vividly portrayed.

At the Bradley on Friday evening a group of Kanius Hawaiians gave an excellent program along with the picture, which was a splendid one, Norma Talmadge in "The Secret of the Storm Country" The Hawaiian music, so popular now, drew out a big crowd and their program was varied with Hulu Hulu dances and several American selections. The company played ukaleles and guitars and their music was a great treat.

Harold Gove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Gove has enlisted in military service, so last evening a great company of the neighbors and other friends, about 150 in all, gave him a farewell party at the home west of town. A nice supper was served and later Albert Howard presented him with a wrist watch as a souvenir of the evening and a token of the pride and love of his friends. The time of his departure has not been received.

A big crowd attended the ball game Sunday, when the clerks played a picked team from the shops. Now, those clerks are some players, but even an assortment of pitchers could not hold the big fellows from the shops. In the first game the clerks quit and a new game was started. Here the shop men were again victors with a big score in their favor. Another game is promised for next Sunday. Go and join the fun—and there is always a lot of that.

Quite a bunch of enthusiastic Democrats went over to Adrian Monday to attend the county convention. Among them were Wm. Barrett, Joseph H. Smith, E. C. Brown, Geo. Rubadou, Eugene Service, W. B. Keyser and Wm. Gaston. The purpose of the convention was to select delegates to the state convention to be held in Detroit September 25th. W. B. Keyser and Wm. Barrett were elected to represent Tecumseh township among the 27 to go from Lenawee county.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Beneway returned last week to their home in Grand Island, Neb., after spending the past month with her father, Geo. Sisson.

Mrs. John Hendershott and granddaughter, Miss Hazel Pocklington, went to Grand Ledge Saturday to visit the former's brother, Wellington DePuy, who is ill.

Wm. Fisher was called to Oden Monday by the death of his father, A. L. Fisher, which had occurred the evening before. The remains were taken to the home at Lima for burial. A. L. Fisher and family were at their summer home at Oden.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence VanGieson concluded their automobile honeymoon trip and returned to Tecumseh Saturday afternoon to the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ahrens. The young couple visited Wamplers and Clarks lake, Detroit fair, Jackson, Ypsilanti and other places, camping out enroute at night. They took up their residence on the farm north of Clinton Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rector and her cousins, Mrs. J. L. VanDoren and John T. Boyce, left Sunday evening for Baltimore, Md., to be guests of Mrs. Rector's people. They were to be met in Pittsburg by Thos. Biddison, Mrs. Rector's brother, and enjoy an auto trip over the mountains into Maryland. Mrs. Rector plans to stay a month or more, but the remainder of the party will return in a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Rottman received a message yesterday announcing the arrival of their son, Sam, in a home port that day. A few days ago they received a letter from him telling that he had been wounded July 18 and was in a French hospital. Yesterday morning they received another letter from the lad dated August 20th, telling how nicely he was getting along, but not mentioning his return, so the message comes as a surprise. How badly he is injured they have no idea.

Vigor

SUCCESS IS ACHIEVED by vigorous men and women. When one is lacking in strength and endurance, when good health is wanting, when physical power is at low ebb, it is impossible to accomplish one's work.

One of the causes of ill health and low vitality is the improper functioning of the kidneys. Trouble results when they fail to eliminate waste and poisonous matter from the system, and rheumatic pains, backache, stiff joints, sore muscles, and other symptoms quickly follow.

Foley Kidney Pills

banish effects of kidney and bladder trouble by removing the cause. They are healing and curative. They tone up and strengthen the weakened or diseased organs.

H. D. Castleberry, Marine Engineer, Port Vincent, La., writes: "I consider Foley Kidney Pills the greatest medicine for kidney and bladder trouble I ever used. I recommend them to all who suffer with kidney and bladder trouble."

Gloomy Russian Writers.

According to Charles Gray Shaw in the North American Review, Russian fiction is not gloomy so much because it represents actual Russian conditions, but because Russian writers are by nature gloomy. At least that he believes to be true of Dostolevsky, the subject of his article, for he says:

"It is a terrible thing to fall into the hands of the living God, but that is what happened to Fydor Dostolevsky. It was not Russia, vast, fantastic, terrible, but real existence as such which wrung from his soul his tales of self-inquisition. 'Reality has caught me upon a hook;' this chance expression in one of his romances of reality is the confessed secret of the anguished author. Dostolevsky is Russia, and 'the Russian soul is a dark place.' Having said this of his own land, Dostolevsky, without playing upon Amiel's pretty epigram, 'the landscape is a state of the soul,' proceeds to show us how the outer darkness pervades his own soul. He knows not why, but at dusk there comes over him an oppressive and agonizing state of mind difficult to define, but recognizable in the form of 'mystical terror.'"

These Ships Laid Up.

"A Dutch East Indian cannot help smiling when he finds fear expressed that the German and Austrian ships in East Indian harbors might run out to sea as raiders," said a Hollander who is in New York on business. "Forty steamships fled into our harbors. In the Emma harbor and the Queen's Bay at Panang are lying the Van Kleist and Rhineland of the North German Lloyd, the Ninive of the Hamburg-American line and the Orsowa, an Austrian boat from Fiume.

"These ships will require no more watching because of the luxuriant growth of shell and coral. The steamships must now be covered with a layer of coral and shell from thirty to forty inches thick. OUR FIRST MARTYRS

MAKE THE SUPREME SACRIFICE FOR DEMOCRACY

Wilfred Orr and David Underwood Give Lives — Both of Co. B

A message came to Robt. Orr tonight, reporting that his son Wilfred had been killed in action in France. Wilfred enlisted in Co. B just before they left Adrian and has been with them since. A letter received just yesterday from Bernard Hastings reported Wilfred in the best of health.

Another boy of this vicinity was called to give the supreme sacrifice. Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Underwood, of Ridgeway, received a message this afternoon, telling of the death of their son David in France August 31st. David left a year ago in the "Y" work and later joined Co. B of Adrian at Waco, Texas.

ACCEPTED CALL DETROIT PARISH

REV. F. HEWITT, FORMER TECUMSEH RECTOR

Begins Work in Michigan's Metropolis October First—Family Has Moved From Dearborn.

The many friends of Rev. F. Hewitt, former rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, were glad to greet him on our streets the latter part of last week, when he and his family came to good old Tecumseh for a short rest before beginning work in their new field—the city of Detroit.

Rev. Hewitt was the popular rector of St. Peter's parish of Tecumseh and St. John's of Clinton for four years, resigning the rectorship two years ago, September 1st, to work in Dearborn, a new field that looked promising because of the rapid growth due to the construction there of the Ford tractor plant.

Receiving a call from Christ church, Adrian, there was good prospects of getting Mr. Hewitt and family back in old Lenawee and near to their many friends here, but the Adrian vestry was just a little slow in concluding satisfactory arrangements and extending the call, and a call from Detroit, where St. Phillip's and St. Steven's churches were consolidated, was accepted.

Adrian loses what Detroit gains a preacher of the gospel of more than ordinary ability, a ready speaker for almost any occasion and an organizer. While here Rev. Hewitt was noted for his excellent sermons and lectures, his up-to-date thoughts and his genial friendship.

St. Steven's church is located on McDougall avenue and the rectory, to which the family moved Tuesday of last week, is located at [illegible] McDougall avenue.

Mr. Hewitt and family came to Tecumseh last Thursday for a few days' rest and visit with old friends, and remained over Sunday, attending service at St. Peter's. They begin work in their new field October 1st.

TECUMSEH LOSES EFFICIENT LIBRARIAN

Miss Beth Widney Goes to California to Take a Position in State Library.

Miss Beth Widney, for the past four years the popular custodian up at our Carneigie library, started Wednesday morning for Berkeley, Cal. There she will spend a few days with friends and later go to Sacramento, where she has a splendid position in the state library.

On Tuesday the Junior and Senior High school presented her with a very pretty wrist watch, as a token of their appreciation of her many courtesies.

Always has Miss Widney been kindness itself when the youngsters would go to her with their troubles in regard to essays and the like and these young people are not the only ones in her debt. Scarcely a club woman in town but she has helped out more or less in finding material for their papers. Probably not a young lady in town has a larger circle of staunch friends than Miss Beth Widney.

The school board has not decided who will take the place permanently, but Miss Edith Ingersoll is acting librarian at present.

Mrs. A. D. Lawrence returned Tuesday from a short visit with her daughter Mrs. Will McGlashen and family at Buffalo.

Mrs. Laidlaw, the domestic science teacher, enjoyed a visit from her husband Sunday. He is stationed at Camp Custer.

Quota Doubled Means Double Subscriptions

"Over the Top" Next Sunday

Committee Meets to Further Arrangements To Put Tecumseh Township "Over the Top" On Volunteer Day, Sunday, September 29.

To prepare more fully for "Volunteer Day." or individual honor day, members of Tecumseh township committee met Tuesday evening at the Lilley State bank, Chairman Nyland presiding at the meeting.

Plans were thoroughly discussed to make possible an over subscription to Tecumseh's quota on Volunteer day and thereby eliminate the practice in former drives of personal solicitations.

It was decided and arranged to have all school houses in the township open from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m., so as to give everybody an opportunity to go to the nearest place and sign pledge cards.

Tecumseh High will be open during these hours, with Geo. A. Rathbun and Lester Rogers as committee in charge. Perry Van Valkenburg will have charge of the Waldron district school, Joe Eaton of the Waring district and Sam Boyce of the Culbertson school.

The village churches will be open also for the volunteers, and men will be there all day to receive the signed pledge cards.

The two banks have arranged to wait upon the honor people and two booths have been ordered constructed on opposite sides of Chicago street. The booths will be appropriately decorated and this job was assigned to Lester Heesen, an artist along this line.

Tecumseh's quota $108,139.00 is estimated at double that of the Third Libetry Loan and that means that the people of the township will have to dig, dig, dig, and double their subscriptions of the former drive.

Edward Frensdorf Gives Addresses

AT NEW TECUMSEH HIGH AND CULBERTSON SCHOOL

Splendid Opportunity to See the Fine New School Building—Meeting Here at 2:30 Sunday.

Edward Frensdorf, the well known Lenawee man who served as warden of Jackson prison gratis to give the warden the opportunity to serve his country, will speak at the Culbertson school Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and at the Tecumseh new High at 2:30 p. m.

The meeting in Tecumseh will be held in the large auditorium of the new school building and it is prophesied that the auditorium will be inadequate to accommodate the crow.d Good music will be arranged for and the patriotic address will be worth the hearing.

It will be a splendid opportunity for the people of this school district to see the handsome and modernly equipped new building and we would like to see the capacity of the auditorium taxed to the limit on this occasion.

OVER SEAS FOR RED CROSS WORK

FORMER TECUMSEH LADY TO SERVE THE BOYS

Jessie Spaulding Smith Writes Interesting Letter Before Embarking—Tecumseh Graduate.

Below we reproduce an interesting letter written by a former Tecumseh lady about to embark for Red Cross service over seas.

The lady is Miss Jessie Spaulding Smith, a graduate from Tecumseh High school. After graduating here she attended the state normal at Ypsilanti She graduated from that institution and taught a year in Blissfield, when, upon the failing health of her mother, she went to California and held a good position at Berkley, where her mother passed away.

The call of her country was strong within her and now she is on her way to take care of the wounded at the great battle fields.

We are indebted to Mrs. R. J. W. Bowen, to whom the letter was written, and we feel certain that the many friends, in fact all our readers, will be pleased to read it.

Miss Smith would be pleased to have friends write to the address given here: "Jessie Spaulding Smith, American Red Cross, Bureau of Foreign Personnel, 222 Fourth Ave., New York City. Please forward to 4 rue d'l Elysee, Paris France."

New York, Sept. 21, 1918.

Dear Dora,

Your good letter was waiting for me here and nothing but much, much work has kept me from answering. I was going to write you from Chicago but the familiar sights and the knowledge that I was so near you and unable to come made an ache somewhere inside me that was 'spiciously like homesickness, so I gave it up.

The trip was splendid. I always enjoy traveling you know—and I met many Californiasn, several of whom are also going over. I had a lovely traveling companion a girl who was returning to Wellsley for her senior year. I had never met her before, but I knew her family well last year. She stopped in Chicago, but of course it is only a night and a day from there to New York.

I arrived Wednesday night and early Thursday morning I began unwinding red tape. It goes slowly but so far I have found no knots. My passport is here and application is made to the English and French Consuls for vise's. My uniforms and other equipments are ordered and will be ready next week. There are still hundreds of things to do, but they will come in their order. A SanFrancisco woman who came over a week before me was still here when I reported and helped me a little the first day.

Yesterday morning a friend of mine, a University of California girl, came and we went to breakfast together and she helped me shop for a while, then took me for a long bus ride and showed me much of New York. In the evening I joined her again and we went to the theatre.

I have two letters of introduction to people here, but so far have had no chance to present them. A University of California boy, who has been "over there" and back, is coming up from Camp Sommerall to see me tomorrow, so altogether I certainly won't find it lonely here.

I really like New York thus far, which is a good deal for me to say of a city, for I am still a loyal country woman. The streets are so wide and clean and traffic is so well regulated that it is easy to get about. The shops are charming—so charming that they make even me like to shop.

I don't know when I'll sail and of course couldn't tell you if I did, but you will get notice of my safe arrival on the other side, for I have left your name in the office here.

The thing that seems to thrill me most is the wearing of U. S. on my shoulder straps and the U. S. coat of arms on my hat. No fraternity pin ever looked finer or meant half as much to me as these.

Yesterday I met two Toledo girls who are going over as reconstruction aids and had a splendid visit with them as we waited in line. One has been teaching in the Normal at Ypsilanti and we discovered many mutual friends and she told me of several of my old friends who are already across. I anticipate many such meetings.

You just must write often, even if you haven't time for long letters, for they are going to mean much to me.

Remember me to all Tecumseh friends and take much love for yourself.

Jessie.

TAKING CARE OF QUESTIONNAIRES

NEW DRAFT MEN FILLING OUT PAPERS

Atorneys Wood and Rathbun Kept Busy—Women Assist in Work at Council Room.

Men of the 18 to 45 selective draft are receiving their questionnaires and the work of filling out papers has begun.

Wood & Rathbun, Tecumseh attorneys, are assisting the men, and to relieve crowded office room conditions occasioned by the last draft, have requisitioned the use of the village council room.

Here the men can come for consultation and assistance, which is given gratis, every day except Sundays, from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

The attorneys are assisted in the work by three of our patriotic ladies—Dr. Pauline Bredow, Mrs. C. A. Bidwell and Mrs. Geo. A. Rathbun.

500 FEET FALL IN AEROPLANE

ENSIGN C. W. HARDY IN AIR ACCIDENT

Son of Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Hardy Miraculously Escapes Injury.

Just a few sentences in a letter home from Ensign C. W. Hardy to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Hardy modestly tells of a most thrilling experience, shooting five hundred feet through space into water. The water undoubtedly saved the life of Ensign Hardy and his mechanician.

He writes: "I had my first crash the other day. I fell 500 feet and landed in pretty rough water, right side up, but too hard for safety. The machine was wrecked, but neither myself nor mechanician were hurt."

This doesn't say much, but one can grasp in a small measure the thrilling experience the men passed through.

Be a Volunteer Sunday.

MILITARY TRAINING

NEW COURSE IN TECUMSEH SCHOOL.

Athletic Association Organized—Other Interesting News Items From Our Institution of Learning.

MILITARY TRAINING FOR TECUMSEH SCHOOL

Board of Education Has Decided to Adopt This as a Course.

Hurrah for military training! At a meeting of the school board it was decided to adopt this as a three hours a week course in the high school.

After using up all the paper we could find in getting up a petition and presenting it to the proper authorities, most of us thought it ought to be put in the high school and of course it was, as they hated to see such alarge amount of paper which contained sixty signatures, wasted. Under the direction of Capt. Hanna we will meet Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays and hope before winter starts in and we are chased to the gym to have an A No. 1 company and we know we will as we have one of the best instructors that could be had and besides he is donating his time absolutely free, while Mrs. Burridge helps him absolutely free at the express office. Hurrah for Oley! He's got the T. H. S. spirit.

(Ed—Supt. Reed advises us that this course in military training will count with credits the same as any study, giving the boys three hours per week.)

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Organized in Tecumseh Friday—Officers to Govern Same Elected.

The High School Athletic Association was organized Friday morning amidst much enthisiasm. The following officers were elected to look after the association this year:

President—Robert Moore, jr.

Secretary—Helen McIntyre.

Treasurer—Paul Harwood.

At a recent meeting of this august assembly it was decided to have a season ticket put on sale for 50c, which is to include admission to all athletics for the ensuing year, foot ball, base ball, tennis, track, etc. The tickets can be bought of one person who is appointed to solicit his or her own class and it is your patriotic duty as a member of old T. H. S. to do so. The price to those outside of high school is one dollar and we encourage the business men to try and buy one.

The foot ball team is coming along nicely and, although, green, we hope to develop into a thoroughly efficient machine under him before the year is over. To the hard work of Carl Schneider, Fred Hendershot and the principal, Mr. Duguid, the team owes its condition, as we have only practised about seven times together We regret very much the loss of Lawrence Harrington at quarterback, as he was a guiding star, but, cheer up! Abbott will soon be able to fill his shoes. More have turned out for foot ball this year than in many years before, which is due to the patriotic spirit of some of the members of T. H. S. hating to see their honor fall. Fine work; keep it up and let's see every one able to walk out at that game Friday and the team will surely win. Buy your tickets now.

Is Zeke Hayden in school? Better show up; there are few Seniors that would like to see you Miss Donaldson, would you mind getting some dimmers for that pink suit? It affects the eyes of the boys so they are not able to study.

As the petition desiring military training was passed around it came to Burnell Moon. The solicitor asked him if he would like to take it. Spluttering and stuttering and shaking all over he replied: "I'm not old enough." Poor kid; thought he was going to be drafted.

Some new commands and peculiar facings ever heard of are given in front of the library every night. Come and join; the charge is free. Singed: Edward Nyland, Harry Duncan, Bill Packard, Glenn Crittenden. We recommend them to be generals at revising the infantry regulations.

Don't be shocked, girls, if some boys holler at you "Squads right!" "Company halt!" "Right dress!" etc. All rookies learn the same way. They will soon get over it, so have hopes.

The Seniors had a class meeting last week and elected the following officers: Perry Hayden, president; Harley VanVleet, vice president; Lucile Miller, secretary; Muriel Halladay, treasurer.

Class pins were talked about and they also discussed the coming Lyceum course, which is the best ever. Watch for the first number which will be the night before Thanksgiving.

The gym will be ready in a week is the cheerful news from V. M. Gettins.

America is just beginning to be settled in the American history class. Some of the students have not developed much in brain power since then.

Mr. Duguid also looks good in the principal's chair.

Girls learning to sew will be much in demand as several boys on the foot-ball team need their faces patched and stitched. Moral, girls: Learn to sew. Here's your chance. Try it. Applications received by Capt. "Rip" VanWinkle.

Who wants a hard nut to crack?

Nobody wants to apply so we are open for volunteers.

Teachers, wish you a hearty welcome into our new high school building but we would appreciate your welcome to us by giving us an easy lesson once. Most of the teachers have this same failing so this is supposed to be a little bit of advice.

Adieu.

The 9th grade organized as the Freshman class of the High School Monday, electing these officers: President, Dale Bowen; vice president, Burnell Moon; secretary, Myrna VanVleet; treasurer, Clara Wilson.

Merchants Days.

Several of the Tecumseh Merchants have arranged with the New Royal Theatre, for what will be known as "Merchants Days", namely September 30 and October 2, (two days only.)

The Merchants will give tickets to customers on cash trade and these tickets will be honored at the New Royal Theatre on either of the above dates.

Here is a chance to see a high class picture show for the price of the War Tax.

Trade early and secure tickets before they are all gone. See big adv. of this issue.

Volunteer Day

Upon Saturday and Sunday, September 28 and 29, the Fourth Liberty Loan Campaign opens.

Let's make that day "Volunteer" day. Let's voluntarily place our subscriptions for the Fourth Liberty Loan on that day and not wait until the soliciting committee calls.

It's up to you and me to buy bonds and it ought not to be necessary for some one to ask us.

This bank will be glad to receive your subscription and suggests that you place it upon September 28 or 29—Volunteer Day.

Bank open Sunday from 9:00 to 3:30.

Editorial Comment

Be a "Volunteer" next Sunday. Buy as many of the Fourth Liberty Loan bonds as you possibly can. Do this without having a committee of men come to you and beg you to do your duty. Be a "Volunteer," be a patriot next Sunday. Tecumseh township's quota is double the Third Liberty Loan, so it is up to us to double our investment.

It is a novel idea this putting individuals "on honor," the plan adopted by the Lenawee County Patriotic League. We believe Tecumseh will pledge her quota on "Volunteer" day, Sunday, September 29. There are several reasons for this belief. First, Tecumseh township has quite a number of boys "over there" now and she is going to have more very shortly.

Second, we believe our people are loyal to the core and that they will voluntarily pinch a little harder if they are not solicited by a committee, for they can not help but feel that the administration is now doing everything in its power to end the bloodshed as speedily as possible and that for this purpose money, and lots of it, is needed.

Third, the people konw that our boys are acquiting themselves gloriously right at the start. They have achieved some remarkable victories. They have undergone privations to keep the Huns on the run. We all feel a great pride in the valor of our boys and them to the finish.
we are oging to stand back ot

Last, the people feel that they have been placed on honor to do their best. The majority will hold the trust placed in them sacred and many will invest more money in the bonds than they would by solicitation. They are left free agents, to use their own judgment as to how many bonds they will buy. They are going to their bank, church or school house next Sunday and pledge to buy as many bonds as they can safely handle.

There will be some people, of course, that will try to sneak out. They are the kind of people that are always shoving responsibilities upon the shoulders of their neighbors. They want to see the war won by the United States and her allies, but they themselves do not want a part in it. They don't want to assume any burdens, but they are willing to accept of any benefits that will derive from the sacrifice our boys are making.

This class of people will have a reckoning. They will have to show why they didn't volunteer, but will be given another opportunity to get into the war activity band wagon. If they decline then to buy bonds, we will tell what happens to them later.

The only fair and square way is to come up to the front Sunday and buy as heavily as you can. It is your war as much as it is Frances's and you must take an active part in it.

The Volunteer day plan was tried in Lansing and Ingham county during the Third Liberty Loan drive. Lansing oversubscribed its quota on the first day one hundred per cent and it was managed absolutely without solicitation. Its population is 60,000 and the entire quota was $817,650. Ingham county has a popuation of 80.000 and its quota of $1,210,432 was oversubscribed the first day. That's loyalty and patriotism. What they have done in Ingham county we can surely do in Lenawee.

Be a Volunteer next Sunday and show them we can do it in Lenawee.

A well known business man the other day asked the following question: "What do you think of a town the size of Tecumseh, up-to-date in every particuar, still doing business on a credit system?".

That is a rather blunt question to put to a man not enirely conversant with the situation here. But the credit system of doing business has been shot to pieces in so many towns that we must come to the conclusion that the merchants and citizens of Tecumseh themselves do not realize the harmful influence of the old time practice.

Look After the Kiddies.

Mr. Editor-man, will you give space to me,
And print in your paper this simple plea?
Now school is beginning, a community school,
Why may not a community spirit rule?
The school is the center, and from near and far,
The pupils must gather on foot or in car.
We ask not for children who've not far to go,
But for those on the outskirts, who'll give them a show?

Why could not those drivers who oft ride alone
Give some small kiddies a lift down town?
T'would not use more "gas", smiles sure would pay
The thoughtful person who'd shorten their way.
We remember some kids, who once had to go
Five blocks to school, thro' rain and thro snow,
And oft in bad weather, they'd shout with glee;
"We rode home with teacher, who made room for me."

We see the person, too thoughtless to say:
"Get in and ride with me today,
T'will save shoe-leather, which now comes high,
And keep your clothing and mine, too, dry.
I'll have company, to fill this old Ford;
I've plenty of 'gas' in this Heinie stored;
You'll reach your school or home sooner when
I give you a lift on your way, now and then."

Not only to patrons of school we preach
But to "any old school" this paper may reach.
We've sown the seed, we hope t'will take root,
And grow and blossom and bear good fruit.
We'll take off our hat to the one who may read
And put into practice, sometime, this good deed.
And to you, Mr. Editor, if you'll print this stuff, now
We'll take off our hat to you, anyhow.

The credit system is harmful to the merchant, because he is sure to lose some accounts. Again, unless he has more loose cash lying around, he is denied the use of the money to take advantage of discounts and get the full value of the purchasing power. Then there's the bookkeeping and that is no small item. It is a very poor system to do business now-a-days and it should be speedily abolished.

To the consumers it is also harmful because they are led into a thriftless practice—of spending all, or practically all, their money before it is earned. It is also harmful to the consumer because with the credit system he is liable to buy more than he would if he was digging down into his jeans and paid spot cash. To some of the consumers the credit system is a great handicap to thrift—it makes it impossible for them to save, a practice that the government is urging so persistently upon all the people during the war period.

We believe our merchants and people should get together and abolish this ancient custom of running accounts. Neither side can afford to continue it and thrive as they should. Think it over. Let's have regular meetings of the Commerce Club and iron out things—talk over things of community welfare. It pays.

"What's the use of advertising? Everything is so high that people won't buy." Perhaps this is not verbatim, but it is near enenough to answer the purpose—it is what a Tecumseh merchant said to the writer the other day. We told him it reminded us of an incident in a nearby town where a merchant, when asker by his clerk to buy in some grain sacks, answered: "What's the use, grain sacks are so high farmers won't buy them.". He found his mistake a few weeks later when there came rush calls for grain sacks and the merchant couldn't supply them.

It is our sincere belief that it is a serious mistake to do anything or say anything that is liable to have a deteriorating effect upon business activities. People must have things, just the same as farmers must have grain sacks when harvest time comes. We cannot "Keep the Home Fires Burning" by sitting down and getting cold feet. We must do all the business we can to keep money in circulation so everybody can get a chance to buy Liberty bonds, War Saving Stamps and help the Red Cross. The home newspaper has got to keep plugging along, and goodness gracious knows it is a hard job since the war department tells us what we must and must not do. But we've got to keep sawing wood, tell people of the Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. churches, schools and the every day happenings in the community. It is some job and one that is impossible to keep up on compliments.

The merchants have their duty in the matter of keeping up business activities. How in Sam Hill they expect to sell anything without telling the people that they've got something to sell is beyond us. Of course there are some things that sell without advertising, but advertising creates desire and desire once created means a sale that would not have been otherwise made. As far as we can learn there was no sitting down during the Civil war. Things had to be kept on the move and they were.

The people of Tecumseh and vicinity are doing fine by The Herald. New subscriptions have been received. We thank the people heartily for the many complimentary remarks given The Herald in its new form. Not one so far has expressed regret in the change from semi-weekly to weekly. They all seem delighted with the new paper and they are reading the announcements of the business houses.

In this connection it will not be amiss to state that we can really give the people more for their money in a weekly paper than a twice-a-week. The reason is that one day is lost in printing and mailing a half sheet. This day will be devoted to give the people just that much better paper.. See the point, friends?

This week, September 23 to 30 is Red Cross week in America. However, people can breathe easy —the Red Cross is not asking for money, it is asking for cast off clothing that will be of service to the ten million poverty stricken people of Belgium.

The Red Cross asks for donations of out-grown clothing and partly worn garments from our storerooms and closets, any clothes or shoes that we cannot use but still has some wear. Ten million people in Belgium are facing a destitution that we in America can hardly conceive. Winter is coming on and things strong, warm and durable will be most useful. Look through your closets, pick out all the clothes that can be spared. If your closet is depleted, buy new for yourself and give up what you are wearing. In that way you will help the suffering Belgiums and help "Keep the Home Fires Burning." Notify the local Red Cross official of your contribution and it will be thankfully received.

Don't forget to be a "Vounteer" next Sunday. Think of the honor!

"Hock the Kaiser" by subscribing for more bonds than you first thought you could. Be a "Volunteer" right.

A motion is before the house that immediately upon learning that Lenawee has over subscribed her quota in Fourth Liberty Loan bonds on Sunday, "Volunteer" day, President Darnton of the Patriotic League send a cable to Gen. Pershing, or some other source to inform our boys "over there" that we are back of them, shoulder to shoulder. over here. The motion is carried.

Home Fires

How Some of the Little Folks Are Doing Their Bit.

(Contributed)

The Adrian Telegram of recent date tells us of a little Adrian girl, who denied herself the pleasure of a birthday cake to give a dollar to the Red Cross, and from other points in the county we might hear of like tales of devotion to the cause, if only the newspaper man could find them.

From the "Summer People", in the lake region we hear many such.

One little girl in a family of five, who for originality and intelligence would compare favorably with Mrs. Olcott's "Little Women", brought milk and berries and fish bait to the cottagers and was so fascinated with the knitting the "Summer Lady" was doing for our boys "over there" that she asked her mother if she might not get some yarn and learn to knit a sweater. The mother hesitated on the ground of expense, saying. "I'm afraid we haven't money enough for needles and such things."

But Mary with hope in her heart, and tears in her eyes, said: "How about my grasshopper money."

"What is 'Grasshopper Money', Dear," asked the "Summer lady."

"Why we have been catching grasshoppers for fish bait, and sold 'em, a can full of 'em."

"How many have you on hand?" asked her patroness.

"Nineteen dozen. They are such pretty ones, and fat. I thought we might get seventy-five cents for 'em."

"I know you can," and the sale was made and the property transferred at once.

Mary now is knitting, not a lovely pink sweater, nor a pea green one, but a large sized garment of khaki.

There are no brass bands playing while Mary knits, and there is no applause, for there are no spectators in that quiet lake country, but the work goes on.

Nobody seems to know how many stitches in a soldier's sweater, nor how many steps, nor how much energy it requires to catch two hundred and twenty-eight grasshoppers, and find a market for them, and we who never chased a grasshopper, nor denied ourselves a birthday cake, and who "do our bit" in the lime light of publicity call our poor efforts "patriotism."

MRS. ANGELINA NOBLE

Passed Away Saturday at the Home of her Daughter, Mrs. John Kempf.

Mrs. Angelina Noble died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Kempf. on North Pearl street Saturday, just at noon. Some three years ago Mrs. Noble broke her hip, since which time she has been confined to her chair but always carefully attended by the devoted daughter.

Angelina Bishop was born May 18, 1838, in Mayfield, N. Y., coming to Michigan with her people when 16 years of age. She received a splendid education for her time, graduating from Albion college. She then taught for twenty years, making many friends at the towns where she taught by her quaint speeches and lovableness. She married Henry Noble while a teacher at Michagaumee. He died some years ago and she resided in Deerfield until failing health compelled her to break up the home and come to live with the daughter.

Besides the daughter are left one brother, John Bishop, of Dundee and a sister Mrs. Sarah Alexander of Adrian, another sister, Mrs. Almina Wilson, died recently in Minnesota. The funeral was held from the Deerfield Presbyterian church Tuesday at 11 o'clock Rev. W. A. Rex officiating.

Library Notes.

The library began its new year July, 1918, with an encouraging set of figures and an equally encouraging attitude from the patrons. If a good beginning counts as much as we are told it does the coming year should be a banner one for our public library.

In both July and August the circulation of books was the largest it has ever been for those months. Not only was there quantity, but there was also quality, for the reports for years back show that the percent of "solid" or heavier reading was never so high in the summer as it has been this year.

No library can afford to stock up indiscriminately on war books, but we have tried, to have some of the best, and also some of the most reliable of the more popular ones. A new order list is in and on this list are three new war books, one of which, "Our Fighting Engineers" will be of especial interest to most of us.

New books of fiction are also ordered, for "a good story" helps keep up our courage and hopefulness for the boys over there.

And speaking of the boys reminds us to mention that, as always, the Tecumseh people have shown themselves big-hearted, and have come across generously in response to the third call for books for the soldiers. Not all could be accepted, but on the whole the books brought have been O. K. as to binding, printing, and contents. A hundred are now ready to send.

GLEN ELLISON.

F. E. Rude will present Glen Ellison, the famous Scotch baritone, in a recital at the Bradley Opera House,

Friday, October 4th.

Glen Ellison is a Glasgow Scotchman. There are few people before the musical public today who can sing the old attractive Scotch tunes with the same feeling and sympathy. Although his work in America has been mainly confined to recitals, in England and Australia he has sung leading roles in grand opera. Mr. Ellison is a baritone of considerable reputation both here and abroad. Once heard this cheerful artist is generally requested to give a return recital because his programs are refreshingly different than the majority of musical devotees are accustomed to. It is rumored that Mr. Ellison will attempt the seemingly impossible feat of singing a duet with himself and, while we are not at liberty to disclose how he will do it we believe that he will succeed.

NAIL IT TO GERMAN PROPAGANDA

HARD FEELING BETWEEN BRITISH AND AMERICAN SOLDIERS

First War Question Sent to The Herald Answered Interestingly by Rev. Jas. G. Widdifield.

We recently promised a new feature in The Herald—the answering of questions about our boys "over there."

Only two questions have appeared to date and these, with their answer by Rev. Jas. G. Widdifield, we give below:

First Question.

Is it true that there is hard feelings between the British soldiers and the American?"

The Answer.

I must admit that here, as in other places, the German has been partly successful. It has been the studied plan of Germany to try to cause hard feeling between the different forces that are opposed to her. If she cannot win a decisive victory by force of arms there is nothing that would help her more than to cause a split between the allied forces. Mr. Will Irvin, the distinguished writer, last November in my Y. M. C. A. hut, told the story of the great Italian disaster of which he had been an eyewitness. The Italians were driven from posts which they had won through infinite harship and toil and which they would have held at all costs, had it not been for the German propagandists who very, carefully had caused bad feeling to grow up between them and their allies, the French and British. On the day of the great attack that ended in the great disaster papers, which were exact facsimilies of the Italian newspapers from the home towns of the Italian soldiers, were brought into the lines. Great headlines in these papers told how there was such a scarcity of food in the towns in Italy that the people were starving. They also told how, when the wives and children of the soldiers came into the streets asking for bread, they were met with machine gun fire from British and French troops imported for the purpose. Of course it was all false and all "made in Germany" but it had the right effect on the Italian troops from the German point of view. What would you think if, when you were fighting in the trenches, you got what appeared to be your Herald which told you that your wife, or your father, or your mother had been shot down by Canadian troops when asking of bread? It was a clever trick. It is just as clever a thing to make the Americans have hard feeling towards the English or French; or to cause friction between the French and British. The German agent is everywhere, and when you hear of hard feeling between the different allied forces nail it as German propaganda. It is one thing that the Y. M. C. A. is trying to fight. The order to combat this thing came from General Pershing himself to the Y. M. C. A. headquarters in Paris. From there it was transmitted to all of us in the field. Where I saw French and Americans brigaded together there was always the finest good feeling between them. I never was in the British lines, but many officers and men, whom I knew intimately and who had been up to the British lines for training, had only the highest praise and admiration for their British allies. With the record of the British and the French before us there is little room for us to criticise—and with the enemy that we all have to fight threatening us we haven't any time to have any hard feeling among ourselves. The German knows well that "A house divided against itself cannot stand"—let us remember it too.

Second Question.

What is it the boys most want in France that we can do for them here?

The Answer.

The boys would rather receive a letter with home news than anything else. No one can do anything that would please them better than to write as often as possible.

Obituary—Almeda F. Gilman.

Almeda Gilman departed this life on Friday night, Sept. 13, 1918, at six o'clock. She was the third daughter of a family of nine children born to Sally and Thomas Giles of Peru, N. Y., being the last surviving member of her family. At the time of her death she was 82 years and able to wait on herself until six weeks ago when she broke her hip. Since then she was perfectly helpless. She had been a resident of Tecumseh for 50 years and was born in 1836. In 1866 she was united in marriage to Josiah C. Pomeroy and to this union were born three daughters, Lily M., Florence A. and Minnie A., the two oldest dying in infancy. In 876 Mr. Pomeroy died and in 1881 she was married to Jas. S. Gilman, he dying in 1903. Since that time she has spent the greater part of her time with her daughter in Macon. In her early life she was a school teacher and proved to be very successful, teaching ten years. She united with the Episcopal church in 1886 and has been a very devout member. She lived a long helpful life and waited with a hope anchored in Jesus for the summons to come up higher and enter into the house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. In the home she will be geratly missed. The funeral was held at the Episcopal church Sunday, Sept. 15, at 2:30 Rev. J. G. Widdifield officiating. Burial at Brookside.

Dear Mother how we miss thee
We miss thy loving presence;
Oh how we miss thee
When we see the vacant chair;
Come down to the river,
When our spirits pass over
And lead the way to that beautiful shore.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank all the friends neighbors, and relatives for the many deeds of kindness during the illness and death of our dear mother. The Ladies' Aid society of Ridgeway and all other friends and relatives for the beautiful floral offerings, the minister for his comforting words and the singers for the beautiful pieces rendered.

Standers, Walkers, "Gets-It" for Corns

World Has Never Known Its Equal.

"What will get rid of my corn?" The answer has been made by millions—there's only one corn-remover that you can bank on, that's absolutely certain, that makes any corn on earth peel right off like a banana skin—and that's magic "Gets-It." Tight shoes and dancing even when you have a corn need not disturb you if you apply a few drops of "Gets-It" on the corn or callus. You want a corn-peeler, not a corn-fooler. You don't have to fool with corns—you peel them right off with your fingers by using "Gets-It." Cutting makes corns grow and bleed. Why use irritating salves or make a bundle of your toe with tape or bandages? Why putter and still have the corn? Use "Gets-It"—your corn-pain is over, the corn is a "goner" sure as the sun rises.

Wm. Barrett, W. B. Keyser and Postmaster Brown were in Detroit Tuesday and Wednesday or the state Democratic convention, the first two being delegates from this township.

Mrs. Jas. McDermott is here from Gardena, Cal., visiting her many relatives and old friends. Her mother, Mrs. Joe Mark, who has been her guest for some months, returned with her.

The Tecumseh Gravel Co. is filling a government order for 90,000 tons of gravel for the nitrate plant at Toledo. Manager W. F. Fisher has some dozen men busy at the pit.

Misses Kathryn Reed, Florence VanWinkle and Esther Pratt and Homer Hanham, Allen Eccles and Arthur Brown, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pangburn, spent from Saturday until Monday at the Sunflower cottage, Sand lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Temple, accompanied by his brother, Harry, and wife of Britton, motored to Chicago the first of the week to atetnd the American Banker's association meeting in session there this week. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Heesen, who have been visiting at South Bend, will also join the party.

"Hank" Stevens, our well known Civil war veteran and G. A. R. enthusiast, spent his 79th birthday Monday laying a cement walk and feeling jolly as usual while at work. His birthday was also brightened by receiving notification that pensions of $25 per month had been granted Amanda Halsey, widow of Geo. B. Halsey, of Tecumseh and Eliza J. Miller, widow of Lewis Miler, of Britton. Mr. Stevens acted as agent for these ladies, who were also made happy by the good news.

There was a larger attendance than usual at the Baptist church last Sunday and the Sunday school was enthuiastic. A fine program was given consisting of music and readings bearing on Baptist work in Michigan. Next Sunday will be patriotic day and Dr. Hartzog will speak on "What would you do if your son had gone to war?" There will be special patriotic music by the choir. Ira Ashley and A. O. Howard have been appointed to take care of the volunteers who will pledge to take bonds.

We are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Hobart E. Mitchell, who live south of town, for a small basket of the finest home grown peaches that we have seen this season. Enough of the delicious fruit has been gathered for their own consumption and they feel quite fortunate to have even that considering that nearly the entire Michigan crop was ruined by the severe winter. The fruit brought to this office was of the Crawford variety, large, lucious and of fine flavor and we thank Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell for remembering this office with a sample.

George Wright has received a letter from his son, John, in service in France, that he was wounded twice—shot through the elbow and shrapnel in the leg. He also tells of the fierce and persistent manner in which our boys fight, illustrating with an instance of a gunner who, upon having the hand with which he operated the gun smashed, would not quit, but had comrades tie him to the gun and operated with the other hand. A close friend of John's was killed in he battle of Soissons, in which he was wounded. Co. B. First Battalion Engineers, with which he enlisted, is extinct so many having been killed that the remaining members were transferred to the 30th Co. John Wright is originally from Morenci, moving from there to Clinton. His father recently purchased the H. A. Stacy property here.

N. J. Snyder of Metamora, O., will move his family here next week into the Mrs. P. C. Snell house on North Pearl street. Mr. Snyder comes to manage the Williamson & Lawson meat market. Ben Lawson has withdrawn from this market and leaves the first of the week for Chicago to enlist in the tank corps.

Corporal Dan Reed, who we last week repotred as being home from France on his way to Camp last week reported as being home by getting married, the little bride being Miss Irma Bossler of Onsted. Dan started Saturday morning for Kansas, having to report at Camp Funston Sunday evening. Mrs. Reed will remain with her people at Onsted until her husband returns.

Mrs. Chas. Albaugh of Hillsdale, formerly of this village, suffered a stroke of paralysis last week and is still in a helpless condition. On Sunday her nephews and nieces, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Poucher, drove to Hillsdale to see her and found her in a serious condition, her physician giving no hopes for her recovery.

WHAT UNCLE SAM ACCOMPLISHES

IN RECONSTRUCTION OF CRIPPLED SOLDIERS.

Interestingly Told in Lecture by Rev. Hornung at Presbyterian Church Tuesday Evening.

On Tuesday evening Rev. J. H. Hornung of Cleveland lectured at the Presbyterian church, taking one of the numbers of the Men's class Lyceum course, filling in the number listed for Senator Wm. Alden Smith. This Lyceum course met with disaster all along. Blizzards and the war were the main causes of this course being not finished. Many of the performers of the bureau were taken in the draft and then the big storms of last winter held up a couple of the entertainments, but Rev. Hornung is an old college friend of Rev. Rex and the latter prevailed upon him to fill one of the dates and he did it splendidly. He is vitally interested in Red Cross work and his church have given him a vacation until the close of the war so he can enter the Red Cross work entirely. He is to go to Camp Sherman about October 1st.

He took for his subject "The Reconstruction of the Crippled Soldiers." He told of the cheerful home influence and the patience we must have for the boys when they come home. How they are coming back to an entirely different atmosphere from the regular life they have been accustomed to now for a couple of years and we must give them, even if they do come home well and sound, a happy place and a clean place to come to. How much more must we do for them if they have given an arm or leg or eyes to France. Eighty per cent of the wounded are made well again over there and sent back to the field, but 10,000 out of every million must make their way and learn to care for themselves without being beggars or feel they are dependent upon their government, and this the government is doing wonders to teach them.

The soldier is still in government pay while being trained to some trade, if it takes five years. Then science has accomplished wonders in making new hands which pick up things, eyes that move and feet that walk. There are men in Canada today who are earning more money with their artificial hands and the training their govenrment has given them than they ever did before the war. The day is coming when every man can have a trained mind. After he is trained even, Uncle Sam cares for his man. He sees he gets a job and does not turn him out to shift for himself.

Many slides were shown of the crippled men doing wonderful work with their new arms and walking with the patent legs. It all was intensely interesting and proved to the audience that our Uncle Sam must have been on the alert a long while to have invented so many ideas along this line.

The final lecture of the course will be given by Rev. Rex Friday night, along war lines. We know what Rev. Rex can do in a patriotic sermon and imagine his audience of Friday night will hear many things of interest. He is a keen worker on the platform and has given lectures over the county all summer, so he knows what he is talking about. We bespeak for him a large house.

WIT AND WISDOM

Enjoying Fine meeting at Opening of Season's Sessions.

The Wit and Wisdom club held their first meeting of the year with Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Brown Monday evening. A bountiful pot luck supper was served at 6:30 when every one produced his own little sugar bowl—another war conservation. This caused much sport. Following came a business session, when Joe Eaton, the new president, presided. It was decided to hold these jolly pot luck suppers each month, and at the alternate meeting to have no refreshments.

Instead of the usual program, "The Tales and Wails of the Summer Traveler" were heard. This part was very happy, nearly every one taking part and it was a program of some variety.

Were You at the Adrian Fair?
Did You See the Tractor Exhibit?

If not, you missed something.

If you did see the exhibit, you saw the MOLINE TRACTOR do "stunts" that no other tractor was able to do.

The moline is a strictly one-man outfit, not only for plowing, but for use with any other machine on the farm. You sit on the seat of the machine you wish to operate and handle this machine and the levers of the tractor as if you were driving horses, besides getting around where it is impossible to go with horses.

Some Tractor

We make this offer to you:—We wish to demonstrate this tractor on YOUR farm, and show you what it will do. Pick out some tough alfalfa sod, or some other piece of ground that you have difficulty in plowing, and simply see what we can do.

Make your application well in advance so we can get to your neighborhood as soon as possible.

We want you and every other farmer to know what this tractor will do in actual field work: We believe this is the only accurate way to demonstrate a tractor.

The latest news is that the Willis-Overland Co. have purchased this tractor which is recognition of its superiority.

A bulletin from the Michigan food commissioner says: "It is very probable that within a short period practically all the flour sold throughout this country will be ready mixed, so that the housewife will not be inconvenienced to the extent of having to mix her 20% of corn meal or other substitutes with flour. Until the mixed flours are obtainable it is very earnestly desired that every patriotic American housewife will not make any bread, cake or other wheat product without incorporating with it one pound of corn meal or other cereal substitute for each four pounds of flour. Necessarily this mixing will have to be done in the home until the mills are prepared to turn out mixed flour in large quantities."

Early Christmas Shopping IS DEMANDED BY THE U. S. GOVERNMENT

The United States Government does not desire to interfere with the spirit of Christmas cheer and the exchange of tokens of friendship and affection—but it has requested—in a way that is almost a command—the co-operation of both stores and people in eliminating the last-minute Christmas rush.

First—Only useful gifts are to be given (except to children.)

Second—Christmas buying must begin early so as to avoid the necessity of extra help in the stores. Begin your gift buying now, and continue through October, November and December.

Third—Carry small packages with you. Mail packages that are to be sent to a distance before December if possible.

In this way Christmas giving will mean no hardship for delivery and transportation and no diversion of man (or woman) power from war work.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

Sgt. Earl Rector to His Cousin, Miss Mildred Boyce.

Sancerre France.
August 27, 1918.

Dear cousin:—

It hardly seems possible that it is nearly time for school to commence again. Events have happened so quick and fast the past few months that I have not realized that our summer has come and gone.

When I stop and look back and think of the things we have seen and done and heard there crops up in my mind a million things about which I'd like to write to you people back home and then comes the realization that a soldier mustn't tell everything he sees or does so I usually end up by saying, we had a lovely trip, are enjoying ourselves, working hard and other matter of fact things. It certainly has been a great experience though so far, and I expect we will have a great many more experiences before we are through. The trip through parts of England was grand. It was then we were introduced to the apartment trains, where one gets located in and don't get out until he is let out. It was there we had the pleasure of visiting some of the oldest historical places and about which we studied years ago.

About this country here though I don't dare get started for I'd never know enough to stop! It has only been for the last few days that we have been allowed to say anything about where we are. The map will show you that Sancerre is a couple of hundred miles south of Paris. We are nct in Sancerre proper but only one of its many little suburbs. The farmers here, you know, don't live out on their farms but they cluster in together in little hamlets, hundreds of which may be seen dotting the valleys. The people are the quaintest and most old fashioned you could possibly imagine. Everybody keeps a few cows, goats and chickens and any where one may look he can see the old women and children herding out a few cows and goats The houses, cow sheds, stables and chicken coops are usually all under one roof and all connected. No one has the least conception of what sanitation means but everyone seems healthy. All around us are acres and acres, (thousands of them) of grapes. Everyone drinks sour wine but there is a reason for this, as the supply of good water is limited. Sancerre proper is over a few miles to the south of us. Between it and us is a valley and guarding this valley is a great stone tower, where probably in years gone by, the bandits sat and watched for traders coming down the valley. A short distance from the tower is a great mammoth cave where, they tell us, they used to hold these trades people for ransom. It is one of the most remarkable places I have ever been in and there are rooms in it large enough to put half the business section of Tecumseh. They say it was originally used, in the fifteenth century, as a storage place for wines but during the sixteenth century was made over into a prison.

For all, the townspeople here are good to us still we miss the luxuries of the good old Y's. and K. C. huts. And allow me to say a word here as to the wonderful work the Y. is doing in the army. Understand we are the first American troops ever billeted in this village, so we can't expect a luxury like a Y. hut but here-tofore every place we have been the first real friends to greet us have been the Y. and its representatives — always managing to get just the tobacco, or candy or tooth paste, or gum, or hot beef tea that we wanted so much. Never let anyone say the Y. isn't doing anything for the American soldiers! There is always some one to get writing paper for the boys, or to hold a songfest or give a talk or get up an entertainment of some kind.

It's way past bed time and our drill schedule is rather severe so I guess I'd better turn in. I'm hoping that some day I can drop in and give you a much better idea of some of the things we do and see than possibly I have in this letter. Remember please that letters from home are mighty welcome—the arrival of the mail is one of the events of our lives now.

Kindly remember me to all the folks.

Earl.

Russell Blesing to His Father, John Blesing.

Camp Hancock, Georgia,
September 17, 1918.

Dear Father:

Received your letter the other day but have been too busy to answer it until this minute.

At last I am all set to go to the place where I have been longing to go for the last ten months, to Farnce. I was transferred into this company this morning at the request of its commander, so you know what that means, that I will surely get something out of it instead of just a lot of hard work as I have been getting for the last five months. It happened like this. This captain had been in command of my old company for about a week when he received orders that he was put in command of a newly organized company that was being made up for overseas duty. The next day after he had taken over his new company he came down to me and asked me if there were any men in the bunch we had transferred to him that knew anything about paper work. I told him that none of them had ever had any experience with army paper work. Then he says that he is looking for a company clerk and that he was in hard shape for one. So I speaks up and tells him that he doesn't have to look any farther for he has the man he is looking for sitting right before him. Then we fixed it up with the commander of my company and he said that he would let me go. Then the captain goes over to the personnel office and puts in a requisition for me with the result that here I am. And believe me I am about as happy as any boy could be. There is only one thing that would make me more happy and that is for this war to end so that I could return to you and Elva.

The chances are that we will be leaving for overseas within the next three or four weeks. I will endeavor to let you know just when I am leaving so that you will not be looking for any word from me, and not getting it, you might think that I had forgotten you. I received a letter from George Lowitz the other day and he said that he was having a great time over there. He is located at a French art school, though what he is doing he didn't say. Presume he is going to school or something like that. He seems to think that this war isn't going to last much longer. I sincerely hope so; all I want is to reach there and then it can end as soon as it wants to without hurting my feelings the least little bit. But I sure do want to get over there, especially after hanging around this part of the country for this length of time and not seeing any actual service.

Perhaps you wouldn't have approved of it, but I passed a chance up to go to the special training school; this is for the purpose of being trained for a commission, the same as an officers training school. But really I wanted to go over worse than I wanted a chance to be an officer. But, believe me, if this old mix-up lasts very long I'll be commissioned before I return to this side of the water.

Must close for this time with all my love and sincerely hoping you are feeling good. Say, by the way, you had better tell Elva to write to me for I haven't heard from her in a very long time.

Your affectionate son,
Russel.

My address will be:
2nd. Co., Ord. Repl. Bn., 3rd. Regt., Ordnance, Training Camp, Camp Hancock, Atlanta, Georgia.

Glenn P. Bowen to His Mother, Mrs. R. J. W. Bowen.

(In giving the letter below, for which we are indebted to R. J. W. Bowen, we take occasion to make a little prologue or explanation. It is a peculiar circumstance that Glenn Bowen and his cousin, Percy Bowen formerly of McCann & Bowen, were drafted at the same time, the first sent from Detroit, the latter from Adrian. The cousins landed at the same time at Camp Custer, were both assigned to the 340th Infantry and only had three bunks between them in the barracks. They were sent to New York and landed in France two weeks later and now are sleeping "side by each," as Glenn expresses it in his letter.—Editor)

August 21, 1918.

Dear Mother:—I expect you are about as anxious to hear from me as I am from you. We have been on the move almost continually since we left the boat. It seemed mighty good to leave the boat although the said the trip was made in good time—something like eleven days, I believe. I really don't know much I can tell you—there are so many conflicting statements and every day brings different rumors. We seem to have struck a place at last that looks as if it might be at least half-way permanent as a camping place. We are quartered in a little village (Somewhere in France) in barns, houses, hay lofts and wherever there is enough space to throw in a little straw and [illegible] on the floor. Perce and I are still together and sleep "side by each" along with 28 others in what I think formerly might have been used as a blacksmith shop. There is an old fireplace in one corner with a shelf above which looks as though it had been used for heating the shoes at one time away back in the days of Napoleon. These old French villages are practically all alike they look and I supposed they have been here for centuries and so they remain in just about the same condition as when they were built and because they are made of stone I suppose they will be here for centuries to come.

August 23—Things are getting squared away now and with a schedule of the day's work ahead it's not such a bad life after all. There is another American camp near here, fellows that have been over here several months. It's interesting to hear them tell of their experiences. It makes our little hardships seem like nothing at all.

I would sure like to see Walter Dole and hope to get a letter from you soon containing his address. No one has received any mail since leaving Camp Mills, but we hope to soon. The weather has been fine and although quite warm I'd sooner have it this way than cold.

I'm afraid you won't be able to send me any of those knitted articles because, as I understand it, we have to have an order from no less than a colonel, so not much chance you see.

It doesn't seem as though I'd said anything at all, but this is just mainly to let you know that I'm still very much on the job—never felt better and hope to see you all soon. One more year at the most and I think and we'll all be home. Love to all from Glenn.

Mrs. Josephine Smith, left Wednesday for an indefinite stay with Mrs. Wm. Burtless and daughter, Hazel of Manchester.

Mr. Skidmore of Detroit was in town Tuesday in the interest of the Fox River Butter Co. of Detroit which is handled by the E. B. Stetler Co. here, paying the top notch price to the farmers for their butter fat when brought to the Produce market in the Bauer building.

NORTH ADRIAN

Rev. R. S. Powells, wife and two children visited Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Benedict and family the first of last week.

The Ladies' Circle was entertained at the home of Mrs. Geo. Rehklau last week Thursday with a good attendance. The time was spent sewing for the Red Cross, and a nice lot of work was done.

The Red Cross ladies met the same week on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Chas. Osborn to sew for the Belgium children, making 15 pinafores.

This week Thursday the Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. E. H. Brown for a picnic dinner and any one who can help furnish clothing for Belgium children will please bring them to this meeting and they will be appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Heath and baby of Devil's lake visited her aunt, Mrs. E. H. Brown, over Saturday night.

Miss Lena Mapes of Tecumseh visited her aunt, Mrs. E. H. Brown, the last of the week and attended the fair.

Christian Science Welfare House.

London, England—On Aug. 1, as already announced in a cable dispatch to The Christian Science Monitor, the Christian Welfare House, for the use of the allied forces, was opened at 112 Eaton Square, London S. W. 1. Week after week fresh contingents are being added to the vast American army already transported across the Atlantic; consequently thousands of soldiers and sailors now find a temporary home in the little island from which their forefathers set sail in quest of liberty three centuries ago. The Welfare House is primarily intended for the convenience of those officers and men of the United States army and navy who are interested in Christian Science, but a welcome will also be extended to any sailor or soldier who desires to come.

The Christian Science Welfare House is situated in a convenient center, close to the American embassy and the busy thoroughfare around Victoria Station. Various bus routes pass close by and tube and underground railway are easily and quickly reached, but the creeper-clad house itself stands in a wide, sunny square, where spreading plane trees cast a cool shade in the long hot summer days.

The house is designed to help and befriend in every way the men of the allied forces. It is actuated by the desire to do everything to make the men feel as much at home as possible. The reception rooms, it is hoped, will provide an accessible place where friends can meet, while for the convenience of the men an information bureau will be open from 10 a. m. till 6 p. m., and a register will be kept of the addresses of those who let rooms or take in borders. The bucaru will also be prepared to make arrangements for those officers or men on leave who wish to spend a quiet time in the country, while for those anxious to see something of the sights of London expeditions to interesting parts of the city, including picture galleries and museums, will be planned, and the bureau will always be ready with the names of hosts and hostesses willing to invite officers and men, singly or in small parties, to their houses, so that all who desire may share the social intercourse that can only be enjoyed in the midst of home life.

The Christian Science Welfare House, too, has reading and writing rooms, in the quiet of which the men can make themselves at home with their books and papers or can sit and write their letters undisturbed. A certain number of bed rooms will also be available at the Welfare House, to provide sleeping accommodation, at a reasonable price, for men staying in London, and breakfast will be provided at a moderate charge.—Christian Science Monitor.

Lenawee County Sunday School Convention

AT ADRIAN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NEXT WEEK

Interesting Gathering of Sunday School Workers Tuesday and Wednesday, October 1 and 2—The Program.

One of the interesting annual conventions in Lenawee county is that of the Sunday school workers. This year this convention takes place in Adrian Tuesday and Wednesday, October 1 and 2, at the Presbyterian church.

The motto of the convention this year is "Victory," appropriate indeed to the times. The officers of the association are Dr. W. B. Hartzog, Tecumseh, president; Mrs. L. H. Pangburn, Adrian secretary; G. Roscoe Swift, Adrian, treasurer.

Following is the program as arranged, and by it it will be seen that it will be worth the time of all interested in Sunday school work to attend the sessions:

Tuesday morning.

10:00. Exposition of the Sunday school lesson for October 6. Rev. George H. Gibson, Blissfield.

10:30. Reports from the Sunday schools of Lenawee county.

Tuesday Afternoon.

1:30. Bible Exposition and Prayer. Rev. Otto Halfaker, Britton.

2:00 Address—Rev. E. K. Mohr, New Buffalo, Michigan.

3:00. Why have Sunday schools? A conference conducted by Rev. W. H. Moody, Morenci.

Tuesday Evening.

7:30. Musical service. Led by G. Roscoe Swift, Adrian.

8:00. Unfurling of Our Michigan Sunday school service flag.

Address—"The Sunday School and the Nation." Rev. J. G. Widdifield, Tecumseh, who has spent ten months on the firing line in France.

Address—"With Our Men in the Training Camps." Rev. T. B. Frizelle, D. D., Toledo, Ohio.

Wednesday Morning.

9:00. Bible Exposition. Rev. J. A. Moray, Wellsville.

9:30. A Sunday School Equipment and the Sunday School Spirit. Rev. C. M. Thompson, Hudson.

1:30. Matters Needing Special Emphasis in the Sunday School. Rev. G. W. Olmsted, Adrian.

2:00. Convention Business.

Convention Notes.

The Convention will be held in the First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Edward Montgomery, pastor. Superintendent of the Sunday school, W. A. Cutler.

All services standard time.

The people of Adrian will furnish lodging and serve breakfast free.

If you have not done so, send in your annual offering. The offering is used to pay our own expenses and our pledge to state work.

There is no limit to the number of delegates. There is magic in numbers.

OUR PLEDGE

American Flag.

1. I pledge allegiance to my flag.
2. and to the Republic for which it stands.
3. One Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

Christian Flag.

1. I pledge allegiance to my flag.
2. and to the Savior for whose Kingdom it stands.
3. One brotherhood, uniting all mankind in service and love.

Our Prayer.

God bless our splendid men—
Bring them safe home again,
God bless our men.
Keep them victorious,
Patient and chivalrous—
They are so dear to us—
God bless our men.

Mt. Clemens — Hartley Canfield.
Martha Holmes, Detroit—D. H. Ramsdell.

By this list we see our friend, Rev. W. J. Balmer, is moved to Chelsea. Such is the trial of being a Methodist clergyman and of their family. While living here Rev. and Mrs. Balmer and Miss Dorothy have made hosts of friends outside as well as in the Methodist church, and all regret to have them go away.

JAMES C. CRITCHETT

Passing of Honored Citizen Wednesday Morning.

Mr James C Critchett passed away Wednesday morning of arterio sclerosis He had been in failing health since the first of the year, but was only confined to his bed for five days

Mr Critchett was born Nov. 7, 1843, in London township, Monroe county, on the farm which his father had bought from the government in 1832. Here he made his home for 68 years until six years ago when he and his sister, Mrs E M. Lewis, bought their comfortable home in the northeastern part of the village and have lived happily together.

In 1874 Mr Critchett was married to Miss Hattie Wright, who passed away nine years ago. Left to mourn are four children: Rev. Carl Critchett, of Allenton, Iowa; Guy E. Critchett, of Grand Rapids; Mrs. Grace Dibbert, of Milan, and Miss Clara, a trained nurse of this village, also the one sister and nine grand children

He was a veteran of the Civil War, being a member of the 18th Michigan. He had been a devout member of the Methodist church for over forty years, and since coming to Tecumseh has been an active worker in the local church, holding several responsible positions in the church board

The funeral is to be held from the home today at 1 o'clock, Dr W. J Balmer officiating, with the burial in the family lot in the London cemetery

Always of a quiet, unassuming character, he was a true friend and stood emphatically for what he considered right He will be sadly missed in his church which only last week lost another faithful member, Mr H Hurry. These two men had been closely allied in their labors for the church and no church can afford to lose this kind of men

"THE PRUSSIAN CUR"

Play Showing the German Spy System at Bradley Opera House.

The Kaiser's spies are everywhere in our midst, on the alert, watching, waiting to destroy! Do you doubt it? Then see "The Prussian Cur." It will startle you with its revelations, inspire you with its stirring war scenes, it will open your eyes and clench your fists This picture will be shown at the Bradley opera house on Sunday and Monday, Oct 6th and 7th.

"The Prussian Cur," the same mammoth production which opened in Detroit's biggest picture house last Sunday to such crowds that people actually stood in line from 9 a. m. until closing time at night and actually fought to gain admission and it's coming right into your own town and your own theatre

William Estabrook died at his home in Franklin township Tuesday morning. He had been ill for several months and a month ago was operated upon in St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor, since which time he has failed rapidly. Mr. Estabrook was 70 years old and leaves a wife, beside a host of friends in this locality. The funeral was held from the home today, with burial in Clinton.

Will Ross, Ben Snyder Art Weeks, Jesse Nichols, Wyrill Linton, Fred Nobles and Ed King started yesterday for Albion, N. Y., to pick apples for Chas. Williamson at Will Boyce's orchards, Charlie took them to Detroit in his machine, they planning to go to Buffalo by boat. The orchard they will pick and pack covers 35 acres and will probably take the better part of six weeks.

The Ridgeway Woman's Foreign Missionary society met at Mrs. P. C. Smith's last week and elected the following officers: President, Etta Palmer; 1st vice, Eula Avery; 2d vice, Marjory Moon; corresponding secretary, Lena Pocklington; recording secretary, Edna Curtiss; treasurer, Alice Smith; mite box secretary, Edith Fletcher; superintendent of Standard Bearers, Ida Martin.

If you want any more sugar for canning you can procure the same at John Nyland's store after today. Judge Hosmer leaves this afternoon to visit the scenes of his boyhood at Parkman, O., Miss Sena having started yesterday. Up to noon today the judge has issued 1,568 cards calling for over 20,000 lbs. of sugar. The grocers are running short on the canning sugar, having been called to fill so many orders from the people coming from the small towns around.

Attending the funeral of Mrs. Mabel Shurtz Pocklington Friday were Mrs. Fred Nixon of Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pocklington, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beasley, Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gilbert, Warren, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shurtz, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pocklington, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Kniffen, Detroit; beside many relatives from Britton and Manchester.

E. M. Campbell has just had installed in the wash room at the rear of his cleaning establishment a Rousman still, a machine by which the highest test gasoline is distilled from the cheap grades. The machine is a wonderful contrivance, separating the gasoline into one receptacle, the kerosene in another, evaporating the water and the dross settling in the third. Now our cleaner man can buy the cheapest grade for his work which he could never use in its present state.

"To Hell with the Kaiser."

War Conditions Will Govern Sugar Relief

NO ONE CAN TELL HOW LONG RESTRICTIONS WILL CONTINUE

"So Long as it is Necessary" is What Michigan's Food Chief Told a Caller.

Lansing, September 25—"How long will these sugar restrictions last?" was a query addressed to Food Administrator G. A. Prescott by a small town grocer in the food office the other day. The visitor said he was getting discouraged with the limitations and regulations surrounding his business and wondered if he could ever hope for the good old days when he could do business as he did before the war. "The restrictions will last just as long as they are necessary," replied Mr. Prescott with emphasis. "There is no vacation on the firing line and if you cannot loyally and willingly obey the request of the government in war time, you had better get out of business. But remember this, if you stay in business the war comes first, if you have to get out of business. My final word is simply this, get ready to make any adjustments required. Give up cheerfully, provided it will help win this wonderful fight for the freedom of the world. Be glad and proud of any and every opportunity to back up the boys 'over there.'" It is needless to add the caller left the food office with a different respect for the regulations and pledged himself to do everything in his power to promote and explain any new rules among his customers. "Fire 'em along" was the parting shot of the grocer, as he shook hands with Mr. Prescott and started for the elevator.

John Willys, president of the Willys-Overland company of Toledo, has acquired the control of the Moline Plow company, one of the oldest farm implement concerns, in the country, and next to Henry Ford one of the largest producers of tractors. This will be interesting news to people of this vicinity as both the automobiles and tractors are represented here, and it proves that Mr. Willys thinks the Moline tractor a superior machine.

A couple of proud parents out in Sacramento, Cal., belong to Tecumseh's big family. The other day prizes were awarded in a better baby contest. Frederick Bernard Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bertram Wood, was in the perfect baby class, 100 per cent perfect and the first award, a $50 Liberty bond, was awarded the mother, who was Miss Alice Satterthwaite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Satterthwaite. The lady's other grandfather is Gen. F. B. Wood.

What only by chance did not prove to be a fatal accident occurred last night just north of the river bridge in Brownville. A Ford car was coming from the north in which were four people. They turned out to avoid another machine and smashed into a hydrant, stoving the front of their machine in, in bad shape. The driver, Glenn Wilson, living west of Clinton suffered a cut knee and the lady in the seat with him pitched head first through the windshield. She was picked up in a fence corner with a broken collar bone. A Clinton garage man came for the car and the people were taken to their homes.

BIG MEETING AT NEW SCHOOL

LARGE AUDITORIUM FILLED TO GREET FRENSDORF.

Excellent Address, Splendid Band Music and Quartet Singing Enjoyed by Big Crowd.

It was a splendid patriotc meeting held in Tecumseh's new high school building last Sunday afternoon—Volunteer day. Nearly every seat in the large auditorium, including the gallery, was filled with enthusiastic, loyal Americans. The decorations were appropriate to the occasion, consisting of American flags, bunting, branches of beautifully colored foliage and flowers. In the rear of the commodious stage were two large posters containing inscriptions as follows: "Is your name on the honor roll of the Fourth Liberty Loan?

About a quarter of an hour before the time set for the opening of the meeting a band of thirty-five musicians, under the direction of Prof. Chas. Skinner, marched up Chicago street, playing that popular march, "Over There." Although not in uniform, the band made a good appearance, and, what is better, played good music, considering that the musicians were picked up round about wherever they could be found—some old timers from Tecumseh, some from Clinton and other nearby places.

Following the band came the marching club, composed of Tecumseh men, and they also made a fine appearance, keeping in step with the band music.

At 2:30 Prof. Skinner sounded the assembly bugle call which brought all of those participating in the program upon the stage.

Attorney G. A. Rathbun presided as chairman, and, after calling the meeting to order, asked if a pastor was present to lead in prayer. Not receiving a response he said that undoubtedly all our ministers were busy giving patriotic addresses. In introducing the first number on the program he complimented Prof. Skinner upon his success in getting a band together for the occasion and the patriotic spirit of the men who gave their services in the capacity of musicians.

The band opened the program with a medly that contained nearly all the popular patriotic selections worth mentioning, and the musicians under the guidance of their bandamster acquitted themselves very creditably.

Next the audience was treated to a vocal patriotic selection by the famous Temple quartet. They received a hearty encore to which they responded.

"Keep the Home Fires Burning" was next played by the band and the Temple quartet sang a composition referring to the Fourth Liberty Loan and a goodnight to old Bill, that was clever. This was sung to the old familiar tune of "Old Black Joe," and made a hit.

Chairman Rathbun then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Edward Frensdorf, whom he termed a one hundred proof full blooded American and a fellow townsman.

Mr Frensdorf said the chairman had conferred upon him what he considered the highest compliment. If he is regarded as a 100% American by his fellows it is the highest honor he could expect. War has brought about peculiar situations, said the speaker. "It has deprived you of a clergyman at this meeting. When your committee looked about for a speaker, for which there is such a demand, they had to be satisfied with such an humble orator as myself."

Mr. Frensdorf said we had not been touched as yet by sacrifice in this war, save the parents and relatives of the boys who are fighting over there. He hoped that the record of Lenawee would stand above others. It should be our opportunity and pleasure and joy to see what we can do for our country. If a committee doing your work visits you, you should say thank you instead of damn you.

"I anticipate another occasion when we will convene again, after the war, to give thanks and welcome our boys back. Already Lenawee has felt the sting of war. Some have laid down their lives, others are crippled, but we have not felt it severely."

The speaker referred to the fine new school building, and said too much credit can not be given to educational institutions. Education is the greatest safeguard of all armies and navies of the world. (Applause.) The products of this school will repay full fold.

Tecumseh Over The Top 706 Pledges Signed

Volunteer System Proves Success

GOOD SHOWING MADE BY TECUMSEH TOWNSHIP

School Houses, Churches and Banks Visited by People Voluntarily—Some Failed to Respond—How's Your Record?

Seven hundred and six people of Tecumseh township pledged themselves Saturday and Sunday last to meet Tecumseh's quota of $108,139 in Fourth Liberty Loan bonds. They did better than that by several thousand dollars, and proved that the Volunteer plan was a success.

Volunteer subscriptions began to come in Saturday, when people patronized the two booths on Chicago street. The banks also took care of volunteers Saturday.

Sunday was the real day and at every church, school house and bank in the township pledges were taken care of. Sunday evening the fire bell was sounded to triumphantly inform the people that Tecumseh again went over the top.

But we must not shout too loudly, for there are some who failed to respond. These should not fail to come forward and sign pledges or government applications before October 8. After that a round-up committee will visit all those who failed to respond and learn the reason.

100 Per Cent Factories

BREWERS, ANTHONY FENCE AND MACARONI

Heesen's Near the Top—Splendid Record of Home Man and Woman Power.

Factory people of Tecumseh made a fine showing in the Fourth Liberty Loan volunteer movement and as a result three—Brewer's, Anthony Fence and Uncle Sam Macaroni—have the hundred per cent distinction, while the Heesen factory, where no effort was made to induce employees to pledge for bond purchase was made, nearly went to the top.

A effort was made last week in Brewer's to reach the 75 per cent mark in order to secure the county pennant. The middle of the week a report of 80 per cent was made and Saturday they reached the 100 mark.

This factory is a busy place and the force is continually husltling to keep up with government orders. Enlistments and the draft have taken so many young men from the plant until now about every employee is above draft age, one of the workers being, we are told 79 years old.

The other factories are likewise effected. But the people can feel proud of Tecumseh's man and woman power when they so generally stand back of the boys in the trenches.

RECEPTION FOR HORACE GRAY

TENDERED BY ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS

Guest of Honor Tells of War Experience—Good Program Given.

Through the efforts of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, a very pleasant reception was given Tuesday evening honoring their brother member, Pvt. Horace Gray, who has recently returned from France, so badly wounded. The men had splendidly decorated the I. O. O. F. hall using large flags generously. As a curtain for each window hung flags, more were placed about the room and in front of the N. G.'s station was suspended the largest. Over the speakers more flags formed a canopy with an immense Red Cross as the background. An orchestra composed of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deniston, Wilfred Waldron, Nolan West, Glenn Tansley and Lester Coller played several selections as the crowd were gathering. Past Master G. H. Tansley called the company to order and presided. First was given a delightful musical program which had been prepared by the ladies. Following are the numbers as given:

Selection—Orchestra.

Piano duet—The Misses Cecile Clark and Helen McIntyre.

Cornet solo—Lester Coller, accompanied by Miss Edna Taylor.

Piano solo—Miss Camilla Hayden, preceded by a short descriptive sketch.

Vocal solo (a) "Americans, Come!" (b) "Oh you Sammy!" —Mrs. R. S. Moore accompanied by Miss Taylor. These too were preceded by descriptive sketches.

Selections—Ukalele club, Misses Kennedy, Bowen and Rosacrans.

Mr. Tansley then announced a talk by Horace which was intensely interesting to the home people as he told of his own experiences, of his trip over, the truck ride into France, his first experience in the trenches when all was well, the weather good, the sun shining, and in as they call it, a quiet sector. When they returned to the trenches again after a short rest, all was mud, mud, mud, and the life awful. Then came the terrible battle when the Belleau Woods were shelled by the Huns. Horace told his story so graphically that one could fairly hear the shells burst, the deafening roar of the cannens, see the big trees crash and even feel the suffering of the poor wounded leg. He told several humorous incidents showing that the boys are full of pep and fun in spite of the awfulness of it all. He praised the manner he was cared for and repeatedly spoke of how lucky he was.

Following Mr. Gray's speech Past Grand Henry McClure presented his brother Odd Fellow with a box of cigars in behalf of the lodge. He said "It is customary to give a person whom we wish to honor, flowers, but I give you a box of weeds."

He was followed by Rev. W. A. Rex who gave one of his rousing patriotic addresses. He compared German efficiency and the spirit of the Hun with the efficiency and faith of the French and Americans, much to the praise of the Allies. When he was through we had to agree with him that we belonged to the greatest nation, greatest state and biggest little town on earth.

Pvt. Gray was then conducted to a chair in the front where he was greeted by his friends with warm hand clasps and best wishes. Everybody was proud of the boy who could come back and more than delighted to meet him.

SERGT. COLLER IN HOSPITAL

TECUMSEH MAN AT CAMP CUSTER

Suffering From Eye Trouble — Appreciates the Home Paper, Which He Sends to His Son "Over There."

Base Hospital, Camp Custer,
September 29, 1918.
Tecumseh Herald:

Dear Friends:—Just a line to let you know that I am in the hospital. I was sent for last Wednesday to take treatment for my eyes. I have nearly lost the use of them to read. When The Herald comes I have to get some one to read to me. Afterwards I sent it to "Chick," my son, who is "over there," as he enjoys reading the home news.

I don't know how long I will be here, but hope not a great while. I hope I will not be discharged, but am afraid that such will be the case.

Well, I must close. Although you are a stranger to me, I am not to your paper and I like the tone of your editorials. Give my regards to the force. I expect you have some of the old ones.

Will say good-bye.

Sergt. J. B. Coller,
Base Hospital, ward 14, Camp Custer.

Important Notice.

The entertainment committee of the Modern Woodmen of America begins a series of entertainments Friday evening, Oct. 11th, at Woodman hall. The Woodmen and their friends and the Royal Neighbors and their friends are cordially invited. The subject of the first entertainment will be "The relationship of birds to man, from the standpoint of dollars and cents," given by M. E. Lockwood, member of State and National Audubon societies. Mr. Lockwood is an authority on birds and the entertainment promises to be one of high educational value. There will be on exhibition in the large reception room hundreds of insects and birds one hour before the entertainment commences. All free, come early.

PROUD OF MICHIGAN

FIRST STATE TO HAVE SOLDIERS—SAILORS HEADQUARTERS

So Writes Harold, Son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClure, in Service at Hempstead, N. Y.

In a letter from Harold McClure to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClure, he writes from Hempstead, N. Y., this of the good old state of Michigan: "Gee! But I am proud of Michigan. She is the first state in the union to have headquarters for her soldiers and sailors in New York. This was just opened Saturday and in time is to be under supervision of the ladies from Michigan. Papers from all parts of the state will be there on file. We are not under quarantine yet, but all Y. M. C. A. and K. C. entertainments have been suspended for the present. The camp is dead."

TECUMSEH SCHOOL NOTES

Boost Your School!

Have you bought your ticket? Show your loyalty. The sale of season tickets has not met with the success that it ought to have, due partly to the lack of interest on the part of our citizens, and partly because we have not had an opportunity of showing Tecumseh that we have a real fast ball team and that everybody down at the school wants to get full benefit from our splendid new gym.

The price is 50c to all students and $1.00 to outsiders. Of all the advantages of our new home, by far the most beneficial is our gym, and every dollar you put into the athletic Association, fellow citizens, will be put to best advantage.

Our First Game.

Yes, in Manchester was our first foot ball game, and although our first try out failed to bring home the score, it showed the fine spirit and team work of old Tecumseh High, the spirit that wins out eventually. We discovered our weak points when we ran up against a good team and by Friday we will have corrected them and be in a position to give our neighborly townsmen from Addison a real warm reception.

And, by the way, dear reader, do not fail to see this game. We are going to beat Addison here at the athletic field next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It's rumored that the Addison athletes are asking for bids from all the undertakers in the country to see who can handle best a job lot of corpses.

Senior Party.

"And they, while their companions slept,
Were roasting marshmallows into the night."

It was a sticky bunch of Seniors Thursday night (?) after their outdoor party at Comfort's "shack." But, happy to say, they all got enough marshmallows, in fact, they even returned a few. By the way, Muriel, don't forget to settle up that little account with Pete at the Candy Kitchen.

Bellum Paramy!

Our military company is surely being drilled down to the degree of perfection in field maneuvers that Capt. Hanna desires. But what we can't see is how in Sam Hill any one can study in school when our lieutenants and sergeants are yelling themselves hoarse in vain attempts to get the Palman boys and a few others to get in step.

It is reported that our friend, John Pershing has his eyes on our company and every member is eagerly awaiting a call to the front.

Found, a pair of brains on the walk just before the school entrance. Will the Freshman that lost it kindly step forward with a reward.

AVERY-HELFRICK WEDDING

Tecumseh Lady Becomes Bride of Muskegon Man.

Miss Jessie Leo Avery, daughter of Frank D. Avery of Tecumseh last Thursday became the wife of J. W. Helfrick of Muskegon. The ceremony was performed at the home of Miss Avery's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Payne in Ann Arbor, Rev. A. W. Stalker, Methodist minister of that city, performing the same. Only the immediate family were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Avery and Miss Ruth Curry.

The newly-weds came home with the Tecumseh party and remained here until Monday when Mr. and Mrs. Avery returned them to Ann Arbor.

Miss Avery graduated from our school in 1903 and was in her father's grocery for several years. She was a most efficient clerk and made many friends. Later she went to Ann Arbor for training as a nurse. She graduated at the U. of M. a year ago and has since been head nurse in the men's medical ward of the University hospital.

Mr. Helfrick has been a student in the medical department of the U. of M. for five years with two more years in his course so the couple will reside in Ann Arbor. Miss Avery's many Tecumseh friends extend their heartiest best wishes.

On Nov. 5 the class will meet with the new president.

SUFFERS BROKEN HIP

Mrs. A. VanValkenburg Meets With Accident Monday Morning.

Mrs. Amenzo VanValkenburg suffered an accident Monday morning which will lay her up for several months. Her husband and she were planning to take their son, Fay, back to Ann Arbor to college and were hurrying around to get over there early. Mr. VanValkenburg set Fay's traveling bag on the porch while he went for the car and Mrs. Van Valkenburg, being all ready for the journey, came out on the porch. Not seeing the bag she fell over it. She was picked up and taken into the house and Dr. Hardy called. One leg was broken just below the hip. Mrs. VanValkenburg has been an invalid for several years, just now getting able to walk down town. This illness was caused from neuritis in the leg which is now broken.

All day Monday she was in a serious condition, but that evening one of the daughters, Mrs. Lena Wells, arrived from Detrait to care for her and at this writing she is coming along nicely.

Notice to Red Cross Members.

Editorial Comment

Tecumseh went "over the top" handsomely in the Fourth Liberty Loan, and the volunteer system has been proven a success. We are proud of our people in responding so literally when placed upon honor to do their duty, but there is something about placing people upon their honor that brings out as a rule the best of nature.

There is only one regret. A few people, who are just as able as many who have volunteered, failed to come across, and these will be oblidged to entertain a committee with explanations. They will be given another opportunity to do their duty, but it will not be as pleasant for them as if they had volunteered.

The war situation is looking fine at present for the United States and its Allies, Bulgaria has agreed to terms of armistice and Turkey is getting ready to seek peace. Meanwhile the Allies are pushing the enemy back steadily, gaining victory upon victory. It looks as if the tide has turned for good, with the Allies in the offensive instead of defensive, and even the boys from the battlefields are writing home that Germany has made her last offensive movement and that the Kaiser knows it. Our boys have been in some hot fighting the past week and are keeping up their wonderful pugnacity to a remarkable degree.

But we must guard against the danger of over confidence. The war is not won and will not be for some time, even if it does look as if we are seeing the beginning of the end. Make the Fourth Liberty Loan as big as possible and thus give the Kaiser a hard jolt and the boys the best encouragement.

Edward Frensdorf, in his patriotic address Sunday, said "a man is a fool if he buys now what he don't want." We believe that is true at any time. But a man or woman should buy now what they are going to need in the near future. Every household should have a winter's supply of coal in their bins before the snow flies. They should have it delivered now, Many articles of clothing will be scarce shortly and we believe it wise to buy now while they can be procured. The government demands so much cloth for the soldiers that many more manufacturers will have to stop making civilian clothing. Cotton is going to be still higher than it is at present, judging from indications.

A person can be a fool to buy what he doesn't want, but he can also be a fool in not buying what he is going to need.

After hearing the splendid music of the "picked up" band last Sunday people of Tecumseh caught the band fever and a number expressed a desire that Tecumseh should have a band again.

Something like twenty-eight years ago Tecumseh could rightfully boast of having the best band in Southern Michigan. The membership was composed practically entirely of Tecumseh boys and the organization gained considerable fame under the leadership of Prof. C. F. Skinner, father of the present efficient band master.

With the draft calling so many of our young men to service it would be difficult to organize a band at present, although it is not impossible, if proper aid is given such an organization. In Morenci a high school band was organized a few years ago and the people of that village are mighty proud of it. An instructor from out of town was engaged to drill the boys and they have made a splendid progress.

A band in the smaller cities should have the same support as in the larger cities. A sum should be set aside annually by the village council to aid in its support, for a band is a public benefit. Cities engage bands for summer concerts for the benefit of the people and thousands flock to the parks to hear the inspiring music.

Tecumseh doesn't need to go out of town for a band master, for she has one who has had wide experience as such in civic and military life. Now is a good time to think and act upon the matter. If we can not get young men of draft age we can procure the younger class at high school. It would be fine for the military training just adopted at our school and it would be better still to meet the boys coming home from war with such an organization. Then would come the summer concerts so enjoyed by our people.

We would like to see the interest manifested Sunday grow to the end that before many weeks Tecumseh could again be proud of a musical organization to bring fame to our town.

Just to give our readers an idea what it costs for clerical and office work during these war days we give the following report of the director of propaganda and speaker's department:

The appropriations for the provost marshal general's office were $19,134,903, and the expenditures were $13,054,634.44, and included among its larger items the salaries of local and district draft boards $4,210,000; salaries of clerical assistants to district and local boards $3,900,000; and $2,548,413 was spent for printing and other expenses. Our army is, every American believes, the finest body of human beings the sun ever shone on. It is fit to fight that the world may be made safe for democracy and it GALLEY TEN is built strictly in the lines of democracy. The millionaire and the humblest laborer march side by side. Officers are drawn from every walk of life. No man is exempted because he is rich. None are drafted because they are poor. Men are measured by their willingness or their capacity. Past, or caste, or creeds are not taken into account. Thus the selective draft has become a badge of honorable service.

ment of only 142 years, he said the eyes of the world looked skeptically upon a government by the people. Right now America is in the balance. We might expect to win the war, but it is of more importance that we sustain our honor. We must safeguard every portal that may lead away from true democracy. Culminated almost by accident, the success of our government was marveled at by the world. We can better stand adversity than success. We must not overestimate our position or feel too sure that we can not be overturned.

There is nothing weak, trifling or minute with what you will be confronted with after this war. The speaker then told of the government plan in sending thousands upon thousands of young men to universities and colleges of war. Boys are to be soldiers industrially, civically and mechanically. The training given them will bring full fold back and the boys taking the training will be at the call of the government in the reconstruction that is coming. It is planned that the government control industries operated in other countries. This is not entirely selfish. It is a plan to build up in the world a great brotherhood of man — a great democracy. We must co-operate in such a manner as to bring a more friendly feeling, strengthe the brotherhood and make war impossible. If this is accomplished our efforts will not be too much.

This is a fortunate time for us to give expression of gratefulness for what the country has done for us. "I hate an ingrate and he should be punished," said Mr. Frensdorf.

The speaker got a laugh from the house when he spoke of the penitentiary where a man languishes for refusing to live with his wife. "I've never had a wife. If I had some wives I would be in the prison a good share of the time." Among the ingrates he hated are children who let their parents go to the poor house and perhaps die there. "I hate ingrates and would rather hug a Hun than touch elbows with one who refused to do his duty by his country."

Mr. Frensdorf said that when he started to make patriotic speeches he was told to give 'em h—. He has found that he don't have to now. If there are any pro-Germans now they are too cowardly to make themselves known.

He told of a German that he knew well. He came to the bank in Hudson and subscribed in bonds, $300 for himself and $100 for his wife. This man was born in Germany, served as a soldier and worked in the Krupp factory. His wife worked in the Krupp family. He had relatives fighting for the kaiser and two sons fighting for democracy. He said he was sorry he had to choose between two countries, "but this is my country, to h—— with the kaiser and grandfather's country! The quicker we get money over there the quicker my boys will come back."

Continuing, the speaker said just now we must shoot some gold bullets and gold shell into German camps. We have long range guns in our Liberty Loans. If we oversubscribe the six billion dollar loan, the like of which the world has never known, we would make the kaiser's teeth rattle.

"The money you have is not yours. You only have the custody of it. When you pass along you can not take it with you. This is an opportunity when you can serve your country and your God." The speaker did not think it necessary to impress upon the audience the necessity of doing their duty.

Mr. Fernsdorf said his father was born in German and he was glad of it. He was also glad that his father had sense enough to come to America. He was with others who told the kaiser to go to h——, that they would not fight for him. His father became a true Yankee and would never buy anything that was not made in America, so he was rocked in the cradle and taught to respect the flag. Mr. Frensdorf thought there was a lack of teaching patriotism in American homes.

Speaking of people that think they overdo and that they are overtaxed, he said we can be taxed rich if the money is righteously and honestly spent. How many people are there that would have this fine school building torn down? Yet you have heard selfish men that don't want to teach others children say "That old school was good enough for me," etc. A good comparison is the Civil war and the present war. We have got to have up-to-date equipment.

Speaking of the Liberty Loan he said it is not a patriotic loan, for if it was there would be no interest. The government of the United States is under no obligation to the people if it pays interest. A U. S. government bond at 4¼% interest is the best investment in the world.

He said a man is a fool to buy now what he does not need. If he saves this money for two or three years, yes less time than that, he can make 100%. There is nothing that will not take a bigger drop than government bonds.

"If you were to lose money on bonds it would still be your duty to loan your money. You should be just as good a soldier at home as the boys over there, and they are the best, most marvelous soldiers that ever stood on a battlefield."

In closing he said: "Always keep in mind that generations to come will have us marked as to how we stood in this war. A bond in your pocket will bring you closer to the war, but not as close as those who have sons or relatives fighting for us. I hope to be invited back, not so long, either, when the band will again play, the boys come back and we can say that we stood back of them every minute."

Chairman Rathbun corrected Mr. Frensdorf in his remark that the committee had to be satisfied with him. He happened to be present at the committee meeting when this meeting was arranged and when the chairman asked who they wanted for a speaker every one of the twelve said Frensdorf.

Spangled Banner" while the large audience arose to its feet in tribute to the national hymn.

Chairman Rathbun said with one exception this closed the program. The committee had not been able to report to Lenawee headquarters that Tecumseh had reached its quota and he urged any one in the audience who had not volunteered to do so before leaving the building. He spoke of his pleasure in having present such a fine audience and thanked the people for their attention and interest.

SHOOT SPIES, DEMANDS T. R.

250,000 German Agents in America War on U. S., Says Colonel.

By Theodore Roosevelt.

Kansas City, Sept 24.—Mercy to the German spy or pacifist slacker in America is foul injustice to the American soldier in France and to his brother, who is preparing to go to France.

Our government has been altogether too weak in dealing with the pacifist slackers and so-called conscientious objectors. It has actually issued elaborate instructions for and to these creatures practically telling them how to escape doing the duty which all patriot Americans are eager to perform.

There is not the slightest excuse for such weakness. No man has any right to remain in a free country like ours if he refuses, whether conscientiously or unconscientiously, to do the duties of peace and of war which are necessary if it is to be kept free.

The above item was taken from the Detroit Journal—W. P. Bloodgood of the Council of National Defense says: "German agents, driven out of Canada, are in Washington today, going about unhampered. Parents of boys in the trenches are beginning to think that their dear ones are being stabbed in the back by propagandists at home."

No American propaganda picture has or will do more to unearth detested agents of the kaiser in America than that mammoth production "The Prussian Cur" which is coming to the Bradley Opera House next Sunday and Monday, October 6 and 7.

"The Prussian Cur" stands supreme as a war photo drama. Not since the sensational picture production of Gerard's "My Four Years in Germany" was presented at the Bradley has anything been offered to compare with it. It will astound you with it's revelations of the Kaiser-plot to rule the world, and knife America in the back.

Capt. Horst der Goltz, once the Kaiser's personal friend, who served the Imperial German government as a secret agent for ten years, who engineered the notorious plot to blow up the locks of the Welland canal in Canada, who escaped death as a spy in the Tower of London by coming to America to testify for the United States—this man, who knows more about the Prussian spy system than any other living person, has exposed in "The Prussian Cur" the whole astounding mass of secret information which he gained in countless intrigues in Europe, Mexico, Canada and our own country. Not only this but Capt. von der Goltz actually appears in person in scene after scene throughout the picture.

Why Putter With Corns? Use "Gets-It"

Common-Sense, Simple, Never Fails.

You can tear out your corns and suffer, or you can peel off your corns and smile. The joy-peeling way is the "Gets-It" way. It is the only happy, painless way in the world. Two drops of "Gets-It" on any corn or callus dries at once. The corn finally loosens off from the toe, so that you can peel it off with your fingers in one piece, painlessly, like peeling a banana. "Great stuff, wish I'd done that before." There's only one corn-peeler—"Gets-It." Toes wrapped up big with tape and bandages, toes squirming from irritating salves, it's all a barbarity. Toes wounded by razors and knives, that's butchery, ridiculous, unnecessary, dangerous. Use "Gets-It," the liberty way—simple, painless, always sure. Take no chances. Get "Gets-It." "OVER THE TOP MEETING"

Westminster Guild Enjoys Hospitality of the Frank Nyland Home.

The Westminster Guild, one of the most active organizations of the Presbyterian church, held their opening meeting at the home of the vice president, Mrs. Frank Nyland Thursday evening. The house had been beautified with fall flowers and flags and the whole affair was of a patriotic nature, called by the Guild an "Over the Top" meeting—prophetic of Tecumseh's quick response to the Liberty Loan appeal.

A number of the ladies took parts of national interest and went dressed for the part: Miss Mildred Boyce as Columbia, Mrs. Frank Nyland as Uncle Sam, (stovepipe hat, whiskers and all), Mrs. F. C. Dickinson as Dr. Fishhook (with hypodermic, and complete equipment), Dr. Pauline Bredow as the major, well decorated with emblems and wearing most ferocious whiskers, Mrs. Rex and Mrs. Bert Gray as Red Cross nurses. Mrs. G. E. Nemire and Mrs. J. D. Service as soldiers—and it was noticeable they stood very erect most of the time. The party who went over No Man's Land came back victorious with the beheaded kaiser and then the whole troop of over 60 were refreshed. The dainties were served by Louise Nyland and Geraldine Gillespie as knitting bag girls and Helen Nyland and Frances Gillespie as French refugees. The meeting was most delightful and Mrs. Nyland deemed a most gracious hostess.

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS

The Sun is Said to Cross The Line Twice A Year

Well, we've got Old Sol bested just as far as a "Wind Wagon" has a "Hoop Skirt." Our Company is always on the line both as to grades and prices. Our stock is all of the "Special Merit" variety. A live wire with such a line to offer is justified in being noisy. Now, if you want to be on the line to "Success," buy your building material from us.

Our motto is "To sell lumber and more lumber," and to sell more lumber we must sell you Quality Lumber. Do you catch the idee?

We might put off a bunch of cheap quality lumber on your wagon and think it was a joke, but when you would come to unload and find every joke "cracked," you might come back to our yard but not to buy lumber. Oh no!

We put out grades that will bring you back for more of the same grades That's the way to sell lumber and more lumber.

All Who Need a Heating Stove, Range, or Heating System, Consider This Timely Appeal

Entirely apart from the curtailment of output, producing costs are rising.

This is particularly true of all products in the steel and iron world. It is certainly true of stoves, ranges, and heating systems.

We do not hesitate to tell you frankly if you are going to need a stove, range or heating system, you will not only save money, but dissappointment as well, by investigating and selecting the specialty you need in our showing of Round Oaks.

Satterthwaite Bros.

P. S. Remember, your old stove will consume nearly double the fuel of a new Round Oak.

BUY SCALES NOW

You are about to market big crops at the highest prices you ever received. You will be getting in your winter supplies; you will wish to get the correct weight of your hay or hogs as a small variation of weights may mean many dollars to you.

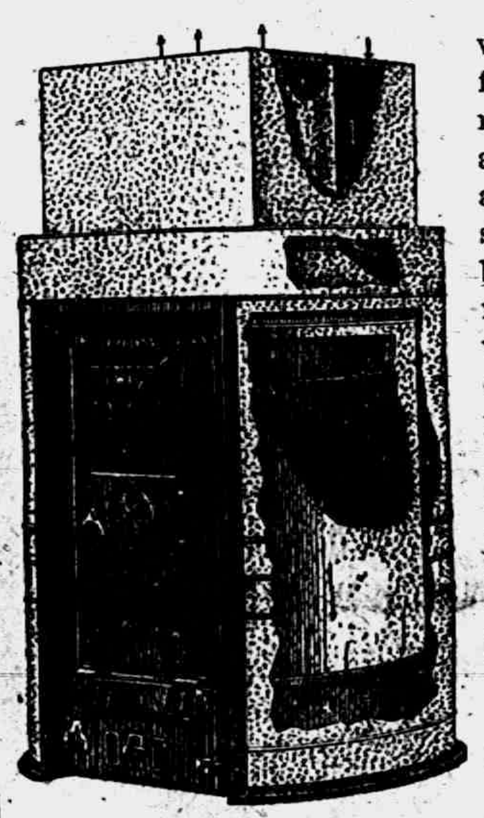
McDonald Pitless

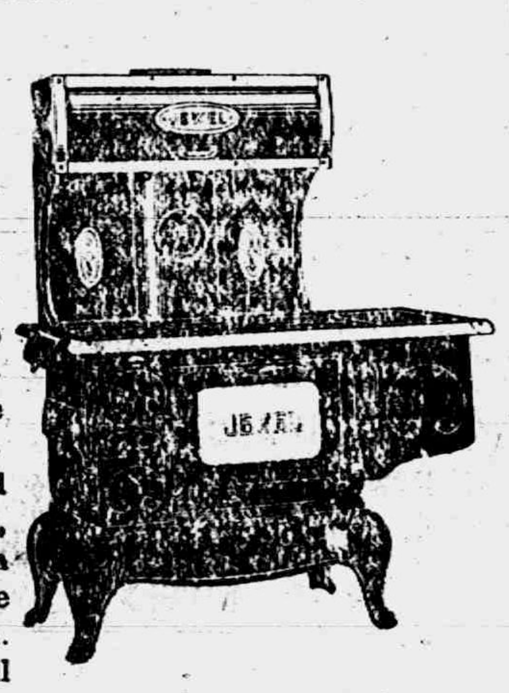
The best known, most serviceable, and the most economical scale. Every "McDonald Pitless" is guaranteed to retain its accuracy to the U. S. Standard weights for ten years. However, they are so substantially constructed that they will endure service and retain their accuracy for twenty-five years with practically no repairs.

On account of the Government conservation of steel there is a doubt in our minds of our being able to get scales at all next year; we suggest that you take this matter up with us at once. On account of the shortage of labor we can assist you in the erection of your scales.

We carry the five and six ton scales in stock.

Jewel Pipeless Furnace





We are just advised that no more furnaces, stoves, ranges, or heaters are available on account of the conservation of steel by the Government. Owing to very early purchases we have yet a very complete stock of the most desirable furnaces on hand ready for erection, for 8 to 12 room houses, either quite compact or open. This furnace will heat every room up stairs or down with a desirable and satisfactory heat at a less expense than stoves. Owing to its construction only one register is required; it will not heat your cellar, will take but a day or so to install, is in every way positively guaranteed; this same furnace has been successfully sold for twelve years by the largest and leading furnace manufacturer in the world.

We also have the JEWEL COAL SAVER RANGE which is well named because it is so built as to save fuel yet gives perfect satisfaction at all times.

Don't forget to ask about the JEWEL HOT BLAST Heater which will cut your fuel bill one-third.

All the JEWEL line is guaranteed to give you satisfaction in every respect.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Myrna Service of Detroit spent Sunday at home.

Miss Mabel Ager was home from Detroit over Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Florence Sisson of Toledo spent Sunday with her daughter, Miss Ione, at the Service home.

F. S. Anderson and family of Toledo were Sunday guests of their Tecumseh relatives and friends.

John Blesing has just received a wire from his son Russell that he expects to start next week for France. The other son Verl is in the hospital at Hempstead with Spanish influenza.

To show how strong a hold Spanish influenza has on the Great Lakes training station, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bachman said when they brought home the remains of their son Harold Tuesday, there were sixty bodies of our boys awaiting shipment to their homes.

Last Sunday was a most interesting day at the Baptist church It being patriotic day, Mrs. Moore and her choir provided fine decorations, an orchestra and an exceptional musical program. Dr. Hartzog spoke on; "What would you do if your son had gone to war?" A. O. Howard and Ira Ashley managed the bond sale which amounted to two thousand dollars. In the afternoon Dr. Hartzog addressed a meeting at the Springville school house, where two thousand three hundred dollars was subscribed.

Mrs. Roger Bresnahan, of Toledo, is visiting her brother, Oscar Lidke, and wife.

Miss Ethel M. McIntyre went to Ypsilanti Saturday to resume her studies at the Normal college for the coming year.

Frank Fabrique and family of Clinton visited from Saturday to Monday with Mrs. Fabrique's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Macham.

Mr. Bailey of Brooklyn and John Hall of Hillsdale spent Sunday at Al Brooks'. Mr. Bailey was enroute to Ann Arbor to enter college and Mr. Hall to Lansing.

Pvt. Horace Gray started yesterday for Brooklyn, N. Y., to return to the Marine [illegible] where he had been treated before coming home. He is to be fitted with a new foot and then be ready for more government work.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Marshall and daughter came over from Adrian Saturday evening for an over Sunday visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Wright and family. Mr. Marshall received a telegram the latter part of last week stating that his son Corporal Leon Marshall, has been severely wounded in action August 31. A letter from Corporal Marshall received Saturday stated that he is getting along nicely. He also wrote that Capt. Benner and Sergeant Reed had been sent home from Co. B to train soldiers over here. Corporal Marshall's turn to come home for that duty was next in line, but his injury changes the order of things. Corporal Marshall enlisted from Clinton, his former home.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. E. D. Brown Thursday October 10, at 2:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Freeman entertained the latter's sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hildinger of Manchester over Sunday.

Lieut. Harold Tribolet has been visiting here and at Coldwater since Thursday. Last evening he started back for the camp in Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Temple entertained the former's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Pope, of St. John's a few days last week.

Mrs. [illegible] was called to Toledo Monday by the illness of her daughter Margaret. On Tuesday both returned. Miss Margaret [illegible] working as a nurse in St. Vincent's hospital.

Thursday evening Mrs. John F. Temple gave a 6 o'clock dinner—a birthday surprise for Mr. Temple. In addition to friends from St. Johns were present Mrs. Hettie Temple and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Temple of this place.

Mrs. Frank Horning has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Deming several days. Her husband arrived Wednesday and that afternoon they went to Cleveland where he was called by the American Steel & Wire Co.

Rev. Lawrence Linton, retiring pastor of the Friends church, was happily surprised Tuesday noon when called before the employees of the H. Brewer & Co. and presented with a set of silver knives and forks as a token of esteem from his fellow workers. Supt. Geo. Stanley made a neat presentation speech, to which Rev. Linton responded appropriately. Rev. Linton, who, with his family, leaves today for his new charge at Smithfield, O., has been a regular war worker at Brewer's since last June. The many friends wish the family success in their new field.

Geo. Hawkes has received another war souvenir from his son, Capt. Milburn Hawkes, who is laid up in a hospital since participating in the great American drive that forced the Huns back something like 19 miles. This souvenir is a Prussian pack made of what appears to be a mule hide. The pack is well made and has quite a capacity. Stamped on the inside are the initials "G. J. B. X" and "B. A. 10, 1913." The pack is on display at B. J. Pulver's store.

The Herald has been late the past few weeks due to the installation of new machinery and getting the power for same regulated correctly. Two weeks we have printed in Clinton. but this week we will print in this office. As the folder is not yet adjusted the paper will be in one sheet, a little inconvenient. Readers have been patient, about the only complaint reaching this office is to the effect that there is too much reading; it takes too long to read the paper.

HAROLD BACHMAN ANSWERS LAST CALL

Dies at Great Lakes Traning Station of Spanish Influenza and Pneumonia.

One of our former young people, Harold Bachman, was called to answer death's roll call Saturday morning at the Great Lakes Naval Training camp at Chicago. His death was due to Spanish influenza and pneumonia.

The young man was especially highly respected, having lived a life worthy of example and his death, indeed, brings a shadow over this entire community. He was born in this place, February 2, 1896. After finishing Ridgeway schools he went to Tecumseh, where he graduated in 1913. He took the commercial course at Ypsilanti and after his graduation taught in the Saginaw high school, resigning that position to enter government work at that place. In July he joined the navy and entered training in the camp near Chicago.

His brother, Gordon Bachman, visited him there a short time ago, the other members of the family deferring their visit because he was expected home on a furlough the same week he was taken sick.

Deceased was a member of the Ridgeway M. E. church, F. & A. M. lodge and the Y. M. C. A. organization.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bachman, three brothers, Gordon, Leland and Raymond, and one sister, Agnes. The remains arrived here Tuesday from Chicago and were taken to the home of his grandparents and later to the M. E. church in Ridgeway, where the funeral services were conducted by his former pastor, Rev. J. E. Somers. His grave was covered with beautiful flowers, symbolic of the life he lived.

R. N. Hayward was in Montpelier, O., Monday.

Clyde Exelby visited friends in Detroit over Sunday.

Miss Pearl Linton was home over Sunday from Detroit.

Mrs. G. H. Allen of Toledo visited at J. H. Zeluff's last week.

The little boys of Hiram Theeke have been having the mumps.

Miss Helen Lowe is home from her school duties on account of sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Smith of Cone spent Sunday at E. R. Smith's.

Will Pocklington and Howard Hooten were here Sunday from Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dahls are entertaining Mrs. Frank Milliman of Iron Mountain, Mich.

Miss Frances Wagner of Holloway spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Taylor.

F. W. Yates and Mrs. Alice Spencer visited over Sunday at Paul Bomebennek's in Flint.

Mr. and Mrs Snoddy of Arrowsmith, Ill., are here visiting their son, Jack Snoddy and family.

Mrs. C. F. Brown and baby, Ned, visited the latter part of the week at Bert Bachman's in Dundee.

Miss Lillian Gorham and friend, Harold Phair, were here Friday and Saturday from Homer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Taylor and son, Lawrence, have been spending a few days with relatives here.

L. C. Swick came home Saturday from a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Willard Collins and husband in Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. David Boyd, Mrs. L. E. Osterhout and Mrs. Jennie Kyle attended thefuneral of a relative at Sheldon Saturday.

Royal McElroy and Chet Pilbeam were in Monroe Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Prichard accompanied them home for a few days.

Mike Bachman and family of Monroe and Mrs. Ray Smith and Mildred of Detroit were called here the first of the week by the death of Harold Bachman.

Mrs. Stanley Ford and baby of Birmingham were Monday callers at Frank Miller's. They were enroute to Tecumseh, having been caled there by the death of her father, Fred Aten.

Mrs. Chas. Hooten and little grandson were here Monday evening from Tecumseh and called on her mother, Mrs. J. B. Beasley. They were enroute for Detroit for a few days' stay with relatives.

Rev. H. H. Hescott, president of the M. P. conference, gave the sermon Sunday evening at the M. P. church. The business meeting was held Monday afternoon. He was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Tamblyn while here.

Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hayward and Mrs. James Hindes were John Wilson, wife and son, Amos, and Robert Wilson and family of Tecumseh/ Mr.

Simon Gould spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Andrew Shaler, in Milan.

Mrs. Lyman Curtiss of Tecumseh spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Curtiss.

Mrs. Geo. Bellows of Findlay, Ohio, and Miss Fisher of Adrian were recent guests at Hiram Theeke's.

Paul Clement had two of his fingers injured so badly in the ensilage cutter that amputation was necessary. Drs. Lusty and Hardy attended him.

Friends here were deeply grieved to learn of the death of Privat David Gibson of Ridgeway, who was killed in action about four weeks ago in France.

Mr. Wilson from east of town lost a valuable horse Thursday. The team became frightened and ran away, running into a shed of Jackie Underwood. The animal fell and broke its leg, so it had to be shot.

Word was received Monday from Capac that Miss Mabel Bloomer, who went there for a visit ten days ago, and was taken ill with Spanish influenza, is recovering slowly, her fever having left her. Two other members of the family where she visited are still very sick, pneumonia having set in.

NORTH ADRIAN

Rev. Davis preached a patriotic sermon at this place Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. George Rehklau and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dibble were present in the interest of raising the Liberty Loan bonds. Over $2,000 was raised at the church. In the afternoon the school house was open for the same purpose, with Frank Wright in charge. L. C. Dibble headed a subscription paper for John Willnow with $5 for a Liberty bond and nearly all of his neighbors gave the same amount, and over $70 was raised in a short time. Mr. Willnow, who lives on the Wm. Smith farm, one-half mile north of the Grange hall, was burned out last Friday night while getting supper. Only what was on the lower floor was saved, everything up stairs and down cellar was burned, together with 300 cans of fruit.

The Ladies' Circle met at the Grange hall this week to tie comfortables for Mrs. John Willnow, who was burned out last week. A nice lot of work was done, and canned fruit and pickles and other things given them. Mr. and Mrs. Willnow have the sympathy of their many friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. E. H. Brown entertained the Ladies' Aid last week Thursday with a picnic dinner, 23 being present. The ladies were asked to fetch clothing for the Belgians. The quota was 45 lbs., but as every one was interested 74 lbs. were bought. Mrs. Geo. Rehklau and Mrs. Jas. Dibble had charge of it. After dinner the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Ladd, as the president, Mrs. Ives, was absent. The secretary's report was read and accepted. The same officers were elected to preside for the coming year. The ladies will meet with Mrs. Minnie Gove in two weeks.

Mrs. Emily Slater went to give the alarm of fire at Mr. Willnow's house and was riding on the running board of H. R. Ladd's car when in some manner she fell to the ground. She was picked up unconscious and carried into her house. Her head was injured quite badly. Dr. Andrews of Adrian is attending her and she is getting along as well as can be expected. Mrs. Slater is past 71 years of age.

H. R. Ladd received word Monday that his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth smith of Jackson had fallen and injured herself quite badly. Mr. and Mrs. Ladd went Monday to see her.

L. C. Hall received the sad news of the death of his uncle, Fred Aten, who died Monday morning of pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boyd of Adrian visited Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Brown over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. VanValkenburg and father visited his sister, Mrs. H. R. Ladd, last Friday.

Important Meeting of Horticulturists.

The forty-eighth annual meeting of the Michigan State Horticultural Society is to be held at Detroit, Dec. 10, 11, 12, 13. The officers have been busy for months making plans for this meeting and it is expected to be the largest and most important meeting the society has ever held.

The Michigan apple show is one of the new features, and there will be the biggest display of Michigan apples ever shown in this state. The display will represent apples from practically every fruit-growing township in the state. Many other new features including canning demonstrations, exhibits by the Bureau of markets, a sight seeing trip about Detroit, and inspection of the Eastern market, will make this a "Win the War" convention.

The program covers four full days with one evening session which will be a rousing patriotic one and should not be missed by any one. Programs and particulars will be mailed to members of the society. The secretary is George M. Low, Bangor, Mich. Programs and particulars will be mailed to anyone upon application to him.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Walter E. Norris to His Sister, Mrs. J. O. Eaton.

A. P. O. 737, France,
September 1, 1918.

Dear Ella:—

I have done a lot of traveling in my life, so much that one would scarcely expect me to have any thrills left, but I have recently finished what I must record as the greatest trip I ever took. I have been on a detail for eleven days which necessitated travel by motorcycle or side-car through the heart of France. One of the officers here, a good friend of mine, has often joked me for giving so much time to the French language. He would say, "Why are you so interested in French? You will not need to use it when you return to the states." But one never knows. I surely would not have been able to do this work if I hadn't had a knowledge of French, and the trip has been a wonderful experience. My uniform and my business gained me access everywhere and gave me an opportunity to learn the life and customs and ideas of the French people as nothing else could have done. I feel as though I were well acquainted with France, her people, and even her domestic animals. For traveling by road in France one meets all the barnyard inhabitants, usually being herded by a little girl or boy scampering after them in wooden shoes. And many a time the driver had to slow down to save fat geese from destruction or to wait for a big white cow standing in the middle of the road gazing complacently at us to decide leisurely her next course of action.

A beautiful country we passed through — mountains, hills and valleys, covered with forests, fields of grain, vineyards and gardens. Sometimes it seemed as though I must be in a dream. There I was traveling through the heart of France, stopping at the little hamlets with their gaint old ivy-covered buildings, mingling with the French people in their own homes, speaking their language, and learning first hand their life and customs and thoughts. And such wonderful hospitality. I felt like a king all the time, I was so royally received at every place. From the littlest tot (and many of the little folks stood at salute or waved the hand and shouted "l'Amerique" as we passed) to the highest of the nobility—they were all of one kind and heart. They couldn't do enough for us. Always inviting us to eat and drink, especially to drink, and they have some delicious concoctions. I won't be at all prepared for prohibition America by the time I return. And we always aroused the greatest curiosity. Often the entire village seemed to be stirred completely and we finally felt slighted if the whole town wasn't literally on top of us as soon as we stopped. Some little towns never had had an American in them either before or since the war and you can imagine what an exhibition we were for them. Then our vehicle was also a strange one. The motorcycle with sidecar is distinctly an American piece of machinery and was never used in France until we brought it for war work. Just now because of its convenience, speed, and economical use of gasoline, it is unequalled for certain kinds of work. It even beats the Ford because if one can't find a garage when needed one can almost stick it in his vest pocket. It will go everywhere except up trees and stairs and we sometimes tried even those. For my business I usually sought the mayor or some leading citizens. That might mean anybody from a laboring man wearing his wooden shoes and smock to a baron or a count with the gentleman's attire and an abundance of the subjunctive mode. That last I have found one of the trials of the French language, but well educated people don't seem to mind it at all.

A number of features about France impress me everytime I make a move in the country. One is their wonderful roads. I traveled more than eight hundred miles on this trip, by national routes, lesser roads and even back roads, all hard and solid with real foundations and always kept in repair—piles of cracked rock here and there by the roadside for repair being noticeable at all times. Another is the magnificent natural scenery, no broad expanses of flat plain, but hills and valleys rolling along and further east the mountains appearing, bearing a slight resemblance to Switzerland. And in addition to what nature has done for them, the French people with their artistic bent have so many tastily arranged gardens, trellises and arbors and (among the more aristocratic of course) so many beautiful chateaux. Now that I am somewhat acquainted with France I do not wonder that she is jealous of all her beauty and hates the destruction incident to war. Even as I write now I can look out of my window at our "back yard"—a garden which is a perfect picture.

The French are never in a hurry. They always have time to enjoy the good things of life, such as eating and drinking and being hospitable. They always wanted us to stop and visit. And the nobility I found to be aristocratic only in the finest sense of that word and as democratic at heart as the best of our Americans.

Threshing was in progress in the whole district and I know a description of that process at a farmyard wouldn't be uninteresting to you. While my driver was repairing a puncture on the roadside near a threshing machine in operation I strolled in to watch the threshing and visit with the farmers. A load of wheat stood by the side of the separator. Only one man was on the load pitching to the machine and even he had to wait between bundles. He would pitch a bundle to the table, a boy on the machine would untie the hand-bound bundle, throw the band to the ground, and feed the bundle to the machine with the heads in the proper direction. The grain would come out in the bagger and the straw going through a binding contrivance where we in America would have our "blower," was bound into a bundle and kicked out, with the heads mostly in one direction, looking like a bundle of wheat, except that the heads were completely shelled—not a lot of kernels left to be thrown into a stack as our speed sometimes does for us. The bundles of straw were stacked and will probably be requisitioned by the government to be used, as one of the farmers told me, as beds for men or food for the animals.

Delightful surprises were continually in store for me. At one humble looking little town I found they had no mayor as the vacancy caused by his death had not been filled, and as usual all the town flocked my way as soon as I stopped. I asked for the mayor and while they were busy explaining, I saw on a hill in the distance a quite distinguished looking gentleman approaching. He had on real leather shoes instead of sabots—puttees, a crash suit and had field glasses swung over his shoulder. I found he was another of those democratic aristocrats. He covered his whole town and environs with me and then insisted on my taking dejeuner with him. We went into his magnificent chateau, met his charming daughter, and her four beautiful little girls, and had a delicious repast. I sat at one end of the table, my driver at the other, the host on one side and his daughter on the other. The four little girls were divided among us (not for eating but for seating arrangement). They looked like little wax dolls and were the best behaved little tots I ever saw. Before the meal my host quietly asked me if I ate with my driver and I told him it would be all right, so I committed the unpardonable sin of eating with an enlisted man, which I did on my whole trip in different hotels and places where we might happen to be. I forgot to tell you that my command consisted of two sergeants and two drivers, with three motorcycles and side-cars.

I must tell you another enjoyable experience before I stop. Up in a beautiful mountainous country I found the Baron d'Aboville living in his beautiful chateau which, with the highest mountain in the region for a background, made a picturesque scene. He took me into his chateau and immediately began to talk about Yorktown. He showed me a frame menu card, a souvenir of a dinner he had attended in Philadelphia in 1881 in celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of Yorktown. He then showed me a photograph of his grandfather who had served as colonel under Rochambeau at Yorktown, later returning to France as a general. After I went out and was descending the steps the baroness followed and asked me if I wouldn't have some refreshments which invitation I gladly accepted. She took me back into another spacious room where I found the rest of the family (including two very charming daughters) and soon we were served the most delicious wine I ever tasted. We had a most delightful visit. You should have heard me make polite remarks in French. Now I know you will say it is strange you never heard me say such things in English.

But I musn't go on any longer or you will think there is to be no end. But I couldn't help getting somewhat enthusiastic, and the superlatives I have used are rather too few than too many for an adequate description. I never saw so many smiles in my life as I have seen in these recent days. Just think of traveling 800 miles by country roads and through all kinds of little towns and having everybody smile at you. And I have felt that the whole experience is one that could not be had in any other way, especially in the tourist way in peace times, as there would be no occasion to seek the acquaintance of the people, which of course is the only method by which one can get an adequate understanding of a country and its people.

I am back on the old grind again (we just happened to be lucky enough to get this Sunday afternoon off), but that little special detail certainly was a welcome change. I don't suppose you can imagine as well as I know how long I have been digging away here. It is just nine months the day after tomorrow since my good little wife struggled hard with tears that would not be restrained and waved me a farewell hand as I disappeared into a big gray ship.

This letter is quite a contrast to most of the letters about war that you are accustomed to read, isn't it? And yet all my letter has been simply describing experiences that are sidelights on and incidental to a part of the war work over here.

Things are looking great now, aren't they? Everybody over here is sure the Hun has put over his last offensive. Indeed, I haven't any doubt that old Kaiser Bill thinks the same himself.

Anyway, we are expecting to have a few celebrations back in U. S. A. before the year 1919 runs its course.

Affectionately,
Walter E. Norris.

Dr. Hammel to His Wife.

B. E. F.
Sept. 3, 1918.

I started to write you two days ago but I had to go away with my commanding officer and then last night as I sat down to write, "Mournful Mary," the aircraft siren tooted so I couldn't write.

Yesterday the English and French papers had the news that the draft age was to be 18 to 45 in the U. S. A. and a good thing it is too.

It doesn't seem possible, but next Sunday is my birthday. Last year I was at Reninghelst, back of Ypres on my birthday. Before you get this letter I will have spent 14 months in France. I am going to see the States, you can just bet before another 14 months.

The captain commanding the garrison guards here, the chaplain and I went down to the French tea shop for a cup of "chocolat," and how much do you think they wanted for a good sized peach? A franc and a half (30c)! We told them they would have to keep them.

The old Hun is getting his now, isn't he? If the allies keep on as they are at present they will soon have back "Tecumseh cabin" that I built near the town of Vermand a few miles north and west of St. Quentin.

The Major is applying to the Base Commandant here, for permission for me to billet with a French family. An old Frenchman and his wife live in a beautiful chateau near here, and I can get in there. All their boys are in the war.

A French seaplane is looping the loop most gracefullly down on the beach, I can see him from my window as I sit writing this.

I am watching with great interest the situation in Russia. We are lucky here, for we get the London papers about 5:30 p. m. of the same day that they are printed and get the latest news in the evening French paper. Since writing the above the guns at the front have begun rumbling again.

Must stop now and go inspect kitchens and sign my daily reports.

The magazines and papers come along beautifully. I simply could not get along without all of them. The other British officers are greatly interested in our American magazines too.

Dr. Hammell.

This letter was written just after he returned to France after his leave in August to England and Scotland.

Glenn Bowen to His Mother, Mrs. R. J. W. Bowen.

American Expeditionary Force,
Sunday, Sept. 1st, 1918.

Dear Mother:—

Today is letter writing day again. Most of the boys have gone over, to Fontaineville, a city near here, so it's pretty quiet in this village. Perc and I would have gone too, but he is on guard duty, starting at 4 p. m., so we thought we would postpone our trip until next week. It's only about 5 miles, just a nice little Sunday jaunt, and as it is quite an important city, at least historically, I think it would be well worth the effort.

The chief attraction is an old chateau occupied at one time by Napoleon, and in which he signed some treaty, but what it was I can't say, as I have forgotten nearly all I learned about European history. If you are interested I will try and find out more about it when we go. We were given a very good entertainment this morning under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. by a company of artists from Paris, a violinist, singer and caricaturist. The violinist was a Y. M. C. A. man who played exceptionally well. The singer was a girl from Paris who sang songs in both French and English and the caricaturist drew pictures of the famous men of the day, besides a number of comic pictures. So you see we aren't entirely away from civilization, even though we are a long way from home.

Yesterday was the first time we received mail since coming over seas and it sure was a big event, It makes a person feel like a millionaire to have a hundred franc note in his pocket, It sounds much bigger than $20, doesn't it? I'm going to send some money home the first chance I get and, by the way, I've just made an allotment of $15 a month from my pay starting with September which you can keep for me or spend; I don't care which. I made it out in favor of Dad so he can take care of it.

Everything is very dear in France as I suppose it is all over and what little there is left is practically prohibitive in price. Formerly a franc (20c in our money) had the purchasing power of our dollar, but not so now. I don't see how these people get along as well as they do, but they all seem happy and contented around here anyway. Once in a while we can buy some very delicious cheese, about three good "bites," for a franc. In ordinary times for that price you would be able to get enough to last a week.

Percy received a couple of Heralds in the mail. They sure looked pretty good to us. I wish you would send papers as often as you can, for while I know they don't all come through, still there would be some that would I am sure.

Perc is a coporal now, I'd have you know. He was busy today sewing on his chevrons. Since I have been here I have been acting as orderly at battalion headquarters for my company, just an ordinary messenger. Ther's nothing much to do most of the time, so time hangs rather heavily some days. My job is considered to be quite a snap, but I'd rather be out with the rest of them drilling any day. But then it seems to be the rule in the army to never be satisfied with the job you have, so I suppose it's just as well. Will write again soon.

Yours with love,
Glenn.

From Ernest Burdett to His Father, Eugene Burdett.

Somewhere in France,
August 18, 1918.

Dear Father:—

A real sure enough foreigner is writing to you and thinking of you now. You see when I was where the children were calling, "Hello, Sammie, you got any cents," it did not seem as though the British Isles were so far away after all. But, here, Oh Lord!

Well, Father, may say the people are most hospitable in every way. I would just like to give you as complete a description of our surroundings as possible but can hardly do that. We are well taken care of, however, even have warm water in the morning i. e., the water in the canal does not cool off much during the night. You see the canal is a regular wash basin, wash tub, and one might say the home for many since many a family lives in the canal boats on it.

The buildings are all built of stone and concrete and the roads of cobble stone. In fact the buildings in which we are now quartered are concrete ones vacated as I understand by the inhabitants that we might be quartered in them. In this house, fire places are in several of the rooms. A large old fashioned clock is still here, the chairs, table, bureaus, beds, etc., are of the type grandmother was used to in her early days. However, one cannot help but appreciate the novelty of the place.

For beauty, one must say that the landscape hereabouts is just grand. Just in sight of here is the town of Sancere, which, being on rather elevated ground, presents a fine view. Large vineyards well cultivated between here and there, the winding roads that lead to the village, the river Loir and the splendid growth of trees round about all tend to beautify the scenes. What is more, every day since we arrived in France has been just so bright and sunshiny and I do not wonder now that the term, "Bright Sunny France" was always applied to this country.

Never-the-less, the grand old U. S. A. for mine, forever and anon. Oh, not until we have finished with our enemies and let's pray to God that it may be done up right, too.

Well, Father, I would like to write lots more and feel just like it, but as I learned this forenoon that Ed. (Sgt. Brunner) is only about four miles from here I believe I will endeavor to locate him. Ed was over Friday evening to see me, but I had just left here to take a bath in the river as is customary. Surely it will seem great to see him. Have not since we left Long Island.

Now, take good care of yourself and do write often. Haven't heard from you since we left Michigan but expect our mail will be coming in any day. Give my best regards to all inquiring friends.

So trusting that this finds you enjoying the very best of health and that I may be with you in the not distant future, I am as ever yours, with love,

Ernest.

From Corporal Leon Fagan to His People.

Somewhere in France.

Dear Folks at home:

Just got back from church and, having the rest of the day to myself, I will try and catch up with my letter writing. Just try and imagine my surprise yesterday morning when I received two packages, the cigarettes and chain you sent me. Those cigarettes; Gee, Lu, if you only knew what a luxury a tailor-made cigarette is over here, you would know just how much I appreciate them.

I will try and tell you a little of our trip. After we crossed the channel, we stopped at a rest camp a short time; then we boarded a train which we were on for about 52 hours. The trains here are very much different from the ones at home. The engines are much smaller and the passenger coaches are divided into compartments which hold about eight people. That wasn't the kind we rode in, however. We rode in horse cars, about 24 men to a car. Of course they had seats built in them, but nevertheless it was pretty tiresome, and at the end of the trip we were a bunch of tired, dirty fellows, but we had a lot of fun just the same.

We are living near a little village and are in what the French people call billets, but at home they are just barns. We have a nice big court yard all around our barn so we spread our blankets on the ground and sleep in the open. We eat in the open, too, but we don't mind that, for I guess it never rains here, at least it has been nice and shiny every day since we came here.

The people here are certainly grand. They do everything in their power to make things pleasant for us. They are having a great time, though, teaching us to talk French, but I'm learning a few new words each day, and I think in time I will be able to talk French well enough to get around. It was funny when we first came here. We didn't know French money and when we bought anything we held out a handful of money and they would take what they wanted.

I saw Hiram Gove in England. He is with Ernest Church and that bunch. I don't know where they are now.

I will have to tell about the fair they have in this village every Thursday. The people call it market day and they bring vegetables, dry goods, etc., into the market square to sell. Last Thursday was a big day and you could buy anything from a wooden shos to muskmelons. Everyone wears wooden shoes here. They go thumping along, and you can hear them coming for a block away. Leather shoes would cost a fortune here.

Don't worry about me, for I never felt better in my life. I only hope you are all as well.

Tell everybody to write if it's nothing more than a card, for mail here is like a friend from home. Write often and tell everything about the old town.

Leon.

Flour Regulations
For Farmers

We are authorized, upon receipt of the following pledge, properly signed, to deliver wheat flour to farmers without substitutes, but the amount of wheat flour so delivered must not exceed the amount which can actually be extracted from the farmer's own wheat, or an amount in excess of normal supply for one year. (The word "Farmer" in this connection is defined as "a person actually living upon a farm and personally conducting farm operation.")

Sign the pledge below and bring to our mill office:

Pledge to be Signed by Farmers Exchanging Their Own Wheat to Obtain Flour Without Substitutes.

I hereby certify that the wheat this day delivered by me to THE WM. HAYDEN MILLING CO. was grown by me on my own farm.

I pledge myself to use such flour only in my own household or establishment, and not to resell any of it without permission.

I further pledge myself, in using such flour, to conform to the program of the United States Food Administration with regard to substitutes and to use in baking of all bread at least one pound of substitute to four pounds of wheat flour; or, if rye is used, two pounds of rye flour to every three pounds of wheat flour.

With no thought of bursting shrapnel and poisonous gases into which they plunge—with every muscle tense, with every faculty of mind alert, with one thought only—TO FIGHT AND WIN.

That is the way our men are going into battle. When the shrill whistle sounds the advance, out they go—their whole heart in the task before them. No power on earth can hold them back.

Forward!

The same sharp challenge to battle is sounding for us. We must answer in the same proud way—the way of our fighting men—the American way. We must lend the way they fight.

We must show the war-maddened Hun a united American people moving forward shoulder to shoulder, irresistibly, to Victory.

Our task is to supply the money, the ships, the guns, the shells that we must have to win. It is a tremendous task. We must do it as our fighting men do theirs—with the indomitable spirit of Victory.

We must work, and save, and lend with one thought only—TO FIGHT AND WIN.

Get into the fight—with your whole heart. Buy Bonds—to the utmost!

DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION

Given Rev. Somers and Family at Ridgeway.

At Ridgeway Monday evening the people of that Methodist church and the Macon church gave Rev. Somers and family a delightful reception as the reverend and family go this week to his new pastorate at Dundee. There must have been upwards of 300 present, Mr. Somers having made many staunch friends miles in every direction. The Ridgeway people, with Elmer Pocklington of Detroit as spokesman, gave Mr. Somers a gold watch and the Macon people later brought him in a set of solid oak dining chairs. The Standard Bearers presented an ivory ste to Miss Helen and a fountain pen to Judson. These were presented by Miss Sena Hathaway, president of the organization.

Rev. Combellack, the new minister, was present to be introduced to his people by Rev. Somers whom everybody there likes so well. A fine lunch was served.

MRS. CHAS. ALBAUGH

Former Resident Dies in Hillsdale Following Paralytic Stroke.

Mrs. Chas. Albaugh, a resident here up to some 25 years ago, passed away Sunday noon at her home in Hillsdale. A week before she had suffered a stroke of paralysis, death following a second stroke.

Margaret Neeley was born in Antrim county, Ireland, 72 years ago, coming to Franklin township when four years of age, with her parents. Her first husband Wm. Laird, who was killed in the Civil war. Later she married Chas. Albaugh and lived [illegible] years in Tecumseh where Mr. Albaugh had a splendid pump business. They moved to Hillsdale a quarter century ago and since Mr. Albaugh and only son Ernest have owned and conducted a jewelry store.

Besides the immediate family, Mrs. Albaugh leaves one brother, John Neeley of Detroit, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Ann Boyd, now in Adrian. She was also a sister of the late Mrs. Matthew Montgomery of Tecumseh.

The funeral was held yesterday from the home in Hillsdale with burial in that city.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Aylesworth Sunday.

Sunday was the 45th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Aylesworth. A party of neighbors and old friends walked in before noon and took possession intending to see that the event was properly celebrated. Even the bridesmaid and best man of the long ago wedding, Mr. and Mrs. A. Stitt, of Brooklyn, were present. Everyone did justice to the big picnic dinner and thoroughly enjoyed the day.

FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR DR. BALMER AND FAMILY

The Methodist people gave a reception Monday evening for their pastor, Dr. W L Balmer, and wife. A large crowd of friends attended and the event was highly enjoyed.

Following a social hour Mrs Wilfred Waldron called the company to order and presided over the program which followed. The Ukelele Girls gave a couple of pretty selections. Revs. Hartzog and Rex spoke appreciatively of Dr. Balmer's work here. This was followed by a short talk by the doctor Mrs. A J Bigelow presented the couple with a beautiful framed picture in behalf of the Standard Bearers and Queen Esther Circle. Refreshments were served by Epworth League members

Both Dr. and Mrs Balmer have been good workers in this pastorate and leave behind them hosts of friends whose best wishes accompany them to their new home in Chelsea

Have you received the pictures I had taken? We say Raynor Quackenbush on our way here; he arrived several days later than we did, but he is looking fine. I like this company I am in better than the other one in most every way. Have you seen Lena lately, and how is Dad and all the rest getting along? Tell Howard Manley my address and if he has not answered my letter to write and I'll get it some time. We have received two letters since we have been here—yours with the pictures and one from Lena. It was sent to Custer written July 17. Yours was forwarded from Mills. Well will let "Stub" write on the other side so will close and don't worry for we are O. K.

With Love
Hiram J. Gove.

Address—D. Co., 38th Inf., American E. F., A. P. O. 740.

From Herbert Gove.

Hello mother! Am feeling fine. Have been transferred to another company with Hiram so we won't be separated now. It's a regular company, too; somewhat different than the other—better.

Well, Hiram told about seeing Raynor Quackenbush. We saw John Pennington in the same place; he is stationary.

Well, write often so we'll know what is going on. Tell Mrs. Shull that I will write soon, and tell her to write and let me know if she got it back.

Well goodbye, good luck.

Dear Cousin,

"Ye-up," I really received it.

I also received your message among many others in the Alumni banquet letter. I was pretty well pleased with that letter. I'll have to send most of my gratitude to Ralph Avery, though, because he only hoped that I would be back next spring to eat maple syrup. Many of you wanted me to do all sorts of distressing things to Kaiser Bill, which are difficult to do with a carton-bodied Ford, built for less demonstrative pursuits than joy-riding in No Man's Land.

Your letter finally caught me at a hospital farm (I got kicked into the hospital by a docile old Ford), where home mail looked about 10 times as good as usual. I hadn't received any before for ages.

I convalesced at this farm rapidly. My principal job was engineering a team of remount horses and a wagon. This outfit was used to bring the pigs supplies from the hospital to the farm and the supplies came from the back door of the general mess kitchen.

The wagon was of pure French descend; and consequently quite difficult for an alien American" to steer. However, not every private in this man's army can boast of associating with such antiquity. Every line of the wagon's superstructure, every creak of its ancient joints, proclaimed its seventy-five odd years' of faithful loyal service.

In spite of its being disfigured by a seat of freshly sawed boards a French corporal at the hospital was able to recognize its rare vintage; and vouchsafed every one of its 75 years. This corporal was in charge of policing the yards with a squad of Boche prisoners. Policing means cleaning up in the army.

Four of these prisoners came out to the farm and butchered three of our pigs while I was there. A little French territorial with a great big rifle and a long slim bayonet, directed operations. These were healthy looking beggars in round fatigue caps and mixed colored uniforms. They had their coats off, but I had a chance to examine their trousers. On the seat of each some amateur sign painter had painted a large "G. P." (Prisonier de Guiere) in green paint.

From this hospital farm I was sent to Base Hospital 49 and then here. I expect to leave soon for a replacement camp, and then back to Section 591 again, I hope.

The most important thing that has happened here is pay day—a "petite" one two days ago. I now have forty-five francs to jingle in my trouser's pocket and swell out my chest over.

By George, Fern, that bugle is screaming at the top of its voice, "Come and get your beans."

As ever,

Dear Dad:

the best hospitals (and largest) in France where I was sent in from the last push we were in. It is a lovely place in the city of [illegible]. Am getting along fine and expect to be out very soon. The Red Cross is sure doing great work. We hit the Boche [illegible] hard work. Can't write much now as I am too tired and not in the mood; also I can't think what to write. We are not allowed to write much as you know, but I will enclose a clipping which perhaps will be interesting. I will probably be back with the company by the time your letters come again so address me same as usual unless I advise you otherwise as they will forward my mail to me anywhere.

Lots of Love,
Sonny.

Dear Dad:

Just a few lines to let you know I am improving every day. Most of my comrades that were in the hospital here left today and it seems quite lonesome. The nurses hate to see us leave, they say, for we just got nicely acquainted and they are so nice to us that one almost hates to get well. But we all will be back soon and after Fritz again. I am enclosing a clipping which please keep for me as they are about our first offensive where we chased Fritz 19 miles. I sent you a helmet and a pack from one of the crack Prussian guards and I wonder if you will ever get it.

Lots of Love,
Sonny.

RED CROSS NEWS.

Mrs. Richard Mead, chairman, and all those who helped in the campaign to collect clothes for the Belgian Relief fund are extremely gratified with the splendid response to their solicitations. A good deal of warm, serviceable clothing was donated. Among the many generous contributions was one of 20 pairs of new shoes from the Nyland shoe store. $7.00 was contributed in cash, which Mrs. Mead used to purchase hosiery and bootees. The quota assigned to Tecumseh was exceeded. Ed Nyland delivered one auto load Saturday in Adrian, and Pliny Gratz a truck load on Monday.

Mrs. Mead and committee wish to thank all the generous donors.

Mrs. Alec Richards donated a knitted afghan to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Wm. Waldron and her neighbors made and donated seven small quilts, and Miss Lucy Train three quilts to the fund for the French wounded.

Miss Phelps reports that 45 suits of men's underdrawers were sent to Adrian Tuesday, this being Tecumseh's full quota. Mrs. Wm. Eccles took them over as well as 54 pairs of knitted socks, eight knitted sweaters, one pair of wristlets and forty pieces of old linen.

A large consignment of cut out children's garments has been received from Detroit, ready for making up.

WILLYS-OVERLAND BUYS MOLINE PLOW

Company Now Controls Plants in Various States.

John N. Willys announces the acquisition of control by the Willys-Overland of the Moline Plow Company, manufacturers of the Moline-Universal Tractor, with plants at Moline, Chicago, Rock Island, and Freeport, Illinois, [illegible]lis, Minesota; and Poughkeepsie, New York.

The transaction is the most important in years in the agricultural machinery industry, the Moline company, founded in 1865 being one of the oldest farm implement concerns in the United States. Through the purchase in [illegible] and subsequent development of the Universal Tractor company it is today, one of the largest tractor producers in the world.

The imperative war-time need of tractors for farm development, the willingness of the government to assist production through the grant of priorities for the shipment of steel, and the desire of John N. Willys to further coordinate the immense factory and distributing facilities of the Willys-Overland organization in the winning of the war have brought about the new union of automobile and tractor interests.

The Moline product itself is unique in that the tractor and the farm implement are so connected as to form a complete unit, which one man can operate. It is the only tractor which will do all farm work without horses.

At no time in its history has the Moline company been able to supply the demand for its tractor, although shipments are now running fifty tractors per day.

The Moline Plow company has 22 branch houses and 30,000 dealers, Willys-Overland Company has over 100 distributors and 8,000 dealers. As a result of the probable cessation of passenger car production by Willys-Overland early next year the entire selling forces of both companies, as well as their combined manufacturing facilities, will be available for concentration on the development of the tractor as far as may be compatible with the desire of the food Administration to stimulate food production.

In announcing the closing of negotiations for the purchase of the Moline company, President John N. Willys said:

"With the present shortage of man power and horses on the farm and the acute war necessity abroad and at home, of increased food production, the farmer is confronted with the problem of increasing his crops with less help. The tractor with power-drawn farming implements solves the need by enabling one man, woman, boy or cripple to do the work formerly required of two or more men and six to eight horses.

"With it one man can plow an acre an hour at a fuel cost of only two gallons of gasoline."

"In the purchase of the Moline Plow Company I find not only an opportunity for the Willys-Overland Company to lend its maximum manufacturing strength to legitimate war work, but the best and quickest way for it to attain a lead in a field which offers the greatest possibilities with the return of peace and into which motor companies in this age of power farming, it seems to me, must sooner or later enter.

"The Moline organization will remain intact and the company will be operated under the same management as heretofore, F. G. Allen, vice-president and general manager, will become president and general manager.

The Willys-Overland Co. has simply bought control of the Moline Plow common stock—there is no thought of a merger and no change in the latter's financial status is contemplated."

NO USE FOR HUN SAYS ROTTMAN

WOUNDDED SOLDIER HOME ON A VISIT

"The Red Cross is The Biggest Thing Over There"—A Lad Who Has Seen Real Service Tells Experience.

A very pleasant, bright little fellow to meet is Private Sam Rottman, recently wounded in action in France and home just for a few days to see his people after his terrible ordeal.

Private Rottman enlisted in Adrian April 9, 1917, at the age of 18 years, being the first boy in Lenawee county to volunteer after war was declared. He was first sent to Detroit, then to Columbus and after three weeks in the barracks in that city was sent to the Mexican border. He remained in Texas until Jun 2, 1917, sailing on the 14th from Hoboken with Co. L, 26th Infantry, First American division. June 27th he set foot on French soil and saw fifteen months of real war, first billeted at Meanacourt, then in the front trenches on the Lorraine front. Later his division was in the fierce fighting on the Picardy front, but it was in the awful battle on the Soissons front, the second battle of the Marne, where he received the wound which leaves him a cripple for life.

On July 18, 1918, they had driven the Huns back seven and one-half kilometers, almost six miles, in the face of a constant rain of shell and shrapnel when the machine guns got in their work. Four pieces of shells went through his trousers and blouse, but the fifth "got him" as he said, in the hip.

He reached for his first aid and ministered to himself, his comrades being so intent upon chasing the Huns they did not have time to care for him. There he lay for four hours suffering intensely and doing his best to stop the flow of blood from the wound, until he was picked up and taken to the hospitals.

The piece of shell had entered the hip and come out at the back, cutting off the tendon of the leg. He says most of his pain through all this time has been in his foot, sometimes almost driving him insane.

He has so for recovered as to be able to come back to the States, arriving in New York September 9. One week later he was sent to the general hospital at Camp May, N. J.

He has been giving Liberty Loan lectures through Ohio—Cleveland, Akron, Toledo, for a few days, running up from Toledo Tuesday to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Rottman.

Repeatedly does he speak of the good the Red Cross is doing, how the nurses are as kind to the boys as their own mothers could be.

He said in the battle in which he was wounded many German prisoners were taken and as he lay on the ground in the first aid hospital a Hun sat near. The little nurse came up and, lighting a cigarette for him placed it in his mouth, then turning to the German said: "Heine, want to smoke too?" Heine couldn't talk her language, but certainly liked her cigarette. The crippled boy said he couldn't understand her forgiving spirit, but they were just as good to every one.

Nothing looked as good as those big boxes of American chocolate and tobacco which the Red Cross sent down to the trenches. To the care and hard work of the Red Cross nurses may be attributed the wonderful recoveries of so many of the boys, so Mr. Rottman says. "Say for me the Red Cross is the greatest thing over there."

He has no use at all for the German, says he is a coward every time, throwing up his hands and crying for mercy if he sees there is any danger at all, hence the immense number of prisoners reported. These prisoners are well fed, but made to work hard back of the lines. As he told of his killing a big husky with his bayonet and shooting others his eyes glistened and you could fairly feel his great desire to get back into the front line where dangers are thickest.

Pvt. Rottman returned today to Toledo to go on with the lecture tour for Liberty Loan and if he talks as freely before his audience and with the pep and snap he used in our interview yesterday he's bound to pull the money.

Later he will return to the hospital at Camp May and hopes before long to be at home for a longer visit.

Tecumseh Receives County Honor Flag

First Township Over The Top

IN VOLUNTEER LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE

Robert Darnton, President of Lenawee County Patriotic League Sends Flag and Letter of Congratulations.

Tecumseh has received the Honor Flag for being the first township in Lenawee county to go "Over the Top" in the Fourth Liberty bond campaign, and the people can well feel proud of the emblem as it stands for loyal volunteers backing the boys on the fighting lines.

The flag was received by H. S. Temple, chairman of Tecumseh township Liberty Loan committee, and he also received the following congratulatory letter from Robert Darnton, the energetic president of the Lenawee County Patriotic League:

"Mr. H. S. Temple, Chairman,
Tecumseh Township Liberty Loan Committee, Tecumseh, Mich.

"My dear Mr. Temple:-

"It is with pleasure that I forward you under separate cover Honor Flag received from the Honor Flag Committee of the Seventh Federal Reserve district in token of the splendid results achieved in the township of Tecumseh under your management, in having subscribed over your full quota to the Fourth Liberty Loan.

"It is the desire of the Department that wherever such Honor Flag is awarded, the hoisting of same be done with due ceremony, and that the event be made as patriotic in its nature as possible.

"Knowing how splendidly you handled the campaign, I feel that it would be out of place for me to suggest the nature of the program that would best fit the occasion, as I feel confident you will make it an event that will add to the splendid history of Tecumseh Township.

"I also desire to extend to you and your co-workers, my congratulations on being the first unit of our County to reach your quota in actual sales subscriptions.

"Very truly yours,
"Robert Darnton.
"Chairman Lenawee County Liberty Loan Committee."

FINE ADDRESS TO MONDAY CLUB

BY MRS. BURRITT HAMILTON OF BATTLE CREEK.

First Session of Year Held at M. E. Lecture Room Monday Evening—A Profitable Meeting.

The first session of the Monday club for the season of 1918-1919 was held at the lecture room of the M. E. church Monday afternoon, the new officers, Mrs. Joseph H. Smith, president, and Mrs. F. G. Lewis, secretary, presiding. The front of the room was trimmed profusely with foliage and fall flowers.

Mrs. Burritt Hamilton, of Battle Creek, vice president at large of the Michigan State Federation of Woman's Clubs, through the urgent invitation of her friend and co-club-worker, Mrs. J. D. Shull, was present and was introduced to the ladies by the president. Mrs. Hamilton, garbed in severe black, but with her face beaming with intelligence and love for her fellows, made a splendid impression upon her audience at first sight and this impression was immensely enhanced as she gave her message.

She talked on no special topic, unless one takes "The good the club women may and are doing in the present conflict," as such. Her address was couched in beautiful language and all through ran the theme of forbearance for one another and service for others.

She said in part: More important than the programs, no matter how elaborate, is generous forbearance and judgment withheld. Now as never before the club women can accomplish the large things by their unity, especially is equal suffrage coming. Now the woman working to save the boys in the Red Cross hospitals in France is rated in our government 100% less than the most cowardly slacker. These many years we have been unconsciously working to assist our government to rise to meet her present difficulties clean. The idea of every club should be the work of common service. Today peace demands more of us than peace ever did. We can well take a good lesson from our government which insists that our boys have relaxation as well as work. The clubs should not give up their social afternoon. These happy functions are balm to tired minds. She told how life at Battle Creek had changed, how before the cantonment was built the idea there was food for the body, now it is food for the soul. Every organization and person there is bent on doing for the soldiers. This she illustrated, showing what the club women could do to help.

The able address was followed by a piano duet by Mrs. C. H. Williamson and Mrs. F. S. Turner. The music was from the opera, "The Hugonots," of which Mrs. Williamson gave a graphic account previous to the rendition.

After the program a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. H. S. Temple's committee.

GLEN ELLISON SCOTCH BARITONE

GIVES TECUMSEH PEOPLE SPLENDID TREAT

Sings Duets With Self, Solos and Gives Delightful Readings—Big Audience of Music Lovers Pleased.

Frank E. Rude of the Edison Shop, certainly was the means of giving the music lovers of this city a most delightful treat Friday evening. The Bradley opera house was full of people in response to Mr. Rude's invitation and they enjoyed the entertainment every minute.

The event was to prove how perfectly the Edison phonograph can recreate a single voice. A phonograph occupied the center of the stage. The singer stood close and his own records were played in unison with his own voice, or as he described it, he sang duets with himself. One had to watch closely in order to distinguish when the phonograph was singng alone. Only by the motion of Mr. Ellison's lips could one determine for the volume of sound coming from the instrument was nearly as loud as when in unison.

The program was mostly made up of Lauder pieces and no one could be better skilled in this line than the Scotchman Ellison, himself.

All types of musical sound were heard, for his program was rounded out by recreations of a piano solo, a delightful number by a concert orchestra and a rendition of Aloho Oe by Miss Frieda Hempel.

Mr. Ellison with his great gift in his splendid, wonderful voice is an excellent reader and varied his program with several readings. He was called back again and again and his program was lengthened considerably to please his audience. At last the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" from the superb instrument brought the enraptured audience to their feet and the charming program was over.

EARL GRIEVE KILLED IN ACTION

SON OF FORMER TECUMSEH MAN

Makes Supreme Sacrifice September 15—Father's Premonition of Son's Death.

A telegram came to Tecumseh Sunday announcing the death of Corp. William Earl Grieve, son of Mr. R. Grieve, who was killed in action in France Sept. 15. The father of the young man who gave his life for his country was something over a year ago head miller for the Wm. Hayden Milling Co., removing from here to Norvell, then to Bloomington Ind.

Corporal Grieve was drafted from this district, his questionnaire being made out from this village, where he has quite a few friends and acquaintances. Since entering the service he has participated in several strenuous battles.

His father, passing through Tecumseh September 16, had a premonition that everything was not right with his son, and stopped at the N. Y. C. depot to request Agent Geo. Ziehr to forward any messages that might come here. He told Mr. Ziehr that he felt that something had happened to his son.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5
Wm. R. Grieve, Tecumseh Mich.

Deeply regret to inform you cablegram from abroad states Corp. William Earl Grieve, Marine corps, killed in action September fifteenth. Remains will be interred abroad until end of war. Accept my sincere sympathy in your great loss. Your son nobly gave his life for his country.

STUDY WOMEN OF THE ORIENT.

Interesting Program of Papers Pertaining to Subject— Meeting at J. H. Smith Home.

The Westminster Guild met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph H. Smith, with Mrs. W. A. Rex and Mrs. Bert Gray as assisting hostesses. There were some forty present.

Miss Mildred Boyce led the Bible study, taking up the book of Ecclesiastic. Talks were given on the subject by Miss Boyce, Miss Grace Gillespie, Mrs. Rex and Mrs. Bessie Mitchell.

Dr. Pauline Bredow was leader of the study portion, the ladies this term taking up the study of "The Women of the Orient." Papers were given as follows:

Life of the Syrian Woman—Mrs. J. D. Service.

The Chinese and Japanese Women—Dr. Pauline Bredow.

The Wealthy Woman of the Orient—Mrs. C. D. Beebe.

Reading, "The Story of Ming"—Mrs. F. C. Dickinson.

Mrs. Bert Gray gave an excellent report of the synodical meeting which was held at Jackson last week, she representing the Guild.

The hostesses served the guests with wafers and cider and a very pleasant social hour followed.

RALLY DAY EXERCISES

GOOD PROGRAM ENJOYED BY SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Reports Show Organization in Fine Condition—Short Address, by Rev. Rex.

The auditorium of the Presbyterian church was a beautiful place last Sunday when ready for the rally day exercises. Gay fall foliage made a handsome background at the pulpit and choir loft.

The exercises were held instead of the regular Sunday school and morning service. The program as given by the young people and wee ones was very interesting. Special mention should be made of the little play, "Life of Joseph," which Miss Mildred Boyce's class of boys gave in costume. It showed hard work and study on the part of both Miss Boyce and the boys.

Rev. Rex gave a short address, taking for his subject "The Red White and Blue." He told of the colors with meaning in the newly reconstructed service flag of the church, the conquest flag, the new Fourth Liberty Loan flag and last of all Old Glory.

The treasurer's report was very pleasing. The Sunday school in the last year has paid into the church treasury, $150, of Armenian relief $199, for Army Y $225 and nearly $100 for special missionary collections.

Diplomas were given the scholars going from one department to another, presented as follows: Primary department, Mrs. S. W. Anderson; Juniors, Miss Edith Rector; Intermediates, Mrs. S. W. Boyce.

LADIES' BAND FOR TECUMSEH

ORGANIZATION SEEMS TO BE ASSURED.

Twelve Ladies Already Members, With Prospects of a Band of Twenty-five.

A gathering of ladies was held at Miss Owens' millinery parlors Friday evening to plan for the organization of a band. The idea is meeting with pleasing response from the young ladies of the village and is a "sure go."

One elderly lady made it a point to attend the meeting, and said even if she could not play a thing she would be delighted to have the girls meet at her home to practice and they could look to her for financial aid.

The same generous offer comes from others and with this sort of feeling in the community the promoters are assured of a good backing.

Twelve ladies have signed up to become members of this band and the promoters are sure of 25 before the month is over.

This is a fine move on the part of our ladies and if they "stick" they will get in the band wagon to put Tecumseh on the map in such a manner that everybody will know where the "Biggest Little Town on Earth" is located.

Editorial Comment

In big display headlines the Sunday dailies announced that Germany is suing for peace and that immediate suspension of hostilities is proposed. This is just what we expected sooner or later. We knew the brute would come to it as soon as he felt the whip lash good and plenty. The German military government feels itself whipped and to save its own country from some of the destructive results of scientific warfare that she inflicted upon invaded territory she begins to whine and plead for peace—immediate suspension of hostilities. She does not ask this for the benefit of the large area of beautiful country utterly destroyed by her invading armies, but to save herself from harm. But the Allies were ready for the answer and equally large display headings in Monday morning's fairly shouted No!.

The armies of the central powers have been up against it hard for the past month and more. They have been strictly on the defensive, driven back day by day and put decidedly on the run. And now it's time to whimper, just like any whipped cur that is anxious to escape further punishment. They even offer, through the new chancellor, Prince Maximillian, to accept President Wilson's fourteen peace conditions, so the news dispatches stated. What's back of it—more "scientific war" trickery?

We doubt very much if the American people will consent to peace at this time, even at the sacrifice of the lives of more of our boys. The average red-blooded American want to see some of our boys in Berlin. He will have in mind the atrocities and willful destruction committed through German "scientific" warfare. He will remember that Germany prepared for this kind of warfare for fifty years. It will be difficult to erase this blot from the American mind. He will keep in mind also that Germany has not suffered wholsesale destruction as was caused by her armies in invaded countries because the battlefields were all outside of German territory. Can we let Berlin, the source of the war, come out unscathed and the devastated countries go unavenged? It does not look like it to a man up a tree.

The German government has been such a liar and sneak that we can place no trust in any of her peace proposals, although we must realize she is in a precarious situation. With Bulgaria and Turkey out of it and Austria anxious to break her alliance and quit, Germany would be practically isolated and certain of severe punishment. But she may have another card up her sleeve and the Allies must be wary of a new "scientific" trick.

From the humanitariun side of the question one might wish for immediate cessation of hostilities, for there has been plenty of blood spilled because of German avarice or craziness. But we can't feel safe until the Prussian military spirit is completely crushed—crushed to such an extent that there will not be enough left to begin another preparation for a war half a century hence.

Whatever steps are taken in regard to this peace move we must not slacken our pace. We are just getting in fighting trim and Germany has not even learned what we can do. We must bring the Fourth Liberty Loan over the top. We must keep on training soldiers and send them across. We must still make our little sacrifices at home and be prepared to give the finishing touch to the kaiser's "trimming."

President Wilson has refused to consider a halt in hostilities while German soldiers are on invaded territory.

The people of our nation can feel assured that there will be no weakening in President Wilson who has handled the biggest job that has ever been put up to a national executive of this great republic in a most capable manner—in a manner that has inspired a wonderful admiration in the souls of even great men of opposing political faith. We can safely trust him to take the right course of action now. The senate early voiced its sentiment by favorng immediate rejection of Germany's peace offers.

The question of a rural subscriber Saturday evening brought to mind a plea that we wish to make to all people of the community. Our friend asked if The Herald would publish court news. We informed him that was the intent. The editor has been so busy looking after the new equipment, adjusting of machinery, etc., that it has been simply impossible so far to look after every detail of the business end of this office. Thus, while some court matters have been published others have been neglected.

The plea we wish to make to the public is not to ask us to withhold legitimate court news because it affects a certain friend. We don't want the man or woman who gets into court by his or her deliberate violation of any law to come to us and ask suppression or ask some influential citizen to intercede by making such a request for them. If we print court news we must treat all alike. We do not desire to print scandals or anything to harm the character or the good name of Tecumseh, but when matters get into court they are public property and legitimate news. So please remember that hereafter if you do not like to see your name connected with court matters keep out of court and walk the straight and narrow path. We do not intend to foster law violation by suppressing publication.

The government asks all the people to shop early for Christmas. Gifts for boys across must be mailed by November 15. This request is made because Uncle Sam is mighty busy with a big war job and early purchasing will conserve man and woman power, together with transportation facilities, when most needed.

The government further asks that nothing but useful gifts be purchased, except in the case of children. Since our embarkation in the war the government has given much good advice to the people. It has endeavored to instil a growth of thrift and many who have never laid by a dollar in their lives have tucked away in a safe place a bond or two or folders of War Saving Stamps.

During the great need in this war the government has endeavored to teach the people to buy wisely and not to squander money unneccessarily. People have learned to become economical in the use of sugar, meat and flour. It has encouraged home canning and preserving of fruits and vegetables until altogether the citizenship is learning some valuable lessons.

Now, about Christmas shopping. You cannot buy useful articles too early to help relieve the presure on transportation and man and woman power. We don't know what the demand will be at Christmas time, but the government desires that merchants get along with as little extra help during the holiday season as possible. There is no need to inquire into the reason, but just take it for granted that it is necessary and act accordingly.

Keep watch of the advertisements in The Herald and you will find weekly suggestions of useful and suitable gifts for the great, joyful holiday.

At the November election the people of Michigan will again have the opportunity to extend to the women of the great commonwealth the privilege of the ballot. It is our belief that the women of Michigan are fully capable of the judicious use of the ballot and we are certain that they are more apt to vote intelligently than many of the men. Professional politicians are likely to be against the amendment to the constitution to be voted upon because if it carries there will be more independent voters in state. While there are women who would stick to party through thick and thin, the majority are more likely to size up the man for the job and select the best one regardless of politics. If this proves true you can bank on cleaner politics.

If you get a sudden pain in the back, a headache and are on the hummer generally then go home and rest up, feel better, start work again, get another pain, go home for a few days, get up, go to work, get another pain, feel like the devil, go home, go to bed, etc., you put it down that you've got the Spanish influenza. At least it was a description similar to that of the effects of this imported disease given us by one of our physicians.

But, seriously, this disease is one that should be carefully watched and strict spread preventative measures adopted at its first appearance. Up to Saturday last 5,500 cases of the disease have been reported in Camp Custer and other camps have been ravished by the epidemic. The disease is often followed by pneumonia when a weakened system succumbs. Eminent phiysicians advise closing of schools, theatres and discontinuance of public meetings of all descriptions when the disease visits a community.

VICTORY WILL COME NEXT YEAR

WHOLE GOVERNMENT PROGRAM CALLS FOR HIGH SPEED

Army, Munitions, Food Being Produced on Theory War Must Be Won Quickly.

Lansing, Sept. 25.—"If the people at home give armies and and our allies the backing they deserve we will win the war in 1919," declared George A. Prescott, State Food Administrator, discussing his recent Washington pilgrimage, where he attended a conference of all state food administrators with Mr. Herbert Hoover and his staff. "If the war is not won next year several years may be required, and a dreadful sacrifice of American soldiers will be called for. The opinion is frankly expressed at Washington, that failure to win the war during the campaign of 1919 will cost not less than one million of American soldiers, above the tens of thousands that we must inevitably lose in next year's fighting.

Must Strip to the Bone.

"There is no question about the part our soldiers are going to play. The papers are filled with stories of their magnificent successes. If the people at home are to do their part, however, and give the soldiers a fair chance to win in 1919, they must strip to the bone, consider the war as their most important business individually, and be guided in every action by the influence of such action upon the winning of the war. Our people have not yet realized what real war strain is. Before we can win, we must taste of real sacrifice, and the quicker we reach that point, the greater the number of lives of our soldiers will be preserved.

"The task of the American people in the matter of foodstuffs is gigantic and were it not for the magnificent accomplishment of our people already we would not dare hope to attain what is expected of us. During the present fiscal year we must export to our allies 15,000,000 tons of foodstuffs against the 10,000,000 tons which we exported last year; and in addition to this, we must lay up a reserve of wheat and other products sufficient to insure us against disaster, which might result from short crops next year.

Greater Economy Necessary.

"Our campaign for conservation this year will not have the spectacular features of 'meatless' and 'wheatless' days and meals which were necessary last year. Our food products are well distributed and well balanced. What we need, and what we must have, is greater production and greater economy in the use of foodstuffs. In fact, we get right down to the point where we must follow the Food Administration's motto of 'buy less; eat less; waste nothing, while the producer must add to this 'produce more.'

"Not only in foodstuffs must the American people economize. We must economize in labor particularly, and in other things that are large factors in the war situation. It is expected that we will have between 3,500,000 and 4,500,000 men in France early next summer, with a million or more under arms in this country. At the same time, we must greatly increase the number of workmen in shipyards, munition plants and other war industries. All of this means that there is to be an unprecedented drain upon the labor of the country. Non-essential industries must go. Women must take the place of men in some industries that are essential In France 95% of agricultural work is being done by women and children, and the other 5% by old men and wounded men. We shall not approach any such conditions as this, but patriotic women must volunteer for such positions as they can fill, and men must be relieved wherever possible for the harder manual labor required in agriculture and the essential industries.

"The 'Work or Fight' order of General Crowder applied to the new draft is going to work wonders, but in this country we must depend upon volunteer patriotic effort and co-operation by every individual man, woman and child."

BOYS MUST RELIEVE FARM HELP SHORTAGE

Responsibility for Keeping Up Production Is Now on Shoulders of Youths of 16 and 17.

East Lansing, Mich. The responsibility for keeping up the production of food to the level of American and allied demands rests now on the shoulders of boys of 15, 16 and 17 years of age, asserts Ashley M. Berridge, director of short courses at the Michigan Agricultural college.

"Next year," declares Mr. Berridge, "the help of boys from 18 to 21, and men from 31 to 45 will not be available. It will be up to the boys of 15, 16, and 17 to step into the breach on the farms of Michigan."

As a measure towards assisting these young men to render efficient service in this direction, M. A. C. has prepared a series of short courses, of two, four, eight and sixteen weeks in length. It is expected by means of these courses to intensively train boys who present themselves. The courses will be open to boys and young men without charge, except for a small entrance fee. They will be conducted as are other courses at the college with the difference, however, that the young men will be trained with a view to fitting them immediately for the tasks in hand.

It is suggested by the college that boys (women also, if they are interested) get in touch with their county agricultural agents, write to the "Director of Short courses, Michigan Agricultural college. East Lansing,) One course, for women, will begin on October 28, while another, for boys and men will commence on October 29.

MERCHANTS FACE INCREASINGLY CRITICAL SITUATION

More Difficult to Obtain Stocks—Buy Goods That Will Wear Public is Advised.

Because of scarcity of labor and materials, retail merchants are facing a critical situation in purchasing fall and winter stocks and higher prices must prevail all along the line, according to Samuel C. Goodman, of the firm of Brown, Goodman, Schroeder, Taylor, Inc., advertising experts.

Purchasers are therefore advised to buy the best, with the idea in view of using articles, especially clothing, more than one season. This will be imperative, because of the shortage of woolens and labor.

Merchandise Grows Scarcer.

Mr. Goodman says:

"The fall and winter season of 1918-19 is giving promise of being the most critical ever encountered in the history of retail-merchandising. I feel safe in stating that never have there been presented factors of greater importance, not only in the interest of merchants, but more significantly as a national problem, striking as it does at the very heart of the great buying public. Merchandise of every nature and description is scarce, very scarce. It is even difficult to obtain with spot cash, and spot chash is the chief requisite in this season's dealing with the manufacturer.

"The manufacturer, justifiably independent because the demand for his products far exceeds his ability to supply them, is seeking the higher-priced and better quality market for the reason that those markets are less affected because of the stabilized condition, and, in addition to this, he is demanding dash or at least extending very short terms.

"Were the average man or woman to hear the discussions in the private offices of many large retail institutions, as I have had the privilege of hearing, I feel certain that Christmas buying would be complete before the snow flies.

Two Courses for Merchant.

"It is now an old story that the government commandeered the wool supply months ago, causing a serious shortage of materials of the better grade. Then came the draft, which made soldiers out of cutters, designers and operators of all kinds,- which has caused labor to be at a premium. Many manufacturers have their files congested with orders and not a wheel turning in their work rooms.

"In the face of such conditions the retail merchant is confronted with two alternatives: First, to buy the better grade of merchandise and advance his prices accordingly, or, secondly, to seek a cheaper grade of merchandise in order to maintain his previous season's prices. Unquestionably we will agree that this is a momentous question, upon the decision of which rests not only the future, but the entire superstructure of the merchant's business.

"Many retail concerns have expended tens of thousands of dollars the last few seasons in advertising and featuring a particular priced garment and have always been able to maintain good value. How will such merchant bridge the present season without reducing his policy of giving value or without losing a large clientele because he has been forced to advance prices? It presents one of the greatest retail problems that merchants have yet been called upon to solve. The result in most cases is a drive to turn over merchandise as early as possible at a nominal profit.

Prices Going Still Higher.

"Unquestionably we are facing a continually rising market. There will be drops and flurries, to be sure, as the season advances, but these will not be noticeable to any degree of importance. Prices on all materials will advance higher and higher and as the 18—45 draft further depletes the labor market we can prepare ourselves to witness the nation's most reliable merchants asking 100 per cent more than a year ago.

"I have been asked the question, 'Where will this stop?' It is apparent that the solution will come in making styles more permanent, I am advised by some large manufacturers of women's wear that women will buy better materials because of their lasting qualities and manufacturers appear willing to allow styles to remain longer than a single season. This will lend more stability to merchandise than we have enjoyed in years before."

Home Fires

(Contributed.)

This slogan of "Keeping the Home Fires Burning" is not to be taken literally and is not to be interpreted to mean that the house mother should always stay at home and continually wield the poker. There are other ways of stirring things. We know that Lenawee is ninty-nine per cent. loyal from Riga to Woodstock, but there seems to be some difference in the interpretation given to this much quoted and popular injunction about the "fires." One energetic loyal woman somewhere on a direct line between these remote townships, who obeys the food laws religiously, tries all the recipes recommended by those women who write conservation stuff for the papers, (and have never cooked a meal), and who uses all the wheat substitutes, works all the week and then walks to church on Sunday to save gas, says she don't know what they mean by moral (morale) when they drive past her house on Sunday with a Liberty bond poster on the windshield, and a camouflaged fish pole on the running board.

She says: "Garfield, or Hoover, or Prudden, or Beakes, or Frensdorf, or whoever is running these conservation schemes, should look after such people, and after one of her neighbors who is drawing a two pound ration of sugar for a three weeks' old infant." She thinks it looks as if they were trying to evade the law or kill the baby, and in either case they are lowering the "morale" of the community.

Sometimes in obeying the letter we miss the spirit of the law.

We hurrah a lot, and decorate ourselves with all the badges which are supposed to proclaim the different brands of patriotism for which we have had been recently solicited, but when at the end of a meatless, wheatless, sugarless week we have to lock up our garage on Sunday we find our "patriotism" oozing away, while these denials may prove our loyalty more than the wearing of fancy buttons.

Our pioneer mothers understood better than we the significance of "keeping the fires." If the fire went out it was a disaster. No match, no coals, no neighbor near: a dreary tramp through the woods to the nearest settler's hearth, and a borrowed torch, was the only way to keep the children warm and the kettle boiling, so no wonder the fires were to be kept burning, for it meant comfort, safety and good cheer to the returning home makers after their day of out of door toil, just as the work we do, and the cheerful attitude we take toward our seeming deprivations brings good cheer to our home makers "over there."

Our pioneer folks loaned gladly a few coals, or a smouldering torch to a neighbor in his necessity, just as we loaned our wounded hero to be the lion at the banquets of our neighboring towns, and the fuel for their patriotic fires, (even before he had been feasted at home) knowing that a man who had lost a leg in foreign service would be in no danger of losing his head in home fields, however much he might be lionized.

Therefore, if all our winter week days should be meatless and sugarless, and our Sundays continue to be gasless, let us poke up the "Home Fires" (even though they must be of soft coal) and keep smiling.

LEADERS OF BOYS AND GIRLS ENTERS ARMY

E. C. Lindemann to be Sent to Russia by National Y. M. C. A.

East Lansing, Mich. Leave of absence for the duration of the war has been granted to E. C. Lindemann, state leader of boys and girls clubs, by the state board of agriculture. Mr. Lindemann departed on October 1 for Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, where for two or three months he will serve in the camp recreational branch of the army. At the end of that time he will be detailed to Russia to assist in introducing more modern agricultural methods into the new Russian republic.

For the last six years Mr. Lindemann has been connected with the extension staff of the M. A. C. as state leader of boys and girls clubs, building up during this time a club system recognized by the United States department of agriculture as pre-eminent among organizations of this type. More than 40,000 boys and girls were enrolled by Mr. Lindemann in these junior clubs and instructed by him and other club leaders in such subjects as gardening, poultry husbandry, handicraft work, calf clubs, pig clubs, corn clubs and so forth.

A live wire with such a line to offer is justified in being noisy. Now, if you want to be on the line to "Success," buy your building material from us.

Our motto is "To sell lumber and more lumber," and to sell more lumber we must sell you Quality Lumber. Do you catch the idee?

We might put off a bunch of cheap quality lumber on your wagon and think it was a joke, but when you would come to unload and find every joke "cracked," you might come back to our yard but not to buy lumber. Oh no!

We put out grades that will bring you back for more of the same grades. That's the way to sell lumber and more lumber.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nyland were with Jackson friends Sunday.

Read the big Patriotic adv. on page 6. It's to your interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Topps were in Adrian Sunday, guests of her parents.

Rev. C. M. Thompson was in Hudson Tuesday, officiating at the funeral of a friend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bell were Adrian visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith were with her mother and family at Petersburg over Sunday.

Mrs. Chas. Hooten, sr., spent last week in Detroit with her son, Howard Shurtz and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Elliott and son, Tom, were in Detroit Sunday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Elliott.

Mrs. George Seitz has been in Garrett, Ind., for a week called by the death of her son-in-law Harry McLaughlin.

H. W. McClure went to Lansing Wednesday to attend a meeting of the finance committee of the Odd Fellows' Grand Lodge.

Mrs. Helen McCarty of Petersburg was in town Friday and Saturday, coming to see her cousin, Mrs. P. C. Snell, who is ill.

About fifty of the Methodist church people went out to Wendell Phillips' Tuesday for a pot luck supper and to spend the evening. Everyone had a delightful visit.

Attorney J. C. Howell, candidate on the Democratic ticket for the election of prosecuting attorney for Lenawee county, was over from Adrian on business Tuesday.

Mrs. R. A. Plumb and little son of Highland Park are visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Thompson, and assisting them in settling their home at the M. E. parsonage.

Mrs. J. W. Cupples will be leader of the Monday club next week with papers as follows: "France, Topography," Mrs. Wilfred Waldron; "Paris in Early Times," Mrs. Emilie Hall.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hanna of South Haven, Monday last a son. These are former Tecumseh young people and the arrival of the third little son is of pleasurable interest to their many friends here.

Rev. Jas. G. Widdifield went to Midland, his former field of labor, and Saginaw Monday to give patriotic addresses, at the latter city before the northern Episcopalean convocation. He also has received an urgent invitation to give an address before the southern convocation.

Supervisor E. B. Root of Morenci was a pleasant caller at this office Tuesday, enroute to Clinton, where he visited Supervisor O. H. Halladay. Mr. Root is again candidate on the Republican ticket for county clerk. He made an excellent race two years ago against County Clerk Knowles and the race this fall promises to be an interesting one as both gentlemen are well qualified for the position and of excellent character.

Tuesday night the Freshies of the high school made merry out at Dale Bowen's. The party was held in a grove some ways from the house and the idea was a good one, as they were a lively crowd and certainly aroused the neighborhood. A visit from some of the big boys of the older grades varied the program somewhat but a "wienie" roast and many games and stunts made the hours fly swiftly. Mrs. Laidlaw and Miss Yutzey chaperoned the youngsters.

Miss J. A. Hough and her niece, Mrs. Jas. Hough, started Tuesday morning for the latter's home in Aurora, Ill. They are spending a few days at Frank Hough's in Adrian before continuing their journey. Miss Hough is enjoying good health in spite of her advanced age, but feels the separation from her hosts of Tecumseh friends keenly. She had been in the millinery business here for some fifty or more years and was known far and near as a delightful and warm hearted friend. This summer absolute blindness came upon her, making it obligatory for her to give up active business.

F. D. Avery had business in Toledo Tuesday.

Will Kempf is in the hospital at Camp Custer ill with Spanish influenza.

Mrs. Geo. Ziehr, who has been treating with Prof. Wallace is out after an eight weeks' illness.

Mrs. A. Dewey was a passenger for Deroit yesterday going to visit her son, Lorenzo and family.

Mrs. Ida Gardner returned to Pontiac yesterday after a visit with Mrs. John Hoy and other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClure are moving from Pentecost to the Horace Westcott house on West Chicago street.

Malcolm Waring returned Monday from Detroit. He too has given up a fine job to come back to his high school studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Robison and little Effie of near Ann Arbor have been guests at the Bennett home since Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Reed of Onsted and son, Rev. Marshall Reed and wife of Cheboygan, visited in town the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kratzer and brother, John Kratzer, were week end guests at the home of Fred C. Davis and wife in Tipton.

Mrs. H. B. Eaton entertained at dinner October 9, in honor of Mr. Eaton's seventy-fifth birthday. Covers were laid for twelve.

A message from Grand Rapids states that H. A. Stacy suffered a stroke of paralysis Thursday. Later reports give him as much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hines, Mrs. Will Meyer and Mrs. Will Cummings attended the funeral of Mrs. Clara Teachout at Onsted Monday.

Regular meeting of Tecumseh Chapter No. 51, O. E. S., Thursday evening, October 17. There will be initiation and refreshments served.

Mrs. Ray Tobias has returned from Detroit to live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Boyce, her husband having entered the government service.

Miss Eleanor Caldwell entertained a party of young people at a marshmallow roast Friday evening. There were 16 present and how they did rake leaves and burn them. The marshmallows were just right and everybody had the best kind of a time.

The Community Market of Adrian are putting on a concert around the county, which will be given under the auspices of Tecumseh Grange soon. The program consists of singing, music from various instruments and readings and is very pleasing.

Miss Minnie Rendell and John Gittus, both of Britton were the participants in a marriage ceremony performed Saturday afternoon at the Presbyterian manse by Rev. W. A. Rex. The couple were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Myrtle Rendell, and Leo Drewyor. The newly-weds left that evening on a honeymoon trip and on their return will reside on a farm near Britton.

Sunday and Monday "The Prussian Cur" drew large crowds at the Bradley opera house. The scenes depicted were of the awfulness of war, our boys drilling and making ready to beat the Hun. Von Bernsdorf, the German ambassador, true to life, was one of the principal actors and the planning and defeat of the pro-Germans here made one of the principal themes. It closed with the anguish of the kaiser at his defeat.

This is really the most beautiful week of the whole year. Take a ride or walk out of town in any direction and you are met by a blaze of color rivalling any picture ever painted. The trees have not shed their leaves and in every bit of woodsland one can revel in the beauty. Just cast your eye down any street of the village and you'll join in the sentiment that this is the most beautiful week of the year.

TECUMSEH RED CROSS

ANNUAL MEETING, ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Charles Burridge Re-Elected Chairman—Local Chapter in Good Financial Condition.

According to the by-laws of the Red Cross, the annual meeting of the Tecumseh branch was held on Wednesday night in the Red Cross headquarters, so that the newly elected officers could be present at the chapter meeting in Adrian, on October 26th.

The chairman, Mr. Chas. Burridge gave an abridged report of the work done in Tecumseh during the past year, which he considered above the average for the whole country. Tecumseh has made between 40,000 and 50,000 articles since its organization; if every branch had done as much it would mean that every soldier in the U. S. Army would have 16 articles, and $2.00 in money provided for him.

Mr. Burridge thanked the various workers, and gave especial thanks to the Red Cross Concert company, who he said were ready to resume work as soon as it was necessary.

A department of civilian relief has been organized, to take care of the dependents of soldiers at the front, or of those of incapacitated soldiers. As the word "Relief" has been objected to, the name has been changed to the Home Service committee. Mr. Leon Rosacrans is in charge of the Tecumseh branch, and anyone who considers that relief is required for any particular case please consult with him.

It is desired that a large number from Tecumseh attend the chapter meeting in Adrian, on October 26th, in the Public Library. This is not for officers and delegates only; every member is requested to come.

Mr. Guy E. Nemire stated in a report which will be published later, that the balance on hand was $2168.83.

Mr. Herbert Temple requested that in case of married women paying their membership, they should write "Mrs." and in case of unmarried ones, they should write their given name. Also that all names should be given to the treasurer, as soon as possible, and not handed in elsewhere for publication, as no one is really a member until the treasurer receives the money.

Mrs. Geo. Rathbun, Mrs Richard Mead, and Mrs. Jenny C. Law Hardy were chosen as a nominating committee, Mr. Nemire and Mr. Temple as tellers.

Mr. Chas. Burridge was re-elected chairman, also the former officers were elected. Mrs. B. J. Pulver declined re-election, and Dr. Hartzog was elected in her place.

Following are the officers:

Chairman—Chas. Burridge.

Vice chairman—Mrs. Thos. McCann.

Treasurer—Herbert Temple.

Secretary—Guy Nemire.

Members of Executive Board—Mrs. Frank Turner and Dr. Hartzog.

The meeting adjourned.

KEENEY APPLE ORCHARD

Busy Scene Gathering, Sorting and Grading the Fruit.

One of the busiest places in miles is out at the Keeney orchards. The apples are a big crop this year and to care for the fruit, Mr. John Keeney has nine boys from the Highland Park high school. He has a big sorting house with the bunk room above and the cook house at the rear, so the boys are cared for well. A sorting machine simplifies things, sorting over 500 bushels a day. This grades the apples also, dropping the cider apples in a pit below. Over 3,000 bushels will be in this house by tonight. These are sent to Eastern commission houses.

Mr. Keeney is fortunate to be able to care for his fruit as in the fruit belt north of this county, the orchards hang full and no one to pick them. Many farmers cannot attempt to care for their fruit and most of it will rot on the trees.

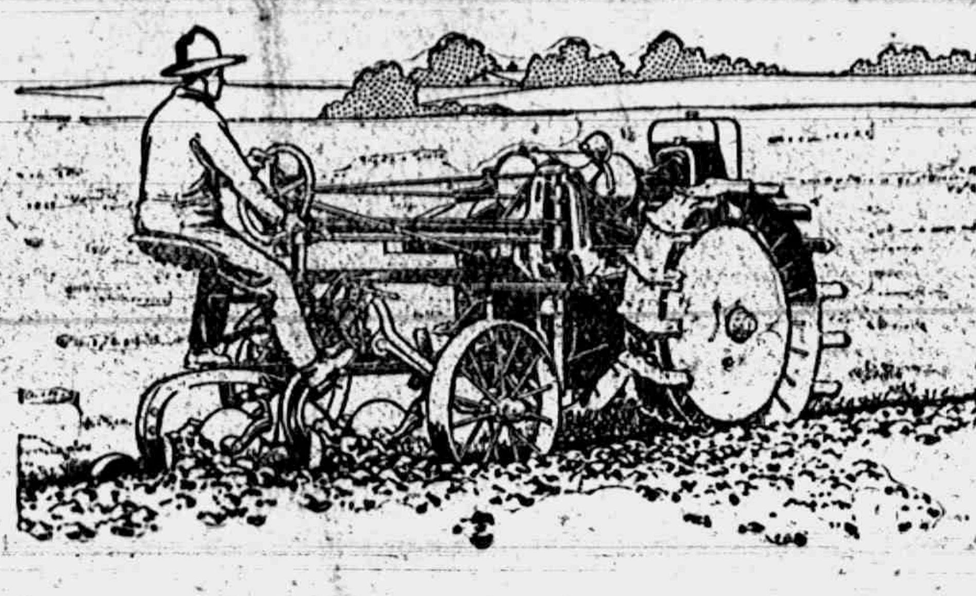
MOLINE
UNIVERSAL TRACTOR
It Solves The Farm Help Problem



We were much gratified to see the interest shown in the new Moline Tractor we had at the Adrian Fair. Among the many farmers who inspected the tractor was Mr. J. O. Churchill of Lenawee Junction, who owns a large dairy farm. We sold him a tractor and Whirlwind Cutter. His neighbors told him the tractor would not fill his silo as other large tractors in the neighborhood had failled to fill silos smaller than Mr. Churchill's. When we started the outfit it gave such good satisfaction, way beyond what was expected by the neighbors, that they willingly signed the following:

"We, the undersigned, do hereby testify that the Moline Model D 4-cylinder Tractor has abundance of power and great reserve power to pull J. O. Churchill's Whirlwind Filler to full capacity in filling his Saginaw Silo which is 45 feet from the ground to filling door in roof.

J. O. CHURCHILL, Owner.
MILLARD ROGERS, Helper.
G. W. SMITH.
C. W. HUDSON.
FRANK HANDY.
FRANK CONSTANT.
K. E. FUNK.
I. J. CONSTANT.

There is no question about this tractor being "THE TRACTOR" for all around farm work.

By hard work we have secured the film, "Solving the Farm Help Problem." It will be shown at the Bradley Opera House, Tecumseh, Saturday night, the 12th, and is considered mighty good.

We have endeavored to mail every farmer in this part of the country an invitation to this show. If you have not received an invitation and if you are interested in tractors, call at our store Saturday afternoon or early in the evening and we will give you your ticket.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Sergeant Ross Ferguson to His Aunt, Miss Lucy Train.

Base Hospital No. 57, American Expeditionary Forces.
Sept. 13, 1918.

My Dear Aunt Lucy:

This is Friday, the 13th, but am not going to take that for a bad sign. Some more superstitious than I might think that a letter written on that day would never be received. Have been over for about three weeks.

Three of the sergeants, Higgs, Flynn, Trosh and myself, went in to Paris last Sunday. Went directly to the Central Y. M. C. A. which is located on 36 Rue de l'Echignier and used to be the Hotel du Pavillon before the war. I think it must have been a very pretty place as it still shows signs of it. We had breakfast there and it was the first time in quite a long time that we used napkins, but these were crepepaper, likewise the table cloth. The service was very good, so was the food.

We tried to get a sight-seeing car but were informed that it was impossible to get chauffeurs to work on Sunday; that they had a boat trip but decided not to take this.

We left the "Y" and took a surface car to the Island to look at Notre Dame Cathedral. It was a wonderful place although like many of the other beautiful works in France was covered with (deleted) about and over the windows and around the best statues. They were holding a mass so we stayed through it. I did not understand much as it was all spoken in Latin and French. We then took a walk down the boulevards, saw the seven bridges, also the church which was bombed last Good Friday, which resulted in the death of many people—mostly women and children. They have just started the repair work on it.

Walked down as far as the Bastil. This marks the place where all the rayalty were beheaded in the time of Marie Antoinette. This, too is all sand bagged and protected. Here we took the metro (subway) back to the Grand hotel where we called on some friends. Walked across the street where we bought tickets at 14 franks a seat, which was about 6 franks above the price. It seems as if it is worked the same as a scalper in America. Sgt. Higgs and myself bought them for the Olympia and Sgt. Flynn and Trosh for the Follies Bergere. I had already seen that. After we got our tickets we went over to a French cafe for dinner; some class, nothing to eat, and cost 48 fronks for the four. After dinner we went down to the Soldiers' and Sailors' club and bought some cigarettes. After we left there we walked out and through the La Palace de la Concorde. Here is located Cleopatra's needle. Using this for the center, there are statues representing every large city of France. Each is located about the needle representing the distance the cities are to Paris. At the end of La Palace de la Concorde came the Invalids. Under the dome of this (which is a master piece of art and sculpture) rests the body of Napoleon. In the courtyard, which is formed by the walls of the art galleries, is the spoils of war in the way of large and small field guns, air craft, gas tanks, etc. We spent a good deal of time going over the different things.

It started to rain about that time so, as we were waiting, some one run up and threw her arms about me. I was a little set back as I am not used to have ladies embrace me. This one had on a hat so I was unable to see her face until she looked up. Then I saw that it was my sister Anna who had been up near the front for the past year and had just come to Paris to get some clothes made. Said she would be there until Thursday, the 14th. Needless to say I spent the rest of the day with her and enjoyed it very much. There were a few other nurses with her staying at Hotel Petrograd, 35 Ru Cumartin. I am in hopes that I will be able to see her again before she goes away. We took in a few more places of interest including the Alexandre 111 bridge. This is the most beautiful of any of the many bridges. A short distance above this bridge is what is known as Grand Palais. These buildings were built in 1900 for the world's fair. One of them is used for a school where disabled soldiers can be taught trades. Went through the other buildings; that is where they have a big toy exhibit made by soldiers. After this I put them on the metro and we came back to camp.

Please remember me to all my friends and tell them that letters from my old home town are very exceptable as the mail man's visit is like Christmas when we were children. Love to all.

From Corp. Albert E. Gray to His Brother, Arthur Gray.

Sancerre, France.
Sept 2nd, 1918.

Dear Brother:

I ugess it's about time I wrote a letter to you, the letter you and Gladys wrote me I received over here on August 23rd. I certainly was glad to hear from you, let me know if you get all my mail, I have written four letters and three post cards. I am getting along fine so far, better than I had expected and hope it will continue so.

It is certainly a good country for sight seeing but that's all.

They have towers and castles here that are from one to five hundred years old. I would like to send some post cards, but it's against the rules, so you will have to wait until I get back before I can explain it all to you.

The people here are all very polite and kind hearted to us, glad to see us any time.

They live and look the same as you see in pictures of the foreign countries. Their streets are narrow, and the houses are built of stone and cement, where in England they are all brick. Here in France they live like mother used to tell us of living in one room and their cow stable is the next room. They don't have many barns. The farmers live in a little town and go out to their farms to work instead of living there, and the way they work is like the people in the U. S. used to in 1812. They are about one hundred years behind times.

You don't even see a four wheeled wagon; they have all two wheeled dog carts. I remember I learned of those in school; now I have seen them.

This morning I saw some grain threshed and I know in the states they can thresh more in an hour than they do here in two days.

Their engine is about 8 h. p. steam drawn by a horse and the separator is the size of your grain binder. It don't cut the straw at all, it comes out straight and they tie it up in bundles and carry the bundles of straw away, instead of the grain. Some speed, is it not?

Well, this is about all I can tell, only that I have been across England and half of France and if I get back O. K. it will take a month to tell about everything I have seen.

You will be able to find this town on the map of France if you want to know just where it is. We are about straight south of Paris and nearly in the center of the country. I hope I'll soon get a chance at a Dutchman, so I can have a mustache for a souvenir.

Hoping to hear from you soon. I remain as ever

France, September 2, 1918.

Dear Mother:—Well, as I have not written for nearly a month I guess I had better try my luck once more. I have received your letters of June 9, 16, 20, 30 and July 7 and 14. I think I will get my mail regularly now. Some of us have been transferred since I wrote last and have moved to another camp. The camp is at the edge of a city and the street car line runs right past our quarters. We have good sleeping quarters and lots of good things to eat, and have lots of fun, so there is not much chance to get lonesome or homesick. I am riding an Indian motor cycle and side-car; all I have to do is ride around with the lieutenant. The roads are fine and so is the weather and it sure is great sport riding. Before we came to the 52nd we were in a camp a few miles behind the lines. We could hear the roar of the guns nearly all the time and the German airmen called on us several times about midnight. Then we would have to put on our helmets and beat it for the trenches. The firing of machine guns and anti-aircraft guns and the bursting of bombs made it pretty interesting. We did not mind the raids, but we did not like to get out of bed.

Well, we are a long way from there now and probably will be for some time. I wish I could tell you about my trip but I hope it won't be long till I come home and then I will have a lot of things to tell. At the present time I am in a safe place so don't worry.

THERE ARE NONE HERE BUT LOYAL, PATRIOTIC AMERICAN CITIZENS, respected and honored in their several communities and widely known throughout the county. We solicit your vote and support for them at the November election.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE

BERLIN VIA AMERICA

Big War Production Coming to the Bradley, Tecumseh.

In these days of "peace talk" it does one good to see a production like "Berlin via America", the big war spectacle which is coming to the Bradley Opera House, Tecumseh for two big nights, Sunday and Monday, October 20-21. With the eyes of the world centered upon the great events which are transpiring across the water—the stories that come back about our boys going 'over the top' and the unflinching heroism with which each one is doing his bit—the events that are vividly shown in "Berlin via America" hit close to the heart. For who among us has not sent a son, a husband, a sweetheart or a brother on into the great adventure with a smile and a hidden tear.

"Berlin via America" is the story of an American boy—one just like our own—who even at the sacrifice of his own good name works for the cause which is dear to him.

Spurred on by their cry "Berlin or bust" the Sammies go 'over the top' with a vengeance. From the first day in camp until they march down Unter den Linden this watchword will carry the boys on—ever on. How it instilled them in their dash upon the Hun field headquarters is vividly told in this thrilling production of the battle for democracy.

So many war pictures are on the market today that one hardly knows just which they want to see or whether to see them all but make a note of this production "Berlin via America"—it is one of the really worth while productions and one that you will not want to miss.

A party of four from Detroit including Lewis Kay, were hunting rabbits here Sunday. They motored through Saturday night.

Mrs. Otis Whelan and Euzell Whelan were Sunday guests of Mrs. E. J. Whelan. They didn't burn anybody's gasoline either. They came with the good old reliable horse.

Tuesday night of last week, his neighbors perpetrated a surprise on Harvey Jeffrey, who expects soon to go to Camp Custer. About sixty-five were present and enjoyed a pot-luck supper. He was given among other things a wrist watch. Mr. Tymtia of Detroit making the presentation speech.

Saturday night there was a surprise party on Lloyd Bailey. About the same number of people were present and here too a pot-luck supper was served, also a wrist watch and other things were given. Arthur Joseph made the presentation speech.

Two boys thirteen years of age were recently left in charge. They fed and cared for the horses, fed and milked thirteen cows and fed eleven calves and were all done at six-thirty a. m. That's the spirit, boys, that will solve the future labor problem on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wisner were Tecumseh visitors Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Wisner were Adrian visitors Wednesday. Farmers have been so busy filling silos, getting grain, cutting corn etc., that it is really an event to go to town.

Jot This Down on Your Calendar.

Put the big mark on your calendar around the date of Thursday, October 24, for it indicates the next semi-annual engagement at the Bradley opera house, Tecumseh, of Lyman H. Howe's famous Travel Festival. Our people always recognize the exclusive merits of this reliable film attraction and flock to the travel festival on its every appearance here.

The latest Howe program includes sensational flying adventures by our fighting marines, an exciting hunting trip in the Rockies where ferocious wild animals are lassoed and captured alive, a perilous canoe ride through dangerous rapids to Kaieteur, Mexico, and gentle scenes in natural colors of peaceful southern France.

Among the film novelties are an animated reproduction of the popular Red Cross poster "Greatest Mother in the World" and an extraordinary "freak" film in which some grotesque and puzzling scenic distortions are revealed.

Unusually meritorious comedy cartoons by Mr. Howe's exclusive artists will be freely interspersed throughout the program.

In these days of superb screen productions it takes something a great deal out of the ordinary to receive more than passing notice, for this new art has reached such a stage of perfection that it is well nigh impossible to improve on it. But to Lyman H. Howe must be given credit for presenting a novel entertainment, for in the course of two hours or so the spectator sits in on a series of pictures that interest, instruct and amuse, the whole forming a delightful contrast to the numerous reasonless silent dramas that are so frequent nowadays.

Flour Regulations

For Farmers

We are authorized, upon receipt of the following pledge, properly signed, to deliver wheat flour to farmers without substitutes, but the amount of wheat flour so delivered must not exceed the amount which can actually be extracted from the farmer's own wheat, or an amount in excess of normal supply for one year. (The word "Farmer" in this connection is defined as "a person actually living upon a farm and personally conducting farm operation.")

Sign the pledge below and bring to our mill office:

Pledge to be Signed by Farmers Exchanging Their Own Wheat to Obtain Flour Without Substitutes.

I hereby certify that the wheat this day delivered by me to THE WM. HAYDEN MILLING CO. was grown by me on my own farm.

I pledge myself to use such flour only in my own household or establishment, and not to resell any of it without permission.

I further pledge myself, in using such flour, to conform to the program of the United States Food Administration with regard to substitutes and to use in baking of all bread at least one pound of substitute to four pounds of wheat flour; or, if rye is used, two pounds of rye flour to every three pounds of wheat flour.

Swimming a Body-Builder.

Swimming is undoubtedly one of the greatest of all-round body builders. It is best to try to do your swimming in salt water which is exposed to sunlight. One can usually bathe in such water as long as he feels comfortable, the fleshiness and physical condition of the individual governing the duration of time in the water. Thin and raw-boned persons can not usually stay in the water too long. Fleshy persons can stand much more of it. Some persons should not attempt to remain in the water more than fifteen minutes at a time, while others especially when accustomed to it, can remain in the water for hours and feel no bad effects.—Physical Culture.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the Red Cross rooms Tuesday, Oct 15th.

GEO. CARLTON RIDGEWAY MAN

DIES AT CAMP CUSTER TUESDAY

Following Serious Illness From Pneumonia — Remains Brought Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Carlton, living 1½ miles south of Ridgeway, received word yesterday of the death of their son, George, at Camp Custer which had occurred Tuesday night. Mrs. Carlton, the wife, had been notified on Tuesday of the young man's serious condition and started at once but he passed away before her arrival. He had been ill with pneumonia.

Besides the wife and parents the deceased leaves two brothers, Henry and Willis, at home and two sisters, Mrs. Jas. LaVoy living south of town, and Mrs. Harvey Hoag of Adrian.

The remains are to arrive from Camp Custer this afternoon at 5:55. No funeral arrangements are made as yet.

ANOTHER LENAWEE BOY

Frank Adelbert Smith Dies of Pneumonia at Camp.

Frank Adelbert Smith, who all his life has lived near Holloway and Ridgeway, died of pneumonia at Hampton Roads, Va., in the camp hospital last Thursday night. The remains arrived yesterday at the home near Ann Arbor and the funeral is to be held today at Ridgeway.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, had only this last spring moved from Mrs. Lydia McIntyre's farm in Raisin to Ann Arbor. Adelbert, as he is better known, was 17 years old and enlisted only three months ago in the Navy. His last letter home told his people how he wished they could get him home as he was not strong enough for the work.

Beside the parents are left four brothers. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gray live at Ridgeway, an aunt Mrs. John Adams and an uncle, Burton Gray, at Tecumseh.

SCHOOL NIGHT

WIT AND WISDOM CLUB MONDAY NIGHT

Entertain Schoolma'ms and Other Guests — Good Program Enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosacrans were hosts for the Wit and Wisdom club Monday evening, some eighty club members and friends being present. The teachers of the school were among the guests and by motion of the club were made members for the year.

The meeting went under the caption of "School Night," with Mrs. Rosacrans leader. The program was as follows:

Piano Duet—Mrs. F. S. Turner and Mrs. Charles Williamson.
Vocal Solo—Fred C. Dickinson, with Mrs Dickinson accompanist.
Paper, "Social and Civic Center"—Miss Wimple.
Vocal Solo—John Keeney, Mrs. Hodges accompanist.
Paper, "Uniform Dress"—Mrs. J. D. Service.
Piano Solo—Miss Camilla Hayden.
Paper, "Uniform Language"—Dr. W. B. Hartzog.
"Military Training"—Supt. W. L. Reed.
Violin Solo—J. D. Service.
Vocal Solo—F. C. Dickinson.
Selection—Ukalele club.

The roll call was a happy feature when "School Reminiscenses" were given.

The club meets October 22 at the Howard home, just west of town, for one of their jolly pot luck suppers.

The regular monthly social and business meeting of the Christian Endeavor of the Friends church was held at the home of Miss Anna Satterthwaite Tuesday night. The young people enjoyed many games and stunts, and refreshments were served.

The Modern Woodmen tomorrow night start a series of entertainments for the winter with a lecture on "The relationship of birds to man, from the standpoint of dollars and cents," given by M. E. Lockwood, a member of the state and national Audubon societies. There will also be on exhibition of hundreds of insects and birds which form Mr. Lockwood's collection.

Tecumseh High defeated Hudson last evening to the tune of 12 to nothing. We thought we had a reporter at the school, but for some reason no news of the school was sent in this week.

In the casualty list in Saturday's papers was given the name of Hascall Biggins, Monroe, missing. Zeke, as he is best known here, left here about three years ago, moving to Monroe with his mother and family. There he enlisted and the many friends here are awaiting anxiously for further tidings.

Sunday afternoon, at the communion service at the Presbyterian church, there will be a recognition service, honoring one of the veteran teachers of the Sunday school, Mrs. S. W. Anderson, who expects to leave some time soon for the East. The general public is cordially invited, especially her present and former scholars.

It is "the something different" which is most interesting. In February David Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Watson of this village, enlisted at Adrian. He was sent to Ft. Leavenworth, then to Camp Meade, Md. Somewhere in his travels he became interested in carrier pigeons and showed such an aptitude in their care that out of the thousands in Camp Meade he with three others were chosen to go to the Panama zone to the stations kept for the breeding and training of these birds. Dave's address is 11th Service Co., Ft. Sherman, Panama Canal Zone, and he will be most delighted to hear from his Tecumseh friends.

LUCIUS L. BATES

Former Tecumsehite Dies in Buffalo Hospital.

Mrs. Jas. Updike received a message yesterday telling of the death of her brother, Lucius L. Bates, a former Tecumseh man, well known and highly respected in this locality.

Mr. Bates had been in poor health for some time, going about a week ago from his home at Medina, N. Y., to a hospital in Buffalo for what he supposed was to be a minor operation. Trouble of a cancerous nature was found and he did not long survive the operation, passing away Wednesday morning. With his wife and three daughters, Mr. Bates left Tecumseh for New York thirteen years ago. He had been night watch here many years and has many friends here.

He leaves the wife and daughters, Mrs. Geo. Smith, Mrs. Howard Depew and Miss Helen all of Medina, and only the one sister, Mrs. Updike. The funeral will be at the home in Medina Friday afternoon.

Romance Welded With the Big War.

Both romance and war are welded in interesting scenes in "To Hell with the Kaiser," a tremendous screen production which will be the special attraction at the New Royal theatre for three days October 15, 16, 17. This screen Classic Inc., master-drama has been built along intimate dramatic lines rather than the spectacular and a romance with an American hero and heroine runs parallel with the expose of the Kaiser's machinations toward the conquests of the world.

"To Hell with the Kaiser" has some of the most unusual features ever seen in a photodrama. The closing scenes contain a genuine surprise, combining beauty and forcefulness, and the Kaiser is shown in those accursed regions to which his base record has destined him.

OUR VILLAGE JAIL

Reported in Unsanitary Condition Why Not Renovate?

The innate goodness of woman was made evident yesterday when it was known that a woman and baby had laid over night in that cob web draped, filthy cell block of our village lockup. Several went to see her, found her dirty beyond description with no decent clothes and the baby emaciated and as dirty as the mother. These ladies got busy, found clothes for them and they were able to start on to their friends this morning fairly comfortable.

That jail is a sight to behold! We don't know whose duty it is to clean it up, but surely that woman who had committed no crime should not have been compelled to stay in such a hole The bunk has an excelsior mattress all torn to pieces and one quilt which belies the name. There is no water and no toilet conveniences. We are civilized, supposedly, and we ought to have a better state of things at our community jail.

A group of ladies have assisted the attorneys of the village the past week in making out questionnaires in the council building, of which this jail is a part. Ask them of the most beautiful (?) interior of this building.

ARRESTED AS VAGRANTS

Family Camping in a Ford at Roadside Brought to Tecumseh Jail.

For some few days a man, woman and little year-old baby, with a Ford car bearing a New York license, have been staying beside the road near the farm of Bert Lanning in Raisin. Tiring of the nuisance and of feeding them, the neighbors sent word at Deputy Sheriff John B. Smith to care for the vagrants. When Deputy Smith asked for the fellow's name he gave "Wm. Kelley." Smith asked where they came from and whither bound and the man would give no account of himself, even refusing to show his registration card. This roused John's ire for he has no love for slackers and after a little resistance landed his man in the county jail where his name was given to the sheriff as "Eden Wilde." The deputy then came back to look after the woman and baby. Not being able to find any one to take them in and the Raisin township supervisor not being accessible, they were brought to the Tecumseh jail.

Here, of course, is no place to keep a woman, no water, no convenience whatever, but the deputy made the village's guests as comfortable as possible and saw to it that they had good food—something they had not had for days as all there was to eat in the car was a squash and a half ripe watermelon. The people were in rags, and not enough of them to cover their bodies so the wonder is they were not ill.

The car has been brought to the deputy's home here and yesterday he took the woman and baby over to the county house.

POSTMASTER E. C. BROWM

PROMINENT CITIZEN PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING

Tecumseh Mourns the Loss of a Good Business Man and Friend to All

Postmaster Edson C. Brown passed away at 11 o'clock today, after but a week's illness with Spanish influenza. Mr. Brown, who was the senior member of the firm of Brown & Co. before being commissioned postmaster, was the one man in the village whom we could term "everybody's friend." A gloom seems to have settled on the whole community.

The two daughters, Mrs. Warner Bates, of Detroit, and Miss Bonnie Brown, a nurse at the U. of M. hospital, were called home yesterday, by the alarming condition of their father. Mrs. Brown and the little grandson who has lived with them for some months are both quite sick.

No funeral arrangements have been made at this early hour.

An obituary will appear in next week's Herald.

JAMES SNYDER DIES AT CAMP

FOLLOWING ILLNESS WITH PNEUMONIA.

Tecumseh Man Passes Away While In Service at Fort Benjamin Harrison — Funeral Held Here This Morning.

About a week ago Mrs. Benj. Snyder received a letter from her son, James Snyder, at Ft. Benjamin Harrison in which he said he had been about sick for a week. Later a message came telling of his being in the hospital at the camp with pneumonia.

Two sisters, Mrs. Bertha VanGasle and Miss Blanche Snyder, of Cleveland went at once to the hospital and remained with him to the end, which came Monday night.

Mr. Snyder, who was 39 years of age, was born at Azalia, coming to Tecumseh ten years ago. He began work for the Lake Shore Railroad Co. some six years ago and was highly esteemed by his co-workers.

Five years ago he married Miss Bessie Nidy of Climax and to them was born one son, Harold. The summer of 1917 he spent at the Howell sanitarium, but feeling assured he was cured began work in Battle Creek in the fall. He came back here last spring and took up his old job at the freight office, but in July enlisted in Columbus in the railroad department of the service.

Besides the wife, little son and his parents, he leaves two brothers, Leon and John, at home, and three sisters, Mrs. Lucian Westcott, and the others above mentioned, all of Cleveland.

The two sisters remained at Indianapolis until the necessary dispatches were sent and started for home after being assured that the remains with an escort would follow on the next train. However, the casket did not arrive until the 5:35 train last evening, and a private funeral was held from the home this forenoon, Rev. J. G. Widdifield officiating.

The K. of P. lodge, of which he was a member, gave their burial service at the grave.

CAPT. ADELBERT MILLS SAFE IN FRANCE

Feared He Might Have been in the Wreck on the Irish Coast.

Knowing that their oldest son, Capt. Adelbert Mills, had sailed from a United States port a couple of weeks ago, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mills have feared that he might have been in the terrible wreck within the week which occurred on the Irish coast. But yesterday they were relieved to get a message from Mrs. Mills, who is with her people at Ypsilanti, saying she had just received a cable from Adelbert at Paris.

This makes three sons "over there." Lieut Wilfred Mills, the youngest son, was sent to France as soon as he received his commission and has since been an instructor in an officers' training camp. Recently he applied for a position at the front, so he is probably in the trenches.

CONG. KELLEY VISITS TECUMSEH

DOES NOT FAVOR PEACE AT THIS TIME

We Did Not Go Into War to Have Gemany Sheathe the Sword But to Break it—Germany Should Not Be Allowed to Have Say in Peace Terms—Interesting Interview with Distinguished Statesman.

Tecumseh entertained a distinguished guest Monday in the person of Congressman P. H. Kelley, who stopped here for a short visit with Erwin Anderson and sister.

In an interview with Congressman Kelley, more familiarly known by his friends, yes, and his enemies, as Pat Kelley, we found the congressman a loyal American through and through. He is strictly against any peace overtures with Germany at this time. He said that we did not enter this war simply to persuade Germany to sheathe the sword; we went in to break it. He does not think the American people want the war to last any longer than necessary, but they know what it would mean to leave an undefeated German army, no matter on which side of the line.

Congressman Kelley said: "I was very much disappointed that President Wilson should enter into any negotiations whatever with Germany looking toward peace through arrangement. There cannot be a lasting peace as long as the German army is undefeated on the field. Peace must come through military success by the Allies. Germany should have nothing to say about terms of peace whatever. When her armies are defeated and the German military spirit is broken the Allies can offer terms of peace and then it will be up to Germany to accept same.

"The kaiser has insisted from the beginning that his was a defensive war and any arrangements that would enable him to go to the German people now and say he has successfully prevented a hostile world from getting upon German territory will only strengthen his hold and that of the military party upon the German people.

"Such an ending of the war would leave every hateful thing we have been fighting for intact. It would leave the military spirit, the nation's actions of cruelty, the doctrine of force, the idea of divine right all untouched, and some day we would have to fight it all over from the beginning and probably alone.

"Further, I do not consider President Wilson's fourteen propositions enough. Every merchant ship destroyed by German submarines should be replaced by being taken out of the German marine. Her navy should be taken away from her. The Hohenzollern dynasty should be dethroned. When these things have been done Germany can start at the bottom and by her good deeds work herself back into the confidence of the world.

Congressmen Kelley seems to think President Wilson has gotten himself into a rather queer predicament in offering any peace terms whatever to Germany. The President did not expect Germany to agree to his terms or he would not have made them. He does not want the war to end without a military victory for the Allies. Mr. Kelley thinks the only course for the President now to pursue is to say that there has been no material change in the German government and ignore its peace offers.

Mr. Kelley, feeling an interest in the Lenawee county political campaign, inquired about same. He also complimented The Herald upon its improved appearance and also commented upon the editorial stand this paper took in the Truman H. Newberry senatorial contest.

He left Monday to fill political engagements at Flint and other places, providing he is not called back to congress in the mean time owing to recent war developments, which he states is quite likely.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC

TECUMSEH SEEMS HARD HIT BY DISEASE

Schools, Churches and Theatres Closed—Many Ill With Disease —No Fatalities Reported.

Tecumseh, for some unlucky reason, seems to be hit harder by the prevaling epidemic, Spanish influenza, than any town of its size in the state, if reports are true. Precautions were taken early against the spread of the disease and compliance to Gov. Sleeper's proclamation to discontinue public gatherings was immediately made by the pastors of the village by announcing the discontinuance of all church services, and as a consequence there were no public religious services Sunday.

School opened Monday as usual, but after dinner, when it was found that 170 pupils failed to report and four high school teachers and one other instructor were absent because of illness, the sessions were discontinued and the pupils in attendance dismissed. The absence of 170 pupils does not necessarily imply that such a number are afflicted with the disease. The school will open again Monday if conditions improve.

Although the disease seems to have many victims here, so far no fatalities have been reported. In fact physicians report that patients are doing nicely and the situation is now well in hand.

The epidemic is rampant over the state and Camp Custer has furnished many victims but at last reports the disease there is well under control. We take the following report from "Trench and Camp," Camp Custer edition of October 10; a weekly publication of camp life:

"The latest reports before going to press indicate that the Spanish Influenza epidemic in camp is well curbed. For the past four days many more men have been returned to duty than have been sent to the hospital. There were 5,650 patients reported in the hospital on Wednesday.

"A more serious phase of the health condition has arisen in the pneumonia epidemic, which usually follows the influenza scourage. This attack has resulted to date in 169 deaths since the start of the epidemic on Sunday, Sept. 29th. However, with weather conditions favorable it is hoped the total of fatalities can be kept far below those of other camps in the middle west where this plague has raged.

Notice.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Lenawee Co. will be held in the city of Adrian on Monday, October 28, 1918, at 133 North Main St. for the purpose of electing a president and directors in the fourth and second districts, also a director for the fifth district to fill vacancy, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

ENTERING HIS TENTH YEAR

RECEPTION TO DR. AND MRS W. B. HARTZOG

Delightful Evening Enjoyed by Baptist and Friends Friday—Speeches and Letters of Congratulations and Eulogy.

The reception tendered Dr. W. B. Hartzog at the Baptist church Friday evening, honoring the entering upon his tenth year of service for that religious organization, proved a very pleasant social affair, although the rain kept quite a number of the members of the church at home, among them some of the prominent rural Baptists. However, the attendance was gratifying and the function certainly reflected the esteem in which the pastor was held by his flock, his fellow workers of other denominations and his friends. Pastors of the Presbyterian, Methodit and Friends churches were present and took part in the program of the evening, and Rev. J. G. Widdifield of St. Peter's, who had engagements both here and in Clinton that evening, was represented by a letter of congratulations and regret.

Preceding the program of the evening the time was enjoyed in an informal manner, when the guests became acquainted and strangers were introduced.

Dr. L. G. North called the gathering to order and presided as chairman in a clever manner, interspersing witty anecdotes with his more serious remarks and introductions. In addressing the company of people he said he did exactly know what form would apply properly, but he knew that he could not address them as "slackers," for Tecumseh has not done in a long time anything in which she can take more pride than in the manner in which she went over the top in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign. He thought it a wonderful demonstration of loyal patriotic spirit.

Dr. North called upon Deacon VanValkenburg of the Baptist church to invoke divine blessing, after which he requested the people to stand and sing "America, the Beautiful," under the direction of Mrs. R. S. Moore.

Dr. North, preceding his introductory with a clever story, called upon Rev. Rex of the Presbyterian church to tell the people why they met that evening. Rev. Rex was ready with a story upon the doctor, when he stated that the meeting that night was to commemorate the entering of the pastor upon his tenth year of service. He hoped that the beginning of his new year would be more auspicious than the past. In many cases ministry in Tecumseh is discouraging. He had made hearts happy only the fourth time this year. The city ministers have better opportunity. One recently told him that he had made sixty men and women happy during the past year. Tecumseh young folks as soon as they leave high school leave town. There are certain reasons for this. Most of the boys and girls leave town for economic reasons, they leave to secure higher education to better maintain themselves. He hoped none left for religious reasons. Referring to the Sunday school study, he said Abraham left home because of a call for service. Perhaps that's the reason Tecumseh young people leave. He cited his own church where the enrollment is 420 and the Sunday school 215—a strange situation. A man who remains in such a situation is to be complimented. Turning to Dr. Hartzog, he said: "Doctor, we offer you our sincere congratulations that you have remained so long here." A preacher once said somebody has got to preach in Tecumseh to bury the dead. "We bury the dead instead of marry the young."

Dr. North next called upon R. S. Moore to read some letters that had come. They were from Earle C. Michiner, candidate for congress, and Circuit Judge B. L. Hart, both complimenting Dr. Hartzog for his excellent work in state and county during local option and state prohibition campaigns. Also from Grant M. Hudson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, Rev. J. G. Widdifield of Tecumseh, D. M. Lake, general superintendent of the Michigan Baptist convention, W. T. Roberts, secretary and the business men of Tecumseh. The letters all complimented Dr. Hartzog on his faithful work in and out of Tecumseh.

Rev. C. M. Thompson, the new pastor of Tecumseh Methodist church was next called upon. Rev. Thompson appears to be well along in years physically, but mentally he is as spry, bright and original as they make them. It was a week ago that day that he became a citizen of Tecumseh. He said he didn't know what to say, but wanted to say something sensible. He met Dr. Hartzog three years ago at a meeting of the County Ministerial association and respect for him has grown for two reasons. Efficiency describes Dr. Hartzog. He has

OFFICIAL RECOGNITION FOR BRAVERY

ESLI MARSH RECEIVES HIGH PRAISE.

Drew Sketches of Enemy's Trenches "Over There" Despite Danger of Being Picked Off by Snipers.

Ovid Marsh has received a very interesting letter from his brother, Esli, which contained the following enclosure. Esli is a millwright in civil life and has a splendid talent for sketching which goes with the business. At Camp Funston this talent was discovered and he was given two weeks' special training in the sketching of war work. This includes the diagrams of the trenches, etc., and since arriving across he has done any amount of this work. The instance mentioned was one day he was close to the German lines, so close in fact that he had a fine view of their trench formation and it was of this he made the sketch.

To make the experience more thrilling, he discovered there were three German snipers between him and the American trenches. These he managed to avoid and reached our lines safely.

Esli went across with Co. B, 354 Inf., 89th Div. and is now in the Lorraine sector, evidently pretty close to trouble.

Sept. 4th, 1918.

"To Pvt. Marsh:—

"The position sketch drawn by you from our forward positions this afternoon was a splendid piece of work, not only because of the skill shown by the sketch itself, but because of your own initiative and enterprise in reaching the position from which the sketch was made. The commanding officer, the French officer, and all to whom it was shown commented most favorably upon it. Keep up this kind of work; you're setting a good example for the whole S. O. S. section.

(Signed) John F. McGratt,
1st Lieut. Inf. R. I. O."

SURPRISE FOR PAUL KEYSER

Seventy-Five Friends Gather at His Home Saturday Evening.

Paul Keyser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Keyser, was the victime of a surprise on Saturday evening, when about 75 of the family friends took possession of their home. Paul was to leave the following Monday for military training at Ann Arbor and these friends had come to wish him good luck and God-speed.

They enjoyed a bountiful picnic supper and later Fred Aylesworth as the speech-maker of the company presented Paul with a wrist watch as a token of their love.

Paul has enlisted in the automobile department, taking training as a mechanic.

Editorial Comment

American people are prone to be enthusiastic by nature and always ready to celebrate any noteworthy event, but the celebration early Sunday, morning can be rightfully termed premature, and the energy of the Adrian daily in waking up the people on an early Sunday morning wasted. In fact it was rather poor judgment to spring such a sensation during a Liberty Loan campaign and in a county that has failed to subscribe its quota, by spreading over the county an extra edition with tall headlines proclaiming Germany's acceptance of President Wilson's peace terms. The daily did have the good sense to caution the people against prematurely concluding that the war was ended. The news of Germany's acceptance was unofficial and really of no great importance because peace without victory and with German military intact is out of the question.

Another thing, hard pressed as Germany is, it is a very easy thing for her to agree to almost anything now to gain time, and that is no doubt what she is after. She started out to make this war the most horrible, diabolical that ever happened. She wanted the world to stand in awe of her diabolical warfare and reign supreme. She didn't count on the strength of the United States nor on the loyalty of the Germany people in the United States to this country. We did look rather puny at the outbreak of the war against the massive German war machine. But we took a mighty jump and are fair to land on Kaiser Bill's neck and this fact has come home to the kaiser and his coherts. Now they want time probably to concoct new and more devilsh schemes of destruction. Peace! We doubt if the kaiser wants peace. He wants a good fat chance to tell of his glory to his people and have them laud him as their god and protector.

And this would be the case if President Wilson and the Allies took any notice of the whimperings of the German government now. Much as we abhor war and regret the sacrifice of a single American soldier we certainly do not want peace until the German government is put completely out of the military business. We doubt if there is an American soldier over there that is willing to come home and leave the job we set out to do undone.

We can't believe that it will be left undone. We have had unbounded faith in our administration to do the job thoroughly and we still have faith that it will be done.

It is unwise, therefore, to kindle any hope of peace now even for sensation's sake. There can be no peace except through unconditional surrender or complete military victory by the Allies.

On the other hand Germany should first be made to feel the sword. The gun should be turned upon her, and while we hope that our soldiers will never fall to their level Germany should suffer some of the destructions of war she inflicted upon others before the war is declared off.

The sensational news early Sunday morning created quite a little excitement here and a number of extras were gobbled up. Some people immediately got the idea that the war was over, but things soon quieted down and it was noticeable that after reading the dispatch those who stop think quietly returned home to bed feeling that the war was not ended as long as the kaiser commanded the German armies.

President Wilson Monday answered Germany's peace offer, which again put at rest any apprehension that peace negotiations would be concluded under existing conditions. We give the text of the President's answer below:

"The unqualified acceptance by the present German government and by a large majority of the reichstag of the terms laid down by the President of the United States of America in his address to the Congress of the United States on the 8th of January 1918, and in his subsequent addresses, justifies the President in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation and the conditions of an armistice are matters which must be left to the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the Allied governments, and the President feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the Allies in the field.

"He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the Allied governments.

"The President feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States, nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated as a belligerent, will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhumane practices which they still persist in.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the government of the United States with proposals of peace its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships at sea, and not the ships alone, but the very boats in which their passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety; and in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction, which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare. Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain, not only, but often of their inhabitants.

"The nations associated against Germany cannot be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while acts of inhumanity, spoilation and desolation are being continued in which they justly look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

"It is necessary, also, in order that there may be no possibility of misunderstanding that the President should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the President, delivered at Mount Vernon on the Fourth of July last. It is as follows:

"'The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can separately, secretly and of its single choice disturb the peace of the world; or, if it cannot be at present destroyed at least its reduction to virtual impotency.' The power which has hitherto controlled the German nation is of the sort here described. It is within the choice of the German nation to alter it. The President's word just quoted naturally constitute a condition precedent to peace, if peace is to come by the action of the German people themselves. The President feels bound to say that the whole process of peace will, in his judgment, depend upon the definiteness and the satisfactory character of the guarantees which can be given in this fundamental matter. It is indispensable that the governments associated against Germany should know beyond preadventure with whom they are dealing.

"The President will make a separate reply to the royal and imperial government of Autria-Hungary."

Watching for a few minutes the othe day the boys of our high school at drill, it came to mind what a better system is this military training if adopted generally than that of Germany where every abled bodied man reaching the age of 21 was compelled to serve in the army.

Military training in Tecumseh high school was adopted only a week or two ago and only a few hours a week are devoted thereto. Yet these boys are beginning to show an efficiency that is commendable.

If we must have trained fighting men to safeguard the future country the general adoption of military training in our schools, colleges and universities seems to be about the most sensible thing to do. Here the boys will be trained mentally and physically at a time when such training is most susceptible. The military training will strengthen their physique—make both body and mind healthy. With a healthy mind and body they can grasp problems and overcome them much more readily than if the body is neglected and allowed to become as a consequence slovenly. With such a system the young men of our country will receive a training that they will never forget, yet at maturity they can step into their position in the world and be ready to serve their country when called upon.

It was supposed until this war that Germany had the best and most efficient manner of making a military power. But since the great war has been in progress for a number of years the efficiency of their system is doubted. Their is some lack in the training of their soldiers and from stories brought back showing the contrast between our boys and their soldiers it looks as if the mental training of Germans is neglected. They simply become a part of a war machine.

We wish again to call attention tention of our readers to the necessity of seeing that their subscription is paid before the first of November. This date has been fixed by the government for a report from this office. All subscriptions must be paid up and we are not allowed to send free copies to anybody. This week we have adopted a system of marking a cross at the top corner of every paper upon which subscription should be paid before the next issue. We want to keep every subscriber on the list and we want to see the list grow.

While we like to see people neighborly and want every person in the community to read The Herald, we also like to have readers pay for the paper instead of sponging on their neighbors. In case where a neighbor cannot afford to pay the yearly subscription price of $1.50, we do not object to the borrowing or loaning. To keep this paper up in the front rank of publications we need the money and just now, after installing new machinery we need it badly. For this reason we have sent out a solicitor and will consider it a favor if the same receives courteous treatment when calling upon you.

SHORTAGE OF SEED CORN IS IMMINENT

Farmers Are Urged to Make Careful Selection of Ears and to Store Properly.

East Lansing, Mich.—A shortage of seed corn is imminent in Michigan, according to the department of farm crops of the Michigan Agricultural college, which has just completed a survey of the seed corn situation in the state. The dry weather, coupled with the fact that much of the season was unsuited for the production of seed stock, is responsible for the condition, the report from the department declares. The lack is especially acute in Presque Isle, Cass, VanBuren, Mecosta, Wayne, Gladwin and Midland.

"Don't select ears and then leave them in a pile or in crates," warns J. W. Nicolson, extension specialists in farm crops for the college. "The ears may look sound, but most ripe ears contain from 25 to 35 percent moisture and molds readily attack them. Your corn may suffer serious injury from these molds unless the ears are handled carefully—stored, that is, so that each ear can dry separately in a well ventilated place."

REGISTRATION OF BONDS

BE CAREFUL TO HAVE FULL NAME

Important Information Regarding Registration of Bonds.

Important information concerning the registration of Liberty Loan bonds, as given out by the bond department of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago contains the following quotation from a letter from the treasury department.

"With reference to accepting subscriptions for bonds to be registered in the names of persons giving only initials rather than the full name, I have to say that it is the intent of the department, not for its own sake, but for the sake of the holders of registered bonds, to have them registered in such manner as to enable the said holders, or their legal representatives, to dispose of them in the simplest and readiest manner. Bonds issued to women under their initials, or under the initials of their husbands, are not readily transferable in case of the death of the holder.

"Through letters of administration would be issued in the legal name of the deceased, and the bonds would be inscribed in her name, under her initials, or those of her husband, as the case might be. The letters of administration and the bonds would not agree as to the name, and therefore the administration of Mrs. Sarah A. Smith, say, would have to prove that she and Mrs. Thomas W. Smith (or Mrs. S. Smith) were one and the same person. It is to avoid troubles of this character that the department has insisted upon receiving the legal name of persons subscribing for registered bonds.

"Of course, the department cannot refuse to issue bonds under initials if the parties interested insist upon it, but it is requested that you, in all cases where it is possible, insist on receiving, the full names of persons subscribing for registered bonds."

NEW RULINGS IN DRAFT CLASSIFICATIONS

Affecting Agricultural Claims of Registrants.

While the matter of agricultural claims for deferred classification was being discussed with the District Draft Board recently it was suggested by the board that the District Agricultural Advisor outline for publication some of the general considerations and new rulings concerning the classification of registrants.

One that will affect many of the older men, especially, is that the agricultural claims of registrants who have been granted deferred classification by the local boards on their dependency claims will not be acted upon by the District Board so long as the classification made by the local boards stands, and these men will receive cards from the local boards showing only their dependency rating, and none showing rating by the district board on agricultural claims. In case the ground for a dependency claim should cease to exist or be removed at any time through death of dependents or other changes in the circumstances, or should the deferrment no longer afford exemption, as might be occasioned if the classes above one should be called to service, the questionnaire will be forwarded to the district board and that body will then determine the classification according to the merits of the agricultural claim.

The attitude taken by the District Board toward the younger registrants will also be of interest to many. Several of the twenty-one year men who have been placed in Division C of Class II have been coming to the District Agricultural Advisor's office considerably concerned over the matter. In general, the board does not regard the younger men of eighteen to twenty-one years, where the father is living on and managing the farm, as being as closley identified with or valuable to the management of the enterprise as the older man from twenty-five to thirty years of age and in the case of claims showing good production, the tendency is to place the former in Division C of Class II, while under similiar circumstances the older registrant has been given Class III, or, in especially worthy cases, IV.

If a suggestion may be offered, I would say that the Class II man should put forth his very best effort and make as good a showing as possible in crop production, and in case the Class II men are ever called to service, the present attitude of the district board seems to be that the registrant may be further deferred at that time in case he has demonstrated his value as a producer of good products.

In regard to whether registrants given deferred classification will ever be called for military duty, no one probably knows. The presen tendency, however, as the supply of men in Class I becomes exhausted, is to comb the deferred and place those who have not lived up to their opportunities and made good back in class I in order to fill the quotas demanded of the boards. It, therefore, behooves everyone who wishes to retain his deferred classification, whether in Class II, III, or IV, to continue to prove his worth as a producer and demonstrate that he is of greater service on the farm than in the army.

Every effort possible will be made to place the merits of worthy cases before the District Draft Board.

Signed, C. L. Brody,
District Agricultural Advisor.

Mrs. Edith VanValkenburg and little girl visited her uncle E. H. Brown and wife this week Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turner and Marian of North Rome visited their uncle, E. H. Brown and wife, last Sunday.

Mrs. John Lanning, who has been spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. David Hamiel, has returned home.

We were sorry to hear that Lynn Harris was home from Jackson sick last week with influenza. He is better at this writing.

Mrs. Minnie Gove entertained the sewing circle and Red Cross meeting this week Thursday with a box dinner. The time was spent making bath robes. All enjoyed a good time.

Don't Burn All the Leaves.

Editor Herald:—In these days of conservation we need, in Tecumseh, to conserve our leaves. I have been much interested in the "war garden" project though I prefer the term "home garden" because the home gardens must continue after the war is ended.

But the crying need of the majority of Tecumseh gardens is more fertilizer. Of course the best fertilizer for any garden—for lasting results—is rich barnyard manure from grain fed animals.

However, leaves are nature's fertilizer; you have only to go into any forest and see the proof of it, and when you plow under a heavy coat of leaves you are not seeding your land with a lot of weed seed, which you are quite liable to do with manure.

If you have a horse or cow or pig, store away a big lot of leaves to be used as bedding. If you have hens put away the leaves and next winter when the snow drifts are deep carry in a bushel and spread on the hen house floor and scatter some grain among them and watch biddy scratch and hear her sing.

Remember, gentle reader, that a hen and a woman have some striking points of similarity. Both are mighty uncertain and both are happiest and least likely to get into mischief when they are compelled to scratch for a living.

But, if you have neither horse, nor cow, nor pig, nor hens use your leaves to mulch your raspberries or currants or to bank up your cold old house, or pile them up where they can't blow away and plow them under next spring and note results.

If you have no bonfire you avoid the danger of your child being badly—perhaps fatally burned.

And further, while I am not a physician it seems very reasonable that, in these days of influenza, a heavy smoke laden atmosphere will not be at all helpful. There is a peculiar, pungent odor that comes from a pile of burning leaves that is peculiarly irritating to the sensitive nostrils of many nervous people.

Of course, care takers of churches and school grounds have no other way of getting rid of their leaves than to burn them, though if I had time to draw them home, I could use them to good advantage on my four acre farm early all the leaves that fall within the corporate limits of Tecumseh.

Don't burn all the leaves.

Yours in the interest of better Tecumseh gardens,

C. H. Snedecor.

While our schools are closed for a while it gives us a chance to wonder what we would do without them.

So much has been written about the passing of the "little red school house," and so many facetious remarks, intended to be funny, made about its short comings, that one is led to wonder what has replaced it, and whether This is better than That, and what the results of the new state of things will be. The Alumni of the little red school house are fine people. We discover them everywhere, many of them sitting in the "seats of the mighty" and directing national and educational affairs.

The lad of that time could stand at the little shiny, painted blackboard and figure out problems in "cube root," "common divisor," and "bank discount," and then he could lay down the pointer and the book, and do a sum in mental arithmetic running through all the tangles of complex fractions, which would send all our bank clerks to the insane asylum. (In unpleasant contrast to this was the case of a high school girl in one of our stores lately, who reached for her pencil when a customer at the counter where she was working asked for his bill for a pound and a half of candy at thirty cents a pound.)

This lad knew the boundaries and capitals of every state in the Union, and could tell you without a minute's notice, longest rivers and highest mountains of the world, and on company days he could come with shined up shoes, and "speak a piece" that was the pride of the neighborhood. "The Boy Stood On the Burning Deck," "Woodman Spare That Tree," and "The Grey Forest Eagle" were the favorites, and he had a considerable pride in his oratorical accomplishments. Then on Sundays when the chores were done, and the nine o'clock church bell rang (they never ring them at that hour any more I am told) he would blacken his shoes, grease his hair a little, and say over seven verses of his Sunday school lesson, before church time. No doubt but to this day he can repeat most of the New Testament as a result of that training.

Of course this little man had never come to school on roller skates, nor used a tablet to do his figuring on, (teachers had nerves not easily disturbed by slates and pencils), he had never played foot ball game, nor rode in an automobile, but he said "Yes sir," and "No Mamm," to his elders, and brought big red apples to the teacher every morning, and if he happened to meet her on the street on a Saturday, he tipped his hat respectfully, instead of hollering "Whoo, hoo," or "So long," as some of our school boys have been heard to do. Maybe this lad carried his dinner in a tin pail and ate some of it with his knife, but this product of the little red school house had the foundation laid for a useful life, and why do we smile at him, or why always call the school house "red"; is there any disrespect associated with the color? Sometimes it was red, often it was white originally, before two or three generations had decorated its sides with childish hieroglyphics which sometimes meant multiplication table, or the tally in a marble game, and sometimes the name of the big girl on the back seat who smiled at the boy behind her geography.

Let us not smile at what the little red (?) schoolhouse has done for the past generation, for with its passing we are also losing some other things which we can ill afford to do without, and one of our distinguished teachers has said "Show me what a man laughs at, and I will show you what he is."

TECUMSEH TESTIMONY.

Home Proof, Here, There and Everywhere.

When you see Doan's Kidney Pills recommended in this paper you most always find the recommender a Tecumseh resident. It's the same everywhere—in 3,800 towns in the U. S. Fifty thousand people publicly thank Doan's. What other kidney remedy can give this proof of merit, honesty and truth? Home testimony must be true or it could not be published here. Read this Tecumseh recommendation. Then insist on having Doan's. You will know what you are getting:

A. C. Aylesworth, retired farmer, W. Chicago St., says: "About four years ago I had severe attacks of lumbago, which, I am sure, were brought on by disordered kidneys. I finally heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and began their use. After taking them for a month of more, I was relieved of the trouble. I have had no recurrence of these attacks since and I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Aylesworth had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo N.

The enormous demand for the Sunday Free Press in which was printed a double page, large scale, map of the western Front corrected up to date, caused a shortage of papers last Sunday. Provision was made for a greatly increased sale, but when the German reply to President Wilson's inquiry reached the Free Press office late Saturday night, they found it mechanically impossible to produce a sufficient number of papers containing the map to meet the added demand. So insistent was the public for the text of the German reply that 200 of my customers did not get a paper.

Mrs. Chauncey Ogden of Clinton was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Will Stewart over Sunday.

R. A. Potts has accepted a position in Adrian and Emory Haviland has taken his place at Lowry's grocery.

A little girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heath of Lansing Friday. The mother was Miss Nina McClure of Tecumseh.

Miss Ruth Curry took advantage of the forced vacation at the Ypsilanti Normal the last of the week to come home for the week end.

Miss Adah Howe and friend were out from Detroit Saturday and Sunday, guests of Mrs. Harry Moore.

Henry McClure was in Jackson Saturday and Sunday, meeting with the Grand Lodge finance committee out at the Odd Fellows home.

Horace Smith and wife will move from Ridgeway about November 1st and will occupy the Lawrence Bauer house on South Evans street.

Taking advantage of the forced vacation, several of the teachers have gone to their homes, Miss Cardwell to Millington, Miss Sutherland to Ann Arbor and Miss Cooley to Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Jordan were down from Jackson Saturday and took his mother, Mrs. Wm. Jordan, home with them. Mrs. Jordan has long been an invalid, but stood the trip well.

Miss Leila Snell entertained as a Sunday guest Miss Sena Schrier of Muskegon. Miss Schrier is a Normal student but that college was closed Thursday and Friday on account of the Spanish influenza.

Mrs. Bertha Vandasle and Miss Blanche Snyder of Cleveland were with their brother, James Snyder, during his last illness at Fort Benjamin Harrison and arrived in Tecumseh for the funeral Tuesday.

E. M. Camburn went to Ashley Tuesday to attend the funeral of his brother, Heborn, who had died Monday. Heborn Camburn is well known here and at Macon, where he formerly resided and had many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Friend McNeil left Friday for Liberty to attend the Universalist convention. From there they went to Williamston to visit her sister. After a visit at other points in that region they will return home.

Mrs. Jas. Snyder and son, Harold, her mother, Mrs. Nidy, and her brother, Walter Nidy, of Climax, came Tuesday to attend the funeral of the former's husband, James Snyder, who died at Fort Benjamin Harrison Monday.

Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reattoire started home from town and just over the New York Central crossing on N. Evans street collided with Mr. Frost of Macon. The Reattoire car was pretty badly smashed up and was towed to a garage for repair. Mr. Frost took Mr. and Mrs. Reattoire home. No one hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stacy of Detroit and their son, Stanley, of the aviation camp at Urbana, Ill., were here Friday and Saturday, the guests of relatives. They accompanied Miss May Farley back to this village after an extended visit at their home. Stanley is home on a ten days' furlough before reporting at the camp at Dallas, Texas.

Miss Kyle's Sunday-school class and a few guests were entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. Al Helzerman. The party was in honor of Mrs. Jennie Wier, one of the class, who left yesterday to spend the winter with her sisters in Detroit. There were 32 present to enjoy the great picnic supper (some cooks in that class) and the social hour and fun afterwards.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

Sancere, France, Sept. 8, 1918.

My Dear Rex:—

I had thought right along that long before this I would be able to write you some news directly from the front, but so far it has not been our lot to be called upon to go on up.

We are billeted now in a little village just outside of Sancere, which is about two hundred miles directly south of Paris. It is a great country and we have had experiences that we shall never forget. The country here is given up mostly to the raising of grapes and the people are the quaintest and most old fashioned you ever saw. They are just the type of folks that Bismark thought he had crushed, just the type that have made France what she is today. They have no idea of sanitation, as we know it.. The cattle, goats, chickens and people are all housed under one roof. The streets of the villages and towns are narrow and crooked, but for good, honest, sturdy people, America has nothing like it. Nothing they can do for us is too good, and it is sometimes pitiful and amusing to see in how many ways they try to make it comfortable for us. A few days ago the mess sergeant and I were over to Menetroel buying supplies. We wanted to hire a horse and wagon. We were explaining to a Frenchman, who talks fairly good English, what we wanted. He got the rig for us but was determined not to take any money for its services. He said, "American boys come over here to fight for France, what France can do for them she does gladly and without charge." That illustrates, in a way, the attitude of these people toward us.

Another thing, Rex, I want to speak about is the wonderful influence of the Y. M. C. A. I want you people over there, who are working so hard in behalf of the "Y," to know that your efforts are doing an inestimable amount of good. I want you to know that the boys here do appreciate the "Y." For instance, day before yesterday I went to the "Y" at St. Satur (we have none here, of course) and told them I wished to send 100 francs to my sister. They simply gave me a receipt for my money and will then instruct their headquarters at New York to send Edith a draft for $18.19—the full value of the 100 francs in American money without any charge or further trouble to me. Every place we have been, in England or in France, the first real friend we have found has always been a "Y" hut—usually the only place in the rest camps where we could get a cup of coffee or hot beef tea, a package of tobacco or a bar of chocolate; where we could sit down and read or write letters. Don't let anybody tell you the "Y" isn't a powerful factor in the soldiers' life, and don't let anybody try to make you believe the American soldier don't appreciate these things. You bet he does!

I wish I could remember more about French history. The other day I went way down in a prison underneath an old tower at Sancere. They tell me that Sancere was the last city in France to fall to Caesar and that this old tower withstood his siege forty-two days. All over the country are relics of olden times; watch towers where no doubt barons watched for traders coming down the valley. Caves made off into prisons where, I imagine, they held their captives for ransom. It's all very interesting, if we could only connect some of it up with our history.

We are well taken care of and have no cause for complaint. You know we used to save a lot on our mess fund at home and the captain now allows us to use a certain portion of this each week, so we are not entirely dependent upon our issued rations. We have an American commissary at Menetroel and can buy nearly everything in canned goods, such as meats, peaches, apples, jam, tomatoes, tobacco, etc. We are never allowed to buy anything from the French, as the American government feels that our buying their stuff would simply deprive them that much.

Kindly remember me to Mrs. Rex and the children and remember, please, I'd like to hear from you any time you have time to write.

Very sincerely,
Earl.

Address—Sgt. E. B. Rector, Co. C, 338th Inf. U, A. Amer. Ex. F., A. P. O. No. 789.

Mrs. B. J. Pulver is very ill.

Mrs. F. J. Rector and her niece, little Elizabeth Chance, are quite ill.

Wm. Fisher returned to Detroit Tuesday, after a few days at home.

Miss Bertha Vogt is at her home in Coldwater during the closing of the schools.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Heesen returned Tuesday from an extended visit to South Bend.

Mrs. Loren Rhodes and two children were passengers yesterday for her old home at Lyons, Mich.

O account of so much illness there was no meeting of the Monday club this week and there will be none next Monday.

James Hastings is another Tecumseh boy to go to Ann Arbor Monday for the mechanical course in the military training.

John Neeley and wife of Detroit have been guests of her sister, Mrs. Jennie Kanouse, and other friends part of the week.

Mrs. J. D. Hanford returned home Friday from a month spent with her daughter, Mrs. Leigh Beach, and family at Dexter.

Mrs. Harry McLaughlin and son arrived from Garrett, Ind., Tuesday to make their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Seitz.

Mrs. Rose Hoag has come from Ann Arbor to care for her daughter, Mrs. Harold Hoag, who is seriously ill with valvular heart trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lowry, jr., were passengers to Adrian Tuesday, he going on from there to South Bend, where he will work for the Star Milling Co.

Rudie Meade and family have sold their farm at East Jordon and gone to LaChine, Mich., to live with his uncle, George Wright and assist him in caring for his farm.

Loren Rhodes left Tuesday evening for Albion, N. Y., where he will work in the Boyce orchards for a few weeks, joining the Tecumseh boys sent there by C. H. Williamson.

Wit and Wisdom club members, notice! The meeting which was to have been held Monday evening at Albert Howard's, has been postponed for one week on account of the epidemic.

Mrs. Jennie Wier went to Detroit yesterday to stay with her sisters, the Misses Cupples, for the winter. We hope to see her return in the spring greatly improved in health.

It will be of interest to their many friends to know that Mr. and Mrs. Vern Comfort are manager and matron of the I. O. O. F. home at Jackson. These are former Tecumseh people. The members of the home family are delighted with the new management.

Rev. J. E. Somers of Dundee was in town Monday.

Mrs. Ella Sheldon went to Detroit Monday for a week's visit with friends.

Alfred Holmes and family have moved into the Getchell house, just vacted by Mr. and Mrs. Percy Slater.

Mrs. Wesley Flager was in Blissfield Saturday. A niece, Miss Smith, accompanied her home for a few days' visit.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet Thursday, Oct. 24, at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. F. J. Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Rowland and Mrs. Clare Rowland were up from Toledo for the week end, visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Lawrence and their many other friends.

Mrs. J. F. Rector returned Saturday morning from a visit of a few weeks with her mother in Baltimore. She was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. Marion Chance, and little daughter of Baltimore.

The epidemic is no respector of persons, even hitting our post office force pretty hard. The first of the week Postmaster Brown. Fred Dickinson and Carriers Burt Hall and Ira Ashley were laid up and the rest of the force were sure doing some hustling.

F. S. Anderson and family came up from Toledo for an over Sunday visit, but little Mary Eleanor was taken ill so she and Mrs. Anderson are still here. The little girl is improving nicely.

Jesse Scudder, who recently arrived from "over seas" service, was in town Monday, being home on a furlough, visiting his father. Bradley Scudder, of Macon. He is now located at the Great Lakes Training station.

Our reporter would do well to study the history of our statesmen. We reported a Methodist party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Phillips last week. Now, Wendell Phillips has not come back to this mundane sphere, but Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Willetts are with us and they were the hosts of that party.

Edison Proves

Every Phonograph and Talking Machine dealer in the country claims that he handles the machine with the best tone. We claim nothing. We have proved that musically outclasses all Phonographs and Talking machines, regardless of name or make. We proved it by making a direct comparison of the NEW EDISON with the human voice.

The New Edison,
"The Phonograph With a Soul"

We have given this proof. We have had Edison make one of his famous Tone Tests right here in Tecumseh on Friday night at the Bradley Opera House. The NEW EDISON defied 700 music lovers to distinguish the faintest shade of difference between its recreation of Glen Ellison's voice and Glen Ellison himself as he stood beside the instrument and sang while it re-created his voice. Not an ear in the room was keen enough to detect any difference. There was no difference to detect.

No other sound reproducing device sustains this test. This is the music that you will some day want in your own home. Why wait? Easy terms.

Worth Considering, Isn't it?

Buy Your Coal Now!

We urgently ask all those who are not supplied to get their coal now while we have it.

Overland
TRADE MARK REG.

It is a fact that the production of automobiles of all kinds will cease January first.

You now expect to buy a car next year, if you can get one. So do a lot of other people, as there will be as great a demand next year as ever. What are you going to do to get your car? How much bonus are you willing to pay? Next year when you are asked to pay a bonus of from $100.00 to $300.00 think of this adv. It will make you mad, of course, but better still, use your own judgment, buy a car now, enjoy it this fall. You will shortly be able to drive on Sundays. Then if somebody DOES want your car bad enough to pay you a big bonus next spring, use your judgment again—keep it for a higher bonus, or let it go.

Your and our habit for years has been to "wait and see," but in the last year or so, if we have had the nerve to hustle a bit, we have made good and our friends call us lucky.

If you buy a car now, you may have to hustle a bit, but next spring your friends will say "How lucky he was to buy last fall." You will look wise and say, "Nothing to it; that's not luck, that's only good, common horse sense."

Now, honestly, are you going to use this good horse sense you have and buy a car this week, or allow your friend to use his and get the best of you?

You Like Clean Coal

But you don't always get it. We have had a lot of that good, clean Ohio Lump Coal, but never had enough, so we made a new contract to get double the amount. We will have it at our three yards—Tecumseh, Cone and Pentecost.

We are also glad to say there are no restrictions on what you want it for—furnace, heating stoves or range.

Our suggestion would be to place your winter's orders with John Dennison for Cone, Glen Daniels for Pentecost, or us at Tecumseh, and do it at once.

It may be interesting for you to know that at the different yards there is publicly displayed the U. S. Fuel Administration Certificate or License permitting us to sell coal. If we did not have this Certificate we could not, of course, sell you coal.

H. W. Stevens has been doing a little business in real estate lately. He sold the Wm. Burrill property to Mr. Flowers, the McNair place on West Chicago to Mrs. Mary Smith and the latter's property to Frank Bradley. He also has charge of the Miss Julia Hough property and states there is some talk of converting same into a sanitarium.

Miss Lelia Waters has resigned her position at the Tecumseh Co-Operative association, where she has been stenographer and assistant bookkeeper for the past three and one-half years, said resignation to take effect Saturday night. This move is made necessary by the ill health of her mother, Mrs. John Waters, of Onsted, and she will return to her home and care for Mrs. Waters. Miss Waters' many friends in the village regret exceedingly to have her leave but honor her for the course she is taking and hope Mrs. Waters will improve so their friend can return soon. The association have been fortunate in securing Miss May Farley, who is an expert bookkeeper, she arriving from Detroit and beginning work in the office Monday.

HURRAH FOR LADIES' BAND

OFFICERS ELECTED AND INSTRUMENTS ORDERED.

Names of Members and Instrumentation — B. J. Pulver the Manager.

The ladies that are interested in the formation of a ladies' band met Tuesday evening and by the amount of enthusiasm displayed the band is a sure go. Officers of the organization were elected as follows:

President — Mrs. Bessie Mitchell.
Secretary—Mrs. R. T. Meade.
Treasurer — Miss Alice Owens.
Business Manager—B. J. Pulver.

A proposition was presented from the men's band, through Wm. Barrett, their manager, offering them their bandmaster and the use of a room at the K. of P. hall for practice. This was accepted most gratefully.

The instruments, valued at some $900, have been ordered by J. L. Coller, who also is in charge of a home talent show to be given soon.

Following is the instrumentation of the new musical organization:

Cornets—Mrs. T. R. Mills, Mrs. J. L. Coller, Mrs. Albert VanDoren, Mrs. Bessie Mitchell, Mrs. Bert Gray.

Altos — Mrs. Eugene Billings, Misses Edith Rector, Alice Owens, Ellen Smith and Edna Taylor.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

To the Qualified Electors of the Township of Tecumseh (precincts No. 1 and 2) County of Lenawee, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with Act 126, Public Acts of 1917, I, the undersigned Township Clerk, will, upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, or the day of any regular or special election or official primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said township not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration, except that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Second Saturday before any general or special election or official primary election and the day of such election.

October 26, 1918—Last Day for General Registration for General Election, Nov. 5th, 1918.

All electors not already registered and intending to vote at said ELECTION, should make PERSONAL APPLICATION to me on or before the 26th day of October A. D. 1918.

Notice is further hereby given that I will be at American Ry. Express office.

Oct. 12 and Oct. 19, 1918

From 8 o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m. on each said day for the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said township as SHALL APPEAR and apply therefor.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election shall be entered in the registration book.

Registration of Absentee by Oath.

If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election, and shall, UNDER OATH, state that he is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the township TWENTY DAYS next preceding such election, designating particularly the place of his residence, and that he possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution; and that, owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself, or of some member of his family or owing to his absence from the township or public business or his own business, and without intent to avoid or delay his registration, he was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election, then the name of such person shall be registered, and he shall then be permitted to vote at such election. If such applicant shall, in said matter, wilfully make any false statement, he shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction, be subject to the pains and penalties thereof.

Provisions in Case of Removal to Another Precinct.

Any registered and qualified voter who has REMOVED from ONE ELECTION PRECINCT to another election precinct of the same township shall have the right on any day previous to election day, on application to the township Clerk, to have his name transferred from the registration book of the precinct from which he HAS REMOVED to the registration book of the precinct in which he THEN RESIDES. Such elector shall have the right to have such transfer made ON ELECTION DAY by obtaining from the board of inspectors of election of the precinct from which he HAS REMOVED a CERTIFICATE OF TRANSFER and presenting the said certificate to the BOARD OF ELECTION INSPECTORS OF THE PRECINCT IN WHICH HE THEN RESIDES.

WOMEN ELECTORS — The names of all qualified WOMEN ELECTORS not already appearing on the registration list will be registered, provided PERSONAL APPLICATION is made in conformity with the foregoing provisions.

H. H. Hanna, Township Clerk.
Dated October 1, 1918.

VOTING BY MAIL — HOW TO DO IT

With Special Reference to the General Election, Nov. 5. 1918.

Who are Entitled to Vote by Mail.

(Excerpts from Chapter XII. Act No. 203, Public Acts of 1917.)

The term "absent voter" shall be taken to mean any qualified elector, who is absent or who expects to be absent from the township or ward in which he resides, on the day of any election or official primary election, and who is

(1). A person in the actual service of the United States, or of this State, or

(2). A student, while in attendance at any institution of learning or

(3). A regularly enrolled member of any citizens' military or naval training camp, held under the government of the United States or the State of Michigan, or

(4). A member of the Legislature while in attendance at any sessio of the Legislature, or

(5). A commercial traveler, or

(6). A person employed upon or in the operation of railway trains in this State, or

(7). A sailor engaged or employed on the great lakes or in coastwise trade.

The term "commercial traveler" shall be taken to mean a person engaged in soliciting the sale of goods by the exhibition of samples, or by catalogue or other device, for the purpose of effecting such sales and taking orders for goods to be subsequently shipped by his employer.

How Voter Should Proceed.

Any voter coming within the provisions given above, expecting to be absent from his Township on the 5th day of November, 1918, and desiring to vote by mail at said election, must make application either in person or by mail to the undersigned Township Clerk for a blank form to be filled out by said voter so as to constitute an application in proper form, for ballots to be voted at said Election. If this request be made by mail, it may be in the following form:—

To the Clerk of the Township of Tecumseh, Michigan.

Please mail to my address given below, a suitable blank form for use in making application for ballots to be voted by myself in the Township of Tecumseh (Precincts No. 1 and 2), County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, November 5th 1918 under the provisions of Chapter XII. Act No. 203, Public Acts of 1917.

My name ————————

Address ————————

When to Make Application to Township Clerk for Ballots.

Application for ballots on the form provided by the Township Clerk can be made at any time WITHIN THIRTY DAYS prior to the date of election, provided it reaches said Clerk not later than the SECOND DAY preceding the election.

Upon receipt of the blank application form, the voter must fill it out fully and completely and mail same to the Township Clerk at the address given below, or deliver in person to said clerk.

Township Clerk to Mail Initialed Ballots to Applicant.

As soon as the ballots are printed the clerk will mail immediately to said applicant, the ballot or ballots to be voted by said applicant at said election, or deliver the same in person, provided the applicant is duly registered.

How Voter Should Prepare Ballot.

Upon receipt of such ballot or ballots, the absent voter shall mark it or them in accordance with the printed instructions and shall fold and enclose it or them in the envelope provided therefor and after sealing the envelope, he shall fill out, sign and swear to the affidavit printed on the back thereof before a notary public, or other person authorized to administer oaths. The absent voter shall then place on the envelope the necessary postage and deposit it in the postage or in some government receptacle provided for the deposit of mail matter. This must be done sufficiently early so that the ballot will reach the Clerk in time to be delivered by him to the Board of Election Inspectors before the close of the polls on election day.

When Absent Voter, Returning, Can Vote in Person.

No absent voter returning to his place of residence, will be prohibited from voting in person within his precinct, NOTWITHSTANDING THAT HE MAY HAVE MADE APPLICATION FOR AN ABSENT VOTER'S BALLOT OR BALLOTS AND THE SAME MAY HAVE BEEN MAILED BY THE SAID CLERK: PROVIDED, That such voter has not availed himself of the privilege of an absent voter, as provided by this act, and voted the ballot or ballots mailed him by the said clerk, and provided he return ballot or ballots, if received, to the board by whom same shall be marked "cancelled" and placed in the regular ballot boxes with other ballots.

Any voter voting at any election both IN PERSON and BY MEANS OF AN ABSENT VOTER'S BALLOT, or who shall ATTEMPT SO TO VOTE, shall, on conviction, be deemed GUILTY OF FELONY.

NOTE—The old Law required absence from the COUNTY. Now absence from TOWNSHIP is sufficient.

H. H. Hanna, Clerk of the said Township of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee, Michigan. P. O. Address Tecumseh, Mich.

My office is located at American Ry. Express Co.
Dated Oct. 1st, A. D. 1918.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Private George H. Lewis to His Mother, Mrs. Jewett Whelan

Somewhere in France.

Dear Mother:

Another week and no mail. Am certainly getting anxious to hear from home. Have only had three letters since leaving home — one from grandmother and two from Maude.

Have been having considerable rain this last week. Guess it's the winter rains if they have a rainy season here. Soil is clay so have not been doing a great deal of drilling.

Reports from the front are very favorable to us. The French inhabitants are all feeling fine over it. Some of the optimistic ones say October 1st others Christmas.

Can't end any too soon to suit us. Fine country, but gets monotorous talking through a dictionary.

Have been having our troubles to keep a supply of tobacco on hand, but guess the pinch is over. Have a commissary in the village now. Are allowed to buy a certain amount of cigars and cigarettes. Also secured a can of real American peaches. Gee, but they were good!

The roadsides are covered with wild blackberries and they are just beginning to ripen. The natives don't eat them at all so we wade into them. Have had pies several times. Relieves the monotony of our meals. Have plenty to eat but usually about the same thing. We get cantaloupe and tomatoes which helps also.

Had another pay day today. Have an awful roll of bills, but not a great deal of cash. Drew $26.50 in U. S., 149.50 F. in French. Am getting full pay now. Liberty Bonds are all paid for. You should have them by this time.

May send some souvenirs home and if there is any duty on them you will have to pay it at that end. Our attention was called to this some time ago, but forgot to mention it before. Makes no difference, as I haven't sent anything yet.

Will have to close now for lack of stuff to fill this with. Want to write Ollie tonight too and candles are rather hard to write by.

Notice there's a little addition to my address.

Your son, Harvey.

found him a man who does things and his work in the temperance cause and the Suday school proves this. A man proves his efficiency if he stays in a place nine years. He also admired Mr. Hartzog for his brothliness. When he heard that the speaker was coming to Tecumseh he wrote a letter and informed him that he was glad he was coming. Efficiency and brotherliness are two qualities that make a winning man . He thought it was a great thing for a church to keep a pastor so long. Refering to the Methodist preachers moving about, he cited instances where preachers of other denominations moved just as often and some more. He knew of a Methodist preacher who remained in one place 14 years. His average pastorate was three years. Here, catching the eye of Rev. Edw. Escolme, the new pastor of the Friends church, he asked if he knew the difference between a Quaker and a Methodist preacher. A Quaker, he said, is just a Quaker, while a Methodist preacher is an earthquaker. Rev. Thompson congratulated Dr. Hartzog and the church upon their long association. It is a credit to Tecumseh that Dr. Hartzog remained so long; he helped to put Tecumseh on the map. Dr. Thompson said he was glad to be here. He hadn't married one couple in Hudson in 1918 and only 15 couples in three years. He hoped the people would be more matrimonially inclined. He concluded his talk with t strong plea for a community service, a plan that had proved successful in Hudson. He believed it was the only solution of the problem of Sunday evening service, and he heartily believed in the community service. Rev. Thompson told quite a number of stories that kept his hearers in fine humor.

Dr. North next introduced Rev. Edward Escolme, the new pastor of the Friends church. Rev. Escolme is a young man of pleasing personality and immediately made friends with his opening remarks: "I feel that I am among friends this evening. It was fine of you to invite one you have never seen. The association here seems so close, so friendly—not fixed up and prim. I trust that our fellowship will be true and brotherly and trust that we can all work together. I am glad that we can be Christians before Baptists and Presbyterians and that we can rally around the same old cross." He believed unity is essential in Christian work and hoped for better acquaintance.

Ira Ashley, at the invitation of the chairman, stepped up to the front. Addressing Dr. Hartzog he said: "Members and friends, have requested me to present this purse to you, not in the sense of remuneration, but as a token of esteem. We hope that it is accepted with as much pleasure by you as it is to the donors to give."

Dr. Hartzog accepted the roll of bills, which we afterward learned amounted to $43, and the doctor added to it and converted it into a Fourth Liberty bond.

Dr. Hartzog replied feelingly to the generosity of his friends, saying he looked forward to this evening with a great deal of dread. He felt a sense of humilation when he looked back over the nine years and saw so little accomplished. Had he accomplished more he would feel better, but they worked well together. When the war came he studied the advisability of closing up the church and entering the war work, but he felt his duty to his church. He believed he had been able to do more for the county than for his church. He came from Ohio where his county went through a campaign and became dry. This experience equipped him for work in Lenawee. He spoke of his affection for his church, stating that he had refused numerous calls at better pay to remain here.

It was announced by Rev. Rex that according to Gov. Sleeper's proclamation there would be no church services of any kind Sunday.

The program closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," and after a short social time the gathering were invited into the dining room where delicious ice and wafers were served.

NEW FOOD REGULATIONS

AFFECTING HOTELS AND PUBLIC EATING PLACES

Bread Must Contain Substitutes —Only One Kind of Meat—No Sugar Bowl on Table—One-Half Ounce Butter, One Teaspoon Sugar, One-Half Ounce Cheese Limit.

A new program for all public eating places, effective October 21, is announced by the United States Food Administration. The new rules apply to all places where cooked food is sold to be eaten on the premises and affect nine million regular or occasional patrons.

The new regulations carry into effect the recent announcement of the Food Administration that in fulfilling the American promise to the Allies to send them seventeen and a half million tons of food this year the public eating places would be called upon "to undertake in many particulars a more strict program than last year."

The general plan of the Food Administration with regard to the conduct of public eating places has been reduced to twelve definite "General Orders." These twelve rules furnish the specific measures by which the Food Administration plans to carry out, so far as public eating places are concerned, the announced plan that for next year the American food program will be direct reduction in the consumption of all food, particularly the staples, rather than a series of emergency regulations such as meatless and wheatless days and meals, and the substitution of one food for another.

Concerning these twelve general orders the Food Administration in a circular to the proprietors of public eating places says: "It has not been deemed advisable or necessary at the present time actually to license the operation of public eating places, but in cases where the patriotic co-operation of such public eating places cannot be secured by other means the United States Food Administration will not hesitate to secure compliance with its orders through its control of the distribution of sugar, flour and other food supplies. A failure to conform to any of the following orders will be regarded as a wasteful practice forbidden by Section Four of the Food Control Act of August 10, 1917."

These general orders prohibit the serving of any bread that does not contain at least twenty per cent of wheat flour substitutes, and of this Victory bread no more than two ounces may be served to a patron at one meal; if no Victory bread is served four ounces of other breads, such as corn bread muffins, Boston brown bread, etc., may be served. Bread served at bordeing camps is excepted as is bread containing at least one-half rye flour. No bred is to be served until after the first course is on the table and no bread or toast may be served as a garniture.

Bacon is also barred as a garniture and only one meat may be served to a patron at a meal. Included in the definition of meat are beef, mutton, pork and poultry. Not more than a half-ounce of butter is to be served to one person at a meal, and Cheddar (American) cheese is limited to the same amount. "Double" cream is banned.

No sugar bowls will be on the tables, a teaspoonful is the limit for a meal, and then only when asked for. Two pounds is the allowance to be observed for each ninety meals served, including cooking.

No waste food may be burned, but all must be saved to feed animals or reduced to obtain fats.

The Food Administration relies on the hearty co-operation of the vast majority of hotelkeepers and other proprietors of public eating places to observe these regulations voluntarily, but is prepared to use the full force of its power against the few who would interfere with the success of the plan. A paragraph in the circular says:

"We know that the majority of men in this class of business will welcome this enforcement on the ground that it protects the patriot from the slacker and gives the honest man who wants to save for the country protection from the wrongful acts of his unpatriotic competitors."

Attention is especially directed towards the conservation of bread and butter, cereals, meats, fats, sugar, coffee, cheese and ice, to fresh vegetables and fruits which should be served when possible, and to unnecessary suppers, teas, luncheons and banquets, which are condemned as "fourth" meals. The food Administration desires as few fried dishes as possible.

Simplified service, with meats and vegetables on one plate instead of in side dishes, and only necessary silverware, and simplification of the menu and the menu card are urged as means of saving not only food, but labor and paper. The general bill of fare should be abandoned because the great variety of dishes listed makes waste through spoilage. Simple bills for breakfast, luncheon and dinner with limited dishes, changed from day to day for variety, are recommended, also the use of hors d'oeuvres, vegetable salads, fruits, sea-foods, made-over dishes and animal by-products, which save staples and utilize many available foods.

The war program discourages the table d'hote meal except when confined to few courses and small variety, as on the Continent. American plan hotels should require guests to write orders, and all menus should be in plain English, actually describing the food.

The new regulations affect hotels, restaurants, dining cars, steamships, clubs and other places where food is sold to be consumed on the premises. In a message to the managers of such establishments the Food Administration fully explains the food situation with reference to the war, and tells what the people of the United States must do in the way of saving food in order to make good the pledge which, authorized by the President, Mr. Hoover gave to the Allies at the recent conference of food controllers.

"There is no prospect of a proper ending of the war before the campaign of the summer of 1919," says Mr. Hoover. "To attain victory we must place in France three and a half million fighting men with the greatest mechanical equipment that has ever been given to any army. While we expect the position on the western front may be improved, from a military point of view, between now and then there can be no hope of a consummation of the end that we must secure until another year has gone by."

The food Administration points out that this accomplishment in 1919 will save a host of American lives that will have to be sacrificed if the war continues until 1920. To strike the final blow in 1919 means that we must not only find the men, shipping and equipment for this gigantic army, but that our own army, the Allied armies and the civil population of the Allied countries must, in the meantime, have ample food if their strength is to be maintained. "We can do all these things," he declares, "and I believe we can bring this business to an end if every man, woman and child in the United States tests every action every day and hour by the touchstone—does this or that contribute to winning the war.

"We must appreciably decrease our own imports of food, notably sugar, coffee and tropical fruits," he says, and points out that while our wheat production this year is better than last, our production of other cereals is less, and our resources are no greater than last year. "However," he says, "it is possible for us to give Europe its vastly increased requirements and at the same time have a margin over the quantity necessary to maintain our own health and strength."

The food administration finds we shall apparently have sufficient sugar to take care of the present rate of consumption and to provide for the extra drain of the Allies, and sufficient coffee if wastefulness in brewing the beverage is eliminated. Of our own products there must be a reduction in consumption and waste of foodstuffs and of meats and fats; that is to say, pork, beef, poultry, dairy products and vegetable oil products. Stress is laid, however, upon the fact that the food administration does not wish curtailment in the use of milk for children.

Patriotic proprietors of public eating places demand enforcible rules for their own protection against the slacker in the business. The Federal Food administrators of the various states will enforce these orders against those not sufficiently patriotic to follow them voluntarily.

Is Your Flour
Mixed with a Substitute
At The Mill?

We are asked the above question many times a day to which we answer.

NO.

It is just like it was last year.

Flour is not quite so white as before the government required all mills to use less wheat to make a barrel of flour. In our case when we formerly used 285 lbs. of wheat we can use now not more than 264 to make a barrel of 1900 Flour.

The saying at our mill on a day's run is a fraction over 10 barrels for the Allies.

FAREWELL RECEPTION

Hudson People Honor Retiring Methodist Pastor.

Tuesday evening, October 1st, a farewell reception was tendered Rev. and Mrs. Thompson by the Hudson Methodist congregation, who filled the spacious reception hall of the church, standing room being at a premium. There has also a sprinkling of other denominations present.

During the evening Prof. O. M. Miles of the high school in an appropriate speech presented Mr. Thompson with a beautiful library lamp and desk clock on behalf of the pastor's adult Bible class.

Mrs. Matie Kirby for the W. C. T. U. presented Mrs. Thompson with a silver souvenir spoon. A program of music, and light refreshments followed. Kindly farewells were spoken and many good wishes were extended.

The previous Friday evening, September 27, the young peoples' Bible class, which Mrs. Thompson had taught for three years, tendered her a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Maybee and presented her with an elegant set of silver salad forks, a suitable presentation address being read by Miss Metha Pease, the president of the class. Refreshments were served and a very delightful evening enjoyed by all present.

Rev. and Mrs. Thompson voluntarily retired from the Hudson pastorate, Mr. Thompson having announced at the beginning of the last year that it would be the final one in Hudson and shaping all his work to that end. They leave behind them a host of friends with a feeling of mutual high regard and esteem. Their work opened in Tecumseh very auspiciously Sunday, October 6th.

PREMATURE CELEBRATION

THOUGHT END OF WAR IN SIGHT

Ringing of Bells, Tooting of Whistles and Horns Arouses People From Peaceful Slumber —War "Uxtra" Finds Some Sales.

In the early hours of Sunday morning the people of Tecumseh were aroused from peaceful slumber, first by the ringing of the fire bell, supplemented with the tooting of whistles, blasting of horns, shooting of fire arms and fire works, and the ringing of church bells.

Startled out of peaceful, sound sleep many thought the town was on fire or the Huns had dropped from the clouds to wreak vengeance on a peaceful population for the stiff fight our boys are giving Germany across the waters.

The cause of the "celebration" soon became known, in fact some had been put wise earlier that Germany had accepted President Wilson's peace terms and that an war "uxtra" of the Adrian Telegram was on the way over.

The news brought out many enthusiasts who thought the war had surely come to an end. But for a time things were lively here. Autos carried loads about town and joyful blasts from cornet and trombone awoke those who refused to be awakened by the first alarm.

The "uxtra" came and after the "unofficial" dispatch was read the exuberance cooled off and people returned to bed to seek that repose that resteth body and soul.

In Clinton a like demonstration was in evidence and the whistle of the woolen mill could be plainly heard here. The same feeling prevailed there until the purport of the news was fully digested when the usual Sunday morning quiet was resumed.

The war is still on, our boys are giving them fits and we must still buy bonds and make our little sacrifices to help win the war.

Don't neglect buying a bond because Germany wants peace. Uncle Sam still needs the money to give the final trimming that is coming to Germany. October 19 is the last day of the Fourth Liberty loan campaign and Lenawee, the state and the nation have not reached the top. The boys don't stop half way.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY NOVEMBER

GOV. SLEEPER URGES INSPECTION OF PREMISES.

Fire Losses Impair American Financial Resources When War Conditions Call for Retrenchment and Thrift.

"One of the greatest problems confronting the American people today is the great destruction of property by fire and these losses have increased to an alarming extent. During the year 1917, the losses by fire in Michigan exceeded the sum of $10,000,000 and in the United States the losses were approximately $275,000,000, which is nearly $3.00 per capita for each man, woman and child in the country.

"These great financial losses thus impair American financial resources at a time when war conditions call for the utmost retrenchment and thrift, and in keeping with the spirit of conservation I earnestly request that all efforts of prevention of fire shall be aided and I do, therefore, proclaim Saturday, the second day of November, fire prevention day, and urge all citizens of the state to properly observe the day by thoroughly inspecting their premises and removing causes which would permit needless conflagration.

"That public buildings and factories be cleansed of rubbish.

"That all heating, wiring and fire extinguishing apparatus be examined and placed in proper condition.

"That all chimneys be thoroughly examined, cleaned and properly repaired, and

"That appropriate exercises be held in all schools throughout tse state on Friday, November 1st, and the teachers assisted by municipal officers and the fire departments give the children such information and instruction as they may have at their command on the subject of fire prevention.

"We should remedy the conditions that entail such enormous losses in life and property, and let us co-operate in helping to make Michigan fire proof."

Card of Thanks.

We wish in this manner to thank the many Ridgeway ladies who were so kind to our loved one through her illness and to us while caring for her; also Rev. J. E. Somers for his comforting words, the singers and those who sent the beautiful flowers.

At the Garlinghouse garage yesterday the entire force were down sick. Otto Garlinghouse, his mechanics, Robert Jewell and Oliver Blum, and his bookkeeper, Fred Van Tyne. G. B. Garlinghouse was back in the harness again, keeping the garage open.

The board of education have arranged for the dedication of the new school building to take place November 11th. Superintendent of Public Instruction Fred L. Keeler of Lansing has promised to be present and give an address on that occasion. There will also be other appropriate exercises.

The ladies in the Waldron school neighborhood have done much for Belgian relief recently, meeting at the various homes. Thursday afternoon Mrs. H. B. Tallman entertained fifteen of the ladies and they accomplished much, finishing nine little quilts and three large ones, also making others all but the binding off.

WAR EXHIBIT

AT N. Y. CENTRAL DEPOT VERY INTERESTING

Speeches by John Lugg, of Monmouth, Ill., and Atty. Dallas Bouderman of Kalamazoo

A great crowd gathered at N. Y. Central depot last evening to see the exhibit of war trophies being sent over this railroad to help out the Fourth Liberty Loan. The exhibit was on three flat cars and in a huge box car. This latter was camouflaged on the outside as they do over there. Inside was a great collection of all sorts of souvenirs gathered from the battlefields, German, French and Jap articles. There were ration baskets, guns, cartridges, helmets, dirks, and a great variety of all sorts. One sailor in charge gave a running commentary on the exhibit saying a suit of what looked like a pair of overalls and jumper was the Kaiser's dress suit, a great round brush, apparently used for the cleaning of the barrels of those long nosed French field guns, was the Kaiser's tooth brush and a real mine, an immense round iron affair with fuse attached, he told one believing woman in confidence was an elephant's egg.

To enter this car one had to get to the rear of the line and the soldiers and crowd had much sport.

On the flat cars were the larger instruments of destruction, French and German cannon, machine guns, Gatling gun, Howitzer and a German whizz bang with its apron to protect the coward who fires it. Most wonderful of the whole exhibit to the uninitiated was the immense German anti aircraft gun with its nose reared Heavenward. One man in the crowd was overheard to say, "How under Heaven do any boys come back at all with thousands of monsters like those shooting at them?"

There were two speeches in behalf of the Liberty Loan, the speakers being John Lugg, of Manmouth, Ill., and Atty. Dallas Bouderman of Kalamazoo, Mich. One man described the whole situation in these terrible words "War is just kill, kill, kill. The nation who kills the most men is the nation who wins the war." Then he followed with an appeal to the people to come across with their money to back up our boys "over there." Both speeches were splendid and given by real orators who know how to move their audience. This was proven by the number of people who gathered at the side of the car later to talk over the purchase of bonds.

With the exhibit were two French officers, seven sailors from the Great Lakes Training Station and twelve soldiers from Camp Grant. They had their own Pullman car and remained for the night.

MRS. MARGARET BEAMISH

Well Known Tecumseh Lady Passed Away Last Evening.

Her many friends were grieved this morning to hear of the death of Mrs. Margaret Beamish, which occurred last evening at 8:30 o'clock. She has been feeble for several years owing to her advanced age, but up and about the house, even going to the neighbor's homes for friendly calls. A couple of days ago she complained of not having rested well the night before but seemed in her usual health until only a few minutes before the summons came when she said she could not breath easily.

She was born in Dublin, Ireland, Sept. 6, 1830. Coming to this country when she was ten years of age, the family settled at Rochester, N. Y. There it was she married John Beamish, moving to Dundee and later to Raisin. Some 36 years ago the family moved to this village where with her two daughters, Mrs. B. C. Ellis and Miss Elizabeth Beamish, she has lived very happily. Besides these daughters she leaves to mourn one brother, Alvord Fletcher, of DesMoines, Iowa, the survivor of a family of seven.

The funeral will be held from the home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment at Brookside.

"Aunt Margaret" as she was lovingly called in the neighborhood was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends. She was a devout Methodist, a faithful attendant at all the services of this church as long as her health would permit. To those of the close home circle go the sympathy of "our great family."

SHOULD HOLD WHEAT

MICHIGAN FARMERS SO REQUESTED BY HOOVER.

Seaboard and Terminal Elevators Filled—Danger Michigan Mills Will be Compelled to Run Short Time.

To the Farmers of Michigan:

The following telegram was received from Mr. Hoover under date of October 7th:

"Please give wide publicity to the following. Enlarged demands resulting from progress on the Western front has necessitated temporary diversion of grain ships to his service. This temporarily curtails wheat movement from seaboard and has filled our seaboard and terminal elevators and thus checks movement. It is reported that some farmers have become panicky and are selling wheat at government prices. No occasion for this if holders will have a little patience, Wheat will be moved and full price assured to every grower."

The State Food Administration is aware of the fact that the marketing of wheat in Michigan has been unusually free this Fall and that local mills and elevators have not been able to hold the wheat thus offered them. Michigan has only about fifty percent of the normal crop and if this movement continues, Michigan mills will be compelled to run on short time and many of them will close down entirely.

The shipping out of the state of Michigan wheat will result in a serious shortage of mill feeds and consequent higher prices, resulting from the shipment of mill feeds from western points. These out-going shipments are requiring the use of thousands of cars under present congested traffic conditions and if the mills of Michigan are to operate after the first of January, thousands of other cars will be required to ship wheat in under unfavorable weather conditions.

An appeal is therefore issued that Michigan farmers, where they are financially able to do so, hold their wheat until a later date, thus assuring the grinding of this wheat by local mills and retaining the mill feeds, to a very great extent, for use in the state. This will work to the advantage of the farmer in two ways, he will secure a higher price for wheat than is now ruling and will be able to purchase his mill feeds at the low price established in the Fair Price Schedule for mills.

Do not market your wheat faster than Michigan mills can mill it, otherwise much of it will be shipped out of the state, thus increasing the shortage of mill feeds. The Food Administration of Michigan does not want this to happen and the Michigan farmer can not afford to have it happen. A bulletin has been issued to all mills and elevators in Michigan establishing a price for No. 2 Red Winter wheat of $2.10 per bushel, based on Grand Rapids freight rates to seaboard.

Your hearty co-operation in this matter will result in the mutual advantage of the farmer as well as the milling interests.

Faithfully yours,
Geo. A. Prescott.
Federal Food Administrator.

TO ALL MILLS AND ELEVATORS

Prices to be Paid the Farmer For Wheat.

In accordance with instructions received from the Grain Corporation of the United States Federal Food Administration, Philadelphia, you are hereby ordered to pay to farmers delivering wheat at your mill not less than on the following basis: $2.13 per bushel for No. 1 and $2.10 per bushel for No. 2 Red Winter Wheat, based upon Grand Rapids freight rate to seaboard, other grades according to differentials established by the Grain Corporation.

You will understand that if your freight rate is above or below the Grand Rapids freight rate, you should increase or diminish this price in accordance with actual difference in freights.

Mill Feeds.

Owing to the scarcity of mill feeds, your attention is called to Rule M. S. 31. The pledge provided for is mandatory and for your convenience in carrying out this rule, we have had printed Mr. Hoover's statement addressed to the farmers of the country, to which is attached the pledge you are required to have the farmer sign when delivering wheat mill feeds to him. This pledge must be kept on file in your office subject to the order of the Food Administration, and the statement should in all cases be delivered to the purchaser of the wheat mill feeds.

We enclose herewith a limited number of statements and pledges and an additional number will be furnished you upon request.

Very respectfully,
Geo. A. Prescott.
Federal Food Administrator.

LENAWEE ONLY COUNTY FAIL ON LOAN

$207,000 IS NEEDED TO RAISE DEFICIT.

Friday and Saturday to Be Known as "Unconditional Surrender" Days—Tags to Be Given Subscribers.

Lenawee county is the only county in Michigan not over the top in the Liberty Loan drive.

The county Liberty Loan committee has made plans for the continuance of the drive for the rest of the week. Friday and Saturday will be known as "Unconditional Surrender" days, and every person in the county will be asked to surrender an additional amount to the Fourth Liberty Loan.

According to figures in the hands of the Liberty Loan committee $207,600 remain to be raised to put Lenawee over the top in the Liberty Loan drive, and permission has been received from the seventh federal reserve bank to continue the campaign in the county for the two days named.

Monday at a meeting of the county committee plans for the carrying out of the campaign were formulated. An extensive advertising campaign will be started to acquaint the people with the purpose of the additional campaign.

It is the idea of the campaign to sell bonds to the people on the basis of their future savings. Upon a careful investigation into the application blanks for bonds it has been found that a large proportion of the bonds purchased in this county were paid for in cash. While the government wished to have the bonds paid for in cash, it aids both the government and the banks more if the bonds are purchased out of enforced savings as this puts the money into bonds which under no other plan would have been saved. Therefore it will be the policy of the campaign to sell bonds to the people who have already purchased them, asking them to buy enough bonds so that they will be forced to economize in order to pay for them.

The banks of the county have all announced their intention of coöperating with the Liberty Loan committee and will offer to purchase bonds for the people and will allow them six months' time in which to complete the payments. The banks will also allow the purchasers of bonds under the partial payment plan 3 per cent. on their payments as made to the banks.

It will be the plea of the committee putting on the campaign to impress upon the people in the county the opportunity they have for purchasing bonds. Bonds may be purchased during the campaign in any of the methods used during the regular drive, but the committee urges and asks that the people buy their bonds on the installment plan. They advise that, if necessary, money be borrowed from the banks to pay for the bonds.

No person who has subscribed to the present loan will be excluded from soliciting on the part of the committee during the two-day drive, but it will be the policy of the committee to ask those who have already bought to buy more. Tags similar to those which were issued Volunteer day will be printed and distributed to those buying bonds on Friday and Saturday.

You may subscribe any time during the week to the balance of the quota to be raised on "Unconditional Surrender" days and you will be entitled to wear a tag showing you have made an added subscription to put the loan over.

SET CLOCKS BACK

MIDNIGHT OF OCTOBER 26th THE HOUR.

Old Standard Time Abandoned Last April for "More Daylight" to be Resumed.

At midnight, October 26, the nation goes back to the old time effective before the "more daylight" plan was adopted. In Michigan all clocks should be set back one hour. This will be Michigan time and all railroads and public business will be conducted accordingly.

It is up to everybody, therefore, to set their clocks back one hour at midnight Saturday and forget about it afterwards. Forget about sun time, have only one time and avert all confusion.

When the "more daylight" plan was adopted last April there was scarcely any confusion. There was no standard time and sun time, and everything went along smoother than before.

ARTHUR C. CROSSMAN FORMERLY OF TECUMSEH

Passed Away at Omaha, Neb.—Well Remembered Here.

The news came Friday that Arthur Crossman had passed away at his home in Omaha, Neb., that morning at four o'clock.

Only a couple of weeks ago, at the time his mother died, his brother, Frank, of Grand Rapids visited him and at that time he was not well and could not come home to attend the funeral of his mother.

Deceased was born July 30, 1851, spent his young manhood in Tecumseh and received his education in our high school. When a lad of 17 years he was a member of the old Tecumseh band, then under the leadership of Fred Emerson. In a recent letter to a friend, written in May, he recalled the time, just 50 years ago, when he assisted as a member of a drum corps in decorating the graves of soldiers. He has always kept in touch with his old home town and every year has remembered Decoration day, sending money for flowers, etc., for the graves of his parents.

"Buss," as he was most familiarly known, was of a most pleasing personality, always cheerful and happy, full of his jokes and fun, endeared himself to all and never forgot his Tecumseh friends.

His life since leaving Tecumseh has been a successful one, becoming one of the most prominent real estate dealers in Omaha. In addition to attending to his business he spent a great deal of his time the past year in recruiting soldiers for the army, working with some ten or twelve speakers and a drum corps.

Mr. Crossman leaves a widow and one son, Raymond, the latter a graduate of the University of Michigan and a prominent attorney of Omaha.

INFLUENZA DANGEROUS

EXTREME CARE SHOULD BE TAKEN

Against Spread of Epidemic—Casese More Severe This Week Than Last—Death Rate Growing

That the Spanish influenza epidmic is dangerous can well be believed when a glance at this issue of The Herald will show records of so numerous deaths.

The first cases appearing here are nearly all recovered and the first week of the epidemic passed more fortunately than this.

In conversation with Dr. P. B. Hardy yesterday, he stated that the disease is extremely contagious. That pneumonia is likely to follow the influenza attack. Lobar pneumonia proves inevitably fatal, while bronchial pneumonia is curable. The doctor prophesies a funeral every day next week and when the people see these solemn processions pass they will probably realize more fully the danger of the disease and remain at home.

People should not gather in groups and one exposed should keep away from other people as those susceptible to the disease will surely take it. Heed the doctor's warning and prevent new cases from appearing.

A Cheese Meat Substitute.

Cottage cheese is a relatively cheap food worthy of more extensive use in the home in place of some of the meat ordinarily eaten. Following, called Boston roast, is a meat substitute made from cottage cheese and beans:

Mash one pound can of beans or equivalent quantity of home cooked beans or cowpeas, or put them through a meat grinder. Add one-half pound of cottage cheese and bread crumbs to make the mixture stiff enough to be formed into a roll. Bake in a moderate oven, basting occasionally with butter or other fat, and water. Serve with tomato sauce. This dish may be flavored with chopped onions cooked until tender in butter or other fat and a very little water.

A conference was recently held in England to provide parents with advice and information in the various professions and occupations open to girls.

Notice.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Lenawee Co. will be held in the city of Adrian on Monday, October 28, 1918, at 138 North Main St. for the purpose of electing a president and directors in the fourth and second districts, also a director for the fifth district to fill vacancy, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. adv. 10-24

FUNERAL OF EDSON C. BROWN

REMAINS OF POSTMASTER LAID TO REST.

Sketch of the Life of One of Tecumseh's Foremost Business Men and Friend.

The funeral of E. C. Brown, our postmaster, the first of the influenza epidemic victims in our little city, was held privately from the family home on Oneida street Sunday afternoon. Only the immediate family, consisting of the wife, daughters and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Bates of Detroit and Miss Bonnie Brown of Ann Arbor, Edward and Miss Florence Frensdorf of Hudson, and a body of Masons attended the services where the Episcopal service was read by Rev. J. G. Widdifield, and at the grave the burial service of the Masonic order.

To George Hines, E. T. Smith, J. F. Rector, Wm. Barrett, O. G. Hunt and Henry McClure was given the honor of being bearers.

Edson C. Brown was born at Maple Rapids, Clinton county, August 19, 1859. There he lived until reaching man's estate, when he took up the junk business and also a grocery business at Bannister. Later he went to Addison, then to Tecumseh, in 1896. Here for some years he bought wool for Edw. Frensdorf and conducted a junk business, but in 1903 the firm of Brown & Co. was organized and has been successful since its start.

The coal and feed business was added and an office opened on Chicago street, away from the litter which necessarily comes with the business, then conducted in the old skating rink. The business in Mr. Brown's capable hands outgrew the little office and the firm purchased the present block.

When Woodrow Wilson was elected president it was no surprise that Mr. Brown received the commission of postmaster, for always a Democrat, he had worked faithfully for his party and the honor was his due, so he left the firm and took up his new duties which he has performed faithfully, making just the man for the job. Always ready with a kind word and smile, it has been a pleasure for the public to deal with him and more than that, did he hear of anyone in trouble or need it was always Mr. Brown's purse and time given freely.

The wife was Miss Emma West, also of Clinton county, and with her are left the two daughters and the five little Bates, the grandchildren whom he heartily enjoyed and whose antics he was so fond of relating.

A genial soul, and enjoying he society of the men of the town, Mr. Brown belonged to several lodges. In the Masonic fraternity he was a member of the Chapter and Council, also the Order of the Eastern Star. He was also a K. of P., a member of the Pythian Sisters and Eagles. He had for many years been a communicant of the Episcopal church and a faithful attendant, holding several church offices.

No man from the street will be more sincerely missed than this, our friend.

MRS. BERT MARSHALL

Wife of Prominent Farmer Passes Away Saturday.

Mrs. Bert Marshall, wife of a prominent farmer living three miles west of Tecumseh, on the town line road, passed away Saturday morning at her home, after only a few days' illness with pneumonia, which followed the influenza. She was ill only six days.

Mrs. Marshall, who was only 37 years of age, was before marriage Miss Hall of Manchester. The husband survives.

The funeral was held from the home Tuesday afternoon, with burial in Clinton.

Mr. Marshall has been very ill since Mrs. Marshall's death, but at this writing is some better.

LENAWEE BANKERS

COUNTY ASSOCIATION MEETS IN TECUMSEH

Splendidly Entertained by Local Financiers — Annual Business Meeting Preceded by Banquet.

The Tecumseh bankers were hosts of the Lenawee County Bankers' association at their annual meeting Thursday evening. The dining room of the Masonic Temple was the scene of the banquet and it was a beautiful place, with oak boughs and their beautiful foliage and fall flowers. Mrs. J. H. Smith and Mrs. H. S. Temple were the hostesses, receiving the guests and overseeing the banquet. Mrs. Chas. Mattis catered and the excellence of the menu brought forth many tributes to her skill. The guests were served by Perry Hayden, Wiley McCann, Robt. Moore, jr., and George Newsom.

After the banquet the party were ushered to the lodge room above, where the business session was held.

President Harry B. Waldby called the session to order and J. H. Smith, president of the Tecumseh State bank, welcomed the visitors to the city. Several important items of the business of the association were discussed and officers elected as follows:

President—C. A. Wilson, Wakefield State bank, Morenci.

Vice President—W. J. Redfield, Onsted State bank.

Secretary - Treasurer — H. S. Temple, Lilley State bank, Tecumseh.

Executive Committee — Chas. Whitney, Adrian State Savings bank; Chas. King, Crater's State bank, Blissfield; Wm. Thompson, Thompson State Savings bank, Hudson.

There were 42 members of the association present, representing 19 of the 24 banks in the county. The next quarterly meeting will be held in January in Adrian and the spring meeting in Morenci.

SANTO CASCARELLI EPIDEMIC VICTIM

Young Fruit Merchant Dies After Short Illness.

Another death added to Tecumseh's terrible list for the past week was that of Santo Cascarelli, the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cascarelli. Only a week before was the young man taken ill and being a husky boy with splendid good health fairly radiating about him, nothing was thought of his illness and it was only on Thursday that he became really sick. Pneumonia developed quickly and found him a victim.

Santo was a bright boy and has been his father's right hand in their fruit business. Even when he was 12 years of age he took charge of the entire business while his father went back to Italy for the remainder of the family and by his ability and hard work made a place for himself as a real business man.

The entire family, consisting of the parents and six remaining children are ill with the influenza, so the remains were placed in the vault to await their recovery, when a burial service can be conducted.

GARLINGHOUSE-HILL.

Marriage of Former Well Known Tecumseh Girl Takes Place Sunday.

On Sunday afternoon at the Baptist parsonage occurred the marriage of a former Tecumseh girl who comes from one of the old families of the town and has hosts of friends here—Miss Edna Mae Garlinghouse and Lawrence L. Hill, both of North Adams. Mrs. A. W. Stahler and daughter, Miss Lula, a warm friend of the bride, were the attendants.

Miss Garlinghouse is the daughter of Daniel Garlinghouse, the family moving from here to North Adams some years ago. The groom is a business man of that village, where they will continue to reside. The congratulations of The Herald accompany the best wishes of the family's friends.

DRIVING STOLEN CAR FROM NEW YORK.

Another Chapter in the Lives of Roadside Campers Arrested for Vagrancy.

A further chapter in the story of the couple and little baby who camped on the road side in Raisin and were gathered in by Deputy Sheriff Smith, was revealed the last of the week when the owner of the Ford car which they were driving dropped in from New York. It seems the car bore a New York license so the officers got busy and it did not take long to trace the owner, who proved to be a Wm. Meade of Martville, N. Y.

He identified the man of the party as Martin Birdsall of Hannibal, N. Y., who had eloped with a Mrs. Merton Boget and baby of Fulton, N. Y. The woman and baby are with friends at Sheridan, Mich., and Birdsall is in Adrian awaiting trial.

Mr. Meade has returned to his home with his car.

CHARLES UNDERWOOD, RIDGEWAY YOUTH

Dies in Ann Arbor While Preparing for Service for Country.

The sad news was reported on the street yesterday that Charles Underwood, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Underwood, of Ridgeway had passed away in the early morning at the homeopathic hospital at Ann Arbor.

September 20th he entered the students' training school at Ann Arbor. Two weeks ago he was taken ill with the influenza. A week later he was taken to the homeopathic hospital where he was pronounced to have double pneumonia. Last Sunday Dr. I. D. Loree was called and he received the best care possible, but the Grim Reaper could not be evaded.

He had graduated from the Ridgeway schools, later coming to Tecumseh where he finished high school with the class of 1915. He received two years at the U. of M., but this year thought Uncle Sam needed him so had taken up the course in the service.

Beside the parents are left three sisters, Mrs. Ralph Avery, who lives near Ridgeway, and Misse Arlene and Alice at home, also the grandmother, Mrs. Chas. Underwood, of Ridgeway. His brother, David, was killed in action in France August 31.

The family have the sincere sympathy of this community in their double affliction. Both boys were bright, cheery young men and will be sadly missed.

The funeral of Charles Underwood will be held privately from the home Friday at 2 p. m., with a memorial service for both he and his brother, David, at the Ridgeway cemetery following.

Editorial Comment

Dolph Heesen came to this office the other day and in renewing his subscription asked this question: "Have you any idea what a billion dollars would look like and how long it would take to count that number?" When we replied that we knew it was a large amount, but that we have as yet not had the opportunity to count that many dollars he told us of some figuring he had done. He figured that if one dollar had been dropped into a slot every minute from the time of Christ up to 1918 it would amount to something like one billion and eight million dollars.

Since the entering of the United States into the world war we have let slip over our lips quite glibly billions of dollars without even thinking or realizing the enormity of the amount. When one stops to consider what the indebtedness of this nation will be after the war it is likely to stagger us, and when we still think further what the war will cost all the nations engaged therein the amount will be even more staggering.

There is no need to worry over the debt of our nation. While the expense has been great a bright future looms up for the United States after the war, if the people are careful to secure the right men to conduct national affairs. The world will look upon the United States as the country of the greatest resources and trade here will be increased manifold. We need not to worry over the big indebtedness because we have the natural wealth and earning power to liquidate. It will take time, but it will be done and without any great burden to the individual. In fact the government Liberty Loan plan will prove a benefit to the individuals that have invested in the same.

A billion dollars, while an enormous sum, is not as staggering now as were a few hundred thousand thirty years ago.

One of the first signs of the opening of the fall political campaign coming to this office is a lot of free "dope" regarding the various virtues of the opposing parties, one side claiming that the war has not been run right and the other that the amdministration has been hindered by members of the opposing party. Then we have some free copy issued by a "nonpartisan" committee to boost the candidacy for the senate of the multi-millionaire, Henry Ford. How this committee can expect that the much harrassed and overworked country newspaper publisher can afford to donate space and take the time to set in type this free campaign dope is beyond us. The Herald is not going to do it and we feel certain there are hundreds of other publishers, among them possible admirers of the qualities of the millionaire candidate, who will take the same course.

We have several reasons for taking the position we do. First, Mr. Ford is better able to pay for his publicity than any of the other candidates for office. The newspaper is a business proposition the same as are Ford's factories. Second, we believe, as do many others, that Mr. Ford will be of more service to his country looking after his business interests at home than ours at Washington. It is not a party issue with us because he is not particular on what ticket his name appears. It is a case of getting the right man in the right place and regardless of all the investigations and legal proceedings against him we believe the people are going to stand back of Commander Truman H. Newberry. And if elected, it will not be Newberry's party that will do it, because right here in Michigan, by his own party, an effort was made to defeat him in the primaries. It will be the growing independent vote that recognizes the man above the party that will seat Commander Newberry in the senate if he gets the seat.

Politics in this congressional district and Lenawee county is beginning to liven up and candidates are coming before the public in newspaper announcements. As usual, before the party was split by Roosevelt and his followers, we look for the county to go Republican, although there is a good chance for the Democrats to slip over a candidate or two. It is almost a safe bet that Earle C. Michener will win in the congressional race and the state will go Republican. But war conditions may put a block in the game and change the usual order of things.

The cause of the women of the state is to be put to the test at the November election and the chances are good for the carrying of the suffrage amendment. We are willing they should be given the privilege of the ballot.

Regardless of the fact that there have been many booze violations, the new prohibition is doing a great good for Michigan. While in the border counties the jails have been housing quite a number of violators, the courts in inland counties and cities have had a slump in business. The average "attendance" at the Wayne county jail has been cut down forty per cent and the same is true with the house of correction and the state prisons. Dependents at the poor houses have also decreased, and men who have formerly supported the saloons are now supporting their families. They could not support both.

On account of the difficulty in getting newly installed machinery adjusted properly The Herald for the past few weeks has been late in its issue. About the last finishing touches on the new equipment are now made and hereafter we hope to issue promptly on time. However, to do this we must have the co-operation of the public. Advertising copy should not be in later than Tuesday to receive proper attention and as we must go to press Thursday morning to get the paper delivered by the mail carriers Thursday afternoons, news should be sent in as early as possible. The last forms of The Herald will be closed at 10 o'clock, immediately after which the press will be started and the issue printed.

We have received numerous communications from subscribers that get their mail on the rural routes out of neighboring towns, calling attention to the importance of getting The Herald to them before Saturday, so they could read the advertisements before coming to town. Last Saturday a card came from one of these subscribers stating: "You have made the paper much better. There is only one thing now—get it out so we can take advantage of the advertisements, as Saturday is too late."

We have strained every nerve to overcome this difficulty, but machinery is machinery and it must be adjusted correctly before it will respond properly to tasks put upon it. Now we feel that the last problem has been solved and the issue hereafter will be prompt.

Last week was the first time that The Herald was sent to city subscribers through the postoffice delivery system. It was impossible to get the papers over to the postoffice in time for Thursday afternoon's delivery and as the work was new to the mail carriers, many subscribers in the village did not receive The Herald until Friday afternoon. The carriers were loaded with mail in the morning and could not take care of the entire delivery in the forenoon. This part of the delivery will soon adjust itself and everybody will be served promptly.

The fact that we have received numerous communications from subscribers on rural routes out of other towns complaining that they lose the opportunity of taking advantage of the advertisements when The Herald is late, should be absolute proof that the readers depend upon the business men to tell them what they have to sell. Some Tecumseh business houses evidently consider advertising an expense instead of an investment. With such evidence they can not help but feel that the public wants to be invited, and the best, cheapest and quickest way is through the home paper.

The government calls for a clean slate hereafter on subscription lists of newspapers. It demands that all free copies be stopped and that subscriptions be paid in advance. Last week we endeavored to notify all subscribers in arrears by a cross marked on the paper or wrapper. We did this to save stamp money, because even at the advanced subscription rate it is difficult to come out even, and every unnecessary expense has to be shaved off to keep the business on its feet.

We were indeed surprised and pleased at the large number that have come in to pay since the last issue. We were also pleased with the many compliments bestowed upon The Herald as it is now. There is some recompense for hard work when one learns that it is fully appreciated.

Any subscriber that was notified by the cross last week that subscription was in arrears can get a copy of the paper at this office this week. We cannot send such copies through the mail without getting into trouble with Uncle Sam. Next week the extra copies must be cut down, so if any one wishes extra copies we should be informed of that fact before Wednesday noon. We are with the government in this war and we are going to abide by its orders.

It costs money to canvass; it costs money and lots of time to write personal letters, for that reason an advertisement in this paper acts as a go-between for the merchant and the buyer. The merchant has something to sell; the purchaser is always in need of something; if he sees a well worded message in his newspaper and is interested in the subject he will read this message. For the good of the buyer and seller this message should be carefully worded, to tell the exact truth; not only saying we sell the best, the only, or any other expressions that are antique and out of date, but in a clear, compact manner bring out the message. If it is brought out clearly it will be read and if the subject is interesting enough it will bring buyer and seller together. If on the other hand it is a jumble of words without any point or the same is repeated time after time, the buyer will care nothing about the message and in a way believes all messages are of the same character.

We are very anxious that the advertisers in this paper bring out the right kind of messages, change them often enough so they will not get stale, and if the above suggestions are followed they will be sure their messages are read.

Before the long, wet winter months set in, when the greater part of his machinery and implements are not in use, the thrifty farmer carefully goes over them, oiling, using paint when necessary, supplying broken or missing parts and putting everything under shelter. These and other frugal characteristics differentiate him from the shiftless, haphazard farmer who leaves his implements exposed to the weather, who lets the fences around his house and barn fall down, perfectly contented to throw a hoop over his corral gate rather than put on a new hinge or repair the old one.

The former, it may be taken for granted, is a plow-deep, use-fertilizer, cultivate thoroughly and take advantage-of-the-market farmer—in a word, a successful farmer; while the latter is a scratch-the ground and trust-to-luck individual whose failure he attributes to any one but himself.

No right minded farmer could tolerate being in the second class; and, on the other hand, every farmer coming under that category ought to aspire to the first classification—and now is the time to start.

C. H. Bartholomew, E. Pottawatomie St., says: "My kidneys were out of order and troubled me by acting irregularly. I had sharp catches in my back and the pain was so severe I could hardly move. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wright & Son's drug store and they soon put my back and kidneys in good order. I gladly recommend Doan's."

ONE PRICE CLOTHIERS.

The Sun is Said to Cross The Line Twice A Year

Well, we've got Old Sol bested just as far as a "Wind Wagon" has a "Hoop Skirt." Our Company is always on the line both as to grades and prices. Our stock is all of the "Special Merit" variety. A live wire with such a line to offer is justified in being noisy. Now, if you want to be on the line to "Success," buy your building material from us.

Our motto is "To sell lumber and more lumber," and to sell more lumber we must sell you Quality Lumber. Do you catch the idee?

We might put off a bunch of cheap quality lumber on your wagon and think it was a joke, but when you would come to unload and find every joke "cracked," you might come back to our yard but not to buy lumber. Oh no!

We put out grades that will bring you back for more of the same grades That's the way to sell lumber and more lumber.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Al VanWinkle was home from Detroit for a few hours Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncy Beebe were in Jackson Tuesday on business.

Mrs. Geo. E. Barber of Stanton is a guest of her son, Clyde, and family.

Charlie Howe is one more sick boy. He was seriously ill the first of the week.

George Page is one of the epidemic victims, being very sick the first of the week.

Little Beatrice Barrett is quite ill with larngitis, having been confined to her bed since Sunday.

There will be no meeting of the Lady Maccabees until further notice comes from the grand officers.

Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Widdifield have as guests her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clatworthy of Toronto.

Miss Ada Swift was up from Toledo Sunday, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Swift.

Mrs. Pickell has arrived from Kentucky to visit her brother, Howard Wheadon, and found the family all sick.

Miss Magdalena Blum was called home from Ypsilanti Monday to care for her people, both Mr. and Mrs. Blum and Oliver being ill.

Merton Thielan and family now occupy the Smith house on North Pearl. Mr. Thielan is employed by the Co-Operative association.

Miss Martha Caldwell and niece, Miss Eleanor, have been very ill since last week. Mrs. Thos. Caldwell is here from Cleveland caring for them.

Will Bly is of the list of husbands having to remain home from work to care for their families. This is true all over town, as no help is procurable.

Miss Ella Clapp, manager of the 5 and 10c store, has been seriously ill for the past ten days. A. J. Tribolet of Coldwater has been here caring for the store.

Miss Alice Cutting returned home from Battle Creek the last of the week as the city schools were closed. She has since been confined to her bed with the epidemic.

Walter Sutton was to leave yesterday for Camp Eustis with this week's selects, but has been very ill for several days with influenza, and was unable to make the journey.

Don't hold unnecessary talk fests over the telephone during the influenza epidemic. Delay in reaching a doctor by phone may result in serious consequences to another phone subscriber.

Mrs. George Hoag and eight children are down sick. Miss Margaret, having heart trouble also, is very ill and George is just able to be around the house. Later reports give George and his mother, Mrs. Cynthia Hoag, also down with the epidemic, making eleven in one house.

A Tecumseh girl, Gertrude Peters, now a senior at Alma college, has been chosen associate editor of the weekly college paper, The Almanian. Sufficient honor attaches to this position to make it one of the most desirable ones in the college. Miss Peters also holds a prominent place on the Alma College Glee club.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Beamish was held from the home Saturday afternoon, Rev. C. M. Thompson of the Methodist church officiating. Present from out of town were Miss Grace Green of Detroit, Mrs. Will Green and Miss Emma Green of Olivet, James Carty, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Carty, Miss Carty and Alfred Carty of Albion, and Mrs. F. H. Stone of Hillsdale.

There are some five or six in the family of A. S. VanWinkle sick with the "flu." Bernard Goodrich came from Hastings to spend Sunday as a guest of the family and was taken ill. Then Mrs. Ernest Pangburn, one of the daughters, was taken sick Monday and removed to her mother's home. The latter was caring for a sick friend near Manchester, but had to come home to care for her own.

Lester Coller is making four panels of pictures of our boys in the service to hang in the Tecumseh State Savings bank . These are only of the boys from this township but in one a splendid picture of Col. A. S. Cummins is in the center and around it are grouped photos of the four Tecumseh young ladies in the service—Laura Comfort and Beth Satterthwaite of the Friends reconstruction work, Anna Ferguson, a Red Cross nurse, and Zillah Mills, a hostess at the Y. W. C. A. Hostess house at Camp Funston. There are 87 pictures so far secured. The pictures which have been hung are attracting much attention and we are proud of the brave faces.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

France, Sept. 28. 1918.

Dear Dad:—Have your letters of August 9 and 17, with card, picture and toothpicks. Thanks very much for all these. Also thanks to Carrie for the lovely card and the good wishes. God knows we all need the wishes, for it is no simple maneuver to face the Hun army and drive him from his nest.

I wrote you from the hospital and now am back with my company again, as good as ever, I guess. We are back again and in our own army. Expect to be up and after the Hun again in a few days. I am inclosing a map of our advance to Fesmes, which please put with the other relics.

It is cold and rainy so I can't write much now, but I am O. K. and hope you are also. Lots of love to all relatives and friends. Love to you the most. Sonny.

Mrs. Milburn Hawkes wrote George Hawkes Sunday that she had just received a wire from Washington saying that her husband had been injured. Later they saw in Detroit papers that he had been gassed. They suppose, however, that this is the injury about Capt. Hawkes has written and from which he has recovered.

Henry Baxter went to Lansing Tuesday to accompany the remains of Mrs. A. L. Hawkins to her old home in Ohio for burial.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Thatcher, October 13, a daughter, Marben Patrice.

Mrs. E. C. Brown has engaged a suite of rooms at Ann Arbor, where she will reside until Miss Bonnie finishes her training at the U. of M. hospital in December. Later they plan living in Detroit, closing their home here.

Mrs. Chas. Benedict has purchased the larger of the Rainbow Row houses. The present tenants, Mr. and Mrs. A. Titus and Mrs. L. B. Thompson, are to remain there, however, until spring, when the new owner will take possession. Mrs. Benedict now has rooms in Arthur Harding's house on East Chicago street.

Elroy Zimmerman has received word of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Cal. Lazelle, which occurred in Ann Arbor Saturday. When Mrs. Zimmerman died five months ago, her sister was then too ill to come, and has been in a serious condition ever since.

Mrs. E. J. Mann received the sad news Sunday of the death of a niece, Miss Margaret Mann, at Clyde, Ohio, which occurred Saturday. Monday evening came a message from Lansing stating that Mrs. A. L. Hawkins, a sister of Mrs. Mann, had died. Both were victims of pneumonia following the influenza. Mrs. Hawkins is the mother of Miss Vivian and Edwin Miller, who reside in the Mann family.

Miss Camilla Hayden is the new bookkeeper at the office of the Tecumseh Electric Light Co., taking the place of Carl Schneider, who leaves tomorrow for Camp Wadsworth, S. C.

Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Rex were in Lansing the last of the week, the guests of friends.

The Misses Bernice Hall and Anna Schreder visited Miss Nettie Pierce in Adrian Sunday.

Private Sam Rottman arrived home Saturday night for a two week's furlough. He was wounded over seas in service and has for a few weeks been speaking at various points in Ohio for the Liberty Loan campaign. At the close of his furlough he is to return to the hospital at Camp May for further treatment.

Arthur Dinse is very ill with Spanish Influenza. He was listed to start for Camp Wadsworth, S. C., tomorrow, but is too sick to go.

Charles Flager went to Blissfield Monday to work in the sugar beet factory.

Clayton Avery went to Clinton yesterday, called by the death of his brother. John. whose funeral is held in that village today.

H. A. Marshall of Roanoke, Va., and Roy Marshall of Toledo were called here by the death of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Bert Marshall, and are caring for their brother through his illness.

JOHN AVERY FOUND DEAD

WELL KNOWN HERE AND AT MACON.

Was Ditching at Farm Seven Miles From Ann Arbor When Sudden Call Came.

John Avery, well known in this vicinity and especially at Macon. was found dead in a ditch where he was working, on the farm of Frank Fry, some seven miles this side of Ann Arbor, on Monday evening.

At noon of that day he spoke of not feeling well, but went back to his ditching, where he was working alone, the other men being busy cutting corn. As he did not come up for supper, searchers went to find him and there he lay in the bottom of the ditch, probably having been dead abuot two hours.

The remains were brought to the home of Dwight Hause in Clinton. where the funeral is to be held this afternoon, with burial at the Benton cemetery, six miles east of Clinton.

Mr. Avery had always resided in the vicinity of Clinton and Macon and was 46 years of age. He had never married, but leaves one sister, Mrs. Celia Dubois of Wolf Lake and two brothers, Louis, who resides on the home farm, five miles east of Clinton, and Clayton Avery of Tecumseh.

DEATH OF LEROY GERMAN AT THE M. A. C.

Victim of Influenza While Taking Mechanical Training at Lansing.

The remains of Leroy German arrived here Saturday evening from Lansing and were taken to the home of his father, Wm. German, at Pentecost, where a private funeral was held Monday afternoon, with burial at the Grubb cemetery.

Leroy enlisted September 19 in the mechanical department of the service and was sent to the camp at the M. A. C. for training. Here he was taken with influenza, followed by pneumonia which caused his death. He was a member of the Onsted Masonic lodge, and these brothers gave their beautiful burial service at the grave. This takes the sole remaining relative of the family of Mr. German, the wife having died several years ago, and his mother last spring.

RED CROSS NEWS.

Last Wednesday a request came from Camp Custer to the Tecumseh branch of the Red Cross. asking them to buy up all the blankets in Tecumseh. and to send them to Camp Custer, and to send the bill.

The chairman immediately went to all the stores and bought all they had in stock, 198 blankets for $648.00, the merchants giving them at cost price. Before night of the same day the blankets were on the road to Camp Custer, as a present from the Tecumseh Red Cross. with compliments of our local branch.

If we had not had plenty of money in the bank, as a result of the generosity of our town, this could not have been done. Collectors would have to go around, and in the meantime the soldiers would have died, or recovered before the blankets could have reached them.

Every subscriber to the Red Cross can feel a little warmer to think that he or she provided a covering for a soldier when he needed it most.

Hard Coal

Our understanding is that there will be no coal delivered excepting to base burner users, and there is not enough in sight for this demand.

Soft Coal

Thirty days ago we had orders to reserve soft coal for stove use. We are having freer shipment of soft coal now than then, so are in position to offer you soft coal for ANY USE, whether furnace, range or heating stove.

It has been the wish of the Government for this section to use the Illinois coal almost altogether, but owing to our connections and getting permission of the State Fuel Department, both of Michigan and Ohio, we are receiving a very good grade of Ohio Lump, much better in fact than any coal otherwise available.

We earnestly urge you to fill your bins and do it now. We know as soon as the weather changes the demand will be so much greater than the supply that the conditions of last winter will be repeated, or nearly so.

Coke

Several years ago we carried coke in stock and sold nearly as much as hard coal. We discontinued carrying it because the price was about the same as hard coal. A great many people do not believe it will be satisfactory in their particular heating plant. In this we believe they are making a mistake. It will burn anywhere hard coal burns and with nearly as good results in most cases. It gives just as good results and is much cleaner than any soft coal.

We have two different sizes—the smaller size for base burners or magazine stoves and the larger size for furnace use. The only way for you to KNOW how it burns is to order a small supply and try it out in your particular heating plant. Don't try it out in a half-hearted way, but give it a good trial. Of course the drafts, etc., have to be regulated differently, but by burning it you save the dirt from soft coal.

If You Need a Stove or Range This Year or Next Year

Buy Now

Surely, it should be easy to decide in the face of the extraordinary conditions, that this is the opportune time to buy a heating stove, range or heating system.
The output of all stove and furnace companies will be curtailed.
The cost of all steel and iron products is constantly upward.
We do not know when the present prices on Round Oak Stoves, Ranges, and Heating Systems can be duplicated. Certainly, it will be years hence.
This would be true if we had no Round Oaks on hand to sell you.
The truth of it means all the more, considering our complete stock.
The purchase of one of these specialties is now a wise investment. Let us emphasize NOW.
NOW means immediately, if possible, to-day.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

"SOMEWHERE IN RUSSIA"

"CHICK" COLLER WRITES FROM "NORTH POLE."

Letter Written to His Father at Camp Custer—Next Water Trip He Hopes Will be to the Good Old U. S. A.

Sergeant J. B. Coller, who is in a hospital at Camp Custer, forwards to The Herald a letter from Russia written by his son Earl, or "Chick," as he is familiarly known here.

Sergeant Coller writes that he is still in the hospital and no better. He expects to come home just as soon as the quarantine is raised. The death rate on account of the epidemic, he writes, is daily growing less but there have been about 600 deaths up to the date of his letter, October 16.

Following is the letter from his son:

From "Chick" Coller to His Father, Sgt. J. B. Coller.

Somewhere in Russia,
August 29, 1918.

My Dear Father:—

Didn't think I would have to go to the North Pole to write you a letter, but I guess I will have to. We had a nice stay in England and I saw enough of it to last a long time. Where we are going is hard to tell, but we are on our way.

I don't want but one more water trip and that is the trip back home, and when that day comes there isn't a boat that sails that can come fast enough.

How are you and all the boys? Give my best to all. You may not hear from me again for a long time, as we will probably be frozen in for the winter.

See by the Detroit paper in London that you had another bad storm at Custer. Trust you escaped its path. Not a letter have I had and it's getting darn lonesome. Just a picture of a cow from Michigan would be welcome.

I am well and feel fine and trust you are the same. Don't worry about me. We are well taken care of. Write to Lester, Leon and Will for me. Can't write about the things I would like to, so this will be last time you will hear from me for a while. Don't worry about me and take good care of yourself.

My love to all.

Good-bye,
Earl.

France, Oct. 1, 1918.

Dear Mother and Father:—

Well, as my day's work is done I will try to write a few lines. I would have written before, but I was called back to the 52nd and we have moved up close to the front. We were several days on the road and I have not had time to write until tonight.

We traveled through some beautiful country, but I don't think any of it looks quite as good as Macon.

Last Thursday evening as I was eating my supper on a stone pile by the road side I thought of the good lunch you were probably eating about that time at the fair. I hope I will be home next year to help you eat it.

I have not seen John and I don't suppose we will see each other until we get home. I don't think that will be very long the way things look now. We get news from the front nearly every day and we get a daily paper from Paris.

Now, don't worry because I am near the front. I am in headquarters company and don't have to go up to the guns very much. We have a good place to sleep and all we can eat and I am feeling fine.

Well, it is getting late and I am pretty tired, so I guess I had better close and go to bed.

SCHOOL NEWS

(Too Late for Last Week.)

Foot Ball.

Yes, sir; we will hand it to the "gang" for knowing how to put up a good fight. Hudson's line-up, although not a heavy bunch, were good line plungers, and came here with the idea of taking home the bacon. Because of the local meat shortage we were forced to refuse our neighbors this honor.

Tecumseh had a loyal crowd of rooters on the side lines and from the moment Tecumseh marched out on the gridiron there was no lack of confidence as to the final outcome of the game.

First and Second Quarters.

Hudson kicked off, Ousterhout received the pigskin and carried it to the 30-yard line. The ball was kept in the middle of the field during the first two quarters, with Hudson making good line plunges. End of first half, score: Hudson 0, Tecumseh, 0.

Third Quarter.

Tecumseh gains first points by field run by Moore, who carried the ball forty yards to goal, receiving it by forward pass from quarter back, Harrington. Tecumseh lost goal kick. The ball was then kicked off by Tecumseh and remained in the center of the field during the remainder of the quarter. Score, Tecumseh 6, Hudson 0.

Fourth Quarter.

Harrington, who entered the game sick, was laid out by coming into contact with terra firma at a high rate of speed, in a line tackle. Time was taken out and after a lapse "Lawrnie" summoned up his old time grit and renewed the fight. Two more line plunges and a forward pass carried our ball up to the five yard line. From there the ball was carried over the chalk line by Capt. VanWinkle on a line plunge. Tecumseh a second time lost her goal kick. You see, we just got a brand new foot ball the other day, and haven't quite learned how to kick it. Ball was then kicked off by Tecumseh and game ended with it in Hudson's hands, in the center of the field. Score: Tecumseh 12, Hudson 0.

Yea — Team — Yea Team, Yea Team, Y-e-e-e-h!

Tecumseh Wins Fourth Game—Defeats Blissfield by Score of 12 to 6.

Despite the fact that our full back, Ousterhout, was recuperating, and our quarter back, Harrington, down with the "flu," our foot ball eleven for the third time in succession was victorious in an evenly matched tussle with Blissfield high, here at the ball grounds Friday afternoon, Oct. 11. At the toss of the coin Blissfield won her choice and took the north end of the grid iron as her goal.

First quarter—Tecumseh secured kick-off and gained ten yards on an end run by "Rip." Our second play was a forward pass from quarter back to right end. Moore, who caught the ball, in a spectacular dash of 80 yards made his fourth touch down of the season. Tecumseh failed to kick goal and quarter ended with score: Tecumseh 6, Blissfield 0.

Second quarter—A test of both teams. Bitter struggle, but resulted in failure of either team to place the pill over the chalk line. Blissfield, who in the past made so many gains by her good forward passes, tried to pull the same trick on Tecumseh. Most of these were broken up by Becker, who seemed to break through Blissfield's defensive every time. Score: Tecumseh 6, Blissfield 0.

Third quarter—Blissfield received kick off and was downed on the 40 yard line. But she had a determined team, and after several gains finally made her first and only touch down by a well executed forward pass. Blissfield tried to kick out, but Moore blocked the ball. She then kicked off to Tecumseh and the time was up. Score, Blissfield 6, Tecumseh 6.

Fourth quarter — Our fellows, somewhat taken back by the apparent ease with which Blissfield had just scored on them, tightened up, and by gaining successively on end runs and line plunges at last were brought near enough to their goal to send Rip through with the pig-skin for a second touch down. This makes his record three touch downs for the season. At the goal kick the posts seemed to be miserably close together and so the ball failed to go through. Tecumseh kicked off and the game ended on Blissfield's 30 yard line. Final score: Tecumseh 12, Blissfield 6.

History 12 class is having some mighty interesting current topics discussions every Monday morning. Germany's peace move was the main topic last Monday.

Our military company is about to purchase uniforms. They would surely spruce it up on the drill grounds, at the same time making mighty durable clothes for every day wear. The equipment as under discussion consists of "over seas" caps, coat, knee pants and leggings—all of khaki.

Burt Ousterhout sustained quite a blow on his forehead in the Hudson game and is recuperating in the meantime before cracking any more of his opponents' knees with his cupola.

The Blissfield game was the first this season in which our eleven scored any in the first half. In this case we scored in the first three minutes. Some improvement, Mr. Duguid and Carl!

An enthusiastic demonstration was given Friday afternoon when the high school marched in a body from the school house to the ball grounds to give our team a rousing send-off.

Circumstantial evidence: — The cheering of Tecumseh's rooters was heard as far away as the standpipe.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

To the Qualified Electors of the Township of Tecumseh (precincts No. 1 and 2) County of Lenawee, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with Act 126, Public Acts of 1917, I, the undersigned Township Clerk, will, upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, or the day of any regular or special election or official primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said township not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration, except that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Second Saturday before any general or special election or official primary election and the day of such election.

October 26, 1918—Last Day for General Registration for General Election, Nov. 5th, 1918.

All electors not already registered and intending to vote at said ELECTION, should make PERSONAL APPLICATION to me on or before the 26th day of October, A. D. 1918.

Notice is further hereby given that I will be at American Ry. Express office.

Oct. 12 and Oct. 19, 1918

From 8 o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m. on each said day for the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said township as SHALL APPEAR and apply therefor.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election shall be entered in the registration book.

Registration of Absentee by Oath.

If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election, and shall, UNDER OATH, state that he is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the township TWENTY DAYS next preceding such election, designating particularly the place of his residence, and that he possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution; and that, owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself, or of some member of his family or owing to his absence from the township or public business or his own business, and without intent to avoid or delay his registration, he was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election, then the name of such person shall be registered, and he shall then be permitted to vote at such election. If such applicant shall, in said matter, wilfully make any false statement, he shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction, be subject to the pains and penalties thereof.

Provisions in Case of Removal to Another Precinct.

Any registered and qualified voter who has REMOVED from ONE ELECTION PRECINCT to another election precinct of the same township shall have the right on any day previous to election day, on application to the township Clerk, to have his name transferred from the registration book of the precinct from which he HAS REMOVED to the registration book of the precinct in which he THEN RESIDES. Such elector shall have the right to have such transfer made ON ELECTION DAY by obtaining from the board of inspectors of election of the precinct from which he HAS REMOVED a CERTIFICATE OF TRANSFER and presenting the said certificate to the BOARD OF ELECTION INSPECTORS OF THE PRECINCT IN WHICH HE THEN RESIDES.

WOMEN ELECTORS — The names of all qualified WOMEN ELECTORS not already appearing on the registration list will be registered, provided PERSONAL APPLICATION is made in conformity with the foregoing provisions.

H. H. Hanna, Township Clerk.
Dated October 1, 1918.

VOTING BY MAIL — HOW TO DO IT

With Special Reference to the General Election, Nov. 5, 1918.

Who are Entitled to Vote by Mail.

(Excerpts from Chapter XII, Act No. 203, Public Acts of 1917.)

The term "absent voter" shall be taken to mean any qualified elector, who is absent or who expects to be absent from the township or ward in which he resides, on the day of any election or official primary election, and who is

(1). A person in the actual service of the United States, or of this State, or

(2). A student, while in attendance at any institution of learning or

(3). A regularly enrolled member of any citizens' military or naval training camp, held under the government of the United States or the State of Michigan, or

(4). A member of the Legislature while in attendance at any session of the Legislature, or

(5). A commercial traveler, or

(6). A person employed upon or in the operation of railway trains in this State, or

(7). A sailor engaged or employed on the great lakes or in coastwise trade.

The term "commercial traveler" shall be taken to mean a person engaged in soliciting the sale of goods, by the exhibition of samples, or by catalogue or other device, for the purpose of effecting such sales and taking orders for goods to be subsequently shipped by his employer.

How Voter Should Proceed.

Any voter coming within the provisions given above, expecting to be absent from his Township on the 5th day of November, 1918, and desiring to vote by mail at said election, must make application either in person or by mail to the undersigned Township Clerk for a blank form to be filled out by said voter so as to constitute an application in proper form, for ballots to be voted at said Election. If this request be made by mail, it may be in the following form:—

To the Clerk of the Township of Tecumseh, Michigan.

Please mail to my address given below, a suitable blank form for use in making application for ballots to be voted by myself in the Township of Tecumseh (Precincts No. 1 and 2). County of Lenawee, State of Michigan, November 5th, 1918, under the provisions of Chapter XII, Act No. 203, Public Acts of 1917.

My name ——————————
Address ——————————

When to Make Application to Township Clerk for Ballots.

Application for ballots on the form provided by the Township Clerk can be made at any time WITHIN THIRTY DAYS prior to the date of election, provided it reaches said Clerk not later than the SECOND DAY preceding the election.

Upon receipt of the blank application form, the voter must fill it out fully and completely and mail same to the Township Clerk at the address given below, or deliver in person to said clerk.

Township Clerk to Mail Initialed Ballots to Applicant.

As soon as the ballots are printed the clerk will mail immediately to said applicant, the ballot or ballots to be voted by said applicant at said election, or deliver the same in person, provided the applicant is duly registered.

How Voter Should Prepare Ballot.

Upon receipt of such ballot or ballots, the absent voter shall mark it or them in accordance with the printed instructions and shall fold and enclose it or them in the envelope provided therefor and after sealing the envelope, he shall fill out, sign and swear to the affidavit printed on the back thereof before a notary public, or other person authorized to administer oaths. The absent voter shall then place on the envelope the necessary postage and deposit it in the postage or in some government receptacle provided for the deposit of mail matter. This must be done sufficiently early so that the ballot will reach the Clerk in time to be delivered by him to the Board of Election Inspectors before the close of the polls on election day.

When Absent Voter, Returning, Can Vote in Person.

No absent voter returning to his place of residence, will be prohibited from voting in person within his precinct, NOTWITHSTANDING THAT HE MAY HAVE MADE APPLICATION FOR AN ABSENT VOTER'S BALLOT OR BALLOTS AND THE SAME MAY HAVE BEEN MAILED BY THE SAID CLERK: PROVIDED, That such voter has not availed himself of the privilege of an absent voter, as provided by this act, and voted the ballot or ballots mailed him by the said clerk, and provided he return ballot or ballots, if received, to the board by whom same shall be marked "cancelled" and placed in the regular ballot boxes with other ballots.

Any voter voting at any election both IN PERSON and BY MEANS OF AN ABSENT VOTER'S BALLOT, or who shall ATTEMPT SO TO VOTE, shall, on conviction, be deemed GUILTY OF FELONY.

Is Your Flour Mixed with a Substitute At The Mill?

We are asked the above question many times a day to which we answer.

NO.

It is just like it was last year.

Flour is not quite so white as before the government required all mills to use less wheat to make a barrel of flour. In our case when we formerly used 285 lbs. of wheat we can use now not more than 264 to make a barrel of 1900 Flour.

The saving at our mill on a day's run is a fraction over 10 barrels for the Allies.

Do You Think There is No Competition?

If anyone thinks there is no competition amongst the big packers he ought to go through a day's work with Swift & Company.

Let him begin at the pens when the live stock comes in; let him try to buy a nice bunch of fat steers quietly and at his own price without somebody's bidding against him.

Let him realize the scrupulous care taken at the plant that not one thing is lost or wasted in order that costs may be held to a minimum.

Let him go up into the office where market reports are coming in,—and reports of what other concerns are doing.

Let him watch the director of the Swift Refrigerator fleet, maneuvering it over the face of the country like a fleet of battleships at sea.

Let him take a trip with a Swift & Company salesman and try to sell a few orders of meat.

Let him stay at a branch house for an hour or two and see the retail meat dealers drive their bargains to the last penny as they shop around among the packers' branch houses, the wholesale dealers, and the local packing plants.

And then, when the day is over, let him have half an hour in the accounting department, where he can see for himself on what small profits the business is done. (Less than 4 cents on each dollar of sales.)

If he still thinks there is no competition in the meat business it will be because he wants to think so.

Leaves Make Good Bedding.

The importance of securing the greatest possible returns from the manure supply of the country can hardly be overestimated at any time. It is infinitely greater when the production of food is so vital to the nation as during the present crisis.

In localities where leaves are obtainable at small cost as compared to the cost of straw, a condition which exists in some sections, it would seem advisable to make use of this material for bedding instead of straw. It is a well known practice in the wooded sections of the South to use leaves for bedding. Frequently land has been built up into a high state of fertility when this was practically the only means of supplying hu-

MORE INFLUENZA VICTIMS CALLED

DEATH RATE GROWING RAPIDLY

Mrs. David Macham, August Splettstoesser and Charles Russell Died Since Last Evening

Early this morning three more deaths from the epidemic were reported. Lack of time allows us to make only brief notices of same.

Mrs. David Macham

Mrs. David Macham, who has been in feeble health for several months, was stricken with pneumonia a week ago. She was so much better yesterday that her friends were greatly encouraged. Last night at 1 o'clock, the daughter, Mrs. Zella Kimball, went to her mother's bedside and found her sleeping beautifully. Again in a couple of hours she found her asleep in death.

Mrs. Macham leaves beside the husband four children, Forrest of Detroit, Mrs. Nina Fabrique of Clinton, and Mrs. Mertie Waring and Mrs. Kimball of Tecumseh. She also leaves two brothers, one living in Tennessee and John Wrightmire of Dundee.

At this hour the funeral arrangements have not been made.

August Splettstoesser

August Splettstoesser passed away last night at 11 o'clock, death resulting from pneumonia which followed influenza. He only two years ago, bought of John Nemire the vulcanizing works and has been very successful in the business.

He was 35 years of age and had spent most of his life at Palmyra. He leaves the wife, who was formerly Miss Florence Clark, and two small children, Hubert and Leola, also his mother, Mrs. Rudia, of Adrian, and a half brother, Jacob Miller of Detroit.

The funeral will be a private service, held at the home Saturday at 10 a. m., Rev. W. A. Rex officiating, with burial at Palmyra.

Charles Russell

Charles Russell, for some time clerk at Will Coller's store, passed away this morning at 3 o'clock of pneumonia, following influenza.

He was 17 years of age and the son of Mrs. Will Cole of Brownville. He was a bright good-natured boy and a favorite on the business street.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock, Rev. Edward Escolme, of the Friend's church, officiating. This service will also be private.

MRS. ALFRED JACKSON

Dies at Hotel Barrett Saturday Morning.

Mrs. Alfred Jackson, who has been in feeble health for several years, was taken with acute bronchitis a couple of weeks ago and passed away Saturday morning at the Hotel Barrett, where for some time she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Lavern Barrett.

Cynthia E. Fuller was born in Franklin township September 21, 1845, and has the larger part of her life lived in this vicinity. November 22, 1865, she married Alfred Jackson and in their family have been the three children, Mrs. James Woodward of Clinton, Glen Jackson of Flint and Mrs. Barrett, left to comfort the husband. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Matilda Mills and Mrs. H. M. Lilly, both of Bronson.

Of a quiet, retiring disposition, Mrs. Jackson made her home her world and lived entirely for her family. Her feeble health did not allow her to get about much, so she met few people, but her family and a few intimate friends regard her life as it ran its even course a heavenly benediction and she will be sadly missed.

The funeral was held privately at the hotel Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. G. Widdifield officiating, with burial at Brookside.

Present from away were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Wilcox and daughter, Katherine, of Union City, Mrs. H. M. Lilly of Bronson, Mrs. E. L. Wells of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Woodard and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Woodard of Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. Glen R. Jackson and family of Flint.

Card of Thanks.

For their kindness during the sickness and death of our loved one, we wish to thank the members of the L. O. T. M., the Pythian Sisters, the Jolly 16 and other friends, also Rev. Widdifield for his thoughtful attention.

DEATH'S SECOND CALL AT BENJ. SNYDER HOME

Leon, 20 Years Old, Follows His Brother to Eternal Rest Within the Week.

Death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Snyder Sunday evening for the second time within the week, their second son, Leon, following his older brother James in death with the same disease, that of pneumonia following influenza.

Leon, who was but 20 years of age, was ill when the remains of his brother were brought home from Camp Custer and steadily grew worse until the end came.

Pvt. James Snyder, Who Died Last Week at Ft. Benj. Harrison

There are now left in the family the parents, three sisters, Mrs. Lucian Westcott, Mrs. Bertha Van Gasle and Miss Blanche Snyder of Cleveland and one brother, John, at home.

The funeral was held at the home Tuesday at 10 a. m., Rev. W. A. Rex officiating, with burial at Brookside.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

CHURCHES TO UNITE IN ONE BIG MEETING SUNDAY EVENINGS.

So Decided at a Meeting of the Pastors of the Village Sunday Afternoon — Meetings to be Made Interesting.

The ministers of the village held a get-together meeting Sunday afternoon at the M. E. parsonage, at the suggestion of Rev. C. M. Thompson, the new pastor of that church. At this meeting were present the various pastors, with the exception of Rev. Edward Escolme, of the Friends church, who could not be located, but who with his people are heartily in accord with the plans proposed at this meeting.

The ministers plan to hold community services on Sunday evenings as soon as the ban is lifted by the state board of health, probably beginning the first Sunday in November. These will be held usually at one of the three Chicago street churches, as more central, hence more accommodating to the general public, but going to the Friends and Episcopal occasionally.

Rev. Thompson suggested a plan of services of community as well as religious interest, when these men will tackle some of the community problems. The audience will be frequently addressed by outside people on various subjects. They also are planning a community choir, which cannot fail to be an attractive feature.

Although Rev. Widdifield's services come at 4 and 7 p. m. he was enthusiastic in his praise of the plan and gave some valuable suggestions. He will be present at these services whenever possible.

The first community service will be conducted by the father of the movement, Rev. C. M. Thompson, at his own church. It is hoped to make these services popular and the minsters surely will if they discuss some of the local matters they propose and as actively as they do among themselves.

Our union services heretofore have not received the proper emphasis they ought, and even the people of the church in which they were held not attending generally, but it is planned to make these meetings rousers and assure the entire town that at each they will hear things of interest.

This plan of community services has worked well at Hudson and larger cities and there is no apparent reason why it should not here. We have five ministers in this town who are full of enthusiasm, and if we back them we may see some fine things happen in this burg, religiously, patriotically and for community welfare generally.

Get your potatoes for winter now. Fancy sand stock, $1.30 in five bushel lots, at the store, or $1.40 delivered, this coming week.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

There will be no meeting of the Woodmen this week.

There will be no church service in town Sunday or until the ban is lifted.

This enrollment is the largest the college has ever had at the beginning of the fall term.

As we go to press reports from the bedside of Mrs. Harold Wheadon give her as just alive.

School will be closed all next week, making the third week lost through the epidemic. The public library will also be closed.

The meeting of the Wit and Wisdom club will be postponed until the danger from the epidemic is over.

Watson Hunt and son Lyle started Monday by auto for Fife Lake, Grand Traverse county, to visit Don Hunt and family.

It has been requested that any girls or women who can assist in the homes where there is sickness will notify Mrs. E. E. Hendershot.

Misses Gertrude Sheldon and Thelma Willnow are the new clerks at the 5 and 10c store, Miss Dora Lee also being confined to her home by illness.

Ensign Hardy arrived Monday evening to visit his parents, Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Hardy. He has a five days' furlough from the naval aviation camp at Mantauk, L. I.

Mrs. Bertha VanGasle and Miss Blanche Snyder returned to their homes in Cleveland Tuesday, after being called here by the deaths of their brothers, James and Leon Snyder.

Justice S. P. Hosmer received notice Saturday morning that no more sugar cards for canning be issued after the close of business that day and that no canning sugar could be had after the 22nd of October no matter when cards for same were issued. Since August 15th, Mr. Hosmer has issued 2,500 cards, representing about 28,000 pounds of sugar.

The news of the death of Harold Lockwood, the famous screen actor, was received Saturday by Mrs. Graham Thatcher, who is visiting her son, B. J. Thatcher, in Tecumseh. Mrs. Graham Thatcher, who is a member of tne Harold Lockwood Co., was to have joined Mr. Lockwood November 1st in Hollywood, Cal. Harold Lockwood was 29 years old and leaves a wife, baby and mother. His death occurred in New York.

Mrs. Angelina Stacy was stricken with paralysis yesterday morning at her home in Newburg. This was probably brought on by the worry over the illness of her granddaughter Mrs. Freeman Gove and sons and the death of Harold Gove. By evening she could scarcely speak and this morning was no better. As she is 87 years of age, there is much cause for fear over her condition. Her daughters, Mrs. Celia Frasher of Mt. Clemens, and Mrs. Ben Dove of Tecumseh are with her.

The dire need of more nurses has been very evident in the last few weeks. It has been impossible to get help, even to get some one to come in and tend the fires where whole families are down. Plainly speaking, people are scared to death, fearing pneumonia, but our sick must receive care and masks are easily constructed, so why worry? In many cases the heads of the families have been compelled to quit work and remain at home to care for their people, with never a woman to come into the house. One man and his wife lay sick in their beds for 24 hours with no one to do a thing for them. Their neighbors had sickness at their homes, too, so did not go calling much, hence their plight. But it behooves us to do all we can for each other, right now.

HAROLD GOVE

Death Claims Another Young Man From This Community

Still another sad death we are called to relate in this issue is that of Harold Gove, the 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Gove.

Early in the week the report came into town that Mrs. Gove and both Harold and Ernest were down sick. Later reports gave Mrs. Gove and Ernest as a little better and Harold no better from the first. With him the influenza ran into pneumonia and the end came just after noon yesterday.

He was a bright, cheery young man and for some time worked at McCann & Bowen's clothing store. He left there recently to take his examination for army service but did not pass on account of some minor ailment. He was planning to try again when he was taken ill.

He was born in December, 1896, on the same farm on which he died. He leaves beside the parents, three brothers, Irving and Ernest of this place and Garland in the service in France.

The funeral will be held privately at the home tomorrow at 10 a. m. and at 10:30 the K. of P. lodge will give their burial service at Brookside cemetery.

Mrs. Gove was able to sit up for a few minutes yesterday and Ernest is improving.

A PUBLISHER'S OPINION

Connecticut Newspaper Man Comments The Herald.

The following complimentary letter was received this week from Arthur Barnes, manager of the Bristol Press Publishing Co., of Bristol, Conn. As Mr. and Mrs. Barnes are well known here the letter will be of interest, and we are sure their good opinion of Tecumseh's paper is highly appreciated.

"Bristol, Conn., Oct. 19, 1918.
"Herald, Tecumseh, Mich.

"Gentlemen: — My wife, Mrs. Anna Bailey Barnes, in speaking of your paper a few days ago, said that she felt very sure that the paper had been in her family ever since it was first published. It comes here to Bristol now, and she says that she thinks it is better now than it ever has been.

"Personally may I congratulate you on the clean, attractive paper you are getting out. I am ever so glad to see the column of editorial comment each week, and I read this comment with delight. Your ideas are good.

Here's a check for two years' subscription, which kindly acknowledge.

"Very truly,
"Arthur S. Barnes."

Another From W. R. Bresie.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 16, 1918.

I see quite an improvement in the get up of the Tecumseh Herald. It certainly is a good weekly. The editorial comment of Thursday, October 10, is worthy of favorable comment.

I want to hear the ladies' band and hope they will succeed in the undertaking.

The Tecumseh Herald:

Enclosed please find money order for (deleted) to balance, as per bill rendered. Also kindly accept congratulations upon your control and great improvement in the "Old Reliable" of the "Biggest Little Town on Earth."

Here is wishing you the best of success in your new venture by one of your old friends of the long ago, when you used to toil on the old Herald for Scove.

Very truly yours,
F. S. Packard.

1,726 Students at M. A. C.

Lansing, Mich.—A report from the office of the registrar at M. A. C. showed 1,726 students enrolled in the college last week. Of these 1,300 are young men receiving military training as members of the student army training corps; 300 are young women and 86 are special students and boys under 18.

Remove the Trash From the Garden This Fall.

If you had trouble with potato bugs, cutworms, or from diseases this season you can do a great deal toward controlling these pests next year by giving the garden a thorough housecleaning this fall. Many kinds of insects that feed on garden crops and diseases that affect vegetables pass through the winter protected by or on the remains of the plants. Old cabbage stalks, tomato vines and similar material should be collected and burned. The ground itself should be spaded and sowed to rye or crimson clover, or if neither of these crops can be planted the ground should be allowed to lie rough so that freezing will destroy as many insects as possible.

Mine fatilities in British Columbia for the first quarter of the present year totaled five, compared with seven in the corresponding three months in 1917.

Bavaria has a suspension bridge with but one tower, the cables at the other end being anchored in a high rock bluff.

Who Supports Wilson?

There is just one issue—Support the President, the recognized spokesman of the Allies, the master Statesman, as Foch is the master General. And real support of President Wilson can not be HAGGLING, can not be POLITICAL BICKERING. It must be genuine, unqualified, unwavering; absolutely dependable; the kind Samuel W. Beakes has always given him.

Congressman Beakes The Man On the Job. Always There and Always Absolutely Dependable.

Congressman Beakes The Man On the Job. Always an Effective Unswerving Supporter of Our President.

Who Can Help Him Most?

Can any man not blinded to patriotism by partisanship vote for a new man for congress instead of for Congressman Beakes unless he believes that that man can and will support the President more loyally or more effectively than Congressman Beakes?

Can any sane man believe that any absolutely new man in congress could possibly support the President as effectively as a trusted veteran like Congressman Beakes?

DAILY CALL TO PRAYER

CHRISTIANS TO OBSERVE NOONDAY ANGELUS.

Tecumseh Pastors Request People to Pray God to Stay Progress of Epidemic and Restore Health of People.

In view of the prevailing epidemic, the crisis in the world war conditions, and the fact of the closed churches with no opportunity for public worship, we, the undersigned pastors of Tecumseh churches, think it well to call upon all Christian people of the community to observe a noonday angelus, or time of prayer, in the following manner:

Promptly at 12:15 o'clock each day, when the church bells ring, to retire to a place of prayer, or just pause a moment in work, or even breathe a silent prayer in the midst of labor, that God in His mercy may stay the progress of the epidemic and restore the health of the people; pray also that the war may speedily close in harmony with the great principles of justice and liberty for which our nation and her allies have been so valiantly fighting, and that to this desirable end great wisdom may be given our President and his advisers and to all rulers and leaders of the nations at war.

In these perilous, testing times God's people should be given to much prayer and their faith and confidence should neither fail nor falter. We believe with the immortal Tennyson that "More things ar wrought by prayer than this world dreams of," and with Saint Paul that "Men ought always to pray and not to faint," therefore, let us pray.

MRS. HOWARD WHEADON

Sad Death of a Young Mother—A Victim of the Epidemic.

One of the sad events of the past sorrowful week in this community was the death of Mrs. Howard Wheadon Thursday. The mother of two babies, one and three years of age, it seemed she could not be spared, but the Grim Reaper made his visit. She had been ill but a few days of pneumonia, following influenza. She was 26 years of age and had lived her life among us, quiet, unassuming, but a girl of most lovable qualities.

Blanche was born June 10, 1892, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Keyser. She attended high school here and graduated with the class of 1910. She taught for several terms in this county, then going to Jackson, where she continued her vocation. It was there she met Mr. Wheadon and was married.

A year ago last spring the young couple bought Clarence Gate's farm northwest of town and moved here, but this season they have worked the Edgar Bowen farm and it was there that the sad event occurred.

Besides the parents, the husband, the little children, Esther May and Paul Adelbert, are left the sister, Mrs. Lawrence Osborn, of Adrian and two brothers, Paul at the students' training camp at Ann Arbor and Eugene at home.

Mrs. Wheadon was a member of local Presbyterian church, the Gleaners lodge at Jackson and until just recently was a member of the Pythian Sisters of Tecumseh.

The funeral was held from the home Saturday, Rev. W. A. Rex officiating, with burial at Brookside. Present from away were Mr. and Mrs. John Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Rowe, both ladies sisters of Mr. Wheadon, also a brother and two nephews, all of Jackson.

COMMISSIONED AS SECOND LIEUTENANT

Homer Marsh Leaves Friday to Report at Metuchen, N. J., for Duty.

Homer Marsh last Friday received his commission as second lieutenant in the ordnance depot, for which he took his examination in Detroit August 22.

He leaves for the east Friday, having to report at Metuchen, N. J., at the camp of motor instruction on Monday. For several years Homer has been a garage man and auto salesman here, part of the time running his own grage. He is an expert mechanic in this line, so we are not surprised at his faring so famously at the hands of Uncle Sam.

Homer returned only last Saturday from a business trip by auto down through Kentucky and Tennessee to find his commission awaiting his arrival home.

Mrs. Marsh will go to her people in Adrian and the twin daughters are attending school at St. Joseph's academy.

MRS. WILLIAM BLY

Pneumonia Takes Another Tecumseh Lady—Ardent Worker in the Episcopal Church

The townsfolks were so grieved yesterday morning to hear that Mrs. Wm. Bly had passed away. Everyone knew of the stiff fight the patient, the husband, doctor and nurse were putting up to save the life of the one so badly needed in the home by the husband and three little ones and were not prepared for the sad news, as word from the home the day before had given her as holding her own. The sad event had occurred at 6 [illegible] that morning.

Flavius Julia Gillim was born in Swifton, Ark., in 1883, and in that state she spent her life until coming to Tecumseh 13 years ago. Twelve years ago she married William Bly and to the union have been born three daughters, Dorothy, Muriel and Wilma.

Mrs. Bly was a communicant of St. Peter's Episcopal church, a worker in the various church organizations and a member of the Order of the Eastern Star. In these she has attracted hosts of friends by her sweet disposition and energy, but it was in the home her beautiful characteristics were best exemplified.

Beside the husband and three small children are left two children of a former marriage, Gillim and Gladys Bunn, who live with relatives in Arkansas, the father, E. B. Gillim, of Bentonville, Ark., one sister, Mrs. Oscar Clymer, of Detroit, and five brothers, Embra Gillim, of Detroit, Robert, in the American Army in France, Otis, in Warren, Ark., Paul in California, and John in Bellingham, Washington.

The Episcopal burial service wil be read by Rev. J. G. Widdifield at a private service at the home tomorrow at 2 p. m. and the ladies of the Eastern Star will be escorts from the home.

MRS. THOMAS MARSHALL

Macon Lady, 95 Years of Age, Passed Away Saturday.

Mrs. Thos. Marshall passed away Saturday at the home of her grandson, Chas. Frost, in Ridgeway, aged 95 years. On September 7 she had celebrated her 90th birthday at the home of another grandson, John Frost, of this village, and upon returning to her home in Macon, where she lived many years, fell and broke her hip. Ever since she has been feeble and confined to her chair, the care of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Frost. A few weeks ago she suffered a slight stroke and owing to her advanced age, did not rally.

Her maiden name was Phoebe Dunwell and she was born in New York. Surviving are the daughter, Mrs. Frost, and six grandchildren: John Frost of Tecumseh, Mrs. Andrew Murphy of Clinton, Mrs. Webb DePuy of Saline, Charles Frost of Ridgeway, Ollie Frost and Mrs. Irving Downing of Macon.

Mrs. Marshall was a devoted Methodist, attending her church in Macon faithfully until she became crippled.

The funeral was held from the Frost home in Ridgeway Monday at 10 o'clock, Rev. Bellenack officiating. The burial was in the family lot in Macon cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to all my neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness and sympathy in my time of sorrow. When trials come to you, may you all have as good good friends.

E. J. Marshall.

RAYMOND WISE

Young Man Dies of Pneumonia Saturday—Wife Very Sick

Death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harrie Wise Saturday afternoon, the oldest son, Raymond, being the victim. He contracted the influenza a week ago and soon pneumonia followed.

Raymond was born at Fayette, Ohio, Oct. 24, 1894. Two years ago in March the parents bought the "Section farm" half way between here and Clinton and moved their splendid family of boys here. They have made hosts of friends who sincerely sympathize with them in their sorrow. Only last July Raymond married Miss Vera Schwartz, the teacher in the district, and they continued to live with the parents to assist with the farm work.

Remaining to comfort the parents are four sons, Kenard, Emanuel, Allen and Riley.

On Tuesday private services were held at the home, Rev. W. A. Rex officiating and the remains were taken by Undertaker Belding back to the old home at Fayette, Ohio, for burial. The wife was taken ill at the same time as the young man and is still unable to sit up so could not accompany the family to Fayette.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the neghbors and friends for their kindness during the sickness and after the death of our husband and son, also all those who furnished the beautiful flowers, Rev. Rex for his consoling words and Mr. Belding for his courtesies.

Mrs. Raymond Wise,
Mr. and Mrs. Harrie Wise and sons.

TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

WM. COX, RESPECTED HOLLOWAY RESIDENT

Commits Suicide by Hanging Self in Barn — Had Been in Poor Health.

The town was astounded Monday morning when the report reached here that Wm. Cox, a highly respected resident of Holloway had committed suicide.

Telling his wife that he would go to the barn and cut some wood, he left the house. As she became worried in a short time at not hearing him at work she went to the barn and there the horrible spectacle met her eyes as she opened the door. He had tied a rope over a rafter and was suspended, with his feet touching the floor.

Mr. Cox, who was 74 years old, was in poor health and had spent several winters in Florida to avoid the cold. Recently the idea of suicide must have been in his mind as Mrs. Cox had found a rope in the barn before and taken it away.

He was born in Ridgeway township and lived his whole life in that locality, moving into the village of Holloway twenty years ago. He was a Civil war veteran and had many friends in Tecumseh as well.

The sheriff and Coroner Willis Chatfield were called from Adrian but a coroner's inquest was unnecessary. The funeral will be held this afternoon at the home, with interment at the Raisin cemetery, under Masonic burial rites.

OBITUARY.

Burton F. Hall.

Burton F. Hall was born in Fulton township, Fulton county, Ohio. He was raised on a farm and educated in the district schools. In his earlier life he taught school in his near neighborhood, and afterwards engaged in the drug business in Delta, Ohio.

He was married to Miss Sylvia F. Sipe July 25, 1909. To this union were born two children, Duane Stanley and Zona Esther. Besides his wife and children he leaves an adopted son, Garth LeRoy, an aged father, David S. Hall, and three brothers, Jesse Hall of Ai, Ohio; Lewis Hall of Swanton, Ohio; and Stephen Hall of Midland, Ohio.

His mother and two sisters preceded him in death a number of years ago.

In 1913 he, with his family, moved to Michigan, and two years ago he became a mail carrier in Tecumseh, and it was at this home he passed away Thursday, October 24, 1918.

As a husband and father he was always kind and loving, and his faithful performance of his duties as mail carrier endeared him to all who knew him, and his untimely death has cast a gloom over all.

The funeral, which was private, was held at the home Sunday p. m. at 1 o'clock. Rev. W. A. Rex officiated. Burial was made at Brookside.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank all who assisted us in our great sorrow. Especially do we wish to thank Harry Waldron for his help and kindness; the post office force for the beautiful flowers; also the Sunday school class, friends and neighbors for their flowers, and Rev. Rex for his words of comfort in our bereavement.

Mrs. Burton Hall and Family.

SENDING CHRISTMAS PARCELS TO MEN OVERSEAS

Directions for Tecumseh Township—Observe Them Carefully.

The War Department has arranged that one parcel may be received by each of the men in service overseas. Each man overseas receives a Christmas Parcel Label which he sends to the person he desires to send him a parcel. If you do not receive this label from him cannot have any parcel accepted by the post office for transmission to him. If you do receive that label you must take the following steps to send your parcel:

1. Bring your label and in exchange for it receive from the Rev. J. G. Widdifield, at St. Peter's rectory, who is acting as representative of the Red Cross, the box in which your parcel must be packed. It will measure 3x4x9 inches.

2. Pack it and make it ready for shipment, but leave it unwrapped and untied. Then bring it to the Parish house of St. Peter's church. There its contents must be examined by Red Cross inspectors to see that it does not contain articles that are barred by the postal authorities. The Red Cross then takes charge of the parcel, after wrapping and sealing it in your presence.

The boxes for packing may be obtained at St. Peter's rectory at any time in exchange for the Christmas parcel label.

The inspectors will be at the Parish house to receive the parcels on Saturday, Nov. 9, and on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Nov. 12, 13, 14, 15, from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Remember all parcels must be in the post office by Nov. 15; none will be accepted later, so it will be well to present parcels for inspection by November 14th at the latest—earlier if possible.

Remember parcels must not exceed two pounds, 15 ounces at time of presentation for inspection.

Rates of postage necessary, 7c for the first pound and 4c for each additional pound or fraction thereof. Stamps may be obtained from the inspectors. Wrapping paper and twine will also be furnished

Articles Prohibited in the Mails.

1. All spiritous, vinous, malted, fermented or other intoxicating liquors.
2. All kinds of poison and all articles and compositions containing poison.
3. Explosives of all kinds.
4. Inflammable materials, including friction matches.
5. Infernal machines and mechanical, chemical or other devices or compositions which may ignite or explode. Note: Under this classification would come cigarette lighters, etc.
6. Liquids or liquifiable articles, fragile articles and other admissable matter when not packed in accordance with the postal laws and regulations.
7. All other articles which may kill or in any wise hurt, harm or injure another or damage or deface or otherwise injure the mails or other property.

Note: Notes and messages are also forbidden to be inclosed with the parcels.

Bear These Facts in Mind When Packing Your Christmas Parcels.

Nothing should be in the Christmas parcel which will not keep fresh from the time of packing until Christmas.

Dried fruits and other food products should be packed in small tin or wooden boxes, one quarter to one-half pound size.

Hard candy, including chocolate would probably be safe in tin foil or heavy cardboard, but no soft chocolates nor anything that could possibly be crushed should be used, as the remaining contents of the package might be spoiled thereby.

Several dainties packed in oblong tin boxes holding each a quarter of a pound will provide a better variety for a packet than a large quantity of a single confection. (The small tin boxes that Nabisco or Sunshine wafers come in will be found useful.)

No liquids or articles packed in glass should be placed in the package.

For wrapping the gifts use a khaki colored handkerchief.

AIDS CAMP DIX SUFFERERS

Miss Caroline Drake, Well Known Here, Carries Delicacies to Sick Soldiers.

We clip the following from the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin of a recent date:

"Miss Caroline S. Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Drake, of this city, is doing lots of good work for the relief of the suffering soldiers at Camp Dix. Shortly after the epidemic of influenza broke out there she began gathering fruits, vegetables, jellies and other delicacies for the sick and carried them to the camp in her automobile.

The latter was soon found to be too small because of the extremely liberal contributions and the city council has loaned her the fire truck to carry the supplies she has gathered from its citizens. The truck bears the inscription 'Beverly, N. Y., Contributes to the Nation's Sick Soldiers.'"

This family is known here and in Clinton and their friends appreciate the famous work Miss Caroline is doing. Mr. Drake owns "Rainbow Row" in this village, so we can call them a part of our "big family."

WM. JOHNSON

Employee of Tecumseh Gravel Co. Victim of Influenza Epidemic.

Wm. Johnson, for the last six years an employee of the Tecumseh Gravel Co., passed away Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Amy Gregg, where he had been boarding for some time. He had been ill for a week, pneumonia following influenza. He was born at Mt. Albert, Canada, 27 years ago. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Johnson, came from Amadore, Mich., as quickly as notified of his illness and cared for him, returning home with the remains on Monday morning. Mrs. Simeon Boyd, who is Mrs. Johnson's sister, accompanied them on their sad journey and the party were joined in Detroit by the Misses Blanche and Gertrude Boyd.

MISS GRACE HINDES

Of Ridgeway Passed Away Last Evening

Miss Grace Hindes, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hindes, of Ridgeway, died last evening after an illness since early spring with tuberculosis. Surviving are the parents, two brothers, Everett, in the service, located at Camp Hancock, and Clyde at home, and a sister Miss Reta, who has been ill for several months, at home.

At this writing no funeral arrangements have been made.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness in our recent bereavement; also those who kindly donated flowers and cars; also Rev. Escolme for his kind attention.

Editorial Comment

The editor of The Herald was criticized by one of our good Democrats last week because of the editorial opinion expressed in regard to the senatorial race between Commander Truman H. Newberry and Henry Ford. The criticism did not provoke us in the least, because we expect readers to differ from opinions expressed in this column; it would be foolish to expect anything else. There is one hope we have, however, and that is that utterances expressed in this column will stir up thoughts in readers' minds—make their minds more active and get out of the rut of doing just as grandfather did.

Next Tuesday is election day and we would like to put this question to every voter at this important period of American history: "Which is the most intelligent voter — the man who votes a straight ticket because he and his forbears have done so for generations — or the man who stops and thinks about the candidates and votes for those best suited and best equipped to do the business of the nation, state, county, township or village?

Right now it is important that we have loyal Americans to represent us in Washington. We have been much ashamed of some of the mis-representatives and we don't want any more just now, on the eve of the most important peace overtures the world has ever known. We want real red-blooded Americans at Washington — no matter which political party they belong to.

Another gentleman Saturday asked what was meant by the term "independent voter" used in these columns. He wished to know whether the editor did not believe in party affiliation. Sure we do. An independent voter is not necessarily without a party. He should belong to a party but he should also be capable of using his brain when casting his ballot.

Along this line the congressional committee of the National Security League sends out an interesting chart and communication. First it may be wise to state what the National Secuirty League is. It is a league of leading men from thirty-seven states of the union who are out for loyal American representation at Washington. That the league is composed of men of different political faith is quite evident from the fact that Elihu Root is honorary president and Alton B. Parker honorary vice president. These men are laying partisan politics aside to endeavor to elect the right men next Tuesday to the national government. The congressional committee of this league has issued a most interesting chart which records the votes of our congressmen on eight principle war measures. The chart shows that 347 members of the 65th congress also sat in the 64th congress. Six of the eight measures used were voted on by the 64th congress and the last two by the 65th.

Of the 347 men who sat in both congresses, 47 voted right on all eight measures; 7 voted wrong on all eight; 22 voted wrong on seven of the measures; 30 voted wrong on six and 58 on five.

The worst records of Michigan congressmen are those of Bacon of the second district, who voted against the declaration of war against Germany and the conscription act necessary to raise an army to back the declaration of war, and that of Cramton of the seventh district, who voted wrong on all but the declaration of war.

Following is the substance of the circular received from the league Read it, think it over and digest it before next Tuesday:

"The National Security League, acting through this committee, wishes to awaken the people of the country to the vital importance of giving the most careful consideration to the candidates for congress to be voted for at the coming election.

"The grave crisis, which our country and the world are facing, demanded the nomination by the political leaders of the ablest men in their party without regard to purely political claims. This demand has not been properly recognized.

The people of the country can remedy the situation to some extent by voting, without regard to party, for the best man who has been nominated. Party feeling and enthusiasm should not be indulged a respects the vote for senators and representatives, who, in their biggest and broadest capacity are the 'representatives in congress assembled' of the United States—not merely their districts.

"The League believes that there are many men in the present congress who do not measure up to the standard of vision, balanced judgment, sound common sense and broad general experience which proclaim the statesman. Every patriotic citizen should be willing to adjourn politics, and to decide the question for whom he or she will vote, solely according to the merit of the candidates between whom there is a choice.

"If the candidate for congress in your district is a man who, by his votes or attitude on preparedness or war measures, has acquitted himself badly in the present congress, it is your duty to vote for his opponent at the polls. In case your former congressman has made a bad record on preparedness and war measures, but now proclaims himself to be loyal and in favor of a war until victory, it is better to supplant him with a man who has foresight instead of hindsight.

"If your present congressman has the vision and statesmanship which enabled him to make a good record on preparedness and war measures, it is your duty to re-elect him.

If none of the candidates have been in congress before, examine carefully into their character, ability and capacity, and vote for the man who gives the best promise of effective service and usefulness.

Remember that statesmen should be leaders of thought and action, and that they should be possessed of the patriotism, courage and resolution to act according to well-defined principles and policies. They must not be men whose only measure or test is political expedience or safety rather than what is the right thing to do.

"Do your part! The way in which you can work is to write to, or speak with, political leaders, newspaper editors and to leading citizens who form public opinion in your district, making them realize sharply that the need of the nation is the selection of the men who possess the strength of character and demonstrated ability, combined with unconditional loyalty and determination to prosecute the war to victory, that will enable them to be of real service to the nation, whose problems are such as to try the very souls of the best men that can be elected.

"Endeavors should also be made to stimulate action on the part of every commercial, civic, farming, labor, church or other organization to the same end. This can be done by resolutions or memorials, which should be given wide spread publicity.

"The day of the typical American political spirit of 'Let George do it' should once for all be ended. Millions of our boys are going to be sent to France and other parts of the world. Another million will be on the seas. The members of congress are their guardians. Do you want to choose any but the best guardianship for the gallant young souls who are facing the great sacrifice for us at home?

"If you are a practical patriot, work hard in the ways we have indicated!

"Get your friends to do the same thing!

"Go to the polls and elect the right men!"

This appeal from a society composed of men of both of the big parties, among them men who have held high office at the national capitol during both Republican and Democratic administrations, should set the voters of the country to thinking more seriously before placing their ballots in the box next Tuesday.

There are always some things different people can agree upon, and such was the case with the Democrat referred to above. He believed Michigan women should have the right to vote; so do we. The women have to obey the laws, pay taxes if they own property and should have a voice in the matter of selecting law-makers and other officials the same as the opposite sex. The loyalty of the women of the country has been put to a severe test during our war period and they have not been been found wanting. They have been active in Red Cross and relief work and have done a great deal for the boys who have left home to fight for the nation's honor, the suppression of military atrocities and for lasting peace. The majority of our women are deeply interested in the conduct of the government, are intelligent and will vote right. Don't forget to stand back of our women of Michigan next Tuesday.

We wish to compliment Tecumseh Red Cross in responding so quickly and generously to the call for blankets for the boys at Camp Custer. We believe the officials and the boys at the camp fully appreciate the ready response in buying up all the blankets in our stores and the free gift of the same to the cause.

Saturday last was one of the quietest week end shopping days experienced in Tecumseh for many a year. The influenza epidemic certainly left its impression here, the streets were nearly deserted and the usual line of parked automobiles was minus. There was trade, however, but the people wisely hurried home as soon as shopping was completed. The most distressing effect of the epidemic is the large number of sick people and deaths left in its wake. The bright sunshine Tuesday following rainy, disagreeable weather dispelled the gloom and gave a brighter outlook. It is safe to say now that the epidemic is on the decline, but people should still use the utmost caution for a time yet to prevent another rampage and further spread of the disease.

Three gasless Sundays enabled Uncle Sam to ship 500,000 gallons of gasoline to France that would otherwise have been unavailable. There is something in conservation.

Lenawee at last went over the top in the Fourth Liberty Loan. "Unconditional Surrender" days last Friday and Saturday placed the county something like $25,000 over its quota. Although Tecumseh went over the top on Volunteer day, she came to the relief of the county and helped make up her shortage in the quota.

Tecumseh quietly obeyed the request of changing clocks back to the old time in vogue before the more daylight plan was adopted last April. Adrian people are hemming and hawing while their patriotic spirits hesitate to stand by the government's request.

Don't forget to do your duty next Tuesday. Don't stay away from the polls because you think the other fellow can settle the question and if there is a man running for office and you have good cause to feel shouldn't be elected, help to defeat him by casting your ballot against him and for his opponent. Then your ballot will be doing double duty.

CIRCUIT COURT COMMISSIONER	H. THANE BAUMAN
SURVEYOR	JOHN L. RICHARD
DRAIN COMMISSIONER	JOHN A. OSBORNE
CORONER	WILLIS CHATFIELD
CORONER	ARTHUR E. LAMLEY

THERE ARE NONE HERE BUT LOYAL, PATRIOTIC AMERICAN CITIZENS, respected and honored in their several communities and widely known throughout the county. We solicit your vote and support for them at the November election.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Clarence Francis to Loree Barnes, Ridgeway.

Great Lakes, Ill.

Hello Loree!

Received your letter a few days ago. How are you? I am all O. K. so far. It is raining here tonight; went to school tonight, and just got nicely sat down when the lights went out. They sent us back to the barracks and I thought I would try and write you a few lines so you'll know that I am still alive.

My time for myself is very limited around here, in fact I hardly get time to write a letter. I have started lots of letters and had to finish them some other time—the next day. Always some thing to do around here. Go to school from 7:30 in the morning to 8:30 at night; have just time enough for dinner and supper. Drill for one hour before breakfast gives us a good appetite.

I hope to get out over Sunday this week; have not been out of station for five weeks on account of the Spanish influenza. The station is clear of it now, so they lifted the quarantine Wednesday. The disease certainly raised cane around here; just a rough guess, right around 700 died here. I was sick about three days with it. Had a fever of 104, so I laid in my hammock and kept good and warm and soon got over it. If you ever get it you'll know what it is.

Only saw Harold Bachman once here. Certainly hard luck; did not know that he died until he had got home.

Want to go about 30 miles north of here tomorrow night to see some relatives and stay over Sunday with them if they will let me out. They say our company is restricted on liberty; a petty officer claims he caught a crap game going on here in the barracks last night, so we're on report and I don't know if I will get out or not. Hope we get out for we're out of school in two more weeks, when we'll ship off from the station; don't know where.

Will be glad to get away from here; have been here long enough. You ought to be up here and see us test the aeroplane motors. The motors we use are 400 horse power and make a fellow deaf for a while after he gets out of the test sheds. Know a lot more than I did before I came here about motors. They shoot a lot of stuff into a guy here in 12 weeks, believe me. It would be a good place here for your dad. Tell him I said so. Something different than a little Heine.

How does school go? Things must be dead around the burg now. How was gas business when they had gasless Sundays? We burn up from 75 to 100 gallons of gas a day in one motor, so you see it's wise to save gasoline.

Just about the time I hit the hay now. Have to be in bed at nine o'clock every night and up at five in the morning. Can't sleep one minute overtime, either, in the morning. Good-bye and write.

Clarence Francis,
15th Reg., Co. F, New Aviation Camp, Great Lakes, Ill.

From Anthony Steiner to Miss Ella Dinse.

October 5, 1918.

Dear Ella:—As I have a little time I will write you a few lines to let you know that I am still alive and feeling good under conditions, but nothing like I would if I were at home. We all think of home and the good old U. S. A. while over here. No one realizes what the United States are until after leaving.

After we left the U. S. we went to Glasgow, Scotland, then went to Winchester, England, by rail. It was a nice trip, and we rode in swell cars. From there we crossed over to France, where we now are.

I sure wish this war was over so that we could come back again and be with the home folks. I would very much like to see you and tell you all about my experience I've had in the army. I am getting along fine, though, and would be so glad to have you write to me, as mail is very dear to us. We like to hear from those at home. We haven't received any letters since we left the U. S., or since September 8th.

We are getting good eats and plenty of sleep. The weather is ideal here, the sun shines very warm, but the nights are cool.

Food is pretty high in price over here, especially fruit and candy, but we buy as long as our money lasts.

Well, Ella, don't forget to answer this letter, for I will certainly appreciate it. Will close for this time.

Sincerely your friend,
Anthony Steiner,
84th Division, 325 F. A., Battery F, Amer. Ex. Force.

Almon J. Roberts,

Democratic Candidate for Sheriff

TO THE VOTERS OF LENAWEE COUNTY—

The office of Sheriff of Lenawee County at this time demands a high degree of honesty, fairness and efficiency.

For two years I was Deputy Sheriff under former Sheriff John C. Iffland; for four years I held the position of County Drain Commissioner.

If elected Sheriff, I will give as fearless and capable an administration of that office as of the other offices I have held, and Lenawee County will have the best law enforcement in my power to give.

Can you ask more?

Is Your Flour

Mixed with a Substitute

At The Mill?

We are asked the above question many times a day to which we answer.

NO.

It is just like it was last year.

Flour is not quite so white as before the government required all mills to use less wheat to make a barrel of flour. In our case when we formerly used 285 lbs. of wheat we can use now not more than 264 to make a barrel of 1900 Flour.

The saving at our mill on a day's run is a fraction over 10 barrels for the Allies.

THE WM. HAYDEN MILLING CO.

To the Thoughtful Voters of Lenawee County

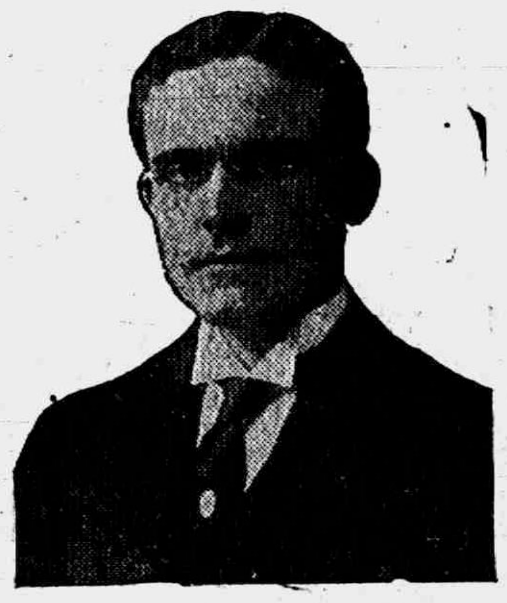
Tuesday, November 5th, 1918, you owe it to yourself as a Patriotic American to lay aside all regular duties and go to the polls and exercise your rights as an American citizen. The Republican Candidates are worthy of your support and we urge you to not fail in your duty.

UNITED STATES OFFICERS

Senator	Truman H. Newberry
Congressman	Earl C. Michener

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET

Governor	Albert E. Sleeper
Lieutenant Governor	Luren D. Dickinson
Secretary of State	Coleman C. Vaughan
State Treasurer	Samuel Odell
Auditor General	Oramel B. Fuller
Supt. of Public Instruction	Fred L. Keeler
Attorney General	Alexander J. Groesbeck



EARL C. MICHENER

Candidate for Congress Second Congressional District

Is forty-one years of age, has lived in Lenawee county practically all his life.

Occupation—Lawyer.

Served the county as Assistant and Prosecuting Attorney.

Is a Spanish-American War Veteran. Favors Americanism and a prosecution of the war to a successful victory. Will stand by the President and the administration in all war activities.

Let us give the home candidate a rousing vote and elect a Congressman whom the district as well as our county can be proud of.

You can make no mistake by voting for Michener.

ERNEST J. BRYANT

For State Senator

Ernest J. Bryant, Republican nominee for State Senator, second term, is a successful farmer and business man of Dover township. Was elected to the legislature in the years of 1906 and 1908. Elected to the Senate from the 19th district in 1916. Is now asking a second election to the Senate.

If the voters believe him qualified, your vote at the election on Tuesday, November 5, 1918, will be appreciated.

CHARLES EVANS

For Representative in State Legislature, First District

Charles Evans of Franklin township, present Representative State Legislature, First District, and candidate for re-election, took a leading part last session; stands for stricter economy and greater efficiency in our state government; invites an investigation of his record, and if again honored with an election, pledges the same fidelity to duty and sincerity of purpose as he has shown in the past.

FRED NUTTEN

For Sheriff

If my administration of the office of County Sheriff for the past two years has met with your approval and if under my administration you think the laws of the state and county have been properly enforced. your vote at the November 5 election will be appreciated.

HENRY R. JEWETT

For Circuit Court Commissioner

Was admitted to the bar in 1895, and has practiced his profession since that time. He served as Circuit Court Commissioner from 1899 to 1903 and is well qualified to discharge the duties of the office.

JAMES H. CORNELIUS

For Circuit Court Commissioner

Admitted to the Bar 1903. Circuit Court Commissioner 1910—1912.

Practice Law 12 years in the city of Adrian.

EMERY B. ROOT

For County Clerk

Emery B. Root, Republican candidate for County Clerk, has lived in Morenci for the past ten years. He began his career as a public servant by being elected as a member of the village council about seven years ago and has always tried to look out for the best interests of the village. His township he has served for five years as supervisor, and his colleagues on the county board soon recognized his ability. He is chairman of the county board at the present time. Mr. Root was candidate for County Clerk two years ago, but lost the election by a small majority of 27 votes. Mr. Root is a young man, and is particularly well qualified for County Clerk.

LELAND F. BEAN

For Prosecuting Attorney

Leland F. Bean is at present serving the people of Lenawee County as Prosecuting Attorney. His record in that capacity is before the voters and he stands upon that record. His vigorous and energetic prosecutions of violators of the liquor laws has made Lenawee one of the leaders of law enforcement in Michigan. He is willing to give the people the benefit of his past experience. If elected he pledges a continuance of his present policy of law enforcement.

HENRY W. STEVENS

For Coroner

Is a veteran of the Civil War, and is at present working for the cause of humanity just as hard as he fought in 61-65. He has filled this office in the past in a very capable and business-like manner. and if elected, will continue the same methods.

AARON W. BROWN

For County Treasurer

Has filled the office of County Treasurer for one term in a thoroughly successful and efficient manner, and has always worked for the best interest of this County, holding positions of trust and responsibility.

A vote for Mr. Brown for the second term will be appreciated by him.

CONRAD OTTGEN

For Drain Commissioner

Conrad Ottgen, Republican Candidate for Drain Commissioner, has had practical experience in farming, and understands value of drains to land, which is nececsary to make proper assessments; has had last two years of experience as Drain Commissioner, gives all of his time and attention to the office, is always on the job, has endeavored to give an economical administration consistent with efficiency.

Stands for fair deal for all and special favors to none. He will appreciate your support for a second term by making an X in front of his name on November the 5th.

WORTHY G. SMITH

GALLEY—FIVE a r . . . .

For Register of Deeds

The Man on the Job.

If elected will continue those business principles which have been his endeavor during his first term—

To perform the duties of the office in a careful and businesslike manner—

To be courteous and accommodating to all.

Your support on election day will be appreciated.

Sitting Bull Was A Bad Indian

He caused much trouble, but is now dead and gone.

Old Rain-in-the-Face was another bad Indian. He also caused much trouble and is still bothering some of you. Perhaps not with his tomahawk and war cry, but he troubles you through that "leaky roof."

Now, if you are afraid of Indians, you had better repair that roof or you will "Wickee" up some night staring "rain" in the face.

We have a large stock of two grades of wood Shingles, Red and Green Asphalt Shingles and six grades of Asphalt Roofings, besides a large stock of J. M. Asbestos Roofings which we job to the trade.

Don't you think we are in pretty good shape to take care of your roofing troubles?

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Isaiah Mattis was quite ill the first of the week.

Mrs. Edw. Anderson of Grosse Isle, was a guest of Mrs. R. K. Anderson last week.

C. N. Graebner was called to Saginaw Sunday by the serious illness of his mother.

Mrs. G. E. Nemire and little Alice returned Sunday from Palmyra. Alice is much better.

Wm. Waterman of Kankakee, Ill., has been a guest of C. E. Williamson and other relatives this week.

Carl Cheever came home from the Great Lakes Training station Saturday for a few days' furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wrightmire of Dundee attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. David Macham, Sunday.

Miss Madeline Boyce has been spending part of her vacation with her sister, Mrs. Webb Kay, in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Frost were in Ridgeway Monday for the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Phoebe Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Warren of Windsor spent the week end with their daughter, Mrs. R. W. Pufer, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hall of Swanton, O., were in town Saturday, called by the death of his brother, Burton F. Hall.

Wtson Hunt and son, Lyle, started Monday by auto for Fife Lake, Grand Traverse county, to visit Don Hunt and family.

Mrs. C. N. Gaebner was with friends at Dundee Sunday. Mrs. Minnie Rauch and niece, Miss Verna Smith, returned with her for a few days' visit.

Miss Albertine Mobbs returned to Detroit Monday, the business university there having been closed last week. She had been home since Tuesday.

Miss Genevieve Halladay, who came home from Lansing a couple of weeks ago quite sick, is a trifle better, while her sister, Miss Muriel, is improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Macham of Plymouth were guests at Mrs. R. B. Gillespie's from Saturday until Monday. They came for the funeral of Mrs. David Macham.

Miss Lillian Gorham was in town Monday enroute from Homer to her home in Britton, the schools in Homer having been closed on account of the "flu."

Jesse Hall came from Ai, Ohio, Saturday to the funeral of his brother, Burton F. Hall. He has remained to assist Mrs. Hall in the care of little Duane, who is very sick.

Ensign Clarence Hardy arrived Monda yevening to visit his parents, Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Hardy. He has a five days' furlough from the naval aviation camp at Mantauk, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Teachout of Jackson were over Sunday guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Albert Deming, and family. Miss Harriett Teachout remained for a longer visit.

Mrs. Fred Hendershott and daughter, Frances, of Cedar Edge, Col., visited Mr. and Mrs. John Hendershott from Wednesday until Monday. Miss Frances has just undergone a serious operation at Cincinnati and they were en route home.

The Graebner Shoe Co. have fixed up the addition in the rear of the building as a repair room and have their new cobbler, Mr. Hills, nicely located. A new stitching machine and finisher are ordered and soon will be installed. This gives more room in the store and does away with the dirt and litter necessary to the cobbling department.

Herbert V. Henderson, a former Tecumseh boy, notifies his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hendershot, in Adrian, that he has received his commission as second lieutenant at a training station in France. He will attend the staff officers' college for two months and then will return as school lecturer on gas. Of the five men recommended as instructors he was elected second.

The influenza epidemic has affected the business life of the town sadly. Percy Heidenreich has been very sick, so had to close his jewelry store. Clerks from the different stores are sick, even our office not being immune, as Miss Florine Bennett, our linotype operator, has been ill for two weeks. The factories are all short of help, many having to stay at home to care for their sick if they are not ill themselves.

Miss Jessie Smith is another Tecumseh girl to go abroad as a Red Cross nurse. Although a resident of Berkeley, Cal., Miss Smith is of our big family, having been a resident here when a young girl, a graduate of our school and having many friends in the village and still owning property here. After finishing school here, she took a course in the State Normal and then went to California where she graduated from the California university and became a teacher in the schools at Berkeley. This splendid position she has given up in answer to the call of the Red Cross for nurses. Miss Smith visited here with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. W. Bowen, only a short time ago.

BRITTON

Miss Helen Hoagland has the "flu."

Will Curry, jr., spent Saturday in Detroit.

Ray Smith was here Friday evening from Detroit.

Fred Drury was here the latter part of the week from Toledo.

Thomas Gee returned Saturday from a week's stay in Detroit.

Mrs. Doris Tonnenberger spent the week end with her husband in Blissfield.

Mrs. T. V. Hoagland and Neil were here part of last week from Blissfield.

Mrs. Geo. Exelby left Saturday evening for an indefinite stay in Detroit.

Mrs. Frank Sisson and Alfred and Mrs. Leo Robison were in Adrian Friday.

Miss Leo Drake of Adrian is spending a few days at G. W. Underwood's.

Mrs. Nash of Adrian is here caring for the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myers.

Miss Alice Roscoe, Miss Vera Grant and Jay Lowe are convalescing from the influenza.

Mrs. Ira Fraer and Chester of Dundee spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Robison.

Mrs. N. H. Ackley is here for an indefinite stay with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Gorham.

Mrs. G. W. Winsley of Farmington spent Thursday and Friday wth Mrs. J. R. Winsley.

Helen Lowe and Margaret Gregg were home last week as their schools were closed.

Private Ralph Oliver is home from the Great Lakes Training camp on a three days' furlough.

Miss Lillian Gorham came home Monday from Homer, as the schools in that place are closed.

Mrs. Fred Anderson is down daily from Tecumseh caring for her mother who is ill with the "flu."

Gorden Bachman is in the service of the U. S. and at present is in an aviation school in New York state.

Private Carl Cheever of the Great Lakes Training camp came Monday evening for a visit with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Brown entertained Saturday and Sunday her mother, Mrs. Stegmiller, and Sarena of Adrian.

Master Duaine Berry of Tecumseh is spending a few days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Miller.

Mrs. Wm. Frayer, Mrs. Chas. Sphor and John Cowan were called to Toledo Saturday by the illness of their father.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Oliver entertained a company of relatives at a chicken dinner Sunday, honoring their son, Ralph Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman King and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gorham were called to Adrian Saturday by the death of the former's father, John B. King.

Miss Lucile Lowe entertained a few friends Friday evening in honor of Ralph Oliver. A pleasant time was enjoyed. Light refreshments were served.

A telegram was received Tuesday morning rfom Winchester, Ky., announcing that Albert Gamboe, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gamboe of this place, was seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor entertained recently a few friends at their home in honor of August Ost, who left the latter part of the week to enter service for the U. S.

Mrs. Mary Graves, who fell and injured her hip a few days ago, was able to be taken to Holloway Saturday, where she will remain indefinitely with Mesdames Lewis and Bowerman.

"Lights out" was one put over on our resdents Friday evening. The dusty old lamps had to come into play again and lanterns were seen as of yore bobbing to and fro. In fact, if Columbus had been on earth he would have thought that he had discovered something.

Word has been received from Kansas that Mrs. W. L. Coryell, well known in this locality, had passed away Friday morning. The lady and her husband have spent several years in Florida on account of her poor health, and last summer spent several weeks with relatives here.

Britton is getting as famous as other places, as Deputy Sheriff Joe Wiggins, assisted by Everett Exelby and Arthur Hoagland held up an automobile that contained 144 quarts of whiskey. The occupants were taken to Adrian to await trial, and the whiskey was put in the locker, thus adding another fair sized amount to Adrian's quota.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Robison entertained a company of relatives Saturday in honor of his birthday. The affair was successfully planned and carried out as a surprise. The dining room was beautifully decorated with Hallowe'en effect and covers were laid for twenty-two, all enjoying the elegant dinner that was served, as well as the good time that followed.

Word came Sunday from Toledo stating that Denmon Cowan, aged 81, a former resident of this township, had passed away that morning at his home in that place, where he had resided for the past two years, death being due to his advanced age and general breaking down. He is survived by his wife, three children, Mrs. Wm. Frayer, Mrs. Chas. Sphor and John Cowan, all of this vicinity, twenty-four grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren. The remains were brought Tuesday to th home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Frayer, south of town, where the funeral services were held, with burial at Ridgeway.

The sudden death of John B. King, aged 61, at his home in Madison township came as a shock to his friends in this vicinity. He retired that evening in good health, went to sleep and within an hour was stricken with apoplexy, passing away within five minutes. He was born in Monroe county, where he lived until a few years ago, when he came to this county. With the exception of two years spent in Petersburg and Tecumseh, he has always lived on a farm. He was united in marriage in 1889 to Mary Ackley of this place, and she with four children, Norman of Britton, Roy, Mabel and Alice at home, and one grandchild, survive. He was one of a family of six children and is also survived by three sisters and two brothers. He was a member of the Galilean class of the M. E. church in Adrian, Tecumseh K. O. T. M. lodge and Holloway Grange. The funeral services were held Monday at the home, Rev. G. W. Olmstead of the Adrian M. E. church officiating. Burial was at Ridgeway cemetery.

TIPTON

NOTICE — To all parents and friends of boys in the service abroad who wish to send Christmas presents overseas: There will be a specially manufactured carton for the proper packing of presents, at the Tipton Red Cross rooms, to be had for the asking. No parcels will be accepted for shipment after November 15, 1918. No parcels shall be accepted for shipment which weigh over three pounds. Parcels ready for shipment must be presented to Red Cross headquarters where Red Cross representatives will examine the contents in order to exclude any articles barred by post office department from Christmas parcels.

I hereby appoint the following committee to help in the inspection, packing, and mailing of the above named parcels: Frank Baldwin, Hazel Preston, Geraldine Derby and Mrs. Addie Bunting.

T. E. Spalding, President Tipton Red Cross.

There will be a barrel placed in front of Mrs. Addie Bunting's home for the receipt of hickory nuts, walnuts and butternuts and all fruit pits, the same to be used in the manufacture of gas masks for our soldier boys.

Let's all lend a helping hand and see how quickly we can fill the barrel.

Mrs. S. W. McComb of Bradner, Ohio, was in town on business yesterday.

Supt. and Mrs. Reed and little Ardis drove to Caledonia Wednesday to spend a few days "down on the farm."

Rev. J. G. Widdifield and family and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Clatworthy, of Toronto, drove to Toledo Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Church entertained his nephew, Frank A. Coddington, of Erie, Pa, from Friday until Monday.

Mrs. S. E. Pulver arrived in Tecumseh Saturday evening. She has been with a sster at Burlington, Iowa, for the past three years.

Otto Garlinghouse was down to his garage Tuesday for the first time since he was taken ill two weeks ago. His sister, Miss Ethel, is also much better.

Al VanWinkle has been home from Detroit this week, helping to care for his sick family. Miss Florence developed pneumonia, but is some better while the other four sick ones are sitting up.

The Whiting cigar factory has had to close down as so many of the force are ill.

Claud Mattis, who has been so very sick with pneumonia for the past week, is no better this morning.

Reports from Howard Bredow who is ill with pneumonia, are that he is no worse but is holding his own.

The funeral was held at the home this morning at 10 o'clock, with burial at Ridgeway, the service being conducted by Dr. W. B. Hartzog.

The members of the immediate family are the husband, little son, the parents, one sister, Mrs. Milton Weeks, of Cotipaxi, Col., and one brother, Bert Miller, of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Eugene Berry died at her home on South Oneida street Tuesday at 5:30 p. m., after a ten days' illness. Spanish influenza was the beginning of the illness with pneumonia following.

Says one doctor's wife to another lady wedded to one of the same profession, "Right now a doctor's life is Sherman's idea of war." Says D. W. No. 2, "Yes, but the life of a doctor's wife is Hell-er."

Elizabeth Miller was born in Macon township March 12, 1886, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Miller. Sept. 25, 1913, she married Eugene Berry and to them one child was born, Duaine, aged three years. Last spring the family moved in town from Macon.

The epidemic has hit the family of Murphys, northeast of town, pretty hard. Five in the family of John G. Murphy are sick, Miss Fern being very ill. Tom Murphy and both small sons are other victims with pneumonia developing with the father. James Murphy is another to come down Wednesday and is very sick. These are all children of Dr. and Mrs. John Murphy of this village.

SHERMAN CAMBURN

Former Well Known Tipton Man Dies at Saline — Influenza Victim.

A death in Saline Sunday grieved the people here as badly as if it had been one of our own boys. Sherman Camburn, who had only a month ago moved his family to that village from Tipton, succumbed to pneumonia which followed but a few days' illness with influenza.

For twelve years Mr. Camburn had been a clerk at the Lewis store in Tipton, but upon the organization of a co-operative association at Saline, he was given the management and took his new position October 1st.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Camburn, live at Tipton. His wife was formerly Miss Leora Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Boyd, now of Adrian, but who until her marrige lived in this village.

A private funeral was held from the home in Saline Tuesday morning, with burial at Tipton. Rev. S. M. Oliver officiated. A short service was held at the grave.

NORTH ADRIAN

All church services, schools and socials are closed on account of Spanish influenza.

Verl and Milford Osborn are recovering from attacks of influenza.

James Boyd and family and Harold Lanning and family have had the influenza but are better.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown entertained his brother George Brown and wife of Rollin Sunday.

Miss Maida Wright and little Veneta Camp are the last sick ones of influenza. Dr. Hendershott is attending them.

The ladies of the Red Cross are busy making bath robes.

Two Presidents of the United States Write Commander Newberry

From Theodore Roosevelt

Oyster Bay, Long Island, October 19, 1918.

Commander Truman H. Newberry, New York City.

My dear Commander:

I congratulate you on your nomination, but far more do I congratulate Michigan and all our people. It was my good fortune to have you serve under me as Secretary of the Navy, and I can testify personally to your efficiency and your disinterested and single-minded zeal for the public service. To a very peculiar degree you have stood for that kind of government which puts the interest of the people as a whole first and foremost, and treats all other considerations as negligible, when the public weal is involved. The record made by you and your two sons in this war is typical of your whole attitude as a public servant. Both your boys at once entered the Navy, and are now on the high seas. You sought employment abroad; when that was refused you, you accepted any position that was offered in which you could render public service.

The nomination of Mr. Ford makes the issue sharp and clean. It is not primarily an issue between the Republican party and the Democratic party, for Mr. Ford does not seem to have any firm political convictions, and was content to take the nomination on any ticket without regard to what the general principles of the men supporting that ticket were; and his memory about past politics is so hazy that although he has mentioned a Republican candidate for president for whom he thinks he once voted, it does not appear that this is possible, unless he is in error as to his own age.

The issue is infinitely more important than any merely political issue. It is the issue of straight Americanism, of straight patriotism, and of preparedness for the tasks of peace and war, as against a particularly foolish and obnoxious type of pacifism, preached in peace and practiced in war. This is the first time in the history of our country in which a candidate for high office has been nominated who has spent enormous sums of money in demoralizing the people of the United States on a matter of vital interest to their honor and welfare. The expenditures on behalf of pacifism by Mr. Ford in connection with the Peace Ship, and in connection with his great advertising campaign in favor of the McLemore resolution and of the pacifist and pro-German attitude against our participation in the war, was as thoroughly demoralizing to the conscience of the American people as anything that has ever taken place. The failure of Mr. Ford's son to go into the army at this time, and the approval by the father of the son's refusal, represent exactly what might be expected from the moral disintegration inevitably produced by such pacifist propaganda. Mr. Ford's son is the son of a man of enormous wealth. If he went to war he would leave his wife and child immeasurably distant from all chance of even the slightest financial strain or trouble, and his absence would not in the smallest degree affect the efficiency of the business with which he is connected. But the son stays at home, protesting and appealing when he is drafted, and now escaping service. Your two sons have eagerly gone to the front. They stand ready to pay with their lives for the honor and the interest of the American people, and while they thus serve America with fine indifference to all personal cost, the son of wealthy Mr. Ford sits at home in ignoble safety, and his father defends and advises such conduct. It would be a grave misfortune to the country to have Mr. Ford in the Senate when any question of continuing the war or discussing terms of peace may arise, and it would be an equally grave misfortune to have him in any way deal with the problems of reconstruction in this country.

Michigan is facing the test, clear-cut and without shadow of a chance for misunderstanding, between patriotism and Americanism on one side, and on the other pacifism, and that foolish sham-cosmopolitanism which thinks it clever to deride the American flag, and to proclaim that it would as soon be a Hindoo or Chinaman as an American. If there should be at any time in the future a Hindoo Senate, and it should choose, in a spirit of cosmopolitanism, to admit outsiders, there is no reason why Mr. Ford should not aspire to membership therein; but he would be signally out of place in the American Senate so long as that body is dominated by men who zealously believe in the American ideal and faithfully endeavor to serve the American people.

Wishing you all success, I am

Very faithfully yours,

Theodore Roosevelt

From William H. Taft

931 Southern Building,
Washington, D. C.,
October 19, 1918.

My dear Commander Newberry

I write to congratulate you on being the Republican candidate for Senator in the State of Michigan. I sincerely hope that you will be elected, and I am very certain that if you are, you will render to the State and to the country a valuable service in your high office. I feel that I can say this from personal observation of the way in which you discharged your official duties both while you were Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and while you were in the same Cabinet with me under President Roosevelt. It is of the highest importance that in the settlement of the important questions growing out of this war, we should have men in the senate of your experience in governmental matters, and of your political views. The Democratic majority in Congress has not been one upon which the President or the country could depend for the adoption of measures adequate to the winning of the war. The people of the United States can be much more confident, if we have a Republican majority in both Houses, that the legislative branch of the Government will wisely cooperate with the Executive Administration, and by constructive criticism make that Administration more effective than if Democratic majorities in both Houses are retained. With Mr. Ford's known pacifist views, carried to an extreme, indeed, with his nondescript political affiliations, and with his engaging in this canvass simply at the instance of the President, the people of Michigan are placed in a dilemma in respect to how he will represent them. He will either go into the Democratic caucus and follow implicitly the wish of the President, who induced him to run, or no one can know what he will do, not even Mr. Ford, in contingencies that are likely to arise. If you are elected, the people of Michigan will know that you will act with the loyal Republicans and that you will back the President to the utmost when he is seeking Congressional assistance for the winning of the war, and that you will be independent and courageous in pointing out the mistakes of administration, with a view to their remedy. I earnestly hope that the electors of Michigan will choose you

Sincerely yours,

Wm H Taft

Brighter and Smarter than ever

That is the general run of comment we hear from all who have seen our new shoe styles for Fall—and you will agree, we feel sure, when you come in and see them for yourself.

Since longer skirts have come into vogue the extra high shoe tops are no longer necessary; and this, too, is right in line with our Government's wishes that "Leather be Conserved."

In spite of the fase mounting increase in all manufacturing costs we have by careful and early purchasing been able to offer these new Fall Styles at very reasonable prices, as you will see from the following:

Tan Vici Kid, medium high straight and Louis Heel, Welt Sole, $8.00.

Tan Calf Lace, low broad heel, $6.50 and $7.00

Black Vici Kid Lace, plain toe, medium high straight and Louis heel, $7.00.

Gun Metal Lace, plain toe, Military and Louis Heel, $6.50.

Dozens of others, distinctive styles, priced from $3.50 to $9.00.

Macon's Fine Liberty Pole.

Not many towns the size of Macon can boast of as fine a Liberty pole as she has. Erected in the center of the main cross roads September 28, the day before the beginning of the 4th Liberty Loan drive, the pole was completed and fully equipped with electric light and guide boards on Liberty Day, October 12th.

Surmounted by a 6 in. brass ball, the pole, which is of iron and painted white, rises 66 feet above the surface of the ground and bears aloft a silk 6 ft. by 12 ft. star-spangled banner. The pole projects 5½ ft. below the surface and is firmed and steadfed by a solid concrete base. The guides show the traveler the way, night and day, to Milan, Tecumseh, Clinton and Saline.

The painting of the pole and of the signs and the making and painting of the concrete base was done by Mr. Walter Bailey who donated his time. Mr. Bailey has been untiring in his efforts and, with the assistance of Geo. Lane, succeeded in raising $108 by dollar subscriptions in Macon and vicinity. Mr. Bailey and Met Williams also donated their time to place the pole in position.

REPUBLIC Special

A truck like this —at $1295

This Republic Special, with a loading capacity of 2,000 pounds, offers a real buying opportunity.

It's a value that cannot be duplicated.

Furnished with either Open Express, as illustrated, or Stake body, built especially for this chassis, it is ideally suited to a wide range of business uses.

Designed and built by truck specialists who build nothing but trucks and know truck problems and requirements. It's a real truck, built to stand up and do its work day after day, year after year.

The frame is of pressed steel channel section; he semi-elliptic springs, front and rear, are of extra large and strong alloy steel; the radiator, Republic armored type for heavy duty; cooling system, carburetor, transmission, motor and every part is designed and built expressly for truck requirements.

And it has the Torbensen Internal Gear Drive, delivering from 12% to 26% more of the motor power to the wheels than any other type of drive. That means a saving in gasoline. A separate load carrying axle of solid forged steel reduces the unsprung weight, and that means longer life to tires. Many other Republic features contribute to long life and low upkeep.

Protect yourself against almost certain price advances. A phone call will bring one of our representatives with full information.

COMMUNICATION.

Dear Editor:

Please allow me space in your valuable paper for the following few lines:

I feel it my patriotic duty to call attention to a matter soon to be decided which is of vital importance to our county, regardless of our political views, especially at this time when we are called upon to do all we can to raise money to back our government, and this is in the matter of better drainage for our farms, and a matter to which my attention was called many times while soliciting funds for war work in my township. They would tell me why we would gladly give if we could. How can we help when our land has been flooded every year and no relief? We can only exist now, which in many cases is true. This applies especially to some parts of the east part of the county, where we have been handicapped for our main outlets, without which it has been impossible to make use of thousands of acres of land, if once drained is the most fertile in the county.

Two years ago we were fortunate enough to elect a man to the office of Drain Commissioner who was peculiarly adapted to fill the office, and things began at once to move along, and we are just getting some of the drains. We have been pleading for years, and at present there are four large dredge jobs sold and under course of construction, traversing and and affecting the townships of Deerfield, Blissfield, Palmyra, Raisin and Ridgeway. The cost of these drains is a small item compared to the increase in production to be realized by their construction. No one better understands these drains and the contracts in force covering the construction of same then does Mr. Conrad Ottgen, who was instrumental in getting them where they now are.

The present commissioner knows what construction work and material is worth, and looks after interests of the taxpayer, and in this connection I personally know of one instance in this part of the county where he brought about conditions which saved taxpayers several thousands of dollars. I for one appreciate this kind of service and want to see it continued by giving Conrad Ottgen, the present Drain Commissioner, a large vote for his second term on November 5th.

J. E. Gilson,
Supervisor of Deerfield Township.

JOHN B. SMITH, SR.

Dies at Pontiac Hospital After Illness of Two Years.

John B. Smith, sr., passed away Sunday at the state hospital at Pontiac, where he had been confined to his bed for two years. He was over 90 years of age. He was a resident here through his boyhood and young manhood, but before being taken to the hospital had lived in Detroit. He was the father of Mrs. Nellie Sheridan and Deputy Sheriff John B. Smith, both of this village.

The remains arrived yesterday and the funeral will be held this afternoon at the Service & Son undertaking rooms. The G. A. R. will give their burial service at the grave, which is in the G. A. R. lot.

A CARD.

Editor Tecumseh Herald:—

We wish to take this opportunity, through The Herald, of thanking the people of this community for the splendid manner in which they, nearly everyone, assisted in putting Tecumseh "Over the Top" on Sunday, September 29, Volunteer day for the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds.

We wish especially to thank the ladies who, under the direction of their chairman, Mrs. E. E. Hendershot, so ably assisted the committee in this campaign.

Last, but not least, the boys of the schools who have responded to every call for volunteers to distribute bills throughout the town.

Tecumseh Township Liberty Loan Committee.
H. S. Temple, Chairman.

Deer Hunters, Notice!

For the benefit of those contemplating a hunting trip this fall the following may save you a little trip.

Yours truly,
W. L. Coller.

The following counties are closed for the hunting of deer for a period of five years: Antrim, Bay, Charlevoix, Clare, Arenac, Crawford, Emmet, Gladwin, Grand Traverse, Huron, Kalkaska, Lake, Manistee, Mason, Midland, Missaukee, Newaygo, Oceana, Ogemau, Osceola, Oscoda, Otsego, Roscommon, Sanilac, Tuscola,

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Floyd Powell is another listed with the "flu" victims.

Mrs. Joseph Smith visited her mother in Clinton yesterday.

Mrs. Oscar Blum and Oliver are better, so Mr. Blum started out on the road again Wednesday.

Miss Ella Clapp has so far recovered from her severe illness as to be at the store for a short time Tuesday.

John Dibble, for a number of years an employee at Moore's, left the firm Saturday night. Chas. Rowe has taken his place.

Mrs. Anna McClelland suffered a stroke of paralysis at her home in Brownville Saturday. At last reports she was much better.

Miss Hazel Stahler is a new bookkeeper at the Co-Operative Association office, having resigned from the telephone exchange.

Mrs. Hugh Ager was called to Detroit Monday by the serious illness of her daughter, Miss Mabel Ager, who has the "flu."

Mrs. Fred Anderson has been in Britton most of the week, caring for her brother, David Houseman, who has been very sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bowen were out from Detroit for Saturday and Sunday. Dale Bowen returned with them for a few days' visit.

Mr and Mrs. Cap Collins and little Alice have all been down at once with the epidemic. They too appreciate the kindness of the good neighbors who dared to come in and do for them.

The president of the Monday club wishes the members to re member that if the ban is lifted before Monday there will be a meeting of the club that day.

The ladies of the Order of Eastern Star will meet at the home of Miss Kyle Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock to act as escort at the funeral of Mrs. Wm. Bly.

Mrs. Frank Rude went to Detroit Monday to care for her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy VanWinkle, both of whom are ill. Pneumonia has developed in the case of Mrs. VanWinkle.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reed receiv ed word Tuesday in a letter written Oct. 13 that their son, Everett, had been ill with pneumonia at a Red Cross hospital in France. The letter was written by a nurse and said he was improving.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bactal on Sunday occurred the death of Tracy Brown, a friend who had come from Milan a few weeks before to take work in Brewer's foundry. Pneumonia had followed influenza and the man had been ill a couple of weeks. His sister and brother, Mrs. John Jennings and Jesse Brown, came from Milan to care for him and returned with the remains on Sunday.

The public will have to pardon the lack of variety in the news of this paper. The scourge has cut out all church, lodge, club and even the school items—there is only sickness and death to tell you of, but things are looking better this morning, we are happy to say Reports from most of the sick folks are more encouraging. We do not hear of very many more new cases, so judge the terrible epidemic has reached its zenith.

MRS. D. SATTERTHWAITE

Former Instructor at Raisin Valley Seminary Passes Away in Toledo Friday

Mrs. Nellie Satterthwaite, widow of the late Prof. Daniel Satterthwaite, passed away Friday at the home of the daughter, Mrs. Frank Leslie, in Toledo. The sickness was brought on by the breaking down due to old age, she being 77 years old.

Prof. and Mrs. Satterthwaite, for many years, conducted the Raisin Valley Seminary and helped to make it the famous instituton it was. The lady will be sincerely mourned by the many students who profitted by her instructions and so highly respected the couple.

The funeral was held at the home in Toledo and a burial service at the grave in Raisin Valley Cemetery. The remains were accompanied here bythe daughter and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Leslie.

Mrs. Rollo Wilkins has been quite sick.

Mrs. Freeman Gove is still in a critical condition.

Mrs. Will Cummings was in Adrian Tuesday, a guest of her sisters.

Mrs. Geo. Stone and daughter, Miss Byrde, have been very ill this past week.

Both Miss Goldye and Abbie Palman have been very sick but are now better.

Mrs. Andrew Taylor has been ery ill fora iDfnerohrdletaoivbg one of the "flu" victims this week.

At Will Kelley's the whole family have been very ill for a week with Nurse Critchett in charge.

Mrs. Angelina Stacy, who suffered a stroke of paralysis last week, is a little better, but has not recovered her speech well.

Mrs A. C Aylesworth went to Columbus, Ohio, Saturday to care for her daughter, Mrs. Finley De-Spelder and baby who are ill.

Ed Everett has left the employ of D. L. Whitenack & Co., where he was the efficient clerk for several years and taken a job at Brewer's foundry.

The family of Elmer Slayton, of Adrian, is quarantined for smallpox. Elsie, who has the disease in a very light form, is able to be up and around the house.

Our young friend, Joe Satterthwaite, is already a corporal. Graduating from high school only last June, he enlisted at Camp Custer and went across with the 85th. Now comes word back of his advancement. Going some, Joe, but we like it.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kennedy started Tuesday evening for Pensacola, Fla., to remain for the winter with their son Gerald and family. Mr. Kennedy will take up government work down there and talk politics with the southerners. Only wish we might hear their arguments, but bet on "Chuck."

On Tuesday Melvin Maloney, of Palmyra, was arrested by Otto Rohn, the deputy state game warden, while shooting fox squirrels on the farm of Minor Davidson. The complaint was made by Depty. Sheriff John B. Smith. Warden Rohn brought Maloney, squirrels and all into Judge Hosmer's court where the man was arraigned. Caught with the goods he could not well help pleading guilty and the judge fined him $10.00 and costs of $6.65 which he paid.

RECORD OF THE PAST

No Stronger Evidence Can Be Had in Tecumseh.

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from kidney ills, should find comforting words in the following statement:

Mrs. Alice Burroughs, W. Pottawatomie st., Tecumseh, says: "I sometimes ached all over and was all tired out and had no ambition. My kidneys didn't act regularly and at times my back ached. I knew of others who had been helped by using Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got some at Wright & Son's drug store. In a few weeks I felt much better and finally I was free from the aches and pains. I was benefited in every way." (Statement given in December, 1908.

Again Praises Doan's.

On July 27, 1916, Mrs. Burroughs said: "I am always glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, for they are good medicine. They cured me of kidney trouble."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills — the same that Mrs. Burroughs had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—adv.

"My Corns Peel Clean Off, With 'Gets-It'"

of the world's magic and only genuine corn-peeler, "Gets-It." Then, and then only, will you be sure that your corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel it right off gloriously easy with your fingers. Take no chances of continued pain and soreness—why use greasy, irritating salves, plasters that shift and press into the "quick," razors and "diggers" that make corns bleed and also grow faster? Use painless, easy, always sure "Gets-It." There's only one like it in the world—that's "Gets-It." Millions have tried and O. K.'d it for years. It never fails. BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

At the Dr. Conklin Home, Honoring Miss Bernice Blythe.

Honoring Miss Bernice Blythe's birthday, Mrs. H. R. Conklin invited a party of ladies to surprise her at the Conklin home, where she resides, so at supper time in the crowd walked with baskets loaded with good things and a picnic supper was soon spread. Later the evening was spent in visiting. Those enjoying the celebration were Miss Lelia Blythe of Manchester, Miss Nina Lowry of Colon, Mrs. Ray Tobias, Mrs. Bessie Mitchell, Mrs. Ray Carr, Misses Alice Owens, Vevia Hardcastle, Anna Schreder and Vesta Wilson.

GOVE BOYS WOUNDED

BOTH YOUNG MEN IN HOSPITAL IN FRANCE.

Hiram Only Slightly Injured and Herbert Received Shrapnel in Shoulder and Leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gove have received word during the week from both of their sons, Hiram and Herbert, now in service in France, that both had been wounded and were in hospitals.

From Hiram the letter said he was only slightly wounded and hoped to be with his company soon. Herbert's letter, dated October 19th, came Tuesday from a base hospital, telling that in a battle in the Argonne forest in the Verdun sector he had been injured by shrapnel, wounding him both in the shoulder and leg.

The brothers and also Fred Chase, jr., and Glen Fielder, with their company were transferred for replacement as soon as that portion of the 85th entered France and were placed in the 38th Infantry, the regiment that stopped the Hun on the Marne.

In Hiram's letter he writes that Glen Fielder has just been transferred to another company.

FREIGHT WRECK ON D. T. & I.

FOUR LARGE COAL CARS LEAVE TRACK.

Traffic Blocked All Day Friday—Wrecking Crew Works Until Midnight to Clear the Road.

Four big coal cars went off the D., T. & I. track on West Cummings street Thursday night, and the work of the wrecking crew attracted a big crowd all day Friday. Not until midnight on Friday was the track cleared for traffic.

The causes for the wreck were numerous as proposed by the bystanders, one asserting that the flanges on the wheels of the first car off had worn thin and when that car went off it pulled the others with it. Others, and some railroad people as well, give as the cause that the rails had spread and that seems most feasible.

The wreck took place just east of the bend and there has been an immense amount of traffic over the road lately so the big heavy trains just rounding the curve would have worn the track badly.

One car loaded full with coal sank into the soft dirt in the roadbed so deeply it could not be lifted, so was tipped over, the coal remaining in it shoveled out and the box loaded on the trucks and the coal left to the mercy of the public.

All has been cleared away now and not a chunk of coal minus.

Death Takes Another Young Man From our Village—A Victim of Pneumonia

Claude R. Mattis, eldest son of Mrs. Isaiah Mattis, was born in Franklin township Jan. 12, 1875, and departed this life Nov. 1, 1918. He was maried to Lillian Blesing May 29, 1897. The wife and two small children, Myrtle Dorothy and Merval Dean, survive. Two children preceded him to the Great Beyond.

He was a kind, loving husband and father and will be so sadly missed by all as he was always ever thoughtful of kind acts or deeds he could do for anyone. Our great loss is Heaven's gain. There survives, his mother, Mrs. Isaiah Mattis, one sister, Mrs. Lester Rogers, and one brother, Charlie, all of Tecumseh.

Funeral services were conducted at the home Sunday by Rev. W. A. Rex with burial on the family lot at Brookside. All that loving hands could do were of no avail.—X

TECUMSEH GIRL OVERSEAS RED CROSS

MISS LAURA ETHEL COMFORT HIGHLY PRAISED.

Nursing the French Wounded, Civilians, and Refugees in the Marne and Meuse Districts — Letter of Interest.

Paris, Sept. 23, 1918.

I am glad to write you from Paris concerning the work of Miss Laura Ethel Comfort. Tecumseh should be proud of her and of her work with the Red Cross in France. She is nursing the French wounded, civilians, and refugees in the Marne and Meuse districts. Tender, sympathetic, loyal and untiring, she is loved and esteemed among her patients.

She sends the following letter to you, of her home town:

"Our hospital, Dr. Babbitt's, was the first American hospital started at Sermaize-les-Bains.

Laura Ethel Comfort, in the Red Cross Work "Over There"

Heretofore the people had been left in a terrible condition—even those needing surgical treatment had been neglected. The French hospitals took no free patients and the refugee had but a few sous.

"The majority of our patients were poor souls whose homes had already been destroyed, perhaps not once, but twice, and even now, for the third time, were in danger. Although sad and discouraged, they showed a wonderful spirit, always cheerful, never complaining, and very grateful.

"One day the mayor of a small village nearby called upon us to come and get a man. I was the fortunate one to whom this charge was entrusted. I found an old man of perhaps ninety, alone, lying on a pile of hay in a cow shed. It was winter. A few old sacks were thrown over him. He had no relatives. He had been driven from his home by the Hun. I carried him to our hospital, but pneumonia had already set in, and he died that night.

"A young girl patient of ours, together with her remaining family—all women—went out into the fields after the battle at Bar-le-Duc, searching for the wounded. With great labor and tenderness, lest the pain be too agonizing, they carried the men home, cared for them, nursed them back to health, or buried those whom the Angel of Death claimed. This family wears the Croix de Guerre today."

MRS. MURLOW PACKARD

Wife and Mother of Three Children Called From This Life.

Mrs. Murlow Packard died last evening after only a few days' illness with pneumonia, following influenza. Her maiden name was Mary Dinse, the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dinse. She was 24 years old March 8th, was married to Murlow Packard six years ago this fall and leaves besides the husband and her parents, three little children from five to one years of age, Lucile, Irene and Lawrence, four brothers, Arthur, Herman, Carl and Harvey, and one sister, Miss Ella Dinse.

For a couple of weeks the families of Oscar Packard and son Murlow, who live together on the Packard farm, just south of town, have been very ill and could find no one to assist them. Then, too, the Dinse family are all down with the influenza, the son Herman having pneumonia, so this death comes doubly sad.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 10 o'clock with a private service at the house. Burial in Brookside.

GERMAN PROPAGANDA

SHEET DROPPED FROM ENEMY AEROPLANE

Picked Up and Sent to Rev. C. M. Thompson by his son Sergent Thompson

Following are extracts from letters of recent date written from France by Sergeant Chester Earl Thompson of Co. A, 21st U. S. Engineers, to his parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Thompson of Tecumseh:

Dear Folks:—

Just another note to let you know that I am well and busy. Have had charge of the steel gang which is the work I enjoy the most. We worked 45 hours out of 50 last week, but one doesn't mind it following up the advance as we were. Our fellows never utter a word of complaint and keep cheerful.

We did our part too. Yesterday completed my first year since I held up my hand and said "I will," for Uncle Sam. Hope it may not be another year till I come home.

The peace talk of Austria may or may not mean anything. The Germans are surely being driven back in nearly all places where drives are being made. Let us hope it may continue.

One of the sergeants in the same tent with me has been "cootie" hunting. That's a pleasure I have yet to experience.

We are in the advanced zone so I cannot tell you the name of the place. This is where the work is interesting and where you feel you are surely doing your "bit." Saw a wonderful air battle yesterady and heard a fierce barrage fire last night. That is what makes life worth living. A lot of this section is surely devastated.

We have a French "kid" 14 years old as a "mascot." He seems to enjoy himself and is beginning to learn a little English. He sleeps in our tent. We have a stove we took from a German dugout to keep us warm. It is a good one, too. Real fall weather this week.

With love,

October 5, 1918.

Dear Folks:—

Am writing while they are shooting at a Boche 'plane overhead. Am enclosing a German propaganda sheet which I picked up yesterday as it fell from an aeroplane. Of course, they talk very nice. Bulgarian peace may help. The war started with a small country and may end with one. This all for now as there is too much excitement to have a light.

Sunday evening, Oct. 6.

Didn't get this note posted today. Worshipped by doing a big day's work. With love,

Earl.

Peace in Sight.

Austria-Hungary has proposed to enter into negotiations of peace. Germany, Bulgaria and Turkey have no objection to it. Peace is close at hand!

Peace before winter!

Peace, the yearning of all nations!

It now depends upon the Allied governments whether peace shall be realized or the sufferings of the tortured nations are to continue. Now it is the turn of the Allied governments to speak out, or if they should prefer to turn a deaf ear to the appeals of their subjects, it is up to the peoples themselves.

Is now the time to start negotiations of peace?

We believe so.

Upon the German spring and summer success there followed the successes of the Allies. But it has not come to a decision. The German army is in readiness in its former strongly fortified positions.

Both sides are prepared for fresh fighting. But what can they achieve at the very best? Drive back the enemy slowly and lay waste more French soil. And all this at the price of more of this monstrous bloodshed.

Therefore, the time has come to enter into negotiations of peace and to prepare a peace of understanding.

It is up to the Allied governments and nations to say their mind.

TANK TRACTOR IN TOWN

Villagers Get Their First View of The Immense War Machines

A terrible racket was heard Saturday at 6 p. m. on the business street which caused the people to rush out of doors and there a peculiar looking tractor was coming down the street painted in a variety of colors to camaflouge it. It drove around to the Garlinghouse Garage for gasoline (it holds 25 gals.) and a great crowd assembled. This sort of tractor is used in France for the tanks and no wonder the Huns don't like them and began a retreat for to multiply that racket by some hundreds would make them think the Old Harry and all his hosts were after them.

The giant was of the caterpillar kind, made in Peoria, Ill., and was enroute to Detroit, from there to be shipped east for the coast and then abroad. It was of 72 horse power and drew a trailer on which were extra parts. A lieutenant and two other men accompanied it. One feat it accomplished was to turn around in a space not much longer than itself. Its engine had been going 150 hours on an endurance test, the machine having traveled 500 miles.

Editorial Comment

Austria - Hungary, the once powerful empire, at tsree o'clock Monday afternoon (Rome time) laid down her arms and quit the war, and thus, with Turkey and Bulgaria also eliminated, Germany is left to fight alone to the bitter end, surrender or accept the armistice terms of the Supreme War Council of the Allies. Austria's downfall is due to two factors — the recent offensive movement against them by the Italian armies and internal disintegration. Emperor Charles is determined to abdicate and plans to retire to Switzerland. The armistice under which Austria-Hungary lays down her arms makes the empire virtually helpless in a military sense. It includes complete demobilization of Austrian forces, surrenderof one-half of all artillery and military equipment; occupation by American and allied forces of such strategic places as may later be selected; use of Austrian railroads for operations against Germany; evacuation of all invaded territory, leaving behind all equipment and supplies, including coal, surrender of a portion of the Austrian surface and submarine fleets and disarmament of others under American and allied control, surrender of all German submarines in Austrian waters and repatriation of all allied and American prisoners without reciprocity.

Evacuation of Austrian territory roughly corresponding to the boundary lines claimed by Italy under the Italia Irredentia, or treaty of London program. The right of occupation by allied forces is reserved, local authorities to maintain order under allied supervision.

The terms of the armistice are to be carried out under the direction of Marshal Foch, who will designate material to be turned over and supervise the movement of Austro-Hungarian forces to the rear.

All German troops in Austria-Hungary, Italy, or the Balkans, must be out or interned within 15 days.

Destruction of any property by retreating forces is specifically forbidden.

Ships to be surrendered include 15 modern Austrian submarines, three battleships, three light cruisers, nine destroyers, 12 torpedo hoats, one mine layer and six Danube monitors to be designated by the allies. All other war craft are to be concentrated and disarmed under allied direction.

Free navigation of all Austrian waters by both war and commercial fleets of the allies is provided for.

The Danube route is to be kept open by the occupation or dismantling of fortresses to be selected by the allied commander. The existing blockade of the allies against Austria remains unchanged, Austrian ships being liable to capture where found except where a commission, to be named later, provides otherwise.

All enemy naval aircraft are to be put out of commission and concentrated under allied control. All Austrian harbor and other equipment in occupied Italian ports is to be left untouched.

All fortresses, protecting Austrian naval bases or stations are to be occupied and the arsenal at Pola is specifically surrendered. All allied craft held by Austria are to be returned immediately.

The only organized military force Austria is permitted to retain is limited to that necessary to maintain order in her own borders.

Thus Germany is left alone, not a helpless cripple, but still a wtll organized military power, but her doom is sealed more surely now than ever before and she will either have to accept the armistice of the Supreme War Council or suffer complete military annihilation. Her days of military power are numbered and the end may come any day, even before this paper gets into the hands of the readers.

The war is won by the Allies; this is now an assured fact. But how much longer it will last is as uncertain to forecast as have been the developments of the last few days. But we predict the end is near at hand.

The election returns Tuesday morning proved The Herald's prophecy of last week true, with the exception that no Democratic candidiate made the boat. The closest race in the county was that for the office of county clerk. Herbert B. Knowles leaves the enviable record behind him that the office has been conducted most efficiently and many patrons of the office will regret his retirement. Emery B. Root, the newly elected official, is a clean fellow, well qualified for the office and we predict he will make good.

Earl C. Michener made good despite the last hour attacks upon his patriotism and his large majority is substantial evidence that the people have full confidence in his integrity and American loyalty.

We were not mistaken in our surmise that Commander Newberry would win the race for the United States senate. While the people in general have naught against Mr, Ford, they showed by their ballots Tuesday that they believed Newberry best fitted as a statesman during the reconstruction period. With the Republican party of Michigan united it is difficult to squeeze through a Democrat to any state office.

After the war—what? Have the American people done their duty—did they send the right men to Washington to help shape the future destinies of this nation? Have they let partisan politics stand in the way of future American progress? We trust not, but we ask our readers to more closely than ever watch the conduct of the men they have elected to office, and if they prove false to your trust let them hear from you.

"It is the loyal Republican who helped to make the Democratic administration great." Thus remarks an editorial writer in one of our metropolitan dailies. Too bad he couldn't have written it correctly by simply substituting the word "American" for "Republican" and "war" instead of "Democratic" and made it read "It is the loyal American who helped to make the War administration great." But the daily is an anti-administration sheet and enjoys shooting such little shafts especially just before election. The fact of the matter is that it was the loyal American statesmen that stood by the President that made possible America's great preparation and glorious entrance in the war. Indelibly written upon the minds of the American people will remain the records of the once great LaFollette, Republican presidential timber, and his clique of obstructionists at the very beginning of the war. On the other side, Wm. J. Bryan and a few others will also be remembered.

The political campaign this fall was conspicuously tame in comparison with former national pre-election controversies. This was due partly to American loyalty at war time and partly to the prevailing influenza epidemic. Thtre were no public meetings, no torch light processions and consequently less mud throwing than usual. The campaign was conducted almost entirely through newspaper advertisements. But neither side could entirely keep from "throwing the hooks" into the opposition and some rather mean things were said that no doubt made the authors feel a little ashamed when they saw it in cold print. However, on the whole, the campaign was conducted much cleaner than that of two years ago. May it continue to improve.

That people of the vicinity had confidence that the backbone of the influenza epidemic was broken was evidenced by the good sized crowd in town Saturday to trade. In the evening the streets looked almost normal with the many parked automobiles, and it seemed good to see so much life after the quietness due to the scourge. The ban against all public gatherings in the state will probably be lifted today or at least within a few days, when people can again enjoy church services, clubs and social gatherings and theatres. In Tecumseh the state mandate was universally obeyed, but the epidemic had a good grip upon the community before the governor's proclamation was issued.

Hold Productive Hens.

All hens molt in the fall and early winter. During this molting season, which usually lasts about three months, the hens lay few or no eggs. It is advisable, if well-matured pullets can be purchased at a reasonable price, to kill and eat the hens as they begin to molt, replacing the flock with newly purchased pullets. The hens should not be killed, however, until they begin to molt and their combs begin to lose size, color and flexibility, for if these changes have not taken place the hens will probably still be laying and at a time of year when eggs are especially valuable.

SHE DON'T LIKE LEMON DROPS

A Subscriber Asks for an Information Bureau to Place Such Questions as the Following.

Dear Mr. Editor:

We note with great pleasure and appreciation your efforts to improve your paper and hope it will increase your subscription list.

We want to suggest still further innovations on the old way. Why can't we have an information bureau or a question box where we suburbanites can write for information which cannot be found in encyclopedias. It certainly would be helpful to many of us. Just now, for instance, we want to know who this woman is who want to feed our soldiers lemon drops and, whether they really need lemon drops and whether you think very much of that kind of stuff would be good for them.

We have been getting letters from Washington headed Treasurery Department and signed by Antoinette (we can't make out her last name, writingis so poor), telling us how our soldiers are fed and quoting from her last letter, she says:

"Lemon drops are the soldiers' favorite candy and are made of pure granulated sugar flavored with an emulsion from lemon rind. About 200,000 pounds have been furnished the army up to last August; this constitutes 15 per cent. of the army candy supply."

If 200,000 lbs. is 15 per cent. they must be using 12,000,000 lbs. of candy. Now we want to know if the sugar we save when we banish the sugar bowl from our breakfast table and limit ourselves to one scant spoonful in morning coffee, goes into lemon drops? And, if, as the food officials tell us, we shall all be better off for eating less sugar (after we get used to it) and that the children will be much better without their Christmas candy this year, if candy is more healthful for soldiers than for civilians?

With this twelve million pounds that Antoinette says our Yankee boys have consumed, we fear if we keep on supplying it at that rate we will have them all in the hospitals with stomach trouble.

And, if we decide to kee on feedng them candy, why lemon drops in particular. Have their tastes so changed since they crossed the water? We thought lemon drops were despised by even school children who never were over particular about their sweets.

Why should Antoinette be allowed to select flavors for the army, and who gave Antoinette her job? Is Antoinette a suffragette or just a cooking school teacher?

These are some of the things we want to know, for this conservation stuff is beyond our understanding. In the other days any big boy who robbed the family sugar bowl to boil the contents up into candy (not even into lemon drops) would have earned a good spanking.

We shall be glad to be enlightened about some of these new conditions. We would not be surprised to hear that Antoinette had given a fudge party to gain votes for equal suffrage.

Some of these things are hard to understand and we appeal to you for an information department where we can bring our troubles and perplexing problems and have them solved sanely for Country Subscribers.

THE SERVICE FLAG

Written by an Unknown Young Woman

Little flag in the window there,
Hung with a tear and a woman's prayer,
Child of Old Glory, born with a star,
O what a wonderful flag you are!
Blue is your star in its field of white,
Dipped in the red which was born to fight,
Born of the blood our forebears shed
To raise your mother, the flag o'erhead.
And now you have come in this frenzied day
To speak from a window, to speak and say:
"I am the voice of a soldier son,
Gone to be gone till the victory's won.
"I am the flag of the service, Sir,
The flag of his mother—I speak for her
Who stands by my window and waits and fears
But hides from others her unwept tears."
Little flag in the window there,
Hung with a tear and a woman's prayer,
Child of Old Glory, born with a star,
O what a wonderful flag you are!

"I told Miss Sharp what you said about her club; that you would not join because it was too full of stupid nobodies." And what did she say?" "She said that you were mistaken; that there was only room for one more."

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headaches, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the kidney secretions are offensive, irregular and attended by pain, procure a good kidney remedy at once.

Your townspeople recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement of this Tecumseh citizen:

Dell Hubbard, E. Chicago St., says: "Kidney complaint troubled me for a long time. My back ached and I was sore and lame. I could do no stooping or lifting and my kidneys acted irregularly. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I bought some at Wright & Son's drug store. They soon strengthened my back and rid me of all signs of kidney complaint."

"Keep the Bridge Open"

A dangerous condition exists among the American people today. We are an easy-going people, quick to feel that what we want to happen is about to come to pass. Don't forget that for four long years the Hun was master of the offensive power of this war. The Allies have scarcely had the offensive for as many months, yet we are feeling that peace is at hand.

Remember, the war has never touched German soil, and it must touch a lot of it if the war spirit is to be taken out of Germany. There are many aeroplanes on the docks in New York, waiting for ships. We have troops delayed through lack of ships. Put yourself in the place of the men who are fighting, and consider what ships and more ships represent to you. Chairman Hurley of the Shipping Board, and Charles M. Schwab say we have completed 2,500,000 tons, but we must continue till we get 15,000,000.

The shipyards need men badly. "No person now engaged in shipyard work need apply," but other men looking for a place where red-blooded, real men are needed, and who want to get good wages for the winter's work, will do their country and themselves a good turn by writing or calling at the Great Lakes, Engineering Works, River Rouge, Detroit, Mich. Cooling Milk Saves Dollars.

"Dairymen lose thousands of dollars annually because of poorly cooled milk and cream." This is the introductory sentence of Farmers' bulletin 976, entitled, "Cooling Milk and Cream on the Farm," issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The milk dealer has an extra lever when he can prove to the producer that more care in the production and handling of milk means more money to him. It is especially true that every reform along dairy and milk lines must be proved to be economical as well as beneficial from a sanitary or health standpoint before the producer's interest is aroused.

Cooling of milk as a rule can be properly and practically done only where ice is obtainable. But when it is realized that ice can be had on farms producing 85 per cent of the country's milk and cream supply, one sees the importance of taking advantage of natural facilities.

In other parts of the country where natural ice is not available, the producer can keep down the loss from sour milk or cream by taking full advantage of spring or well water.

o

The Get-Together Spirit.

The more the farmer shows the get-together spirit the greater is the advantage accruing to him, personally and from a business standpoint. New ideas, progressive methods, valuable business connections can be gained only by rubbing elbows with the world outside his own fences.

Taking an active and positive part in community events, interchange of views with successful men of affairs, getting beyond the border of his county and state and mixing with people — this is to make himself felt in his own community. All this has a broadening value, not easy to compute in hard dollars and cents, but quite easy to sum up in profitable results.

Home Fires

(Contributed.)

It was such a long time since Aunt Sarah had been to town that she hated to count the months she had stayed at home and "kept the fires." She knew there was no particular reason for any such seclusion. She used to drive the old gray in front of the surrey and hitch up for herself and take an hour and a half each way, to make the trip, and she had never ridden in that new "gasolene contraption" that her folks drove to town in, in twenty minutes, but today she decided she was going to try it. They said they would promise to drive slow, not more than ten miles an hour, and let her out at the first corner if she got scared.

So Aunt Sarah came to town, did a little tradin,' paid a few bills and tried to remember how long it really was since she had seen these streets that were always so familiar, and today looked a little strange. She was sure she hadn't been to town in the evening since they had the pretty lights on Main street. The girls on the streets and in the stores, and even in the offices, wore such short dresses, and high heels, and stockings that you could see through (and winter coming on, too) and if you asked one of them the time, instead of looking at the bank clock, she consulted a little leather strap tied around her wrist and tried to look like the girl on the magazine cover, and the man at the grocery tried to make Aunt Sarah believe that sugar didn't come in barrels any more (when she asked for an empty one) but was shipped in things he called "cartoons" (cartons) which she had always supposed meant the funny pictures in the paper, and the girls clerking in the groceries didn't seem to know a can of lard from a crock of butter and certainly didn't know how to weigh either one.

Many things were different since she and "old gray" had been leading a pastoral life, and she was rather afraid they had not changed for the better. A man came driving around the corner on a motorcycle making a terrible noise and wearing a gas mask, and driving as if the whole German army were after him, and another man at the gasoline station who had just driven in had on big yellow goggles as big as saucers which made him look like one of those strange creatures which we have lately discovered inhabiting the planet Mars. What was the whole town doing; were they masquerading? They all looked like the pictures in the comic papers. Soon a woman in a white gown and nurse's cap came out of a nearby doorway with a piece of gauze over here face, and there were others in the meat markets and barbr shops wearing the same kind of gauze masks, and suddenly it occurred to our mystified shopper as she glanced at the big clock in the jeweler's window and saw "October 30th" on its dial that this is Hallowe'en and the people are masquerading after all, in one grand (and successful) camouflage to conceal whatever good sense they may have possessed. They had not really gone "daffy" after all, for "Upon this night do fairies light." She forgave them all the uneasiness they had caused her, climbed cautiously into the waiting Ford, and soliloquized "where do we go from here?" and was pleased to note that the Ford's nose was headed toward the farm, but a thought of the man in the big crazy looking goggles, and the girl in the yellow sweater and the wrist watch, still lingered, and it was now clear that she was wearing the watch to mark the hour of midnight, when "The auld guidwife's weel—hoordit nits,

Are round and round divided,
And mony lads' and lasses' fates
Are there that night decided
"Wi' merry sangs and friendly cracks,
I wat they didna weary;
And unco tales and funny jokes,
Their sports were cheap and cheery."

MEN IN THE RED CROSS SERVICE

SHOW TRUE SPIRIT OF THE SOLDIERS.

Section S. S. 101 of the American Red Cross Recently Handled 1,286 Wounded.—Show Contempt for Danger.

Working all night under shell fire, compelled to wear gas masks all the time, but showing great contempt for danger, Secton S. S. 101 of the American Red Cross recently handled 1,286 wounded, and yet found time to help the British remove their men.

This section of 20 ambulances, a staff car, a camion and a kitchen went into service as soon as it reached the front, and remained throughout the hard fighting. Many holes were shot in the cars, and in one instance a shell carried away the entire steering gear and left the driver holding the wheel aloft. In six days the section handled 721 sitting cases and 565 lying down cases.

Lieut. Fish, in command, makes special mention of these men for good and fearless work:

Anthony Belock and George Callihan worked from 7:30 p. m. to noon of next day, carrying 300 wounded. Were under heavy shell fire and had to wear gas masks all the time.

N. E. Daggett worked all night at a rear post and when relieved asked to be sent to a front station and worked under heavy fire for another twelve hours.

Alban Swanson showed great disregard for danger and twice volunteered to go to advanced post when it was not his turn.

L. L. Wenhem did steady work all through and when a shell smashed his car he took that of a man who had collapsed.

Frederick Marcel did good work and rendered special service in aiding Lieuts. Fish and Howe to remove a damaged ambulance from an advanced post.

Others mentioned are Sergeant J. L. Whipp, F. J. Turner, H. E. Barnard, E. W. McCaffry and C. F. Bross.

BRITTON

GRACE HELEN HINDES

Passing of Beautiful Life Mourned by Many Friends.

On August 2, 1901, there came into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hindes, who reside north of town, a little daughter that they named Grace Helen. On October 31, 1918, after a little over seventeen happy years, the death angel came, reclaimed her and took her home, leaving hearts nearly broken because of her going.

Her illness dates back to March when she was taken with measles, which later developed in tuberculosis. Her life was quiet and Christ-like, thus endearing her to all who knew her and this was plainly shown during her sickness which was borne so patiently and uncomplainingly.

After finishing the eighth grade she entered our high school, where she was a member of the Sophomore class She was a member of the M. E. Sunday school of Ridgeway and during the tabernacle meetings held here made a decided stand for Christ, and her going closes a life that seemed so full of promise, and leaves a vacancy that will be keenly felt.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the house, and were private, Rev. Sam'l Tamblyn officiating. She was laid to rest beneath a bed of flowers in Ridgeway cemetery. The bearers were Clydt, Everett, Glen and Guy Hindes.

Former Resident Dies In Ypsilanti.

Thursday morning in Ypsilanti occurred the death of Mrs. Jennie Veeley, aged 51, wife of Arden Veeley, former residents of this place, death being due to cancer, from which she had suffered intensely for the past ten weeks. She is survived by her husband and four children. Ardenia Olmstead of Arizona, Leon of Saline, Thurlough and Thadford Veeley of Ypsilanti and mother, Mrs. J. R. Winsley, of this place. The remains were brought Saturday to Ridgeway cemetery for the burial services that were conducted by Rev. Sam'l Tamblyn. A number of relatives from here were in attendance at the services at the grave.

Mrs. Wm. McCarbery came home Friday from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. McHugh, in Detroit.

Miss Pearl Linton was called home from Detroit on account of the death of her cousin, Grace Hindes.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McCarbery Mrs. Mike Bachman and Agnes were here for the week end from Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Klann and Eddie and Miss Anna Dettman spent Sunday with relatives at Wellsville.

Mrs. W. H. Swick returned Saturday from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Leo Rozelle, at Manitou Beach.

Wm. Britton and wife of Adrian and W. P. Rainey and wife of Holloway spent Monday at E. A. Bachman's.

The Misses Minnie Abersold, Gertrude Tilton and Anna McKendry were here Sunday from Tecumseh en route to Detroit.

Loree Nevison and family were here the latter part of the week from Detroit, visiting at Millard Cheever's and C. B. Exelby's.

Hallowe'en was a time of fun for the youngsters. The streets the next morning looked as if an auction was about to take place.

Miss Mary Gregg came home Sunday from Detroit for a few days' visit with her parents.

Margaret Gripton and Dorothy and Alice Kanouse have the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bachman and Ralph spent Sunday at Wampler's lake.

Miss Mildred Linton is home from Lansing while the schools are closed.

C. D. Zeluff and family and Miss Mattie Rappleye were in Toledo Friday.

Miss Mabel Linton returned Monday to her school work at North Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Quick and Arvilla spent Sunday with relatives in Jackson.

Mrs. James Hindes visited the latter part of the week with her daughter at Rea.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Watkins of Marion, Mich., is spending a few days with relatives.

Mrs. L. Brown and Lawrence spent Sunday with Mrs. Mary Jolley in Tecumseh.

Miss Lillian Gorham visited from Sunday until Tuesday with her aunt near Adrian.

Mrs. Libbie Palmer, Mrs. Leo Robison, and Miss Bernice Underwood are on the sick list.

Jas. Winsley of Pierceton, Ind., spent Saturday and Sunday with his mother, Mrs. J. R. Winsley.

C. L. Brown, wife and Howard and Lawrence Zeluff spent Sunday at Frank Derby's, near Tiptno.

Don Brown is home from the Great Lakes Naval station, enjoying a visit with his parents.

Chas. Lowe and C. DeLisle and their wives will soon leave for Eustis, Fla., to spend the winter with the former's father, Conrad Lowe.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bachman came Saturday from Dundee. Bert was taken ill with the "flu" and will remain for a few days with his parents.

Mrs. J. B. King and children, Roy and Mabel of Adrian, spent Sunday at Norman King's. Miss Mabel left that evening to resume her work in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Yates and Grover Yates were here Thursday from Detroit to attend the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Eugene Berry, held that day in Tecumseh.

Miss Doris Pilbeam entertained a dozen friends at a Hallowe'en party Thursday evening. A jolly good time was enjoyed. Appropriate refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. C. DeLisle of Detroi, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Marks and Mrs. Edna Flowers of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith of Adrian and Mrs. Sladdin of Clayton were here Sunday to attend the funeral of Miss Grace Hindes.

A company of friends passed a pleasant evening Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E H. Oliver, honoring Ralph Oliver, who returned the next day to the Great Lakes training station. All enjoyed a good time. Refreshments were served.

Help The Fuel Administration!

The fuel administration is doing all it can to keep you warm next winter. But it needs your co-operation. If everyone does his share there will be no coal shortage—and there will be no discomfort. To get the most out of all coal used, every house should be properly equipped.

The Director of conservation of the fuel administration says:

"The National Fuel Administration realize that a large amount of coal can be saved by the installation of storm doors and storm windows," and advocates such installation as a patriotic duty.

STORM DOORS and WINDOWS

cut down coal bills from one-third to one-half—a saving that pays for their cost in one or two seasons.

But still more important, they increase the comfort of your house by eliminating cold floor drafts, by making it possible to keep the home warm during the severest weather, and by permitting perfect ventilation.

DO NOT DELAY! Place your order before the rush. Phone 57 and we will call, take measurements and tell you what the cost will be.

We also have a complete line of building material—and if you want to see some nice lump coal just drop down to the yard and look over our stock

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Frederick C. Hanna to Geo. C. Hawkes.

France, Oct. 11, 1918.

Dear George:—

Received your letter some time ago and was as usual glad to hear from you. I started to answer it a couple of times, but was interrupted, and then I was called to go up and make another one of our trips, which have been very successful for me so far, and now as I have a couple of days to rest up in, I sure won't miss writing you.

Well, George, we sure had a fine trip this last time, and the weather was fine, only it is a little cold to sleep outside. But I didn't mind it as much as some of the boys. I believe I could sleep in an ice box now. We stopped in a city over night on our return to have a little fun, and hadn't been there over an hour when the German airplanes made us a visit and, believe me, there was some excitement for a few minutes. There are no lights at all in the cities near the front, and it was a circus to hear the people making for the dugouts. We got out in an open space and saw the whole show. An old French lady asked us if we weren't afraid, and, of course, we told her no, and she said the Americans had no fear for anything. But, to be honest with you, we stayed there because we didn't know where the dugouts were located. One would naturally think the earth is turning over when the bombs explode.

Well, George, there is so much of interest over here that it is impossible for me to tell you one-half, but will endeavor to tell you a few things to be seen here. When in the States one's curiosity is aroused at what he hears and reads of this great little nation called France, which has made and is making such a remarkable showing against the armed trained hordes of Prussia and one thinks what wonderful people they must be. But one has to come over to fully appreciate what great people they are and what wonders their valient army has done and what sacrifices those at home have made for victory, which, though slow in coming surely can be seen drawing closer every day. Their soldiers can fight just as hard in defeat as in victory—always the same confidence. The people at home are always cheerful and have a smile to wear for everything. Surely such people cannot be defeated, and I guess if they always have the Yanks with them they won't have to worry. How about it? As for sight seeing, one can see some wonderful work of architecture—great stone castles, high watch towers which were used for observations, underground passages from one part of their castle to another, all surrounded by great stone walls and large trees, which make it a beautiful place. Cathedrals, hundreds of years old, with the most wonderful interiors one ever saw, great military establishments built by Napoleon the great, that mighty warrior who almost conquered the European world. Statues and various kinds of art built by the world's most famous artists. These are a few of the thousands of things to be seen over here. The natural scenery is very good—hills, valleys and plains, dotted by thousands of villages and crossed by myriads of little streams which are called rivers, but which we would call creeks, whose water is as clear as a crystal and as cold as ice water. The hills are in most cases covered with evergreens and are certainly beautiful. Farming is not done on such a large scale as in the States, and the crops in most cases are harvested in the old fashioned way. Lots of hops and grapes are grown in this section, also wheat, oats and a great many vegetables. A whole lot of things which in the States are necessities are considered a luxury over here. Hot and cold water is only to be found in the homes of the wealthy in the larger cities. All the laundering is done by hand, not even a wash board is used. So you see the housewife don't have it as soft as those in America. The old lady that does my washing takes a wheelbarow and goes to the creek. You can see her there for a good many hours at a time. I always have my washing done when I am here, for that is one of the jobs the old boy sure hates, but have had to do it many a time.

Well, George, I haven't been able to run across Milburn lately. My work is with a couple of divisions quite a distance from where he is located. Would sure be glad to have a visit with him. I am feeling fine and dandy lately and hope you and the boys at home are the same. How did the Tecumseh league turn out? The bugle has blown for quarters, so I will close for this time, wishing you and the boys the very best of health and good luck. As ever,

Your old friend,

"Nifty."

Pvt. Frederick C. Hanna, Advance Ord. Depot No. 1, A. P. O. 712, American E. F., France.

From Corp. Leon H. Fagan to His Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fagan.

Dear Mother and Father:—

Just a few lines to let you know that I am feeling fine and hope this finds all of you in the best of health. I have not had any mail from you, Mother, in over three weeks, but I expect there is some waiting for me at the company. I have not been with the company for about two weeks, but expect to join them again in two or three days. I am now in a very beautiful and old historical French village. It is situated on the top of a very high hill, you would almost call it a mountain. We are about 3,500 feet above sea level. By walking out to the edge of the town one can look down across the valley far below and for miles and miles you can see some of the most beautiful scenery I have ever seen.

Well, Mother, how is everything in old Tecumseh? I suppose just about as exciting as ever. Have any more of the fellows been called to Custer? Has Earl left for over seas yet, or is he still training at Custer?

Things are beginning to look pretty good over here, I'll tell you. We have sure got those Huns on the run now and if the Kaiser don't sign for peace pretty quick we are going right into Berlin and wipe Germany right off the map. But, to tell the truth, I believe the Kaiser will sign for peace before very long. I hope so, anyway, because every one over here is anxious to get back to good old U. S. A. The U. S. never looked as good to me in my life as it does now, and I think most of the fellows are of the same mind.

The people over here are so much different than the people at home. This is the way the women do their washings: They take their clothes down to the river (I don't think they know what a wash board or washing machine looks like) and they lay them on a board, take a scrub brush and soap, scrub them a while and then they pound them with a board. It takes them the most of a day to do a small washing. How would you like to have to do a washing that way? Well, that is the way they do everything accordingly. Oh, I'll have lots of funny things to tell you when I get back.

Has Father and Vern been fishing any lately? It ought to be about time for those nice big blue gills to be biting good up at the lakes.

Well, as it is supper time, I will have to close for this time. I hope this letter finds every one in the best of health. Give everybody my best and write often. From your loving son,

Leon.

Corp. Leon H. Fagan, Co. B, 328 M. G. Bn., American E. F., France.

From Howard J. Hand to Mrs. Mrs. Alva J. Waring.

Dear Aunt Fanny and All:—

France, Sept. 17, 1918.

I guess I owe you a letter so will start one now, but not finish before the rations come in, for it will be go to work issuing them out then, so I'll just simply start this now.

We are back for a few days' rest now after a couple of months of "hard at 'em" stuff, and believe me it seems good to get away from the noise and get a real night's sleep. We were at it so long that we got quite used to it, only when a big one would break within a few yards of our bed, wherever that was, on the ground, in a woods, in a trench, under wagon, dug out, cave, standing up or wherever it be, it naturally would awake one. So a real good night's sleep we have not had for some time until we landed here a few nights ago. Believe me it seems like being in a dream land.

I like it here just as much as ever, enjoy all the moves we make whether it be by train, truck, wagon or otherwise, if I can only get where I can look out I am perfectly satisfied. We enjoyed some beautiful sights when coming through the big place for the second time and to see their huge and magnificent double deck passenger trains, and double deck street cars, and they are fixed right up in A 1 style—first, second and third class compartments to fit all.

Another beautiful scene was passing over a huge bridge in length and height, and to look down upon the compartment houses, etc. Gee, but it was the most beautiful sight I ever saw. And talk about giving us a welcome in their city, hand waving, throwing kisses, yelling, etc., we certainly got our share of it. Then, too, we could see the historic Eiffel tower, which to them is the same as our Statue of Liberty in New York harbor is to us. I'll never forget the first and last time I saw all that lighted up and I don't imagine it will be very long before we set our glims on that great statue once more, as it is looking pretty favorable at present. Still the old boy is apt to hold out for some time to come yet, but let us all hope and pray he will not for the good of one and all.

The great hills of France are so beautiful. I have a few views of them, but of course can not send them, so when I come to Tecumseh after returning home I'll have some to show you. They are so much different, buildings and all, from what you are used to seeing.

It's getting too dark to write more so I'll have to say good-night and finish tomorrow in spare time. So "happy dreams" to all.

September 18.—Here I am once more. Am writing by candle light as it is the first time I've had today to finish this. It has been a nasty, rainy day and what little I can parlee French, they tell me it is their rainy season, and the winter is a few days cold and snow, then a few days rain and

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Joe Kratzer was in Jackson Tuesday.

Wm. Cubitt, who has been very ill with pneumonia, is on the gain.

Harry Feight went to Leipsic, Ohio, Tuesday to accept a position.

John Kratzer of Jackson visited his brother, Joe, and wife over Sunday.

Chas. H. Williamson has been in Cleveland this week on a business trip.

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of East Chicago street Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mills started Tuesday evening for Daytona, Fla., to enjoy the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Topps returned Sunday from Adrian, where Mr. Topps has been sick for two weeks.

Word came into town Monday that James Cadmus of Macon was seriously ill with hemorrhages of the stomach.

Chas. Peotter, who was so critically ill with pneumonia, was on the street Saturday for the first time since he was taken ill.

If the ban is removed before November 14 there will be the regular meeting of the Eastern Star on that evening with initiation and supper.

Miss Genevieve Halladay went to Lansing Tuesday to resume her work at the state auditor's office. She has been sick at her home here for four weeks.

A small blaze was discovered at F. D. Avery's grocery store in the basement Tuesday afternoon and one pail of water extinquished it. The metal slide at the bottom of the chimney near the ground, which is to be taken out to clean the chimney, had rusted through and sparks falling through had ignited a supply cupboard standing just in front. It was discovered before any damage of value was done, but had it been at night or Sunday a serious loss would have resulted.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Slayton joih the exodus for the south this week. Today they leave for Rock Ledge, Fla., where Mr. Slayton will keep busy inspecting oranges. They were there for the winter fifteen years ago and that taste for the delightful fruit still lingers —for to inspect the fruit Mr. Slayton would have to eat one ocasionaly. Now, woudn't he? They wish, through these columns, to bid their many friends "Goodbye," and want to read in The Herald the best kind of things about the Old Town this winter.

Frank G. Lewis has had a very flattering offer to go to Riverside, Cal., to manage a fruit farm, so he and Mrs. Lewis will leave Tecumseh about the 10th of December. He has conducted a celery farm business very successfully here for several years and we are not pleased at this new move. He and the wife have made many staunch friends here and they join The Herald in wishing them all success in the new field.

The boxes to be used in sending the parcels to the men overseas may be had at any time in exchange for th official address coupon at St. Peter's rectory. Mrs. R. K. Anderson and Mrs. Perry C. Satterthwaite have been appointed the official inspectors for the Red Cross and will receive the boxes at St. Peter's parish house on the afternoons of Saturday, November 9th and Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, November 12, 13, 14 and 15, from 2 to 5 o'clock.

B. F. Snyder, in writing to have his address changed from Hillsdale to Detroit, says: "The Herald is chock full of meat, but you are proclaiming too many deaths by far. That old grave yard will have to be enlarged if you keep it up at that rate. Bad time to die now, in the face of all the good things we expect to see after this war. Better cheer up!" Thanks, we are cheering up, and we trust we will not be called upon to again report such a large number of deaths in such a short time. But the epidemic seemed to take hold hard on some of our people and laid them low. The outlook now is brighter, the sick are recovering and everything will soon be as it was before, although some familiar faces will be sadly missed in the community.

BLANKETS

Just a word about the blanket situation. We do not wish to be alarmists, but we do strongly advise the buying public to lay in your supply of blankets NOW.

The Blanket situation is really serious. Mills are only able to deliver a small portion of their orders owing to the heavy demands made on them by the government.

We were called upon to furnish 197 pairs of BLANKETS for the RED CROSS, which we gladly did. Had we not prepared nearly a year ago we could not have done so.

Our stock today is complete. We are still able to give the same assortment of styles AND AT THE SAME PRICE OF EARLY IN THE SEASON.

But we do not know how long this condition will exist. As more men are called to camp, more blankets will be needed. Should we be called upon again to furnish more blankets it will mean much higher prices later on in the season for those who do not anticipate their wants now.

HOW MICHIGAN LOOKS AFTER HER SONS IN THE NATION'S SERVICE

MICHIGAN
MICHIGAN
SOLDIERS & SAILORS
HEADQUARTERS

MICHIGAN BUREAU OF MILITARY RELIEF, 36 W. 40th St., NEW YORK

The solicitude shown by the state of Michigan for the welfare of her men in the nation's service is a matter of common knowledge and comment in all circles having to do with war activities. The state is living up to this enviable reputation by its latest enterprise in the interests of Michigan men in service—the Michigan Bureau of Military Relief recently established in New York City.

This bureau, which is maintained on an adequate scale by the Michigan War Preparedness Board, is the first enterprise of the kind undertaken officially by any of the states. Its general purpose is to render aid and comfort to all Michigan soldiers and sailors, particularly sick and wounded returning from overseas, and to furnish information to their relatives and friends. In the state's plan there is no intention to duplicate or supplant any of the work that is now being handled so efficiently by the Red Cross or by the government itself, but only to supplement such work by performing services that would not regularly be performed by any other agency.

The Bureau will endeavor to ascertain promptly the arrival of disabled Michigan men and to visit them personally, cheering them with a greeting from one of their own "home folks," and performing such incidental services for them as the circumstances may suggest. The Bureau also will look up and report upon men in hospitals, in response to inquiries from friends in Michigan. In this work the Bureau has the co-operation of the military and naval authorities in and about New York, as well as of the Red Cross and other organizations.

Relatives and friends of men in service are advised not to attempt to visit them while at hospitals without first ascertaining just where they are, how long they will be there, and whether such visits are practicable. There are more than half a hundred hospitals in and around New York, and in many cases disabled men are received at these hospitals only temporarily, being removed elsewhere within a day or two of their arrival. Such removal might easily take place before friends could reach New York, thus causing needless trouble, expense and disappointment. By inquiring through the Bureau, friends can ascertain where disabled men are and whether they may be visited.

In addition to its work in connection with the sick and wounded, the Bureau aims to minister to the comfort and convenience of all Michigan men in service while they are stationed in and about New York. To this end the Bureau has established attractive and commodious headquarters, on the ground floor, which serves as a club and rest room for Michigan soldiers and sailors. Through the effective co-operation of two Michigan societies, the Michigan Society of New York and the Michigan Women in New York, the headquarters has been furnished and equipped in comfortable and homelike manner and one or more members of these societies are always in charge to extend hospitality to visitors. Newspapers from all parts of the state are received and kept on file, writing materials provided, light refreshments served, and telephones and other conveniences placed at the disposal of visitors.

This feature of the Bureau's work is making a great hit with the Michigan boys in service, and afternoons and evenings, especially Saturday and Sunday, the headquarters club room is filled with soldiers and sailors who warmly appreciate the hospitality and the chance to get home news and a real Michigan greeting.

Governor Sleeper and Col. R. C. Vandercook, secretary of the War Preparedness Board, have taken an active interest in this new enterprise, and both of them spent some time in New York while the preliminaries were being worked out. The plan is to operate the Bureau under the direction of competent Michigan men of affairs who will serve successively without compensation. Each will remain as long as his affairs will permit, when he will be relieved by another. The first director is Stuart H. Perry of Adrian.

Relatives and friends of Michigan men in service are invited to make inquiries through this Bureau, and all communications will receive prompt attention. In making inquiries the name and number of the man's military or naval unit should always be given. Without this it often is absolutely impossible to obtain the desired information.

Do not address communications to individuals connected with the Bureau. Address all letters thus: "Michigan Bureau of Military Relief, 36 West Fortieth Street, New York City."

OCTOBER 22, 1918.

TO THE PATRONS OF THE BANKS OF LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN:—

A letter from the State Banking Department to the State Banks in this county has lately been received and also one from the District National Bank Examiner to the National Banks, calling attention to the practice that has prevailed in this locality, of permitting checks to be drawn against Savings Accounts and paid without presentation of the pass book. The following is an extract from the letter received from the State Baking Commissioner:

STATE BANKING DEPARTMENT

Lansing, Mich., October 9, 1918.

Gentlemen:—

"It has come to our knowledge that the practice of permitting checking on savings accounts is more or less prevalent in certain sections of the State. This department cannot do otherwise than direct particular attention at this time to the law with reference to deposits made in the savings departments of state banks:

"A pass book shall be issued to each depositor in the savings department, containing the rules and regulations adopted by the board of directors governing such deposits, in which book shall be entered each deposit made by, and each payment made to, such depositor, and no payment or check against any such savings account shall be made unless accompanied by and entered in the pass-book issued therefor."

In view of this provision of the law, the Department will expect that from and after November 1 next no further contracts of deposits will be entered into between state banks and customers, granting to the latter the right and privilege of issuing checks against savings deposits evidenced by pass-books, and that customers be given notice that after December 1 next checks will not be paid on such savings accounts.

This letter should be read to and considered by your board of directors, and such action as is necessary taken to place your bank in compliance therewith.

Yours truly,
(Signed) F. W. MERRICK,
Commissioner of the Banking Department.

With reference to the matter mentioned in the above letter, from the State Banking Commissioner, the National Banks have received the following instructions from the District National Bank Examiner:

> "The practice of permitting checking on savings has always been discouraged by the office of the Comptroller of Currency and is regarded as entirely improper and should not be countenanced by any National Bank."

In compliance with the foregoing letters the Banks of Lenawee County will, after December 1, 1918, require the presentation of all savings pass books, when money is withdrawn therefrom.

You can readily open and maintain a checking account in the Commercial Department of the bank you are now doing business with and keep a sufficient balance therein to check against and any surplus funds can be left in the savings department in order to receive interest that is allowed in that department.

The advantages of a checking account in the Commercial Department are numerous and include the monthly statement rendered to each customer and the return of all paid checks.

In pursuance of the instructions from the State Banking Department and the District National Bank Examiner it is essential that you call at the earliest possible opportunity, at your bank, and have your account arranged, to comply with these regulations, in order that any check that you may issue can be paid on or after December 1, 1918.

Nothing in this arrangement will prevent depositors from withdrawing funds from their Savings Account whenever they may desire. It changes existing practice only in requiring that the pass book be presented when funds are so withdrawn.

Asking your co-operation in this matter, we are,

Very truly yours,

CAMPAIGN AGAINST FEAR IS ADVOCATED

Course in Basic Ideas of Christian Science Urged at Des Moines Meeting of Committee Connected with Alleged Epidemic

(Special to The Christian Science Monitor from its Western Bureau)

A course in common sense and the basic ideas of Christian Science, and an editorial policy for newspapers directed against fear, was urged at a meeting here recently of a committee of business and professional men which have virtually been in charge of the city during the so-called Spanish influenza epidemic. Dr. W. C. Witte, city sanitarian, is chairman of the committee. The membershp includes James R. Hanna, former mayor; Z. C. Thornburg, superintendent of schools; C. L. Herring, of the Greater Des Moines Committee; Marshall Miller, president of the Trades and Labor Assembly; Ralph Faxon, secetary of the Chamber of Commerce; Charles Severude, druggist; and Drs. Granville Ryan, R. L. Parker and Thos. F. Duhigg.

The city has been under rigid quarantine for a minimum period of two weeks, all schools, colleges, churches, theaters and closed to prevent further spread of the alleged epidemic.

The fact that soldiers and officers at Camp Dodge who are Christian Scientists have not been affected by the epidemic, was called to the committee's attention at the meeting by Mr. Miller.

"There is no question," said Dr. Witte, "that by a right attitude of mind these people have kept themselves from illness. I have no doubt that many persons have contracted the disease through fear.

"People can deceive themselves into thinking they have any disease on the calendar, and doubtless many of them have thought themselves into their graves."

A recommendation that newspapers prepare editorials citing the immunity which Christian Scientists enjoy from influenza, and urging the use of common sense and calm attitude of mind in conquering fear of infection, was made by H. W. Byers, corporation counsel for the city. The recommendation was indorsed by the committee as a whole, and newspapers were asked to quote the committee to that effect.

"Entirely too much publicity has been given to supposed symptoms of the so-called Spanish influenza," was Mr. Byers' further comment, "and I would recommend that if anything be printed in regard to the disease it be confined to simple preventive measures — something constructive, rather than destructive."

"Fear is the thing to overcome, the first step in conquering this epidemic," said Dr. Witte. "I am not a Christian Scientist, but I believe an application of their principles will materially aid in preserving the health of this community. They did not originate with the Scientists, but are to be found by anyone who will take the trouble to read his Bible.

"In my work in infected communities, I have always found Scientists the first to respond to the slightest suggestion of unsanitary conditions, and the first to comply with fundamental health measures."— Christian Science Monitor.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Corp. Ernest Church to His Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Church

Bue, France.

Dear Father:

I was surely glad to get your most welcome letter today. It did me a lot of good to hear from you, and so I am sitting right down to answer it right away. It was just two months ago today that you wrote it and here I am just getting it. Our mail is held up sometimes for quite a while, from what I hear, because the French railroads are inadequate to handle supplies and the enormous amount of mail that the soldiers receive. When they are carrying up supplies to the front in preparation for a big drive, they carry nothing else but supplies and so, of course, no mail comes until the supplies are moved, but you readily see that supplies are more important by far than mail.

Every once in a while we get our mail in large quantities and today I got five letters and one postcard. Some of the letters were even forwarded from Camp Custer, which of course was pretty old mail, but, nevertheless, I was glad to get them, they were all new to me and I had a good old time reading them. It's a great joy to get lots of mail, but it's different when it comes to answering them, you know I always did hate to write. I will always write to you and mother, if I don't write one other single letter. We have lots of fun nights which takes up our time a great deal when I should be writing a few letters.

I didn't get a chance while at Camp Mills to go to New York, but I will see it on the way back. We were there only such a short time which made it impossible to get a pass, but I went to Hempstead several times.

Well, I suppose it is lonesome around home without me. I am awfully glad you miss me and I will be glad to get back home, but I am enjoying myself, considering what you get in the army. We all are giving up good homes for what we get, while in the army, but, nevertheless, it's for a good cause which comes first of all.

I am keeping good care of myself and so far I have been in good health, considering the conditions we had on board the transport. It was an English boat with English rations and you know the rest, not much good.

You spoke about coal being hard to get at the plant, what will it be next winter? People over here don't get coal, they have to burn wood 'most all together.

You didn't tell much about the plant so I take from that, it is running about all right. Is Jim Steel still working? Did you find out what was the trouble with the vaccum on the turbine? Are you getting much power from water this summer?

The Germans are getting the worst of it now on all fronts, so I think I will be home by next February all right.

My Dear Mother:

Just received your very dear letter of Aug. 18 and was very glad to hear from you. It surely makes me feel glad to get such good news from home, although it seems funny to read letters of such old dates, such as a month to two months old, but, stopping to think a minute, we are several thousand miles apart now, but we won't always be far apart and I think it won't be long before we will be together again. Thinking the situation over, we are one of millions that are separated. When I see the soldiers over here, and there are a lot of them, I think of them as myself, separated from homes, mothers, wives, friends. There's a great day coming, and we all will be glad when it comes, for there will be rejoicing all over the world.

I hope by this time you have received some of my letters from overseas. I wrote one as soon as we landed in England. We were there only a week, so I wrote only one letter to you.

You speak about it being so hot there. It surely must have been hot if the soft maple trees have shed their leaves so early. We haven't had many warm days,. The first three or four days were quite hot here, but since it has been nice and cool. The first two weeks here the sun shone every day and they say it has been a dry summer for them, but it is a long way from being dry now. After it started to rain once it has rained pretty near every day. I suppose it will rain from now on most of the winter, because the weather here in the winter does not get very cold, but it stays cloudy and damp most of the time. Snow seldom stays any longer than a few days at a time. For me, I would rather have cold dry weather, it would be more healthy.

Well, this morning for breakfast we had potatoes, steak, coffee, bread and jam. That's a pretty good meal, but we don't always have as much as that.

I have been to Sancerre several times. That's a town a little ways from here. I saw Ernest Burdette last Sunday. He's looking fine and we both enjoyed a litte visit. I saw Clyde Bailey a couple of weeks ago and was sure some glad to see him. He's looking fine, too.

My Dear Mother:

Just a few words to let you know I am still thinking of the folks at home and wondering how you all are. I hope, fine and dandy as I am. We are in a nice part of France and the surrounding country is certainly beautiful. The country is very hilly, good high ones, too. The town in which we are stationed is in a valley and no matter which way we may go, we have to climb steep grades.

This is a great country for wine, everybody has their wine, that's what they live on, mostly. They can't make bread here, they have to buy it with bread cards and all it is, is salt and water with bran and flour, it's surely some stuff. They also eat goat's cheese on their bread which smells rank to me, but they relish it. They keep alive and look healthy, but I don't see how they can, on what they eat.

I have been in several towns and villages here and I haven't seen a screen yet. The flies are thicker in stores and houses than they are outdoors. The people don't seem to mind the flies at all but they pretty near run off with us. The people are certainly behind the times over here.

Another thing is they have mostly two-wheeled carts, a four-wheeled wagon is scarce. They never hitch their horses together, but one ahead of the other. Also some of the people wear wooden shoes, something I had never seen before.

Tell father to write me and tell me what is going on at the plant. Do you take many rides in the Chandler? I wish I was there to take a nice long ride tonight.

I suppose school is started by now. How are they coming with the new building? Will they ever get into it this year?

As it takes so long for our mail to travel and it maybe sidetracked somewhere, don't worry if you don't hear from me regularly. Write often.

Your loving son,

Ernest.

France, Oct. 14, 1918.

Dear Mother:—

I suppose right now everybody is happy at home, now that everything looks favorable for peace. I can't hardly tell you in words how we feel, but you can just imagine how we are feeling over here. The French people got news of it first in their papers, which came out earlier than ours, but we could tell by their actions and they would say "Boche finis." We get the New York Herald and the Daily Mail every day, which is published in Paris.

I have been away from this place about a week and a half, attending school, taking up gas defense for the purpose of instructing in gas in my company. Ihad a whole week of lectures and drills on gas defensewarfare. Gasseems to be one of the most important drills in the army. It's either getting your gas mask on quickly or you're a gone goose, because the gas used now is so deadly. We are giving them lots of gas and more, too, than what they are sending over, and I really believe they are more than sorry they ever started the use of gas.

I just got your first letter yesterday telling me that you had heard from me, that is, my first letter from over seas, which I wrote in England. I wrote Mabel one the same time and I just heard from her, telling about my letter from England.

Johnsons, who live near Mabel, sent over two addresses of their relation in Derby, near London, and told me to be sure to go and visit them, but we were quarantined in England for —— weeks before we sailed for France, so I didn't get a chance to go and visit them.

When I got back from school yesterday there were just about a dozen letters waiting for me, and say I had a pleasant evening reading them. One of the letters contained my money belt and I put it on right away. You spoke about it in your letter that it was sent back to you, but I am glad you tried again, because they are useful

My mail contained two letters from you, two from Mabel, one from Ethel M, one from Mrs. Reed, one from Mrs. Aldrich and one from Morris Palman. I certainly was glad to hear from all. Tell them I will answer as soon as I can, but it takes time to write, and another thing, you can't say much anyway, but I appreciate their letters very, very much, especially, Ethel Mathias.'

You asked me about the Gove boys and Glen Fielder. Well, I can't tell you anything about them because they left our company over two months ago and I have never heard from them, but I hope they are safe and sound. Just think of the boys gone from our little town; there's a lot of them all right, and we will certainly have some time when we all get back and I don't think it will be long.

I saw Lieut. R. K. Anderson over at the place where I went to school. I was surprised because I heard he couldn't pass on overseas examination. We had a little chat. He wanted to know if I was hearing from home. I told him yes. He said he wasn't because he was moving all around France so much, he wasn't in one place long enough.

I see Earl Rector quite often. Well, I guess I have seen him six or seven times since I have been in France. I took dinner last Sunday with him. He is in Co. C, stationed in a town near Bue'.

I got a letter from father just now. I was surely glad to hear from him. He wrote a nice long letter. I am glad to hear that the Chandler is in good shape and waiting for me to run. He says he has raised the wages of the men at the plant. That's certainly fine. Did Harry Krabill leave town or is he still around?

We are getting good feed over here, but, of course, nothing like home. We will all be glad to eat back home on plates, but I am afraid I will be liable to break dishes when I get to using them, after using our mess kit for so long.

Well, I think I had better ring off for this time and will try to catch up on my correspondence this week if I possibly can. Don't worry about me because I am getting along fine. Give my best to every one you see. With love,

Ernest.

Somewhere in France,

Dear Folks at home:

You see by this stationery that we are in a British camp. We expect to leave soon. There are lots of soldiers here who have been at the front and can tell stories of much interest to the boys who are headed for Berlin via. various camps and fronts. Then we will probably have to be satisfied to return without getting out of France.

Yesterday I saw a Detroit boy who lived next door to me last year and we had a nice long talk about old times.

We were at Camp Winnall, down near Winchester when we were in England and one day I was over at a Y. M. canteen waiting to buy some "bum" candy. The Y man was talking to a man who was dressed very much as a retired farmer might be, so when he said to four or five of us boys, "Boys, I want you to shake hands with Mr. Baker," we shook Baker's hand to accommodate the Y man. Baker went out and the Y man nearly knocked us down by saying, "Boys, you may write and tell your folks that you have had your picture taken shaking hands with our secretary of war," and sure enough, I remember seeing a man cranking his box just inside the door.

Do you ever hear from C. Drewyour through his folks? Send me his address. You might send Ray S's and David U's, too, if it isn't too much bother to find out what they are. I wonder if you people get all of the letters we start.

The trains of France and England look about half as large as the average D. T. & I. ones and the whistles would make good in a boiler factory.

There is a ratherpeculiar shortage of window panes here in this town and a few buildings piled up Outside of that and the Red Cross trains, the war is miles away. There are quite a few German prisoners here, too, and all of them look as near happy as they ever did, I imagine. They are used good enough and they look human, too.

We can buy things over here in the canteen a great deal cheaper than we could at the army canteen in U. S. But from what I see of the French passenger believe the old D. T. & I. would suit better.

Next time I write I'll be stationed in a permanent company of some descriptinn, I hope.

I sincerely hope you people of U. S. will never see the conditions of war that these French and English do.

Write often as you can and tell "Chuck" to write.

Dear Folks at Home:

Now at Cp. Rochambeau. Just where it is located and what our work is will remain as it is until we get home, then you will probably hear too much about it. I like my work allright though, for the duration of the war.

Oh say! We had a regular feed the other night. Two of us fellows went out to a farm-house to see if we could get a feed and, after a series of motions and a few mighty poor attempts at French, we bought one dozen eggs and one quart of goat's milk. (I don't think I ever had any appetite for milk, anyhow. If I did it was so long ago that I could not recall it the other night. Just between you and me, we would have been better satisfied with about a gallon less milk than we had.) We got the eggs and milk for the small sum of five francs ($1.00) each (not each egg, but each rookie, two of us. Then we decided we had enough of that farmer so took our eggs (in our caps) and milk (in our canteens) and made our get-away. From there we went to another farmhouse and found a man who could speak a little English and understand it fairly well. So he had his wife fry the eggs along with some French fried spuds and bread and butter. Didn't I mention the milk?

They have these French roads well drained.

Say, if the Germans keep going back as fast as they started, we will be home for Christmas, either this year or next.

We are in the up town Y. M. C. A. now and, believe me, it is a fine old building. The winding stairs, palms and everything else is here (nearly.

Just ten of the original five hundred are here, but the camp is full of good fellows. So long.

Lots of love,

Barlow.

Well, here I am among my own people and in my own army after fourteen months with the British. From Calias I went to Paris and from there here. It has taken me five days to get here as I had to stop at two places to get "further orders."

I got here late last night and tonight I must get settled. I am in a room with a doctor from Austin, Texas. I am to do nothing but surgical work here in this base hospital No.. 66.

I understand the mail service is very poor here so address my mail in care of the Loan & Trust Co., Paris.

SWIFT & COMPANY U.S.A.

No Mystery in Meat

Some things are so simple that they have to be explained again and again. When things are obvious, people keep looking for mysteries behind them.

So it is with the packing business. The mere size of Swift & Company confuses many. Because their imaginations are not geared up to scale, they believe there must be magic in it somewhere—some weird power.

Swift & Company is just like any other manufacturing business run by human beings like yourself; it takes in raw material on the one hand and turns out a finished product on the other.

Swift & Company keeps down the "spread," or the expense absorbed between raw and finished material, to as low a figure as possible. (If it didn't it would be put out of business by others who do.)

How much Swift & Company pays for the raw material, and how much it gets for the finished product, depends upon conditions which Swift & Company does not control.

It depends entirely upon how much people want the finished product, and how much raw material there is available to make it from.

The profits of Swift & Company amount to less than one cent per pound on all meats and by-products—less than one-fourth of a cent on beef.

Standers, Walkers, "Gets-It" for Corns

World Has Never Known Its Equal.

Corn-Pain Is Eased—the Corn Is Doomed!

on earth peel right off like a banana skin—and that's magic "Gets-It." Tight shoes and dancing even when you have a corn need not disturb you if you apply a few drops of "Gets-It" on the corn or callus. You want a corn-peeler, not a corn-fooler. You don't have to fool with corns—you peel them right off with your fingers by using "Gets-It." Cutting makes corns grow and bleed. Why use irritating salves or make a bundle of your toe with tape or bandages? Why putter and still have the corn? Use "Gets-It" —your corn-pain is over, the corn is a "goner" sure as the sun rises.

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

warmer weather, so if that is the case it won't be so bad but we have dreaded the thoughts of putting in the winter here. It seems so funny to be writing by candle light, as for the last two months we wouldn't even dare smoke nights on account of the Boche planes dropping one of their air bombs, which are dreaded more than artillery, shrapnel, etc. But for every one Fritzy drops he gets ten or more in return, and how he can stand up under the strain, every thing put together, is more than we can understand.

I went fishing Saturday and Monday morning in the canal and the river Marne, and, although I did not get any, I thought of old Devil's lake. "Hubbie," Pritch, Dave Macham, Jack Hoy, Fred Aldrich and all the old Tecumseh fishing bunch that used to make old Devil's lake a visit occasionally.

A meat cart just went by with two dogs as horses. They sure have some queer outfits in this country and they all appeal to us, as we are here to take in all the sights we are able to before returning home. It is quite chilly this morning after the rain. I wish you could see the dahlias they have here. Why, we call our dahlias pretty at home, but we don't know what they really are beside them in shape, size and color. Then there is one variety with pointed petals and talk about beautiful! Above all I want to get a few toes this fall and send to mother, as she just loves flowers.

I suppose old Tecumseh is the same old town, but lots of new people since we lived there.

Well, Aunt Fannie, I guess I will close now, as this is quite a letter for me. Wishing you all the best of luck and happiness in the world, I will say good-bye.

Somewhere in Russia,
September 18, 1918.

Dear Brother:—

Just a few lines before a man leaves for a sea port to let you know that I am alive and feeling fair. Have been very sick, but coming along fine now.

We have buried a bunch of the boys out of the 339th. The climate just didn't agree with us. Very cold.

You won't get any more mail for some time, as we will be frozen in for the winter. Expect to come home July 4th, so wishing you a Merry Christmas, and what a God-send it will be when we see the good old U. S. A.

We don't get much sleep here as the guns keep whizzing during the night. Wish I could write you in detail, but can't until we come back. Must say good-bye and don't worry about me.

Carl Coller,

From Pvt. Chas. Swick to His Father, Wm. C. Swick.

Clearmount Fasnand, Oct. 4, 1918

Dear Father:—

I am well and hope you all are same. Am keeping busy and having a good time. Will go up town tomorrow night. Got a letter from Garland Gove yesterday. He is fine. I hope I can get to see him. I don't exactly know where he is located, but I can find out Sunday. He is at A. P. O. 721 and I heard it is about a hundred miles from where I am, and if it is that far I will not see him, for I can't get away for some time.

It's time to go to work.

So long.

(Mr. Swick left Tecumseh last April, enlisting in Kentucky.)

H. E. Wilson was in Columbus, Ohio, Tuesday on business.

A great deal of carelessness was shown by the business men and others, anyhow, to leave things about for, of course, the hob-goblins enjoy toting little things like grain drills, Republic trucks, sign boards, the ice cream wagon, garbage cans, sidewalks and the old village hack, and they ought not to have been left laying around. Marshall Mominee Friday morning quietly suggested to a couple of young men whose length is so easily distinguishable in the night that these things better be taken away from Chicago street and then the second celebration began. The hard end came tho' when they could only round up some half dozen of their force where about twnty had helped in the night and the things were mighty heavy. But really, it was mean to place that signboard telling the public "No services. Closed by order of the board of health" in front of Brown & Co's. They may have in a new supply of fertilizer but the skunk skin season is not yet.

Kenneth Lowry and Hans Christianson were among the Camp Custer boys given a 24-hour leave to come home to vote. The quarantine at the camp is not lifted, but several thousand were allowed that privilege.

Rev. J. G. Widdifield started out Wednesday on a lecture tour for the United War Work campaign. He spoke that day at Adrian college, then went to Saginaw and for a week will lecture in the thirteen counties in the northern part of the state.

Leon Williamson was in Alma last week, bringing home for the Big Chief garage ten new Republic trucks. This concern has the agency of this truck for Hillsdale, Monroe and Lenawee counties and has certainly done a splendid business, making 79 sales since January 1st.

To show how liberal Tecumseh people are remembering the boxes put out to receive pits and nuts, F. D. Avery and Will Westcott shipped to Detroit three barrels, two bags and one box, all filled with the material for the gas masks and the other grocers report about the same response from the people.

Mrs F. M. Mulvaney is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Bryan, at Midland. Mr. Bryan, who at the outbreak of the war was principal of the schools at the "Soo" gave up his splendid position to become connected with the big chemical works at Midland where the most poisonous gas is manufactured for Uncle Sam.

Tecumseh's first war baby arrived Thursday, when a fine little boy, Percy, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Boyd. Mrs. Boyd and the young man are with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy. Mr. Boyd has been in training in South Carolina until a few weeks ago, when he went overseas with the 117th Field Artillery.

Miss Helen Miller, the 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, living on the Silvers farm, four miles north of town, died Saturday evening of pneumonia, following influenza. The funeral was held Tuesday, Rev. C. H. Brewer, of Willis, officiating. Several of the family are victims of the epidemic, one brother being seriously ill.

A basket of fine apples, choice fruit with the real Michigan flavor, was brought to this office one day last week by J. G. Hanford, who has been sorting and packing the fruit at the orchards of Ray Boyce. Northern Spies, Baldwins, Greenings and Ben Davis were the varieties and all perfect fruit. Mr. Hanford tells us that 1083 barrels of this fruit was secured from one orchard, 1,000 bushels and 800 bushels from two others.

Born, Sunday, Oct. 26th, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Everett Cilley.

Mrs. J. A. Collins, who has been seriously ill, is some better.

Irying Clark is in Pittsburg, Pa., on business disposing of his enormous crop of onions.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Codling return to Bloomington, Ill., today after an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. U. Smith.

A fine son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pulver Wednesday noon. Mrs. Springer, of Lansing is with her daughter and the new baby.

Regular business meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church next Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Waldron.

Tecumseh had a double celebration of Hallowe'en this year, at least the boys found a lot more fun in the first than in the second.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kehoe were passengers for Lansing Wednesday. They have sold their farm, northeast of town, and were farm, northeast of town, and were looking for a new location.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet at 2 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 14, at the church parlors, if the closing order has been rescinded. A picnic supper will follow the business session. All are asked to bring their picture postcards to be pasted together for mision work.

Gov. Sleeper Lifts Ban on Theatres

"BERLIN VIA AMERICA," WAR PRODUCTION

The First Big Attraction at the BRADLEY.

After several weeks of closed theatres in Michigan owing to the severe epidemic of influenza which covered the state, and by the way the first time all theatres in the state have ever been ordered closed, Gov. Sleeper has lifted the ban and theatres are again allowed to run as usual, all danger being been considered past. One of the first attractions to be offered at the Bradley opera house, Tecumseh, is the big war production, "Berlin via America" which will be presented for two nights, Sunday and Monday, November 10-11.

In these days of peace talk it does one good to see a production like "Berlin via America"—with the eyes of the world centered upon the great events which are transpiring across the water—the stories that come back about our boys "going over the top" and the unflinching heroism with which each one is doing his bit—the events that are vividly shown in "Berlin via America" hit close to the heart, for who among us has not sent a son, a husband, a sweetheart or a brother on into the great adventure with a smile and a hidden tear.

"Berlin via America" is the story of an American boy—one just like your own—who even at the sacrifice of his own good name, works for the cause which is dear to him.

Spurred on by their cry of "Berlin or Bust," the Sammies go over the top with a vengeance. From the first day in camp until they march down "Unter der Linden" this watch word will carry the boys on. How it instilled them in their dash upon the Hun field headquarters is vividly told in this thrilling production of the battle for democracy.

"Berlin via America" is one of the really worth while productions of the present world war and one that you will not want to miss.

OUR CHURCH ACTIVITIES

Baptist Church

W. B. Hartzog, Ph. D., minister.

Watch the papers If the governor lifts the ban, there will be services at 10 a. m. and Sunday-school at 11:15.

Methodist Episcopal

Rev. C. M. Thompson, minister.

The strong probabilities are that the 10 o'clock public worship, the Sunday school and Epworth League meeting will be resumed next Sunday, November 10th. Watch the papers to see whether the governor of the state lifts the ban and permits the reopening of public places. If public gatherings are permitted next Sunday the churches will surely be opened at the usual hours.

Let us have a splendid rally for all our services.

The evening community service will be announced for a later date.

OBITUARY

JOHN B. SMITH, Sr.

John B. Smith was born in the town of Romulus, Seneca county, N. Y., Feb. 12th, 1828. He came to Michigan in 1852, and settled in Morenci when it was a wilderness, its only roads being blazed trails through the woods. In that same year he married Julia A. Drake, daughter of Jedidiah and Maria Drake of Morenci. In 1856 he moved to Tecumseh where he has lived ever since, or in the vicinity.

At the time of the Civil War he enlisted in Co. B, 4th Regiment, Michigan Volunteer Infantry. Since that time he has been a rheumatic cripple. His wife died twenty-five years ago.

He leaves three children, Deputy Sheriff John B. Smith Jr., and Helen M. Sheridan, of Tecumseh, and Harley B. Smith, of McKinley, Michigan, eleven grandchildren, ten great-grandchidren and three brothers in New York, all Civil War veterans. He had six brothers in the Civil War.

His father, Andrew Smith, of Romulus, N. Y., was a captain in the War of 1812, his grandfather, also of Romulus, was a captain in the War of the Revolution. On his tombstone, still standing, is the following: "Andrew Smith died aged one hundred and two years. Captain in War of the Revolution."

He has now serving in France two grandsons, Roy Smith and John Smith 3rd (Jack).

He was a member of Beers Post, Grand Army of the Republic.

The funeral was conducted by Beers Post, G. A. R., and by Rev. C. M. Thompson, of Tecumseh Methodist church. Burial in G. A. R. lot in Brookside cemetery.

COMMANDER CASKEY IS DEAD IN IRELAND

Commander Gardner Lemmon Caskey, U. S. N., died Sunday at the Garrison Military hospital, Ireland, after a short illness with pneumonia. Commander Caskey was a son of Mrs. A. G. Caskey of Detroit, by whom the cable anoucing his death was received. Commander Caskey was attached to the U. S. S. Oklahoma and had been in the navy since he was 18 years old, graduating from Annapolis. Prior to being assigned to ship he was on duty at Washington. The body will be shipped to this country.

The above is interesting to Tecumseh people through the fact that the deceased is the brother of Mrs. Ralph Bowen, now of Detroit.

ARMISTICE SIGNED HOSTILITIES CEASE

Nation Celebrates Victory of Democracy

KAISER AND CROWN PRINCE RENOUNCE THRONE AND FLEE TO HOLLAND.

Germany Signs Peace Terms at Five O'clock, Hostilities Cease at Eleven Monday Morning—Germany in Grip of Revolution—The Terms.

The world war, as far as fighting is concerned, ended Monday morning at 11 o'clock French time when Marshal Foch ordered hostilities to cease on all the fronts. The armistice was signed at 5 o'clock that morning and a complete victory for the Allies in their great fight for world democracy was assured.

A struggle that raged 1,567 days, that cost millions of lives, a vast amount of wealth and enormous destruction of property has come to an end.

The Hohenzollern rule is ended, the kaiser and crown prince have renounced the throne and fled to Holland, where they will be unwelcome refugees until they meet the fate that awaits them and that they richly deserve falls upon them. There will be no peace for them.

Germany is shorn of her power the country is in the throes of revolution and the people are delivered from an oppressive autocratic military rule.

One of the last dispatches of war activities stated thousands of American heavy guns fired the parting shot to the Germans at exactly 11 o'clock Monday morning.

The Whole World Rejoices.

The news of the ending of the war was flashed by wireless and over wires to every part of the globe and caused great rejoicings, especially in the United States and the countries of the Allies. Big demon[illegible] in all the larger cities we[illegible] and "peace day" was proclaimed a holiday.

Armistice Terms That Ended War

President Wilson, in the hall of the house where 19 months ago he asked for declaration of war, at 1 o'clock Monday he spoke the words to congress that heralded peace. He read the terms of the armistice as follows:

Gentlemen of the congress:

In these anxious times of rapid and stupendous change it will in some degree lighten my sense of responsibility to perform in person the duty of communicating to you some of the larger circumstances of the situation with which it is necessary to deal.

The German authorities, who have at the invitation of the supreme war council been in communication with Marshal Foch, have accepted and signed the terms of armistice, which he was authorized and ordered to communicate to them. Those terms are as follows:

Military Clauses.

One—Military clauses on western front:

One: Cessation of aperations by land and in the air six hours after the signature of the armistice.

Two: Immediate evacuation of invaded countries — Belgium, France, Alsace Lorraine, Luxemburg, so ordered as to be completed within fourteen days from the signature of the armistice. German troops which have not left the above mentioned territory within the period fixed will become prisoners of war.

Occupation by the allied and United States forces jointly will keep pace with evacuation in these areas. All movements of evacuation and occupation will be regarded in accordance with a note annexed to the stated terms.

Three: Repatriation beginning at once and to be completed within 14 days of all inhabitants of the countries above mentioned, including hostages and persons under trial or convicted.

Must Surrender Guns.

Four: Surrender in good condition by the German armies of the following equipment: Five thousand guns (two thousand five hundred five heavy; two thousand five hundred field). thirty thousand machine guns. Three thousand minenwerfer. Two thousand aeroplanes (fighters, bombers—firstly D. Seventy-three's and night bombing machines.) The above to be delivered in situ to the allied and the United States troops in accordance with the details laid down in the annexed note.

Five: Evacuation by the German armies of the countries on the left bank of the Rhine.

These countries on the left bank of the Rhine shall be administered by the local authorities under the control of the allied and United States armies of occupation. The occupation of these territories will be determined by allied and United States garrisons holding the principle crossing of the Rhine, Mayence Coblenz, Colgne, together with bridge heads at these points in thirty kilometre radius on the right bank and by garrisons simularly holding the strategic points of the regions. A neutral zone shall be reserved on the right of the Rhine between the stream and a line drawn parallel to it forty kilometres to the east from the frontier of Holland to the paral-

TECUMSEH CELEBRATES PEACE NEWS

A BIG TIME IN THE OLD TOWN

Kaiser Bill Gets Roughly Treated by Celebrants—Bon Fires and General Joyful Time Indulged In.

Did Tecumseh celebrate the closing of the war? Well, we should remark! First on Thursday noon of last week the report was circulated in town, in fact it came over the wires from all the cities around, that the armistice terms had been signed so the church bells were rung almost without ceasing all the afternoon and at night a big crowd was on the streets with the band out and the effigy of Bill Hohenzollern was burned, but the evening had scarcely begun before the report was denied and as the denial was circulated it rather took the heart out of things. Then too, it began to rain so people called it off for a more favorable evening.

Well, that evening came on Monday. The report came into town in the small hours of Monday morning that peace had been declared, that Kaiser William had abdicated and that the awful war was over. Then again the fire bell and church bells proclaimed the glad news to the sleeping villagers—and they didn't sleep long.

In the forenoon flags appeared on most of the business places and at 1 o'clock the stores closed for the remainder of the day. This last looked foolish to most of the business men as no program had been arranged for the afternoon and all one could do was to go home and rest or help with the fall cleaning

But at 6 30 the fun began Every boy, both little and big, even some grandfathers, managed to secure some form of noise maker (and it was not confined to the sterner sex, by any means) and pandemonium reigned! All the fire works possible was procured, shot guns brought out and revolvers galore. Too frequently the loads were not blanks, but, in spite of that. we have not heard of a single accident

During the day a black coffin, well lettered, and containing Bill's bones (from Clark's market) reposed in state at the foot of the flag staff on the four corners and above was announced the hour of the funeral. 6:30 that evening.

Along about 8 o'clock the funeral procession appeared First came the Eagle band, then an escort of G. A. R. members, carrying muskets on the bayonet of each being a flag and with three immense flags preceding them; next members of the Sons of Veterans Following was the hearse (one of Brown & Co's manure spreaders) and on it reposed the coffin with all we want to see of Scoundrel Bill. Holding the coffin down and acting as undertaker was Del Packard who carried a big placard, "The Beast of Berlin." On the "hearse" were many men and boys carrying torches. Behind walked a delegation of the Marching Club, a mass of school children each waving a flag, and a great parade of citizens.

After a selection by the band (and, by the way, that band is O. K.) Rev. W A. Rex preached the funeral oration which was some novelty in that line. He took for his text, "They shall flee from the mountains of Potsdam," and in his solemn, funereal (?) tones showed his ardent hatred for the "deceased" and the things he stands for. The reverend was dressed for the occasion in a long flowing linen duster which had seen much service evidently and he was cheered loudly throughout his address.

The "remains," composed of a mule's head, body of straw, and complete to the shoes, were hoisted to the public view and set on fire, while the band played and the crowd shouted.

A bonfire in the center of town was kept going nearly all night. Anything that would burn that the crowd could lay hands on was dumped on and a bunch delegated themselves to see that it was kept going. We understand a number of the property owners of our village have since missed small buildings from the rear of their dwellings, but if such was the case, we deem it must have been for the good of the sanitation of the town.

A bountiful chicken dinner was served at midnight in the rooms of the Tecumseh Club in celebration and the event was duly observed in "The biggest little town on earth" One feature of the parade we noticed should have special mention.

Tip Crittenden, of Macon, one of the Old 4th who captured Jeff Davis, was in the crowd of G. A. Rs., many of whom wore unique forms of dress There was H. W. Stevens, of our own city, carrying his old Springfield musket, cartridge box and cap box and wearing a well preserved army cap and canteen of 1861 65, which equipment he had in his three years' service. Then, too, Amenzo VanValkenburg wore a marine hat and carried a mountain howitzer.

RUMOR OF DEATH OF CAPT MILBURN HAWKES.

In Detroit Paper Last Evening—Father Has Received No Such Report — Villagers Hope It Is Untrue.

One of the Detroit papers last night mentioned the death of Capt. Milburn Hawkes, of Co. D, 125th Inft., a Detroit company.

The dispatch said he was killed in the battle of Argonne Forest, in the early part of October None of the other state papers mention it and certainly would as he held this important commission so we are hoping it is untrue. He is the only son of George Hawkes of this place and the villagers have watched his part in the great struggle with interest as he is well known here.

WILLIAM HENRY BECKER

Passes Away Friday Evening—A Victim of Influenza.

Death in its numerous visits in our vicinity recently has taken taken away a number who seemed so vitally needed, but none more than Wm. Henry Becker, who passed away Friday evening. Mr. Becker had been ill but a week with influenza and was getting better so he was around the house, when pneumonia developed and in just a few days he had succumbed.

He was 37 years, 10 months old and was born in Blissfield township, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker. There he resided until eight years ago, when he bought the Michael Smeltzer farm, just southeast of Tecumseh and moved his family here.

He leaves the wife who was formerly Miss Gertrude Hunt, with seven children, ranging in ages from 15 years to seven weeks. His mother and a sister and brother reside in Blissfield.

The funeral was held Monday morning at the home, Dr. W. B. Hartzog officiating. The remains were taken to Blissfield for interment.

The sympathy of a host of friends go to the wife and seven little children so bereft of their protector.

Special Service at St. Peter's

The services at St. Peters' church on Sunday will be a special patriotic thanksgiving for victory and peace.

It will include the presentation of the colors of the Allies with the singing of the American, British and French National anthems and the triumphal procession of the colors.

This will precede a celebration of the Holy Communion and sermon. The service will be at 11 o'clock.

SAMMIE MINSTRELS

BENEFIT OF NEW LADIES' BAND.

Arrangements Progressing Finely for Big Presentation of Home Talent Minstrel Show Thursday, November 21 — Help the Ladies Finance Their Organization.

People of Tecumseh and vicinity will without question welcome the opportunity of seeing a good old fashioned minstrel show, escially one that is to be presented by our own home talent. They like the local hits of the funny end men, the coon songs, the vocal and instrumental solos by our foremost musicians.

As everybody is interested in the newly organized ladies' band we prophesy a packed house and advise all who do not wish to miss the entertainment to buy tickets early.

Preparations for the big benefit entertainment are progressing favorably for a first class show—one full of entertainment and delightful music.

That the funny part of the show—the jokes, etc. — will be well taken care of is evidenced by the selection of black-faced comedians. Wade Jones and Geo. Rathbun will preside as the funny end men and they will be re-enforced by the following: Glen Tansley, E. G. Berry, Wiley McCann, Wyman Service, George Hines and Will Fisher. Will Barrett will occupy the position of honor as interlocutor and you can bank on it that he will do it right.

Soloists are Mrs. M. Mulvaney, Mrs. R. S. Moore, Miss Geraldine Barker, Mrs. B. Mitchell, Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans, Miss Lillian Kennedy, Messrs. Wade Jones, Wyman Service, Wiley McCann, Fred Dickinson John Keeney, Duaine Service, George Rathbun, John Klein and Will Dickinson.

The admission will be 25c, 35c and 50c. Seats are on sale at Hay's bakery.

MISS BLANCHE MUIR

Many Friends Mourn Death of Clinton [illegible] Lady.

Tecumseh joins with Clinton in mourning for the very popular lady, Miss Blanche Muir, who passed away Monday after only a short illness with pneumonia, following the influenza. Probably no young lady in this vicinity is known over a larger territory or better loved by every one than was Blanche Muir.

Born and brought up in Clinton, she counts her friends there by the number of residents but our interest began with her when some nine years ago she came to clerk for Fred Rosacrans & Sons. There by her cheery disposition and efficiency she proved invaluable both to her employers, the others of the force and the public so all regretted when she left three years ago last May to assist her father. Wm. Muir, who had been appointed postmaster at Clinton. But that did not take her far away and she could come back frequently which she did, always greeting her friends with that happy smile and ready word. Now the fact that she will never come driving into town again does not seem possible. A girl of splendid physique, never sick apparently, she had been such a stay in her home and in the postoffice she was made assistant postmitress and was as efficient there as in the other positions she has held. She was active in St. John's church of Clinton and her church was an important factor of her life.

Besides the parents she leaves one brother, Frank Muir of Columbia City, Ind., who came home before the death of Miss Blanche and has been very ill since.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the home, quite a number from here attending, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosacrans, Mrs. Bessie Mitchell, Mrs. Mary Deery, Misses Edith Gray, Anna Schreder, Alice Owen and Leon Rosacrans.

The new ladies band, of which Miss Muir was an ardent promoter and member, sent a beautiful floral piece as did many of her Tecumseh friends.

Get your seats early for the big minstrel show. Don't miss it.

WILLIAM KELLEY

Died Last Night About Eleven O'Clock.

William Kelley, a moulder at Heesen Bros. & Co.'s foundry for a number of years, died last night about 11 o'clock at his home on North Pearl street. He had been ill with pneumonia for several weeks but had partially recovered when tetanus developed.

At this writing the funeral arrangements are not made, as his wife and both parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Kelley, are very sick. The young couple have two small children, and a sister, Mrs. Edward Packard, also survives.

RED CROSS NEWS.

Mrs. John Nyland has received 50 pounds of woolen yarn, with instructions to get our quota of sweaters out as soon as possible. These garments are needed for this winter, as our boys will still continue over there. They must measure not over seventeen inches across the chest. Mrs Nyland is anxious for workers to apply at once.

FARMERS, ATTENTION!

We will pay the coming week as follows: Chicks, fowls and ducks, heavy, 22c to 24c; geese, heavy, 20c to 22c; dressed ducks, 35c; geese, 30c heavy fancy stock. Fresh eggs, whites 80c; browns, 70c.

THE WAR IS WON.

The war that we have all been helping to win is over. We will admit that it has been a pretty hard strain for us all and involved no little amount of self-sacrifice. But the boys are coming home 'cause it's "over over there." so let's relax and enjoy ourselves this winter.

The High School is going to do its bit toward making this winter a pleasant one by presenting a Lyceum course. Every number is to be given in the new School Auditorium, and although it will hold over six hundred people, you had better buy your ticket early if you want to be sure of a good seat.

Just think of it! The first and best number of the entire course will be given Nov. 27, the night before Thanksgiving.

There will be four numbers, each one a whole evening's entertainment, all for one dollar.

And remember, the proceeds go to buy equipment for the new gymnasium. Signed, T. H.S.

"Carrying Coals to Newcastle"

Shipbuilders in Maine are bringing timber for supplying their yards from Oregon. This, a few years ago, would have been regarded as another instance of "carrying coals to Newcastle." Time was when Maine had timber enough for its own purposes and to spare. There is, perhaps, no occasion for alarm at the present time, but would it not be well, even now, for Maine to begin thinking of conserving the soil of the Aroostook? To have to go out of the state for timber is sad, but to have to look elsewhere for potatoes would be terrible.—Christian Science Monitor.

Editorial Comment

Peace has come—the world war is over and the horrible bloodshed is at an end. Monday was indeed a glorious day for the world, for on that day democracy triumphed over autocracy. Empires and kingdoms are overthrown and the ambition of man to rule the world has been destroyed forever. The Hohenzollern dynasty is squelched for good, but the people are left to pay the price for the lust of their rulers. But they will come into their own and in time the horrible war will seem to them a blessing—freeing them from an oppressive yoke.

Monday was a glorious day for the United States—for the people of this nation. It was the United States that stepped in and turned the tide of war. Belgium, poor, suffering little Belgium, was the first to save the world from a power-crazed monarchy by stopping and holding the immense German war machinery at bay long enough to allow France and England to prepare for its coming. For three long years the European Allies continued the unequal struggle bravely, fighting step by step, until nearly exhausted. Then enters the United States and rushes to the aid of the losing armies of the Allies. Troops and supplies were hurried over and even before American soldiers went to the fighting line the tide of war seemed to turn against the enemy. More troops were rushed over and our boys got into the game in dead earnest. From that time on the fight of Germany and her allies was a losing game.

The gigantic task of equipping and financing our part in the war was a marvelous work. Mistakes have been made and a great deal of money undoubtedly wasted, but for all that the world was astounded at the rapid preparation and active participation in the struggle. Germany prepared carefully for a half century; the United States were a formidable power across the waters in less than a year. America's preparation for the world war will go into history as one of the marvels of the ages.

Our boys were not slow to demonstrate their fighting qualities after they arrived in the war zone and were given an opportunity. The enemy was given no rest while within reach and the Hun was taught a great respect for the American soldier as a fighter. The people at home have stood behind our soldiers as has been demonstrated in the Liberty Loan and patriotic drives.

But can we truthfully say that the war is over? The signing of the armistice is not a surrender. It is simply a truce, an agreement to suspend fighting until peace terms can be discussed and arranged. But the reverses have been so severe that it is practically out of the question for the central powers to resume hostilities or even think of it.

There are still big problems confronting the United States and her Allies. Satisfactory peace terms will have to be arranged and, more important still, the people of the defeated nation will have to be fed. The first task will require patience and careful thought; the latter will, in a great measure fall to the United States. Hence, the program of food conservation will have to continue and our people still make their little sacrifices.

At a meeting of the Lenawee County Patriotic League Monday evening, an account of which will be found in this issue, it was made plain that pledge signers contributing to the league are not released because hostilities have ceased. For American people at home the war is not over as long as our boys are over there. It was shown that now, when the boys are released from fighting they need the backing of the home people more than ever. They will need the help and comforts that the Y. M. C. A., Red Cross, K. of C., Salvation Army and other organizations can give them. For the purpose of continuing this work a United War Work campaign, nation wide, was begun Monday for the purpose of raising $170,500,000 to support the seven organizations that have been doing such excellent work for the soldiers abroad and at home. The boys are likely to remain in Europe for a year or two and if we want them to come home clean we must provide for their comfort and entertainment during their idleness more than we did while they were so successfully chasing the Hun.

Next April there will be another drive—the Fifth Liberty loan. We must prepare to "eat that up" as quickly as we did the others. These bonds are fine investments and excellent proof to the boys that you have participated in the fight for world liberty.

The following rhyme, written by Upton Sinclair in 1915, has come true in its prediction and is just as appropriate now, if not more so, than at the time it was written. We are indebted to J. N. Satterthwaite for a copy of the verses:

Down, down to the bottom of the sea,
With her engines going went the Lusitania;
They could not stop the whirling screw,
It churned to foam the waters blue;
It churned the blood of babies, too;
And down, down to the bottom of the sea
With her engines going went the Lusitania.

Down to their death went the faithful men,
Down went the pale faced women then,
Down went two hundred babes and ten;
When down, down to the bottom of the sea
With her engines going went the Lusitania.

And down went another ship from view,
A mightier ship than the Lusitania,
A ship of state with a pirate crew,
Kultur, politik, and kaiser, too;
Down, down to the bottom of the sea
Has gone Germania.

Mills and Elevators Must Make Quarterly Reports.

All Michigan grain handlers and grain dealers who hold licenses from the United States Food adminstration are advised that it is the purpose of the cereal division to call on such licensees on January 1st, 1919, for a report (on blanks to be furnished) of their three months operations, October 1st, 1918, to December 31st, 1918, such reports to show gross proceeds from sales, total expense and amount of net profit earned during the period, also per cent of profit on total sales.

In figuring the net profits, interests on capital cannot be considered as an item of expense, but interest actually paid on loans is recognized as a legitimate expense item.

No item to be included in expense account which is not allowed by the treasury department in returns for income tax or excess profit taxes.

The First Submarine Boat.

The first submarine boat of which history makes any record was built by a Dutchman named Van Driebel, in 1640. The boat was built in England with money said to have been advanced by King James I. According to reports the vessel had a unique ballasting system. There was a number of goatskin bags placed under the deck between two large planks. These bags when filled with water caused the vessel to sink. To cause it to rise again the bags were pressed together again with a windless arrangement forcing the water out, and thus giving the boat buoyancy. — The Engineer.

Call for Vocational Men Deferred Thirty Days.

East Lansing, Mich.—The call for the 550 men who were to have come to M. A. C on November 19 for training in the operation and repair of army trucks and tractors, will not be made on the date originally set, the college has been informed by the war department. The reason for the postponement has not been communicated, and at present it remains uncertain whether the call will be cancelled permanently or merely made later. The 550 men in the vocational unit at M. A. C. now will leave on November 15.

The relinguishment of the quarters which were to have been occupied by the truck and tractor companies has provided the college with accommodations for another half thousand men. Announcement has accordingly been made that all qualified men desirous of enlisting in the student army training corps will henceforth be accepted. Formerly the collegeate section of the student army training corps was open only to persons with high school diplomas, but under the revised rules recently drawn up by the war department, the college authorized to enlist any man who has experience and training which might make a good officer of him.

Interested persons are advised that they can secure definite information by writing to the office of th president, M. A. C., East Lansing.

WILL TRAIN WOMEN TO RUN TRACTORS

Course at M. A. C. Will be Put on "Equal Suffrage" Basis, College Announces.

East Lansing, Mich.—Women will be admitted on an equal footing with men to the course for the training of engineers for farm tractors which will be conducted at M. A. C. from Feb. 17 to March 16, it is declared in a statement issued by Ashley M. Berridge, director of short courses for the college. Heretofore these special schools have been open only to men.

This announcement from the college parallels plans for a special course in farm management for women which will be offered at M. A. C. from Jan. 7 to March 7. The object of the tractor course it has been given out will be to give the women an equal opportunity with men to learn how to operate and repair farm tractors. It is intended similarly by means of the course in farm management to enable women as far as possible in the time allowed to learn the principles of tilling the soil and running a farm business.

Men or women desirous of enrolling for either course are advised that they can obtain catalogues by mailing a card to the Director of Shortcourses, M. A. C., East Lansing.

Mrs. Tom Campbell of Detroit visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Exelby, the first of the week.

Paul Clement and Tos. Rixom were in Chicago Wednesday and Thursday buying stock for feeders.

Mrs. Fay VanNest, Mrs. Roy VanNest and Leola spent the week end at Bert VanNest's in Detroit.

W. B. Linn, W. C. Eldred and Roy Suydam were at Wampler's lake fishing and hunting part of last week.

A number of relatives of C. A. Bradley and Bert Vanes were here the latter part of the week from Coldwater visiting.

Rev. Otto Halfaker has resigned as pastor of the Christian church and accepted a position at the Eagle plant in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tonnenberger were in North Adams the latter part of the week attending the funeral of her brother.

Mrs. George Exelby was here Saturday and Sunday from Detroit, visiting her daughter, Willoween, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hoagland were among those who attended the funeral of Mrs. Frank Hoagland, held Friday at Raisin Center.

Miss Pauline Snoddy was a charming hostess Saturday evening to a company of friends. A fine time was enjoyed with games. Refreshments were served.

Sunday services at both churches were well attended and every one seemed to enjoy having the ban lifted. We are in hopes the "flu" will soon be wiped out.

The M. P. church fair is being held tonight (Thursday) with supper in the church dining room. The M. E. church fair is Friday evening at their church in Ridgeway and the Christian church fair will be held October 22 in the church parlors. Everyone invited.

The Britton Messenger has changed hands. Mr. Yarick of the Deerfield Times is the purchaser and he will continue to publish the paper at that place in the interest of Britton and vicinity. Mr. Bradley, however, will continue to do job printing.

Freeman Austed received a broken arm and several bad bruises about the head Wednesday, when he was thrown from his wagon which was hit by a D. T. & I. extra passenger train at the elevator crossing. The wagon was demolished and the horses received some injuries. He considers it a lucky escape.

F. V. Lenardsons have moved in Fay Wiggins' house, recently vacated by J. J. Dreher, Hiram Theeke in Sam Patterson's vacated by Isaac Fraer and Jack Gettus in Miss Anna Smith's house vacated by Lenardsons. Lavern Pocklington, who has been running the confectionary store, has moved back into his own house.

Who said Britton and vicinity did not celebrate? And as for noise, we will wager we made more than many towns of our size. Thursday evening's "peace" reports fairly tuned us up for the real jollification held Monday evening. The poor old "kaiser" was burned both nights and finally his throne and all had to go likewise.

WATCH FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE

FARMES REMINDED OF DANGER OF OUTBREAK.

Occurrence of Malady Reported by Cable From England—Early Discovery and Prompt Action Necessary for Control.

Public officials, veterinarians and stock owners should be on guard to report immediately any cases of foot-and-mouth disease that may appear in this country, according to a statement by Dr. J. R. Mobler, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department or Agriculture. Mr. Mohler said:

"Recent cable news announces an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in England, which brings to mind the serious outbreaks of that disease which have been experienced in the United States.

Appears at Regular Intervals

"Foot-and-mouth disease has appeared in England from time to time, as it has done in the United States. In both countries the past outbreaks have been promptly controlled and eradicated, and no cases have occurred in the United States since 1916. Nevertheless, the disease makes its appearance at irregular intervals. In this country we may expect its return at any time, although every precaution is being taken by the federal authorities to prevent the introduction of the disease, especially from the present outbreak in England. So long as communication is maintained with other countries the danger of the re-introduction of the disease must be acknowledged.

"It is of the greatest importance that a sharp watch be maintained by all officials, by practicing veterinarians, and by stock owners in order that the very first cases may be discovered and the spread of the disease prevented. It would be a great misfortune to the United States if foot-and-mouth disease should occur under present conditions or become firmly established in the country, as has been the case in many of the stock-raising nations of continental Europe. Early discovery of the disease, followed by prompt elimination of infected centers, is the only way to prevent the United States from becoming permanently infected."

Help The Fuel Administration!

The fuel administration is doing all it can to keep you warm next winter. But it needs your cooperation. If everyone does his share there will be no coal shortage—and there will be no discomfort. To get the most out of all coal used, every house should be properly equipped.

The Director of conservation of the fuel administration says:

"The National Fuel Administration realize that a large amount of coal can be saved by the installation of storm doors and storm windows," and advocates such installation as a patriotic duty.

STORM DOORS and WINDOWS

cut down coal bills from one-third to one-half—a saving that pays for their cost in one or two seasons.

But still more important, they increase the comfort of your house by eliminating cold floor drafts, by making it possible to keep the home warm during the severest weather, and by permitting perfect ventilation.

DO NOT DELAY! Place your order before the rush. Phone 57 and we will call, take measurements and tell you what the cost will be.

We also have a complete line of building material—and if you want to see some nice lump coal just drop down to the yard and look over our stock

WAR WORK MUST BE KEPT UP

PLEDGES TO PATRIOTIC LEAGUE STILL IN FORCE

American Soldiers Must Be Taken Care of Until Mustered Out—More Need Now Since Objective Has Been Attained—Meeting of Lenawee County Patriotic League at Adrian Monday Evening.

War workers of the nation and state and officials of the Lenawee County Patriotic League wish it to be clearly understood by all contributors to the war work fund that the war, while hostilities have ceased and peace is in sight, is not at an end as far as the home workers are concerned. In fact, now that the objective has been attained in driving the Hun back and putting him out of the war, the efforts of the home folks should be redoubled in keeping the various organizations that have made life bearable over there at their splendid work. This was the sentiment brought out at the meeting of the township csairmen of the Lenawee County Patriotic League Monday evening.

The meeting was held at the New Adrian hotel, preceded by a modest but entirely pleasing banquet that was thoroughly relished. Music was furnished by a troupe of Hiwaiian musicians, a special favorite among them being a five year old lad with a voice that captured the hearts of those present. The quaint music of the foreigners was thoroughly enjoyed.

Represented at the meeting were all but nine townships of the county, several of the county newspapers, a number of Adrian war and patriotic workers, and representatives of organizations that have done so much for the boys in service here and abroad.

Robert Darnton, president of the League, presided and called the meeting to order, explained the object of the gathering and introduced the various speakers. Mr. Darnton, referring to the day as one of the most memorable one in the history of the world, said we must forget all unpleasantness in recent campaigns and remember that the crucial time has come. The people of this country will face the most severe test and we will find out just how deep our patriotism is. We must continue our sacrifices. The boys over there have reached their objective and in the reaction their welfare must be looked after more keenly than before.

To continue this war work a new quota has been assigned the county and the object of the meeting was to secure the co-operation and wise counsel of the township chairmen. The Red Cross quota will have to be enlarged, not alone for the care of our own boys, but the work will be extended into Europe.

Mr. Darnton introduced as the first speaker Dr. F. A. Perry, who represented the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Perry made an eloquent plea for the "Y". He said that while the boys have not marched into Berlin Germany was licked to a frazzle. If ever we want to take care of our boys it is now. He described the awful feeling of homesickness experienced by the boys and said they were in more danger in coming back than ever, now that the great objective is not before them.

Chas. Dunn, representing the Knights of Columbus, was next introduced and he gave a splendid talk, not only of the work of the Knights of Columbus, but included the other organizations that have encouraged the morale of our soldiers. The Germans, he said, had nothing like that; the the morale there was under the sword and gun.

Paying a handsome tribute to the women war workers, who volunteered their services, Mr. Darnton introduced Miss Hester McGaughey of Kalamazoo, who represented the Y. W. C. A. Her appeal was for the care of the young emotional women who idealize our soldier boys. She pointed out the good work done by the 91 hostess houses at the American cantonments, the 11 colored hostess houses, the work in the munition centers and Washington where 45,000 of our young women are at work for the government.

Lieut. Miller of the Adrian Salvation Army was the next speaker. Miss Miller is a charming worker in her chosen field and captured her auditors with her story of the work of the Salvation Army girls over there. Especially appealing was her word picture of the boys falling in line to receive doughnuts, cookies and pies made by real enough American women. She stated the Salvation Army was the first to enter war work and were on the ground during the Boer war. The Salvation Army offered its entire resources to President Wilson, which offer was accepted. She spoke of the hospital work and co-operation with the Red Cross. They hold two or three meetings a week over there, the old time songs are sung and the boys enjoy the meetings. The Salvation Army over there are living their religion; they put Christ into their work.

Mrs. Dodge read a telegram from the chairman of the Council of National Defense urging that there should be no relaxation in the war work.

Mr. Darnton called for the report of the quota committee, authorized to equalize Lenawee's additional quota called for by the United War Work Campaign, the total amount necessary being $200,000. Tecumseh's quota was raised to $13,000, leaving about $1,000 in additional pledges to be secured.

Mr. Darnton explained that the entire amount necessary to meet the additional demand is $200,000 Of this the league has in pledges $170,000, leaving $30,000 to be raised by the county.

The report of the quota committee was adopted. A general discussion followed in which it was emphatically brought out that the work is not completed until every boy is back home. The boys will remain over there eighteen months or more before things will be settled and they can come home and be mustered out of service. The chairmen were urged to educate the people that the war is not over, that they will have to give.

On motion of Judge B. L. Hart it was left up to each chairman to get his quota the best way possible.

It was moved that a message be sent to Michigan headquarters that Lenawee will go over the top in its quota.

The resignation of E. B. Root, chairman of Seneca township, who was elected county clerk at the recent election and will move to Adrian, was accepted and John P. Rorick appointed in his stead.

President Darnton closed the meeting with an eloquent plea to the men asking their help and loyal support in this important work. He said this is the first war in which Jesus Christ followed the army. Heretofore men followed to fleece the army—the individual soldier.

Coal Announcement

From information received some sixty days ago, we believed we had several more cars of hard coal due us, but are now advised that our allotment, which is 41% of the coal we had last year, has been filled. Therefore, we have no more hard coal due us for immediate shipment, and will receive no more this winter, unless the mines are able to produce more, etc.

A large share of the coal buyers of this vicinity have been wishing and hoping to good luck that they would get more hard coal. If the dealers have received their 41%, they are through, like we are. We are advising you of the above facts so you can make arrangements to buy fuel of some kind in place of the hard coal which you have been expecting.

The best fuel next to hard coal is coke, which will, in all respects, heat your home without dirt or dust as hard coal. If you are unacquainted with it, investigate; you will be greatly pleased with its burning qualities.

If you desire soft coal, no one has better coal than that which we have been receiving for some time. We also have some Illinois coal that is cheaper in price, is lumpy, and is giving satisfaction.

We have no way of knowing how long we will be able to have a surplus stock of coal. While we have it, would suggest you buy, and buy NOW.

A party of young people enjoyed a potluck supper with Mr. and Mrs Glen Soule, four mies northwest of town last evening. Lester Heesen took the bunch over in his sedan.

B. A. Osborn started Monday on the return trip to his home in Seattle, Wash., after visiting a week with his niece, Mrs. A. C. Bryan, and husband. He is visiting with relatives in Detroit before leaving the state.

We wish to call attention to the display advertisement of the churches of our town on page three of this issue. One of the problems of Tecumseh pastors has been the securing of proper attendance at the church services, at a recent meeting of these faithful workers they decided to promote community services, holding one service in one of the Chicago street churches each Sunday evening, and they deemed it wise to use the newspaper columns to keep before the public their efforts in building up a church interest in our community. The community service will be made especially interesting by the discussion of local topics with which every citizen should keep in touch. A large community choir will furnish music and this alone will be an attraction that should draw full houses every Sunday evening. We believe the pastors are taking the right course in using advertising space in their local paper and we predict satisfactory results. The community service will become so popular that every seat in the church will be occupied in a few weeks. Help the good thing along.

We yet hear of whole families being down with the influenza. At Ed Leighton's he is recovering, but the wife and four small children are sick, and at John Marsh's the whole family, both parents and five boys are sick. Mr. Marsh has pneumonia and is very ill.

Dr. Hendershott, the health officer, reports that he has a few new "flu" cases reported along, but nothing as it was a few weeks ago. Usually the cases in the country don't seem to be as sick as the ones in town have been, but one doctor says we will have scattering cases all winter.

It was 29 years ago last Thursday that Nellie Nyland and Will Raymond united their fortunes for better or worse The anniversary was observed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Nyland that evening by a fine picnic supper. The evening's celebration down on the street only livened the affair and the thirteen present enjoyed the evening heartily.

SCHUMANN QUINTET.

Headed by Mr. Carl Lampert, for nine years first violinist with the Theodore Thomas orchestra, the Schumann Quintet is to appear here in an evening concert. This company brings a genuinely new idea—that of presenting symphonic concerts with a company of only five musicians. To secure this effect an especially constructed organ is carried. It gives all the reed and wind effects of a large orchestra and, combined with the piano and stringed instruments, produces results at once surprising and unique. To create added interest the quintet gives historic introductions to its programs.

SCHUMANN QUINTET.

In addition to Mr. Lampert, the company consists of Mr. Carl Portune, graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music; Miss Helene Portune, dramatic soprano and concert violiniste; Mrs. Grace Kaplun, concert pianiste, and Mr. Harry Kaplun, cello virtuoso. Mr. Kaplun formerly was a member of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

The Schumann Quintet makes popular such interesting numbers as Mozart's "The Marriage of Figaro," Wagner's "Tannhauser" and Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2."

COMING?

We want the taxpayers and citizens of school district No. 7, Tecumseh to get acquainted with our new school building. We have arranged for four splendid Lyceum entertainments to be held in the auditorium this winter, the first number coming the night before Thanksgiving.

This series of four entertainments will cost you only $1.00 and every cent made over expenses will be applied on equipment for our new gym.—Signed, T. H. S.

Military establishments of all kinds shall be delivered intact as well as military stores of food, munitions, equipment not removed during the periods fixed for evacuation.

Ten: An immediate repatriation without reciprocity according to detailed conditions which shall be fixed, of all allied and United States prisoners of war. The allied powers and the United States shall be able to dispose of these prisoners as they wish.

Eleven: Sick and wounded who can be removed from evacuated territory will be cared for by German personnel, who will be left on the spot, with the medical material required.

As to Eastern Frontiers.

Disposition relative to the eastern frontiers of Germany;

Twelve: All German troops at present in any territory which before the war belonged to Russia, Roumania or Turkey, shall withdraw within the frontier of Germany as they existed on August 1, 1914.

Thirteen. Evacuation by German troops to begin at once, and all German instructors, prisoners and civilian as well as military agents now on the territory of Russia (as defined before 1914) to be recalled.

Fourteen. German forces to cease at once all requisitions and seizures and any other undertaking within a view to obtaining supplies intended for Germany in Rumania and Russia (as defined on Aug. 1st, 1914).

Fifteen: Abandonment of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk and of the supplementary treaties.

Free Access to Allies.

Sixteen: The allies shall have free access to the territories evacuated by the Germans on their eastern frontier, either through Danzig or by the Vistula, in order to convey supplies to the populations of those territories, or for any other purpose.

Clause concerning East Africa:

Seventeen: Unconditional capitulation of all German forces operating in East Africa within one month.

General Clauses—

Eighteen: Repatriation without reciprocity within a maximum period of one month, in accordance with detailed conditions hereafter to be fixed, of all civilians interned or reported who may be citizens of other allied or associated states than those mentioned in Clause Three. Paragraph 19 with the reservation that any future claims and demands of the allies and the United States of America remain unaffected.

Nineteen: The following financial conditions are requird:

Reparation for damage done. While this armistice lasts no public securities shall be removed by the enemy which can serve as a pledge to the allies for the recovery or reparation for war losses. Immediate restitution of the cash deposit, in the national bank of Belgium and in general immediate return of all documents, specie, stocks, shares, paper money together with plant for the issue thereof, touching public or private interests in the invaded countries. Restitution of the Russian and Rumanian gold yielded to Germany or taken by that power. This gold to be delivered in trust to the allies until the signature of peace.

Naval Conditions.

Twenty: Immediate cessation of all hostilities at sea and definite information to be given as to the location and movements of all German ships.

Twenty-one: All naval and mercantile marine prisoners of war of the allied and associated powers in German hands to be returned without reciprocity.

Surrender 160 Subs.

Twenty-two: Surrender to the allies and the United States of America of one hundred and sixty German submarines (including all submarine cruisers and mine laying submarines) with their complete armament and equipment in ports which will be specified by the allies and the United States of America. All other submarines to be paid off and completely disarmed and placed under the supervision of the allied powers and the United States of America.

Take German Navy.

Twenty-three: The following German surface warships which shall be designated by the allies and the United States of America shall forthwith be disarmed and thereafter interned in neutral ports or for the want of them, in allied ports, to be designated by the allies and the United States of America and placed under the surveilance of the allies and the United States of America, only caretakers being left on board, namely six battle cruisers, ten battleships, eight light cruisers, including two mine layers, fifty destroyers of the most modern type. All other surface warships (including river craft) are to be concentrated in German naval bases to be designated by the allies and the United States of America and are to be paid off, and completely disarmed and placed under the supervision of the allies and the United States.

Twenty-four: The allies and the United States of America, shall have the right to sweep up all mine fields and obstructions laid by Germany outside German territorial waters, and the positions of these are to be indicated.

To Free Baltic Ports.

Twenty-five: Freedom of access to and from the Baltic to be given to the naval and mercantile marines of the allied and associated powers. To secure this the allies and the United States shall be empowered to occupy all German forts, fortifications, batteries and defense works of all kinds in all the entrances from the Cattegat into the Baltic, and to sweep up all mines and obstructions within and without German territorial waters without any question of neutrality being raised, and the positions of all such mines and obstructions are to indicated.

Twenty-six: The existing blockade conditions set up by the allies and associated powers are to remain unchanged and all German merchant ships found at sea are to remain liable to capture.

Twenty-seven: All naval aircraft are to be concentrated and immobilized in German bases to be specified by the allies and the United States of America.

Twenty-eight: In evacuating Belgian coasts and ports Germany shall abandon all merchant ships, tugs, lighters and all other harbor materials, all materials for international and navigation, all aircraft and all materials and stores, all arms and armaments, and all stores and apparatus of all kinds.

Evacuate Black Sea Ports.

Twenty-ninth: All Black sea ports are to be evacuated by Germany, all Russian war ships of all descriptions seized by Germany in the Black sea are to be handed over to the allies and the United States of America; all merchant ships seized are to be released, and other materials of all kinds seized in those ports are to be returned and German materials as specified in clause 28 are to be abandoned.

Thirty: All merchant ships in German ports belonging to the allied and associated powers are to be restored in ports to be specified by the allies and the United States without reciprocity.

Thirty-one: No destruction of ships or of materials to be permitted before evacuation surrender or restoration.

Thirty-two: The German government will notify the neutrals of the world and the governments of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland, that all restrictions placed on the trading of their vessels with the allied and associated countries, whether by the German government or by private German interests and whether in return for specific concessions, such as the export of shipbuilding materials or not, are immediately cancelled.

Thirty-three: No transfers of German merchant shipping of any description to any neutral flag are to take place after signature of the armistice.

Duration of Armistice.

Thirty-four: The duration of the armistice is to be thirty days with the option to extend. During this period, on failure of execution of any of the above clauses, the armistice may be denounced by one of the contracting parties on 48 hours previous notice.

Thirty-five: This armistice to be accepted or refused by Germany within 72 hours of notification.

Time Limit for Reply.

"The war thus comes to an end," concluded the president, "for having accepted these terms of armistice, it will be impossible for the German command to renew it. It is not now possible to assess the consequences of this great consumation. We know only that this tragical war, whose consuming flames swept from one nation to another until all the world was on fire, is at an end and that it was the privilege of your own people to enter it at its most critical juncture in such fashion and in such force as to contribute in a way of which we all are deeply proud, to the great result.

"There is no longer conjecture as to the objects the victors have in mind. They have a mind in the matter, not only, but a heart also. Their avowed and concerted purpose is to satisfy and protect the weak as well as to accord their just rights to the strong.

"The humane temper and intention of the victorious governments has been manifested in a very practical way. Their representatives in the supreme war council at Versailles have by unanimous resolution assured the peoples of the central empires that everything that is possible in the conditions to be done to supply them with food and relieve the distressing want that is in so many places threatening their very lives; and steps are to be taken at once to organize these efforts at relief in the same systematic manner that they were organized in the case of Belgium. By the use of the idle tonnage of the central empires it ought presently to be possible to lift the fear of utter misery from their oppressed peoples and set their minds and energies free from the great and hazardous tasks of political reconstruction which now face them on every hand. Hunger does not breed reform; it breeds madness and all the ugly distempers that make an ordered life impossible.

"For with the fall of the ancient governments which rested like an incubus upon the peoples of the central empires has come political change not merely, but rebellion and rebellion which seems as yet to assume no final and ordered form but to run from one fluid change to another, thoughtful men are forced to ask themselves, with what governments and for what sort are we about to deal in the making of the covenants of peace. With what authority will they meet us and with what assurance that their authority will abide and sustain securely the international plans into which we are about to enter? There is here matter for no small anxiety and misgiving. When peace is made, upon whose promises and engagements besides our own is it to rest?

Must Help to Restore Order.

"Let us be perfectly frank with ourselves and admit that these questions can not be satisfactorily answered now or at once. But the moral is not that there is little hope of an early answer that will suffice. It is only that we must be patient and helpful and mindful, above all, of the great hope and confidence that lie at the heart of what is taking place. Excesses accomplish nothing. Unhappy Russia has furnished abundant proof of that. Disorder defeats itself. If excesses should occur, if disorder should for a time raise its head, a sober second thought will follow and a day of conservative action, if we help and do not hinder.

Torch Will Not Avail.

"The peoples who have but just come out from under the yoke of arbitrary government, and who are now coming at last into their freedom, will never find the treasures of liberty they are in search of if they look for them by the light of the torch. They will find that every pathway is stained with the blood of their own brothers.

"I, for one, do not doubt their purpose or their capacity. There are some happy signs that they know and will choose the way of self-control and peaceful accommodation. If they do, we shall put our aid at their disposal in every way that we can. If they do not we must await with patience and sympathy the awakening and recovery that will assuredly come at last."

REPUBLIC Special

The Lowest Priced 2000-lb. Real Truck on the Market

No other truck, at anywhere near the price, gives you the same sterling high quality. It is, unquestionably, the greatest value in a motor truck of its capacity on the market today.

What's more—it's a real truck. Built in the gigantic Republic factories by men who are truck specialists. The uncertainties of makeshif construction are eliminated. You get, in this Republic Special, a proven truck with the known quality reputation of the world's largest manufacturers of motor trucks behind it.

The axles of the Republic Special are drop forged steel I-beams—real truck axles of exceptional load-carrying ability. The armored radiator and special truck cooling system insure against overheating on the hardest pulls. The 3¼"x5" motor of Republic original design gives power for every emergency.

The Torbensen Internal Gear Drive gives the simplest, most efficient and most powerful drive known to engineers. A heavy pressed steel channel section frame will withstand years of the most rigorous service. Furnished with Open Express or Stake body.

We urge an early inspection of this truck. All raw materials are advancing rapidly. The present price of the Republic Special—$1295—is for immediate delivery. It may change any day—perhaps today—we cannot guarantee this low price for any length of time.

Come in now—or phone us and we'll have our representative call and give you further information.

"Keep the Bridge Open"

A dangerous condition exists among the American people today. We are an easy-going people, quick to feel that what we want to happen is about to come to pass. Don't forget that for four long years the Hun was master of the offensive power of this war. The Allies have scarcely had the offensive for as many months, yet we are feeling that peace is at hand.

Remember, the war has never touched German soil, and it must touch a lot of it if the war spirit is to be taken out of Germany. There are many aeroplanes on the docks in New York, waiting for ships. We have troops delayed through lack of ships. Put yourself in the place of the men who are fighting, and consider what ships and more ships represent to you. Chairman Hurley of the Shipping Board, and Charles M. Schwab say we have completed 2,500,000 tons, but we must continue till we get 15,000,000.

The shipyards need men badly. "No person now engaged in shipyard work need apply," but other men looking for a place where red-blooded, real men are needed, and who want to get good wages for the winter's work, will do their country and themselves a good turn by writing or calling at the Great Lakes Engineering Works, River Rouge, Detroit, Mich. Get into the shipyard game.—Adv.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

IN THE MIDST OF THE FIGHTING

(From the Wyandotte Herald.)

Excerpts from letters received from Kenneth Davenport, now with the famous 32d division American troops in France, follow. Kenneth who has hosts of friends here, enlisted in the band as piccolo player in the old 33d Michigan National guard, when they were stationed at Fort Wayne; but when he arrived in France he could not stand idle and see the rest of the boys after the Huns so he transferred to Co. H of the 125th infantry and has been there ever since. He is now a runner between battalion and regimental headquarters—a very dangerous mission. Under date of August 8 he writes: "and during these last days I have been very busy. Yes, downing the Huns. Just yesterday morning we were relieved. A great relief it was, too—every man of us was all in. You see we were on the busiest front in France and fighting Bill's best beasts. I cannot tell about the battle, only that it was HELL and that Fritz retreated 20 k. (about eight miles). I am sure he was glad to get out of our deadly fire for awhile. I think old Michigan has done as much as the best of them. Don't you? Now that I have told you that I have been in action and some of my pals were killed and wounded, don't start worrying."

"I have been through the worst of it with only a scratch—a machine gun bullet grazed my left shoulder, leaving only a torn shirt on Kennie."

"God has protected me so far and He will the rest of the way through—I feel that He will as He has just as the same as told me. I have no fear, so why should you?"

"—— was wounded—shot through the knee, poor fellow—it hurt him so. I must tell you about a shell hole I saw in Alsace-Lorraine. It was 12 feet deep and 30 feet broad. I never knew a shell would do such a thing."

Aug. 14—"Tell mother that General Pershing said that it would be Hell, Heaven and Hoboken before Christmas."

Sept. 12— "Just before going into battle the last time I received a letter from —— enclosing a little pamphlet, 'Protection?' with the 91st Psalm typed off on a paper and pasted in the front of the booklet. 'If you only knew how it helped me. I advanced with the rest with practically no sense of fear. I recognized no place in Man's Land that did not hold the love and protection of God."

"We are back among the hills again and more beautiful ones than we were in before. This little village is right down in a nest of them and no matter which way you look, a great green and brown wall looms up."

Sept. 14—"Aren't the U. S. boys doing some grand work? At the rate they are going now Fritz will not last long. He is merely fighting for existence now."

Sept. 5— "I suppose by the time this reaches you, you will have heard of the general retreat of Fritz all along the line. Something is going to happen. He is not moving his ammunition dumps back with him—he just burns them up. On the front we just came from, Fritz put up a hell of a fight but in spite of it all we chased him a long ways. All the boys who were wounded had such pluck, they took it with a smile. God bless them, every one of them."

"You will find a shoulder strap from a Boche soldier of the Prussian Guard enclosed in this letter. He was of the 165th infantry. I have a Boche belt also with the words 'Gott mit uns' inscribed in the buckle which I will send at my earliest opportunity. I wouldn't take a whole lot for it, although they are quite easy to get."

(Kenneth J. Davenport, author of the above, is the son of H. A. Davenport and a former resident of Tecumseh. He is a nephew of Mrs. Herbert Aten and has hosts of friends here who will be pleased to hear from him.)

From Jack Smith to His Father, John B. Smith

Sept. 24, 1918.

Hello, Dad!

Have a few minutes to spare, so thought I would write you a few lines. We have been over here five or six weeks and everything is going fine. I just had my second pay day last week. Mail has also begun to come to us quite regularly, although it is over a month old. We got mail twice last week and also twice already this week.

How is everybody at home? I was going to write you and the girls a letter quite some time ago, but we canot write all that we think of so I have kept putting it off.

What do you hear from Roy? I have not seen him since we left the states. I think he is in a camp about seventy or eighty miles from where I am located.

Percy Bowen, Jim McCook and Archie Boyd are at the same camp I am.

This sure is some place over here. We are quartered in a small French village. Have been working hard every day.

Tonight I am going to start studying French. We have an officer as an instructor and have school five nights a week.

How is everything on the farm? You ought to see these people farm over here. They plow with one horse and only about four inches deep. Most of the harvesting is done with a cradle and some of them still use a flail to thresh with. They sure are a long way behind us.

This is about all I have time to write tonight. Will write more later. Tell the girls I will write them a letter in a few days.

Your son, Jack.

Sept. 5th, 1918.

Dear Grandma and Grandpa:

Your letter of July 26tharrived about a week ago and I sure was glad to hear from you again. I have not written you for some time, due to the fact that we have been moving around considerably and have been doing plenty of work.

Things are looking quite favorable at present so we don't mind the work. All of our work now is in territory which has been pretty well shot up so we have no opportunity to buy things except through the Y. M. C. A. I expect to go on permission in about a month if they don't stop before then.

I had a good letter from Stella Palmer a few days ago and it certainly was quite a surprise to me. Sure glad to get it.

Has Henry gone to camp yet? Had a letter from him a long time ago and haven't answered it yet, in fact I haven't had time to write.

I am alone on my car and am out every day. We have been leaving camp about 3 a. m. and didn't get in until about 7 p. m.

We have been having fine weather only not enough rain for the dust it fierce. The nights are getting rather cool.

I suppose we will be moving camp again before long if they keep advancing.

How are you and the rest of the people I know?

Well, I will have to close for the planes are coming, so will have to duck the light.

As ever,
Leon C. Orr.

Dear Dad and Sisters:

Will drop you a few lines to let you know that I am well and sure having a good time and hope you all are having the same as I. I cannot write anything that will interest you and I think you all know the reason why. Of course you people get just as much news as we do and possibly a bit more.

We are detached service at the present and away from our division and have not seen Jack or any of the other boys since I left Custer and the chances are I won't until I get back to the states again although I will have to tell you that I met Bill Jewell over here at the same place where I am now located. I almost fell over when I saw him for I didn't think I would run into someone that I knew.

Well, have been in France a bit over a month and it sure is a great place and plenty going on all the time.

I haven't much time to write today as I am stealing this time to write but will write you more later. Also tell Frank Turner that I received a Tecumseh paper over here a few days ago. Give my regards to Chas. W. and all the rest of them. With love to all,

Your Son,
Roy.

1 Ton of Beef Value $400.00 Profit $5.00 or 1¼%
1 Ton of Coal Value $7.00 Profit $.25 or 3½%

Why Compare Beef and Coal Profits?

Swift & Company has frequently stated that its profit on beef averages only one-fourth of a cent a pound, and hence has practically no effect on the price.

Comparison has been made by the Federal Trade Commission of this profit with the profit on coal, and it has pointed out that anthracite coal operators are content with a profit of 25 cents a ton, whereas the beef profit of one-fourth of a cent a pound means a profit of $5.00 a ton.

The comparison does not point out that anthracite coal at the seaboard is worth at wholesale about $7.00 a ton, whereas a ton of beef of fair quality is worth about $400.00 wholesale.

To carry the comparison further, the 25 cent profit on coal is 3½ per cent of the $7.00 value.

The $5.00 profit on beef is only 1¼ per cent of the $400.00 value.

The profit has little effect on price in either case, but has less effect on the price of beef than on the price of coal.

Coal may be stored in the open air indefinitely; beef must be kept in expensive coolers because it is highly perishable and must be refrigerated.

Coal is handled by the carload or ton; beef is delivered to retailers by the pound or hundred weight.

Methods of handling are vastly different. Coal is handled in open cars; beef must be shipped in refrigerator cars at an even temperature.

Fairness to the public, fairness to Swift & Company, fairness to the packing industry, demands that these indisputable facts be considered. It is impossible to disprove Swift & Company's statement, that its profits on beef are so small as to have practically no effect on prices.

55,000 Barberry Bushes Destroyed in Campaign.

East Lansing, Mich. — More than 55,000 high-bush barberries were destroyed in Michigan during the campaign conducted last summer to drive this shrub from the state, a report from the Michigan Agricultural college declares.

"Every city and town in the state of over 500 inhabitants has been inspected, and the barberries found ordered destroyed," the statement sets forth. "Reinspection to learn whether these orders have been complied with and to secure the removal of barberries that may have sprouted again is in progress.

"There still remain many barberries around old country places and in cemeteries. Inasmuch as these are especially dangerous bushes, because of their nearness to the farms, and because they are so difficult to locate, further cooperation of citizens and farmers towards the removal of these is necessary."

The movement to stamp out the high-bush barberry was inaugurated by the United States department of agriculture to protect wheat, oats and rye from the disease known as "black stem rust." The barberry, because it harbors the parasites causing the disease, is charged with being responsible for the spread of the trouble.

Standers, Walkers, "Gets-It" for Corns

Corn-Pain Is Eased—the Corn Is Doomed!

on earth peel right off like a banana skin—and that's magic "Gets-It." Tight shoes and dancing even when you have a corn need not disturb you if you apply a few drops of "Gets-It" on the corn or callus. You want a corn-peeler, not a corn-fooler. You don't have to fool with corns—you peel them right off with your fingers by using "Gets-It." Cutting makes corns grow and bleed. Why use irritating salves or make a bundle of your toe with tape or bandages? Why putter and still have the corn? Use "Gets-It"—your corn-pain is over, the corn is a "goner" sure as the sun rises. Miss Esther Pratt is the new book-keeper at R. S. Moore's office.

"Berlin vs. America" was the picture at the Bradley, Sunday and Monday. The acting was splendid but we are satiated with the horrors of war and here again they were depicted in their awfulness. The main idea carried away is the feeling against the slacker, how even his own mother is delighted to find that her boy has proven his manhood by standing by his country. This young hero was in the secret service and when asked to enlist, could not as he could see the larger work he could do looking up traitors. His sweet heart, friends and even the porter of his club looked on him with contempt because he would not enlist, but as usual it all turned out well. He went to Germany as an aviator in the German army and kept our people informed of certain big drives. At last our boys took the German headquarters and he was cared for by a Red Cross nurse who proved to be his sweet heart—and they lived happy ever after.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bigelow of Milford were Sunday guests at Frank Turner's. Mrs. W. E. Bigelow, of Lulu, accompanied them and remained for a few week's visit with her sister-in-law, Mrs. A. J. Bigelow.

It seems some of our young men and boys have no sense of shame! Of course we didn't blame them for ringing the church bells when we celebrated the close of the war—that is until they were asked to stop on account of the annoyance it made for the sick ones, but afterward it was a nuisance. We were delighted to see Janitor Linn snatch two boys out by the collars. We were more uncensed than ever when the fact became known that they had rummaged all over the churches. One pastor found the window to his study broken open and his books and papers thrown from his desk to the floor. It seems there must be something wrong with the upbringing of boys who'll desecrate God's house.

CAN USE CULL BEANS AS LIVESTOCK FEED

M. A. C. Reports on Results of Experiments Conducted With Them.

East Lansing, Mich.—The large quantities of cull beans left on the hands of farmers as a result of the unfavorable weather at the time when the bean crop was harvested, can with certain precautions be used as feed for livestock, a bulletin from the experiment station of the Michigan Agricultural college declares.

"In fattening hogs," the report sets forth, "the following results were obtained: Fourteen hogs averaging 159 pounds at the start and fed equal parts by weight of cull beans and corn meal, gained 1.52 pounds per head daily, and consumed 2.03 pounds of cull beans and 2.03 pounds of corn per pound gain.

Beans alone, while very cheap, produced soft, flabby pork of poor quality, and can not be recommended as a satisfactory ration for fattening hogs. When combined with an equal weight of corn much better gains were made and a better quality of pork produced."

A brief copy of the results of the feeding experiments can be obtained by mailing a request to the Director of Experiment Station, M. A. C., East Lansing.

Canker Foe of Apple in Michigan Orchards.

East Lansing, Mich. — If orchardists will practice fall pruning the trouble known as apple canker, which has been the source of much loss to fruit growers, can be controlled, a report from the Michigan Agricultural college avers.

"This pruning should be done carefully and according to approved methods," declares Dr. G. H. Coons, plant pathologist for the M. A. C. experiment station. "In selecting the limbs to be cut, the orchardist usually has the option of a clean, smooth limb which may be developed, or an older, cankered limb. Make use of the pruning time for renovating trees and taking out cankered limbs as well, leaving the sound and vigorous ones."

OUR CHURCH ACTIVITIES

Community Service.

The first of a fall and winter series of community services will be held next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the Methodist church.

Rev. C M. Thompson will give the address. Subject, "The church and moral leadership in the reconstruction crisis." There will be extra music and a well worth while service. Everybody invited. We expect a full house.

Every effort will be made to make these community services one of the great events of each week in our community life. Everybody boost, please.

Methodist Episcopal

Rev. C. M. Thompson, minister.

Next Sunday, Nov. 17, will be observed as Victory Sunday, celebrating the triumphant closing of the war. Sermon topic: "The church and the Armistice." Both sermon and music will be appropriate to the day. The "flu" danger is past, the church building has been cleaned and fumigated and will be warm and comfortable. Let us make this a genuine rally day and come in large numbers to enjoy a real, live, up-to-date service.

Sunday school will follow the public worship. Let the new classes planned a few weeks ago materialize next Sunday and all others be in their places. There will be a live Epworth League meeting at 6 o'clock with a fine topic and a good leader. Be there young and old.

SUCCESSFUL COMMUNITY SERVICE

FIRST OF SEASON WELL ATTENDED.

Large Choir Leads Community Singing—Next Service at Persbyterian Church.

The first Community service held at the Methodist church Sunday evening was a splendid success, when weather conditions are considered, for many people, especially those in rural communities, are not fond of coming out on a rainy night. However, present was a fine congregation of citizens of the community — members of the various denominations and others who do not claim church affiliations. The pastors of the other churches, with the exception of Rev. J. G. Widdifield, who conducted regular service at St. John's Episcopal church at Clinton, were present and took part in the service.

After the organ voluntary, Rev. C. M. Thompson, pastor of the church, explained that this was the first community service of the season here, and expressed his appreciation of the presence of so many. He told of the fine success of like services in Hudson, from which place he came here, and stated that every effort would be made to make the services here interesting — to make them the weekly community event. Inviting all singers to join the choir, he said one of the strong features of these services was the community singing.

A song service, led by the large choir composed of singers from the various churches, and in which old familiar hymns were sung, was followed by prayer by Dr. W. B. Hartzog, who was thus honored because of his length of service in the community. Rev. W. A. Rex read the scripture lesson, after which the offering was taken, Rev. Thompson explaining that the offering would be used for the community service, but any one that wished to make their regular offering by envelope could do so.

Announcements by the several pastors were then made. Rev. Rex announced that the next Community service would be held at the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening. It would be better than the first, because there would be two preachers. It would be a "Community Memorial" service in honor of Wilfred Orr, the first of Tecumseh's soldiers to fall in battle, and Rev. J. G. Widdifield would be the extra clergyman.

After the singing of hymn 416 Rev. Thompson began his sermon on the subject "The Church and Reconstruction," which he thought the message of the hour because we have now reached the important period of reconstruction after the war. It is a time when democracy is on the throne and kings on the scaffold. Some of the kings are deserving of the scaffold.

What shall be the part of the church in making democracy safe for the world? he asked. Has America democracy? Yes, in part, but it needs some reformation. England, France must see to it that their democracy is safe. It is up to Germany to adopt a republican form of government and the rest of the nations must help to make democracy safe for the world.

The church has an important part in this reconstruction work. The crisis did not end with the war. It is still on and will be on until democracy is safe. Some say the church has fallen down in her work during the war. This is not true; the church has been doing in part what she could. The ministers have been speaking out for the government, have preached conservation and asked people to stand by the government. Some say the Y. M. C. A. has been doing the church's work, but what is the Y. M. C. A.? It is the church in action. The Catholics have endeavored to do their part through the K. of C., by which that church is being represented at the front. The church has been doing her part nobly and has not fallen down.

Because science is responsible for the use of the deadly liquid fire and poison gas and other means of destruction, it has not fallen down. Diplomacy has not fallen down because it did not prevent the war. Treaties are not a failure because Germany considered her treaty with Belgium nothing but a scrap of paper.

There never was such an opportunity for the church in the world as now. If we want to know the source of leadership we must turn to the Master himself. There are three things for the church to do that the preacher pointed out especially—bind up broken hearts, open the eyes of the blind and give liberty to those that have been bound. There was never such an opportunity of binding up broken hearts as now. Old sayings of prophets and pious phrases from the Bible will not bind broken hearts. The church must do more; it is the duty of the church to prepare the way for the Lord. We must let God come into the life to bind broken spirits.

Jesus came into the world to open the eyes of the blind—not alone furnishing artificial but spiritual vision. Every church of God should be an interpretation house where men and women broken in spirit can be healed.

The Master said he came to give liberty to those that have been bound. The world has been bound, the church has been bound, men and women have been bound in sin. Jesus found the church bound hand and foot by traditions and customs. He broke the shackles of the church by presenting the truth. The churches should present the truth and release the people from bondage.

In closing Rev. Thompson spoke of the benefit of community services by bringing the people together, serving to bring unity in the work of the church. He also called attention to the fact that the Methodist Episcopal church is about to raise eighty millions of dollars for a forward movement here and abroad.

America, including the new verse, was sung and Rev. Edw. Escolme of the Friends church closed the service with a fervent prayer and benediction.

KILLED BY FALLING TREE

CHARLES BORTON MEETS TRAGIC DEATH

While Cutting Timber Near Brooklyn—Funeral Held Monday.

Chas. Borton, aged 39 years, a farmer living on the Heesen farm, two miles west of Tecumseh, met with a fatal accident Friday. With his son, Claire aged 17, he had begun on Thursday to cut timber for the government, being at work three miles east of Brooklyn. They had chopped one tree and in falling it smashed into another, breaking down the second which hit Mr. Borton, injuring him cruelly.

The young son seeing his father was badly hurt ran across the road to a field where two men were husking corn. One went to phone for a doctor and the other to the sufferer. Then they thought best to take him to Brooklyn and not wait for the doctor, but had only gone a short distance when Mr. Borton breathed his last. The body was taken into Brooklyn and Undertaker Service summoned. He brought the remains to the home and the funeral was held Monday afternoon, Rev. C. M. Thompson, of the M. E. church, officiating, with relatives for bearers. The body was laid to rest in the Adrian cemetery.

The family, who were originally from Ohio, came here from Rome Center only a year ago last spring, but have made many friends, who sympathize sincerely with the wife and seven children thus left alone. Besides the immediate family Mr. Borton leaves one brother, Herbert Borton, of Wauseon and two sisters, Mrs. Ella Clark and Mrs. Addie Dickerson of Toledo.

Present for the funeral were Herbert Borton, wife and daughter, Alfred Schaffer, Mrs. Samuel Borton, Dorra Barnes, Wauseon; Clarence Clark and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dickerson, Theron Gamble and family, Mrs. Chas. Reynolds, Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Borton, Morenci; Mr. and Mrs. Verdie Borton, West Unity, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Birdsey, Elmyra, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Borton, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Borton, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Borton, Chesterfield, O.; Dr. and Mrs. Cook, Fayette, O.; Glen Gamble, Kunkle, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Harley Turpeny, Loren Gamble, Swanton, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter McQuillan, Oliver Muir and family, Mrs. Effie Gamble, Ward Gamble and Geo. CAPT. HAWKES KILLED WHILE LEADING MEN

AUTHENTIC NEWS RECEIVED BY FATHER

Killed While Taking His Company Over the Top on October First.

While we regret to report the death of Captain Milburn Hawkes, son of George Hawkes of Tecumseh, we take pride in announcing that the death messenger came while he was gallantly leading his men over the top on October first. Thus the rumor of last week is substantiated by a letter written by Capt. Stevens, who also stated the captain was the first member of his company to fall. The captain was killed by a high explosive shell in the battle of Argonne.

As this news is received late this morning we will delay further particulars until next week.

FINEST SCHOOL IN MICHIGAN

SUCH REPUTATION TECUMSEH'S NEW BUILDING

Delegation Comes From Portland, Mich., at Instigation of Deputy State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Tecumseh's reputation as a live and up-to-dae little city is spreading each year as time goes by. The latest attraction that is receiving state-wide attention is our modern new school building.

Portland, Mich., at a recent fire lost its school building. As the state board of education must be consulted and plans for new buildings approved by that body, the Portland officials were advised to visit Tecumseh, where, they were told by Deputy State Superintendent of Public Instruction Munson, the finest school building in the state, size of town considered, would be found.

Following this advice a delegation of Portland citizens consisting of the superintendent of the Portland schools, A. C. Stitt, C. L. Crane, C. D. Tomy and their architect, Thos. E. White of Lansing, arrived here Monday and looked over our building. The inspection aroused the enthusiasm of the party, the building, with its sanitary plumbing, lighting fixtures and complete equipment. When informed by our Superintendent Reed that the attendance from rural districts had increased fifty per cent they were still more enthused, and the delegation returned home impressed with the idea that Tecumseh had a school building good enough for any town to be proud of.

While in the village C. L. Crane, a member of the visiting party, was the guest of his brother-in-law, Leroy Zimmerman. The party left Tuesday for Ypsilanti.

MEMORIAL FOR WILFRED ORR

COMMUNITY SERVICE SUNDAY EVENING.

In Honor of Tecumseh Boy Killed in World War—Service at Presbyterian Church at 7:00 O'clock.

Next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock will be held the first public memorial service for a Tecumseh man who gave his life for humanity sake in the world war struggle—Wilfred Orr.

The service will be held at the Presbyterian church, with Revs. W. A. Rex and Jas. G. Widdifield as speakers.

As this is the second of the community services to be held here everybody is invited to do honor to the young war hero.

Community singing will also be a feature of the service.

CHAS. J. VAN VALKENBURG

Editor of The News, Laurel, Ind., Passes Away.

The remains of Chas. J. VanValkenburg, editor of the Laurel, Ind., News, arrived on the evening train Tuesday from his home city and were taken to the home of his wife's mother, Mrs. Isaac Hendershott, near Macon, where the funeral is to be held this afternoon, with burial at the Macon cemetery.

Mr. VanValkenburg, who was a nephew of Amenzo VanValkenburg of this village, was brought up at Iron Creek, but after his marriage to Miss Ida Hendershott they lived on a farm near Tipton, also at Macon. A few years ago he bought the Laurel News and has since conducted it and Mrs. VanValkenburg, although caring for their five children, was a great help in the business. Mr. VanValkenburg was a victim of the influenza, with pneumonia developing, and his illness was short. His father, Randall VanValkenburg, is still living.

Mrs. VanValkenburg is well known in this locality and Macon, where she spent her girlhood. She taught school several years and was an efficient clerk at the Anderson dry goods store for some time, so she made many friends in all directions who sincerely sympathize with her and the five little people in their loss.

THANKSGIVNIG FOR PEACE AND VICTORY

INTERESTING SERVICE AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH

Singing of National Anthems and Triumphal Procession of the Colors

Beautiful with the flags of the Allies, "Victory" Sunday was appropriately observed at St. Peter's Episcopal church, and the service was also the opening one since the epidemic ban has been lifted.

The service opened as usual with the processional hymn and prayer. Then the British, French and American national hymns were sung by the vested choir, after which the triumphal procession took place. The choir, following the cross bearer, marched down one aisle of the church, through the hall and back to their position. Four young choir boys had the honor of carrying the four prinicpal flags of the Allies—Great Britton, France, Belgium and American. Prayers for the soldiers and sailors, wounded and fallen added to the appropriateness of the service.

Rev. Widdifield took his sermon text from Psalm 124—first, second and seventh verses—"If the Lord Himself had not been on our side, now may Israel say; if the Lord Himself had not been on our side, when men rose up against us; they had swallowed us up quick; when they were so wrathfully displeased at us. Our help standeth in the name of the Lord, who hath made heaven and earth."

This sermon was in the form of a thanksgiving for peace and victory. Today, said the preacher, we may see achievements that the world has never seen. There has never been such slaughter, and today we see the end of it. We should thank God that the slaughter has stopped. We should thank God that we were allowed to take part in the great struggle for humanity freedom. We should thank God for our boys over there — for the wonderful examples of their lives—and ask God's blessing upon those who have shown the world the greatest sacrifice. We thank God for those who were ready to make the sacrifice and are coming back greater men for the experience.

"God grant that none of us think we alone won the victory." said Rev. Widdifield, when he pointed to the fact that other nations had a great share therein.

While hostilities have ceased, the preacher said, we are not done yet. There are many sacrifices to make — material and spiritual sacrifices. We are still confronted with serious problems.

If the result of this war is not the end of all wars, victory will be tinged with defeat. We should ask for God's blessing upon those who will have charge of the world's affairs. We may look ahead and see a new world organization and to the time when nation will not be arraigned against nation.

The attendance at this service, although fairly good, was not as large as the patriotic nature of the same should warrant. The music of the choir was good and added to the interest.

Observance of the Holy Communion followed the sermon.

FOUR BANKS BECOME COUNTY DEPOSITORIES

HUDSON STATE BANK TAKES $20,000 AT FOUR PER CENT

Three Others Combine to Take Over Balance of County Funds at Three Per Cent—Tecumseh State Bank One of The Depositories.

Four county banks have been authorized as custodians of county moneys by the Lenawee county board of supervisors, and thereby hangs an interesting little tale. For years and years county funds have been deposited in Adrian banks and the county received no interest. The latter fact was brought before the board several years ago by C. M. Rorick of Morenci, at that time supervisor for Seneca township. He contended that the county should receive interest on its deposits the same as any other bank depositor, and a resolution was passed that the public funds should be left with the highest responsible bidder. Adrian banks growled some, but they came across with the interest and still kept the funds in the county seat.

At a recent session of the board of supervisors the Hudson State Savings bank sprung a surprise by offering four per cent for $20.000 of the county funds. This was too high a rate for Adrian banks and they also refused to take the balance of the funds at three per cent. Thereupon three other county banks—Tecumseh State Savings, Boies State of Hudson and First National bank of Morenci—got together and agreed to take the balance of the funds at three per cent, the money to be equally divided among them. A two years' contract with the four banks was thus made by the board of supervisors.

We understand that Adrian banks threaten to refuse to cash county orders, but they undoubtedly will see the wisdom of retaining the good graces of public opinion by not following such a course.

The county outside of Adrian has received a little recognition as far as the county's business is concerned, and we trust the goood work of distributing a little among other towns will continue. County newspapers and print shops are in line for such recognition.

Editorial Comment

"Well, this is the last time I'll have to pay this. The war is over." Such a statement has been made by a number as the last monthly subscription to the Lenawee County Patriotic League was made.

The war, as far as fighting is concerned, is undoubtedly over. Many of our boys will be coming home and many will remain abroad during the reconstruction period. Some will never return. While the fighting is over the war work by the home people is not completed by any means. Money is still needed—in fact more money than has been pledged is asked for. All over the country a great United War Work campaign was carried on the past week — November 11 to 18—to raise $170,500,000 for war work. There was no "drive" in Lenawee because the Lenawee County Patriotic League has assumed responsibility for all such funds. But the League needs every old subscription and many new ones to make up its quota. Tecumseh township must make good all old pledges and raise something like a thousand dollars in addition. Tecumseh will come up to her quota. Now that the boys are coming home we cannot afford to be slackers.

People visited by soliciting committees should not treat them as beggars, but remember that they are loyal enough to assume an unpleasant task in assisting in the raising of patriotic funds.

Some people have been heard to object to the United States government, or the people of our nation, to help feed Germany now that she is down and out. They want Germany to work out her own salvation — they'd just as soon see the people of that country starve to expatiate the inhuman crimes committed by the army.

After all the horrible butchery and destruction Germany is responsible for it will be difficult for many to entertain a spirit of forgiveness; it will probably be impossible for some, especially those who have lost noble sons in the conflict. But noble sons come from noble parents and all will in time see the light.

Should we fail to follow up the victory of the war with reconstruction work—should we fail in feeding starving Europe (Germany included) our victory would be in vain and the sacrifice of our boys useless. We went into this war to make a better world. To lick Germany was assuredly our first objective. She had to be licked to be made good. But the greatest object was to free humanity from tyranny—to free oppressed Germany from its autocratic rulers was one of the objects. The kaiser and his clique are gone, and good riddance of bad rubbish. The people who have been bamboozled so long and under an iron rule are freed. The burden of the results of the war now falls upon them—and a mighty heavy burden will it be. In their efforts toward a new government they are crying for food—they turn to America for help. Should America refuse? Should the people of America say No!

If we want a better world (and that we surely do) we must continue to take an active part in the important reconstruction work. We must help to bring order out of the terrible state of chaos now existing in Europe. We must prove absolutely that American Christianity and humanity is far superior to German kultur. America and her people will stand the test unflinchingly when the proper time comes.

It was quite encouraging to see such a large audience present at the first Community service given in Tecumseh last Sunday evening, and we feel more certain that our prophecy that the seating capacity of our churches will be inadequate within a few weeks stands a good chance of being fulfilled. Of course, the attendance was not so large when the population of the city is taken into consideration. On the contrary, the per centage was light. But Tecumseh has just emerged from the throes of an epidemic that left a number of homes afflicted. Then the night was a bad one, especially for people in the country and those who have been ill or have sick ones at home. But the scheme is going to be of benefit. People will touch elbows with each other and it is bound to broaden the community spirit.

It was announced at the Community service Sunday evening that the service next Sunday evening would be in the nature of a memorial service in honor of Wilfred Orr, the first Tecumseh boy to fall in battle in this war. We are pleased that at last our heroes rare to be honored. We have been a little slack in showing due respect for our returned soldiers and those that will not return. It wouldn't be any too early to begin now to make preparations to celebrate for the home coming of our boys from the front. If you have any respect for the young man who made the supreme sacrifice for humanity's sake, demonstrate it by your presence at the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening.

EDWARD L. RUSSELL

Prominent Tecumseh Man Dies at Jackson.

Edward L. Russell, a prominent Tecumseh man, died at the home of his son, Ellsworth Russell, at Jackson Friday afternoon, aged 87 years.

Mr. Russell had been in feeble health for several years, but the end came suddenly as he had been up and about the house only a few minutes before the summons came.

Edward Russell was born in Hartford, Conn., June 9, 1831, and came to Michigan with his parents and five other children when he was four years of age. They settled in Ridgeway, where he grew to young manhood. When 30 years of age he went to Centralia, Ill., where he had a position. It was while located there he came back for his bride, Miss Huldah Bangs. They remained in Illinois but four years, then returned to Michigan and settled on the Bangs farm, Mrs. Russell's birthplace, only two miles south west of town, and it was there they raised their family and Mrs. Russell died 22 years ago. By that time the older children had left the home nest and the death of the mother left alone the husband and youngest daughter, Almedia. They remained on the farm until thirteen years ago, when they sold the homestead and bought a pleasant place in town. Here they lived until the daughter married about year ago, and the father went to Jackson to stay a few months with his son.

During the larger part of his life Mr. Russell was active in the work of the Methodist Episcopal church, holding the office of treasurer for over five years. He had also been master of the Tecumseh Grange and was lecturer of that body many years. In his quiet way he made many friends and will be sincerely mourned in his church and the community which was so long his home.

Surviving he leaves two sons and three daughters: Ellsworth Russell of Jackson, Frank Russell of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Matie Scofield of Owosso, Mrs. Ida Kirkham of Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Almedia Carmichael of Indian Springs, Ind.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the son's home in Jackson and the remains were brought here Monday morning for burial. A short service was conducted at the grave by Rev. C. M. Thompson and many of his Tecumseh friends attended to do honor to the memory of this highly esteemed gentleman.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Russell of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Scofield of Owosso, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Irwin Carmichael of Indian Springs, Ind.; Ed Russell and family of Onsted, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bangs, Mr. and Mrs. George Bangs of Adrian, Mrs. Bert Boyd of Clinton and Oral Freer of Ridgeway.

A FORMER TECUMSEH GIRL

In Charge of the New York Office of the American Red Star Animal Relief Society

Mrs. Richard Hardy leaves Wednesday for New York, where she will be in charge of the office of the American Red Star Animal Relief society. She expects to return the early part of spring, when she will again take up the affairs of the local Humane society, of which she is the president. During her absence she has appointed Miss Daisy Barrett, president pro tem, and Miss Mary Rowles will be in charge of the office. W. J. Eddings will act as agent. All complaints and calls should be made to the office of the Humane society in the courthouse.

The above was clipped from a late Chattanooga Times and will be of interest to some of the friends here. Mrs. Hardy is a cousin of the Misses Jennie and Alice McCowan and only daughter of Daniel Soper, a former resident of Tecumseh, but now living on the side of Lookout Mountain.

A New Back for an Old One—How a Tecumseh Resident Made a Bad Back Strong.

The back aches at times with a dull indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Tecumseh citizen.

Mrs. P. A. Kelsey, W. Kilbuck St., says: "I had inflammation of the bladder and suffered from the irregular action of my kidneys. I had frequent cramps in my limbs. I used all sorts of medicines with little benefit. Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at Wright & Son's drug store, however, regulated my kidneys and relieved me of my trouble. BRITTON

BERT E. BACHMAN

Death of Young Man Shocks Community—Influenza Victim.

Another shock came to the people of this place and community when it was reported that Bert E. Bachman had succumbed to the dreaded disease, pneumonia, death occurring Sunday evening at the going down of the sun, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bachman, where he had come two weeks ago to spend the week end. He was taken ill with Spanish influenza while on his way here and this later developed into pneumonia with the above result. This is the first victim of this disease, which we have striven so hard to check and was one in which unusual efforts were put forth, but of no avail.

Mr. Bachman was born in Macon township, two miles north of town, July 1st, 1882, thus making him only 36 years of age, just in the prime of a life that seemingly is so full of promise. He was a man of sterling worth and character, loved and respected by all who knew him.

On Nov. 1st 1906 he was united in marriage to Miss Grace Smith of Dundee. After residing here for some time they moved to Dundee, where is now their home, although he has been doing government work for the past few weeks in Detroit, and by his frequent visits here seemed still like one of this place. He is survived by his wife, parents, one sister, Mrs. Viva Brown, and an aged grandfather, who feel as if the blow is really more than they can endure, as a sister, Mrs. Myrtie Hubbard, passed away only a few months ago. Mr. Bachman was a member of the Congregational church, the Good Fellows class and of the K. O. T. M. order at Dundee, and the Modern Woodman of this place, carrying insurance in these orders.

The funeral services were held Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at the house and were conducted by Rev. Prestige, of Dundee with burial at Ridgeway.

Britton Notes

Miss Bernice Underwood still continues ill.

Lewis Bachman left Monday to work in Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Davis were in Detroit Friday.

Miss Alice Boyd was home for a week end from Detroit.

Rev. Otto Halfaker was home Saturday evening and Sunday from Detroit.

A fine little girl arrived Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Kanous.

C. L. Lowe has been sick for the past week with an abscess, but is out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Exelby were here the latter part of the week from Monroe.

Mrs. Jas. Hindes visited Mrs. Geo. Chaplin in Tecumseh several days last week.

Mrs. Lucian Bannister, Mrs. E. L. Palmer, Miss Anna Smith and Frank Hoagland are ill.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Rozelle were here Sunday from Manitou Beach visiting at W. H. Swick's.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lister were over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lister in Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bugbee are entertaining Mrs. Hattie Owens of Adrian for a few days.

A number from here were in attendance at the church fair, held Friday evening in Ridgeway.

Erwin Smith has been here for several days from Dundee, assisting in the care of Bert Bachman.

The Misses Mary and Mabel Oliver spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Elsie Moorehouse in Toledo.

Byron Dean, who has been nursing Bert Bachman for the past week, returned Monday to Dundee.

M. D. Britton and wife were here the latter part of the week from Detroit visiting his father, John Britton.

The Christian church people will hold their annual fair and supper Friday evening in the church parlors. Everybody invited.

The mumps victims are Alice Taylor, Virginia Temple, Maxine Moreland, Leland Smith, Paul Palmer and Gerald Pocklington. Mrs. Ernest DuBois has recovered from her attack.

E. H. Oliver, Jas. Barlow, Mrs. Will Brisbin and Mrs. C. R. DuBois were in Grand Rapids the last of the week attending the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah sonventions. They report a fine time.

The M. P. church people held their fair and supper Thursday evening and went way "over the top" financially. A good time was also enjoyed. They are truly grateful for the liberal patronage of the public and to all who so generously contributed grain and other things that added so materially towards its success.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dettman entertained at the christening of their daughter a few days ago, Rev. Fred Schwede and family, Anna and Will Daisher of Macon and Miss Rosewitha Lenble of Petersburg. Rev. Schwede performed the christening ceremony and the little one received the name of Carma Rosewitha Dettman.

Our Boys Coming Home

Order Disbanding U. S. Forces

FIGHTING RAINBOW DIVISION TO BE FIRST FROM EUROPE

200,000 Soldiers to be Released From United States Cantonments—Rate of Demobilization to be 30,000 Daily.

General March has issued orders for the gradual demobilization of all troops in this country, and the various cantonments will be emptied to make room for the boys returning from over there. No more troops will be sent to Europe.

Rainbow Division to Receive First Honors.

Because of its unusual composition, General March said, and its brilliant record at the front, the forty-second (Rainbow division) will be given special consideration in demobilization plans. The purpose of the department was not outlined specifically, but the impression was gained that the division will be paraded in Washington before it is mustered out.

Steps already have been taken toward organization of the permanent army. All men now in the army have been or will be offered an honorable discharge from emergency enlistment and an immediate re-enlistment in the new forces. A furlough of one month, will be given as an incentive to re-enlistment.

It was announced that congress will be asked to give each man discharged from the army, regardless of whether he re-enlists, a bonus of one month's salary. General March pointed out also that all soldiers are entitled under law to wear their uniforms three months after discharge. This will make less difficult the immense task of supplying civilian clothing to the demobilized army.

Arranges for Officers.

Return of commissioned personnel of the army to civilian life, General March said, would be effected by dividing the present list of officers into three classes, those who desire commissions in the regular army, those who are willing to hold themselves available for future service as reserve officers and those who desire honorable discharge from the service.

Instructions have been issued to the army staff corps to carry out reduction in their commissioned and enlisted personnel lists, keeping pace with reduction of the line forces.

General Pershing has been directed to expedite complete casualty lists of his forces, showing names of every man killed or wounded or missing up to 11 a. m. November 11. General March would not hazard an estimate as to what the final total would be.

Division Will Return to Locality They Came.

Regarding the return of troops in France, General March said, the order in which the divisions will be withdrawn is being left to General Pershing. It is intention of the war department, however, so far as is practicable, to return each division to the locality from which the majority of its men came, and to parade the division in adjacent cities so that the people may have a chance to give fitting welcome.

Orders have been cabled to General Pershing to begin return at once of all casuals, sick and wounded, who can be moved, and convalescents. A steady stream of these men should begin immediately to cross the Atlantic.

Camps at home will be cleared out to prepare for return of the Expeditionary Forces and the general indicated that the process would be expedited. A unit of regular troops will be left at each camp to guard and police it, in preparation for arrival of the overseas units.

Home Demobilization Order.

Demobilization will be in the following order:

First, development battalion, 71 in number, and comprising 98,199 men.

Second, conscientious objectors not under arrest.

Third, spruce production division.

Fourth, central training schools for officers with some modifications.

Fifth, United States guards, now numbering 135,000 men.

Sixth, railway units.

Seventh, depot brigades.

Eighth, replacement units.

Ninth, combat divisions.

Enemy Held 5,738 Yanks.

Replying to a question as to the number of American prisoners in Germany, he said, official records up to October 15, gave the total as 5,738.

General March sketched the official line held by the Allied armies and the Americans along the west front when the fighting stopped. The front held by the First and Second armies at that hour measured 52 miles. Of the American force, General March said:

"It had reached its highest point of military excellence the day the fighting stopped and had endeared itself to the hearts of the American people."

Ports of the Atlantic coast from Boston to Charleston, General March said, are being organized to handle returning troops and it is possible that ports south of Charleston will be used.

The question of final disposition of the great cantonments is being studied, General March said, and no decision has been reached. New construction already has largely been stopped.

Home Fires

(Contributed.)

We are a people subject unto authority, and have respect for the lawmakers' creeds, and at the suggestion and under the inspiration of that sweet singer (whose voice our enemy silenced) we have "kept the home fires burning." But must we not admit that some of the fuel for those fires was supplied by hate? Haven't we been told to hate, to keep on hating, and hasn't there been brought to our notice and thrust upon our attention every hatable attribute of our foe? Was it not our duty to hate, and did we not mind the home fires a little more closely because our enemy could thus be beaten? That was only a few days ago, and now we are importuned to feed him, to love him, to help him build up his own "home fires" again although the countries he desolated are without hearthstones upon which to build theirs.

During the present month our patriotism was measured by the degrees of hate of which we were capable, and devout and reputable citizens considered it no profanity to display a card in a front window consigning our enemy's ruler to those sulphurous regions below, where the wicked are supposed to congregate after death, and "where the worm dieth not and the fire is not quenched." To display a motto of this kind was strong proof of the owner's loyalty.

What shall we do with these placards now, after we begin feeding him? Are we such an unstable and volitile people that we wish our enemy in hell on one week, and on the next stay his progress to those lower regions to feed him the bread that is needed for those children whose hands he has cut off, and whose mothers he has killed?

Somebody tell us what to do and we will do it. We follow bindly the leader who hurrahs loudest. We certainly have tended the home fires well. It is a long time since we have felt it right to take two lumps of sugar for our coffee, and we have spent money for thrift stamps which we wanted to spend for hosiery, and we are not compaining much when those in authority tell us it is a sin and unpatriotic to feast this year on Thanksgiving, our one Yankee holiday, and that there must not be much Christmas giving, and now some old fellow among the powers that be is trying to put the ban on a social cup of afternoon tea unless it shall form a part of our evening meal (we will warrant he never attended one of those functions or he would know that more information can be gathered there than in the evening paper) and so all our customary enjoyments must be eliminated that we may feed that enemy whom recently we consigned to hades.

This turning the other cheek so soon after the one has been smitten is a bit nauseating, and we shall have to adjust ourselves to the new attitude before we can understand "where do we go from here?"

The measure of our hate has been the measure of our patriotism for some time past and we can sympathize with a rural friend who, living some distance from a mail route, says that when he goes to town he does not know whether he is expected to "Hoch der Kaiser" or "Heraus mit him."

Commissioners' Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss. In the matter of the estate of Susan Chrysilda Arner, deceased.

Help The Fuel Administration!

The fuel administration is doing all it can to keep you warm next winter. But it needs your co-operation. If everyone does his share there will be no coal shortage—and there will be no discomfort. To get the most out of all coal used, every house should be properly equipped.

The Director of conservation of the fuel administration says:

"The National Fuel Administration realize that a large amount of coal can be saved by the installation of storm doors and storm windows," and advocates such installation as a patriotic duty.

STORM DOORS and WINDOWS

cut down coal bills from one-third to one-half—a saving that pays for their cost in one or two seasons.

But still more important, they increase the comfort of your house by eliminating cold floor drafts, by making it possible to keep the home warm during the severest weather, and by permitting perfect ventilation.

DO NOT DELAY! Place your order before the rush. Phone 57 and we will call, take measurements and tell you what the cost will be.

We also have a complete line of building material—and if you want to see some nice lump coal just drop down to the yard and look over our stock.

Masonic School of Instruction

HELD IN TECUMSEH WEDNESDAY

Adrian Confers F. C. Degree in Afternoon, Tecumseh Third in the Evening—Banquet.

Members of the Masonic fraternity enjoyed a good fellowship time Wednesday, when in the local temple was held a school of instruction under direction of Grand Lecturer Gilbert. Adrian, Clinton and Onsted lodges were represented.

In the afternoon Adrian lodge exemplified the F. C. degree, and the work was well done.

At 6:30 a splendid roast beef dinner was served, the attendance at which was so large that the seating of a second table was necessary. Either the viands were exceptionally good or the men had with them their appetites, for it resulted in a near clean up of everything eatable. Smokes were passed at the close of the feast. One hunrded ten were served, about 40 outside guests being present.

Lodge was again opened at the conclusion of the banquet when the local lodge exemplified the third degree, John Avery being raised to a Master Mason.

Tecumseh Lodge has such splendid quarters that visitors will brave bad roads and inclement weather to attend lodge and rub elbows with their fellows here. The club rooms are also an attraction and a fine place to chat and renew acquaintances.

MRS. HENRY J. STAHL

Wife of Former Tecumseh Undertaker Dies in Detroit.

Friends received word Tuesday evening that Mrs. Henry J. Stahl had passed away at 8 o'clock that night at her home in Detroit. In our last issue we made mention of her long serious illness so the news does not come unexpected to Tecumseh. Mr. Stahl was an undertaker in business with C. E. Williamson and later with Eugene Service for several years, going from here to Detroit about five years ago, where he has acted as superintendent at the Detroit Crematory. While here the couple were very popular, active in the Presbyterian church and Order of Eastern Star. Mrs. Stahl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Davis of Ithaca were former Tecumseh residents, also, and were relatives of the Goheen family.

The remains were to be taken to the Davis' home in Ithaca today and the funeral held there tomorrow, with burial at Ithaca.

Besides the husband and the parents are left a young son Neil and two brothers, one residing in Detroit and one at Ithaca. Mrs. Stahl's mother has been with her since last fall through all the long months of suffering.

PRESBYTERIAN ANNUAL MEETING

NEARLY $6,000 RAISED PAST YEAR

Excellent Reports for Fifth Annual Congregational Meeting—Minister's Salary Raised $600.

On Tuesday evening was held a meeting of the greatest importance to the Presbyterian Congregation and the whole town for that matter, which importance will be seen as you read. It was the annual congregational meeting of the church, the most important session of the church year. First the picnic supper served at 6:30 was no small affair, where little as well as big enjoyed themselves to the utmost and the people seemed of one great family.

The business session followed and here too the spirit of unity was evidenced all through. At the request of Don Cleveland, chairman of the board of trustees, John T. Boyce presided, and the session was opened by prayer by Rev. W. A. Rex, and reading of minutes of congregational meetings of year.

Joseph H. Smith, who has been treasurer of the church for 25 years and whose term as trustee expired that evening, to the regret of the church, gave his annual report, saying the church had raised during the year $3,375.46 for running expenses. His report of expenditures was complete, showing where the amount had been laid out to the last cent. In his budget of estimates for next year he advocated $2,000 for the pastor's salary, saying some city church would surely offer him more than that and if we wanted to keep him we would have to pay that amount, as his calls, both as to cost of living and patriotically, we all know, have been beyond the amount paid. The reverend gentleman and his estimable wife left just about that time as that sort of talk was getting rather personal, but the idea did not seem to need much discussion as there were no arguments against it brought forth and Mr. Smith's report and estimates were accepted unanimously.

A delegate found the pastor and brought him in for his report, which was in part as follows: Calls on members and others—23 patriotic addresses over the county; funeral services up to October 1st, the time for the annual meeting, 39; marriages, 5 (hoping for better things); members received, 33, making 117 people received into the church in his five years' pastorate; the supply work in the Macon and DeSpelder churches, with occasional preaching at Holloway. He reports over 400 members on the church books, and 24 non-members contributing. He also said that on his report, which he was to have read at the congregational meeting in October, which had to be postponed on account of the influenza ban, he was to have announced his candidacy for certain other churches, but in view of the kindness and appreciation of his people shown within the hour he had stricken such clause from his report. This report was accepted by a rising vote.

Reports from the different church organizations were given, each showing a larger work than in previous years.

Benevolences — R. M. Moiles, who reported $1,089.71 contributed.

Sunday school — Mrs. C. D. Beebe, with $696.19 contributed.

Ladies' Aid — Mrs. J. R. Nyland, with $523.30 contributed.

Missionary society—Mrs. E.H. Halladay, $71.71.

Westminster Guild—Mrs. R. B. Stuckey, $40.

Repair committee—James Lowry, $3,020.25 raised, with $8.37 still in fund.

The subject of apportionment of the new budget of $3,200 among the members of the church was discussed, and the suggested apportionment prepared by the trustees' session was accepted subject to such changes as personal conditions might make necessary.

New officers were elected as follows:

Trustees — Henry McClure, J. R. Nyland, R. B. Stuckey.

Elders — H. B. Tallman and Fulton McLain.

Treasurer of Benevolences—R. M. Moiles.

A rising vote of thanks was accorded the outgoing officers for their labors in behalf of the church, and the meeting closed with the benediction.

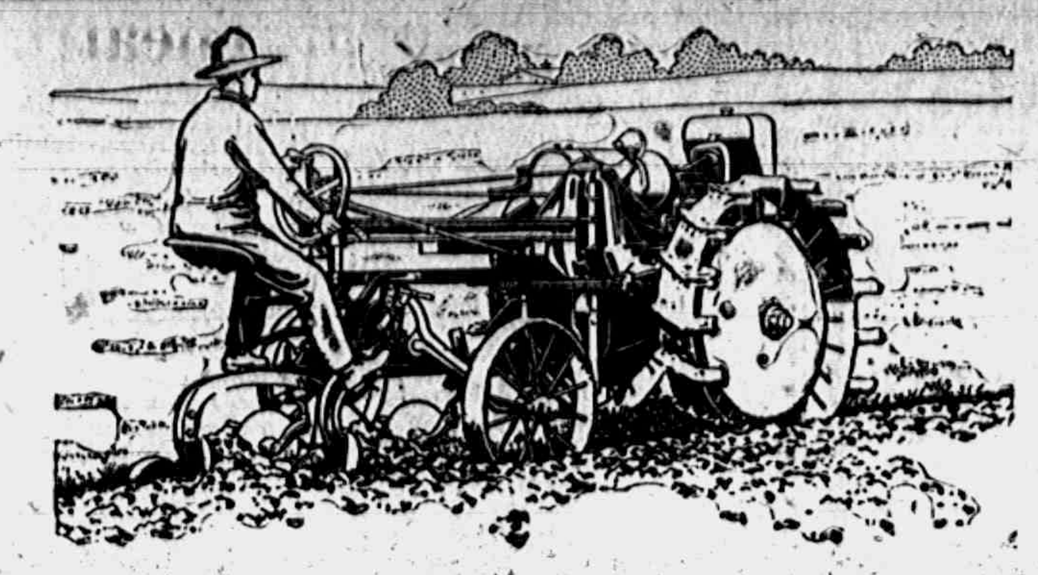
R. S. MOORE,

Successor to Moore Bros.



During the past few weeks we have been demonstrating the Moline Tractor on the following farms: Steve Machacek, Chas. Gunder, C. E. Kanitz, and Steve Olds all of whom are near Cone; Clyde Gauntlett, Edgar Forsythe, and Chas. Jordan, south of Saline, and Bidwell's Stock Farm at Tecumseh.

This tractor has created a great deal of interest, as in many cases it did work that owners of the farms stated was far beyond their expectations; for instance, plowing in stony fields, deep plowing over land that had already been plowed, and plowing on sides of steep hills.

The object of this work is that every neighborhood may see just what this tractor will do. Then when spring comes, there will be no question but that this tractor is 'the best all around tractor' to buy, not only for plowing, but it has a belt pulley that can be used on a cutter, feed grinder, or any power machinery you have.

The moline tractor is the only one-man tractor sold that can be used on any farm machine you now have, so one man can operate the same from the seat of the machine.

It is large enough to draw two fourteen inch plows, cutting thirty inches, at any depth you wish, yet light enough so as to be economical—used in place of horses as you can drive with it, where you can not drive with horses.

It is now a recognized fact that next season it is going to be a matter of getting tractors. Owing to the unusual demand, a great many farmers are realizing this fact and are placing their orders now for spring delivery in order to be sure of having one when they want it.

Before you consider any tractor, have a talk with the farmers mentioned above, or better still, go and see the work our Moline did.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Osborn and little Miss Elizabeth visited Mrs. Osborn's uncle, Sam Linton, and wife in Detroit from Saturday to Monday.

Thursday, November 28, being a legal holiday the postoffice will be closed with the exception of one hour, from 10 to 11 a. m. There will be no city or rural deliveries.

Richard V. Wilson, who had been acting as substitute mail carrier since the illness and death of Burton Hall, has received the appointment and is now the regular city carrier for Uncle Sam.

Tom W. Mingay believes in keeping the equipment at his job office up to the top notch. He has just installed a 10x15 Golding jobber and a splendid new cutter, a 30-inch Perrless Gem with front lever and interlocking gauge.

The Order of Eastern Star met in regular session Thursday evening. Associate Matron May Mobbs gave her report of the proceedings of the Grand Chapter held in Grand Rapids. Following the business session, the degree was exemplified with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sturtevant of Britton and Mrs. James Johnston, the candidates. Later lunch was served by Mrs. R. B. Gillespie's committee.

Mrs. Will Stewart received word Sunday of the death of her cousin, Hollis Koebbe, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Koebbe of Macon. The young man, who was but 21 years of age, had been working for a year in the submarine chaser part of the Ford plant at Detroit and Sunday morning while at work, fell a distance of fifty feet, killing him instantly. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart attended the funeral which was held at the home in Macon Wednesday.

Earl Becker is an employee at the Lilley State bank.

Mrs. Ella Flager left on Saturday for Everett, Mich., where she had been called by the illness of her daughter.

The Herald will go to press Wednesday forenooon and observe Thanksgiving day on the regular publication day.

Mrs. Albert Deming and children have been confined to their beds with the "flu" since Friday. Albert is some nurse, bringing them all out nicely.

Hoyt Whelan and family have moved from Tipton and are nicely settled in their new home which they recently bought of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore. Mr. Whelan begins work December 1st in the implement department of the Co-operative association.

George Hawkes went into Detroit Monday to see some officers who have recently returned frm France to see, if he can get authentic proof of the death of his son, Capt. Milburn Hawkes, whom a Detroit paper reported as killed in action. Neither he or Mrs. Milburn Hawkes have received any official dispatch.

Next Thursday, Thanksgiving day, is a legal holiday. In compliance with President Wilson's Thanksgiving day proclamation The Herald will be printed on Wednesday and the office will be closed all day Thursday to allow the force to fittingly observe the day. Advertisers are requested to have copy ready not later than Tuesday and if possible Monday. Correspondents please send letters in one day earlier.

The reason some of the letters of correspondents have not appeared in these columns is because they arrived late in this office. To have our papers delivered Thursday, the forms must go to press on the morning of that day. We would like more correspondents and very much desire one from Holloway; also Sutton and Raisin Center. Please let some one volunteer.

Thanksgiving Day Proclamation by President Wilson

It long has been our custom to turn in the autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for his many blessings and mercies to us as a nation.

This year we have special and moving cause to be grateful and rejoice. God has in his good pleasure given us peace. It has not come as a mere cessation of arms, a mere relief from the strain and tragedy of war. It has come as a great triumph of right.

Complete victory has brought us, not peace alone, but the confident promise of a new day as well in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among nations.

Our gallant armies have participated in a triumph which is not marred or stained by any purpose of selfishness. In a righteous way they won immortal glory and have nobly served their nation in serving mankind.

God indeed has been gracious. We have cause for such rejoicing as revives and strengthens in us all the best traditions of our national history. A new day shines about us, in which our hearts take new courage and look forward with new hope to new and greater duties.

While we render thanks for these things, let us not forget to seek Divine guidance in the performance of those duties, and Divine Mercy and forgiveness for all errors of act or purpose and pray that in all we do we shall strengthen the ties of friendship and mutual respect upon which we must assist to build the new structure of peace and good will among the nations.

Wherefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the 28th day of November, next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease upon that day from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship to render thanks to God, the ruler of nations.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done in the District of Columbia, this 16th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-third.

Woodrow Wilson.
By the President:
Robert Lansing,
Secretary of State.

AUCTION!

Farmers contemplating Auction Sales cannot afford to hold same without placing their sale before the readers of The Tecumseh Herald.

The sale must be properly advertised to make it the best success. How extensively such sale should be advertised depends upon the grade of stock to be disposed of. If you have high bred stock—stock that is in universal demand—advertise it big, for $1.00 spent in advertising will earn from $50 to $100. If one dollar spent in advertising will earn you two you would be foolish to pinch that dollar.

If you have nothing to offer that will draw persons from other counties and states, you would be foolish to pay an exhorbitant price for a circulation that did not benefit the sale.

Advertising rates in The Herald are not high and a good sized space is bound to bring results, because The Herald circulates over a territory immediately adjoining Tecumseh and covers that field better than any other one newspaper.

YOU CAN ADVERTISE YOUR AUCTION SALE WELL AND CHEAPLY BY USING THE COLUMNS OF THE TECUMSEH HERALD. TRY IT.

SUFFERINGS OF ITALY

TOLD IN LETTER FROM CHAS. HURRY, TECUMSEH BOY.

Wonderful Work of Surgeons in Rebuilding of Men Horribly Wounded in War—Italy's Sacrifice.

The following letter from Charles D. Hurry was received at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters at New York city and a copy sent here to his mother, Mrs. B. Hurry, who kindly allows us to print the same:

September 27, 1918.

Viva Italia!

Every qualified man between 18 and 44 is mobilized; the nation has already lost over half a million killed, wounded and prisoners. She is holding back the enemy along a vast line of the most difficult snow-capped mountain passes, and has overcome their dangerous offensive.

Women and children are doing much of the work in factory and vineyard and farm and are cheerfully foregoing the luxuries and many of the necessities of life. In June and July olive oil could not be obtained, one pound of meat per person is allowed; sugar mixed with saccharine costs 30 cents a pound; coal which, before the war, retailed at $5.00 a ton now costs over $100.00 a ton, and for a small cake of inferior soap one must pay 50 cents. Butter is positively not on the market and milk costs 30 cents a quart. The use of automobiles by civilians is absolutely prohibited and no woman is allowed to ride in any automobile without special permit.

The extent and intensity of the suffering of these people can best be appreciated by visiting the hospitals and convalescent homes. In Florence there are 60 hospitals; Bologna has seventy and the achievements of the government in modern surgery and the re-education are beyond all praises. Faces that were disfigured beyond recognition have been restored; the crippled are enabled to walk and the blind to see. I asked one young fellow who limped toward me in a certain hospital how long he had been there. "Twenty-six months," he replied. And the nurse explained that his leg had been literally shot to pieces, but under the marvelous skill and care of the surgeon he is now beginning to walk.

In exchange for well fed, able bodied prisoners, the enemy is returning to Italy the most horrible wrecks of humanity. I saw 250 of these poor fellows get out of a Red Cross train the other day. They are walking skeletons, but they are given a cordial welcome by the authorities. As I stood in the presence of 15 of the feeblest of these returned prisoners in a hospital where they are stripped and bathed and given clean clothing, I noticed that two were dying. Another was lifted up and we asked him the following questions: How much did you weigh before the war? 180 pounds. Now? 45 pounds. What did you have to eat? A pound of bread a day for 15 of us and a little thin soup. What was your work? Carrying munitions, 18 hours a day; we were whipped if we refused to work.

The major in charge of this hospital told me that 25 per cent of these men already have tuberculosis and others will doubtless soon contract it. We could not keep back the tears as we saw these pitiful objects and heard their story. Those that were able to walk filed past us one by one and saluted. I returned the salute with a smile, but in my heart there was a sense of shame and regret that I can do so little for a people that is bearing our cross. The chastisement of our peace is upon them. Viva Italia!

Interesting Experiences Related in Letter—Camping by the Road Side Gives Plenty of Fresh Air.

Sunday, Nov. 10, 1918.

Our first night camping—will I ever forget it! Never since my earliest recollection was I so cold, not even last January during the big blizzard. Talk about fresh air! I have had enough to last me ten years. It got me at every angle and I couldn't get warm. I don't think that I slept an hour all night.

We camped about two miles out of the town of Waupeketa, not far from Lima. About three o'clock in the morning the whistles began to blow, bells ringing, and of all the rackets I didn't mind much because there was something else to think about. The young southerner who is going through with us sat up on his cot and said: "I'd sure love to know what the devil they're all fussing about." We got up. We couldn't sleep. Do you remember the wild whistle that used to be down at the water works, when G. C. Arner used to start it going and go to sleep and forget it? Well, they have that same kind of whistle in Waupeketa, and it was still going when we left that town at 8 o'clock. We learned there what all the racket was about.

The next town we stopped at was Sidney. There we learned the kaiser and suite had escaped. Every bell in that town was ringing. Did not stay there very long, they were entirely too musical.

Our next stop was Piqua. Such a time as they were having!—street parade, horns blowing, bells ringing, whistles blowing. A favorite way these people had of making noise was fastening old wash boilers, lard cans, tubs, anything that would rattle, behind their cars and let them drag on the pavement. It sure made the racket.

Our next town was Troy. Here we met another parade — men, women and children. Arrived in Dayton at 12:30 and we again got mixed up in a parade. I don't think I ever saw such a mob. Police had no authority, and we got out at the first opportunity.

At Cincinnati we drove on back streets because we could not get through main street. Went over into Kentucky and, do you know, not a hotel in Covington, and we would not sleep out doors another night when it was cold. I rather think I was disappointed because I didn't catch cold, but I didn't; never even a sniffle.

We drove on to a town called Florence and there we found a place where they kept stragglers, but, oh! such a time. The man and his wife were in the midst of a big fight. We were glad to get to bed. In the morning everything was lovely, but we didn't stay for breakfast, we drove to the next town.

I think the man who wrote the song, "The Long Trail Winding," must have driven through part of Ohio and a part of Kentucky, for surely they do wind at some places, for one could almost reach across and shake hands with the fellow on the other road. We stopped at a farm house the next night—camped in their yard.

At 3:30 next day we were in Louisville, Ky. If you could imagine Maiden Lane in Tecumseh as main street, you will have some idea how wide their main street is. Camped that night one mile out of Fern Creek, and at 9:40 next morning we were in Bardstow. About half a mile out is the place where the song "My Old Kentucky Home" was written. Went out and saw the place. The house is a young fort. Also in this town is a Catholic church that has been built 102 years. It sure is a beautiful place.

Our next stop was Hodgeville, the home town of Abram Lincoln. It is a funny old town — court house and statue of Lincoln in the center of the town. About three miles out is the Lincoln farm, where the memorial building covering the old log cabin stands. That is where we are now. The keeper gave us permission to camp here for the night. So will say good-night to you.

Mrs. Lowe.

INTERESTING PIONEER RELICS

FOUND IN THE HOUGH MILLINERY BUILDING

Evidently Was the Property of Olmsted Hough—Journal of Michigan Senate of 1837—Clinton Railroad Celebration in 1854.

A number of interesting relics of Michigan pioneer days were found in the building occupied by Miss Hough as home and millinery parlors by H. W. Stevens, who kindly brought them to this office for inspection. The relics were at one time the property of Olmsted Hough.

Among them was a bound copy of the journal of the Michigan senate of 1837. As this journal reported the meeting as an adjourned session, this evidently was not the first of its kind published. However, it was the year when Michigan became a state of the union. Mr. Hough was a member of the senate at that time.

Another document carefully preserved was issued from the county clerk's office February 19, 1848, and was as follows:

"O. Hough, Esq.

"Sir you are hereby notified that the drawing for jurors for the ensuing term of Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee will take place at the office of the County Clerk on Tuesday the 22 inst. at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

"Respectfully yours,
"Chas. M. Croswell,
"Deputy County Clerk."

An invitation to the Clinton railroad celebration, issued December 28, 1853, was addressed to Mr. Hough. The invitation contained a picture of a locomotive and train and the following:

"Sir: The citizens of Clinton and vicinity respectfully invite you to attend the railroad celebration to be held at Clinton on Monday, January 2d, 1854, to partake of their hospitality and join in the festivities of the occasion.

"In behalf of the citizens.

"F. S. Snow,
Daniel Hixson,
Josiah Dearborn,
Charles Chandler,
H. M. Dayton,
Calvin Wood,
Samuel B. Rose,
Edwin Smith,
Committee of Arrangements."

A pocket map of Lenawee county published in 1898 was also among the relics, and a number of newspapers published in 1850, 1857, 1859 and 1865. Three of the newspapers were copies of the Detroit Free Press, at that time a thorough Democratic paper.

Fifteen Million Tons of Shipping

Building 15,000,000 tons of shipping is the big job laid out for American Shipyards. It will take years to do this. Men working in shipyards are assured of steady jobs if they make good. This great fleet of ships must be built. The United States is going to become the first maritime nation of the world.

We need men accustomed to out-of-doors work to help us build ships. The pay is set by the Emergency Fleet Corporation under direct Government control, and is higher than ever before in the history of the industry. Do not hesitate because you have never worked in a shipyard before. We will train you for some good job and will pay you well while you are learning.

It will take us years to build our share of 15,000,000 tons.

A shipyard is the ideal place to make good money this winter. Get in touch with us, either by calling at yard or by writing to us immediately. Some of our best jobs are open right now. Great Lakes Engineering Works, River Rouge and Detroit, Mich.—Adv.

Why Putter With Corns? Use "Gets-It"

Common-Sense, Simple, Never Fails.

You can tear out your corns and suffer, or you can peel off your corns and smile. The joy-peeling way is the "Gets-It" way. It is the only happy, painless way in the world. Two drops of "Gets-It" on any corn or callus dries at once. The corn finally loosens off from the toe, so that you can peel it off with your fingers in one piece, painlessly, like peeling a banana. "Great stuff, wish I'd done that before." There's only one corn-peeler—"Gets-It." Toes wrapped up big with tape and bandages, toes squirming from irritating salves, it's all a barbarity. Toes wounded by razors and knives, that's butchery, ridiculous, unnecessary, dangerous. Use "Gets-It," the liberty way—simple, painless, always sure. Take no chances. Get "Gets-It." Don't be insulted by imitations. See that you get "Gets-It."

"Get the Drop" on That Corn—Use "Gets-It" and the Corn Is a "Goner"!

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

Sgt. Ernest Burdette to His Father, Eugene Burdette

France, Oct 20, '18.

Dear Father:

Here is where I have the pleasure of writing a few lines to you again. It is just 6:30 and I finished my supper only a few minutes ago. Reckon you are just about having dinner as old Phoebus left here some two hours ago traveling as though his chariot wheels were well oiled.

Since coming across I often think of all that vast surface of water the sun shines upon every day, of the width of the land of Old Glory, of the Great Pacific over which the sunbeams are wont to frolic each day, the land of the Japs, all of Asia, and what is more, the land of the greatest foe to despotism lies in that latitude, and yet the sun never fails in making its rounds. Let's see, I better take that back. If the sun ever started to move, I am thinking a Peace would be made such as would last through all ages. At any rate, I mean to say that the Old Mother Earth looks vastly larger to me since we left the great Statue of Liberty and started climbing the Watery Hill.

Pa, I believe I never mentioned the fact, but from the time one leaves land it seems as though he was ever in a big round depression of the surface and ever trying to climb up the side. Never until we saw land did that impression leave me. May say too, that it doesn't seem as though one sees more than 1,000 yards distant but am informed that one can see 12 miles with the naked eye on the ocean.

Well, maybe I better write more concerning the present as I touched on most of the subject of the past that might be of interest in my former letters. May say I was in a French cemetery today for the first time.

Three weeks ago today Ed and I were up in that tower and down in the dungeon; two weeks ago we were over to that cave; a week ago, we went to see a certain large bridge and town I wished to see; and today that cemetery. Hardly know what we can go to see next Sunday. Here is to the time when it may be Berlin!

Oh, Yes! as regards the cemetry, it seems that monuments like ours are not used but in their stead large crosses made of wood or frequently of material like our markers are used. These are all ornamented with wreaths, flowers, images of Christ and angels and of the apostles arranged in a beaded background. On the whole, millions of beads might well be found on many a lot I am thinking. The more wealthy, as I believe have vault-like affairs under ground and by merely raising the slab covering, another body may be laid to rest just over the others of the family.

By the way, maybe I better tell you a little about the pleasure I had last evening. A certain detachment of about 18 or 20 were located about three kilometers from here on the premises of a certain baron and baroness and, as they had recently received orders to move, today they celebrated last evening to some extent. Ed being located there to give all the medical assistance he could when necessary, they got to know me and so invited me over to enjoy the occasion.

May say the B. and B'ss had furnished chicken for the supper propr and there were joined a and after the dinner (supper) we were invited into the chateau proper and were joined a little later by the baron and baroness, also a countess and enjoyed a good sing. Darn, if they didn't get me cornored so that I up and had to locate "Middle C." Well, it wasn't like being home, but I enjoyed it all very much for being in France.

The chateau and grounds are grand, and well, of all the stablemen, gardeners, nurses, etc.! Anyhow, a plain Mr. and Mrs. in the U. S. A. will answer for my desire when that time ever comes if it does(?) Never mind gray hair is considered becoming.

I was over to a "Y' room now located in our vicinity last Thursday and, say, but it did seem good. Music, reading material good speeches and kind "Y" secretaries are prevalent.

By the way, the Red Cross is here in our barracks bags with us in the form of sweaters, helmets, socks, etc., and at any time when their work is mentioned in your presence, you may extend my most sincere wishes for a great and prosperous future. The work of many of our societies has proved its worth from time to time and often most constantly as it never had before and it behooves all to join in the spirit and up-keep of these great aids toward the setting up of democracy univerally.

Here is hoping I hear from you again soon, although I understand our section is not to receive any mail to speak of for at least another week.

Received only one letter last week, a dandy you may know, but very little arrived last week.

Now, take care of yourself and write real often, as this particular boy loves to get your letters.

Best wishes to all inquiring friends.

FARMERS LEARNING TO MAKE USE OF U. S. LOAN AGENCY

Allegan Association Plans Borrowing Large Sums of Uncle Sam for Agriculturists.

East Lansing, Mich.—Farmers in Allegan county are setting the pace in Michigan as borrowers from Uncle Sam under the national farm loan act, according to a report filed with the Michigan Agricultural college. With the assistance of their county farm bureau, Allegan county farmers have completed the organization of their second farm loan association and have already approved applications for the borrowing of $52,000.

Appraisal of the property of farmers desiring to take advantage of the federal farm loan plan is being conducted by a committee of Allegan county men, acting with the appraiser of the Federal Land Bank.

Allengan's two associations, in bringing about the organization of which the Allegan county farm bureau and agricultural agent played a big part, have been named the Allegan Farm Loan association and the Ganges and Western Allegan association. The two organizations reach over the entire county.

ONIONS NEED AIR

Ventilation Protects Them From "Neck Rot."

East Lansing, Mich.—If farmers and commission men holding onions in stoarge will see to it that their stores of this lachcrymal crop are efficiently ventilated, the disease called onion neck rot can be controlled, assert plant pathologists of the Michigan Agricultural college. The trouble is one which annually causes much shrinkage in the crop.

"Bruising, which comes from topping immature onions, opens the way for infection," a bulletin from the department of botany declares. "The chief contributing factors in onion rot are humid conditions in the storehouse. A properly constructed storehouse, with careful attention to ventilation, will bring a crop through safely.

"In 1915 some storehouses in southwest Michigan lost almost every onion stored, leaving not even enough for a seed plot. Such occurrences show the problem is a serious one. Rotting in storage must be combatted by keeping a close watch on storage conditions."

Store Vegetables in Right Way and Avoid Waste.

Sweet potatoes may be kept until January if cleaned, dried and packed in chaff so that they will not touch one another.

Potatoes are kept without difficulty in a cool, dry and dark place. Sprouts should not be allowed to grow in the spring.

Carrots, parsnips and turnips, etc., remain plump and fresh if placed in earth or sand-filled boxes on the cellar floor.

Pumpkins and squash must be thoroughly ripe and mature to keep well. They should be dried from time to time with a cloth and kept, not on the cellar floor, but on a shelf, and well separated.

Cabbages should be placed in barrels, with the roots uppermost.

Celery should be neither trimmed nor washed, but packed, heads up, in long, deep boxes, which should then be filled with dry earth.

Tomatoes may be kept until January if gathered just before frost, wiped dry and placed on straw-covered racks in the cellar. They should be firm and well-grown specimens, not yet beginning to turn. As they ripen they may be taken out for table use, and any soft or decaying ones must be removed.

Apples, if for use during the autumn, may be stored in barrels; but if they are to be kept until late winter or spring they must be of a variety known to keep well and they must be hand-picked and without blemish or bruise. They should be wiped dry and placed with little crowding on shelves in the cellar. As a further precaution they may be wrapped separately in soft paper.

Pears may be kept for a limited time in the same way, or packed in sawdust or chaff, which absorbs the moisture that might otherwise cause molding.

Oranges and lemons are kept in the same way. Wrapping in soft paper is essential, as the uncovered skins if bruised offer good feeding ground for mold. Oranges may be kept for a long time in good condition if stored where it is very cold but where freezing is not possible. Lemons and limes are often kept in brine, an old-fashioned household method.

Cranberries, after careful looking over to remove soft ones, are placed in a crock or firkin and covered with water. A plate or round board placed on top and weighted serves to keep the berries under water. The water should be changed once a month.

Printer's ink makes people think if used in proper doses in in this paper.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Spalding entertained the following Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hazzard, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schwyn of Riga, and Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Spalding.

There will be services at the M. E. church next Sunday morning at 10:30 with Sunday school at at 11:30. The Helping Hand has postponed their fair and chicken pie supper which was to have been held this week until a later date.

The remains of Clarence Lloyd Bailey who died Nov. 8th at Camp Eustis, Va., arrived here last Wednesday and were taken immediately to Tipton cemetery where a large number gathered to pay their last respects to the departed one. Rev. C. H. Brewer of Willis spoke a few well chosen words and the K. of P's of which the deceased was a member conducted services at the grave.

Metallurgy experts sent to Cortez, Colo., by the government are testing a new mineral that promises to revolutionize the making of iron castings. Large deposits of the mineral have been found in the Ute mountains, 18 miles from Cortez, in the southwest corner of the state. Government tests were started in the hope of perfecting a casting that will turn a bullet and be of inestimable value in the manufacture of guns and ship armor.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anaemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain. The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

℞ Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anaemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

Frosted Potatoes Make Good Starch.

Frosted and decayed potatoes have been found in trials conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture to be entirely capable of producing acceptable and frequently normal yields of clean, white starch of good quality. Much of this material appears to possess a potential value for the production of sizing starch approximating that of the stock at present used for this purpose. The mechanical difficulties in recovery from decayed pulp are sometimes greater and sometimes less than from normal stock. Modified procedure adapted to these abnormal pulps doubtless could be devised, department specialists say, but there seems to be no reason why the present method might not be applied profitably in the meantime in the production of sizing starch in factories at the large shipping centers installed to utilize the great quantities of frozen and decayed potatoes arriving during the fall and winter. This would turn to profitable account large supplies at present without value, but which are a serious burden of expense since to their cost of production must be added transportation and dumping charges.

Protect the Children.

Children are as likely to get the grip and influenza as grown-ups. Foley's Honey and Tar gives quick relief from all kinds of coughs colds, croup and whooping cough; covers raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing coating; clears air passages, checks strangling, choking, coughing. Contains no opiates. Sold everywhere in Tecumseh.—adv

Conservation Program

FOR PUBLIC EATING PLACES

We cannot afford to relax in food conservation, because all that can be saved will be needed. Nothing could be more dangerous than to assume our position is safe. We must emphasize to all of our people the necessity of the utmost effort in saving from this year's harvest and building up food reserves. The tremendous responsibility of accomplishing this rests, to a great extent, upon the retail merchant. Will you do your part?

NINE million people in America take their meals in hotels and other public eating houses. It is there that in the past habits were often most luxurious. It is there that in 1918 the advance was made in the wheat-saving campaign, by which the collapse of Europe was prevented.

It is there that the first point of departure is taken in the new conservation campaign.

The success of the former campaign shows that no rationing system is needed beyond the voluntary agreement and the control of the law for those few who may be wanton or extravagant.

By the new rules, the hotels are to set a new mark in economy of food, avoiding all waste, saving all scraps, reducing their portions to the needs of public health and strength.

HELP WANTED! HELP WANTED!

There are so many details in presenting the people with a newsy and neat appearing newspaper that the publisher is actuated to make the above call.

Advertisers like to have their announcements attractively displayed. To get this result there are two things necessary—time for the compositor to take some pains and time to arrange advertisements and news matter in presentable form—what printers call "good make-up."

If copy is withheld until the day of or the day before publication the work becomes congested and everything has to be hurried, because it is absolutely necessary to take care of late news to make a successful paper.

Bring in copy Monday if possible and not later than Tuesday to get the best service.

People having news bring or phone same to office as soon as possible.

Such co-operation will give Tecumseh the best small city paper in the state.

THE BOYS ARE COMING HOME!

The order for disbanding United States troops has been given and the boys will soon be coming home.

If you have a son, brother or sweetheart over there you will want to welcome him home right. You will want the home to which he is coming bright and attractive. You will wish to entertain him so the home life will appeal to him stronger than ever.

A Victrola

will add to the cheerfulness of the home more than anything else you can place in it. It will entertain the returned soldier with the best musical selections—real reproductions from famous artists. It will furnish you a dance orchestra if you wish to celebrate his return in that manner.

Taking everything in consideration, can you afford to be without one of these high class machines in your home? You can buy one on terms.

Order must be in by Dec. 15 to assure delivery for Christmas.

BUSINESS CHANGE

O. J. MARSH RETIRES AND SELLS STOCK

Garlinghouse Garage Purchases Gasoline Pump and Portion of Supplies — Improvements at Garage.

O. J. Marsh has concluded to close out the stock of supplies of the United Supply company and has accepted a position with the Garlinghouse garage as salesman.

The visible gasoline curb pump, one of the best in the market, and a portion of the accessories and supplies have been purchased by the Garlinghouse garage, and the final disposition of the remainder of the stock will be announced later.

Mr. Garlinghouse is about to put in a fine improvement at his garage. The new pump will be stationed in front of his garage and he has obtained permission from the village council to put in a block of concrete pavement in front of his business place, the pavement to extend to the middle of the street and about sixty feet north and south. This will be a splendid convenience for the patrons of the garage, especially during the muddy season.

The community spirit of the Waldron district was shown in all its loving kindness on Monday for the family of Chas. Borton. A large circle of relatives came to attend the funeral and the neighborhood women entertained them at the home of Mrs. Will Waldron getting dinner for 43 and supper for 10.

On Friday, November 29, at 2:30 p. m. will be held the praise meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary society. There will be an address by the pastor and special music, with the latter being a solo by Mrs. Ed Heilman. The report of the delegate to the Synodical meeting will also be given at this meeting. The members are not to forget their special praise offering.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Peter's church met Tuesday at the parish house for their regular monthly meeting and despite the disagreeable weather there was present a good attendance. A number of business matters were attended to and plans discussed for the work of the Woman's Auxiliary were talked over. A meeting will be held Tuesday, December 3, when stereopticon views of the work being done by the auxiliary will be shown.

The Detroit Sunday Free Press contained two photos of special interest to Tecumseh people. In a group of three officers, seated before a tent in France was Captain Milburn H. Hawkes, son of George Hawkes of this place. Captain Hawkes and one companion, Captain Charles Learned made the supreme sacrifice, being killed in action. The other member of the group, Lieut. Wm. S McAllister was badly wounded. In another section of the Sunday edition was an excellent photo of Sergt. Earl B. Rector.

The remains were taken to the home of the young lady's sister, Mrs. Howard Luce, east of Tipton, where the funeral was held this forenoon at 10 o'clock with burial at Tipton. The deceased was the daughter of Mrs. Eugene Smith, who resides in Franklin.

The publisher is very well pleased with this week's issue of The Herald. The news columns represent church and social activities of our city in such an extensive manner that subscribers receive good reading. The advertising columns represent the business activities of the town and more merchants this week are talking to the public than heretofore—a fact that makes the paper more valuable to the subscribers, for they are interested in what merchants have for sale. If the improvement continues Tecumseh will have the best newspaper in Michigan, size of town considered, and a good newspaper makes a town famous.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Norris received a message Monday stating their son, First Lieut. Walter E. Norris has been promoted to the rank of captain. Capt. Norris went to France last December in the supply department of the medical corps. He always lived in this vicinity until he reached man's estate and is well known and highly respected. The Tecumseh people are proud of his advancement and are looking forward to the time when he and his wife can pay another visit to the home town.

Mrs. E. J. Haines has been in Toledo yesterday and today visiting her sister, Mrs. Joseph Shauteau, who is very ill.

There will be a regular meeting of the Pythian Sisters, Wednesday evening, Nov. 27, at 7:30 o'clock. This is the first meeting since the ban was lifted, and it is hoped there will be a good attendance.

W. B. Keyser and daughter, Ethel, who drove to Jackson Sunday for a visit in that city and at Cement City, returned home yesterday. Mr. Keyser states that the best road he passed over coming home was the Monroe turnpike from the town line to Tecumseh, although the state road from Jackson to Brooklyn was not bad.

The Presbyterian Sunday school held a sort of second Rally Day Sunday morning with a splendid attendance. Varying the program was a delightful song service conducted by Mrs. Bessie Mitchell, the reading of "Your Flag and My Flag" by H. W. Stevens and "The Star Spangled Banner" sang by Little Miss Elizabeth Chance of Baltimore.

The War and Post Office departments have issued an order extending the mailing date for the Christmas packages to November Christmas packages to Nov. 30th. It was also made provision for the sending of Christmas parcels to those boys in service from whom no coupon has been received. It is necessary for his next of kin to make application to the representative of the Red Cross (Rev. J. G. Widdifield) for an official coupon, stating that he or she if the nearest living relative of the one who is to receive the package; also that no label has been received from overseas; and that if such should subsequently be received it will not be used. The Red Cross will then isuse a label which will be accepted by the post-office department. Applications may be made at any time at St. Peter's Rectory; but all packages must have been examined and mailed by November 30th.

MONDAY CLUB STUDYING FRANCE

Good Attendance After Enforced Suspension of Meetings.

The Monday club met this week after their enforced vacation with a good attendnce, considering the stormy afternoon. Mrs. J. H. Smith the new president, occupied the chair during the business session with Mrs. Jas. Cupples leader for the day's program, which consisted of two excellent papers.

France, Topography—Mrs. Wilfred Waldron.

Paris in Early Times—Mrs. Emilie Hall.

Following little Miss Elizabeth Chance of Baltimore favored the ladies with two solos: "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Jesus Loves Me," with Miss Edith Rector accompanist.

Next week the club will meet at the same place with Mrs. S. Henry Smith, leader and the general topic "The Beauties of France." The papers will be as follows:

The North—Mrs. Alfred James.

The South—Mrs. Wendell Willett.

HIGH SCHOOL LYCEUM.

The High school kids have got a real treat for you Tecumseh folks this winter. We've hired a Lyceum course of Mr. Repath, and we want you to see it. It's going to be given in the new High school auditorium, and the first number is Wednesday, November 27.

When we engaged the outfit last spring both of the banks offered to sign the contract and to stand any loss that might incur. Did we want to have any one sign our papers? We should say not! It certainly was a mighty generous act for our banks to offer their help as they did, in view of the fact that heretofore lyceum courses have been failures in Tecumseh. But this time it was going to be a success—we knew it and we didn't want to feel that we could fail and still not lose a cent.

Now that your school has put enough confidence in you, Mr. Tecumsehite, to go in debt to bring high class entertainment to town, are you going to support it? Well, we should snicker—yes. The only cheap thing about the whole course is the price of the tickets—one dollar for the entire season, while if you paid single admission, and you will certainly want to hear every number, it would cost you $2.00. Easy money, eh?

You say, "Oh, I've got my lodge dues and my church, and my etc., etc." All well and good. You've got a mighty fine school also, don't forget it, and it's up to you to help it along. Every cent made on the course goes toward gymnasium equipment.

SUDDEN CALL OF C. A. SLAYTON

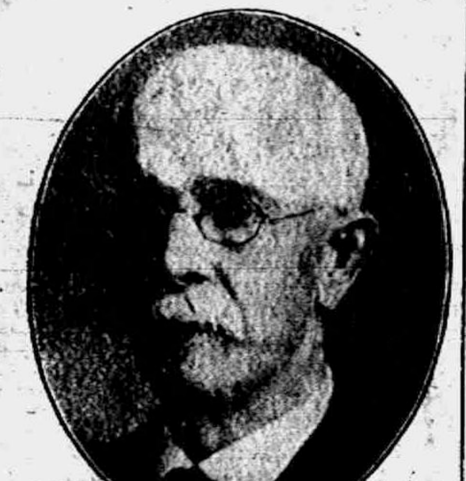
DIES OF HEART FAILURE IN FLORIDA

Long Identified With Business and Church Interests in Tecumseh—Funeral Here Tuesday.

Tecumseh people were shocked Friday morning when news was spread that Charles A. Slayton, one of Tecumseh's most valued and prominent citizens, had passed away suddenly of heart failure Thursday, November 21, at Rockledge, Fla., where he and Mrs. Slayton had gone only three weeks ago to spend the winter.

Mr. Slayton was born at Penn Yan, N. Y., October 14, 1848, and came with his parents to Tecumseh when 13 years of age. He was one of the first to finish the course in the Tecumseh High schoool before diplomas were granted and afterwards took a course in the Detroit Business university.

Before selling out to the Co-Operative Association three years ago, he was in business in Tecumseh continuously for 50 years, first working for his father, then a partner with his father for 15 years under the firm name of Slayton & Son. In 1885 he bought out his father's interest and continued the business until his son, Elmer, was 21 years of age when he was taken into partnership and the firm was again called Slayton & Son.



C. A. Slayton, who died suddenly in Florida.

He was a stockholder and director of the Tecumseh State Savings bank and served seven years as its first president.

He held the office of vice president and treasurer of the Michigan Implement & Vehicle Dealers' association and was also the first secretary of the county Y. M. C. A.

He was a member of the Masonic order, and an earnest and devoted worker in the Presbyterian church for 50 years, being superintendent of the Sunday school for 14 years, a trustee for 10 years, and an elder for the last 25 years. It was to the church that he gave his best service. Though a busy man, he always found time for its duties which were to him a pleasure. Being of a happy social nature he endeared himself to all, enjoying the confidence and love of the entire community, and will be greatly missed.

In 1879 he was married to Miss

CHAS. D. HURREY

GENERAL SECRETARY Y. M. C. A., ITALY

Will Address People of Tecumseh at Community Service Next Sunday Evening — Tecumseh Boy Who Has Had Great War Experience.

The people of Tecumseh will have the great pleasure of listening to an address by a former Tecumseh boy, Chas. D. Hurrey, recently returned from Italy, where he has been doing his bit as general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

In consenting to speak to the people of his home town, Mr. Hurrey writes:

"I have just returned from some wonderful experiences in Italy and France. We were under fire along the Piave river and in the Italian Alps. In France I visited Amiens, Armentiers, and drove into Lille the first day it was opened after German evacuation. We all have great reasons for thanksgiving because of victory and on account of the Christlike ministry of the Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross on all the great battlefields. I am planning to be in Tecumseh next Saturday and Sunday and I feel that I owe it to my home people to tell them something of what I have seen in Europe. 'A vital Christian message' has come to me out of the experience in Europe."

The Community service will be held at the Baptist church and we predict that the capacity of the edifice will be taxed to the utmost. Go early to get seats.

Honoring Memory of Private Wilfred Orr

People Throng Presbyterian Church

NO EMPTY PEWS AT SECOND COMMUNITY SERVICE

Impressive Talks by Rev. J. G. Widdifield and W. A. Rex—Next Community Service at Baptist Church.

There were no empty pews at the Presbyterian church where the community memorial service for Wilfred Orr was held last Sunday evening, and the large audience was a splendid gathering of representative Tecumseh people who came to pay tribute to Tecumseh's first war hero to make the supreme sacrifice for world peace.

On opposite sides of the choir loft were displayed two flags—Old Glory and the Presbyterian service flag which among the many stars contained one of gold, honoring him to whom the service of the evening was dedicated.

After the organ voluntary, a very pleasing musical effort by the organist, the pastors of the various churches took places on the rostrum and a song service, old familiar hymns, was led by Mrs. Bessie Mitchell. Invocation was made by Dr. W. B. Hartzog and the scripture lesson was read by Rev. Edw Escoleme of the Friends church. The latter read the story of David and Goliath, contained in the first book of Samuel, Chapter 1, verses 41-49.

A fervent prayer by Rev. C. M. Thompson was followed by the announcements, Dr. W. B. Hartzog first giving the time and place of the community Thanksgiving service at 7 to 8 p. m. Wednesday evening at the Methodist church, with Rev. Rex as speaker. The next community service was announced to be held at the Baptist church next Sunday evening, when Dr. H. L. Feeman of Adrian college would give an address on "Citizenship in the New World." This would be school night and special invitations were extended to the teachers of our schools. The offering at the Wednesday Thanksgiving service would be used for Armenian and Servian relief.

Rev. Widdifield called attention to the fact that the government had extended the time for sending Christmas packages abroad to soldiers; also that those who have not received Christmas labels from their boys could do so by making application and following instructions as published last week.

Rev. Escolme of the Friends church had no special announcements to make and Rev. Rex called attention to the honor service to be held nexa Sunday in his church, the funeral of C. A. Slayton which was to be held in the Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon, and stated that the offering of the community service would be devoted to the expenses of the same.

In introducing Rev. J. G. Widdifield, the first speaker of the evening, Rev. Rex said it was not necessary to tell the object of the meeting that night—to pay tribute to the only golden star in the church's service flag. He had prophesied many more of those stars, but there is only one, and the more the honor. He said the congregation was particularly honored that evening by the presence of one—a minister of one of our churches who was "over there" and did his bit.

Rev. Widdifield, saying that he would not speak of his experience in France that evening, took his text from Luke 2:29, "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes have seen thy salvation." To the story of Simeon, patiently waiting the fulfillment of the promise that he should not die until he had seen the great Messiah, the speaker likened our waiting for peace after four years of war. We wondered when the terrible catastrophe would stop and one morning we awoke and heard that it had stopped. He did not know if over here the days were felt as dark as over there, where they were always on edge. We are thankful that the war is at an end, and we are thankful for a great deal more than that. Rev. Widdifield paid a fine tribute to the young men—the young men with promising lives who sacrificed everything for the good of humanity and who never will return. "We look at their lives," he said, "and then look upon the life of Him who lived but three years in the ministry. We know that His short life accomplished more than any other life." For the men who laid down their lives there is immortality. There are greater things for them in the life beyond. They sacrificed their lives for a great principle—for permanent peace. The speaker warned his audience that the purpose has not yet been accomplished; there is more work for us. We went into the war for world peace and we should be satisfied with nothing short of that promise.

Pvt. Wilfred Orr, who made the Supreme Sacrifice on French battlefields.

Rev. Rex followed with a splendid tribute to the memory of Wilfred Orr, in whose honor the service was dedicated. Wilfred Orr, one of our Tecumseh boys, a member of the Presbyterian Sunday school and church, enlisted just before Co. B left Adrian. Rev. Rex said he did not have the data to tell the people that night, but the meeting of the evening was for the purpose of offering sympathy to the Orr family. The family had received official notification that Wilfred had made the supreme sacrifice. The heart sympathy of the community goes out to the Orr family, and it is felt that Wilfred could not have given his life for any greater cause. It is characteristic of our boys that while they rushed into the fight with great enthusiasm, they felt their relationsip with God.

Rev. Rex said we need to lift up the thing they let down. We must finsih the work for which they offered their lives. We have not one of us hazarded our lives; there was no hazard in buying Liberty bonds or paying three dollars into the Patriotic League. If ever a tribute of honor was due an American soldier, with all regard to the men who wore the blue, it is due to those who went across to risk their lives for humanity's sake.

The speaker illustrated how women and children of France appreciated the American soldiers—how the whole world appreciated them. It was when the enemy was within thirty miles of Paris that the first American troops arrived over there. He told of the advance of nine miles made by American troops of which Co. B formed a part. Wilfred Orr was in the front line.

"Goliath" soon found out what these boys were. They knew not what retreat meant in their exhuberance to get at the enemy. But they later learned that often a retreat vas a trap for the enemy.

Rev. Rex read the official letter announcing the death of Wilfred and also one from Capt. Benner of Co. B. in which he said: "Wilfred was a good soldier." Can anybody say more? asked Rev. Rex. He closed his talk by again extending to the family the sympathy of the community, accompanied with comforting remarks.

The service closed with the singing of America and benediction by Rev. C. M. Thompson.

MINSTREL SHOW BIG SUCCESS

LOCAL TALENT GIVE GOOD ENTERTAINMENT

Solo Work Exceptionally Pleasing—End Man Spring Jokes and Local Hits—Chorus Work Good.

A full house greeted "Sammie" Minstrel last Thursday evening at the Bradley opera house, given by local talent for the benefit of the newly organized Tecumseh ladies' brass band.

That the entertainment was a success was evidenced by the interest given the splendid work of the soloists and the laughter provoked by the black face comedians. Financially also was the play a success, for it earned for the band the neat sum of $269. The play was repeated Friday evening, but as the repetition was not thoroughly advertised over the community the attendance was very small, although it is said the show was presented better than the first evening.

A large orchestra opened the evening's entertainment with a well rendered overture, which was followed by the opening chorus, Lester Coller acting as musical director. The curtain rose on a pretty scene—a large semi-circle of handsomely gowned ladies, with a sprinkling of gentlemen and the black faced comedians with their tamborines and bones. In the rear and prominently elevated were the boys in khaki, members of the High school military company.

The second number on the program was a vocal solo, "The Magic of Your Eyes," by John Keeney, who received a deserved encore. The two end men, Geo. Rathbun and Wade Jones, the latter appearing as Jigadeer Johnson dressed in the once handsome and famous drum major's uniform worn by Bill Ross in the days when Tecumseh boasted the best band in Southern Michigan. After a few jokes by the color comedians, "There's a Long, Long Trail" was charmingly sung by Miss Geraldine Barker, who responded to an encore, and this number was followed by a cornet solo by Mrs. Bessie Mitchell, who captured the hearts of the audience with her tuneful music. "Smiles" by Miss Lillian Kennedy was also a splendidly rendered solo and she graciously responded to an encore.

"Call for Mr. Smith" was a funny song by Geo. Rathbun, one of the end men, and he made a hit by substituting names of well known local residents. He was called back several times.

The violin selections by Duaine Service were exceptionally pleasing and Mr. Service was called back twice. His performance stamps him as a master of the violin. The solo, "Sing Me Love's Lullaby," by Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney was also a splendid one, made more effective by the use of the spot light. Mrs. Mulvaney's fine voice brought forth liberal applause and she responded.

"Good Morning, Mr. Zip-Zip-Zip," by Wiley McCann and Wyman Service, reinforced by the balance of the colored men, brought down the house, and the men responded.

Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans so pleasingly sang her solo that she was recalled. Mrs. Rosacrans possesses a splendid soprano voice and her appearance on a program is always welcomed.

"That Tumble-Down Shack in Athlone," by Fred Dickinson was the next number on the program. Mr. Dickinson's work is too well known to need comment here. He responded to an encore.

The last solo of the first part was "Lorraine," sung by John Kline, It was a good number and deserved the liberal applause. The first part of the entertaimnent closed with a chorus.

The High School Military company opened the program of the olio, or second par. Under command of Robert Moore, the boys in khaki went through some clever maneuvers, evidencing that military training in our schools is a valuable asset.

The performance closed with a spectacular number, "Kahki Sammy," a solo by Mrs. R. S. Moore and chorus consisting of Lillian Kennedy, Hazel Pocklington, Camilla Hayden, Alice Hardenburgh, Helen McIntyre, Jeanette Hall, Hildreth Gasner, Cecil Clark, Edna Taylor, Mary Wilnow, Marjorie Rosacrans, Gladys Bowen, Marion Crittenden, with Mrs. F. B. Wood as accompanist.

The closing number was well staged and carried out artistically.

The minstrel chorus consisted of the following: Mesdames Richard Mead, Stella Billings, Robert McCoy, Thos, Denniston, Geo. Witherell, Chas. Deery, Albert VanDoren, Ted McConnell, Thos. McCann. Misses Camilla Hayden, Marion Rosacrans, Mary Avery, Marjorie Rosacrans, Ellen Smith, Lydia Babcock, Gladys Bowen, Cecil Clark, Helen McIntyre, Margaretta Gibson, Hildreth Gasner, Alice Owens, Hazel Pocklington, Jeanette Hall, Alice Hardenburgh, Marion Crittenden. Messrs. John Snow, Robt. Moore Jr., Harry Duncan, Hugh Hanna Jr., Roy Brisben, Harris Dole, Lawrence Harrington, Perry Hayden, Leroy VanWinkle, Perry Courtad, Edward Nyland, Ralph Hodges, Harold Sisson, Homer Hanham, Milburn Brooks, Ben Pulver, Justin Camp, I. W. Ashley.

The end men were Glenn Tansley, Geo. Hines, Will Fisher, Geo. Rathbun, E. Berry, Wade Jones, Wyman Service, Wiley McCann.

The orchestra as they appeared on the program were: Piano, Edna Taylor; first violin, Tom Denniston; second violin, Alma Kloffenstein; first clarinet, Nolan West; second clarinet, Lynfred Slater; cornet, Clare Camburn; trombone, Wilfred Waldron; baritone, Leonard Greenwald; french horn, Berlin Breese; tuba, Irving Luce; drums and bells, Percy Heidenreich, director, J. Lester Coller; manager of ladies' band, B. J. Pulver.

MRS. CLINTON GILLETT HEART TROUBLE VICTIM

Taken Ill While Preparing Dinner and Passed Away Soon After.

While preparing dinner last Thursday Mrs. Clinton Gillett was taken ill, and, going to the porch to call her husband, she collapsed. Mr. Gillett reached her almost immediately, helped her to bed and summoned a doctor who arrived at the home just before she passed away, as did some of the neighbors. For some time she had suffered with heart trouble.

The daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. French, who reside with the older people on the Cutting farm, so-called, were from home at the time.

Nancy Gillett was born June 1st, 1854, in Franklin township, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gould. The family moved here from Clinton about a year and a half ago.

The funeral services were held at the home Sunday at 2 p. m., Rev. C. M. Thompson officiating, with burial at Brookside.

Circle No. 5 Entertains.

Circle No. 5 of the Methodist Episcopal church was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. W. L. Reed on Pottawatamie St. Friday afternoon from two o'clock until four, with Mrs. W. L. Reed and Mrs. H. R. Conklin as hostesses.

After a pleasant automobile ride in which every lady had a part, Mrs. W. L. Reed read, "Our Syrian Guest," a most beautiful story of the Twenty-Third Psalm. The company then formed a circle and enjoyed a "Testimony meeting," each lady telling some good thing she knew about some other lady. This testimony meeting was followed by a very helpful message from Margaret Sangster.

The time was most pleasantly and profitably spent and all voted it a good time.

This circle meets once each month, two members of the circle acting as hostesses each month. The circle will be entertained in December by Mrs. Geo. Church and Mrs. B. Hurry at the home of Mrs. Church.

Editorial Comment

Don't forget that this year our nation has much to be thankful for. While we have been drawn into a great world war and have lost hundreds of thousands of our young manhood, the bloodshed has ended and ten thousand men of our army will reach their native country Saturday of this week, with more coming every week. True, we have had to sacrifice at home, but we must remember that without sacrifice we really do not know what life is. We should especially be thankful that we had the privilege to sacrifice and to take part in the great war for world freedom and have a share in the peace program to follow. We have emerged from a scourge of influenza that has taken many a life, robbed many homes of loved ones, but we can be thankful that the disease has been checked in its ravaging work. As a nation we have accomplished a great work in turning the tide of war and finally in completely subduing the enemy of civilization. We have much to be thankful for this Thanksgiving day.

After June 30, 1919, the United States becomes a dry nation. At 5 o'clock last Thursday afternoon President Wilson signed the bone dry prohibition bill, thus making it a law. The sale of intoxicating liquor will be unlawful in the United States beginning Juy 1, 1919, until all the troops are demobilized which may require two years. The chances are the nation will remain dry permanently thereafter.

It was a fine congregation at the community service last Sunday evening, the large auditorium of the Presbyterian church being nearly filled to its capacity. Although this service was in the form of a memorial for a Tecumseh soldier fallen in the war, we believe the interest in the community service will continue to grow.

Herald readers will note with pleasure that the representation of Tecumseh business places is growing weekly in the columns of the home paper, as many of them consider the advertising columns the most valuable portion of the paper. Merchants that want people to shop with them that are not represented in The Herald should get in line. People like to see what is offered before making their week end purchases.

Monday of last week the writer had a little chat with A. B. Boyce until recently manager of the Webster Anderson Co. store, but now manager of The Columbus Dry Goods Co. of Columbus, O. Of course, the conversation turned to advertising and Mr. Boyce remarked upon the increase in The Herald advertising columns. But, he said, Tecumseh merchants don't fully realize the value of a good newspaper as an advertising medium or the town would be more fully represented—the merchants, all of them, would talk regularly to the people of the community.

Mr. Boyce fulfilled his promise to send a copy of the "victory" sale advertisment launched for his Columbus store, and it was certainly a hummer. The first advertisement occupied two entire pages and the follow-up advertisement nearly a page. It costs something to advertise like that in city papers, but he said: "Anytime I can spend a dollar and thereby earn a dollar and a quarter, you can bet that I will spend the dollar."

In writing about the results of his advertisement Mr. Boyce says: "Needless to say, this sale is a big success. Many customers were waiting at our door this morning at opening time."

The advertisements, of course, announced many bargains" that appealed to the public.

Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American expiditionary forces in France, is in line for presidential candidacy. A campaign for his candidacy has been formally launched by the Republican party of Ohio.

The editor of The Herald is a thorough believer of permanent construction wherever possible instead of makeshift. It was while publishing the Morenci Observer that influence and that paper built several miles of good pavement in Morenci village (that couldn't be removed now for ten times the cost) and the first stone road built in Lenawee county—the road from Morenci to North Morenci. Near the Ohio border, much was heard of the good quality of stone roads, so much in favor at that time. Later, however, as the traffic over these highways increased, it was found that stone roads would not stand the strain and that method of building was not permanent.

Before leaving this earth for the golden shore the writer would like to see a nice permanent pavement through Chicago street, Tecumseh, and Evans street, at least from depot to depot. Such improvement would absolutely make Tecumseh the finest town anywhere. Think what the convenience would mean to rural residents that make Tecumseh their trading center! Last week's muddy condition of our business thoroughfares was anything but pleasant for visiting shoppers.

But we are digressing. A letter from George H. VanPelt, who has been on the jump several years in the interest of permanently constructing the Lincoln and Dixie highways, brought visions of the beauty of Tecumseh business streets paved. Mr. VanPelt's letter, however, gives a broader vision and we give it here with the hope that it will bear fruit in converting a few of our readers to the permanent highway idea. He writes:

"901 Prairie Avenue, Joliet, Ill.
November 14, 1918.

"To the Editor:

"Everybody is talking reconstruction and each has his own pet theory of what ought to be done first. I've got one too. The fundamental need, to my mind, is roads — good roads — hard roads—the kind that will stand up under modern traffic.

"A friend who sells trucks told me the other day that the rear axle of his six-ton truck weighed 1800 pounds and that 75% of the load carried goes to the rear wheels. Is it any wonder that roads built for light traffic have gone to pieces?

"Motor truck transportation companies are springing up in every community and when they have a reasonably smooth road to travel they don't stop at the rated capacity of the truck. If the route is mostly over a concrete road, a six-ton truck will frequently carry 10 tons. Imagine the effect on those stretches of the route that are not well improved. But six tons isn't going to be the limit, and there's no telling what their loads will be.

"Now, I wouldn't say that road building was the fundamental reconstruction need if it weren't that these motor truck transportation companies are changing our whole system of interchange of goods. We'll have rural delivery routes, motorized with Uncle Sam's war trucks some of these days. Fourth Assistant Postmaster Blakslee says, 'We're asking Congress for $9,000,000 to motorize parcel post routes next year and I think that it will appropriated.'

"But what is a truck without a concrete road? Where does the tourist go these days? Does he follow the earth and macadem roads that were standard when automobiles first appeared? No. The heaviest auto traffic is where there it a better type of road to travel over and it's the same way with trucks. We'll have as many as we've got roads for them to negotiate.

"In general commodities move east and west or north and south. Before our road-building job is done we've got to have networks but the first step is to finish such long stretches as the Lincoln and the Dixie Highways. The object lesson of millions of tons of freight moving on schedule from city to city, over these two main highways, will bring the network, tying all towns together in every state.

"No fair-minded man will disagree with me when I state that the building of concrete roads should go on everywhere and that Federal aid should be liberally given. If we can just succeed in impressing on Congress the need for generous aid, the national Government to furnish 50 per cent., the state 20 to 25 per cent and the county 25 to 30 per cent, we will get somewhere with our roads—we'll see the Lincoln and Dixie paved first and lots more to come.

"When we get a system we'll have freight and express delivered cheaper by truck than in any other way.

"Just imagine what it would mean to you personally if you could jump into your car at your own door and drive to New York or San Francisco on a perfectly even concrete road. That is what is coming.

"And just imagine the advantage of being able to flag a big, roomy motor truck, passing your door at regular intervals and to consign crates, calves, canary birds and Christmas packets to the very door of the consignee,—all over the roads and all at top speed.

"All this will come quicker when Congress sees the need and I'm going to do my da—est to see that they see it.

"Yours for Good Roads,
"Van Pelt."

OBITUARY

Charles Walter Borton.

Charles Walter Borton was born in Fulton county, Ohio, Chesterfield township, September, 22, 1875, and departed this life on November 15, 1918, aged 39 years, one month and 24 days. GARY WARNS OF ECONOMIC PANIC; "DON'T PLUNGE!"

New York, Nov. 11.—Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel corporation, today warned the American people to be on their guard against "economic demoralization, depression, and possibly panics" which might accompany readjustments after a world war.

In a statement issued before he left for Washington to confer there tomorrow with the war industries board regarding steps necessary to return the steel trade to a peace basis Mr. Gary cautioned the public to "exercise prudence, deliberation, and courage," as "much depends upon the attitude and speech of men."

A Word of Warning

Choose Safety and 6%

The readjustment period which you now face is fraught with more peril to the investor than was even the war period. Men of international prominence in financial affairs openly warn people to guard their capital and to take no risks. The market will continue dangerously irregular for a long, long time. If ever there was a time when investors should turn a cold shoulder to speculative investment now is that time. Put your money where you know it will be safe.

Choose good First Mortgage Real Estate Serial Gold Bonds. They pay 6%. They are absolutely safe. They do not fluctuate in value. They are of the highest type of protected investment. All issues recommended by the Federal Bond & Mortgage Company are secured by land and building of a value double or more than double the size of the issue. Maybe.

If two red lips upturned to your own,
With no one to gossip about it,
Would you pray for endurance to let them alone?
Maybe you would—but I doubt it.

STRAIGHT FORWARD TESTIMONY

Many Tecumseh Citizens Have Profited By Itl.

If you have backache, urinary troubles, days of dizziness, headaches or nervousness, strike at the seat of the trouble. These are often the symptoms of weak kidneys and there is grave danger in delay. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney ailments—are endorsed by over 50,000 people. Your neighbors recommend this remedy—have proved its merit in many tests. Tecumseh readers should take fresh courage in the straightforward testimony of a Tecumseh citizen.

Wm. Martin, Logan St., says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had dull backaches and tired easily. I had soreness and lameness across my back and my kidneys acted irregularly. The kidney secretions were unnatural too. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wright's & Son's Drug Store, and they strengthened my back and put my kidneys in good order."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills — the same that Mr. Martin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

MACON

Mrs. DeSpelder of Tecumseh visited friends in the village from Wednesday until Sunday.

Mrs. G. D. Ellis returned home last week from Ypsilanti where she had been for nearly four weeks taking care of her sister, Mrs. Milton Augustus, who was sick with pneumonia following the "flu."

Mrs. Rose Day and Minnie will go to Ypsilanti Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Allen.

Mrs. Ida VanValkenburg and children will return to their home in Laurel, Ind., on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenard Graff attended the burial services at Ridgeway, Saturday of her niece, Mrs. Dora May Meatzey, who died at LaPorte, Ind., of pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Rollo Wilkins and Mrs. DeSpelder of Tecumseh; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koebbe of Manchester, Miss Sarah Koebbe, Mrs. Clara Koebbe, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Sodt, Geo. and Frank Dettling of Freedom; Messrs. John and Will Rothfuss of Blissfield and Mr. and Mrs. T. Collins and Miss Grace Collins of Saline were here Wednesday to attend the funeral of Hollis Koebbe.

Obituary—Hollis Koebbe.

A large company of friends and neighbors gathered at the M. E. church last Wednesday to show their respect for Hollis Koebbe, whom death had so suddenly removed at the age of 22 years.

Early in the war and before he was of age he volunteered for service. but not being strong in health he was not accepted. Later when drafted he was placed in limited service class, but had not yet been called out.

A few months ago he entered the employ of the Ford Co. where he was doing his "bit" helping to build submarine chasers for Uncle Sam and in that short time he had won the confidence and esteem of his employers. It was at the Eagle plant at River Rouge, where the accident occurred which resulted in his death.

He had served his country faithfully and well and although he may not be honored with a golden star in the service flag of his country, yet the memory of his character, his sterling worth, his patriotic spirit, and his christian life will be golden in the hearts of the bereaved parents, and his friends and associates.

Card of Thanks.

To our very kind neighbors, our friends and all wh oassisted and sympathized with us in our bereavement and for the flowers and the singing we extend our sincere thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Koebbe.

Grinding Good For Scraps.

Table scraps and kitchen waste are best prepared for feeding by running them through an ordinary meat grinder. After the material has been put through the grinder it is usually a rather moist mass, and it is well to mix with it some corn meal, bran, or other ground grain until the whole mass assumes a crumbly condition.

The usual method is to feed the table scraps at noon or at night, or at both times, as may be desired, in a trough or on a board. All should be fed that the hens will eat up clean, and if any material is left after one-half or three quarters of an hour it should be removed. If allowed to lie it may spoil and would be very bad for the hens.

SILAGE TRIMS COST OF FEEDING HORSES

Experiments at M. A. C. Show Equines Thrive on it in Winter if Properly Handled.

East Lansing, Mich.—Owners of horses in Michigan can get partially around the prevailing high feed prices if they will use silage for part of the ration fed their equines, a press bulletin from the Michigan Agricultural college declares. The report from M. A. C. tells of the results of experiments in feeding silage to horses at the college during a period covering a number of years.

"Where silage is available, it can be used to good advantage as the basis of the ration," the report states. "For several years the experiment station of the college has fed a number of horses each winter on a silage ration, under the supervision of R. S. Hudson, farm superintendent. The horses so fed have for the most part been young animals from 2 to 5 years of age. They were carried through a feeding period of from 10 to 12 weeks on silage and straw, without grain. A ration consisting of a fair quality of silage without straw was sufficient to produce slight gains in weight, and leave the horses in improved condition at the end of the eleven weeks feeding period. The horses were allowed all the silage they would clean up, and oat straw in excess, the refuse being used for bedding.

"Care should be taken to avoid feeding silage which is very sour, as digestive disturbances are apt to follow, especially when a full feed is allowed. With a good quality of silage, as high as 40 pounds per head daily was consumed by horses weighing 1500 pounds without any signs of digestive trouble. Frozen silage should never be fed.

"In these experiments the horses were allowed to run loose in a shed, with adjoining yards for exercise. They were fed from a common trough and had access to water at all times."

o

ALLOW MORE FUEL TO VEGETABLE GROWERS

Administration Eases Up on Men Who Raise Crops Under Glass, Including Florists.

East Lansing, Mich—A larger supply of fuel than was first allotted to vegetable growers and florists will be made available this winter to men who raise crops under glass, the Michigan Agricultural college has been informed.

"Until further notice," declares a message received at M. A. C., "the fuel administration may permit florists to receive and burn bituminous coal, steam anthracite or coke without having such fuel apply on their 50 per cent quota, as defined by the fuel administration curtailment order of Aril 24, 1918, whenever there is a surplus of such fuel which in the opinion of the state administration can be spared for such purpose."

The new order countermands that issued by the fuel administration last spring, when hot-house men were notified that they would not be permitted to buy more than 50 per cent of their usual tonnage of coal.

o

FIGHT POULTRY DISEASE WITH CLEANLINESS

Chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese and pigeons are susceptible to many diseases, some of which are highly infectious. Disease germs pass rapidly from bird to bird of the flock, and may be carried by one means or another to neighboring flocks, producing extensive outbreaks, or epizootics. Sanitary and other measures which have been found successful in the control of poultry diseases may materially reduce the great annual losses in flocks if they are properly applied.

o

WARD OFF INFLUENZA BY PROPER EATING

The wise housewife plans a timely meal. Now the cold weather is coming on and we need more fuel producing food, properly fed, but not overfed, people will not contract the "flu" as readily as others. Those that have had colds need especial care, a light laxative diet at first, hot lemonade, broths and then heartier meals to build up on.

Every day our diet should include foods that will furnish:

1. Energy (starches and fats.)
2. Tissue building materials (milk, eggs, and meats). Every adult should get one-third of a quart of milk a day.
3. Mineral salt, calcium and iron (milk for calcium), vegetables and fruits.

A Suggestive Lunch.

Browned potatoes: furnish starch and mineral salt both.

Creamed oyster plant: mineral, bulk, and some starch.

Apples, celery and raisin salad: bulk, mineral, salt and iron.

Ice cream: tissue building material, mineral, fats and salts.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Change in Banking Hours, Effective—

December 10, 1918

Commencing December 10th and until further notice the banks of Tecumseh will open for business at 9:00 A. M. anl close promptly at 3:00 P. M. daily, excepting Sundays and legal holidays, and on Saturday evenings will open at 7:00 P. M. and close at 8:30 P. M.

This change will provide more time to take care of the greatly increased volume of bookkeeping and other detail work incident to Government financing and other war activities. Closing a half hour earlier than heretofore will enable our clerical forces to balance their books before 6:00 P. M. and eliminate many long hours of overtime work.

By doing their banking business strictly within the hours named, our customers will assist in making effective this change, which has been adopted primarily in the interest of accurate and efficient banking service.

WESTMINSTER GUILD

Delightful Session and Program Enjoyed at Friday's Meeting.

The Westminster Guild enjoyed a delightful session Friday evening at the home of Miss Edith Rector, with Mrs. Guy Nemire and Miss Bess Spayde assistant hostesses.

Miss Mildred Boyce had charge of the Bible study when the following topics were discussed:

"The Search for Wisdom"—Mrs. J. H. Smith.

"What Pleasures Tecumseh Affords"—Mrs. J. D. Service.

"What Pleasures Tecumseh Could Afford"—Miss Rector.

The business session followed, with Mrs. R. B. Stuckey presiding.

The second chapter of the book, "The Women of the Orient," was next discussed taking the feature of the "Women wage earners in the Orient." Miss Anna Cutting and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron took part in the discussion.

A victrola selection "In the Garden" was highly enjoyed.

Mrs. R. M. Moiles read a poem, "Love," Mrs. Service a missionary story, "Carpet Vashti," and the program closed with a vocal solo by Mrs. Kirk and a piano solo by Mrs. Wilfred Waldron.

During the social hour following, the hostesses served refreshments.

SUDDEN CALL OF C. A. SLAYTON

Alice M. Laing of Raisin.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, W. Elmer of Adrian and Percy F. in service in France, two grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. J. E. Waring, of this place. One son, Russell, died in infancy.

The funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church, conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. A. Rex, assisted by a former pastor, Rev. J. W. Dunning of Kalamazoo.

The bearers were H. S. Waring, Fred Rector, Fred Rossacrans, C. A. Wright, Albert Howard, Blinn Tallman. The elders of the church and officers and directors of the bank acted as honorary bearers. The stores were closed during the services and the business men attended in a body. W. S. Dickenson rendered two selections of music.

A beautiful floral emblem from the Masonic order and a profusion of cut flowers from friends and relatives were silent tokens of the love and esteem in which he was regarded.

A fitting close to the service was the reading of the following verses by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Rex:

Sleep On, Beloved.

Sleep on, beloved, sleep, and take thy rest;
Lay down thy head upon thy Saviour's breast;
We love thee well; but Jesus loves thee best—
Good-night! Good-night! Good-night!
Calm is thy slumber as an infant's sleep;
But thou shalt wake no more to toil and weep;
Thine is a perfect rest, secure and deep—
Goodnight!
Until the shadows from this earth are cast;
Until He gathers in His sheaves at last;
Until the twilight gloom is overpast—
Goodnight!
Until made beautiful by Love Divine;
Thou, in the likeness of Thy Lord shalt shine,
And He shall bring that golden of thine—
Goodnight!
Only "good-night," beloved—not "farewell!"
A little while, and all His saints shall dwell
In hallowed union, indivisible—
Goodnight!
Until we meet again before His throne,
Clothed in the spotless robe He gives His own,
Until we know even as we are known—
Goodnight!
—Sarah Doudney.

THANKSGIVING DAY PROCLAMATION
BY THE GOVERNOR

"Now, therefore, our God we thank Thee and praise Thy glorious name."

We, the people of Michigan, have many reasons for thankfulness.

We are thankful that our fertile fields have yielded abundantly of their fruits.

We are thankful that a dread epidemic has been stayed, through the prompt measures taken by the public health authorities throughout the State and the intelligent cooperation of the whole people.

We are thankful that we are Americans, and that no part of our land has been laid waste by the cruel ravages of war.

We are thankful that our Michigan sodliers and sailors, by their deeds of valor, have written a glorious chapter in the annals of the Great War; and that the indomitable spirit of our people has manifested itself to the end.

But, most of all, are we thankful that this terrible, devastating war, which for more than nineteen months has dominated our thought and dictated our action, is at last practically ended and soon we shall be free to devote our energies and activities to the constructive arts of peace. The long night of darkness and sorrow and travail and tears and blood is over and the day of blessed peace has dawned upon the world—peace with victory.

Therefore, I, ALBERT E. SLEEPER, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby join the president of the United States in designating "Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of November next, as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer."

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, this eighteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-second.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER,
Governor.

By the Governor:
Coleman C. Vaughan
Secretary of State.

S. A. T. C. INDUCTION STOPPED AT M. A. C.

College Training Camp Has Orders to Accept no More Men Until Further Notice.

East Lansing, Mich.—No more men will be accepted in the Student Army Training corps at the Michigan Agricultural College, according to word given out by the college authorities a few days ago. Orders from the war department announce that all induction of men into the S. A. T. C. units over the country will cease" until further notice.

The men already in the collegiate division of the training corps are expected to be allowed to continue their work, probably for the remainder of the year. No definite word has been given out on this matter beyond the announcement that for the time being the training work would proceed as usual. The fact that all enlistments in officers' training schools has been stopped does away largely with the primary purpose of the S. A. T. C. units—to supply officer material for the camps. The men in the M. A. C. unit will probably get more of collegiate training and less of military work during the rest of the year.

Probably Not.

AUCTION!

Farmers contemplating Auction Sales cannot afford to hold same without placing their sale before the readers of The Tecumseh Herald.

The sale must be properly advertised to make it the best success. How extensively such sale should be advertised depends upon the grade of stock to be disposed of. If you have high bred stock—stock that is in universal demand—advertise it big, for $1.00 spent in advertising will earn from $50 to $100. If one dollar spent in advertising will earn you two you would be foolish to pinch that dollar.

If you have nothing to offer that will draw persons from other counties and states, you would be foolish to pay an exhorbitant price for a circulation that did not benefit the sale.

Advertising rates in The Herald are not high and a good sized space is bound to bring results, because The Herald circulates over a territory immediately adjoining Tecumseh and covers that field better than any other one newspaper.

YOU CAN ADVERTISE YOUR AUCTION SALE WELL AND CHEAPLY BY USING THE COLUMNS OF THE TECUMSEH HERALD. TRY IT.

DORA MACE MEATZEY

Former Well Known Resident Victim of Influenza.

A telegram received by relatives Wednesday evening from LaPorte, Ind., telling that Mrs. Dora Mace Meatzey had passed away, death being due to pneumonia following an attack of influenza. Mrs. Meatzey was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Underwood of Detroit, former residents of this place and was born here September 7, 1898, and her untimely death at the age of 20 years, 2 months and 13 days, just in the bloom of youth, indeed casts another shadow that is hard to dispel in this community, where she had so many friends, won by her charming personality. She grew to womanhood here, later moving with her parents to Detroit.

January 7, 1918, she was united in marriage to Bert Meatzey of that place, where they lived a short time, later going to his former home at Kokoma, Ind., where they remained until he was called into service in the army. The Sunday that she was taken ill was spent in LaPorte, Ind., with her husband as this was near the camp where he was stationed. Although among strangers kind hands administered to her, but to no avail and she passed away shortly after the arrival of her stepmother and husband.

She leaves to mourn her departure in the immediate family her husband, father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Underwood, and one sister, Eleanor. A brother, Milburn Underwood, preceded her to the gloryland about nineteen months ago at about the same age age. Her mother passed away eight years ago. She was a member of the M. P. Sunday school while living here and since moving to Detroit, united with an M. E. church and school, where her life's example will ever be as a beacon light to show others the way.

The remains were accompanied here Friday by her husband. Mrs. Meatzey and son, Jack, and Mrs. Glen Underwood and were taken to the home of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Underwood, where the funeral services were held privately, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. Sam'l Tamblyn officiating. The pall bearers were young ladies, former companions, namely, the Misses Imo Underwood, Julia Craig, Margaret Gregg, Donna Exelby, Mrs. Kate Curry and Mrs. Helen Pearsall. The remains were laid to rest in Ridgeway cemetery. Those from away attending the funeral were Bert Meatzey, mother and brother, Jack of Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Underwood and Eleanor Mrs. Ray Smith of Detroit, Mrs. Mike Bachman of Monroe, Mrs. Helen Pearsall of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Delia Prindle of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Lenard Graff of Macon.

Britton Notes.

Roy and Fay VanNest visited relatives in Detroit over Sunday. Roy is having a ten days' vacation from his duties at the tower.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Beasley have a little girl, born Saturday.

Mrs. J. B. Beasley and Richard spent Saturday evening and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beasley in Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. David Boyd are visiting their children in Detroit this week. Mrs. Jennie Kyle accompanied them and will remain indefinitely.

Kenneth Kanous and Russel Kniffen have the mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Klann and Eddie and Mr. and Mrs. Will Dettman and baby spent Sunday with relatives near Wellsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, of Cone spent Sunday with Mrs. E. R. Smith and Miss Anna.

Glen Burcroff and family were here Sunday from Seneca visiting her mother, Mrs. Herbert Allen and son Harry.

The Christian church ladies held their annual fair and supper Friday evening in the church parlors. They realized a neat sum for which they are truly grateful and wish to thank all who contributed in various ways towards its success.

H. A. Friedlander came home Sunday from an extended stay in Chicago.

Mrs. Abbie DuBois is home from a stay of several days at Sutton.

Andrew Cheever has been wiring his farm home north of town and will soon have electric lights.

Mrs. Robert McWilliams, who has been quite sick, is gaining slowly.

Mrs. John Waidner of Ypsilanti spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Palmer and family.

Wm. Rinn of Detroit has been visiting relatives here for the past few days.

Mrs. Isaac Fraer and Alva of Dundee, spent Saturday with old friends.

Mrs. Ira Fraer and son, Chester, of Dundee spent Friday and Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sissen.

Mrs. A. J. Underwood spent Thursday and Friday with her sister, Mrs. Owen Curry, near Cone. She also attended the church fair held Thursday evening and reports that nearly $170.00 was cleared.

Mrs. Chas. Bragg of Rea spent Friday and Saturday with her mother, Mrs. Jas. Hindes.

Mrs. Frank Smith was here Wednesday from Milan, visiting at John Britton's.

Roy Pritchard moved last week to Monroe where he is working.

Elmer Miller was home Sunday and Monday from Detroit, visiting his parents.

Miss Nettie Ward of Detroit spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Rhea McCarbery.

Rev. Otto Halfaker wss called home from Detroit the latter part of the week on account of the illness of Mrs. Halfaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Daykin have received the sad news that their son, Glen Daykin was killed in action, somewhere in France, October 11. Old glory was hoisted at half mast Thursday in his honor and the day before in honor of Capt. Milburn Hawkes who was born and spent his early life in this place. Relatives here have the sympathy of all.

Miss Mabel Linton came home Saturday from north Adams as the schools are closed for the second time on account of the influenza.

Miss Florence Voorhees was home for the week end from Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Gould had as recent guests Miss Carrie Gregory, Mrs. J. P. Richardson and Mrs. H. L. Feeman of Adrian.

Mrs. R. N. Hayward left Friday for a four days' visit with Rev. J. C. De Remer and family of Columbus Grove, Ohio.

Among those from away attending the funeral services of Bert E. Bachman, which were held Wednesday were: Mr. and Mrs. Irving Smith and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Enos Austin, Geo. Renn and wife, Mrs. Ross Keene, Mrs. Hattie Mead and Mrs. E. A. Stowell and Earl of Dundee, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Smith and daughter of Saline, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bachman and son Leland, Lewis Bachman and Wm. Pupard of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. Geo. Bachman and son Thurlough and John Bachman of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilcox and Mrs. Emma Miller of Rea, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snyder, Chas. Hubbard, Harry Wilcox, Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. Tressa Irish, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lee and Miss Martha Smith of Detroit.

MUCH NEED STILL FOR MAXIMUM PRODUCTION

Dean of Agriculture at M. A. C. Points Out That U. S. Must Supply World.

East Lansing, Mich.—An appeal to the farmers of the state not to let their joy over the coming of peace interfere with their plans for keeping production at a maximum, is being made by Prof. Robert S. Shaw, dean of agriculture at M. A. C., and director of the experiment station. For at least another year, declares the dean, the nations of the world must look to this country for much of their food supply.

"The American farmer," according to the dean, "deserves much credit for his great response in the form of enormous crop production to the vital war time needs of the country during the season just closed. His service has been notably a patriotic one and not the result merely of an endeavor to reap a material reward. The farmer, his wife and his children have labored severely throughout the daylight hours in this great patriotic effort with only moderate remuneration per labor hour.

"But even though the war has ceased, the farmer will still be under a double duty of patriotism and mercifulness to produce an enoromous crop again for at least one more season, for military needs, apparently, must continue through another year. The American farmer also is being appealed to relieve the pangs of hunger prevailing throughout the recently warring countries.

It is true that producers from the soil suffer severely from over-production, but in this coming year, it now seems, there will be nothing of this sort to fear. There should be no slackening in American agricultural production, despite the fact that hostilities apparently have ceased."

Fifteen Million Tons of Shipping

Building 15,000,000 tons of shipping is the big job laid out for American Shipyards. It will take years to do this. Men working in shipyards are assured of steady jobs if they make good. This great fleet of ships must be built. The United States is going to become the first maritime nation of the world.

We need men accustomed to out-of-doors work to help us build ships. The pay is set by the Emergency Fleet Corporation under direct Government control, and is higher than ever before in the history of the industry. Do not hesitate because you have never worked in a shipyard before. We will train you for some good job and will pay you well while you are learning.

It will take us years to build our share of 15,000,000 tons.

A shipyard is the ideal place to make good money this winter. Get in touch with us, either by calling at yard or by writing to us immediately. Some of our best jobs are open right now. Great Lakes Engineering Works, River Rouge and Detroit, Mich.—Adv.

Hooray for Banana Peel "Gets-It"

Only Real Way to Get Rid of Corns.

Which do you prefer—a corn that pulls or a corn that peels? Butchery or blessedness? Only "Gets-It" can get rid of your corn the peel-off way, the blessed way. You don't need a pull.

"Corns Never Trouble Me, I Use 'Gets-It'"!

Why hump yourself up on the floor and with your jaws set and eyes popping from pain, jerk and gouge and cut your corns? Why irritate your toes with some salve or wrap your toe into a big painful bundle with some sticky tape or plaster? Life is too short. Use "Gets-It"—it takes a few seconds to apply and there's no fussing. Corn-pains go. Wear new shoes if you want. Peel off the corn with your fingers—the whole thing, root and all, clear and clean, and it's gone! Only "Gets-It" can do this. Take no chances.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ills afflicting people today can be traced back to kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filterers, the purifiers, of your blood.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The soothing, healing oil stimulates the kidneys, relieves inflammations and destroys the germs which have caused it. Do not wait until tomorrow. Go to your druggist today and insist on GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning and will bless the day you first heard of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil.

After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

MICHIGAN NEEDS GOOD AIRING

EVERY HOUSE FUMIGATED AFTER DISEASE

Michigan Anti-Tuberculosis Association Advises Homes Should be Made Thoroughly Wholesome After Epidemic.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—The state of Michigan should give itself a thorough airing at the end of the influenza epidemic, is the advice given today by the Michigan Anti-tuberculosis association. When a quarantine is lifted from a family the house is fumigated and aired and everything that science has invented is used to make the place thoroughly wholesome. Something like that should be done throughout the whole state, the association declares.

Michigan wants to come out of the epidemic with as little harm as possible. It wants to prevent serious after-effects in the way of tuberculosis and other diseases if possible. And this is very easily possible if common sense precautions are taken. The people of the state need a thorough airing.

The way to give the state an airing is to have each individual do it for himself and to have the health leaders in each community preach that doctrine for that community. There should be special pains on the part of all persons for some time to come to avoid poorly ventilated places, such as insufficiently ventilated railroad coaches, street cars, schools, churches, offices, homes. People for some time to come should make it a special point to insist on the best possible ventilation in all places. This should always be insisted on, the state association declares, but it should be doubly insisted upon now.

Furthermore, people should pay a double amount of attention to the cultivation of careful eating, sleeping, working and playing habits. Michigan must live out of doors more than is normally done, because of the "flu" epidemic. The state must exercise more, play more, be more careful in selecting plain, wholesome food in reasonable amounts. The person who was careful before must be doubly careful now; it is a duty he owes his state and country, the state association asserts.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Harold Halladay to Messrs. "Bill" Service and Wylie Mc Cann.

Camp Decatur, Ill., Nov. 19, 1918

Dear Bill and Wylie:

How's the gang? Hope you are all enjoying life more than I am. All we've done since we've been here is to sit around; they call it "standing by" here. I imagine Bill would like it, but it's (censored) for a strong, ambitious fellow (?) like me.

I think we would all like it better if they would let us sleep during the day, but nothing doing on that.

We get wonderful food here; Zelah's dinner the other night wasn't in with it. For breakfast we have bread, beans and coffee—they call the coffee (deleted)—and at dinner we have beans, coffee and bread; for supper bread, beans and for a change, tea instead of coffee. But it's all the same class. But we like it; everybody told us we would when we came in. There's a bunch of poor prunes in this barracks—mollycoddles and mamma's boys that can't swallow being away from home now that the war is over. Of course, it isn't as enjoyable as it might be; far from it. But one might as well be happy and keep thinking that it might be worse.

It's raining as usual today; in fact, I think it has rained ever since I've been here. You ought to see me trying to sleep in a hammock slung about six feet from the floor and so tippy that you have to part your hair in the middle to keep it balanced.

I've seen several fellows I know down here; among them Ralph Cuthbert, who is stationed in this camp not so far from my barracks.

Well, I'm nearly exhausted for news, so will knock off here. I'm getting tough already, in fact, I'm quite salty and I'll be a regular hard guy when I get home, maybe. I think of you and the bunch often. "I want to be back in Michigan," but what's the use. Give my best to all the girls and tell them to write, and if I don't get a letter from you right away there's going to be a may basket on your door knob about Christmas time and you're going to be it.

My address is Harold Halladay, Barracks 840, Co. 615, Camp Decatur, Great Lakes, Ill.

From Sergt. B. M. Hastings to K. H. Hay.

Somewhere in France.
October 11, 1918

Dear friend Ken:

Being that I have a few spare moments I will drop a line.

Well, Ken, I am in the hospital with shell shock; am a bit nervous yet, but am coming O. K. Expect to go back to my company soon, for I am sure getting tired of a hospital.

Well, you no doubt, have heard of Wilfred and Dave Underwood's death. It sure is tough, to lose your best friend.

Have all the Michigan boys left Camp Custer? I saw just one 85th Division soldier and I can't locate the remainder of them, although have been practically all over France in the last two months.

I suppose you have thought I had forgotten you entirely but at times we can't secure paper and you can't pack any with you, for one of these packs is heavy enough without any extra luggage and when you're in the lines there is something else to think of besides writing. If you will only drop a line real often it will be greaty appreciated for a little news from home sure cheers one up and will try and answer everyone if possible.

Well, Ken, I must close with best regards, as ever,

Your Friend,
Sergt. B. M. Hastings,

Herald Takes Over Britton Messenger List

Beginning this week The Tecumseh Herald takes over the subscription list of the Britton Messenger, which paper suspended publication two weeks ago.

Arrangements to this effect were made with Editor Bradley of the Messenger the first of the week, and The Herald assumes the contract of filling out unexpired subscriptions for the Messenger and also assumes back subscription accounts.

The Herald will make an effort to give such good service to the patrons of the suspended Britton paper that they will remain with the large family of readers permanently.

H S Waring, agent for The Herald, will call upon those whose subscriptions to the Messenger has expired and will be pleased to receive renewals.

AUDIENCE APPLAUDS GREAT WAR PICTURE

"To Hell with the Kaiser" Opens Brilliant Engagement at the New Royal Theatre.

"To Hell with the Kaiser," a seven-reel feature patriotic production, opened at the New Royal Theatre yesterday for a run of three days. The startling title of this Screen Classic, Inc. picture is enough to commend it at once to patriotic people, and a big audience was present to see the production. The spectators were enthusiastic in their applause. The picture is warranted to fan the spark of national loyalty to white heat.

"To Hell with the Kaiser" is a clever commingling of fact and fancy. A great cast has been chosen to interpret this magnificent picture, which has been directed by George Irving from the scenario by June Mathis, and photographed by George K. Hollister, a war-photographer and former war correspondent. George Irving also directed the Metro feature patriotic screen drama, "Her Boy." Lawrence Grant plays the Kaiser, Olive Tell, a beautiful star of both stage and screen, plays the leading feminine part of Alice Monroe. Betty Howe does a wonderful bit of work as her sister, Ruth who meets a tragic fate in a Belgian convent at the hands of the Crown Prince. Frank Currier plays Prof. Monroe, and John Sunderland, himself and aviator, plays Windslow Dodge, who is seen in spectacular aeroplane flights which have a strong bearing on the story.

"To Hell with the Kaiser" has some of the most unusual features ever seen in a photodrama. The closing scenes contain a genuine surprise, combining beauty and forcefulness, and the Kaiser is shown in those accursed regions to which his base record has destined him.

Scenes among the American soldiers in the trenches are shown, and a genuine air battle of two opposing aerial fleets is reproduced. The pages of history are unfolded to show the deeds of Frederick III. of Prussia, and the instruction of the present Kaiser in his war policies by Bismarck — then the events leading up to the present sacrificing of the flower of nations. Romance plays its part in this amazing picture, showing that love and loyalty will outlive a thousand wars.

CHAS. D. HURREY TELLS OF ITALY

HER NOBLE PART IN WORLD WAR

Large Audience Attends Third Community Service at Baptist Church Sunday Evening.

Chas. D. Hurry, a Tecumseh boy home from a great experience in Italy, where he had been engaged as general Y. M. C. A. secretary, was the main drawing feature at the third community service held at the Baptist church last Sunday evening. The young gentleman could not help but feel delighted with the fine audience that greeted him, for the church was filled to capacity and a number of people, unable to procure seats, were disappointed and left without hearing the message of the evening.

Opening exercises were shortened considerably to give all time possible to Mr. Hurry, whose time was limited because he was obliged to catch a train out of Adrian that evening. The usual large community choir led the singing and after the first hymn Dr. Hartzog gave the invocation and a second hymn was followed by responsive scripture reading led by Rev. W. A. Rex, Rev. C. M. Thompson offered prayer and the offering was taken.

Rev. Thompson announced that the next community service would be held at the Methodist church and would serve as a farewell to Dr. W. B. Hartzog, who has resigned his pastorate here. Dr. Hartzog then introduced Mr. Hurry, the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Hurry opened his remarks with the statement that he was sorry he could not say that he has seen all the boys from here on the other side. While he may have been in the same vicinity it was not his fortune to meet any one from Tecumseh.

He then gave an excellent description of his trip across, leaving New York August 9 on a ship that safely passed through the submarine zone. He pictured the dirigibles and hydroplanes in the air, the 16 ships in convoy, and the magnificent spectacle of 21 ships in harbor as they reached Bordeaux after ten days out.

On the trip there were many delightful incidents and many things annoying because of care exercised in allowing nothing in the shape of light or reflection to betray the presence of the ship the enemy at night. He arrived at Paris at 9 o'clock at night and described the erst while gay city as pitiful — everything dark, guarding against air raides. He told how the sirens were blown to waken the people to seek shelter at a coming raid.

Mr. Hurry told of the various cities he visited in Italy and of the beauty of that land. Road building there has become a fine art and the turnpikes there are the finest for motoring. His party were furnished with a fine Fiat car, in which it was a pleasure to traverse the highways that partically were beautiful boulevards.

The speaker highly praised Italy for its part in the war, and no one should think that she did not nobly do her part. She defended a line 500 miles long over the most difficult glaciers and mountains, overcoming almost insurmountable obstacles in fortifying the heights where it took extreme skill to place their cannon. Italy mobilized 14 per cent of her people. There was no oil in the market, soft coal was $100 a ton and gasoline $1 a gallon. The Italian soldier receives 10c a day if in the front line and 3c a day if in the rear. This, he said, is small pay on which to support a family of 17 children. Italy has spent two-thirds of her entire wealth in the war and a million killed. She took an important part in the aviation game. His retreat was due to the shrewdest intrigue ever performed by any nation. Exact duplications of home papers containing accounts of families starving at home were distributed through enemy propaganda among soldiers who received only small pay and had no recreation. It is a marvel, that Italy ever came back. She surely is not a quitter.

Speaking of the Y. M. C. A., he said the association movement never received such encouragement as Italy gave from any government. Fine buildings—palaces of the wealthy—were requisitioned, free transportation was furnished secretaries and their supplies; also franking privilege for mail and cable. They were furnished with ten great motor cars and the government gasoline rate of $1 per gallon.

No more difficult international mission has ever been attempted than that of the Y. M. C. A., and the movement is significant of future Christian unity. Among the work of the secretaries is teaching the natives games—foot ball, base ball, etc.—and promoting athletic meets. His majesty, the king, Victor Emmanuel, a great democrat, stamps his approval on the Y. M. C. A.

The results of war will bring great benefit to the working people, giving them a chance to own something.

The speaker also referred to the reconstruction work among wounded soldiers and stated that Italy's achievements in artifical limbs are wonderful.

He told of his visit to the front when he was arrested for passing where neither civilians nor automobiles were allowed. In the [illegible] trenches are found fewer [illegible], and all are learning a wonderful lesson out of the whole war.

Rev. Edward Escolme pronounced the benediction and the large audience was dismissed.

o

GEORGE SCARLETT

Former Resident of This Vicinity Wounded in Battle.

In the Toledo Blade of November 30 was an item of the wounding in action of George Scarlett, son of Rev. and Mrs. Scarlett, former Macon and Ridgeway residents and highly respected in Tecumseh. Mr. Scarlett was in a battle near Sedan when injured, receiving shrapnel wounds in his shoulder and back and a fracture of the left arm. He was serving with the 101st infantry. His brother John in Toledo received the word. The injured man is also a brother of Miss Scarlett, a teacher for several years back in our schools.

CAPT. A. P. MILLS

TECUMSEH MOURNS DEATH OF SOLDIER

Son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mills Succumbs to Cerebro Meningitis in France.

His many boyhood friends were terribly grieved last week when word came that Capt. Adelbert P. Mills had died "Somewhere in France" Oct. 20th, 1918, of cerebro spinal meningitis. Mrs. George Sanford, a sister, received the message from Mrs. Adelbert Mills, who with the children are with her people in Ypsilanti. Adelbert had not been from town so many years, but we still regarded him as one of our boys and have been especially proud of his progress both in his chosen profession and of his rank in Uncle Sam's serviee.

Life Sketch of Capt. Mills.

Adelbert Philo Mills born in Tecumseh, Michigan, November 10, 1883, and died "Somewhere in France" October 20th, 1918 of cerebro-spinal meningitis. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mills and spent his childhood in his home town, graduating from Tecumseh high school with the class of 1902. He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1906, receiving the degree of bachelor of science in civil engineering (B. S.). Later he was engaged in engineering work at Newark, Ohio, and Streetor, Ill., returning to Ann Arbor to receive his master of science degree in 1909. Since then he has been junior professor of civil engineering at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York.

About a year ago Adelbert answered his country's call and in January received his commission as Captain of engineers. He was called to active service in May and went to Camp Lee, Virginia, for a six weeks' course of training. From there he was transferred to Camp Forest, Georgia, where he was soon made a staff officer of the regiment—the 605th Engineers.

Early in September he left for an embarkation camp and sailed for France early in October.

Adelbert was a member of the Honor Engineering society, Sigma Xi, the National Society of Civil Engineers, the Town and Gown club of Ithaca and was from childhood a member of the Presbyterian church. He was author of "Materials of Construction," a text book used in Engineering schools all over the country and co-editor of other engineering works.

He is survivied by his wife who was Grace Comstock of Ypsilanti and two children, Mary Elizabeth, six, and Adelbert Philo, jr., four. Also his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mills, two brothers and three sisters. His brother, Raymond, is a lieutenant with the American forces in Russia, Wilfred, a lieutenant in France. Mrs. Claude Crittenden of New York City, Mrs. George Sanford of Tecumseh and Miss Zillah Mills who sails this month for France to engage in Y. W. C. A. work.

This death comes as a terrible blow to the parents who have only a couple of weeks ago gone to Daytona, Fla., for the winter.

THANKSGIVING MARRIAGE

Miss Metha Bohlke and Earl B. Kidd United.

On Thanksgiving day was solemnized the wedding of Miss Metha Bohlke and Earl B. Kidd at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bolhke southwest of town. A party of over 75 guests witnessed the ceremony and enjoyed the great dinner. At 3:30 the wedding march was started by a sister of the bride, Miss Clara Bohlke and the bridal party took their places in a bower formed by an immense flag and numerous white bells. The attendants were the Misses Martha Bohlke and Beatrice Kidd, sisters of the contracting parties, as bridesmaids and Carl Bohlke and Edgar Kidd, brothers of the bride and groom as grooms men. The words binding these two young people were spoken by Rev. W. A. Rex, of the Tecumseh Presbyterian church.

Following the ceremony was served an excellent dinner, proving the groom knew how to pick a wife from a family of great cooks.

The bride was dainty in a gown of navy blue and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations.

The great flag was to do honor to one brother of the bride and two brothers of the groom who are in Uncle Sam's service.

CAPT HAWKES' DEATH FINALLY CONFIRMED

Was Killed in Action September 30th—No Details.

George Hawkes of this place and his daughter in law, Mrs. Milburn Hawkes of Ludington have not left a stone unturned to find out the truth of the story of Capain Milburn Hawkes' death. But they could only get "hear say" reports. At last Mrs. Hawkes took the matter up with the postmaster at Ludington, who is an old family friend. He in turned wired the congressman from that district, Jas. M. McLaughlin, at Washington and the following message is his answer.

Wash. D. C., Nov. 29.

W. T. Culver, Ludington, Mich.,

Cabled Gen. Pershing for information concerning Capt. Milburn H. Hawkes and he advises Hawkes killed in action September 30th. No details given.

James C. McLaughlin.

The whole town was grieved to have the report verified as everyone were hoping it was untrue, and all sympathize with the aged father in this terrible affliction in the loss of his only child.

THE SHUMANN QUINTET

The High school auditorium was filled last Wednesday evening for the first number of the High school Lyceum course, and this fact demonstrates that the students went "over the top" in ascuring the success of their venture.

The entertainment given by the four musicians under Prof. F. V. Haines, noted pianist, was one of great delight to music lovers, not only to those who enjoy classical productions but also to those who can appreciate good music.

The company was composed of two gentlemen and three ladies, the instrumentation being piano, organ, two violins and cello, a combination that produced pleasing harmony. The solo work of the lady celloist was exceptionally good, in fact the entire program was a musical treat rarely excelled by an equal number of musicians.

The financial success of the course depended upon the sale of sufficient number of season tickets. The night before the students were short on sales, but a little additional hustle brought them over the top, the sale on the evening of the entertainment amounting to $475, or thereabouts. The earnings of the course go for equipping the handsome new gymnasium.

"HEARTS OF THE WORLD"

ANOTHER MASTERPIECE OF D. W. GRIFFITH

Will be Shown on the Screen at the Bradley, December 8 and9:

Nearly everyone saw and remembers the first $2.00 motion picture ever produced, "The Birth of a Nation" called the $2.00 picture because it was the first great production of the screen at which an admission price of $2.00 was charged. Mr. D. W. Griffith. known the world over, produced this masterpiece, which was at that time, the greatest film play the world had ever seen. Mr. Griffith then produced what is known as his supreme triumph, "Hearts of the World" a remance of the great world war and the sweetest love story ever told. This big production is booked for a two day engagement at the Bradley Opera house, Tecumseh, commencing next Sunday evening, December 8th.

"Hearts of the World" is more than a picture play, it is a world drama that goes straight to the heart, a story more vital than "The Birth of a Nation." There is more thrill, more action, more fine photography, more beautiful scenes, more magnificent acting than ever seen in any film production before. "Hearts of the World" is more than a masterpiece, it is an inspiration. Scenes of outdoor life that have the atmosphere of great painted canvas and actual battle scenes taken on the battle fields of France.

"Hearts of the World" was formerly presented throughout the state at prices running as high as $1.50 and claimed by all who saw it to be worth the price charged. By a fortunate booking the management of the Bradley is able to present this magnificent production, exactly as presented at the higher prices, for the unheard of price of 25 and 50 cents. It is indeed a fortunate booking and everyone should take advantage of seeing this wonderful film play at these prices.

For the benefit of out of town people who cannot easily attend the evening shows, a special matinee will be given Sunday afternoon (doors open at 2:30 and picture starting at 3 o'clock.)

Owing to the length of this production only one show can be given each evening starting at 8 o'clock, doors open at 7 p. m. Remember only one show each evening. adv

DR. HARTZOG RESIGNS PASTORATE

ACCEPTS CALL EXTENDED FROM MASON

Tecumseh's Oldest Preacher, in Point of Residence, Leaves After Nine Years of Service—Persistent Temperance and Patriotic Worker.

It is with sincere regret that Tecumseh people in general and members of the Baptist church in particular, learn that Dr. W. B. Hartzog had decided to leave this field where he has labored so efficiently for the past nine years. Dr. Hartzog is considered a valued citizen, not only of Tecumseh, but of Lenawee county, over which he has won hosts of friends through his religious, temperance and patriotic activities.

Dr. W. B. Hartzog, Retiring Pastor Tecumseh Baptist Church.

After a sermon on the topic—"How Paul Anticipated Our Needs" Dr. Hartzog read the following letter to his congregation Sunday morning.

"Brethren of the Tecumseh Baptist church:—

"We have worked together pleasantly for nine years and two months. Your pastor has nothing but words of praise for you. He feels, however, that the time has come to ask to be released that he may change to another field of labor. The First Baptist church at Mason, Michigan, has repeatedly made overtures, but your pastor did not see his way clear to accept. Less than six weeks ago, he thanked the chairman of the pulpit committee and dismissed the matter from his mind. Last Tuesday he received the following letter from A. J. Hall, chairman of the pulpit committee:

"'Dear Mr. Hartzog: Our church had its annual meeting a few evenings ago. The pulpit committee reported and recommended that the church extend a call to you to become its pastor at twelve hundred dollars a year and the parsonage. On motion the same was unanimously carried. We are just completing the installation of a new pipe organ, which is a gift to the church. We have just finished remodeling of the church and everything is paid for. Hoping you can see your way clear to accept this call I remain yours very truly,' etc.

"I thought the matter over for a few hours and the next day went to Mason and looked over the field. On returning Mrs. Hartzog and I talked the matter over and decided to accept. Winter will soon be on us. What we do, we must do quickly. We ask therefore that we may terminate this pleasant relationship on the eighth of December.

"Tecumseh and Lenawee county has become very dear to us and we are loth to leave, but it seems best for us to do so. With best wishes for your continued success.

"W. B. Hartzog.

"Dec. 1, 1918."

After some kind words of appreciation on the part of some of the men of the congregation the resignation was accepted with regret. Next Sunday Dr. Hartzog will speak in the Baptist church in the morning and at the Community service at the Methodist church will deliver the sermon.

Mason is the county seat of Ingham county. It is one of the old towns of the state.

Lansing the capital, is located in the extreme northwest corner of this county.

Dr. Hartzog is the only protestant pastor in the county affiliating with the County Ministerial association, who held a pastorate nine years ago. He came here from Bowling Green, Ohio, having previously held pastorates in Columbus and Cleveland, Ohio. After graduating at Ohio Northern University he completed a course in Bonebreak Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio. While in Cleveland he availed himself of the opportunity to continue research in the large library of Western Reserve University resulting in the production of a book entiled "Ancient Masters and Jesus," receiving the degree of doctor of philosophy. This book has since been translated into Portuguese language and is used as a text book in the schools of Brazil.

He came into Lenawee county at an opportune time to render distinguished service to the county. He had been a prominent anti-saloon leader in Ohio and he soon became such in this county. Three times he organized the county and raised funds to promote the good cause.

When our country entered the war he turned his attention to the promotion of the Red Cross and served as one of the directors of the county chapter. He has been active in promoting the several bond issues and by his voice and pen he has helped to maintain the patriotic spirit.

He is president of the Lenawee County Ministerial association. and president of the Lenawee County Sunday School association.

Mrs. Hartzog made her home a college for training the women to knit socks for the soldiers and gave much time to this splendid project.

Their son, Justin R. Hartzog, after graduating at the Tecumseh high school and Denison University completed a three years' post graduate course in Cornell University. He is now a First Lieutenant in the army. He is at present stationed at Washington City as assistant to the chief of construction.

WIT AND WISDOM CLUB

Entertained at the Beautiful Home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Turner.

The great, beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Turner was the scene of one of thse happy gatherings of the Wit and Wisdom club, Monday evening, where the party are like a great family at one of their big dinners. The club of their big dinners. The club this year enjoy a potluck dinner once each month and they are happy affairs.

Following the very informal dinner the club was called to order and Mrs. Turner acted as leader of the program, which was freely interspersed with Victrola music. These papers were read:

Albania—Mrs. A. J. Bigelow.

Montenegro — Mrs. C. M. Thompson.

Roumania—Mrs. Chas. Kemp.

Miss Alice Wimple read a delightful letter from Mrs. C. A. Slayton telling of their happy trip to the southland, written before the black clouds of her great sorrow came upon her.

Resolutions of appreciation were formed by the club honoring Dr. and Mrs. Hartzog, who have been such ardent members of the organization, but are now packing to go to their new home at Mason.

The next meeting was to have been held at the Hartzog home but as they will be moved by then, Mrs. Fred Rosacrans kindly offered her home for the gathering.

Editorial Comment

The American Steel & Wire Co. is among the local industrial institutions that Tecumseh can well feel proud of. Learning that Tecumseh Township needed $1,000 to reach its new Patriotic League quota, the company, through its representative, Mr. C. B. Mize, voluntarily subscribed that amount and emphasized the action taken by sending a check for half that amount to the township chairman, H. S. Temple. This is a fine spirit of national patriotism and local loyalty and we are proud of the institution. Mr. Temple informs us that some members of the Lenawee County Patriotic League still have the idea that since the signing of the armistice they are not required to keep up their payments. If any of the monthly payments are stopped Tecumseh can not meet her quota unless new pledges take their place. The war is not over until the boys come home. Money for war work is needed more than before and we trust that none of our citizens will become slackers now that victory is at hand. The work must be kept up.

Last week and again this week we publish an announcement of our two banks in which these two institutions call attention to a change of banking hours—reducing the open bank hours thirty minutes to allow more time for "bookkeeping and other detail work incident to government financing and other war activities."

Few readers of the anouncement will realize what the war has meant to the banks in additional work and that without remuneration. But the Tecumseh banks did not grumble—they just buckled down to harder work and longer hours. From 9 o'clock to 3:30 did not mean a day's work for them; it only meant that those were the hours that the bank was open to transact business with with the public. The real work was done behind closed doors and drawn shades. As the detail work of war activities increased more help was employed, but even then the force was obliged to work to the limit. Surely, the banks of Tecumseh have demonstrated a spirit of loyal patriotism during the war that should meet with the approbation of the public.

Now they ask for shorter hours —not shorter working hours, but shorter hours for public banking business. They want to add a half hour daylight to their behind closed door work.

We believe the public will appreciate the position of the banks and arrange their business in such a way as to co-operate with our valued financial institutions, and thus aid in lightening their burden to a small extent.

The banks of Tecumseh have been most accommodating. They have been willing always to advise customers on financial matters whenever their advice has been sought. They have gone other towns of same size one better by keeping open their institutions on Saturday evenings for the accommodation of the public. They have been loyal to the community and to the nation.

The Red Cross membership campaign this year will take place the week of December 16 to 23 and will be known as the Red Cross Christmas roll call. The approximate membership of the Red Cross in Michigan is 850,000 and the officers of the Michigan state board confidently expect to increase this membership one hundred per cent. Emphasis is laid on the fact that this Red Cross Christmas roll call will not have for its object the obtaining of funds or contributions, but will be confined to membership only. We would like to see every man, woman and child in Tecumseh township enrolled during this campaign. There is a Junior Red Cross for the little folks.

War boards are gradually removing restrictions in the use of fuel and foods. The restrictions on coal have been modified and sugar cards are no longer necessary. However, this does not mean that we should go back to the "hog it all" method of former days. It is necessary that conservation be continued.

It would seem that the war has given coal mines an excellent opportunity to clean house and get rid of about all the refuse piles about their premises. Some of the stuff that people have been compelled to burn has been awful and almost impossible, but the people stood for it because we were in war. We'll all hail with delight the return of anthracite and good old Pocahontas!

OBITUARY

Chas. J. VanValkenburg.

Chas. Jewell VanValkenburg was born near Petersburg January 21, 1870, a son of Randall and Harriet T. VanValkenburg, and departed this life at Laurel, Ind., Saturday, Nov. 16, 1918. His parents moved to Jackson when he was a small boy, later settling on a farm near Manchester, where Charles received his education in the Manchester high school.

He was united in marriage to Ida B. Hendershott of Macon July 20, 1899, who with their five children, Cecil Julian, Harry Russell, Clara Geraldine, Marjorie Mae and Zoe Anna, are left to mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father. An aged father and two sisters also survive him.

Mr. VanValkenburg followed farming for a few years on the old homestead until the home was destroyed by fire, after which he edited the Manchester Herald, later moving to Lima, Ohio.

In 1914 he again took up farming near Laurel, Ind., until his health failed, when he took up newspaper work, publishing the Laurel Review until the time of his death. He was a member of the Methodist church in Laurel, being a consistent Christian in his family and every day life. It was so often said of him, "he is a good man, ever ready to help the needy, to comfort the sorrowing and afflicted ones of earth," and his untimely death was mourned by the whole community, whose loving sympathy was extended to his wife and children by words and deeds in this their time of need.

Death loves a shining mark and in the passing of Mr. VanValkenburg an aching void is left in the hearts of his friends and a great loss is felt in the church that he loved and the town that he helped to support. But for him the gates of heaven open wide and his longing soul is satisfied.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to all friends and neighbors who in any way assisted us and sympathized with us in our great bereavement; also the minister for his comforting words and the donors of beautiful flowers.

Mrs. C. J. VanValkenburg and Family.
Mrs. Isaac Hendershott.

Mrs. Murlow Packard.

Mary Amelia Dinse was born in Sanilac county, Moore township, March 8, 1894, and was one-half year old when her parents moved to Rome, Mich., residing there until she was 12 years of age. The family then came to Tecumseh, where deceased has lived ever since. She was a member of the German Evangelical church of North Blissfield and attended the German school two years. At the age of 14 she was confirmed.

November 30, 1912, at the age of 18 she was married to Murlow Packard, and they have been living with his folks ever since. To this union were born three children, Lucile, Irene and Lawrence, who survive. She also leaves a father and mother, four brothers, Arthur, Herman, Carl and Harvey, and one sister, Miss Ella Dinse.

Deceased was an industrious, hard working and kind hearted woman, was loved by all and will be greatly missed by her family and a host of relatives and friends who mourn her loss.

Glen Hill Dies of Pneumonia.

Again people of this community were shocked when it was learned that Glen Hill, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E Hill, had passed away Thursday of pneumonia, following an attack of influenza, from which he was stricken about as soon as he reached camp in North Carolina, which he entered about four weeks ago The parents were notified as soon as his condition was considered serious the father arriving a few hours before he passed away. Dale Tingley a neighbor, was in his company and assisted by other kind hands, did all he could for his comfort, but of not avail. The remains, accompanied by his father, arrived at Cone Saturday morning and were taken to the home of his parents, where the funeral services were held Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, Rev. Chas. Bragg of the M. P. church, of which he was an honored member, officiating.

The young man was but twenty years of age and was a favorite with the young people of this vicinity. For two years he attended high school here and won many friends by his gentlemanly ways. In his immediate family he is survived by his parents and two brothers. The remains were laid to rest beneath a bed of flowers, gifts of friends who wished to show the love and esteen in which he was held, in Rice's cemetery near Milan.

Telephone Co. Elects Officers.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Britton Telephone Co. held Dec. 2, it was voted to leave the dues the same as for 1918, that is $10.00 for shareholders and $15.00 for renters. The following officers have been elected for the coming year: President, C. R. DuBois; vice president, C. B. Exelby; secretary, Wm. Curry; treasurer, B. J. Beasley, other trustees are Dr. A. R. Lusty and Garfield Gray.

Taylor-Adams Wedding.

A pretty home wedding took place last Wednesday at noon in Detroit when Miss Hazel Adams was united marriage to George Taylor, the ceremony being performed in the presence of only the immediate relatives.

The bride is well known here having been an efficient teacher in our schools for two years, where she has won many friends who are much pleased to welcome her as a permanent resident.

The groom, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, is among our popular young people, a hustling young farmer, well and favorably known in this vicinity. In fact both have hosts of friends who join in the heartiest of congratulations. After Dec. 15th, they will be at home on the farm east of town.

Christian Church Notes.

The Good Fellow class has charge of the Sunday morning services. All enjoyed the excellent program arranged by the members of the Bible class that was given last Sunday. Plan to attend these services as they are very instructive as well as entertaining.

The annual business meeting of the church will be held Saturday evening in church parlors. Every member is requested to be present as important business is to be transacted.

M. P. Church Notes.

The W. F. M. society will hold their regular monthly business meeting with Mrs. Chas. Craig.

Regular services both morning and evening to which all are invited.

Textile Club Enjoys Lamb Supper.

Saturday evening, Nov. 23, the Textile club rooms were filled with a merry crowd that had gathered to enjoy a lamb supper. All summer four choice lambs have been feeding on the lawn at the woolen mill in preparation for the event. At 6:30 an efficient corps of volunteer workers, under the capable direction of Mrs. John Gagan, served the following menu a la cafeteria: Sweet pickles, olives, roast lamb, creamed potatoes, creamed peas, cabbage salad, jello, apple pie with ice cream, coffee.

Thomson's orchestra furnished music during the supper hour and after supper played for a jolly crowd of dancers. About 175 members and associate members were present.

Miss Lila Johnson is visiting her sisters in Jackon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Amspoker of Manchester are visiting Mr and Mrs. John V. Amspoker.

Mrs. Geo. Sanford and Mrs. Leo Smith and her baby daughter are visiting at the home of Willis Smith, near Tecumseh.

Miss Hazel VanGieson of Detroit is enjoying a week's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Van Gieson.

The union service at the M. E. church was well attended. Rev. Widdifield, rector of St. John's church, gave an excellent address.

All the children and their families gathered at the home of Jas. Hogan to celebrate Thanksgiving There were twenty-three present.

After two years of inactivity in the way of school sports Clinton high has come back with a winning foot ball team. Last week games were won from Tecumseh and Blissfield.

LaVere VanGieson, who has been at Camp Custer, has been mustered out of service and is visiting his parents here before returning to his position in Detroit.

The village has been thoroughly canvassed by a committee of ladies in an effort to secure funds to make Clinton a part of a county organization of the Y. W. C. A. Always a worthy cause, this is especially important now when the girls and young women of the immediate future have so many serious and unusual problems to meet.

NO REST—NO PEACE

There's no peace and little rest for the one who suffers from a bad back, and distressing urinary disordes. Tecumseh people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Be guided by their experience.

J. B. Smith, E. Chicago St., Tecumseh, says: "I was caused a great deal of suffering by pains in the small of my back and when the attacks came on, it was all I I could do attend to my work. When stooping, I was dizzy and spots of fire seemed to flash before my eyes. I did not rest well and mornings when I got up, I was tired and languid. I doctored and used various remedies, but got no benefit until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel like a different person, completely ridding me of kidney trouble."

OVER FIVE YEARS LATER Mr. Smith said: "I gladly confirm my previous endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. I use them occasionally when I feel in need of a kidney medicine and they never fail to relieve me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

Injured in Explosion

FORMER FRANKLIN PEOPLE AT ALBUQUERQUE. N. M.

Terribly Burned in Gasoline Explosion—Mr. and Mrs. Leon Allen and Miss Bertha Taylor the Victims.

News of the terrible accident which befell two of his sisters and brother-n-law last Friday came to Andrew Taylor. Several years ago Mr. and Mrs. Leon Allen and Miss Bertha Taylor, Franklin people and highly respected in Tecumseh, went to Albuquerque, N. M., hoping the change of climate would benefit Mrs. Allen's health. It did materially, and they have made that city their home since.

Friday Mrs. Allen, who by the way had suffered the loss of a limb since leaving Michigan, started a fire in the kitchen stove. As it did not burn up brightly she reached for the kerosene can but caught up the gasoline can instead. In an instant came a great explosion and Mrs. Allen was thrown across the room and knocked unconscious. Her husband, hearing the noise, rushed to the kitchen. He could not see a thing on account of the intense cloud of black smoke which filled the room and he groped around to find her. Miss Taylor, who had been ill in bed for three weeks, also was frightened by the noise, staggered from her room to the kitchen and in trying to save the others became somewhat burned.

Mrs. Allen was completely enveloped in flames, her clothing entirely burned from her body, even her shoe being burned to a crisp. A heavy corset saved the trunk of her body from serious injury and in falling her face fell into an armful of clothing which lay on the floor so she will be saved unsightly scars there. A nearby physician was summoned and the frightfully burned sufferer cared for and then taken to St. Joseph's hospital in that city. Word from the hospital first gave her recovery as doubtful, but later messages to Franklin relatives say there is a slim chance for her recovery.

The husband was burned about the face in trying to put out the fire and the shock and exposure made Miss Taylor decidedly worse. Mr. and Mrs. Seth Simmons, the latter a sister of the injured ladies, started Friday night for Albuquerque and they were joined in Chicago by another sister, Mrs. Wm. Dickson of Fowlerville, Ind.

SCHOOL NEWS

The students of Tecumseh high school wish to thank the people who supported the Lyceum course. Over four hundred and fifty season tickets were sold, so that we are able to pay for the entertainments and a generous fund is left for the atheletic association. Certainly the first number was a most pleasing one and we feel sure the rest will be up to this standard. Be sure and hear the remaining entertainments.

Championship Game.

Despite the cold and rain, the most exciting foot ball game of the season was played at Clinton Thanksgiving day at 2:00 p. m. Our team made the trip on the Hayden mill truck and about ten car loads of rooters went up to keep the side lines warm. The game commenced at 2 o'clock sharp and both teams displayed great confidence concerning the final outcome. Tecumseh scored a touch down in the first quarter through the efforts of "Lovy Boy" and Clinton succeeded in gaining three points by field goal kick, leaving score at end of first quarter, 7 to 3. Until the last quarter most of the playing was in the middle of the field. Clinton had good interference and Tecumseh made some good tackles. Tecumseh line held well. In the last three minutes of the game Clinton secured a touch down, and failing to make goal kick left the game in their favor by a score of 9 to 7. The game was very exciting, both sides playing a clean game. Tecumseh was the only team that had scored on Clinton this season.

Friday night a series of volley ball games were played in the gym. The first game was between the Freshman and Sophomores in which the latter were victorious. Then the Juniors and Seniors played, the Juniors winning. After that the two victorious teams played each other and the Sophomores won. The last game was a match between the clerks and a picked team from the high school. The high school boys won. Rah! Rah! Rah! T. H. S.

Warning to the high school pupils: If you are not less noisy after the last bell has rung Mr. Duguid will be minus knuckles.

We are sorry to report that two of our high school teachers, Miss Cooley and Miss Yutzey, are sick with the influenza.

There has been no school in the high Monday or Tuesday due to something being wrong with the heating system.

The second grade are studying the life of the Pilgrims in reading. They are also cutting out pilgrims and have used them for a border on the black board in connection with Thanksgiving.

The fourth grade are cutting out canoes, with original designs for black board decorations.

Miss Mary Miller of Midland, a former T. H. S. teacher, visited the high school one day last week. She says it is some swell place, and we agree with her.

Mrs. Laidlow, domestic science teacher, reports that the eighth grade cooking class has commenced work, their first lesson being to bake apples, the second to mash potatoes and the third to fry potatoes.

The Senior history class has recently taken up the study of civics along with American history. Each student has also subscribed for the Independent in order that they may be posted on the current happenings.

Miss LaPointe asked her pupils how many had been ill of the "flu." Among those who raised their hands was a little fellow who couldn't wait to be answered but piped up that he hadn't had it but was "supposed" to it five times.

Mr. VanWinkle has become so expert in typing that he is now trying to develop the art of keeping time by whistling.

The chemistry class is now working its experiments in the laboratory since the gas has been installed.

Owing to the weather the military training class had their training in the gymnasium last Tuesday.

Mr. Reed's class in chemistry was able to meet the other day when the others could not, due to the cold. This was caused by the hot air the pupils furnished in working their experiments.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Frank Rude is very sick.

Miss Lillian Kennedy has been ill a couple of days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Thatcher and baby daughter have gone to Jacksonville, Fla., hoping a few months in the south will be of benefit to Mrs. Thatcher's health. Mr. Thatcher will return as soon as he gets his wife and baby located.

Alva Spayde took a wicked tumble on the cross walk near the Rosacrans store yesterday. A small patch of ice had been covered by a flurry of snow and when he stepped on it he came down full length. He hurt the back of his head and one hip pretty bad but is able to pace it off lively this morning.

Yesterday Arthur Harding was quite badly burned while at work at Brewer's foundry. He was carrying a ladle of molten metal and in some way the handle turned spilling the hot stuff down his leg and into his shoe. Dr. Beardsley was summoned and he cared for the sufferer and took him home. The leg and foot are burned pretty bad and in spots the burns are deep, but Mr. Harding rested fairly well last night.

Saturday evening Garrett Lee came in from the barn and sat down near the stove. His wife saw how white and drawn his face was so summoned her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Rogers, from next door. They put the sick man to bed and he has regained consciousness only intermittently since. Owing to his advanced age, 85 years, grave fears are entertained for his recovery. A brother, M[illegible] Lee, and wife of Onsted have been called to assist in his ca[illegible]

RESEARCH CLUB

Mrs. Helzerman Entertains the Meeting Tuesday.

The Research club met at Mrs. Helzerman's Tuesday for their regular meeting, and there was a fair attendance considering the stormy day. The regular routine business was disposed of and then the program was taken up with Mrs. Floyd Waring as leader, in the absence of Mrs. McIntyre who is ill with influenza, Mrs. Waring read a paper prepared by Mrs. McIntyre entitled "The trade wihout a history." Mrs. Helzerman followed with an article "A scrap of paper,'" showing the rise of paper making from 95 A. D. to the present time.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the Red Cross rooms Dec. 10 and all who care are urged to come and sew for the refugees.

DEATH OF MISS IMOBELLE STOLTER

Miss Imobelle Stolter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stolter, died at the home in Ridgeway last night at 8 o'clock. Death was result of pneumonia which followed influenza. The young lady who was 19 years old last February, is very well known here, having been employed in the village but recently had been clerking in Adrian.

The funeral will be held from the home privately tomorrow at 2 p. m. with burial in Ridgeway.

Resolutions Honoring the Late C. A. Slayton.

Mrs. Charles A. Slayton,
Immediate family and relatives.

In behalf of the Mens Brotherhood class of the Presbyterian church, I am instructed to pen these few lnes of sympathy in these hours and days of Bereavement.

May God be around you and yours, as the arrows of life are spent and the consolation of the Divine Ruler be yours and in Him that doeth all things well.

Our loss was his eternal gain, as he was ever alert, as the watchman on the walls. So with his lamp trimmed and burning he answered the call, to come up higher.

Yours in Sympathy, from all the members of the Mens Brotherhood class of the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Greenfield and the two young daughters contracting the disease shortly after. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Williams and daughter remained here until Sunday.

The cafeteria supper given by the ladies of St. Peter's church at Grange hall last Saturday evening proved a delightful affair as well as a profitable one for the ladies, netting for them something like $80. At this kind of a supper the expense per person is according to appetite and desire —the larger the appetite the greater the price. Each patron waited upon himself, took such of the excellently cooked viands as appealed to his or her taste, had the same checked up before taking a seat at a table and enjoyed the feast very much. Quite a number took a second helping and all approved of the delicious manner in which the eatables were prepared.

FAITHFUL WORK IS RECOGNIZED

HONOR SERVICE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY

Mrs. S. W. Anderson and Joseph H. Smith, Presented With Tokens of Esteem.

On Sunday morning was held an Honor Service of unusual local interest at the Presbyterian church, which was filled with a large congregation. Rev. W. A. Rex preached a splendid sermon on "Workers of the Lord," telling of the workers in spiritual things, socially and patriotically, not forgetting to pay his usual high tribute to the boys "over there" and the women "over here". Then he spoke at length of the people who have made possible the success in the past years in the local church, referring to two persons who had served so long and faithfully—Mrs. S. W. Anderson and Joseph H. Smith.

Mrs. Anderson is relinquishing the active work as superintendent of the primary department after holding the position for 25 years and is to go to Washington, D. C., to spend the winter with her daughter, Miss Helen. Probably not a woman in the village has started more little feet in the "straight and narrow way" and is revered by more of both old and young for the splendid work she has done. Even it those feet when larger grown led their owners in "by and forbidden paths" still the early teachings of Mrs. Anderson remain and light the way.

Then Mr. Smith has been trustee and treasurer of the church for some 20 years and it was only his due that the congregation show some appreciation for this sometimes rather thankless job of caring for a church's finances. According to the new election rules of the church he takes a year's vacation.

Mr. Rex, in his happy manner, presented Mrs. Anderson with a handsome wrist watch as a token of the love of the congregation and Mrs. Anderson charmingly thanked the donors. Then the reverend called Mr. Smith to the front of the church and in behalf of the church and congregation presented him with a pencil and fountain pen, both of solid gold. Mr. Smith, not even having an idea of what Rev. Rex could want when he was called forward, was left speechless but recovering himself managed to show his appreciation to his friends by a few words.

It was planned to hold this honor service before the influenza epidemic struck the village but even if it was a postponed service it was truly delightful.

Mr. Chas. Slayton was chairman of the committee from the Session having charge of this service and to him belonged the credit of the beautiful gift for Mrs. Anderson.

MONDAY CLUB

"Chateaux in Old Touraine" General Topic for Excellent Program.

The Monday club session this week was truly delightful. During the business session Mrs. Frank S. Turner was appointed secretary for the remainder of the year to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Mrs. F. G. Lewis. Food conservation was also discussed and the announcement made that next week the little stocking will be passed for the contribution for war children's relief. Mrs. F. C. Dickinson conducted a short drill in French pronounciation. Mrs. J. H. Smith, the president, then invited Mrs. C. N. Graebner to take the chair as leader and she announced the following program, with the general topic "Chateaux in Old Touraine."

Reading, "In Old Touraine"—Mrs. F. C. Dickinson.

The Chateaux of Chinon, Blois and Chambord—Mrs. G. A. Rathbun.

The Chateaux of Amboise, Chenonceaux and Azay le Rideau—Miss Marion Rosacrans.

Next Monday Mrs. F. G. Heesen will act as leader with papers by Mrs. C. A. Wright and Mrs. Chas. Williamson.

BUSINESS CHANGE

Mrs. Florence Splettstoesser Buys Foster Millinery Stock.

For ten years Miss Myrtle Foster has been in business on our street and it is with regret we now lose her. She has sold her millinery business to Mrs. Florence Splettstoesser, who took possession on Monday. Mrs. Splettstoesser, who is an efficient dressmaker, will run a dressmaking department in conjunction and we know the Tecumseh ladies will welcome this intelligence.

Miss Margretta McClelland, a well known Tecumseh lady but for several seasons a trimmer in shops at Oberlin, Ohio, has been hired to fill this capacity for Mrs. Splettstoesser and Mrs. Leon Fagan has left the telephone exchange to act as saleslady.

Miss Foster will return to her home at Quincy for a well earned rest before deciding on her next business venture.

Will Kemp of Camp Custer was home for Thanksgiving.

The Continuation of Our Great Ready-to-Wear Sale!

Our tremendous sale of ready to wear garments which started last Friday and which will continue until Saturday, the 14th, is now in full swing. We are pleased with the crowds that have inspected and made purchases and we feel each one has gone away satisfied that we have advertised the goods in this sale for what they are and have not misrepresented a single garment.

Every garment in our stock is included in this sale, nothing excepted. Ladies' beautiful behring seal and plush coats, full flare, long models, all silk lined, some with deep shawl collars of heavy fur, also cuffs and trimming, others are plain black. These are all special values.

Ladies' all wool cloth coats, such as Velours, Cheviots, Broadcloths, and some of Velvet. These have flared, belted, high waisted and tailored effects.

Coats with huge, deep-roll collars of fur or plush; coats with self collars so that you can wear your own furs; coats in the newest season's shades.

This is what our coat sale offers.

A trip to this store will convince you that these bargains are far out of the ordinary.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Change in Banking Hours, Effective—

December 10, 1918

Commencing December 10th and until further notice the banks of Tecumseh will open for business at 9:00 A. M. and close promptly at 3:00 P. M. daily, excepting Sundays and legal holidays, and on Saturday evenings will open at 7:00 P. M. and close at 8:30 P. M.

This change will provide more time to take care of the greatly increased volume of bookkeeping and other detail work incident to Government financing and other war activities. Closing a half hour earlier than heretofore will enable our clerical forces to balance their books before 6:00 P. M. and eliminate many long hours of overtime work.

By doing their banking business strictly within the hours named, our customers will assist in making effective this change, which has been adopted primarily in the interest of accurate and efficient banking service.

Community Service

This service will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday evening.

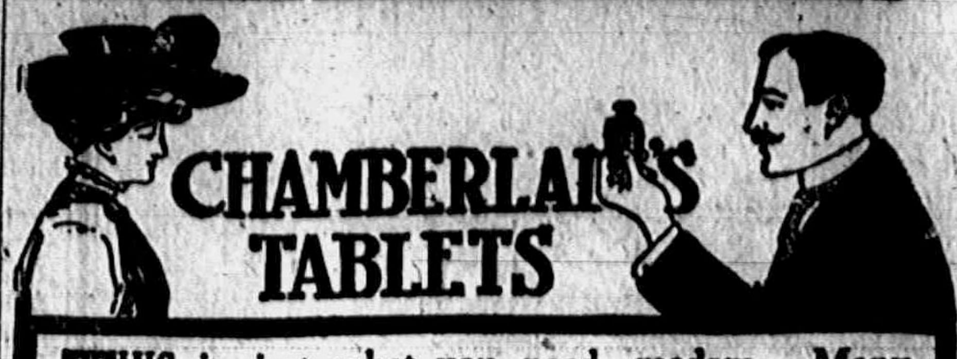
Dr. W. B. Hartzog

will be the guest of honor and will deliver the principal address.

There will be hearty congregational singing led by the union chorus choir. Revs. Rex, Widdifield, Escolme, Thompson, Dr. North and Supt. Reed will also speak briefly.

Our community should honor Dr. Hartzog by filling the church to overflowing.

Everybody Welcome



THIS is just what you need, madam. Many women who were troubled with indigestion, a sallow, muddy skin, indicating biliousness and habitual constipation, have been permanently cured by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets. Before using these tablets they felt miserable and despondent. Now they are cheerful and happy and relish their meals. Try them. They only cost a quarter.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Pvt. Russel A. Blesing to His Father, John J. Blesing.

Dear Father:

Arrived safely over here after a very uneventful trip across the Atlantic. The weather was exceptionally nice and outside of the first day out of New York the water was very calm, nevertheless a large majority of the boys were seasick, myself among them, and talk about sick; I hope I am never that sick again. There were a couple of days that I believe if a "sub" had gotten us I would have lain right in bed and been contended. For the life of me I can't understand why doctor's prescribe an ocean trip for one's health. If one ever tells me that, I'll simply tell him to go west.

There was little excitment all the way across, and about the only thing of interest was when we saw some porpoises playing in the water. They are a kind of fish you know, and they jump three and four feet out of the water. I guess some people call them flying fish. Then there was a little excitement when the sailors had their target practice, and they sure know how to shoot straight. The most pleasant and happiest moment was of course the morning we first sighted land.

We landed at one of the great sea ports of France; the censor forbids my telling you the name of it, and as you will notice I can't even date this letter. We immediately were sent to what is called a rest camp, but for the life of me I don't see where they get the "rest" part of it, for the boys are working harder than they did. We slept in our small or "pup" tents the first two nights. It wasn't half bad even if it did rain most of the time. Now, however, we have the large squad tents and life is a little bit easier, for we have room to move around in when inside. We are in a part of the country where it rains incessently. A day that goes by without raining is indeed a rare one, and the mud is just like the mud down around Britton and Dundee at home—nothing but black clay and very sticky.

We are camped in a field of about two or three acres area. This field is entirely surrounded, as are all the other fields, by a hedge. This hedge differs from our United States ones, inasmuch as they are built up of earth and stones for four or five feet and all over these embankments the shrubbery grows. There are lots of wild blackberries and I have eaten plenty of them. The roads over here are built of stone, but owing to their not being graded like our own, they are very muddy and full of ruts.

I took a trip to a French canteen yesterday and they certainly have some prices for things. For the life of me I don't see how the French soldiers get along when you stop to consider that their pay is only 5 francs, or less than a dollar a month. Will give you a few samples of prices; smoked ham is $1.20 per lb., cheese $1.20 per lb., bologna $1.40 per lb., nuts $1.00 per lb., grapes 40 cents per lb., candy 15 and 20 cents per bar and bananas 15 cents each.

I changed my American money into francs; had $173 and now I am growing stoop shouldered carrying around 917 francs. Had to buy another pocketbook to carry it in, my old one being too small unless I folded the Francs.

There is no telling when and where we will be sent from here. Outside of a slight cold I am in fine condition and sincerely hope your health is improving.

Must close for this time for its getting dark and we have no lights out here. With all my love to you and all the folks I am forever,

Your affectionate son,
Pvt. Russel A. Blesing.

Somewhere in France

Dear Father:

I am very well now, since getting my feet on land again; I can't say dry land, for this country is far from dry, both inside and out. By inside I mean the kind of wet that old Lenawee county hasn't known since about 1908, and outside, I haven't got the flow of language to tell you what I think about it in this respect, for of all the time I have been over here there hasn't been a day hardly that it hasn't rained, and mud, you should see it; we have to walk around with boots on to keep anywhere near clean, then every step taken it takes about a hundred pound lift to pull your feet out. I am enjoying it all, though, and am not a bit sorry that I came across for there are a whole lot of interesting things that I probably never would have gotten the chance to see if it were not for this.

We have moved from the port that we landed at and are now located at one of the several large ordnance repair shops built over here, and this is certainly a large one. The work done here is mostly the repairing of guns, all the way from the smallest to the largest; then some of the captured German guns are sent here to be torn apart and melted for our use, so you see we give the Huns a taste of their own medicine, as it were. I have been working over in the personnel office ever since arriving here. We are just going to stay here long enough to get our personal records taken and then we will be broken up and sent to different parts of the country, some will be sent to the front, others will remain here and some will be sent back to the American base.

The town that we are stationed at is of quite historic fame, for it was here that Joan-de'Arc received her inspiration—that she was sent to lead the French armies to victory over the British. I visited the town this afternoon and went through the ruins of the castle that was the home of King Charles VII of France. I am enclosing a couple of post cards that I purchased while I was going through. One is supposed to show how it looked before it began to crumble down and the other is as it looks now. I met one of the boys that was with me at Camp Grant and he had just returned from the hospital where he had been laid up for five weeks from getting in the way of a German shrapnel shell. He was hit in three different places, but is in fine shape now.

You spoke of sending me some cigars in your last letter and asked me if I ever received them. No I did not; so if you had them insured as you say you had better begin to trace them up. I sent $25.00 by a New York draft day before yesterday and here's hoping that it gets through all right. Let me know just as soon as you get it. I have plenty of money with me and will send some more to you within the next week.

Must close for his time for it is time lights were out and I have my bed to make. Will try and write again this week. With all my love to all the folks at home and hoping that you are all well and enjoying life as well as I am.

Your affectionate son,
Russel A. Blesing.

P. S.—I am enclosing a mailing card for anything that you might care to send me for Christmas.

John Pennington to His Parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Pennington.

Oct. 28, 1918.

My Dear Parents:—

Well, I am still across the river and it sure is some job. I have everything my own way, but it isn't going to last long.

I am in the dentist's office now writing this letter. He is a very fine fellow, about twenty-five or six I should think. He has his office across the river in the little town where I am staying so you see it makes it handy for me to come in here and write, for he told me that when ever I wanted to I could come in and write my letters. I am sure feeling fine and I guess I am in the best of health. I am, if weight counts anything. It has been raining here for quite a few days and the river that I go over has risen quite a bit. The bridge that is over it must be one-third of a mile long and nights when I go across it makes me think I was back in old Detroit (or else going across the Macon down by the mill.)? ?

Now, dear parents, I am going to write just as often as I can but I can't promise to write very often from now on. I want you to know that I am getting along all right and so don't worry about me, for I have as good a place as any one could ask for over here.

Of course we may be in a little danger at times but then I used to be when I crossed Woodward avenue in Detroit. Now, if you folks are only getting along as good as I am I won't worry a bit. You tell all the folks hello for me and say that I would write if I had the time and be sure and tell Grandmother that I will write to her if I ever get the chance, but if I don't tell her I will tell her all about it when I get back.

Now there is nothing new or any news to tell you so I guess I might as well close for this time.

It is funny I don't hear from Ken., but I suppose he is just like he always was and just don't write.

You can tell Uncle Elmer's folks that Will and I are writing back and forth and that I thought we might be able to see each other before this but haven't been able to yet.

I wrote to Will and think he ought to know where I am, but I don't suppose he has had a chance to see me yet.

We have a Y. M. C. A. in camp now and I go over and sing about every night and we have some pretty good times.

Now don't worry about me and keep in good spirits for every thing is going to turn out all right. Good-bye till I have a chance to write again.

With Love,
Pvt. John Pennington,

Clyde Bailey to His Mother, Mrs. W. A. Bailey, Macon.

Somewhere in France,
November 4, 1918.

Dear Mother:—

Just a few lines to let you know that I am getting along all right.

Haven't heard from you in a long while and haven't heard from Claude at all. He must be pretty busy if he can't find time to write once in four months. Tell him if I knew his address I would write to him I hope this letter finds you all in good health.

I am sending a half franc for George; I guess he won't spend it for candy.

By the looks of things now the war won't last much longer, but it will probably be quite a while before we get home. The Huns are retreating so fast on this front the infantry are advancing in motor trucks to keep up. About a week ago when we moved up here the Germans were dropping shells here, but now they are so far away we can't hear the guns. far away we can't hear the guns.

Five of us fellows found an old wine cellar and cleaned it out and are living in it. We have a German stove we found in one of

Only One Corn Peeler, "Gets-It"

Stop Corn Pains; See Corn Peel Off.

It is just when a corn hurts that you want to feel surest about getting rid of it. Why take chances of keeping the corn and having the pain grow worse? You'll use "Gets-It" anyhow, sooner or later; might as well use it sooner. Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. It takes a second or two to apply "Gets-It." There's no fussing or puttering. Corn-pains will vanish—that'll keep you sweet while the "Gets-It" does the rest. Nothing new for corns has been discovered since "Gets-It" was born. Follow the judgment of the millions; use "Gets-It" and be sure to be corn and pain free! You'll say it's magic. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Tecumseh and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by B. J. Pulver. adv

INTERESTING SIGHTS SEEN BY TRAVELERS.

Ridgeway Party Makes Trip Overland—Stop at Interesting Spots—Letter From Mrs. Lowe.

Dear Mrs. Gillespie:

When I said good-night to you I was on the Lincoln farm. The little log cabin is covered by a big Connecticut granite building. The keeper came at 7:30 and opened the door and we went in and registered (every one is requested to), looked things over and went on. Our next stop was at Green River. Here was a toll gate and the river is surely green. We went on from there to Mammoth Cave where we stayed all night. We only took one trip through the caves—there are four of them. We took No. 2, as that was the one we could get that night. This was a wonderful sight. At one place called Broadway every organization has built a pyramid of stones. I put one stone on the Eastern Star and one on the Maccabee's pyramid. I tried to find the Rebecca but failed, although the guide assured me there was one I did not find it. But you will not wonder when I tell you the place is three miles long by 40 feet wide. Gothic avenue is a continuation of Broadway, and here are more of the stone piles. I think the Epworth League has about the largest. I started a pile for the A. O. O. G. This is a three hour trip and we were ready for bed when we got back.

Our next stop was at Bowling Green, Ky., where there was another big peace celebration. We did not stop here any longer than necessary. Our next stop was at Nashville, where we bought butter at 65c a pound and eggs at 65c per dozen. We saw the university of Nashville, founded in 1745, the dome of the capitol, and that was all. We had the most trouble getting out of this place than all the rest put together.

Monday, Nov. 18, we saw our first cotton gin and we stopped and went through it. The owner's name was Chas. S. Lowe (pronounced Low) and arrived at Huntsville, Ky., at 2:30. Mr. DeLisle's car had to be fixed so we stopped here all night. This is a mill town, seven cotton mills, one Lowe's mill, also a famous spring called Huntsville Big Spring. It furnishes the drinking water for the entire town. We left here about 10 a. m. and at 12 had been pulled out of a mud hole; in about 15 minutes we were pulled out again, the next one we made ourselves, although a man with a mule team was there to help us. When we reached the Tennessee river we were a whole hour before it came our turn to get on the ferry. The man in charge gets $1,600 per year from the county and every one in that county crosses free. We paid 50c per car. Here we found a man selling moonshine whiskey just made that morning. Stayed that night on top of Sand Mountain at a farmer's. This is the highest railroad point in the South. We found here the highest mountains, just awful, but fine roads. The next day, at 11 a. m., we crossed the state line into Georgia, arriving at Atlanta at 5:00 and remained all night at the Kimball house. The next day we visited Camp Gordon to see Everett Hindes, Mrs. DeLisle's nephew, and ate dinner at the hostess house. We left Atlanta at 4:00 p. m., drove 18 miles to Janesboro, camped at a farmer's, Tom Brown, stopped next day for dinner with Mr. Plumjoy's uncle, A. J. Sappington, of Barnesville. We stopped in a little town for something to eat. I asked the colored woman what the name of the town was and she answered Hawkinsville. "You'all must never been in this little cheap town afore."

Saturday was a wet, horrid day and Sunday was worse. We arrived at Waycross about 2:30. About one mile out Mr. DeLisle had what John called a sure'nuff breakdown. We remained here all night. It is now about 2:30 and we are ready to start, expecting to be in Jacksonvile tonight.

Kill Germs and Save Human Life

The menace of militarism, the horrors of war and the toll of death taken in all frightful accidents is as nothing compared to the danger of unseen deadly germs.

Even in war itself the toll of human life taken outright by the whizzing bullet, the bursting shrapnel, or the piercing steel is less than that caused by the unseen deadly germs that attack the wounded and the well alike.

Human life will be lengthened and human happiness increased when we learn better to guard ourselves against the danger of the ever present germs of disease.

Powdered boric is one of Nature's most wonderful gifts to man, for it enables us, through antisepsis, to ward off the danger of infection.

Owing to its wonderful antiseptic properties it cannot be too highly recommended for liberal use in the care of the person wherever and whenever exposed to the germs of disease.

Pure powdered boric may be used with absolute freedom and safety in all the natural cavities of the body. To realize how healing it is, yet how safe, we have but to recall that the physician almost always prescribes it as the principal ingredient of an eye water.

The manufacture of powdered boric has been brought to such a high degree of efficiency by one concern that if we always remember to specify "20 Mule Team Powdered Boric" we know that we have the real article in full strength.

On every package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will be found directions for its multitude of uses and the expense is so little that no one should ever be without it.

A solution of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric in water makes an absolute and positive antiseptic for all personal use. It is excellent for a shampoo, for it kills the germ which makes the dandruff that spoils the lustre of the hair and causes it to fall out and cease to grow.

It should be used as a mouth wash on account of its antiseptic qualities whenever there is the slightest danger of having been exposed by being brought in contact with persons suffering with colds, sore throats, etc.

To overcome the unpleasant effect consequent upon excessive perspiration the use of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will give great satisfaction, making everything sweet and clean and healing any abrasion that may have occurred.

A hot foot bath with a liberal quantity of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will make the feet feel ten years younger.

For the baby a liberal dusting with 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric not only assures freedom from chafing but helps to maintain an antiseptically clean condition on the little body.

To any cut or abrasion 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric should be freely applied.

20 Mule Team Powdered Boric is a foe to germ life.

It should be on the dressing table of every dainty woman and liberally used in every household where health is prized.

Authorized representative will soon call at your home and make arrangements for you to obtain, FREE, a full size package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric from any of the following druggists:

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? LOOK OUT!

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They restore strength and are responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

their dug outs and made some bunks out of old boards and chicken wire that we found around the place.

There is a narrow gauge railroad running thru this town and they are building a few buildings. There is a prison stockade here so we see lots of prisoners; some of them look old enough to die and others look so though they ought to be going to school.

A short time ago the railroad engineers connected our narrow gauge onto the German track and we're using it. They heard a whistle and went out to see what it was. It was a German train and the crew said they didn't know the Americans had advanced. The engine and cars have U. S. A. painted on them and are being used to good advantage.

Near here there is a large hill where the Germans had a regular city built. They had two large generators for electric lights and everything fixed up fine, but it wasn't strong enough. All the German dugouts are about 25 or 30 feet deep and have stoves and bunks in them, all set for winter, but they had to leave them all behind.

A short time ago they captured a German automobile. It had steel tires on instead of rubber, so they must be getting pretty short of rubber.

The engineers are building roads so we can keep pretty close to the front. It is a pretty hard job trying to build roads out of shell holes that will stand up under the heavy trucks. They don't have to go very far for material for you can find good stone for roads anywhere over here.

The climate seems to be about the same here as it is at home except that we have more rain. Well, I haven't learned to talk French yet and don't think I ever will. A fellow don't get much chance to talk to any body but Americans here and they are plenty good enough for me.

The French are so far behind the U. S. that they never will catch up and they haven't anything on England at that. I have seen enough of both of them and will be darned glad to get back where a guy can talk without making motions to make them understand what you want.

I suppose you have read about the cooties they have over here. Well, I have got them and will say they are darned interesting company; the only trouble is they keep you awake too much nights.

Well I must close for this time for our candle is getting pretty short and we haven't any more. Answer soon. Yours as ever,

Clyde Bailey.

Harold Skinner to His Mother, Mrs. Charles Skinner.

Dear Mother:

After many attempts I have at last succeeded to write a letter. This is the first writing paper I have had for four weeks, so you see I have been in a position where writing is impossible. I am on detached service and am away from the company, so yesterday was the first time I received mail from the United States, and I had to walk 20 kilometers to get that. I gt three letters from Nina, one from Mabel and none from you. I also got the letter from Charley with the pictures and was sure glad to get them. Send some more if possible.

I just received my Christmas package card yesterday and it is too late to send it now, I suppose, but I am sending it to you and if you get it in time to mail the package by November 20th do se. You You are allowed to send three bounds of anything you want to, so you can send me the required weight in Camel cigarettes. Am going to write to Mabel and Nina tomorrow if I can find the paper some place.

I have been under shell fire for four weeks now, but am in no danger, as there are plenty of dug-outs around. When we arrived in England we were all very glad to get off the boat. I was not sea sick, but glad to get off the water. We came across England, passing through most of the principal cities, and then we came to a port in France. It took us three days and nights to make the trip. When we got out of the cars we found we were but a short distance from the front. A small detail of us was sent up to the front for a few days' work and then we loaded in trucks and took a trip to another sector of the front where we are now. That trip took us three nights.

Well, as it is getting late and this is all the paper I have, I will have to close. With love to all,

Harold Skinner.

Barlow Wood to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hay.

Somewhere Outside of Berlin,
November 7, 1918.

Dear Friends:—

Received your letter along with three others, the first I've had since leaving New York, and believe me it seemed good to hear from home.

You mentioned "The Stars and Stripes," our army A. E. F. paper. We take a great interest in it. It comes out every Friday and I will be more than glad to send you one this week.

About the box my sister sent. I got the box all right but it had nothing in it except a few pieces of candy, and as for these French girls giving you anything—they don't do it, that's all. And believe me I ask them for nothing. However, we do patronize their restaurants (but one don't get cream puffs) and get eggs and spuds mostly along with French bread, cookies and jam. They seem to think that a soldier's (U. S.) meal should consist of at least six eggs and some times after a long hike we can take care of as many as ten!

You must have had some time at the fair. Freezing to death never did look good to me. Next time you had better stay in Old Tecumseh by the oven. I only wish I were there tonight, not that it is cold here, but I imagine there is something to eat within a short distance of there.

I haven't seen any of our boys of Tecumseh or any others that I knew back in God's country as yet but there is a good bunch of fellows at Camp Rochambeau. By the way. I'm playing tackle on a foot ball team there and we are entered in a six team league which we hope and expect to win. We have played three games so far and have only lost one to the P. S. M., the score being 5 to 3. The other two we won; one 25 to 0 from the same R. S. M., and the other, 12 to 3 from the 15 Eng. We have a game for Sunday with the 19th Trans. Co.

We play foot ball, basket ball, volley ball, base ball and if we had marbles we would play them. Of course, we work (as a side issue) nine or ten hours for Uncle Sam, just to please him, you know.

Tecumseh must be proud of her new school, isn't she? She certainly has a right to be, but why in the dickens did school start so late in September? Are they only going to have eight months of it?

Time for chow now. Give my best to every one.

Barlow.

Oct. 29, 1818.

Dear Mother:

Just a few lines to you. I am well as usual and hope the same of all at home. I got your letter all right and from all who wrote. I think I got Maud and Elta's, but I haven't written very much to any one because we cannot mention very much of what we are doing, or where we are, or any thing that would be of very much interest to you, any more than I am well and most of the fellows that come. Of course some of the other fellows that were at Custer are not with this bunch. Percy got a letter from Earl Rector some time ago. He was all right then. I wondered if you got the post cards I sent to you. I also sent Pauline Schneirla a book and I haven't heard a word whether she got it or not. It was something she has read about and I thought maybe it would interest her. Of course I was there and saw it all, and I suppose the maps are all busy now, but we can not send anything any more.

I will try and send you all a little remembrance for Christmas if possible. I sent Mary some cards and a letter, but don't think she got them. I wish I could spend my Christmas with you all but I can not; but maybe next time; we don't know. But peace is surely coming soon and it will be a blessing to lots.

Think the boys from the U. S. are willies but they are there with the goods. You folks back there can't imagine a bit, there are more of them crippled and killed, looking for souvenirs than in battle. The camps are full of stuff from the German's, such as hedmets, guns, belts, knives and everything like that.

Well, I know what powder smells like and also the roar of cannons too, and a darn lot more, but a nice quiet life will suit me. After all it is interesting and exciting and we have our fun at any cost, but I am ready to put on overalls and go to it again.

You can tell the girls they will have to let this go for all again because I am real busy and one can not write by candle light.

Well, Mother dear, I just got the morning news that Austria has quit. That is enough, Germany will soon. Of course you will get the news before this will reach you, but I thought I would tell you first.

Will close for this time. Goodbve to all until we meet again.

Your, James.

P. S.—Be sure and tell the girls, not to think these letters aren't worth answering because they are, and they mean a lot to me and some time I will write more to all. Good night with love.

From Raynor Quackenbush to His Parents Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Quackenbush.

Marseilles, France,
Oct. 30, 1918

Dear Mother and Father.

Would much rather talk to you than write. Can't really understand how it is that you haven't received any of my mail. Of course there are many things that could happen but it seems to me that you should have gotten some. Will keep on writing starting from the first until I hear you have received some so please excuse any repetition. We landed in England after eleven long days and nights on the water. I never realized that the ocean was so large. Our trip was very quiet with the exception of two nights when things surely did roll. There were many with weak stomachs, but I managed to hold my own although I had a very undecided feeling. Never a sub. showed up all the way. We saw a few whales flying fish, porpoises and sea-gulls.

We were only in the English port about two hours, when we boarded a train and went across the country to Southampton. England is surely a beautiful country, reminded me of a large garden so clean and well kept. We crossed the Eng. Channel and landed in France; since then, have been in too many places to mention all. Our first headquarters were in Pouilly; while there I met Raynor Anderson 2nd Lieut. 340th Inf. His company was stationed near us. Two days later while I was standing in front of our Hq. an infantry marched by. Someone called to me which proved to be Hiram and Herbert Gove. I knew they were bound for the depot, so as soon as I could went there, and found them, we were having a fine, long talk when I had to leave. This world is a small world after all.

While out about a week ago on a trip I met Lyman Root at Vernue near Decica. I was seeing to the oading of some trucks so really didn't finish my talk with him. He is Sgt. in the Information Department. Have met many boys over here that I knew in Detroit and other places in the States. I met two a short time ago who worked for me in Detroit.

We are stationed for the present at Marseilles, that is our headquarters are, we do convoy work out of here. The convoys differ from twenty to one hundred in size. We take them to different places, sometimes to the front. We leave the trucks and cargo at the end of the trip and return by rail to get another. Returned yesterday from a ten day trip to Loches. Have been to Paris twice it is some city. From Lyons to Tours is called the Garden of France; passed through that section once. It surely is a beautiful country. There are many sights to see in Marseilles and vicinity. It is nice and warm during the day and cool nights. Further north this time of the year it is cold and rainy, have seen lots of it. Am feeling fine and hope you are well, going to have my picture taken the first chance I have. Hoping this reaches you safely. With lots of love to you all.

From Harold Skinner to His Sister, Miss Mabel.

American Expeditionary Forces
October 30, 1918.

Dear Mabel:

Got your letter O. K. and was very glad to hear from you. I wrote to mother last night and am going to write to Nina tonight. I don't think I owe you a letter as I never got the one you wrote up north. Mother told me you wrote, but never got it. Last night I had one piece of paper, so I could only write to mother.

I don't think much of France as it is too wet. They call it "Sunny France," but I have only seen a few sunny days since I arrived here. Berkeley is still with the company, but have not seen him for over a month. I am on detached service and haven't seen the company for six weeks. Have not met anybody I know yet. What has become of Bill Service and Ralph Hunt; are they in the army yet? Did you know Paul Annis of Adrian? He ran a refreshment stand at Wampler's lake last summer. He is in our outfit and he just got notice that his brother was killed over here. Have not been in to Paris yet, but have seen the Eiffel tower from a distance.

Wish I could tell you more about my work and where I am, but the censorship won't allow it. Up to a few days ago I have been cooking my own food, but now I am eating with an outfit that feeds pretty good. Last night we had doughnuts and they were so good that it reminded me of home. Mother used to say that candy hurts a person's stomach and if that is true my stomach must be in great condition as it has been so long since I have had any candy that I have forgotten what it tastes like.

Just a minute before I finish this letter; I want to go outside and see the air fight. One of the Fritzie planes got over and burnt up one of our observation balloons and then our planes chased him back. We see things like that every day. Well, I must close for this time.

Love to all,

Harold Skinner.

An International Service Built on Tiny Profits Per Pound

Some industries have been able to get in step with war demands more quickly than others.

In many cases mighty plants have sprung up—but at a prodigious cost.

The packing industry was able to adapt itself to unheard of demands more quickly, perhaps, than any other industry. And this was because the vast equipment of packing plants, refrigerator cars, branch houses, etc., had been gradually developed to its present state of efficiency, so that in the crucial hour it became a mighty international system for war service.

And how had this development taken place?

Not by making vast inroads into the capital wealth of the country, but largely by using, from year to year, a portion of the profits, to provide for expansion.

Swift & Company's profits have always been so tiny, compared with sales, that they have had practically no effect on the price of meat (amounting to only a fraction of a cent per pound).

And yet the owners of the business have been content with reasonable returns on their capital, and have been able, year after year, to put part of the profits back into the business to provide for its expansion.

These fractions of tiny profits have been repaid to to the public many fold in the form of better service, and better and cheaper meat, and made it possible for Swift & Company to meet, undaunted, the sudden cry for meat for overseas.

Could any other method of financing a vital industry involve less hardship to the people of the country? Could there be a better instance of true "profit-sharing" than this return in added usefulness and in national preparedness?

VINOL MAKES CHILDREN STRONG

And Invigorates Old People

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol as printed below contain the elements needed to improve the health of delicate children and restore strength to old people.

℞ Cod Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycerophosphates, Cascarin.

Those who have puny, ailing or run-down children or aged parents may prove this at our expense.

Besides the good it does children and the aged there is nothing like Vinol to restore strength and vitality to weak, nervous women and overworked, run-down men.

Try it. If you are not entirely satisfied, we will return your money without question; that proves our fairness and your protection. Millions of people have been convinced this way.

Help The Fuel Administration!

The fuel administration is doing all it can to keep you warm next winter. But it needs your cooperation. If everyone does his share there will be no coal shortage—and there will be no discomfort. To get the most out of all coal used, every house should be properly equipped.

The Director of conservation of the fuel administration says:

"The National Fuel Administration realize that a large amount of coal can be saved by the installation of storm doors and storm windows," and advocates such installation as a patriotic duty.

STORM DOORS and WINDOWS

cut down coal bills from one-third to one-half—a saving that pays for their cost in one or two seasons.

But still more important, they increase the comfort of your house by eliminating cold floor drafts, by making it possible to keep the home warm during the severest weather, and by permitting perfect ventilation.

DO NOT DELAY! Place your order before the rush. Phone 57 and we will call, take measurements and tell you what the cost will be.

We also have a complete line of building material—and if you want to see some nice lump coal just drop down to the yard and look over our stock.

The annual Thanksgiving services was held Wednesday evening of last week at the M. E. church, the service being conducted by Rev. C. M. Thompson. In spite of the fact that the high school lyceum course gave their entertainment that evening, a fair sized crowd turned out for the service; in fact a larger crowd than is usual at this annual service. Rev. W. A. Rex gave the address taking for his text "Thank God and take courage," and his audience were pleased that they had attended.

The following has been taken from the New York Times, Dec. 1: "Miss Ella M. Hall of 202 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, N. Y., announces the engagement of her niece, Miss E. May Jones of Ridgeway, Mich., and Brooklyn, to Dr. James G. Riggs, the president of the Oswego Normal school of Oswego, N. Y. Miss Jones is a graduate of Michigan University. The wedding will take place this month." Miss Jones, the only daughter of Warren Jones of Ridgeway, has hosts of friends in Tecumseh to whom the above will be a great surprise. Miss Jones, who is one of the best educated and probably one of the most traveled ladies of this vicinity will be greatly missed both here and at her home village, but her friends certainly wish her a long, happy life with the man of her choice.

FAREWELL TO THE HARTZOGS

METHODIST CHURCH FILLED WITH FRIENDS

Listen to Eloquent Discourse by Retiring Pastor of Baptist Church and Words of Commendation From Others — Next Community Service "Michigan Night" at Presbyterian Church.

The great crowd at the M. E. church Sunday night was an evidence of the populariyt of Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Hartzog who left on Monday for their new home at Mason where the doctor will be pastor of the Baptist church.

It was fitting that the last service which the doctor spoke during his pastorate here should be a "Community Service," for his larger field has been in the county and community, beside the efficient and loyal work he has given his people. The whole county owe Dr. Hartzog a great debt of gratitude for the hard work he spent in the local option campaign, for to his labor as chairman of the county organization are we indebted for the happy outcome of the vote.

As the service of Sunday night was held at the M. E. church the pastor of that church Rev. C. M. Thompson, had charge of the service. A chorus choir of the singers from the different churches led the singing of the hymns, the opening one being "I love to tell the Story." Rev. W. A. Rex made a short prayer and the congregation sang "Blest be the Tie that Binds." Rev. Escolme read the Scripture lesson of the evening, Romans 8:1-16. Then the pastors made their announcements. Rev. Rex announced that the Community Service of next Sunday night would be held at the Presbyterian church, making it a Michigan night. He hoped to get Dr. Sutherland, the field secretary of the Congregational church, here for that evening and the talks will be along the line of what is being accomplished in the state religiously.

Next, at the request of Dr. Hartzog, was sung "Holy Spirit, Faithful Guide."

Dr. Hartzog then gave his farewell message to the people of Tecumseh in a very scholarly address, taking for his text "Who is leading?" from the scripture lesson just read. Always, when we look back, if we have allowed the divine spirit to lead us, we can see the reason and how the divine spirit through us has worked. So it has been in his pastorate here and he feels assured he is being led by the hand of God in this removal. For ages the church was cursed by excessive ecclesiasticism —too many creeds and so there was an absence of work of divine spirit which is the big thing in religion. God by his spirit works on souls of men. The Kingdom of God is one side of the church, invisible yet paramount. All though the ages have christians appreciated Christ's promises, "I will not leave you comfortless" and have followed the "Guiding Hand." How often He directs our lives into far different channels than we had planned before the great call came. So was it true of Paul, whose great influence is felt until this hour. The doctor went on to name many who had planned lives to their liking but who had felt the call and followed it and made our great teachers and preachers of the word. Ths wonderful change need not come alone to the educated as in Paul's case but comes to the lowly as well. The difficulty all lies with us. The rapidity of progress is measured by the degree of surrender. Co-operation with God helps to break the power of evil and bring your life to a splendid fruitage. Let us follow the leadership of the spirit.

After a few words of prayer by Rev. Thompson he asked Dr. North to come forward as the representative of the Baptist church and in a short talk the Dr. gave the Hartzogs "a sort of kick-off as they do in foot-ball." He said, the local church is very sorry to lose Dr. Hartzog and wife. "The doctor has been willing to do the work and we have been willing to let him." He spoke of the many excellent sermons delivered and "if we had lived up to his great teaching and advice we would have been better people," ending with "Dr. Hartzog is all right."

Rev. Rex said next that he was sorry to lose his neighbors, especially that Mrs. Hartzog is leaving and is wondering who the next neighbors will be. They had never had better neighbors. "We all wish them God speed, hope their machine has no blow-out and the engine never loses a hit."

Supt. W. L. Reed next was called. "Surely this large crowd is a testimony to the good work they have done in the town. Wagered there were many more to bid them good-bye than to welcome them." The doctor will be missed in the Grange, G. A. R., Sons of Veterans and other local orders for he has been interested in everything connected with the good of the town, and especially along educational lines, such as chautauquas, and worked hard for the new school. Wish him and Mrs. Hartzog the best of success in Mason and we will all be glad to see them back frequently.

Rev. Escolme said he had only known Dr. Hartzog since Nov. 1st, but he had measured up to his first high estimation, "Our fellowship has been cordial and we wish him God speed."

Rev. Thompson in his closing remarks said, "A Methodist preacher knows something should feel like a Methodist tonight. At any time I prefer a good Baptist preacher to a poor Methodist preacher. I have learned to love Dr. Hartzog so regret to see him go. Only hope his successor will be such a brotherly man." Rev. Thompson first knew the Dr. when he went to the county Ministerial association while he was yet in Hudson and highly respected him as he would anyone who could manage such men as himself and Mr. Rex. Dr. Hartzog was then chairman of the County association as he is now and the manner in which he presided won the hearts of the county ministers. He closed with "I rejoice that he goes to larger opportunities and know well we shall hear good things from him in the years to come."

Dr. Hartzog said he appreciated the kind words of all the speakers also the letters he has received from all over the county from men with whom he has been connected in various great causes.

The audience sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" and Dr. Hartzog closed the service with the benediction. Then he and Mrs. Hartzog shook hands with their friends and bid them good-bye as the audience passed from the church.

BISHOP WILLIAMS AT ST. PETER'S

ORDER OF CONFIRMATION OBSERVED

Class of Six Ratify and Confirm Baptismal Vows — Masterful Sermon by the Bishop.

At St. Peter's Episcopal church Sunday morning a class of six young people submitted to the order of confirmation or the laying on of hands, conducted by Bishop Charles D. Williams. The service in its simplicity was beautiful and at the conclusion Bishop Williams explained to the class the meaning of the service in a simple yet effective manner. He said when baptized they were marked with the sign of the cross, designating that they belonged to God. At this time when they take upon themselves the vows made for them at baptism by their godfathers and godmothers, they again are marked as belonging to God. They have given themselves to the service of Christ. Showing them the results of a selfish, worldly life, he advised them to chose the unselfish, the life of higher things, the life of service.

For his sermon Bishop Williams took his text from Luke 2:34-35. "This child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel, and for a sign which shall be spoken against. Yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also, that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed." These words were spoken by the aged Simeon to the mother of Jesus and referred to the advent of the Christ to his work.

The Bishop launched into one of the most intensely interesting sermons, filled with gems of deep thought such as are seldom heard in Tecumseh. The coming of Christ to the world did not mean peace or quietness to go on forever. It was a revelation of judgment. No sovereignty can last in this world except the sovereignty of Jesus. The coming of the Lord is the day of judgment. Wherever the truth of Jesus and wherever the Christian gospel is preached there is a social unrest.

We are living in a great crisis of history; we can see the coming of the kingdom. Kingdoms, kultur, philosophies are tottering that better things may come—that the kingdom of God can reign. There have been things worth fighting for. In this great struggle these great philosophies met for once and all: God stepped into the arena and stamped his approval upon democracy and what it stands for.

In speaking of America going into the war, of old systems breaking down and new springing up he said we will never quite go back to old order of things. People will not be satisfied with camouflaged democracy. They will demand a real democracy.

The Christian church, he said, never has faced such opportunities as are now confronting it. How will it meet them? For the church of the living God he had no fear, but the particular organizations—the various denominations—about them he is not so sure. All depends upon how they preach the gospel of Jesus Christ.

The chaplains who went to the front with the boys found that the churches were placed upon the seat of judgment; that religion was put to the test. Their experience and his own proved that over there titles were of no avail whatever. There these men represented religion and all looked alike to the men in the trenches. The man in the front is practical; he does not question the rules but wants the proofs. His question is does the church make good. Divided the church fails in this war and after the war. The church had to hand its work over to the Y. M. C. A. and other organizations.

Bishop Williams testified that the boys in the trenches were religious. Their's was a dumb, inarticulate religion. They had no use for sham or make-belief; they looked for the real religion. As one answered a woman who was skeptical: "In the trenches we worship God like hell." Their dumb, inarticulate religion was loyalty and service and this they would follow and even lay down their lives for. These things have been leading the common men along the same road of Christ and were to them a revelaton of the real Christ.

A number of the members of St. John's choir of Clinton came down to assist at St. Peter's and the singing by the augmented choir was good.

MRS. RAY WOLFE

Daughter of Mrs. Laura Scofield, Dies in Montana.

Mrs. Laura Scofield has received word of the death of her daughter, Mrs. Ray Wolfe, of Hinsdale, Mont., which occurred Saturday. Mrs. Wolfe's health has never been robust and an attack of influenza proved fatal. She is better known by hosts of friends in this vicinity as Cline Scofield and has taught with excellent success, being a graduate of the Michigan Normal.

She leaves a husband and a little son Walton, scarcely two years of age, both ill with the influenza so unable to accompany the remains of their loved one here.

On account of the distance and uncertainty of the messages no funeral arrangements can be made until the arrival of the remains, other than that the services will be held at the mother's home on West Kilbuck street.

An obituary of the life of this most estimable lady will appear next week.

RECEPTIONS FOR DR. HARTZOG AND WIFE

Pleasant Social Affairs Honoring Retirement of Baptist Pastor.

Thursday evening last the young people of the Baptist church tendered a reception in honor of their retiring pastor, Dr. W. B. Hartzog and his estimable wife, which resulted in a pleasant social evening much enjoyed by all. Forty-seven young people were present.

During the evening Mrs. Hartzog was presented with a fine umbrella and Dr. Hartzog with a Parker fountain pen.

Friday evening the members of the church gave a reception for the couple about to leave old associations at the church. A pot luck supper and good social time were enjoyed by the large number that participated.

The Ladies' Aid society presented Mrs. Hartzog with a purse, a substantial token of esteem that was appreciated.

French General Reaches Berlin

REVIEW OF THE WORLD WAR

Shown in "Crashing Through to Berlin" at the Bradley, December 15 and 16.

Now that the headlines in the daily newspapers proclaim that General du Pont of the French army has arrived in Berlin and has established his headquarters in the palace formerly occupied by the French embassy makes the gigantic spectacdle "Crashing through Berlin" which is booked for a two day engagement at the Bradley Opera House, Tecumseh, commencing Sunday evening, December 15th, the most timely offering yet presented at the Bradley.

"Crashing Through to Berlin" is the first and only authentic pictorial review of the whole world war, filmed by thousands of different cameras and tells you more than all of the war books and histories ever written. It shows you, with the exact scenes, every scene of importance from the funeral of Archduke Ferdinand in 1914 straight through to America in the trenches, America on the waves and America in the air.

The greatest pictures ever filmed fare to nothing in comparison with ths stupendous, authentic, historic achievement. It is the world's greatest drama screened for your entertainment, education and enlightenment. Don't stay at home and read about the war—those days are past now that the government is spending millions of dollars to produce such pictures as "Crashing Through to Berlin" so that people may see these scenes with their own eyes instead of depending on their imagination. Some people, of course, here like every where else, never see any more than the four sides of the room they live in but they are not many. The average American and they will never get a better chance than in viewing this colossal drama of the world war, "Crashing Through to Berlin."

Again we say, don't stay at home to read about the war, go to the theatre, spend a couple of hours with the boys at the front and see with your own eyes. ad

MASONIC ANNUAL MEETING

LESTER ROGERS CHOSEN WORSHIPFUL MASTER

Members of Blue Lodge Enjoy Substantial Chicken Banquet—Dr. W. B. Hartzog Surprised With Brotherly Remembrance.

The annual meeting of Tecumseh Lodge, No. 69, F. & A. M. held at Masonic Temple Friday evening last was of more than usual interest and enjoyment to the members of the Fraternity.

At 6:30 the doors of the banquet hall were thrown open and the men marched in line and took seats at one of the best spreads served since the food conservation program was inaugurated. The menu consisted of chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy, cabbage salad, hot buns, coffee and pie. Quite noticeable was the appearance on the table of the almost forgotten sugar bowl, but the men, evidently well disciplined in the months past, used the sweets quite conservatively. The edibles were prepared in an appetizing manner and they disappeared very rapidly after the men got down to real business. Cigars were passed as the brethren passed from the banquet hall [illegible] social chats, [illegible] until lodge was called.

Lester Rogers, Elected Worshipful Master, Tecumseh Lodge, No. 69, F. & A. M.

The election resulted in the selection of Lester Rogers as worshipful master. Mr. Rogers has occupied the various chairs in the lodge and is well qualified to hold the highest office his brethren can bestow upon him. C. A. Barber was chosen senior warden and E. M. Campbell junior warden, F. S. Turner treasurer and W. S. Dickinson secretary, the latter two being re-elected.

Dr. W. B. Hartzog Surprised.

After the election the junior warden, acting upon a quiet tip to induce Dr. W. B. Hartzog to leave the lodge room for a few minutes, shouted "Dr. Hartzog is wanted below!"

With the reverend gentleman out of the room, Attorney Geo. Rathbun took the floor and suggested inasmuch as Dr. Hartzog, for many years chaplain of the lodge and the oldest resident pastor of the town, was about to leave town he considered it quite proper that the brethren present him with a small token and suggested that the hat be passed. The canvass resulted in securing a tidy little sum.

Upon the reappearance of Dr. Hartzog, Attorney Rathbun, remembering the call of the junior warden, made a presentation speech of an amusing, humorous manner. He said that he had understood that Dr. Hartzog was going to Mason from here, but the call from the door that the doctor was "wanted below," changed the complexion of things. It was in the minds of the brethren to give the doctor a token of remembrance upon the eve of breaking off pleasant associations and it was thought that a fireextinguisher would add to his comfort in his new quarters more than anything else.

Dr. Hartzog responded with a few words of appreciation, referring feelingly to the unusually pleasant association he has enjoyed with the men of Tecumseh.

Dr. Hartzog was waited upon by a committee the next day and presented with a handsome set of silver knives and forks and gravy ladle.

TECUMSEH BOY AMONG FIRST RETURNING SOLDIERS

Leroy W. Hanham of the 267th Aerial Squadron.

Wm. Hanham has received word that his son, Leroy W., of the 267th Aerial squadron, was among those on the first ship of returning soldiers to land in America. He expected to remain at Camp Mills, L. I., for some days and from there will take a troop train to Chicago, where he will be mustered out of the service. Leroy did not reach the battlefields of France and his return trip was made from England.

Mr. Hanham has not heard from his other son, Earl E., and thinks that he reached France in time to participate in the closing battles of the great war. He is anxiously awaiting word from him.

H. A. Stacy, a resident at Newburg and Tecumseh until some fifteen years ago, passed away at his home in Grand Rapids Sunday night. He had been violently ill for several weeks this fall, but was so much better that he had returned to work for the Pere Marquette Ry. Co. and the end came suddenly after but a few hours' illness with paralysis.

Mr. Stacy was 64 years, 8 months old and was born and raised at Newburg. He married Nellie Ward of Clinton and they lived on the farm at Newburg until some twenty years ago when they came to Tecumseh and for some time he was car inspector on the D. T. & I. Twelve years ago the family moved to Grand Rapids. The remains arrived from Grand Rapids, Wednesday evening and were taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Ben Dove where the funeral was held this forenoon at 10:30, Rev. C. M. Thompson officating, with burial in Brookside cemetery.

Surviving are the wife, and daughter, Mrs. Frank Conrad of Grand Rapids, one son Ward in military service in France, the aged mother, Mrs. Angelina Stacy of Newburg, two brothers, George Stacy of Detroit and Rufus Stacy of Buffalo; three sisters, Mrs. Ben Dove, Mrs. Esther Walker, of Bergen, N. Y., and Mrs. Celia Frasier of Mt. Clemens.

FORMER TIPTON RESIDENT

Geo. Alexander Dies Suddenly in His Toledo Home.

George Alexander, born and brought up at Tipton and well known in this town, died at his home in Toledo, Wednesday. He arose at 4 a. m. and cared for his furnace fire and then returned to his bed. At 4:45 he was found to have died in the short interim. He was 65 years of age. He attended our high school when a young man and, following the musical talent which he had inherited from his father, Mortimer Alexander, who was known the country over as a great singer, he became an instructor in piano music and earned for himself an enviable reputation. The wife and one daughter, Maud survive. The funeral was held at the home in Toledo Friday with burial at Napoleon, Mich., Saturday morning. Mrs. Abner Wilson, who was a cousin of Mr. Alexander, attended the burial service in Napoleon.

Use Your Own Judgment

Don't take the judgment of the man who approaches you. Look into the matter yourself before you send your money away from home.

The man who comes to you is honest, but he may be biased. He gets a commission if you follow his advice.

Look into the proposition yourself. Know who will handle your money and what they will do with it. One per cent more isn't much if you are going to worry.

Remember that three per cent and safety is a pretty good combination. This you will have if you deposit your money here at home in the old, strong

Jump on the train and pull the rope,
That lands you at the Station Hope—
Get a transfer.
—The Optimist.

The sentiment contained in the oregoing rhyme should be incorporated into the system of every man, woman and child of the nation, and especially every man at the head of a business enterprise.

Since the high prices occasioned by the world war there have been two many pessimists among retailing merchants. Things did look somewhat blue for them as the prices of living necessities and luxuries soared upward, but withal that conditions have been much better than during any of our financial panics, when prices were down and money was scarce. Happily, with the rise of prices during the war period money became more plentiful and the people as a rule more prosperous. If this had not been the case the Liberty Loan drives and the raising of the other patriotic funds would have been failures.

The merchants over the country that made special efforts to boom their business came through the peroid smiling, while those who sat down and waited for luck to come their way became grouchy and didn't seem to care whether "school kept or not."

But now that the war is over all will become sunshine and happiness. Thousands of our boys are coming home, and with them new life in business and social activities. War brides and sweethearts are waiting for them to start new homes everywhere and then there will be renewed demands for every commodity.

The United States will have a foreign trade as it or any other country never had before and for the next few years we can look forward to the most prosperous times in the history of the nation.

While prices are not going to take a sudden drop, they will undoubtedly gradually decline until somewhat near normal. However, we must not expect to buy things as cheaply as we did before the war. That time will not come, for labor will be in greater demand and receive larger monetary consideration. There will be work for every one after the boys come home, for the world will look to the United States for supplies of nearly every nature for years to come.

We advise every business man to "get a transfer," get off the train of worry and gloom and jump on the progressive booster train that will land them at the station of hope and prosperity.

Hold on to your Liberty bonds is the advice from the treasury department of the United States, and in this connection we reproduce the following issued from the publicity bureau of that department:

"There is every indication that Liberty bonds, issued during the war, will greatly rise in value with the establishment of peace. In 1888 a $100 United States bond, bearing 4 per cent interest, sold in the open market for $130. In 1901 it brought more than $139. The most conservative will agree that Liberty bonds are sure to go above par in value, now that the Allies have brought the war to a victorious end.

"The shrewd and unscrupulous, the birds of prey in finance, realize the worth of Liberty bonds, and are using every effort to secure them from those who are uninformed in financial matters. Their favorite method is to offer stock in wildcat companies—stock that is absolutely valueless—in exchange for Liberty bonds. Some of these get-rich-quick schemers offer to lend their prospective victims money, wherewith to buy the goldbrick stock, taking Liberty bonds as security. This, of course, is only a thinly disguised attempt to obtain Liberty bonds for worthless stock.

"The United States owns some 5,000,000 acres of oil lands and 53,000,000 acres of coal lands, the title to which belongs to the Federal Government. Since all owners of Liberty bonds are part owners of this Government, it would be palpably foolish of them to exchange their Liberty bonds for oil or coal stocks of doubtful value.

"Before disposing of his bonds. the holder thereof would do well to consult a banker. Such consultatjon will not prosper the fake stck concerns, but it certainly will prosper the bond holder."

Red Cross Notes.

The local chapter has been assigned a quota of 20 Siberian jackets to be completed in two weeks. These are to take the place of sweaters for the American boys stationed in Siberia. As soon as the material arrives for them a general will be given over the telephone and all are requested to respond readily as they need to be on their way by Christmas. Some of those who have assisted in making them say they prove very interesting so let us turn out and get them finished as soon as possible.

The Helping Hand Met.

SCHOOL NEWS

Another series of volley-ball games were played Thursday evening at the new gymnasium. First the Freshmen played against the Sophomores, the Sophomores winning; in a game between the Juniors and Seniors, the Juniors won, then the two winning teams played, resulting in favor of the Sophomores who then played the Clerks. The Sophomores were defeated. Finally the clerks played against a picked team from the high school and the latter won, receiving a box of candy which had been set up before the games commenced.

The military drilling company expects the arrival of their uniforms the latter part of this week. Captain Hanna promised to take the boys on a hike some Friday afternoon when they receive their uniforms. The training class met in the gymnasium, Tuesday and Wednesday because of the rainy weather.

During the Chemistry recitation Monday the girls in the back seats attempted turning the class into a gossiping society. Mr. Reed, after warning them several times about whispering without letting his angry passion rise, aid: "Girls you may take the front seat hereafter for recitation."

Monday night after school the Juniors had a class meeting. It was decided that they should all go over and spend the evening with Marjorie Rosacrans for a jolly time.

Miss Donaldson requests that the pupils of her United States history class spend a little more time on their history as the examination papers this month did not fulfill the requirements.

Miss Miller wishes the people who are in the assembly room the last hour in the afternoon would "Get to work."

Miss Snell's pupils who have been absent with the "flu" are all back in school again.

The gymnasium has been equipped to the extent that basket ball teams have started to organize.

Miss Yutsey and Miss Cooley are still absent with the "flu" but expect to appear on Monday morning.

Ralph Hodges exclaimed the other day "that he wished Cæsar had never lived." He happens to be in the Cæsar class this year.

RUSSIAN MUSIC

Splendid Musicale Given Under Auspices of Culture Club.

A very fine evening entertainment was the musicale given by the Culture club at the home of Mrs. L. W. Kimball Thursday, December 5. Each member was allowed to bring a guest and the rooms were filled with an appreciative audience. The program was made up entirely of selections from Russian composers.

Mrs. Ida Miller opened the program by telling briefly of the origin of music, the history of music in Russia and a sketch of the life of Rubenstein. She told how the Russian people, denied other means of expression, tell in music of the sadness and tragedy of their lives. This was evident in every number of the program which followed.

Song, "A Dream"—Mrs. L. W. Kimball.

Piano selections—Russian National Hymn, Song of the Volga Boatmen, Scarlet Sarafan, Song Without Words—J. D. Hause.

Song, Melody in F—Mrs. Foreman.

Group 2—Mazurka (Gliere), The Cuckoo (Arensky), Italian Serenade, Romance (Rubenstein)—J. D. Hause.

Song, "Thou Art Like Unto a Flower"—Mrs. L. W. Kimball.

Clinton News Notes.

Marjorie Mensing is quite sick with influenza.

Miss Jeanette Hoelzer's school at Tipton is closed on account of the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Freese of Detroit spent the week end with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Odell were called to Toledo yesterday to see their son, Martin, who has pneumonia.

Miss Jeanette Kimball, who had been spending several days at home, returned to Ann Arbor Sunday.

Miss Maytie Hoelzer is again at home, the schools at Onsted being closed because of a fresh outbreak of influenza.

After several months' illness, Elias DePuy died Sunday. The funeral was held this afternoon with Masonic honors.

Floyd Odell, who is recovering from an operation for appendicitis, came home last Thursday, having been granted a 30 day furlough.

E. H. Ogden, an old resident of Clinton, and a veteran of the Civil war, died Sunday evening of heart disease. Funeral at 3:30 Wednesday.

There was some excitement Wednesday morning when Mr Truesdale's house caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

Owing to an increase in the number of influenza cases all services at the Congregational and Methodist churches were cancelled Sunday. At St. John's Episcopal the confirmation service and address by Bishop Williams, which was to have been in the evening, was cancelled, but a class of nine were confirmed at three o'clock. Many were very much disappointed, as it is three years since the Bishop last visited Clinton.

Miss Lizzie Roff, an aunt of Mrs. C. L. Hause, Howard and Dwight Hause, and well known by all the older residents, died Saturday in Washington, D. C., of heart disease. Miss Roff was born in Clinton, where her early life was spent. For more than 40 years she had been employed in the U. S. treasury, where she became an expert at counting money and in the detection of counterfeit money. The remains will be brought here for burial. The funeral, at the Hause home, will be private.

G. S. KENNEDY PROMOTED

Appointed on Staff of Weather Bureau.

Word was received from Washington yesterday at the local office of the weather bureau that Mr. Gerald S. Kennedy had been promoted from assistant observer to observer in the weather bureau at Pensacola, effective November 1.

Mr. Kennedy was born in Michigan, where his educational training was received. After having graduated from high school, he pursued a course in mechanical engineering at the University of Michigan. In July, 1914, he entered the weather bureau service as assistant observer, being assigned to the Key West station, and in February, 1916, was transfered to Pensacola. In September, 1917, he was promoted to assistant observer, senior grade.

The above was clipped from a recent issue of a Pensacola, Fla., paper. Gerald is well known here, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kennedy, and has hosts of friends who are pleased with his advancement.

YOUNG MEN'S CLASS

Successfully Organized in Methodist Sunday School.

Last Sunday at the Methodist Episcopal church was successfully organized a young men's class with 15 members for a beginning. Many more would have been present had it not been that sickness kept them away.

The organizing committee makes another appeal in advertising space in this issue.

The officers of the class were elected as follows:

President—Arthur Harding.
Vice-President—H. W. Whaley.
Secretary and Treasurer—Earl Updyke.
Teacher—C. M. Thompson.

Social and other committees were also elected.

CHRISTMAS RED CROSS ROLL CALL

DRIVE IN LENAWEE COUNTY POSTPONED

Influenza and Smallpox Epidemic in Portions of County Makes Campaign Inadvisable at Present.

On account of the influenza and smallpox epidemic prevailing in different portions of the county it has been thought advisable to postpone the Christmas Red Cross Roll Call, in Lenawee county.

The national membership drive for Red Cross has been set for the week of December 16 to 23, but the prevailing epidemic is likely to postpone the drive in other localities the same as in Lenawee county. This will be until after the holidays.

Probably the most seriously effected portion of the county by the epidemic is Adrian, where we are informed are many cases, not only of influenza but also of smallpox. Other places are also quite seriously effected. In Tecumseh the epidemic is pretty well under control, although there are a few cases, but they are mostly light ones.

In epidemics of this kind people can help preventing the spread by using ordinary caution, looking first to their own health by keeping their systems in as good condition as possible.

Trustee, three years — Mrs. Cynthia Hoag.

Following the election a lunch was served and the evening spent socially.

To Relieve Burns Quickly.

There is no other minor injury quite as painful as a burn, and, to the housewife constantly about a hot stove, no injury quite as common.

The quickest way to relieve the pain—to "take out the fire" as the old saying has it—is to bathe a burn with a saturated solution of 20 Mule Team Powered Boric, using one ounce of Boric to a quart of water. This will relieve the inflammation. If the burn is deep apply with absorbent gauze a lotion made of 8 oz. lime water, 88 oz. raw linseed oil and 75 grains of thymol. This lotion is cooling and healing and tends to prevent the puckering and drawing of the injured skin into the scar.

If the burn is severe, a physician should be called at once and the injury given professional attention.

Coal Facts

The prospects for getting Pocahontus or Hard Coal this winter are not good.

What is the best coal to buy as a substitute?

COKE

Comes in nut size. Can be used in base burner heating stoves or furnaces in every way as satisfactorily as hard coal. Will give the same heat, small amount of ashes and no dirt.

There are two objections to coke. One is owing to its being lighter in weight—you have to feed a little more often than hard coal. And if you allow your fire to get too hot, it may at times run together somewhat, and form a clinker. This can be easily removed.

SOFT COAL

Our Banner coal is very lumpy, burns clean, with little smoke or soot, gives out a heat that is equaled by few coals. Do not get this coal confused with many coals being sold today. It is much superior.

Our Illinois coal is also very lumpy and will give satisfaction where the draft is extra strong. It sells for fifty cents per ton less than the Banner.

Your business will be appreciated. You will, at all times, find our fuel exactly as described.

"Gets-It," a Liberty Bottle for Corns!

There's Only One Genuine "Corn-Peeler"—That's "Gets-It."

Ever peel a banana? That's the way "Gets-It" peels off corns. It's the only corn treatment that will. "Gets-It" is a guarantee that you won't finally have to gouge, pick, jerk or cut out your corns. If you want the pleasure of getting rid of a corn, be sure to get "Gets-It." It is its wonderful formula that has made "Gets-It" the corn marvel that it is, used by more millions than any other corn treatment on earth. A few drops on any corn or callus, that's all. It can't stick. It is painless, eases pain. You can kick your "corny" feet around, even in tight shoes, and your corns won't crucify you. You can go ahead and work, dance, live, love and laugh as though without corns.

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. Ill.

Sold in Tecumseh and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by B. J. Pulver. adv

Kill Germs and Save Human Life

The menace of militarism, the horrors of war and the toll of death taken in all frightful accidents is as nothing compared to the danger of unseen deadly germs.

Even in war itself the toll of human life taken outright by the whizzing bullet, the bursting shrapnel, or the piercing steel is less than that caused by the unseen deadly germs that attack the wounded and the well alike.

Human life will be lengthened and human happiness increased when we learn better to guard ourselves against the danger of the ever present germs of disease.

Powdered boric is one of Nature's most wonderful gifts to man, for it enables us, through antisepsis, to ward off the danger of infection.

Owing to its wonderful antiseptic properties it cannot be too highly recommended for liberal use in the care of the person wherever and whenever exposed to the germs of disease.

Pure powdered boric may be used with absolute freedom and safety in all the natural cavities of the body. To realize how healing it is, yet how safe, we have but to recall that the physician almost always prescribes it as the principal ingredient of an eye water.

The manufacture of powdered boric has been brought to such a high degree of efficiency by one concern that if we always remember to specify "20 Mule Team Powdered Boric" we know that we have the real article in full strength.

On every package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will be found directions for its multitude of uses and the expense is so little that no one should ever be without it.

A solution of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric in water makes an absolute and positive antiseptic for all personal use. It is excellent for a shampoo, for it kills the germ which makes the dandruff that spoils the lustre of the hair and causes it to fall out and cease to grow.

It should be used as a mouth wash on account of its antiseptic qualities whenever there is the slightest danger of having been exposed by being brought in contact with persons suffering with colds, sore throats, etc.

To overcome the unpleasant effect consequent upon excessive perspiration the use of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will give great satisfaction, making everything sweet and clean and healing any abrasion that may have occurred.

A hot foot bath with a liberal quantity of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will make the feet feel ten years younger.

For the baby a liberal dusting with 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric not only assures freedom from chafing but helps to maintain an antiseptically clean condition on the little body.

To any cut or abrasion 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric should be freely applied.

20 Mule Team Powdered Boric is a foe to germ life.

It should be on the dressing table of every dainty woman and liberally used in every household where health is prized.

Authorized representative will soon call at your home and make arrangements for you to obtain, FREE, a full size package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric from any of the following druggists

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs.

This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weaknesses and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is inclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

Howard J. Hand to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hand.

Base Hospital, No. 7.
November 8, 1918.

Dear Aunt and Uncle:

Well, I guess you think I have forgotten you all as I haven't written you a letter in so long, but there are times when at the front that one has something else to do besides writing letters, believe me.

When not at work there are times when we are busy dodging shrapnel and other things too numerous to mention. Hope this finds you all well and happy.

Say, Aunt Maggie, next time you write why can't you drop in a picture of you all as I would like one so much to add to my collection. I have never had one taken of myself since in the army (one year this month) but I may get a chance to get on the car and go to the city and get one taken before I leave here. If I do you shall have one.

I expect to get a seven day furlough when I return to the company as they have moved back for a real rest of months and are issuing out seven day furloughs now to the old men, what there is left of them. It is the first real rest they have had in over five months. I think I shall put in my seven days in Paris, as I have been through there twice and could see what a beautiful place it is. The buildings are indeed beautiful and the right up to minute double deck trains and cars are sure swell.

It seems so much warmer here than in northern France up around the fronts and not so much rain. When we left the vacutating hospital we were bound for a hospital in the extreme southern part on the coast, but orders were changed. We left the vacuating hospital the 23rd and arrived here October 25, and, believe me, Uncle Sam has some swell trains over here—fit for a king to ride in.

I wrote a nice long letter to Helen Howe the other day and I am glad she wrote to me as we can write about childhood days, etc. Are Ralph and Donald Smith or Walter and Frank Marsh over here? If so do you know their address? Wouldn't I love to run across them, though!

It Uncle Ed still in Detroit? Do you all keep well and how is little Edna coming? Do you keep chickens? I am coming to Tecumseh when I come back and am coming to your house for a good chicken dinner and visit. I ate one tame rabbit supper in a French home since being here, but no chicken and Oh, how I do love chicken! I made out a bill of fare and sent to mother, containing eats I was going to have for one solid week after getting home and believe me, it's quite a list. We have enough to eat over here, but it's not like home cooking.

I wrote Aunt Fannie a long letter the other day and received one from her and grandmother just before coming here. I had ought to be getting my mail from the company in a day or so.

Well, folks, write me as often as possible and send me your pictures. Love and best wishes to all.

As ever,
Howard J. Hand

Pvt. John Pennington to Parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Pennington.

November 11, 1918.

My Dear Parents:—

Well, at last I have a chance to write again. I have been sick with a cold for about a week but am feeling fine now. I haven't had a chance to write lately on account of moving so much. Yesterday one of the fellows and I were out on the edge of camp, where we are now, and on hearing the explosion of shells we looked up and saw where they were shooting at some German plane and finally we saw the plane but it was hard to see it all the time because it must of been up a good many thousand feet. They continued firing at it until finally one shell hit it and down it came. Just as soon as we saw that it was coming down we started across the field to be as near we could when it hit the ground.

The plane was whirling around all the time it was coming down but when it was about half to the ground one of the fellows jumped out with a parachute and down he came just as nice as could be. I don't see how he ever got out of the machine. My friend and I were almost the first ones to reach the place where he landed so we got a good look at him.

The other fellow in the machine fell out so we went over to where he was. He did not look as if he would make another flight. I don't suppose there was a whole bone in his body. The machine was all broken up and they had guards around it, but I got a piece of the plane and a piece of one of the wings to remember it by.

It certainly caused a little excitement for a while. Now I am going to write just as often as I can but I expect that we will be moving quite a lot now seeing the way things have turned out as they have in the last few days, but I will do the best I can. Well as it is getting nearly time for supper I will close. With love,

Pvt. John Pennington,

From Earl Rector to His Aunt, Mrs. F. D. Rector.

Nov. 13, 1918.

Dear Aunt Fanny, Fred and Bess:

Monday it was our privilege to visit the forbidden city of Toul—(forbidden as far as the soldiery was concerned.) One of our commissioned officers had to report a detail of casuals to the railway depot and he took a few of us along. As luck would have it the people were fairly wild with the news of the signing of the armistice and therefore the guards happened to be lenient and allowed us to enter the gates without any questions. It's a great city and the most real one we have seen yet. We were fortunate in gaining entrance to the great Cathedral and we certainly did enjoy it. It's magnificent, built in the sixteenth century, it represents all the beauty and grace of the architecture of that period. We entered with a feeling of curiosity and came away with a feeling of awe and reverence. Never have I seen more beautiful statuary. There was one large statue of Mary and the Christ that was the most beautiful thing I've ever seen. It's surely wonderful the devotion of these people to their religion and their sacrifices for it.

Just at the entrance to the large depot is a Red Cross rest room and beside it a Red Cross tent where they serve hot chocalate and coffee. This is our first experience with the Red Cross and I'm telling you it seemed good to get a cup of real chocolate and that handed out by a real American girl. There are great blocks of American hospitals nearby, so American girls are quite plentiful.

Sunday some of our boys had the unique privilege of seeing a German machine brought down. It was shortly after we arrived here and most of us happened to be inside resting up so missed out on seeing it. The shrapnel began bursting around the machine which was back of our American lines. Finally one struck and the machine burst into flames. After it had fallen, apparently several hundred feet, the observer was seen to leap over the side and they could see his parachute spread out. Later in the evening some American soldiers reported that members of their unit captured him as he landed.

We haven't seen a paper since the actual signing of the armistice but have seen bulletins announcing the terms thereof. Most everyone here considers the abdication of the Kaiser as something that was bound to happen and are rather skeptical about absorbing the rash promises of the new leaders. Everything pertaining to Germany is taken with a grain of salt.

Have no idea where I'll write my next letter from, but don't be surprised if it's from the other side of the Rhine.

Love to all,
Earl.

ALL OUT OF SORTS

Has Any Tecumseh Person Never Felt That Way?

Feel all out of sorts?
Tired, Blue, Irritable, Nervous?
Back feel lame and achy?
Perhaps it's the story of disordered kidneys—
Bad blood circulating about;
Uric acid poisoning the body.
There's a way to feel right again,
Stimulate the sluggish kidneys;
Do it with Doan's Kidney Pills.
Doan's are recommended by many Tecumseh people.
Here's one case.

Mrs. R. J. McCoy, S. Pearl St., Tecumseh, says; "My kidneys were weak and I had dull, nagging backaches and tired easily. I felt run down and laguid and my kidneys acted irregularly. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at Wright & Son's Drug Store. The backache stopped and I felt stronger and better in every way."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. McCoy had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

Help The Fuel Administration!

The fuel administration is doing all it can to keep you warm next winter. But it needs your co-operation. If everyone does his share there will be no coal shortage—and there will be no discomfort. To get the most out of all coal used, every house should be properly equipped.

The Director of conservation of the fuel administration says:

"The National Fuel Administration realize that a large amount of coal can be saved by the installation of storm doors and storm windows," and advocates such installation as a patriotic duty.

STORM DOORS and WINDOWS

cut down coal bills from one-third to one-half—a saving that pays for their cost in one or two seasons.

But still more important, they increase the comfort of your house by eliminating cold floor drafts, by making it possible to keep the home warm during the severest weather, and by permitting perfect ventilation.

DO NOT DELAY! Place your order before the rush. Phone 57 and we will call, take measurements and tell you what the cost will be.

We also have a complete line of building material—and if you want to see some nice lump coal just drop down to the yard and look over our stock.

CHURCH WORK IN UPPER PENINSULA

MAIN TOPIC OF COMMUNITY SERVICE SUNDAY.

Lumber Jacks and Indian Life Pictured in Tableaux—Address Illustrated With Lantern Slides—Service at St. Peter's Church Next Sunday Evening—Sermon 75 Years Old.

That the Sunday evening Community services are becoming more and more popular was evidenced by the great crowd at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening. The auditorium was filled and many went to the gallery to find a seat.

The services began with a song fest conducted by Mrs. Bessie Mitchell and as in the preceding services a large choir of the singers from all the churches took the lead. And that splendid choir, we will say right here, is one of the best features of these splendid meetings.

The scripture lesson was read by Rev. J. G. Widdifield, being appropriately the 104th Psalm.

Rev. Escolme craved the divine blessing and after more of the good old fashioned songs, Rev. W. A. Rex took for his theme "Michigan yesterday, today and forever," carrying out the idea as advertised, of a "Michigan Night."

First two tableaux were given by the young people of the Sunday school. One was of two scenes in the lumber camps, the lumber jacks with an injured comrade, then the visit of the sky pilot. The other was the Indian life, the helpful work of the missionary. These presentations were exceedingly fine. Miss Mildred Boyce and Mrs. Paul Bowen originated and presented these scenes.

The address was illustrated with lantern slides, showing the lack of church interest in the Northern Peninsula. While Michigan is first in the union in so many things, she rates high in charitable and reformatory institutions but low, in church interest and still lower in church finance. This low average is brought about by the conditions in the Northern Peninsula. The slides gave pictures of many splendid school houses and alongside the poor little churches of the town, some with a membership of twenty. Rev. Thompson, who has preached and traveled that country over, told at the invitation of Rev. Rex of many instances where the people there kept up their schools, but let their churches suffer.

[illegible] of this was to show the great need of enlivening the things of the church up there. The lumber industry is waning but there are thousands and thousands of acres of fertile land to call the farmer as well as the great mines to call the people of northern Europe and these people must have their church.

One trouble in the little towns is there may be five Protestant churches just struggling along, while one good church might be supported fairly well.

The address and the slides brought to the people a different idea of conditions religiously in that part of our own great state and shamed us to think that such affairs exist. We have a great history, the early missionaries worked valiantly to bring the message here, but it seems we have not "carried it on."

The offering taken, as had been decided, goes to the church in which the service is held. Sunday evening's offering is to go to the Presbyterian work among the Indians of the Upper Peninsula.

Following a song, Rev. Thompson closed the service with the benediction.

The service next Sunday evening will be held at St. Peter's church, when Rev. J. G. Widdifield will have charge of a Christmas service. The Christmas service in this church is always most beautiful, so we are sure the church will be packed with the usual large crowd which is enjoying the series of community services. Dickens' Christmas Carols will be read, furnishing, as Rev. Widdifield announces, a Christmas sermon 75 years old.

EVERETT SHURTZ

Formerly of Tecumseh, Victim of Influenza, Passes Away at Highland Park—Funeral Here.

Everett Shurtz died at his home in Highland Park Monday night after only a week's illness with influenza. Our former doctor, Dr. Breigel, had worked faithfully over him for several days, but to no avail. The mother of the young man, Mrs. Hooten of this village, was called Friday night and found both Everett, his wife, and two little children very ill. The others are recovering, however.

The body of this Tecumseh boy was brought here Tuesday and taken to the home of his brother, Howard, where the funeral was held Wednesday morning, Rev. Rex officiating.

Everett, who was 27 years old, was born and always lived here until a couple of years ago when with his little family he moved to Manchester. He learned the cigar makers trade when but a boy and followed that business until last September, when they moved to Highland Park and he went to work in one of the Ford plants.

This is the second great sorrow for Mrs. Hooten in a few weeks, as a daughter, Mrs. Mabel Pocklington, died in Detroit the first of September.

The wife and little babies and the others of the family have the sympathy of the people of the village.

Mrs. Shurtz and the children are so ill that they were unable to accompany the remains of their loved one to Tecumseh. Her mother, Mrs. Henry Shurtz, is with them.

EXPIRES ON SHOPPING TOUR

MRS. POLLY PAWSON OF EVAN'S LAKE.

Taken Ill While Shopping in Tecumseh and Breathes Last as She Rests in Front of Bank Building.

Mrs. Polly Pawson, widow of James Pawson, with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Merritt of near Evans lake, came into town about noon Tuesday to do some Christmas shopping. As they passed the corner by the Tecumseh State Savings bank Mrs. Pawson complained of such a pain in her stomach. She sank down on the step in front of the bank, supportng herself against the corner column. She drew only a breath and was gone.

The body was taken to Guy Belding's undertaking rooms and later removed to the Merritt home, one mile east and one-fourth mile north of Evan's lake, where the lady resided.

Mrs. Pawson was a lady of many friends, and among them counted many Tecumseh people who sincerely mourn with her children this sudden departure. She leaves five children, Mrs. Jas. Seamark of Clinton, Mrs. Fred Hardcastle of Onsted, John Pawson of Sand lake, Mrs. Frances Tingley of near Hillsdale, and Mrs. Merritt.

Mrs. Pawson was 73 years old, having been born in England. She came to Franklin township when but a slip of a girl and has resided there since. Inquiries of Mrs. Merritt gave her mother's health as good, so the death came the more unexpected. She had not been a sufferer with heart disease, but to all appearances that must have been the cause of her death.

The funeral will held from the Merritt home Friday at 1 o'clock.

SUNSHINE DAY MONDAY CLUB

GIFTS PLENTY FOR INMATES OF COUNTY HOUSE.

Mrs. E. S. Tate, District President, Conducts Program.

The sunshine day of the Monday club was a very pleasant gathering, but being so close to Christmas and with so much sickness in the village, the attendance was very small, though the gifts for the inmates of the county infirmary were many.

After a few matters of routine business had been passed, the president, Mrs. Joseph H. Smith, turned the remainder of the afternoon over to Mrs. E. S. Tate of Clinton, president of this district of the State Federation.

Mrs. Tate had worked hard to have here some of the women of the county who are interested in our county and state institutions, but, as she said, between so much sickness and rush of Christmas work speakers had with one accord made excuses, shortening her program materially. However, the ladies attending found the program vitally interesting and very instructive.

The first paper was by Mrs. J. D. Service on the work among the children of the state. She talked of the Michigan Children's Home society and their orphans home at St. Joseph, the Children's Aid Bureau at Detroit, and the wonderful work being done by that society among the neglected and abused children of that city.

Mrs. Tate then gave an interesting paper on the work of the department of corrections and charities of the State Federation of Women's clubs. She impressed on her hearers the responsibilities which come with the new privileges of the women of the state since the November election. First she touched on the part the women will play in voting on the "wine and beer" amendment. Then she told of the proposed Michigan state training school for women, the bill for which passed the legislature and an appropriation for $100,000 made. Following she discussed the problem of the segregation of the feeble minded woman of child-bearing age. "A wise mother will look after a feeble-minded girl, but a feeble-minded mother of a feeble-minded girl is the problem that confronts us." The Adrian reform school and the Detroit house of correction came in for a thorough discussion, all agreeing that a home is necessary for the homeless girl with no parents or guardians, who has committed no crime and should not be sent to the Adrian Industrial school.

The ladies enjoyed a bountiful picnic supper at the close of the afternoon.

The club adjourned to meet January 6 at the library, where a permanent meeting place will be decided upon.

Election of Officers—Program of Music and Addresses—Rev. W. A. Rex on "Church Advertising."

The Men's Brotherhood class of the Presbyterian church held their annual banquet at the church Friday evening. The members and their wives and a few guests made up a party of over [illegible] and all enjoyed themselves greatly.

The banquet was some spread and the men on that committee, John H. Smith, Guy E. Nemire, C. D. Beebe and D. F. Wright, outdid themselves in getting up the menu.

Following came the business session when these officers were elected:

President—Sanford Cutting.
Vice President — Joseph H. Smith.
Secretary—Wm. Cubitt.
Treasurer—Henry W. McClure.

A delightful program of music and addresses made the evening a milestone among other such happy events. Mrs. Bessie Mitchell played a cornet solo, Rev. C. M. Thompson of the Methodist Episcopal church gave an address on "Why our boys are winners," in his usual happy vein. Fred Dickinson followed with a song and an address was given by Rev. W. A. Rex on "Church advertising," from which we quote the following trite expressions:

"The famous paragraph has to be changed as follows: 'If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door—' provided he advertises.

"Some one has framed this couplet:

'Lives of great men all remind us
That we will if we are wise,
Leave our modesty behind us,
And get out and advertise.'

"And this bit of wisdom cometh from the proverbs of the wise:

" 'My son, make thee friends of that mammon of unrighteousness, the city editor, that he publish the tidings of the synagog, and blow thy trumpet in the Daily Hittite that men forget not the house of he Lord. For doth it profit if thou preach a better sermon than thy neighbor except thou hath a good press agent. It is better to have the multitude than to dwell in the tall timbers of exclusiveness and prophesy unto empty pews.' In other words, advertise."

Thus ended one of the most successful gatherings of the class and the feeling of brotherhood was cemented firmer than ever.

NEW FIRE TRUCK

For Tecumseh Fire Department Has Arrived.

The new fire truck arrived yesterday, all resplendant in fiery red paint and handsomely lettered. Now, the village council decided at their last meeting to cancel the order for this truck. The cancellation order reached the factory just as the machne was ready, so the council allowed the order for the truck to stand and it has come on to be accepted if it proves O. K.

Everyone is to look it over and pass judgment on it. In fact, you are to tell your candid opinion to each and everyone of those councilmen—and they will decide.

DIES FROM EFFECTS OF TERRIBLE BURNS

Mrs. Leon Allen, Former Franklin Resident, Passed Away Friday at Albuquerque.

Mrs. Leon Allen of Albuquerque, N. M., of whose terrible accident we had record last week, passed away last Friday. The funeral was held on Sunday, with internment in the western city.

The sister, Miss Bertha Taylor, is critically ill and the relatives expect the sisters will bring her back if she is able to make the journey.

Ruth Taylor was born in Franklin forty years ago and that town [illegible] to New Mexico necessary, but it seemed as if trouble followed them closely. The tubercular trouble in one limb forced an amputation, then the little two year old son, Sherman, was taken and now the crowning sorrow.

Now after twenty years married to this sweet character, the husband is left alone with one son, Carl. Also are left these brothers and sisters: Mrs. Arthur Joseph of Sand lake; Mrs. Wm. Dickson of Fowler, Ind.; Mrs. Seth Simmons and George Taylor of Franklin; Miss Bertha of Albuquerque; Andrew of Tecumseh and John of Detroit.

Mrs. Allen was one of those lovable women, everybody's friend and is truly mourned by the Franklin and Tecumseh people.

PASSING OF AGED RESIDENT

Garrett Lee Summoned from Earthly Life Saturday.

Garrett Lee passed away Saturday mornng at his home in the village, following a stroke of apoplexy which he suffered two weeks before.

On Saturday, Nov. 30, he became unconscious and only partially regained consciousness in the two weeks.

The funeral was held from the home on South Evans street Monday noon, Rev. C. M. Thompson officiating. He took his text from Prov. 13:22, "A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children." The home was filled with sorrowing friends, many old neighbors and relatives coming from Onsted, Brooklyn and Cambridge. The bearers were grandchildren of the deceased: Lynn Rogers, Ernest Linger, Percy and Edgar Hubbard, Ben Glancy and Charles Lee.

Among those attending were David Burroughs, Battle Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Rogers of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Linger of Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Reed, John Hand, Miss Neita Hand, Mrs. Bliss Hand, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White, Mr. and Mrs. John Erlenbush, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sherrard, Don Ellis, Chas. Stevenson, Geo. White and Seth Hand, Onsted; Thos. Scott and son, Charles, of Adrian.

Garrett Lee was the fifth son of Wilson and Mary Lee, born in New York state December 17, 1833. He came with his parents to Michigan in 1836 and settled in the township of Cambridge. His father was taken from the family when 50 years of age, leaving the mother with 13 children, some to seek homes and livings for themselves. So we know our deceased father, knew the hardships of pioneer life, but his ambition was always great and by hard labor and constant toil and help of a faithful wife soon earned a farm home of their own, known as "Pleasant View Farm," situated one and a half miles east of Springville. There with their two children they spent many happy years together. The farm is now the property of their son, purchased of the father in 1905.

His last days were spent beside the home of his daughter, where he will be sadly missed. He was a patient, loving husband and father and the comforting words of the text "A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children." Another of earth's noble ones has passed from the shores of time and crossed the silent river. He had reached four score and five years, and like the ripened grain waiting the reaper's sickle, he was ready when the Master said, "Come up higher." He had been his aged wife's companion for over 61 years, and his going away has cast a gloom not only in her life, but the children's also.

Crossing the Bar.

Sunset and evening star!
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,
But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep.
Turns again home.
Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark;
For though from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to the neighbors and friends for the many acts of kindness and sympathy during the long sad hours of our bereavement. Also for the beautiful flowers and to Rev. Thompson for his comforting words.

Mrs. Garrett Lee,
Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Lee,

WESTMINSTER GUILD

Plans for Christmas Tree and Picnic Supper Made at Meeting Tuesday Evening.

The ladies of the Westminster Guild were entertained by Mrs. W. L. Jones, Mrs. F. C. Dickinson and Mrs. R. B. Stuckey at the home of Mrs. Jones Tuesday evening. The business hour was filled planning for new work, entertainments and the like. The next entertainment is to be on December 27, when a Christmas tree and picnic supper will be given at Presbyterian church.

Miss Mildred Boyce led the devotionals, when the group repeated the Lord's prayer and Mrs. R. M. Moiles gave a fine paper on the Songs of Solomon.

Miss Edith Rector was leader of the study portion of the evening and the chapter of the book "The Women of the Orient" entitled "The Trail Makers," was discussed by Mrs. Frank Nyland and Miss Edith Ingersoll.

The hostess served pop corn and fudge and apples and everyone thoroughly enjoyed the social hour which followed.

If you owe me, come in—and before January 1st. If you don't come any way. Mrs. P. C. Snell.

Editorial Comment

We heartily wish all Herald readers a Merry Christmas.

Tecumseh stores have been presenting a real holiday appearance the past week, and trading has been excellent.

President Wilson was given a rousing reception in Paris Saturday, even exceeding the welcome extended kings. Two million Parisians set the air vibrating with their cheers as President and Mrs. Wilson passed in parade.

As we went to press last week Dr. Hendershot, our health officer, sent in a telephone message that all homes afflicted with influenza would be quarantined and that the penalty for violation of the quarantine was a fine not to exceed $100 or imprisonment not to exceed 90 days. This should have been announced in large display type so everybody could not help but see and read it. But trains do not wait for us and we only had time enough to place the notice in ordinary type and in brief form.

The quarantine was authorized by the state board of health and we truly believe that if such action had been taken when the epidemic first appeared many lives would have been saved and much suffering averted. Instead of quarantining the sick people and those known to have been exposed all public gatherings were forbidden, schools, churches and theatres were closed, but the persons afflicted or exposed were allowed to carry the germs wherever they might happen to wander. The banishment of public gatherings may have served to prevent the spread of the disease somewhat, but had each afflicted home been quarantined the same as small-pox we warrant there would have been many less sick people and fewer deaths. But the quarantine would have to be rigid—not a joke, as some seem to take it—for the epidemic is far from that.

We regret that the quarantine is not being observed more rigidly in Tecumseh. People seem to think that as soon as they are well enough to partially attend to everyday business they must up and go, no matter if there are others sick in the home and the danger of carrying the disease is still there.

One of our busy men of town dropped into the office the other day and remarked: "Say, I notice that the telephone company are going to raise their rates. I wish you would tell them that I believe before they raise rates they had better give us some service."

The editor has not been long enough in Tecumseh to be thoroughly conversant with the telephone troubles, but he is aware that most towns have similar complaints. Of course, we believe the patrons of the telephone should have the best of service, but, on the other hand, there may be good reasons why they are not getting it. The help question, for instance, has been a problem for most employers, and some times it is almost impossible to do the things one wants to. Perhaps the company needs the increased rates to give the service demanded to purchase further equipment, etc. Many times poor service is caused by unthinking subscribers who love to visit at length, forgetting that there are others who might wish to use the line for business purposes. Whatever it may be that causes the alleged poor service we trust that a remedy will be found.

AMERICA'S CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

(By Alson Secor in "Successful Farming.")

Back in the niche of time when a quarrelsome world was momentarily at peace, there was born one whom the world delights to call the Prince of Peace, because he taught the brotherhood of man. For nearly two thousand years that day has been celebrated by unselfish giving throughout all Christendom in honor and memory of Him who gave his life for the good of mankind, and who taught that "greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friends." By the parable of the good Samaritan He also taught us to go out of our way to be a neighbor to and help the needy, take in and care for them who have been robbed by the wayside.

His life and His teachings all influenced His followers to be unselfish, helpful, generous, kind, and truthful. And He warned against the wolf in sheep's clothing.

A counterfeit emphasizes the fact that the genuine has great value, be it a counterfeit coin, product, or character. None of the Christian virtues are any less valuable because a nation has deliberately and with malicious intent, clothed a most degraded and brutalizing national thought in a cloak of Christian phraseology.

Nor is the Christmas spirit obliterated by the horrors of war when that war was fought to bring peace on earth, good will to men; fought that truth may have a chance to triumph over error and deceit; fought that right may conquer might; fought that the selfish, greedy, brutal, bigoted and deceitful believers in the divine right of kings may be disarmed and punished for this world catastrophy.

America exemplifies the Christmas spirit by giving with no thought of gain. Each soldier and sailor who has joined the colors is willing to give his all, not alone for his friends, but for those whom he does not know, whose language he does not understand, knowing that they cannot give him anything in return but gratitude.

It is the same spirit that has prompted every mother and father, every wife and sweetheart to give their beloved to a cause which will make it possible for the Christmas bells to ring out the glad tidings of great joy.

The sacrifices of America's mothers that the mothers and children of devastated France and ravished Belgium may again be free are but the full fruits of that love which prompts the young mother to fill the Christmas tree with the trinkets that little children enjoy, knowing that they can not repay except in the happiness they show.

All America has learned the great truth—it is more blessed to give than to receive. Selfishness and thoughtlessness have been largely washed out of our national life by the life blood of our crusaders. It is another case of each one suffering or dying for many. Never has the Christmas spirit so permeated our national and individual lives as now.

The good Samaritan did not stop at merely placing the wounded and robbed stranger upon his beast and taken him to a hotel. He paid the hotel bill in advance and promised to pay so long as the stranger needed care. America was not content with pouring a little ointment upon the wounds of robbed nations. She has helped to catch the robber, and now stands willing to pay the bill, to stay on the job until just punishment is meted out to that robber, and see that restoration is guaranteed. This is going the good Samaritan one better. It is the fulness of the teachings of Him whose birthday we celebrate.

* * * * * *

The first Christmas was made joyful by the bringing of the glad tidings that a Savior had come. Out of our abundance we Americans can be saviors of many of the stricken people of war torn Belgium and France, if we will but exemplify the spirit of Him whose birthday we celebrate. To those people our partly worn clothes would be a great gift. * *

Above the joy that comes because our boys will no longer have to face the deadly bullets, gas, and shells, and spend the winter in the unspeakable trenches, our hearts are filled to overflowing with satisfaction because right, justice, and freedom have triumphed.

Once more it is fitting that the angels shall sing, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Keep Your Rugs Like New

YOU can easily regain the original beauty and coloring of your rugs by applying occasionally a soft lather of 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips. Let it remain for a few minutes, then remove with a stiff brush. Will not injure colors or fabric, as the Borax simply softens and loosens the dirt and the soap dissolves it away.

20 MULE TEAM BORAX SOAP CHIPS

will also make laundry work easy if used in this way: Make a Soap Jelly by putting three tablespoonfuls of the chips into a quart of water and boil.

Add enough of this solution to the wash water to make a good suds and then soak or boil clothes as usual. Don't rub; it is unnecessary. An 8 oz. package of 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips equals 25c worth of ordinary laundry soap.

It's the Borax with the soap that does the work.

OBITUARY

MRS. RAY WOLFE.

Cline Schofield was born in Tecumseh, Mich., June 13, 1886, and died at Hinsdale, Mont., Dec. 7, 1918. She graduated from the Tecumseh high school in 1904, taught school two years and then attended the Ypsilanti Normal, graduating from there in 1908, after which she went west and has been a most successful teacher ever since.

She was married July 20, 1915, at Clinton, Mich., to Mr. Ray A. Wolfe of North Dakota. They returned to Dakota on acount of Mr. Wolf's business. She taught there one year, then went to Kansas, where her child was born March 16, 1917. Since that time they have lived at Hinsdale, Mont. She was teaching when stricken with influenza. Teaching was her life work; she could not be content without it, and has done it well.

Mrs. Wolfe was a kind, noble woman, better to others than to herself; always sacrificing for others. Her many friends are crushed with grief, but have the one great consolation — she has gone to that better home where there is neither sorrow nor death.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband and little son, Walter William, her mother, three sisters and three brothers, Mrs. A. E. Matthews of Clinton, Mich., Mrs. Nina Miller, Tecumseh, Mrs. Lilah Flint, Napoleon, Ohio, Jay Scofield, Rocky Ford, Col., Wesley Scofield, Tecumseh and Newton Scofield, Covington, La.

Owing to serious illness the husband was unable to accompany the remains to Tecumseh, where they were laid to rest beside her father.

Rev. Rex spoke such comforting words to the friends from the text, "And they went and told Jesus."

She united with the Baptist church here when quite young and has ever since been a faithful and consistent Christian and worker, wherever she was living.

The bearers were Wallace and Floyd Bryan, Harry and Wilfred Waldron, Leon and Dean VanValkenburg. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers, showing the love and esteem in which she was held.

Card of Thanks.

To the many friends who offered us sympathy in our hour of sorrow, we wish to return our most heartfelt thanks; also to those who sent flowers, the B. Y. P. U., the faculty at Hinsdale, Mont., and the relatives and frends in Tecumseh, Adrian and Jackson.

My First Visit to Chicago.

It was while living at Napierville, Ill., with my father, whose health was very poor, that my uncle, Hibbard Daniels, took me to Chicago to have an operation performed on my eyes, or rather, to have them straightened, as I was very cross-eyed. The operation was a success, and, although it was 78 years ago, I remember it now. It was performed by two doctors, one of whom gave me my first stick of candy. My eyes were bandaged and I was not permitted to see the day light for two weeks or the sunlight for three. My uncle came and got me, he paying all the expenses.

Chicago was then but a large village, with sandy, narrow streets and one and a half and two story buildings. Indians as plentiful as whites walked the streets. The main street ran parallel with the lake shore. The next time I saw Chicago was in 1871, at the time of the great fire. But how changed was the city! Even the prairies were dotted with fine farm homes, orchards, mills and more trees than in its primitive state. But the Indians are gone, also the buffalo, and the advance of civilization and science has wrought a great change in the years that have passed, transforming the low, dusty town to a magnificent city, with some of its streets from 25 to 30 miles in length and still growing. I predict that in time it will be the largest and richest city on the continent, and this will be accomplished by its patriotic and loyal citizens who dearly love the Stars and Stripes, now the emblem of true liberty, that so proudly floats above them, appealing to every true American citizen.

—H. C. Daniels.

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitate to believe at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Tecumseh man is confirmed after three years:

W. W. Shurtz, Kilbuck street, says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills at different times for the past ten years and they have always given me relief from distressing symptoms of kidney complaint. I get my supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from Wright & Son's drug store and my experience has been so satisfactory I gladly recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

NORTH ADRIAN

Mr. and Mrs. Orson Benedict visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown last Friday.

Mrs. Frank Wright entertained her father, Mr. Kidman, of Adrian last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osborn visited their son, Raymond, near Ridgeway, last week Thursday.

Ernest Brown of Rollin and cousin, Eber Mapes of Rome, visited their uncle, E. H. Brown, and cousin, L. G. Brown, from Friday until Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Osborn was called to the home of her son, Garland, last Wednesday, as they were all sick. They are reported better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Brown received a letter from their nephew, Jasper Brown, last week, written November 16, saying he was well and happy and lived in hopes of returning home in a few months. He is in France.

E. H. Brown received a card from his niece, Miss Glennor Wheeler, of Hinsdale, Mont., saying the ground was all covered with snow and the thermometer went twenty below zero or more every night. Some different from the weather here.

Be a Joy-Walker, "Gets-It" for Corns

2 Drops, 2 Seconds—Corn Is Doomed!

When you almost die with your shoes on and corns make you almost walk sideways to get away from the pain, take a vacation for a minute or two and apply 2 or 3 drops of the world's magic and only genuine corn-peeler, "Gets-It." Then, and then only, will you be sure that your corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel it right off gloriously, easy with your fingers. Take no chances of continued pain and soreness—why use greasy, irritating salves, plasters that shift and press into the "quick," razors and "diggers" that make corns bleed and also grow faster? Use painless, easy, always sure "Gets-It." There's only one like it in the world—that's "Gets-It." Millions have tried and O. K.'d it for years. It never fails. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

"My Corns Peel Clean Off, With 'Gets-It'"!

ARRESTED FOR STEALING WIRE

Michigan State Telephone Co. Employee Swipes 500 Pounds of New Copper Wire.

Paul Neuman of Pittsburg, Pa., an employee of the Michigan State Telephone Co., was arrested Saturday for stealing 500 pounds of new copper wire, valued at $125 from the company. The gang of linemen were working through the place and the foreman being sick, the equipment was left in charge of Neuman, and he took the chance to clean up a little coin. He sold the wire to Louis Kozel for $60. Louis happened to speak of his good business deal to our deputy, Mr. Smith, and he suspected something wrong. He got in touch with Lyman Green, the district foreman, and a complaint was at once made out and Neuman was brought before Judge Hosmer. He was remanded to jail to await his examination.

Deputy Sheriff Smith took him over to the county bastile on Sunday and on Wednesday Neuman was again in Judge Hosmer's court. Here the telephone company changed their complaint from larceny to a misdemeanor, thus bringing the case into the justice's juridiction. The prisoner pleaded guilty and after the company's representative had asked the leniency of the court, the judge asked for $25.45 fine and costs, which Neuman paid and went back to his work with his mates.

"SCIENCE NIGHT"

Wit an Wisdom Club Meet at the Fred Rosacrans Home.

It was "science night" with the Wit and Wisdom club Monday evening. Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Hartzog were to have entertained the club, but, lo, they moved away. However, the doctor thoughtfully arranged the program before leaving and invited Rev. Rex to preside. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosacrans kindly offered their home for the gathering place for the second time this year and the members gladly accepted. A large crowd listened with close attention to the following program:

Vocal Solo—Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans.
"New Inventions"—Rev. Rex.
"New Scientific Discoveries"—Dr. North.
Cornet Solo—Mrs. Bessie Mitchell.
"The Rockefeller Institute"—Supt. Reed.
Roll Call—Inventions Needed.

A social hour followed in which a Christmas tree was the big feature and on it was a present for each, all useful. For instance, to Mr. Rosacrans fell a huge curry comb, to Rev. a bank and others were as mirth-provoking. The music for the evening largely on a manaphone.

The next meeting will be held at the Presbyterian manse, being a "travel night," with Rev. Rex leader. A potluck supper is to be served at 6:30.

"CRASHING THROUGH TO BERLIN"

History of War Shown on the Screen at the Bradley.

"Crashing Through to Berlin" was the picture at the Bradley Sunday and Monday evenings, with a matinee Sunday afternoon. This was not one of those awful pictures we have seen so frequently since the great war started, so full of the Huns' devilishness in the awful way of killing women and children and the other terrible things, but more along the line of the progress of the war in general.

It started with the funeral of the duke and his consort in Serbia, which was only the excuse for the war, showed how the nations were pulled into it one at a time until at last we couldn't hold out when our ships were sunk and non-combatants killed, and we lined up with the Allies against the arch fiend.

The pictures showing our wonderful strides in preparation—in ship building, ammunition making and our reception over there makes us prouder than ever that we are the Americans, our boys the real victors. Many pictures of Pershing, Foch and the other generals and prominent English and French mingled in the scenes and always Pershing's face would draw the applause. The pictures were very interesting and instructive as well.

A Well Skin Never Chafes.

Chafing is caused by the rubbing of clothing against the skin; or even of the skin against itself.

Nature has equipped the healthy skin to provide against such conditions in the form of various excretions. Failure of the skin to function properly results in inflammation from the constant rubbing, and "chafing" results.

To relieve this condition local external measures usually give the most satisfaction; and the most effective remedy is powdered Boric. Dust the irritated surface frequently with 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric, removing the cause of the irritation if possible or, perhaps, covering with gauze.

A healing ointment may easily be made by mixing 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric with lanolin.

Your druggist sells 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric.

Lieut. Dale J. Hodges arrived Sunday from Camp Hancock, Ga., having received his honorable discharge. He is on the reserved list for five years and has been commissioned second lieutenant at the officers' training camp.

A curious bouquet for December in Michigan was that brought to this office by M. Cole. It consisted of strawberry vines bearing blossoms and some of the fruit, although the latter was not ripe. The specimens were picked by Mr. Cole from his garden.

We had the pleasure of looking over a copy of "The Stars and Stripes" which Barlow Wood sent from France to Kenneth Hay. This paper, edited by our soldiers and for the soldiers over there, is a bright, newsy sheet, plenty of cartoons, some rattling good editorials, well supported by the Paris advertisers, and held one item of local interest. When the order to cease firing came on the 11th our old 32nd was one of the divisions in the battle line, having been brought up to replace some other division in the drive which began November 1st. In this paper are vivid accounts of the last shots all along the miles of front and the rejoicing of the French at the victory.

Berford Barber has been quite ill with tonsilitis this week.

Mrs. Chas. Skinner spent Tuesday with her brother and family at Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Service had as guests over Sunday her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Rogers. Mrs. Rogers remained for the week.

Circle No. 5 of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet with Mrs. Geo. Church on East Pottawatamie street Friday afternoon, December 20.

Wm. Hanham has just received a card from his son, Serg. Earl Hanham, over in France. Earl says he was in the last big fight and is all right.

Mrs. Frank G. Lewis went to Flint Tuesday for a few weeks' visit with her parents and friends before going on to her new home in Riverside, Cal.

Geo. Reed, who makes his home in the northern part of the state, made his brother, Samuel Reed, and family a visit this week, his first visit in 24 years.

Mr. and Mrs. John Waters, Mrs. Redfield and Miss Lelia Waters were down from Onsted Tuesday. Mrs. Waters is improving nicely from her severe illness.

David Burroughs of Battle Creek was called here Saturday by the death of his brother-in-law, Garrett Lee. He remained with his sister until Wednesday.

Mrs. Mana Koder of Jackson has been caring for the sick at F. S. Turner's since Thursday, returning to her home last evening. Her patients have all about recovered.

W. L. Coller is putting on a Christmas dance next Wednesday evening to which everybody is invited. There will be feature dancing and Robert Codling of Tipton will call.

Assisting at the 5 and 10c store are Mrs. Harry Waldron and Miss Irene Shaw. At the Rosacrans store Mrs. Clement Hardenburg and at The Webster Anderson Co. Mrs. Guy Nemire.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosacrans and Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Thompson motored to Chelsea last Tuesday and visited friends in the Old People's Home and called upon Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Balmer.

Gus Edwards, a carriage painter, has moved his family here from Grand Rapids, Ohio, into Frank Hialey's house. Mr. Edwards comes to take Chas. Price's place in the Hialey carriage factory, the latter having gone to St. Johns, Mich.

The new officers for Tecumseh Eagle lodge for next year are: W. Pres., W. E. Barrett; W V. P., G. J. Ziehr; chaplain, W. L. Jones; secretary. W. H. Westcott; treasurer, F. Walinger; I. G., Lafe Stevenson; O. G. F. Poley; trustee, Geo. Rathbun; physician, H. H. Hammill.

The funeral of Mrs. Ray Wolfe, nee Cline Scofield, was held Saturday from the home of her mother, Mrs. Laura Scofield, on West Kilbuck street. As the services were private, only the immediate family attended, one brother, Jay Scofield, coming from Rocky Ford, Col., and a sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Matthews, from Clinton.

Mike Melonakos' smiling face is once more in the candy kitchen and he has received a glad welcome home. He arrived Tuesday evening from a camp in Massachusetts, having received his honorable discharge.

In a list of wounded Michigan men just landed in New York we find the name of Clyde B. McDermott, Clinton. Clyde is about as well known here and we are glad he is able to get that near home after his injuries.

Miss Geraldine Barker, for some time stenographer in Wood & Rathbun's law office, has resigned and returns to her home in Adrian. We understand she is to have a position in Cleveland after the first of the year.

The post office will be closed Christmas day except the general delivery window will be open from 10 to 11 a. m. Rural delivery as usual and city delivery in the morning. Stamps will be sold and box holders served at the general delivery window.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, who was a resident of Macon until recently, died at Ann Arbor Tuesday evening. She was the daughter of John Smith, who is now a resident of Saline. The young lady who was but twenty years of age, has many friends in this vicinity.

Coming for the funeral of H. A. Stacy Thursday last were Mrs. Stacy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conrad of Grand Rapids, Rufus Stacy of Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. George Stacy of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frasier and son of Mt. Clemens, Mrs. Alta Foster of Elgin, Ill.; Lieut. Forrest Bentley Camp Dodge, Mrs. Lucy Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis, Chas. Lewis and mother of Manitou Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Osborn and daughter, Lucile, of Hudson.

D. F. Wright received a letter from Leslie Johnson this week which gives a different idea of the merchant marine service to which Leslie is now attached. He is on the U. S. S. Dingley, a coastwise vessel. Uncle Sam backs up the merchant marine but the shipping board is a private corporation for enlisting men and they cannot hold them if they do not wish to stay. They have to buy their own complete outfit and are called the "Rexall Navy." On the Dingley they have a private suite for each two fellows and he calls it a palace beside the first training ship, the Meade, where conditions were pretty bad.

Traditions of the Sailor's Uniform.

(The Fleet Review)

Many old customs and traditions have left their trace on the the uniform of American sailors of the present day. The wide, flaring trousers suggest a waste of material when seen on a city street, but they are really the most practical shape for duty on shipboard. Because of the looseness they may be rolled up snugly to the knee when the sailor is holystoning the decks, and the flare also prevents them from binding at the knee when the bluejacket is required to go aloft. Another important advantage of the looseness is that, combined with the arrangement of the buttons on the side, the trousers may be easily slipped off in the water.

The thirteen buttons across the top of the trousers are supposed to represent the thirteen original States.

The black tie, prescribed by regulation for American bluejackets, was handed down from the British navy. It was worn by the sailors of this fleet in memory of Nelson after the death of the great naval hero. Similarly, the three white stripes bordering the collar commemorates three great victories won by Nelson.

The bit of white undershirt showing at the neck is associated with the famous American Admiral, Farragut. After his death the sail in which his body was lowered to the water was divided among his sailors, with the request that the pieces be worn across their chests. This established the custom of wearing a white dicky, which is now replaced by the portion of the undershirt.

Report Heavy Yields of Oats and Peas at U. P. Experiment Farm.

East Lansing, Mich.—A report from the upper peninsula experiment station of the Michigan Agricultural college, located at Chatham, declares that much success has attended the raising of peas and oats for silage purposes in the district north of the straits.

"An effort was made," the report declares, "to ascertain the suitability of oats and peas for silage purposes in the upper peninsula. The oats and peas yielded 65.5 tons of green material for silage from 6.41 acres, or an average of 10.28 tons per acre. This crop made an excellent quality of silage, much relished by the dairy herd, resulting in the good returns set forth in the financial statement of the dairy department."

A pamphlet setting forth in considerable detail other results of work completed and under way at the upper peninsula station has just been issued by the college, and can be obtained by writing to the Director of the Experiment Station, M. A. C., East Lansing.

AUCTION!

Farmers contemplating Auction Sales cannot afford to hold same without placing their sale before the readers of The Tecumseh Herald.

The sale must be properly advertised to make it the best success. How extensively such sale should be advertised depends upon the grade of stock to be disposed of. If you have high bred stock—stock that is in universal demand—advertise it big, for $1.00 spent in advertising will earn from $50 to $100. If one dollar spent in advertising will earn you two you would be foolish to pinch that dollar.

If you have nothing to offer that will draw persons from other counties and states, you would be foolish to pay an exhorbitant price for a circulation that did not benefit the sale.

Advertising rates in The Herald are not high and a good sized space is bound to bring results, because The Herald circulates over a territory immediately adjoining Tecumseh and covers that field better than any other one newspaper.

YOU CAN ADVERTISE YOUR AUCTION SALE WELL AND CHEAPLY BY USING THE COLUMNS OF THE TECUMSEH HERALD. TRY IT.

Kill Germs and Save Human Life

The menace of militarism, the horrors of war and the toll of death taken in all frightful accidents is as nothing compared to the danger of unseen deadly germs.

Even in war itself the toll of human life taken outright by the whizzing bullet, the bursting shrapnel, or the piercing steel is less than that caused by the unseen deadly germs that attack the wounded and the well alike.

Human life will be lengthened and human happiness increased when we learn better to guard ourselves against the danger of the ever present germs of disease.

Powdered boric is one of Nature's most wonderful gifts to man, for it enables us, through antisepsis, to ward off the danger of infection.

Owing to its wonderful antiseptic properties it cannot be too highly recommended for liberal use in the care of the person wherever and whenever exposed to the germs of disease.

Pure powdered boric may be used with absolute freedom and safety in all the natural cavities of the body. To realize how healing it is, yet how safe, we have but to recall that the physician almost always prescribes it as the principal ingredient of an eye water.

The manufacture of powdered boric has been brought to such a high degree of efficiency by one concern that if we always remember to specify "20 Mule Team Powdered Boric" we know that we have the real article in full strength.

On every package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will be found directions for its multitude of uses and the expense is so little that no one should ever be without it.

A solution of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric in water makes an absolute and positive antiseptic for all personal use. It is excellent for a shampoo, for it kills the germ which makes the dandruff that spoils the lustre of the hair and causes it to fall out and cease to grow.

It should be used as a mouth wash on account of its antiseptic qualities whenever there is the slightest danger of having been exposed by being brought in contact with persons suffering with colds, sore throats, etc.

To overcome the unpleasant effect consequent upon excessive perspiration the use of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will give great satisfaction, making everything sweet and clean and healing any abrasion that may have occurred.

A hot foot bath with a liberal quantity of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will make the feet feel ten years younger.

For the baby a liberal dusting with 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric not only assures freedom from chafing but helps to maintain an antiseptically clean condition on the little body.

To any cut or abrasion 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric should be freely applied.

20 Mule Team Powdered Boric is a foe to germ life.

It should be on the dressing table of every dainty woman and liberally used in every household where health is prized.

Authorized representative will soon call at your home and make arrangements for you to obtain, FREE, a full size package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric from any of the following druggists:

A Warning

FOR PROMPT RELIEF FROM Grip, Sore Throat, Cold in Chest and all inflammation and Congestion, Cream of Mustard gives instant relief and comfort to the sufferer.

It is far superior to mustard plasters or any liniment on the market. It relives congestion, inflammation and pain almost instantly. It takes the place of plasters or liniments for colds, pains and aches.

It has produced wonderful results with thousands afflicted with sore throat, tonsilitis, stiff neck, neuralgia, congestion, rheumatism, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, colds in the chest, bronchitis, croup, headache, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints and chilblains.

Every household should have a jar of Cream of Mustard in the medicine chest for emergency. Ask your druggist: 25c and 50c jars, hospital size, $2.50.

The Farmer Receives More Than Five Thousand Dollars a Minute From Swift & Company

This amount is paid to the farmer for live stock, by Swift & Company alone, during the trading hours of every business day.

All this money is paid to the farmer through the open market in competition with large and small packers, shippers, speculators and dealers.

The farmer, feeder, or shipper receives every cent of this money ($300,000 an hour, nearly $2,000,000 a day, $11,500,000 a week) in cash, on the spot, as soon as the stock he has just sold is weighed up.

Some of the money paid to the farmer during a single day comes back to the company in a month from sale of products; much does not come back for sixty or ninety days or more. But the next day Swift & Company, to meet the demands made by its customers, must pay out another $2,000,000 or so, and at the present high price levels keeps over $250,000,000 continuously tied up in goods on the way to market and in bills owed to the company.

This gives an idea of the volume of the Swift & Company business and the requirements of financing it. Only by doing a large business can this company turn live stock into meat and by-products at the lowest possible cost, prevent waste, operate refrigerator cars, distribute to retailers in all parts of the country—and be recompensed with a profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound—a profit too small to have any noticeable effect on the price of meat or live stock.

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Roy L. Cadmus to Lester Heesen.

Somewhere in the Land of Vin, Rouge and Vin Blanc, November 19, 1918.

Dear Lester:

I hope you will pardon my neglect. I'll try to make up for it by sending you a letter from Sunny France. I was until a few days ago up within sound of the big guns, but the big guns are now "finees," as the French say.

I am in a base hospital working in the laboratory. We have a 1600 bed hospital and there are five or six hospitals in the same group.

Since I landed in France much has happened and I don't know what I had to do with, but I believe I was one of the last straws that broke the kaiser's back. We landed here in France the 13th of September (Friday at that). We went to a rest camp and spent one enjoyable (?) week. The first people we saw on landing were Chinamen, and I thought we had landed in China for sure. The rest camp was that in name only. The apellation is a choice bit of ivory. We left there and loaded on to side door pullmans. They were French box cars and reminded me very much of Adrian's street cars. On the side it said "Cheveaux 8, Hommes 42. We loaded in 44 hommes to a car beside corned millie enough for four days' rations. When I get home I'll write a book entitled "Across France in a box car." We stopped off farther inland for a day or so and then traveled on and established our hospital here.

France is sure one pretty country. The fields are green and they were bounded by pretty green hedges and I never saw more beautful scenery. It was hard to imagine that there was a big war going on not far away. All buildings are of stone or cement, and, believe me, they are built to stay. There are practically no wooden buildings in France. The roofs are all of red tile. They are very stingy with their windows and most of the houses are dark and damp.

The country certainly lives up to its reputation for pretty girls. There are some "peaches" all right, but, nevertheless, give me the U. S. A. My opinion of all things French is d——d poor.

They have no sewer system, electric lights or any conveniences except in the large cities and these are poor excuses. Take the electric lights here, for instance. They go out at very frequent intervals and stay out for probably all night. That happens nearly every other night. Some service. Everything else is the same way. As to sanitation, they never heard of it. Another thing that I will disillution you in regard to is the French wine or "vin." The vin is about the same as vinegar as far as taste is concerned. I would much prefer hard cider. The Frenchman could not live without his vin. Every house has wine for sale and a "frog" could get along very well without water and does very often. But without vin he is lost.

The war is sure "finees." On the morning of the signing of the armistice we could hear the big guns booming as they never had before, and we concluded that the armistice was all off and a big drive on. In the afternoon everything was quiet and later the news came in that it was over.

We have some men here now that went over the top at nine o'clock that morning and were wounded just two hours before the end. Myself and partner, who is a Big Rapids, Mich., fellow, went down to the town that night. There was some celebration on. A real U. S. band was playing the "Stars and Stripes Forever" in front of the Red Cross tent, and the Red Cross was giving away cocoa and sandwiches. After the band finished playing they marched into the city followed by a crowd of French, Algerian, Morocca and American soldiers.

The city is surrounded by a big wall some twenty feet high and has large iron gates. These are usually guarded, but the crowd walked right past the guard and into the city we went. There was some celebration — fire works, flags flying and everyone was happy. "Finees la guerre" they were shouting, and the French have good reason to be happy. Black is the prevailing color and most of the men are in the army.

No longer do we have to screen our windows at night or put out light when the siren blows and wait for an air raid to pass over. They never bothered us, but I have listened to the bombardments and watched the flash of the anti-air craft guns. I was lucky enough one day to see a German plane brought down. I heard the hum and looked up and had just located it as it was struck by a shell from an anti-air craft gun, and down she came head first. The operator cut loose in a parachute.

Aeroplanes hereabouts are quite numerous and I have seen as high as twenty in the air at once. They do stunts for us occasionally.

Before I close I will tell you my opinion of the Red Cross over here. It is an organization which is doing things for soldiers. We have a Red Cross worker here and she gives out cigarettes and tobacco. to the patients; also chewing gum, handkerchiefs, comfort kits, toilet articles and everything they need. They have canteens in every station. At the tent down town one can buy cocoa, sandwiches and doughnuts for a few cents. They distribute the magazines and papers you put a stamp on and drop in the postoffice and, believe me, they are welcome.

Another organization which we made fun of in the states is the Salvation Army, but over here they are doing a lot for the soldiers. Back in the states it was all Y. M. C. A., but they never get farther than the ports of embarkation and are scarce as hen's teeth over here.

Well, I must say fineese for tonight. (Finees is the main part of my French vocabulary.)

Your friend,
Roy L. Cadmus,
Base Hospital 55, A. E. F.

From Sergeant I. E. Spitler to His Wife.

Somewhere in Belgium,
November 17, 1918.

Dear Wife:—

Back to drilling again. You see we have been "cited" by Pershing, Foch and King Albert for bravery, and parade before the latter in Brussels in a very few days. We expect to do nothing but drill and parade from now for a while. From Brussels we expect to go to Cologne on the Rhine and then I don't know where—home, I hope.

This division has been on five drives and I believe we know a little about modern war. One of the drives was the one starting September 26 on the Champagne front. Our division was in the Argonne Forest and captured Montfancon. That was one of the places that we received mention. Anyway, it was over and I didn't get a scratch.

Recently I received a promotion to first class sergeant and turned down a chance to be second lieutenant. I thought it too near time to come home to bother with it and buy all the officer's outfit, and then, too, I preferred to stay with the fellows I have soldiered with during the war.

Well, Marion, it is pay day in camp so I must ring off.

From Percy Bowen to His Mother, Mrs. J. F. N. Bowen, Who is Now in Parkersburg, W. Va.

Same Place in France,
November 17, 1918.

My Dear Mother:—

I now have your letters of October 6th and 20th. Last Sunday I had yours of the 13th, so one of these was held up somewheres, but as a general thing the mail is coming to me very good. Can't understand why you are not getting my letters, though. I have written at least once a week ever since I have been here, and you say you have only gotten the ones of September 1st and 25th. The rest may come along some time. I am sure they have not been thrown out by the censors because I have always been very careful about what I wrote.

We did not get paid for October until last night, which made about six weeks between pay days. The fellows who had money loaned it to the ones without until for the past few days there was no money at all in the company. We were all "broke." There was a great time settling up when we got our francs last night.

I expect there is a great deal of rejoicing at home in the states now that the war is over and the anxiety of the soldiers' relatives is relieved. I suppose we can consider ourselves very fortunate, as we have not been to the front lines or been in any particular danger, but we only missed it by hours, as we received an order the same morning the armistice was signed to be ready to move at an hour's notice, as we were now trained in our special line to be particularly valuable at the front at this time. I have a copy of the order which I will send home as soon as censorship will permit. It came from Gen. Pershing to Gen. Foch, so this unit feels quite proud of itself.

After a fellow goes through all the training and hears the stories of the soldiers who are coming back out of the fight all the time there is a natural curiosity to get up there where there is some real action, just to see what he could do, but it is all over now, and the main question now is how quick can we get back home.

The work we have been doing in this place is done now, so imagine we will be moving some where soon, although I haven't much of an idea what they will do with us.

TIRED, NERVOUS HOUSEWIFE TOOK VINOL

Now She is Strong and Well

Berkeley, Cal.—"I was nervous, irritable, no appetite, could not sleep, and was always tired, so my housework was a great effort. After many other medicines had failed Vinol built me up and made me strong. I have a good appetite and sleep well. Every nervous, weak, ailing woman should try it."—Mrs. N. Edmunds, 2107 Dwight Way, Berkeley, Cal.

We ask every nervous, weak, run-down, ailing woman in this town to try this cod liver and iron tonic on our guarantee to return their money if it fails to help them.

Defendants.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Lenawee, in Chancery, in the City of Adrian, on the 9th day of December, A. D. 1918.

In this cause, it appearing from affidavit on file that the above named known defendants are not residents of the state of Michigan, and that said affiant had made diligent search and inquiry to learn the places of residence of each and all of said defendants, and has been unable to ascertain the same, and it cannot be ascertained in what state or county said defendants and each of them reside; and it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that said known defendants are proper parties to this suit; and it further appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that the unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns of said known defendants, (named in the caption hereof), are proper parties to this suit, and it further appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that the unknown grantees and encumbrancers of said known defendants, (named in the caption hereof), are proper parties to this suit:

On motion of Wood & Rathbun, attorneys for plaintiff, it is ordered, that the appearance of said above named known defendants, (named in the caption hereof), be entered herein on or before three (3) months from the date of this order; that said unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns of said known defendants be made parties defendant hereto, and that the appearance of said unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns of aforesaid known defendants be entered herein on or before three (3) months from the date of this order; and that said unknown grantees and encumbrancers be made parties defendant hereto, and that the appearance of said unknown grantees and encumbrancers of aforesaid known defendants, be entered herein on or before three (3) months from the date of this order; all in accordance with the statutes of the State of Michigan, in such cases made and provided: that in the case of the appearance of any such defendants, that he cause his answer to the Bill of Complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served on plaintiff's attorneys within twenty (20) days after service on him of a copy of said Bill of Complaint and notice of this Order; and, in default thereof, said Bill will be taken as confessed, by said non-resident defendants, and by said unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, and by said unknown grantees and encumbrancers.

And it is further ordered, that within twenty (20) days the plaintiff cause a notice of this Order to be published in the Tecumseh Herald, of Tecumseh, Michigan, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said County of Lenawee, and that said publication be continued therein once in each week for six weeks in succession, or that he cause a copy of this Order to be personally served on said non-resident defendants, and on said unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, and on said unkown grantees and encumbrancers, the defendants herein, at least twenty (20) days before the day above prescribed for their appearance.

CIRCULARS VS. NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

A 20-inch advertisement in The Herald costs $3.00. Here the cost ends as far as the advertiser is concerned, because The Herald places this announcement before the eyes of at least 5,000 persons within trading distance of Tecumseh. Since taking over the list of the Britton Messenger The Herald enters 1500 homes. A conservative estimate gives four readers to every paper, making 6,000 readers altogether.

Take the $3.00, the cost of a 20-inch advertisement, invest it in circulars and see how many people you can reach. If circulars are mailed you can reach only 300 people instead of the thousands the newspaper reaches. It takes three dollars to reach 300 people by mail. To send the same circular to 1500 homes it would cost $15. This is for postage only. Add the cost of circulars and labor in mailing and see where you are at. The total, if invested in newspaper space would place in 1500 homes a page advertisement.

SEE THE POINT? THE HOME PAPER IS THE CHEAPEST, SAFEST AND BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

Millard and Flossie Allison were over from Saline Wednesday.

Miss Florence Waldron is detained at home with the "flu."

John Neeley was out from Detroit this week, visiting his many old friends.

Sergt. Jesse Coller arrived home from Battle Creek Wednesday. He has been honorably discharged.

The Modern Woodmen will hold a special meeting Friday evening to initiate a large class of new members. A good attendance is desired. Lunch will be served after the work.

Arthur Brown is at home, the S. A. T. C. at the U. of M. having been demobilized. He began work at Brewer's foundry Monday but plans to finish his course at the U. of M. next year.

At the meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star Thursday three candidates received the degree, Mr. and Mrs C. N. Graebner and Mrs. Bessie Mitchell. A lunch followed the initiation.

Leroy Hanham, who has been in the aviation corps, returned home from England last evening. He had been in New York a week then came on to Camp Custer where he received his honorable discharge.

On Monday evening at their meeting, the G. A. R.s and T. B. A. gathered up a substantial purse for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berry. Mr. Berry, who broke his hip last week, has been suffering considerably.

Many of the stores are trimmed beautifully in honor of the season, and the merchants report a better trade than last year and in some lines excellent. The people seem to have plenty of money and are spending it freely.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman returned Tuesday from Clifton, N. Y., where they had been called by the death of his brother-in-law, E. B. Fellows. They spent nearly two weeks visiting relatives at Buffalo and around, Rochester.

Miss Maytie Hoelzer and Gordon Bailey, Clinton young people, and well known in this vicinity, were maried Tuesday. Miss Hoelzer has taught school around this part of the county and Mr. Bailey is a splendid musician so both have a large acquaintance. They will live on the Don Palmer place, three miles north of town, to be at home to their friends after February 1st.

Miss Lyda Allison of Dundee spent Tuesday and Wednesday at Elmer Linn's.

Special meeting of Tecumseh Lodge No. 69, F. & A. M., Friday evening, Dec. 20. Installation of officers.

Mrs. Bernice Snedicor returned to Adrian Wednesday after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Snedicor.

James McCann, of Detroit, has been helping out at McCann & Bowen's this week and greeting his many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Belding went to Oscoda, Mich., yesterday to attend the funeral of the latter's brother, John Ellis.

Regular meeting of the Pythian Sisters Thursday evening, December 26, at 7:30. A card party will follow the meeting.

Miss Ruth Kloffenstein has been home from Detroit this week, an abscess on her face causing an enforced vacation.

Grover Schwartz and wife returned from Lansing yesterday. Grover has been in the S. A. T. C. which is being demobilized.

Mrs. Jennie Knouase went into Detroit today to remain until after Christmas with her sister, Mrs. John Neeley, and family.

The ladies' band has begun practicing and is coming on famously. They plan to hold another dance New Year's eve at Witherell hall.

Levi Hayden was in Ann Arbor the last of the week for medical treatment, but came home no better and is now critically ill. This morning he seems a little better.

Mrs. E. M. Lewis spent Sunday with Dundee friends and on Monday attended the funeral of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ellen Critchett, of Detroit, the services being held at Azalia.

Robert Moore Jr., who has been ill the past week with influenza, then pneumonia, this morning is no better, symptoms of typhoid being in evidence. On Tuesday and Wednesday he had but little fever but this morning it has come up again.

Fred Shirtz was arrested last Thursday by Deputy Game Warden Tawase on the charge of digging out skunks from their holes on the farm of a relative up at the lakes. The deputy brought Shirtz up before Judge Hosmer and he pleaded guilty. The judge fined him $5 and costs.

In a letter written by Herbert Gove to a friend, received on Monday, he says he is in Base Hospital No. 13 at Limoegs, France. He is still on crutches, but hopes to discard them soon. He expects to be home the first of the year. His brother Hiram is at a rest camp, recuperating from his recent injuries.

The wedding of Donald F. Wright and Miss Dorothy Edgerton will be solemnized Christmas day at the lady's home in Fremont, Ohio. The couple will reside in Mr. Wright's house on East Pottawatamie street, in this village. Needless to add Don is receiving assurances of the good wishes of his friends.

Mrs. L. B. Schneider received a cablegram from her son, Lieut. Louis Schneider, Monday, as follows: "Schenkhursc, Russia, Dec. 13. Am O. K. Merry Christmas. Louis." This town is just southeast of Archangel. Any line from those boys frozen in up in that desolate region is very interesting to us and Louis' many friends are likewise pleased to know he is "O. K."

NOTICE—The Junior O. U. A. M. annual meeting will be held on Monday, Dec. 23, at 7:00 p. m. Election of officers and other important business will be transacted. All members are requested to be present. — H. W. Whaley, Councillor.

In the list of Lincoln Life Insurance agents numbering some 900 men, the local agent Ray Carr, stood No. 13 in the amount of business written during the past month.

LIBRARY NOTES.

The library, as usual, will close at 5:30 p. m. Christmas eve.

Miss Edith Ingersoll has received the appointment of librarian of the public library, taking the place of Miss Beth Widney, who recently resigned from this position.

A list of children's books is being prepared by the librarian which are soon to be ordered and will be available to the public shortly after the holidays. Some fiction and solid reading matter also for grown-ups will be included in this order.

On account of the length of time that some of the unthinking patrons of the library have been keeping out back magazine numbers, a new regulation has been adopted by the board of education. Patrons of the library will be permitted to take out back numbers of magazines as heretofore, but a time limit will be placed on same of one week, without privilege of renewals. This regulation will go into effect Saturday, Dec. 21st.

Some of the more popular of the late books in the library are "Fighting Engineers," by Collins; "The Depot Master," Lincoln; "Four Months Afoot in Spain," Franck; also two copies of "A Daughter of the Land," Porter. One of these is in the pay collection and the other is a seven day book on the shelf list.

Your last letter contained the Eagle lodge receipt for the duration of the war. I have written several times that I guess I will not have the knitted goods sent to me, for if we start moving around I can't carry them. Yesterday p. m. I rolled my pack just to see if I could get all my things in and there surely is not room for another thing. This traveling and carrying everything on your back is very much different than life in a barracks at Camp Custer.

We get some awful reports of the "flu" from the states, but so far have been very fortunate as there is not a case in this camp.

I don't suppose my rifle has been touched since I left, so please have some of the boys clean it up a little when they are at the house some time. We spend a world of time keeping our rifles clean here.

Glenn and I have passes today and are going to a party about five miles away and will stay for supper. You know how well I used to like salmon. Well, no more; every Sunday night we have salmon, mashed potatoes and onions mixed together cold and I can't go it at all any more.

Yoru loving son,
Percy.

The chicken pie social last Friday evening netted the Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church the sum of $26.

Friends of the Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will be interested in the report of the treasurer at the ending of the year 1918. When the present treasurer came into office in May, 1915, there was in the treasury the sum of $222. Then came a pledge of $1,000 toward the building fund on which the last payment was made December 16, 1918. For flowers for the homes of bereavement there was expended $27, and given to the Red Cross, $13.70. Parsonage range, oil stove, linen and silver for the basement cost $113.

Providence opened new ways for the society to earn money, and a band of faithful workers responded so that the earnings of the society in the three years and a half were $1,076.

The treasurer has disbursed $1,278, leaving the society free of debt for the beginning of the new year and a balance in the treasury of cash and credits to the amount of $18. But the added needs are looming up big, so that there is no excuse for sitting down with folded hands.

New Series War Savings Stamps

NEW SERIES WAR

WILL MATURE ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY 1924

New Stamps Contain Head of Benjamin Franklin, "The Apostle of Saving."

The following statement made by William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, has just been issued in Washington.

"The secretary of the treasury has determined upon the issuance of a new series of War Savings certificates and stamps to be placed on sale early in 1919 and to placed in sale early in 1919 and to be known as the series of 1919. The new series will have a maturity date of January 1, 1924, and in practically all respects will be issued on the same terms and in the same manner as the present series of 1918.

"A new $5.00 War savings stamp, blue in color, bearing the head of Benjamin Franklin, the apostle of saving, and a former Postmaster general is in preparation. The new stamps will be placed in sale early in 1919.

"The same Thrift Stamps and Thrift cards now in use will be continued in 1919 and will be exchangeable into new series of 1919 War Savings stamps payable January 1, 1924, in the same way as the exchange has been made during this year into the series of 1918 War Savings stamps.

FIRST RED CROSS RELIEF SHIP WELCOMED

Allied Soldiers and Civilians in Frozen Siberia Hail Arrival of Supplies.

The arrival of the first relief ship at Archangel of 5,000 tons of drugs, food, soap and other supplies for the use of the Allied soldiers and needy civilians for that part of Russia was received like the sunlight breaking through the dark clouds of despair.

The sad plight of the natives as well as thousands of prisoners in that vast frozen region of Siberia, which has been cut off from civilization is a tragedy, and the saving of lives and suffering is inestimable.

Our soldiers will spend the frozen winter in this practically inaccessible country and the food, drugs and supplies for the comfort as well as the pleasure of our boys is only one of the thousands of accomplishments of the American Red Cross.

160 Hens—1500 Eggs

Mrs. H. P. Patton, Waverly, Mo., writes "I fed 2 boxes of 'More Eggs' to my hens and broke the egg record. I got 1500 eggs from 160 hens in exactly 21 days." You can do as well. Any poultry raiser can easily double his profits by doubling the egg production of his hens. A scientific tonic has been discovered that revitalizes the flock and makes hens work all the time. The tonic is called "More Eggs." Give your hens a few cents worth of "More Eggs," and you will be amazed and delighted with results. "More Eggs" will double this year's production of eggs, so if you wish to try this great profit maker, write E. J. Reefer, poultry expert, 1638 Reefer Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., for a $1 package of "More Eggs" Tonic. Or send $2.25 to-day and get three regular $1 packages on special fall discount for a season's supply. A million dollar bank guarantees if you are not absolutely satisfied, your money will be returned on request and the "More Eggs" costs you nothing. You take no risk. Write to-day. Pin a dollar bill to your letter or send $2.25 on special discount for 3 packages. Or ask Mr. Reefer to send you free his poultry book that tells the experience of a man who has made a fortune out of poultry.—Adv.

DICKENS' CHRISTMAS CAROL

UNIQUE CHARACTERS OF FAMOUS AUTHOR

Portrayed at Community Service Sunday Evening at St. Peter's Church—Next Service at Baptist Church, with Sermon by Rev. Curtis — New Year's Eve Community Service at Friends Church.

St. Peter's Episcopal church, where the Community service was held Sunday evening, was filled to its capacity and the service was intensely interesting to the large congregation. The church was tastily decorated with Christmas greens and the community spirit prevailed.

Following the singing of a Christmas hymn, Rev. Edward Escolme of the Friends church read the regular evening prayers of the Episcopal service. Another Christmas hymn was followed by the reading of the wonderful story of the birth of Christ found in the second chapter of St. Luke by Rev. W. A. Rex of the Presbyterian church. This pastor also announced the holding of the next Community service at the Baptist church, calling attention to the change from the Friends church as announced previously. Rev. Curtis, who occupies the pulpit at the morning service at that church will preach the sermon. A community New Year's eve service will be held at the Friends church Tuesday evening, with Rev. Edward Escolme in charge.

Another Christmas hymn was sung, the lights were switched off and, as Rev. J. G. Widdifield read the story of Scrooge, the characters so well described by Dickens 75 years ago were portrayed on the screen.

Nearly everyone is familiar with the story of Scrooge, the miserly, money-grasping old man who could see no good in the Christmas spirit or anything of a human nature. But the repetition of the story as presented Sunday evening did not lack in interest, especially as the illustrations of the visions [illegible] old [illegible] the procession. The story brought with it a revelation that was timely and touched every heart in the audience.

Rev. C. M. Thompson dismissed the congregation with benediction.

Lieutenant Kenneth Snedicor

HOME FROM BATTLE FIELDS OF FRANCE.

Commends Favorably on Welcome From Michigan at New York City — Recognized Only One Lenawee Soldier While Over There.

Lieut. Kenneth Snedicor, just home from "over there," was with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snedicor, for a few hours Saturday. He said only once after he left the states did he see any one he knew. Away over in France at a little station a young soldier rushed up to him and asked him if he didn't come from Tecumseh. No word on earth ever sounded so good and the soldier turned out to be Earl Munger of Tipton. They certainly did enjoy a talk fest. After he reached France he was transferred to the 75th. They had reached the front but had not yet been in the trenches when the armistice was signed. The 76th was ordered back to the base.

From New York he was sent to Camp Devins, Mass., where he received his discharge.

His stories of the service are mighty interesting, but through them runs that fierce hatred for the cowardly Huns. He speaks in praise of some of the Y. M. C. A. workers, of the great work they have the opportunity of doing, but that some of the men entered that service to avoid draft and turned down their opportunity, not doing the good work which offered, and were charging three times over for the cigarettes and chocolate for which the boys are crazy after a term in the trenches.

He says Michigan is doing a splendid work in New York which is highly appreciated by the home coming soldier. As he landed with the troops from the transport, a man with a megaphone called, "Any one there from Michigan?" Lieut. Snedicor was the only Wolverine there to answer the call. The man offered to send telegrams or cards to his people or help him out in any way. So no wonder the boys are happy to know they will be cared for by some one from the home state.

Kenneth takes back his former position in Toledo the first of the year.

KENNETH DAVIDSON

Member of Senior Class, Tecumseh High, Victim of Influenza.

Kenneth Davidson, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson, passed away Thursday afternoon at the home, two miles east of Tecumseh. He was ill in November with jaundice and was just getting better when he went to Manchester Thanksgiving day to play foot ball with the high school team. He came home from there feeling badly and soon after came down with the influenza. Pneumonia followed and the result was fatal.

Kenneth, who was 18 years of age, was in the Senior class of our high school and popular with the young people. He leaves the parents, two brothers, Harold and Howard, and a little sister, Grace, besides the grandmother, Mrs. Almira Gage, of this village.

A private funeral was held from the home Saturday, Rev. J. G. Widdifield officiating. Burial at Brookside.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE EXHIBIT

AT HIGH SCHOOL GREAT SUCCESS.

Visitors Entertained Pleased With Progress of New Department, the Display of Work and Refreshments.

The new department of the high school, that of domestic science and art, gave a very pleasing exhibition last Thursday afternoon, which was attended by a party of about one hundred appreciative guests. These were the mothers, teachers and friends of the young ladies taking the course.

In the sewing room were spread out for the criticisms and admiration of the visitors the garments made by each grade, that of the seventh were towels and handkerchief bags, made by hand; the ninth and tenth grades, aprons and underwear, hand work and night gowns made by machine; [illegible] work.

The high school girls draft all their patterns to their own measurements, and these garments, even if made by machine, showed considerable fine hand work.

The table attracting the most attention was that of the Seniors. Each girl could make any article she wished, but had to use at least four decorative stitches, lace and a rolled or hemstitched hem. There were hand made waists, handkerchiefs, towels, aprons, collars, camesoles, etc. Each pupil taking the course furnishes the material and has for her own the finished garment.

The girls of the twelfth grade are taking another branch, bound to be helpful and one the parents are doubtless encouraging—darning, patching and remodeling.

The guests were received by the Senior girls and as they passed from table to table, other girls stood ready to answer questions. After the inspection of the sewing the guests were ushered to the dining room where the Senior young ladies served tea, Miss Muriel Halladay presiding at the tea table. The room was decorated with Christmas colors and a Christmas tree.

The girls of the eighth grade had reason to be very proud of the spread of sandwiches, tea cakes and tea, which was their work, and received many compliments on their cookery.

Mrs. Laidlaw, the teacher, has not had it very easy in this work, just starting the department, buying the equipment piece-meal and various vacations, so her part of the work shows up famously. The girls find her an excellent teacher, always patient with their many quirks, such as the love a girl has for a thimble and their propensity for long stitches, etc.

The exhibit was successful beyond the dreams of both pupils and teachers, the visitors were generous in their praise and the refreshments delightful. We hope these affairs will be repeated frequently. It makes the school more of a community affair, engenders interest in the pupil and helps to advertise the school. This particular department is one of the best features ever advocated in our school, and we are indeed fortunate to secure Mrs. Laidlaw.

LEVI C. HAYDEN

PROMINENT TECUMSEH BUSINESS MAN

Passes Away at His Home Saturday—Head of the Wm. Hayden Milling Company Since 1896.

Levi Hayden, probably the most widely known of Tecumseh's business men, passed away Saturday at his home on Union street, and his passing is marked with the sincere regret of a host of friends.

Some little time ago Mr. Hayden became afflicted with pernicious anemia, but for a couple of weeks influenza had caused a complication. He had only been confined to his bed for a few days.

Mr. Hayden was the son of [illegible] Hayden and his wife, who was Sarah Hoamer, one of eight children born to this union. Only two of this large family now survive, Mrs. Lizzie Ware of Kansas City and Albert Hayden of Norfolk, Va.

Levi C. Hayden, President of the Wm. Hayden Milling Co., Who Passed Away Saturday.

Deceased, who was [illegible] years of age, was born in Tecumseh and [illegible] of his fellows. Since reaching man's estate he has been connected with the Globe mills, and upon the death of his father in 1896, he became president and manager of the Wm. Hayden Milling Co., the great success of the firm testifying to his excellent business ability.

Levi Hayden came from one of the oldest, finest and most prominent families of Tecumseh and, like the others of the family, he was always ready to do for the best interests of the village. One of those great hearted, loyal friends of whom we are appreciative, he will be sadly missed in the community.

He was a devoted communicant of St. Peter's Episcopal church and a member of the vestry. Being of a social disposition he was also a member of several Masonic bodies—Tecumseh Lodge, No. 69, F. & A. M., Adrian Commandery Knights Templar and the Moslem Temple of Detroit.

In the immediate family are the wife, two daughters, Mrs. P. C. Satterthwaite and Miss Camilla, and one son, Perry, besides the sister and brother before mentioned.

A private funeral was held from the home Monday, Rev. J. G. Widdifield reading the beautiful Episcopal service. To the following friends was given the honor of bearers: R. N. Lowe, Will McAdam, Bert Gray, C. F. Patterson, W. W. Whiting and Dr. W. D. Reed. The remains of our friend were laid to rest in the family lot in Brookside.

Services were conducted at the grave by Adrian Commandery Knights Templar.

CELEBRATE NINTIETH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Wm. Corner, Four Score and Ten, Enjoys Dinner Party Given in His Honor.

Wm. Corner, who has been making his home with his daughters, Mrs. Ira Lamkin and Mrs. John Harwood, celebrated his 90th birthday on Friday. A happy family group assembled at the Lamkin home and enjoyed a splendid dinner at which 17 covers were laid. The guest of honor came here six years ago from Three Rivers and has made many friends who remembered him on this occasion with postcards.

Among the guests present were a daughter, Mrs. Henry Ruggles, and granddaughter of Three Rivers and another daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mooney and daughter, Gladys, of Cassopolis.

There are 782 varieties or arctic flowers, which have but two colors, white and yellow.

GEORGE S. DAVIDSON FOLLOWS SON

Pneumonia Takes Father Within a Few Days of Demise of Son.

In another column we have recorded the death of Kenneth Davidson, who passed away Thursday afternoon. Now a further painful duty is ours, to follow with the death of his father, George Davidson, which occurred Monday forenoon, Dec. 23, caused by the same dread disease, pneumonia.

George S. Davidson, the oldest son of Francisco and Elizabeth Davidson, was born April 23, 1866, in the same house in which he died and in which his children were born—on the old Davidson farm east of Tecumseh.

On March 13, 1891, he married Miss Blanche Gage of Tecumseh and to them were born four children, Kenneth F., who had died just four days previously, Harold G., Howard A. and Grace E., who are left to comfort widow; also one sister, Mrs. J. W. Camp, of Tecumseh and a brother, Guy J. Davidson, of Detroit.

A private funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home, Rev. J. G. Widdifield of St. Peter's church, of which Mr. Davidson was a communicant, conducting the service.

Mr. Davidson had always been a hard working man and was held in respect by his neighbors. As [illegible] the neighbors [illegible] thirteen in number, were cutting wood for the family when he was taken.

WALTER ERWIN

Boss Core Maker at Brewer's Foundry, Victim of Influenza.

Walter Erwin, boss core maker at Brewer's foundry, passed away Monday at 9 a. m. at the Hotel Barrett. He had only been ill a week, pneumonia following the influenza.

He was 24 years of age, was a resident of Auburn, Ind., had only been here a few weeks and planned to bring his wife to Tecumseh as soon as he could find suitable apartments.

His father, Perry Erwin, was called here Friday, as soon as his condition became serious, and remained with him to the end. The mother and wife were notified that he was worse Sunday and started for Tecumseh early Monday morning. At Jackson they phoned, inquiring his condition, and learned the young man had just died.

The wife returned to her home to arrange for the funeral and the mother came on the afternoon train. The saddened parents started on the return trip with the remains of their boy on the evening train, back to the home in Auburn.

JAMES VANANTWERP

Pioneer Resident Passes to the Beyond Sunday Night.

Jas. VanAntwerp, who has been in failing health for a couple of years with the ills incident to old age, passed away at his home on East Chicago street Sunday night, December 22, at 12:45. He was well known in this vicinity as a contractor and builder and leaves a host of friends.

Jas. VanAntwerp was born in Groveland, Livingston county, N. Y., July 21, 1839. He moved with his parents to Tecumseh in 1841. After residing here one year they moved to Macon, where they lived until 1851, when they moved to Clinton.

He received his early education at the Raisin Valley seminary, being a student there at the time Aunt Laura Haviland was conducting her underground railway. His stories of that time were always exceedingly interesting.

In 1861 he married Miss Almira Barker of Clinton. Six years after their marriage they moved to Tecumseh. In 1868 they moved to Leslie, where Mrs. VanAntwerp died in 1875. One child, Etta May, who became the wife of Bert Spafford, was born to them. She died March 16, 1905. In 1876 Mr. VanAntwerp moved to Tecumseh, where has since resided.

He married Miss Arminda Allen of Britton June 7, 1884. To them were born two daughters, Misses Bessie and Beulah, both at home. These with the wife, one brother, Milton, of Jackson and three sisters, Mrs. Josephine Emaly, Mrs. Alberta Russell and Mrs. Nettie Burger, all of Oakland, Cal., survive.

The funeral was held this morning at the home at 10 o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. J. G. Widdifield of St. Peter's church, deceased being affiliated with St. John's church of Clinton since his youth. The community [illegible] daughters in their loss.

Editorial Comment

As the Christmas festivities are over—the birth of the Savior of mankind has been duly celebrated—the old year is about to close and the new year with all its possibilities opens before us, it is well to take a look backward to note where we have lacked in fulfilling our mission in life.

The nation has accomplished a marvelous task in bringing to a close a four year period of bloody and destructive war. A year ago the world was afire with bloodshed and destruction. On this anniversary of Christendom the old time proclamation, "Peace on earth good will toward man," has a most significant meaning to the world. It means that during the year just closing tyranny has been subdued, kingdoms have fallen, new governments have and are being created and the people of the earth see looming before them a new freedom such as has never been known before. It has been a marvelous year upon which we are about to close the doors forever.

During this year the United States government—the people of this great country—put forth its mightiest efforts to save the world from disaster. Our entering this great strife was not for gain, but for the good of humanity. Our boys laid down their lives as did the Christ that the brotherhood of man might exist and spread over the world. Men and women stopped in the midst of business and social careers to take up war and humanity work. The American Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Salvation Army and kindred organizations supported liberally by the people have accomplished a great humanitarian work, and still have a big task before them, and the work must be continued. Over ten million people have signified their faith in the work of the Red Cross and their desire that the work should be continued by responding to the Christmas roll call.

The people have learned a new liberality during the past year. Tight-wads, like old Scrooge in the Dickens story, have been

The Michigan State Board of Health has sent out the following order to licensed embalmers, an order that should be strictly adhered to and the offender reported:

"To the Licensed Embalmers of Michigan:

"The Michigan State Board of Health has designated influenza and influenza-pneumonia as dangerous communicable diseases. All shipment of dead bodies from the above diseases will come under rule 2, which provides that the casket or box must be hermetically sealed; funeral must be private. And in those sections of the state where the epidemic is raging, all funerals must be private, irrespective of the cause of death."

The closing days of 1918 have seen enough sacrifices to the disease. Let's wake up and get busy and stop it at the opening of the New Year by guarding strenuously against the contagion by keeping at home every member of a family in which a case has developed until all danger of communicating the same has vanished.

Due to the ravages of the epidemic Tecumseh and Lenawee county did not participate in the national Red Cross Christmas roll call, but as soon as the scourge is under proper control Lenawee will come to the front as usual.

Business activities in the year closing have had strange experiences. Industries, many of them, made a complete change and took over government work. Many enterprises were boosted to prosperity, while others were put out entirely. Thousands of newspapers were obliged to suspend publication because of increased cost of production, lack of help and the drastic measures imposed upon them by the war board and the United States post office department. It required unusual energy to keep others from suspending, and the Herald is in the latter class. Tecumseh people have been loyal to their home paper, and to them is largely due the survival of this paper. The subscription list has grown wonderfully and the advertising patronage has also made substantial growth, and we look forward to a prosperous year during 1920.

Despite the many war work demands upon the people and the ravages of the influenza epidemic trade in Tecumseh has been good (perhaps not as good as in normal times) and there are no business failures to report.

Another good indication for the future welfare of Tecumseh is the increased interest manifested in church services. With a large percentage of the people sick or taking care of the sick, the attendance has been gratifying, especially at the community services.

Let's perk up and embrace the many good things the New Year will bring. Keep up and enlarge community spirit; live and let live and do what you can for the betterment of your community. There is always opportunity for betterment and if you will cast a retrospective eye over your career of the past year you will see where you can improve during the new.

With the hope of securing better service, passenger, mail and express, for towns along the New York Central connecting Adrian, Onsted and Marshall, J. L. Alderfer, the live-wire editor of the Onsted News, took up the matter with the United States railroad administration and the same was referred to A. H. Smith, regional director of the administration and president of the New York Central.

Onsted and all towns connecting with the branch line have certainly been receiving most deplorable railroad service since the one passenger train each way was removed as a war necessity. The people affected have been loyal and patient, hoping that when peace again came to earth the service would be restored, but Mr. Alderfer's efforts have been in vain, especially so far as President Smith, a Lenawee product, is concerned. The appeal for better service was not made until after the armistice was signed and hostilities ceased. But Mr. Smith comes back with the statement that the earnings of the road and the population served is not sufficient to warrant any more service than is now being performed.

Granting this true, as far as passenger service is concerned, Mr. Smith should take into consideration that more people than those living along that line are entitled to some thought. The mail service to Onsted is the limit—nearly as slow as in the days of ox teams. If the railroad will not give service the post office department should establish a better mail service, but this, too, is hopeless under the present management of that department. We sympathize with the people along that line and trust that Editor Alderfer's efforts will still bear fruit.

We wish everybody a Happy, Prosperous New Year.

Removing Splinters.

To remove a splinter from the hand, fill a wide-mouthed bottle nearly full of hot water, says Popular Mechanics. Thrust the injured part over the mouth and press it slightly. The flesh will be drawn down and shortly the splinter will be exposed under the action of the steam. This method is far better than the common and dangerous practice of pricking the flesh with a pin or knife point. The usual antiseptic solution should be applied.

"I thought my kidneys might be the cause of my rundown condition and weakness," writes W. H. Frear, 63 Myrtle Ave., Albany, N. Y., "so I took Foley Kidney Pills and they did the work. I cheerfully recommend them. You can use my name wherever you wish." They stop rheumatic aches. Sold everywhere in Tecumseh. adv

Farmers contemplating Auction Sales cannot afford to hold same without placing their sale before the readers of The Tecumseh Herald.

The sale must be properly advertised to make it the best success. How extensively such sale should be advertised depends upon the grade of stock to be disposed of. If you have high bred stock—stock that is in universal demand—advertise it big, for $1.00 spent in advertising will earn from $50 to $100. If one dollar spent in advertising will earn you two you would be foolish to pinch that dollar.

If you have nothing to offer that will draw persons from other counties and states, you would be foolish to pay an exhorbitant price for a circulation that did not benefit the sale.

Advertising rates in The Herald are not high and a good sized space is bound to bring results, because The Herald circulates over a territory immediately adjoining Tecumseh and covers that field better than any other one newspaper.

YOU CAN ADVERTISE YOUR AUCTION SALE WELL AND CHEAPLY BY USING THE COLUMNS OF THE TECUMSEH HERALD. TRY IT.

Help The Fuel Administration!

The fuel administration is doing all it can to keep you warm next winter. But it needs your co-operation. If everyone does his share there will be no coal shortage—and there will be no discomfort. To get the most out of all coal used, every house should be properly equipped.

The Director of conservation of the fuel administration says:

"The National Fuel Administration realize that a large amount of coal can be saved by the installation of storm doors and storm windows," and advocates such installation as a patriotic duty.

STORM DOORS and WINDOWS

cut down coal bills from one-third to one-half—a saving that pays for their cost in one or two seasons.

But still more important, they increase the comfort of your house by eliminating cold floor drafts, by making it possible to keep the home warm during the severest weather, and by permitting perfect ventilation.

DO NOT DELAY! Place your order before the rush. Phone 57 and we will call, take measurements and tell you what the cost will be.

We also have a complete line of building material—and if you want to see some nice lump coal just drop down to the yard and look over our stock

LETTERS FROM SOLDIER BOYS

From Claire Dickinson to His Mother Mrs. Fred Poucher

Somewhere in France, Nov. 8.

Dear Mother:

I received your most welcome letter of Oct. 6th today and was surely glad to hear from you again as it had been about six weeks since I had received a letter from you.

Well, I think that today is about the last day of this awful war, as the German and Allied officials met out in No Man's Land last night to talk about peace or something and I guess Germany is ready to quit anyway. If she don't there soon won't be anything left of her because they can take her off the map in a few weeks. As it is now, from the maps in the papers, they can reach Berlin in eighty minutes with the aeroplanes and they won't stand for that very long. About one bomb in Berlin and they would all bawl "Kamerad."

That is what a lot of them did when we went after them in this sector. They don't like the American artillery at all and they give themselves up right away, except a few with machine guns and we soon put them out of the way with grenades. We took over 5000 prisoners in the drive, 960 horses in one day and a lot of their artillery. We have driven them 40 kilos since the first of the month. That is going some. Advanced in trucks one day, so you see they are homeward bound as fast as they can get there.

Yes, it is so about Wilfred Orr and David Underwood, both the same day. Wilfred was hit in the forehead with a machine gun bullet and David through the heart. Neither one of them suffered a bit.

No doubt you will have sent the Christmas box before you get this but you didn't need to send any candy as I get plenty of that through the Y, and lots of smokes except cigars.

I see by yesterday's paper that Austria has quit on an unconditional surrender and that Germany is willing to accept the same terms so I guess it is about snished. I hope so; I have seen all I want of it and more too, but if they don't come to terms, we will push them off the face of the earth so there won't be any more Germany. That is what ought to be done with them anyway.

I heard that Herbert Gove was right near me the other day but I didn't see him. No doubt he knows what war really is by this time.

Will enclose a couple of German powder sacks.

Will close for this time.

Your loving son,
Claire.

Extracts From Later Letters.

November 21, 1918.

No doubt you have read in the paper about the starting of the march to the Rhine. We started out last Sunday morning and hiked 20 kilos; stopped in a small town and started out again Monday morning and hiked 25 kilos to Longevy. Stayed there that night, started the next morning and hiked 16 kilos. Longevy is a very pretty city, located in a big ravine with lots of woods and big hills on all sides. Tuesday we crossed the border into Belgium. It is a very pretty country, much the same as France, very hilly and lots of woods.

The people of Belgium sure appreciate what the American soldiers have done for them in ending the war. They treat us like kings. I think we are going to have a fine trip to the Rhine.

I see by the papers that all the troops in the states are to be mustered out of the service right away and all of the men that are sick or wounded in the hospital will be sent back as soon as they are able to stand the trip. I am in good health and expect to remain so until I get back again.

November 23, 1918.

I see by the paper that the censorship has been lifted and we can tell where we are, where we have been and everything we can think of, even when we are going to get home, but that we don't know. I hope it will be before many months.

In the battle at Chateau Thierry, at Juvigny and the Argonne Forest we sure gave them a merry chase, and at all these fronts the Germans sure knew that they were finished. They told the Belgiums that they captured 25,000 Americans at Chateau Thierry, but afterward, near the last, they said that the American artillery was too fast for them, and that there were 2,000,000 over in France and 10,000,000 on the way so they knew that they couldn't last much longer if they did want to. I could tell you a lot, but I can tell it to you better when I get back. Wilfred and David got hit at Juvigny. No one was hit that way at Chateau Thierry, but several were at the last front. I will enclose a paper the Germans dropped to the Belgiums before the armistice went into effect.

Dear Dad:—

Today is the day we are supposed to write a letter to dad, so I will try and write you a few lines. We are on our way to the Rhine and we are having a fine trip so far. The first two days we went about 45 kilos or about 28 miles. The next day we came back to this town and have been here for the last five days. We sure have been treated like kings by the Belgium people; they appreciate what the Americans have done for them in ending the war. The Germans told them that our artillery was too fast for them; they would move up and get set before they could move back and get set to hold against us and they had to move back.

I was at the battle of Château Thierry and we gave them a hard rub there. Then we went north of Soissons, captured Juvigny and 26,000 prisoners. That took the heart out of them as it was the prize army of Germany. After a short rest we went up to the worst point in the line—above Verdun in the Argonne Forest, and we had a stiff time with them, as the land was in their favor every time. But we put it to them with artillery and that made them beat it to the rear.

I could sit and write from now until morning, but I think I can wait until I get back and explain it from a map I am going to get if I can before I come back. I have a couple of maps now, but they are about worn out, or will be before I get back.

Well, I will close for this time, hoping to hear from you in the near future.

Sergeant H. D. Hardy to His Father, Dr. P. B. Hardy.

November 24, 1918.

My Dear Dad:—

The censorship of letters is off, so I will be able to write freely.

At present I am on a 36 hours' leave to visit friends in LaMons, the headquarters of this division (83d), a city of over 80,000. I am going back to Ecommoy tonight.

For the past five months our regiment has been taking in untrained men, training and equipping them in lots of 1300 to 1600 to the front. From the first our companies in the 329th were reduced to 50 men, as a so-called "training cadre." My company furnished rations and necessary supplies or equipment.

Approximately we have sent to the front as replacements 10,000 men, so you see we have helped a little to win the war, even though we did not go among the shot and shell.

Everything is done systematically and upon a very extensive scale; everything is figured in the thousands and millions. We order from ten to fifty thousand rations every month. It takes hundreds of thousands of loaves of bread and quarters of beef to feed the men, millions of uniforms, socks, caps, shoes, etc. Hundreds of thousands of trucks, cars and locomotives to carry the supplies. It takes on average of five men in the S. O. S. to one man on the line, and as there were 750,000 men on a 52 mile front, it can easily be seen how vast an army we have in the O. E. F. and what a vast amount of provisions and supplies are needed to keep everything going smoothly.

I could write a book about it, but will tell you all when I return.

We have some authentical rumors that we will be on our way home about the 20th of December, so will probably be home about the New Year. I hope this rumor proves true.

Everything is just fine with me, and am well and happy in the anticipation of the return trip.

Hope all is well with you and mother.

Fond love to mother and you.

Harold.

Two divisions are leaving on Monday and ours is reported to follow as soon as transportation facilities can be arranged.

A Merry Christmas and prosperous New Year to you and mother.

From John Smith to His Father, J. B. Smith.

Recloses, France, Nov. 24, 1918.

Hello Dad!

Well, today is the day that we are supposed to write a letter to our dads, so here goes mine. This is the first letter that we have been allowed to write and tell anything about what we have been doing. We are just about two miles from a large tank camp. I have been over to the camp several times and it sure is some place. When the Yanks first came here it was nothing but a forest and in nine or ten months they have cleared it up and built the camp.

All of our work over here has been in liason with tanks. When we first came here we started to dig trenches. We dug several miles of them and then our work started. We had three shows every week and there was always a large number of allied officers here to watch them. This was a sort of school of instruction for them. We are under French control here and just at present we are filling in all of the trenches that we dug. A few more days and we will have them all finished and then I think we are going to move from here. We don't know

An Emergency Poultice.

Our grandmothers were adepts in the preparation of poultices and the home treatment of many ailments. In these days with the doctor within easy distance, most of this knowledge of "home-made" medicine has been lost.

There are emergencies, however, when something must be done quickly and for an injury or condition requiring an antiseptic dressing or poultice nothing is more effective and simple to make than the following.

Dissolve one-half ounce of Powdered Boric (20 Mule Team Boric is best because it is strongest and dissolves quicker) in a pint of hot water. Wring out several pieces of cheese cloth or linen in this hot solution and apply to injured surface. The Boric is very healing and soothing; and most important of all, antiseptic.

Your druggist sells 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric.

CIRCLE NO. FIVE

Society of Methodist Episcopal Church Entertained by Mesdames Church and Chiverall Friday.

Circle No. 5 of the Methodist church were entertained by Mrs. George Church and Mrs. Wm. Chiverall at the home of Mrs. Church on Pottawatamie street Friday afternoon.

A short business session was held, after which the following program was given:

Music on grafonola.

"The Sailor's Christmas," read by Mrs. Chiverall.

Poem by James Whitcomb Riley—Mrs. Church.

A game, Bible characters, was played by all, the honor being won by Mrs. Daniels, guest of Mrs. Reed.

Selections on grafonola.

A general good time was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be held the third Friday in January, the circle to be the guests of Mrs. Clark and Mrs. John McIntyre at the home of the former on Pottawatamie street.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. W. E. Allen of Ridgeway was in town Monday.

Mrs. Frank Fabrique was down from Clinton Tuesday.

Geo. A. Rathbun was in Jackson on business Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Howe spent Christmas with their many friends in Milan.

Miss Mabel Ager came home from Detroit Tuesday morning to remain over Christmas.

Miss Blanche Hendershott returned Saturday from a stay of six weeks in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pentecost are with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ford at Norvell for the holidays.

Mrs. Martha Nye and four children are with her sister, Mrs. Will Meeks, in Monroe for the week.

Miss Ellen Smith Monday evening called on Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Avery in Macon, who are very ill.

Elmer Linn and family were guests of Mrs. Linn's sister, Mrs. Heideman, in Ridgeway yesterday.

Mrs Nellie Clarkson went to Lansing Tuesday to visit her son, Dwight, and family over the holidays.

John Heesen and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bell and Miss Esther of Jackson yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Deery joined their children in Jackson Tuesday in a visit with Mr. Deery's people.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Orr spent Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. Frank Barritt, and husband at Lansing.

Mrs. Chas. Price and granddaughter, Velva, went to Jackson Tuesday to be Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Price.

There are many soldiers and sailors around the streets, many home for good and others home for the holiday furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Geddes of Chelsea were guests yesterday of their daughter and husband, Attorney and Mrs. Rathbun.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Davis were Christmas guests of her mother, Mrs. P. C. Snell. Mrs. Davis remains until Saturday.

New Year's dance for the benefit of the ladies' band will be given next Tuesday evening at Witherell hall. Old and new dances.

When before have we had such an open fall when the farmers could plow in fields until Christmas, and with many still at it.

Mrs. E. M. Lewis and Miss Clara Critchett went to Grand Rapids Tuesday to be guests of a brother and sister of the latter.

The Red Cross rooms will be open for work Friday afternoon, Dec. 27. We would like to see a goodly number of workers, as there are still 2C vests to make. Thirty vests were sent to Adrian headquarters last week. The rooms will be ready for workers at 12:30.

It has developed that the Friends minister, Rev. Edward Escolme, was brought up an Episcopalean, his parents belonging to the church of England, and Rev. J. G. Widdifield's father is a Quaker and his mother a Presbyterian. And yet we are criticized for leaving the church of our youth and joining another.

Arthur VanVleet was up from Toledo Saturday.

Howard Manley was with Detroit friends over Christmas.

The Misses Hazelle Stabler and Margretta McClelland were in Toledo Friday.

Louis Fabrique of Yale visited his wife's mother, Mrs. Chas. Avery, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kempf were in Jackson Tuesday and Wednesday visiting his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Seitz.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Codling arrived Tuesday from Bloomington, Ill., for Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. U. Smith.

James E. Murphy, who has been stationed at Camp Eustis, Va., since Octobe, arrived home Sunday, having been mustered out at Camp Custer.

Judge C. H. and Mrs. Widdifield of Owen Sound, Canada, parents of Rev. J. G. Widdifield, are here for a Christmas visit and until the first of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Boyce, Wilbur and Miss Marjorie, enjoyed their Christmas at the home of Mrs. Boyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gilmore, in Ridgeway.

Lester Waring arrived home Tuesday morning on an eight day furlough and reports a busy place at their camp. The stripes he wears show he has been raised in service to section chief in the signal school.

Mrs. B. J. Reynolds went to Detroit Tuesday to remain the balance of the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Levi Stevens. She was accompanied to Detroit by her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Cairnes, who remained for Christmas.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held at the home of Mrs. Homer Whaley on Thursday, Jan. 2, at 2:30 p. m. Everybody is urged to come as there will be business of importance.

Clarence Sherman and family, excepting little Richard, are down with the influenza. The latter is staying with his grandparents, Mr and Mrs. John Sherman. Mrs. Clarence Sherman's mother, Mrs. Smith, is over from Adrian, caring for the sick people.

Mrs. D. M. Wells, who has for several weeks been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. VanValkenburg, returned to Detroit Monday and her husband will come to Detroit from Cleveland and spend Christmas with her.

Wm. Older, a theological student of Adrian college, has occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church the last two Sundays. Next Sunday Rev. Will Curtis, well known in this vicinity, and lately in the Y. M. C. A. work at the camps, will conduct the service.

Following are the newly elected officers of the Baptist Young People's Union: President, Miss Florence Waldron; first vice president, Miss Gertrude Sheldon; second vice president, Miss Mildred Brooks; secretary, Miss Ruth Sheldon; treasurer, Miss Lulu Stahler; pianist, Miss Mildred Brooks.

Miss Marjorie Rosacrans was hostess to the Junior class of the high school Thursday evening, several of the high school teachers, Mrs. Laidlaw, and the Misses Cooley, Miller, Yutzey and Donaldson, being also present. Games, music and the serving of refreshments passed the evening swiftly away, and as favors each received a small gift in honor of the season.

Miss Florine Bennett, our linotype operator, has been confined at her home for the past two weeks by illness.

Mrs. Lizzie Ware of Kansas City and Mrs. Marvin Hayden of Grand Rapids are in town, coming Monday for the funeral of their brother, Levi Hayden.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Swift entertained her sisters, Mrs. M. C. Reeves of LosAngeles and Mrs. Agnes Haggart of Clinton, yesterday. Miss Laura Haggart was also in the party.

Rev. J. K. Kirker, W. S. Kimball and M. E. Olds were down from Clinton Sunday, looking over the recent improvement at the Presbyterian church and remaining for the church services.

A letter directed to "Mr. Santa Clause, Snow Bank, Alaska," was mailed at our post office recently and the clerk, only looking at the state name, let it go on. Monday that letter was returned from Seattle. Everyone is anxious to know the little writer's wants, but postal laws will not allow the little missive to be opened short of the dead letter office.

A dispatch came from Lansing Tuesday directed to Mrs. Emma Mix, stating that her son, Austin N. Mix, in infantry service overseas, had been kilied in action October 5th. No one on the street seems to have heard of this family. The message came from Washington via Lansing, so the soldier may have gone over in a Lansing company.

Mrs. Frank Smith of Deerfield visited in town Saturday.

Lloyd Whelan has been very sick several days with influenza.

Eugene Burdett was the guest of Detroit friends over Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Church spent yesterday with their daughter, Mrs. Mabel Cheal and family in Battle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haughn entertained as guests yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Saul.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Graebner spent their Christmas in Montpelier, O. Mrs. Graebner is staying for the balance of the week with her people and will spend New Years in Toledo.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Boltz, Mervyn and Gwendolyn have been visiting in Jackson for the Christmas festivities. Mervyn and a big goose went up on Tuesday as the advance guard.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Exelby and granddaughter, Willoween of Britton were in town Monday enroute to Fremont, Mich., for a holiday visit with their daughter, Mrs. E. H. Babcock.

Accept Our Thanks

The management of the Tecumseh Electric Co. herewith extends appreciation and thanks to the public for patronage received during the year just closing and wishes for all a happy, prosperous New Year.

Each year brings with it improvements in the line of modern conveniences. Each year there are more and more things done electrically, and we wish to announce that this company will endeavor to keep in the front line of everything new in electricity and electrical appliances. It is our aim to give you the best of service.

We will gladly furnish estimates for wiring houses and equipment to those not already electrically lighted.

When in need of anything electrically consult us.

Coal Facts

About two weeks ago we ran an advertisement about our coal and coke. One customer in particular called and paid for the Banner coal he got and made the statement: "I have burned a lot of soft coal, but that Banner coal is the best I ever have used—the least smoke and no clinkers."

Another stated: "That coke is even better than you advertised; I am very much pleased with it."

We believe in advertising our coal just as you will find it.

Our Coke at $11.00 per ton will please you nearly as well as hard coal; in almost all cases fully as well.

Our Banner Soft Coal at $7.00 can not be equalled.

Our Illinois Soft Coal at $6.50 is worth the money. If your draft is good we recommend using it, if poor don't buy it; buy the Banner instead.

50c less per ton if not delivered.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Hazel Pocklington was in Adrian Saturday.

Miss Ruth Kotts is home from Detroit for a few days.

Miss Ruth Ager is home from Mayville for the holidays.

Mrs. Geo. Routson has been ill with bronchial pneumonia this week.

Miss Adah Hoyt of Clinton visited Miss Lenore McLachlin Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Willetts and little son were in Adrian Saturday.

Melvin Shaw of Jackson visited his cousin, Miss Irene Shaw, and brothers last week.

Misses Vera Gilbert and Agnes McIntyre are home from the M. A. C. for the vacation.

Miss Florine Linn was in Ridgeway Friday night, going for the exercises at the school.

The two little children of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Boyd have been ill this week with influenza.

Harold Halladay arrived Friday from the Great Lakes Training Station on a short furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reattoire went to Jackson Tuesday to spend Christmas with relatives near the city.

Mrs. Eleanor Reattoire of Jackson has returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reattoire.

Word from the New York Central says that on January 1st Toledo and points east will go on eastern time.

Lieut. Pino of Ithaca visited Miss Yutzey last week. He had just been discharged from a camp in South Carolina.

Mrs. David Ghertner has been spending several weeks with Toledo friends. Mr. Ghertner joined her for over Sunday.

Mrs. Pentecost returned Saturday from Norvell, where she had been caring for Mrs. F. E. Ford, who had been ill with the "flu."

Miss Frances Alvord of Detroit is spending the holiday vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, and other friends.

Helping out at the 5 and 10c store the past week were the Misses Margaret VanWinkle, Irene Shaw, Wilma Nye and Thelma Willnow.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Preston were down from Wolf Creek Saturday. They report their neighborhood as having many cases of small pox and influenza.

Deputy Sheriff John B. Smith has received his commission for the sixth year as deputy. This makes our friend John on his 25th year in office in the village.

Harold Lowry and Fay VanValkenburg, who have just been discharged from the S. A. T. C. at Ann Arbor, will return to the U. of M. after January 1st to continue their courses.

Mrs. Henry Ruggles and granddaughter, Muriel Wilson, returned Saturday to their home at Three Rivers after a short visit with the former's sisters, Mrs. John Harwood and Mrs. Ira Lamkin.

Al Morseman was down from Tipton Saturday enroute to Battle Creek, where he is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Blanche Tripp. He has been laid up for two months with a badly lacerated hand caused by a kick from a cow.

The following teachers of Tecumseh schools are away for the week's vacation: Mrs. Laidlaw to Lansing, Miss Cardwell to Millington, Miss Donaldson to Marquette, Miss Yutzey to Ithaca, Miss Cooley to Clinton, Miss Miller to Hartford.

Clarence Alderdyce, who recently bought out the trucking business of Allen Montgomery, has been very successful and last week branched out with a truck line to Toledo, making the trip each Thursday and Saturday. On his first load he carried over three tons of merchandise.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Taylor and daughters Marjorie and Audrey, of Sault Ste. Marie, arrived Sunday afternoon to spend the Christmas tide with Mrs. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom W. Mingay. Mr. Taylor returned home this afternoon, but the ladies remained for a longer visit.

Mrs. Wendall Willetts, who has been supplying at school district No. 3, Raisin, arranged a happy party for the school Tuesday afternoon. The children gave a fine program, then Old Santa helped them to the nice gifts from a well laden tree. Many guests came to enjoy the program and pleasure of the children. Miss Florence VanWinkle, the teacher, has recovered from her severe illness and will resume her duties with the coming term.

On account of the many sick and so much time lost not much effort could be spared at the school for the celebration of the Christmas festival. In the smaller grades nearly all had Christmas trees and short programs, in some cases arranging their own programs and hunting their own recitations and songs. In all the rooms the teachers had provided little treats so it was Christmasy after all and the little folks were delighted. But this year only the one week vacation is possible on account of so much time lost.

Miss Doris Anderson of Ann Arbor is with her mother, Mrs. J. L. Anderson, for the holidays.

Mrs. L. Billington left Monday for Detroit to spend the winter with her son, Cecil, and family.

Miss Alma Kloffenstein visited her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hunt, in Toledo over Sunday.

Hartley Harrison, just discharged from the Albion S. A. T. C., was in town Friday enroute to his home in Ridgeway.

The Misses Ruth Curry, Marjorie Boyce and Ethel McIntyre are home from the Normal, enjoying the holiday vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bryan and little Frederick are spending the Christmas season with Mrs. Bryan's people in Jackson.

Mrs. Fred Hill arrived Monday evening from Grand Rapids to be a guest of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Spayde.

A letter from Lieut. Harold Tribolet gives him as enjoying a furlough in the wilds of New Mexico on a bear and mountain lion hunt with a party of friends.

Morris Palman, who has been at the S. A. T. C. at Ann Arbor, is home for the holidays, the camp having demobilized. He will return to the U. of M. after January 1st and take up the medical course.

✓Mrs. E. H. Ahrens, who had been caring for her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence VanGieson, north of Clinton, returned home Friday. Mr. and Mrs. VanGieson recovered from the influenza attack very nicely.

Kenneth Anderson, who has been training with a machine gun company at Camp Hancock, received his honorable dishcarge last week. He came to South Haven for a Sunday visit with his sister, Mrs. B. Earl Smith, then here to visit his mother, Mrs. J. L. Anderson, and other relatives. He will return to his position in the south later.

Miss Carrol Kemp of Gobleville is home for the holidays.

Miss Rogers of Palmyra visited Mrs. F. D. Rector over Sunday.

Miss Genevieve Halladay came home from Lansing for the holidays.

Frank Nyland has been confined to the house by illness this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Den Swift have moved back to their home in the village.

Miss Minnie Lowry, who teaches at Muskegon, is at home spending Christmas.

Albert Boyce was up from Columbus, O., yesterday, the guest of his sister, Mrs. B. J. Rector.

Mrs. Ed Hand and daughter, Edna, went to Detroit Monday to be the guests of relatives for a week.

Miss Albertine Mobbs has been home from Detroit for the week, visiting her mother, Mrs. May Mobbs.

The missionary meeting of the Friends church will gather with Mrs. F. D. Avery next Thursday, Jan. 2, at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Martha Nye and family were in Monroe spending yesterday with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Will Meeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Moiles have as their guest his sister, Miss Ellen Moiles, a teacher in the state public school at Coldwater.

Will Anderson was down from Devil's lake the first of the week, taking his mother, Mrs. H. E. Anderson, back with him for a visit.

We understand we made an error in the name of the physician who set the broken arm of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blohm. It should have read Dr. O. Q. Jones, and he was assisted by his grandson Oliver

A letter was placed in our post office a few weeks ago directed to "Mr. Santa Claus, North Pole, Alaska." Not noticing the address, only the "Alaska," the letter was sent and Monday returned from Nome. We vote it be somebody's business to find what that youngster wants and there be a committee to answer his request.

RED CROSS IS LIKE A SHIP OF RESCUE.

Always Travels in Troubled Waters and Answers Every Cry of Distress.

REST OF WORLD IS TOO BUSY

Christmas Roll Call Gives Every One a Chance to Take Part in Rebuilding Our Broken World.

The American Red Cross is perhaps like nothing so much as a stanch and loyal ship in a storm. It goes its way with senses tuned to catch any cry for help. And when that cry comes, it drives instantly and without fear straight to the place of distress, in flood and fire and disaster, just as the ship braves the perils of tumbling seas and hazardous rescue work. And, again, like the ship, it STANDS BY till those endangered are helped to safety.

Meanwhile the rest of the world, busy with its own problems, hurries home during these times of storm and stress, and draws down the blinds.

At least that is the way it has been in the past. But now comes the Christmas Roll Call. And it is a privilege, not a pest. It has no preferences. It plays no favorites. It makes no exceptions. It summons every man, woman and child in the country. It holds out to each one the blessed opportunity to ride on every Red Cross ship of mercy, to speed with every Red Cross train of relief that encircles the earth on their errands of mercy.

The only way for anyone to escape the possibility of some time having to accept CHARITY from the Red Cross is to become ONE with the Red Cross. For terrible calamity may come to us all. The money wealth of the Belgians was as nothing when they were stripped of clothing and food. And that feeling of oneness with the organization that our men on the other side have had during the war was not merely a great, but was the GREATEST, factor in enabling the Red Cross to give the efficient aid that it did.

Let us remember what Mrs. Margaret Laing, canteen worker in France, told about our boys who came out of the hospitals without money:

"Sometimes they would be able to make up a few cents between them," she said, "and sometimes they did not have anything. They would hang behind those who could pay. And they would look at the food so wistfully that it made one fight back the tears. The only way we could get them to take what they needed and craved was by saying: 'You know, boys, this was all paid for by your own people at home.' Then immediately their attitude would change and they would say: 'Why, yes, my mother' or 'my sister gives to the Red Cross.' And then how they would pitch in."

We are proud, we Americans. We do not want something for nothing. And here is our glorious opportunity to take the rest of our nation by the hand, and with all pride and dignity insure ourselves of our own help in time of adversity.

This Christmas Roll Call gives everyone a chance to be a "Dollar Man." And most of us can be one right at home. For by joining the Red Cross now and paying the dollar we become as actively engaged in the great work as if we were giving all of our time to it. We are merely making our dollar substitute for those of us who are too busy to give all of our time to the Red Cross.

Some of the great achievements of the Red Cross have been told over and over, until the facts may seem old to you. But on this occasion they are worth telling again. We should not forget, for instance, how the women of this nation, like our first Colonial mothers, turned suddenly into great manufacturers and made garments and supplies worth $50,000,000 last year. Nor let us forget how $111,000,000 was sent into the devastated countries during the time while men and women, giving their time for nothing, went with those dollars to see that they were used in the way they were most needed. And the American Red Cross sent medicines and anesthetics to the hospitals of France when they were almost unobtainable, so that our boys and their allies might have some relief from the torment of their wounds and a chance at ultimate recovery.

There are so many things to tell that it is impossible to spread the whole story in this limited space. But each worker will know. For the letters that have come from the boys in the camps "over here" and from the fields "over there" have been full of the reasons. Ask the mother of any boy who was imprisoned behind the cruel lines where food was scarce even for the enemy army, but who got his 20 pounds of biscuits, pork and beans, cocoa and other good, wholesome things, every week.

The roofs are at hand everywhere. The reasons are manifest. Everyone should become a member of the widest, best and holiest crusade the world has ever known. Membership in the Red Cross should be more universal than taxes; as universal as the public school, public opinion, or our own public government.

By DR. FELICE FERRERO,
Director Italian Bureau of Public Information.

The blood and treasure of Italy were freely spent in the successful effort to put Austria-Hungary out of the war. While Italy's efforts were not confined to the Austrian front, her contribution to allied success was greater here than in the other places where her troops fought the battle for civilization. Her financial and industrial efforts have been equal to her military effort, and in all these directions Italy has not lagged behind her allies. That the nature and extent of these efforts may be better understood by the American public, I wish to review them briefly.

In considering Italy's military contributions, let me emphasize the fact that her soldiers have not confined their fighting to their own soil. Like those of her allies, they have gone far afield. They contributed largely to the glorious victory on the Balkan front. A large contingent in France first gave powerful aid in the defense of Rheims, then took part in the advance of the allied forces.

Italy Had 5,500,000 Under Arms.

Since the beginning of the war Italy has called to the colors little less than 5,500,000 men and has suffered a loss of almost 1,500,000 of them. Of that loss nearly 350,000 died in battle, and 100,000 from disease. Over 550,000 are totally incapacitated, either by blindness, loss of limb or tuberculosis. At the present moment the strength of the Italian army is 4,025,000, including the class of men born in 1900, who have been called to the colors recently. It may be said, then, that the nation's man-power has suffered a permanent loss of nearly a million.

But, serious as is this loss, Italy has inflicted an even greater punishment upon the foe. In Austrian prisoners alone she has taken approximately a million. The Austrian loss in killed and wounded is, of course, unknown to us, but even the most conservative estimates make it far greater than ours. In the June offensive on the Piave alone over 200,000 Austrian dead were left on the field.

Fighting Under Extreme Difficulties.

Aside from their achievements in other theatres of the war, Italy's soldiers have fought through fifteen furious offensives on the Isonzo and the Piave, inflicting terrible losses on the foe in each. These campaigns were carried on in mountainous regions and under rigorous weather conditions that taxed to the utmost the genius of the military engineers and the endurance of the troops. The foe, when hostilities opened, were entrenched in carefully prepared and seemingly impregnable positions, backed by a network of military roads and railroads. On the Italian side were deep gorges, unscalable cliffs, almost impassable glaciers, passes filled with snow and commanded by Austrian guns. There were no suitable roads or bridges. The surmounting of these difficulties has challenged the admiration of the engineering world.

Over 2,500 miles of roads have been constructed on the mountains of Italy and of Albania, and 1,000 miles of aerial cable railroads (Teleferiche) have been built to carry food, ammunition and guns over deep ravines.

Economic Difficulties.

The magnitude of this military effort can be fully appreciated only when one takes into consideration the economic structure of the nation and the nature and number of its population. One must remember that out of 36,000,000 inhabitants in Italy at the beginning of the war only 17,000,000 were male. This seeming disproportion is caused by emigration, which was largely composed of male adults. Out of those 17,000,000 only 9,000,000 were adults economically productive. Consequently the subtraction of the mobilized forces has had an acute reaction on the economic life of the nation. It is estimated that on an average only 100 adults remained in each town or village to provide in each case for some 320 children below the age of fifteen.

Furthermore, the traditions of Italian family life render the work of their women an economic factor of less importance than in some other countries, though it has been utilized to the utmost and is becoming more available as old traditions give way to war's necessity.

No Troops From Colonies.

Italy got no help from colonial contingents. On the contrary, the scarcity of native troops in Italy's colonies compelled the government to reinforce them with troops from the mother country. Nor has help come to Italy through the co-operation of workmen of neutral or allied countries. Italy, on the other hand, sent a large contingent of skilled workmen to France, thus allowing her to release valued elements for war. Furthermore, nearly 500,000 of our male adults residing in America gave to this great nation direct contribution to her economic and military efforts.

To meet their military obligations, therefore, the Italian people have been compelled to cut into the most urgent needs of agriculture and industry. Her continuous lack of labor has made the task of feeding the army and providing it with munitions a most difficult one.

And yet Italy, lacking labor and industrial development, lacking almost entirely coal and raw materials, has by a miracle of energy been able to create almost from nothing a powerful organization of war industries.

Difficult to Obtain Goods.

The very act of entering the war cut off Italy from one of the sources of supply of manufactured products. It is not necessary here to enlarge upon the well known fact that Italian markets were largely under the domination of Germany and Austria. That is a situation that is as well known to Americans as it is and was distasteful to Italians. And it might be said in passing that it is a situation that must be guarded against by allied co-operation and sympathetic economic relationship when peace comes.

Mr. Francis H. Sisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company, in a recent article on the economic situation of Italy points out that while Germany before the war dominated the foreign trade of Italy so far as manufactures were concerned, that country was one of the best customers of the United States in raw materials and foodstuffs. That writer also points out that it was the adjustment of her industrial and commercial life to the burdensome new conditions that has created an entirely new economic fabric in Italy.

"Italy's devotion of her resources to war purposes has been complete," says Mr. Sisson. "Her pre-eminence in the production of certain articles of commerce marked her as the chief source of supply for similar products of a warlike nature. Her ordinary production of automobiles, aeroplanes, turbines and heavy oil engines has merely been intensified and modified in the direction of such a standardization as would permit quantity production."

Financially Italy Responded Well.

Financially Italy also has responded to the demands of war with an openhandedness that has surprised even herself. From the first of August, 1914, to the end of 1917 the total expenditures of the state were $8,895,600,000. Calculating on the basis of a monthly average expenditure for the war of $240,000,000, the total cost of the war to Italy would be more than $12,000,000,000.

A further proof of the financial effort Italy made for the war, notwithstanding her small means, are the five national loans. The first one yielded about $200,000,000, and it seemed a great struggle, yet still others were launched, all giving greater returns, and the last one, after the disaster of October, 1917, yielded about $1,300,000,000.

It must be remembered, too, that labor shortage has meant a food shortage. It has established a vicious circle. Our fighters and industrial workers have accomplished their work while forced to endure a regime of restricted diet that has meant real and continuous suffering such as probably is not to be found anywhere among the other belligerent peoples.

Headache

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN suffer miserably from periodic attacks of headache, never dreaming that a permanent cure may be had. Headache nearly always results from some disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will correct these disorders and there will be no more headache. Many have been permanently cured by Chamberlain's Tablets.

Standers, Walkers, "Gets-It" for Corns

World Has Never Known Its Equal.

"What will get rid of my corn?" The answer has been made by millions—there's only one corn-remover that you can bank on, that's absolutely certain, that makes any corn on earth peel right off like a banana skin—and that's magic "Gets-It." Tight shoes and dancing even when you have a corn need not disturb you if you apply a few drops of "Gets-It" on the corn or callus. You want a corn-peeler, not a corn-fooler. You don't have to fool with corns—you peel them right off with your fingers by using "Gets-It." Cutting makes corns grow and bleed. Why use irritating salves or make a bundle of your toe with tape or bandages? Why putter and still have the corn? Use "Gets-It"—your corn-pain is over, the corn is a "goner" sure as the sun rises.

Corn-Pain Is Eased—the Corn Is Doomed!

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Tecumseh and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by B. J. Pulver. adv

AFE, GENTLE REMEDY BRINGS SURE RELIEF

For 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has enabled suffering humanity to withstand attacks of kidney, liver, bladder and stomach troubles and all diseases connected with the urinary organs and to build up and restore to health organs weakened by disease. These most important organs must be watched, because they filter and purify the blood; unless they do their work you are doomed.

Weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pains in the loins and lower abdomen, gravel, difficulty when urinating, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago all warn you of trouble with your kidneys. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are the remedy you need. Take three or four every day. The healing oil soaks into the cells and lining of the kidneys and drives out the poisons. New life and health will surely follow. When your normal vigor has been restored continue treatment for a while to keep yourself in condition and prevent a return of the disease.

Don't wait until you are incapable of fighting. Start taking GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules today. Your druggist will cheerfully refund your money if you are not satisfied with results. But be sure to get the original imported GOLD MEDAL and accept no substitutes. In three sizes. Sealed packages. At all drug stores.

A Warning

FOR PROMPT RELIEF FROM Grip, Sore Throat, Cold in Chest and all inflammation and Congestion, Cream of Mustard gives instant relief and comfort to the sufferer.

It is far superior to mustard plasters or any liniment on the market. It relives congestion, inflammation and pain almost instantly. It takes the place of plasters or liniments for colds, pains and aches.

It has produced wonderful results with thousands afflicted with sore throat, tonsilitis, stiff neck, neuralgia, congestion, rheumatism, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, colds in the chest, bronchitis, croup, headache, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints and chilblains.

Every household should have a jar of Cream of Mustard in the medicine chest for emergency. Ask your druggist: 25c and 50c jars, hospital size, $2.50.

A CAUTIOUS LOAFER

At the coal yard the foreman was having a hard time, on account of the shortage of labor.

"Say, you there!" he shouted to a loafer who was lounging at the gate of the yard. "Do you want to work?"

"What kind of work?" asked the hobo, cautiously.

"Can you do anything with a shovel?"

"Yes," answered the idle one, "I can fry a slice of bacon on it."

Cattle Buying for Swift & Company

Swift & Company buys more than 9000 head of cattle, on an average, every market day.

Each one of them is "sized up" by experts.

Both the packer's buyer and the commission salesman must judge what amount of meat each animal will yield, and how fine it will be, the grading of the hide, and the quantity and quality of the fat.

Both must know market conditions for live stock and meat throughout the country. The buyer must know where the different qualities, weights, and kinds of cattle can be best marketed as beef.

If the buyer pays more than the animal is worth, the packer loses money on it. If he offers less, another packer, or a shipper or feeder, gets it away from him.

If the seller accepts too little, the live-stock raiser gets less than he is entitled to. If he holds out for more than it is worth, he fails to make a sale.

A variation of a few cents in the price per hundred pounds is a matter of vital importance to the packer, because it means the difference between profit and loss.

where we are going, but everyone hopes that it is the first lap of our journey back home. We are all tired of this place here and everybody wants to get back.

We just missed getting into the fight. The order was in for us to move and we were all packed up and ready to go when the armstice was signed. We were all glad enough to get the chance to go, but the thing ended too sudden to give us a chance to get up to the front.

I have not heard from Roy since we came over here. I wrote him one letter but maybe he did not get it. Mail for me has been scarce. I have not had a letter for the last month, and I don't know what is the matter with those I have been writing to.

I heard that there were quite a number of cases of Spanish influenza around town and have been wondering if any of you people have had it yet.

I am feeling fine and expect to be home before long. Well, this is about all. Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, I remain,

Your son,
Jack.

Ed Bowers to His Mother, Mrs. Mary E. Bowers

Toul, France, Nov. 23, 1918.

Dear Mother and All:

Just a few lines to let you know that I have just left the hospital again, going back to my company. I was wounded again and this makes the third time. That's enough; don't you think so? The Dutchmen came very near getting me this time, the bullet striking just one inch above the heart. The doctor said if it had gone one inch lower I would have been pushing up daisies now in France. I think I am a lucky dog, don't you?

I suppose you are wondering why I am telling you so much. Well, the reason is Uncle Sam says we can tell anything now. Even at that, I don't know what to write, but here goes. The first time I was wounded was at the Montidier road May 30; the next time at Chateau Thierry July 11, and this time in the Argonne Forest on the Verdun front. I think I have done my share and certainly would like to come home. I expect we will be home some day before long.

I received just one letter since I have been in France. I think that is going some, don't you?

Is Mike still alive? I hope so. Tell Roy and Wilfred that I wish them a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, and tell Wilfred that I will bring him a German belt to hold up his trousers. I haven't decided what to bring Roy yet; maybe a German rifle if I can get one across.

Well, mother, this is all I can think of for this time. Hoping to hear from you soon and wishing vu a Merry Christmas a Happy New Year, I remain

Chester Earl Thompson to His Father, Rev. C. M. Thompson

Sergt. Chester Earl Thompson, of Co. A, 21st U. S. Engineers, who has been in France for the past eleven months, writes to his father, Rev. C. M. Thompson, of Tecumseh, a "Father's Day" letter, dated November 23rd. Following are extracts from the letter:

Pomagne, France,
Saturday, Nov. 23.

My Dear Father:

We are requested to send a Father's Christmas letter tomorrow, and I will be very dutiful and write you one.

As you see by the heading, we can now tell where we are and where we have been since our arrival in France. I will not attempt to do all this in this letter, but just tell you something about the last month or so, in a general way.

Up to date we have been on construction and maintenance work on our narrow gauge railways. These, as you know, carry supplies and ammunition from the standard gauge railroad bases up to the front, supplying in particular the artillery. We expect to move real soon to do standard gauge work.

But I want to tell you of our light railway work. Our time has been spent, mostly, in the Toul and Luneville sectors. We were in the St. Mehiel drive, following up and carrying our track work as far as Thiancourt. From there we came up to this Verdun country. This last drive we followed was spoken of as the one between the Argonne and the Meuse, which was one of the final victories of the war. If you take a map of France you can follow me through the month of October.

Find Verdun and then travel northwest. On the way here from Thiencourt, near Metz, we passed through Sorcy, Commercy, St. Mehiel and the city of Verdun, camping on our way at Malencourt. From there, continuing northwest, we reached Montfaneon, the town from which the German crown prince viewed the battle of Verdun, where we camped for a time. Then we moved to Cierges.

On the 2nd day of November we made our last advance move, repairing as we advanced the old Boche tracks through Romagne, Bentheville, Andrevanne and Villers, up to Montigny. About a week later our camp was moved to Romagne where we are at present living and keeping the railroad in operation.

It was at Bantheville, on November 2nd, that I came nearest to making a shell hole my final resting place. However, I was "lucky" and am as healthy and happy as ever.

This section of France is very much in ruins. Nearly all dwellings in France are of stone, so you can imagine how things look. The fields are all torn up by the great shells which have burst there. Trees are cut off four, six to ten feet above the ground and the devastation is almost complete. This is a somewhat brief description of our recent movements, but it will give you a little idea of what we have been doing.

And, now, to change the subject, I think Tecumseh did remarkably well in the Liberty Loan drive.

Hope you and mother keep well and escape the "flu." I extend to you both the best possible Christmas wishes. Another one will see me at home. Am hoping to make home by next Easter, but "hae me doubts."

With lots of love. Earl.

Each in his little way must do
The thing that falls unto his share,
And he who fails and strives anew
Shall win reward surpassing fair.

Though triumphs unto others turn
He nobly meets a mighty test,
Who in self-searching may discern
The steadfast will do his best.

CIRCULARS VS. NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

A 20-inch advertisement in The Herald costs $3.00. Here the cost ends as far as the advertiser is concerned, because The Herald places this announcement before the eyes of at least 5,000 persons within trading distance of Tecumseh. Since taking over the list of the Britton Messenger The Herald enters 1500 homes. A conservative estimate gives four readers to every paper, making 6,000 readers altogether.

Take the $3.00, the cost of a 20-inch advertisement, invest it in circulars and see how many people you can reach. If circulars are mailed you can reach only 300 people instead of the thousands the newspaper reaches. It takes three dollars to reach 300 people by mail. To send the same circular to 1500 homes it would cost $15. This is for postage only. Add the cost of circulars and labor in mailing and see where you are at. The total, if invested in newspaper space would place in 1500 homes a page advertisement.

SEE THE POINT? THE HOME PAPER IS THE CHEAPEST, SAFEST AND BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

Presbyterian Christmas Party

SANTA CLAUS AND PICNIC SUPPER

Enjoyed by the Sunday School in Church Parlors Monday Evening—Fine Inpromptu Program.

The Christmas party for the Presbyterian Sunday school Monday night was a great success, both in the number attending and the splendid jolly evening everybody enjoyed. First came a great picinc supper, the little people being served up stairs. Here Santa Claus visited them after the supper and they were given candy, popcorn and oranges. Santa had as big a time as the rest.

Following the supper the crowd gathered in the auditorium for an impromptu program, which was as follows:

"Holy Night"—Girls' chorus.
Piano Solo—Maxine Wyrill.
Pantomime, "My Faith Looks up to Thee"—Alice Whelan, accompanied by Fred Dickinson.
Song, "Merry, Merry Christmas Bells"—Forty school children led by Miss Caldwell.
Recitations—Ruth Becker, Jane Gillen, Albert Waring, Alice Nemire, Fred'k Dickinson, jr., little Miss Henry.
"Just Afore Christmas"—Wm. Rex, jr.

Supt. John Boyce then presented Rev. Rex with a choice basket, the makings of his Christmas dinner, not forgetting the kindling and coal for the fire. This caused much merriment.

After the song, "Happy Bells," by the girls' chorus, Rev. Rex gave his reading, the sermon from Sears-Roebuck catalogue, a favorite that never fails to bring down the house. One more Christmas song and the happy party was over.

BAPTIST CHRISTMAS PARTY

Sunday School Enjoy Good Program on Christmas Eve.

The Baptist Sunday school enjoyed their Christmas party on Christmas Eve. Jay Morse, the superintendent, was in charge and announced the following impromptu program:

Song—The school.
Prayer—Mr. Morse.
Responsive reading.
Song—School.
Recitations: "The Christmas Stocking," Jimmie Allison; "Santa Claus' Plan," Modele Owen; "Outside," Imogene Becker; "What the Christmas Stockng Said," Dorothy Gardner.
"Christmas Songs the Busy Bees Like"—The Busy Bees.
Recitation—Edwin Williamson.
Recitation, "The Story of the Shepherd"—Alta Becker.
Recitation, "Helping Santa"—Paul Camp.
Recitation, "A Present for Santa"—Glennis Lamkin.
Recitation—Bessie Gardner.
Solo, "The Star of the East"—Miss Lulu Stahler.

Santa was then heard coming, and as he had a bit of trouble with his aeroplane engine, finished his journey on a bicycle. He made merry with the youngsters and helped them to the beautiful presents from a generous tree. This Santa turned out to be Neal Rentschler, formerly active in the local school, but now of Port Huron. Safe to say Santa had as good time as the youngsters, and the whole evening was a delightful affair.

Kenneth Anderson arrived home from Camp Hancock, Ga., Tuesday on his first visit to Tecumseh in over eight years.

MONTANA WEDDING

Miss Lora Slattery, Well Known Here, the Bride.

A wedding took place way out in Montana December 18th which is of great interest to the Tecumseh friends of the bride.

Miss Lora Slattery, who resided here as a girl and has visited here occasionally since, became the wife of J. Frank Harmon of Zortman, Mont. The ceremony was performed at Havers, the county seat, by Rev. Case, the Presbyterian clergyman of that city, with the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sisson, of Chinook, the attendants.

Lora has just taken up 320 acres which follow down the coulee from Zortman and has yet to prove upon it. Her husband has a large claim already proven. They are sixty miles from a railroad, but are true pioneers.

The bride is a daughter of the late Mrs. John Tripp, has taught school a number of years in this county as well as in Montana, so has a large circle of friends who wish them a long and happy life.

RALPH AVERY

Well Known Macon Farmer Dies of Pneumonia.

Ralph Avery, who had been ill with pneumonia for some ten days, passed away at his farm home in Macon Tuesday afternoon. His wife, who was Eula Underwood, has been seriously ill with influenza, but is some better.

Mr. Avery, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Avery, of Macon, was 26 years of age and well known and highly respected.

The funeral will be held privately from the home Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

This death is the third in the immediate family of Cyrus Underwood in three months.

"Garden of Allah"

Special New Year's Day Attraction at Tecumseh.

Who has not read the wonderful and most thrilling love story ever written of the far East, "The Garden of Allah," a gripping and pulsating romance of the Sahara—a soul stirring love story dealing with the love passion of men and women, and who has not, after reading this wonderful book by Robert Hichens wished again and again that they could see this great thrilling story, bewildering with its scenes of splendor, awe inspiring with its spectacular features, acted in real life or pictures.

You will have the opportunity on New Year's day when this wonderful spectacle will be presented at the Bradley opera house, Tecumseh, for a matinee and evening showing.

"The Garden of Allah" is pronounced the world's greatest picture spectacle and is presented with Miss Helen Ware playing the leading role and a cast of over 5,000 people, thousands of men, horses, mighty caravans, the terrific sand storm, the most magnificent and appalling scene ever produced for stage or screen, with tons and tons of sand swirling before your eyes, thrilling in its intensity and spectacular in its rendition.

"The Garden of Allah" is a mammoth photoplay production that once seen never will be forgotten. It holds you spell bound throughout its eight magnificent acts. "The Garden of Allah" will be at the Bradley for the one day only, New Year's day, matinee and night.

Miss Florence Linton of Leslie is home for the holidays.

Donald Wright Married

CHARMING WEDDING AT FREMONT, OHIO

Miss Dorothy Edgerton of Fremont the Bride

The wedding of two prominent young people took a foremost place among the holiday events at Fremont, Ohio, when Miss Dorothy Edgerton, youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry G. Edgerton, one of the charming and popular society girls of that city, became the wife of Mr. Donald Frasier Wright, of Tecumseh. The ceremony was performed at Edgerton Place, the bride's home, at 3 o'clock Christmas afternoon, by Rev. Geo. F. Barber, of the Methodist Episcopal church, using the ring service.

The spacious drawing room had been festively decked in the Christmas colors, the bridal couple standing in a bower of arbor vitae, artistically arranged in one corner of the room. They were unattended.

The bride wore a handsome gown of black satin and net embroidered in gold threads and her flowers were a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses.

Previous to the tying of the nuptial knot a prettily appointed Christmas wedding dinner was served to a group of thirty relatives in the dining room, white tapers gleaming over the tables which were trimmed with evergreen with touches of red. Poinsetta nut cups and dainty place cards marked the places.

As the brother of the bride is sick in a hospital in France, only the immediate relatives had been bidden to the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wright, Mrs. Alan Bell and Master William Wright going from Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison S. Temple and daughters, Virginia and Clara Louisa, from Britton.

That evening Mr. and Mrs. Wright left for a short wedding trip, the bride wearing a becoming suit of Burgundy silvertone, with blouse of georgette to match and a chic little black hat trimmed in moleskin.

The newly-weds will return to Tecumseh in a few days and the bride will be royally welcomed by the many friends she has made in her frequent visits to her sister, Mrs. Temple.

Donald, who is so well known here, being the junior member of the drug firm of C. A. Wright & Son, is to be congratulated in his good taste and the Herald is only one of those many friends who wish the couple a long and happy life.

HOWE'S TRAVEL FESTIVAL

Friday, January 3—Jot This Date Down on Your Calendar.

Put a big mark on your calendar around the date of Friday, January 3d, for it indicates the next semi-annual engagement at the Bradley opera house, Tecumseh, of Lyman H. Howe's famous Travel Festival. Our people always recognize the exclusive merits of this reliable film attraction and flock to the Travel Festival on its every appearance in Tecumseh.

The latest Howe program includes sensational flying adventures by our fighting marines, an exciting hunting trip in the Rockies where ferocious wild animals are lassoed and captured alive, a perilous canoe ride through the dangerous rapids of Kaieteur Falls in British Guiana, numerous other charming and instructive pictures.

Among the film novelties are an animated reproduction of the popular Red Cross poster, "The Greatest Mother in the World," and an extraordinary freak film in which some grotesque and puzzling scenic distortions are revealed. Unusually meritorious comedy and patriotic pictures and cartoons known only to the Howe program will be freely interspersed throughout the program.

NED CUTTING MARRIED.

Former Tecumseh Boy Assumes Marital Responsiblities.

The following is taken from the LosAngeles Examiner of December 15th:

"Miss Edna Vaughan, long identified with the Lord Motor company, and Ned Cutting, popular auto truck salesman, who left the "row" to go into business for himself at 857 North Broadway, were quietly married last week. Mr. Cutting was considered a confirmed bachelor but no one who ever had the pleasure of meeting Miss Vaughan will blame him for changing his mind."

Ned is a former Tecumseh boy, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Cutting and has many friends here and at Clinton.

He has been in the west a number of years, leaving Tecumseh when but a mere boy and in true Tecumseh fashion has made good.

H. T. Dunn was home from Detroit from Tuesday until today.

A. B. McLachlin and family spent yesterday with Clinton relatives.

The D. T. & I. certainly chose most convenient seasons to annul trains. Tuesday afternoon, with many Ridgeway and Britton shoppers in town, many dependent on the 4:10 train to get back home, and that the last one into Detroit that night, the train was annulled on account of a wreck near Columbus Grove. Quite a few things were said not complimentary to the road.

One of the best public dances given in Tecumseh was that of Christmas night promoted by W. L. Coller. There were sixty couples present to enjoy the occasion and many words of praise were heard for the music and good time had. Among the crowd were seen many residents from surrounding towns. The next dance will be that given for the benefit of the ladies' band at the same place, Witherell hall, New Year's Eve.

Monday noon Vern Harrison's Ford and Moreland Bros.' oil truck seemed to have a little difficulty over the right of way on the corner of Pottawatamie and Maiden Lane. Anyway, the Ford tried to shove the big truck out of the way, accidentally of course, and suffered the same fate as that of the little boy who tries to fight a big one—got its face somewhat bent and smashed. It was hauled to the garage with a broken front wheel and various troubles with its "innards" and soon mended so the Harrisons got home with it that day.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Duguid have as guests her mother, Mrs. J. W. McLaughlin, just returned from Toledo, and Mrs. McLaughlin's son, Lisle, who has just been discharged from service. He has just returned from England where he has been stationed in an aviation camp for nine months. He is certainly not favorably inclined toward the English. Says they are charging our Uncle Sam rent for the camp grounds over there when we are fighting for Johnnie Bull and that it looks as if we must firmly set upon him before we are through. These different views of the situation over there are mightily interesting to the stay at homes and they certainly can see the case with a closer vision than we can.
